OCTOBER KITCHEN WINDOW VIEW

October paints a beautiful picture in nature's coloring book, and I need go no farther than my kitchen window to enjoy it. The trees, on this crisp Autumn day, are glowing like so many jewels set against the sky. The shades of red, amber, orange, yellow and pink are positively dazzling when the sun shines on them. One gorgeous red maple looms right in back of our house and the effect of somber gray stone against the flame of the tree is breath-taking. If I were an artist I would certainly try to put it on canvas. The South Carolina Poplar waits until November to don its pale gold dress. Even biting frosts do not hasten the process. A brisk, chilly wind is scattering showers of leaves past the window and all across the fields. How wonderful is God's order and unfailing plan! These very leaves, which today are merrily dancing here and there, will serve as the earth's warm blanket this Winter.

This kind of weather makes us very conscious of our wood-supply, for "Hercules," the small but mighty kitchen stove, is already making his appetite known. And so the sounds of the saw and the axe rings out, and the wood-pile gradually grows larger. As I write, Hercules sputters and crackles mildly, while our smallest kitten (a playful character named "Cream-puff") basks in the pleasant warmth, purring loudly. To me there is something very satisfying about wood heat, whether it be from a stove or a fire-place. It seems so homely and cozy, especially on cold Winter evenings.

My friend, the little nut-hatch, just skinned into the feeder, snatched a piece of suet and darted away. By the way, now is the time to begin your Winter feeding, for many birds are passing through as they migrate. Try setting up several feeders, using sun-flower seed, cracked corn, suet and certain table scraps. You will be rewarded by the sight of many fascinating feathered creatures, coming right to your window-sill and back yard.

Before the fires of October burn down to the last embers, do take time to appreciate the brief splendor. All too soon, it will be gone.

—Zola Cantwell

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE' (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Many letters have arrived asking me if I was going to write the Horoscopes again. To that I will reply that I will do so very shortly. And here is the October "Farmer's Almanac" weather. "Gales at Sea, rain for thee. No ice, bad heat, rain or sleet; that means a fine week! Changeable beyond all limits no need to await Mark Twain's "Minute" Storm and rough, rugged and tough. Cool's the rule. Big blow may show!" Joan Crawford is now well again and will be in the picture, "I Saw What You Did" — which, no doubt will bring an Oscar as it is in comparison with her "Mildred Pierce".

Now, it's "The Visit" in which Ingrid Bergman stars. It is an unusual plot and you and you will wonder how any woman could be so full of vengeance! Her innocent young life has been ruined by a man named Serge (Anthony Quinn) and she is ordered out of town and 20 years later she returns a wealthy woman. She wants to give her money to all the people in that little town with a certain condition! UGH! I won't write more only that Ingrid Bergman is truly more beautiful than ever!

Here's one you really should see, "THE ORGANIZER" at the Playhouse. It is chucked full of real Human Nature and you will feel as though you are taking part or in other words living along as one of the characters. The story traces the beginnings of organized labor in Turin, Italy and the time is the 19th century. The workers put in 14 hours a day in a textile factory and that for six days a week at some awful machinery which eventually will cripple one person in every five! One worker loses a hand and then is fired! This brings about discontent and a committee is formed and they complain to the management only to be ignored! Many of the workers fear to walk out. A stranger arrives in town. He organizes a strike and this gives the men encouragement. It is a long story and most interesting and I am sure you will appreciate it all the way. It is so different from any other Movie.

On the way down last week to "Colonial Williamsburg," never have I seen so many Motels and places to eat and all the way just a flat, flat country! The stop at Richmond as I looked around was no different from the old Richmond that I had visited years ago. And in every sentence there is still, the "Yes Mam and No Mam!" Georgetown has increased in population since the Kennedys lived there and business is really booming! Nothing like the Georgetown of years ago.

Forgot to mention last week that in the graveyard at that beautiful Episcopal Church in Williamsburg, I read on the grave the following, "Sacred to the name of Elizabeth — the affectionate wife of The Rev. James Henderson. She was Widow of Alex. Horsburgh and daughter of Walter Peter. She died in 'child bed' the 6th of October, 1813 in the 38th year of her age at the unspeakable grief of her afflicted husband and four children!"

Mother, why not give the kiddies molasses on bread instead of jelly? It is much more healthy and wholesome. It is called "Karo" now but the kind that used to be served to me after school especially was the thick dark brown and called no other name than molasses. And don't forget much meat especially beef for in previous columns, I have stated that you will notice big meat eaters are the healthy and strong people. When I broke my ankle about ten years ago or so, the Orthopedic Physician said he never saw such bones for the cast was removed in just three weeks instead of eight! He looked at me and said, "What do you eat? Do you drink lots of milk, too?" To this I quickly replied, "I have not had milk since I have been weaned but I sure do eat beef every day of my life!" I think, folks that that is the answer to the super-human strength I have had all my life — but — all "May" people — men and women are very strong.

The other day, I was driving on a beautiful tree-lined curved street and I saw a little aged lady sitting on the porch alone of a house that had a "For Sale" sign stuck in the lawn. The lady smiled at me with one of those Mona Lisa smiles and somehow I stopped and walked to the porch. As I observed her lovely face, she appeared as a school teacher. The smile became deeper and she, no doubt thought I was a prospective buyer. We exchanged greetings or the time of the day in other words and asked me to be seated. She said, "I am a retired school teacher and the last one left in this house, so I must sell. I do not have a living relative. I must sell out but up to date, I have been so disappointed as there are so few callers from the realtors. We all were so happy here together and it just about breaks my heart to give up the house!"

And this from my son, Richard, in California, "Mother I heard Goldwater speak and his manner and personality is wonderful, just like President Franklin Delano Roosevelt!" Now, folks remember always not to concern yourself with things you can't do anything about. Arm-Chair Generals don't win battles but they do have nervous breakdowns! Until next week, D.V.

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK

We live in an all-too-casual world—a world in which almost everything, including religion, seems to be largely taken for granted. Far too few of us give a little time each day to reading the Bible—to seek and to find in it help toward meeting the problems and confusions of our age.

That is why National Bible Week, observed October 19-25, now takes on greater meaning than ever before. It is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., which is an All Faiths organization. This year the chosen theme is a tremendously timely one: "THE BIBLE: GOD'S WORD — MAN'S HOPE — IN UNITY." How much that can mean to us all!

It is anticipated that many millions of people will observe the Week and make it the outstanding and far-reaching success it deserves to be. But that is not enough. Every week should be a Bible week, every day a Bible day.

The greater our material abundance, the more faithfully we should build and sustain our spiritual values. —Industrial News Review.

"FACTS AND OPINIONS"

From Barron's, National Business and Financial Weekly: "The bitter truth is that medicare . . . would thrust bureaucracy into an area already well served by both private enterprise and public charity. At the end of 1962, no fewer than three out of four Americans 65 or older had some means of meeting their health-care costs. For those in want, the resources now available range from general welfare assistance to special aid under the Kerr-Mills Act. Those able to stand on their own feet financially enjoy an ever-widening choice of coverages, from Blue Cross and Blue Shield to the variety of policies issued by insurance companies. By raising the false hope of government-issued security, medicare threatens to weaken, if not to destroy, the incentive for every citizen to prepare as best he can for his old age."

The 41,000 mile-long Interstate Highway System is the biggest public works program in the history of man. The original cost estimate, made in 1956, as $27.5 billion. The most recent is $41 billion. The next cost appraisal, due in 1965, is expected to show a further jump.

Senator Strom Thurmond writes: "The number one sound fiscal expert in this country is Senator Harry Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He has estimated that it would take 600,000 years to pay off our current national indebtedness if we began today applying $1 per minute against our debt. And, we are not even applying a penny per year. Instead, we are going deeper into debt each year with no promise of any debt payments in the foreseeable future. Our annual interest on the debt for each year is $11.1 billion. This amounts to the tax take from 11 States. Any nation or any individual can live it up without incurring economic repercussions for a time, but there is always a pay-up day someday."

The Department of Agriculture has reported that Americans smoked 16 billion fewer cigarettes during the first half of this year than in the comparable period of 1963. That was a 6.5 per cent decline. Cigar sales, on the other hand, increased about 12 per cent.

If you drive children to school, says the Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission, never allow them to leave the car except from the curb side and always let them out on the school side of the street. Don't jeopardize their safety and ignore an opportunity to set the proper example just to save a few seconds.

Prescription drug companies almost doubled their charitable donations in 1963 as against 1961, according to a survey released by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association. The 1963 figure was $43,483,900 compared to $25,000,000 in 1961, an increase of 72 per cent. Sales increased only 17 per cent in that period.

In 1955, the federal government owned just under 408 million acres of land in this country—21.4 per cent of the total acreage. Last year it owned almost 770 million acres—or 33.9 per cent of all the land.

STOP, Don't Shoot!

Many states pay $100,000 yearly and more to replace signs riddled by the bullets of thoughtless hunters.

Good signs are particularly important at night, when their bright reflective warnings usually are the only guides to motorists. Sieve-like signs are hard to read, and kill innocent people.

Fortunately, laws provide stiff fines or jail terms for sign shooting.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Rev. Dr. L. A. Stangle has been assigned to Rohrer'sville charge of the U. B. church while Rev. W. J. Marks comes to Taneytown.

Mrs. Wm. E. Wagner of York, Pa., spent a few days visiting her parents, Martin L. Buffington and wife.

(Advertisement) Great Frederick Fair—October 20, 21, 22, 23, 1914. High Class free attractions in front of grandstand. Plenty of Good Racing. Enlarged Midway crowded with clean amusements.

The championship series of baseball games between Boston and Athletic clubs, made the censored war news take a back seat. Even the whole of Europe can't lick everything and big American baseball news is one of them.

Graham—Arnold. — On Wednesday evening, October 14, 1914, at the Lutheran parsonage, Taneytown, by Rev. L. B. Hafer, Mr. Peter S. Graham and Miss Mary V. Arnold, both of Taneytown were married.

Harney... William Fox, our blacksmith has just purchased a new anvil and you can hear it ring all over the town... Samuel C. Shoemaker had a new roof put on his house, and had quite a lot of papering and painting done on the inside.

Keysville... Mrs. George Cluts has gone to the Hebrew Hospital, Baltimore, where she will take treatment. Mrs. Cluts has been suffering with rheumatism and has not been able to walk for ten months... Mrs. Oliver Stonesifer and daughter, Carrie of Baltimore visited at George Ritter's on Sunday.

Harner — Mrs. Eliza Annie Harner, 87, died October 9th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Long, Littlestown, Pa. She is survived by two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Harvey Stultz of Taneytown; Mrs. Annie Angell and Charles Harner of Baltimore and John Harner of Emmitsburg. The services were held at the Reformed church, Taneytown, in the Lutheran cemetery.

The handsome grove of oaks, adjoining Taneytown, a part of "Antrim" farm, has been sold and will be cleared off for lumber. Very many will regret to see this beauty spot disappear.

Why Pay
Twice? You already pay taxes to support a generous federal-state medical program for those over 65 who need it.
Why pay again for a plan that isn't needed?

Surprised? Chances are you never heard of the Kerr-Mills Law, passed by Congress in 1960. We call it...Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly.

This program enables individual states, with federal assistance, to guarantee to every elderly person who needs it the health care he or she requires. Thousands of people every day are being helped by its broad benefits.

Yet, the supporters of the proposed Medicare Tax would have you believe that its passage is urgent...that persons over 65 are deprived of needed medical care because they can't pay for it.

So why pay twice? Find out about the health program you're already supporting. For information on health care for the elderly in your area, ask your doctor or call the number listed below.

Elmer A. Wolfe P-TA Meeting

"It takes three things to make a fire: fuel, heat and oxygen," Mr. Leslie Thompson told the members of the Elmer A. Wolfe P-TA on Monday evening, October 12. Mr. Thompson, who spoke on "Fire Prevention in the Home," is Past President of the Maryland State Firemen's Association, Chief of the Damascus Fire Department and Captain of the Montgomery County Police. Children, he said, can cause fires, but they can also help prevent them if adults will only listen to them. Instead of matches lying around as a temptation, each home should have a number of available flashlights so a child will use one instead of a match—to see into a dark closet, or corner or under a bed.

So many people, Mr. Thompson went on, hesitate to call the fire department and this is wrong. Unless you are trained, most people do not correctly know how to put out a fire or be sure that it is completely out and not just under cover. Sirens are used at all times on the trucks because it is a law to use them. New methods have been found for putting out fires by cutting off the oxygen. Do you know there has been a 4 per cent reduction in fire insurance in Maryland and that loss due to fire was 2 million dollars less last year?

Most people feel they will never have a fire and do things such as putting pennies behind fuses. Preparation should be made by each family for what each one should do in the event of a fire. Proper tools should be in our homes to fight a fire, such as a ladder, a hose which will fit bathroom or kitchen faucets and proper fire extinguishers. Your local firemen can recommend the proper type. They will also be willing to come to your home and inspect it and make recommendations to make your home safer. One should keep check on electrical equipment and wires and also chimneys. If necessary to call a fire department, do give your name and where you live with a good description of your location. Fire Prevention Week, Mr. Thompson ended, was originated after the great Chicago fire which burned out of control for two weeks. Fire is ALWAYS an enemy! Firemen are true Americans and dedicated men.

The motions to give $150.00 to the library fund and $40.00 towards expenses of the Outdoor School for 6th graders were approved as were the amended By-Laws explained by Mr. Perron, Principal. Mr. Perron also introduced the two new teachers for this year, Miss Forwood and Miss Broman, and told of the art work displayed in the hall that was done by the eighth grade boys. President Ray Wilson announced the Hobby Show and Supper planned for March 27 and named the various committees within the Executive Committee before introducing the evening's speaker, Mr. Thompson.

A Bit of Humor

The preacher at the wedding ceremony was an ardent fisherman and rather forgetful, he asked the groom, "do you promise to love, honor and cherish this woman?"

"I do," answered the groom.

"All right the preacher said, turning to the bride, read him in." The old lady who had lost her purse rushed into the police station and tearfully told her story. The inspector was very kind and calmed her fears as best he could. Laying his hand on her arm, he said: "we will leave no stone unturned to find your purse, madam." Leaving the station she noticed a group of city workers busy tearing up the street for drainage repairs, and she remarked to herself: "Well, they don't lose much time, I'll say that for them."

SOUTH PENN LEAGUE —by John Breth

New Oxford exploded for eight runs in the first two innings and went on to trounce Taneytown 16-6 in the finale of the South Penn season on Sunday at Old Mill diamond.

John Harner, strong right hander of the Nuggets, won his fifth straight decision, as New Oxford defeated the Terrors for the fifth time without a defeat this season.

Taneytown scored first on a double by "Scooter" Pfoutz who scampered home on Fred Shank's single. The Nuggets bounced right back in the first on an interference play at third to score one and an error by Bollinger added another tally. John Duttera then singled to center for two more runs, and New Oxford was never headed.

The Nuggets added four more in the second and a single tally in the third. In the fifth, New Oxford scored five times spotlighted by a bases-loaded triple by John King.

Taneytown came back in the sixth when Don Favorite singled, Jim Head singled and Fred Shank walked. Skinny Bollinger singled to center for two Terror tallies.

In the eighth, Taneytown came back again with a double by Don Favorite and a walk to Jim Head. Fred Shank then ripped a double for two runs and Neil Hoffman doubled in another score.

New Oxford whipped it up with two more runs in the eighth with the help of r.b.i. singles by John Bevenour and John Harner.

Taneytown playing without either of its regular starting pitchers relied on the stances of Fred Shank as a starter and "Scooter" Pfoutz who hurled the final five innings.

Thus the South Penn League season comes to an inglorious end for Taneytown. Already we are looking forward to next year with some rather new innovations for Memorial Park in store for the fans.

NEXT WEEK — the season wrap-up, complete with averages and statistics.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

The national political elections are one month away, but this is the time of year when baseball's electoral college does its voting.

Some of the results won't be made public for some time, but the voters will cast their ballots for the American and National League's Most Valuable Players, the Rookie-of-the-Year in each league, and the winner of the Cy Young Award, given annually to the best pitcher in baseball. The Most Valuable Player Award, the most coveted prize among the post-season baubles, should result in the closest voting.

St. Louis' late-season charge into first place complicated the M-V-P situation in the National League. While Philadelphia was rambling along atop the League for most of the season, it looked like a battle between the Phils' brilliant rookie third baseman Richie Allen and their long ball hitting outfielder Johnny Callison for M-V-P honors.

There are no precise ground rules for M-V-P awards, but generally they go to members of pennant winners. In the National League, seven of the last ten Award winners have played for pennant-winning clubs. Nine of the last ten M-V-P's in the American League starred for championship teams.

That trend probably again will be followed in the National League, but probably will be broken in the American League.

The National League's number one contender seems to be the slugging third baseman of the Cardinals, Ken Boyer. He led the major leagues in runs batted in with 119, and had 24 homers and a .295 batting average.

Two of Boyer's teammates, outfielder Lou Brock and pitcher Bob Gibson, the Phil's Allen and Callison and pitcher Jim Bunning, National League home run leader Willie Mays of San Francisco, batting champion Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, pitcher Larry Jackson of Chicago, pitcher Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles, and outfielder Hank Aaron and first baseman-catcher Joe Torre of Milwaukee also should be high in the running for the M-V-P Award.

Another third baseman, Brooks Robinson of the third-place Baltimore Orioles, could steal the Award in the American League. Robinson led the League in R-B-I's and was second in batting. His toughest competition should come from the New York Yankees' inspirational leader Mickey Mantle and Mantle's teammate, Elston Howard, pitcher Dean Chance of Los Angeles, Pete Ward and Gary Peters of Chicago, major league home run leader Harmon Killebrew and rookie Tony Oliva of Minnesota and Boston's relief ace, Dick Radatz.

Allen and Oliva seem almost certain of winning the Rookie Awards, and Chance probably will be the choice over Jackson, Bunning and Koufax for the Cy Young prize.

Like the words in the song when the LOS ANGELES DODGERS ran off four straight in the World Series last fall they "were too hot not to cool down."

They cooled, all right. In fact, they got downright frigid. From the lofty heights of World Champions they tumbled deep into the second division in the National League.

The logical question is . . . How did it happen?

There are several reasons. One, the loss of Johnny Podres for the season right at the start because of arm surgery. Johnny was a tough and seasoned number three pitcher. He was better than his won and lost record of 14 and 12 in 1963.

Two, the long slump which fastened itself on Tommy Davis, the big run-producer for the club.

Three, the intermittent arm trouble which hit Sandy Koufax. He managed to win 19 while losing only five which would be fabulous for anybody else. But his arm trouble has come every time at a bad time for Dodger hopes.

Four, the mediocre performance by Frank Howard, the Paul Bunyan outfielder, who was supposed to team up with Davis and give the Dodgers a solid one-two long-ball punch.

Five, the failure of the secondary pitching and the poor showing of the king of the bullpen, Ron Perranoski. Ron was unbeatable a year ago with 16 victories and three losses. This year he was five and six.

There have been reports from time to time that the Dodgers have dissection. It would be remarkable if there wasn't something like that on the team. Losers always have dissection.

Manager Walt Alston will be back next year.

The Dodgers are likely to bounce back next year, no matter who is running the team. They have the solid nucleus of a good ball club in pitchers like Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale and men like the Davis Boys, Willie and Tommy, and Maury Wills.

Remember When Dept.—Last year when we discussed the Orioles and why they failed. Next week we will attempt the same thing.

Today's Sport Laugh — Manager Birdie Tebbetts of Cleveland sat through many games this season after he returned from his heart attack. Said Birdie: "I told the players to win every game so that pressure wouldn't bother me, and I asked Gabe (Gabe Paul, Cleveland General Manager) to not yell at me so that I wouldn't become excited."

Church Offices

Lesson for October 18, 1964

Background Scripture: I Timothy 3:1-13;
5; Titus 1:5-9;
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4:11-16.

AMBITION is no sin. Provided the ambitious man is not just scheming for himself. Provided the man has the qualifications and does not fool himself into believing he amounts to more than he does. Provided also that he can serve God better if his ambition is fulfilled.

Now the position of an overseer in any line of work is a highly responsible one. The title makes no difference; it may be foreman, manager, supervisor, colonel, bishop. The top man in the outfit, that's what we mean,—the man who not only has his own work to do but has to supervise and direct the work of others also. In the church such a man is called a Bishop. He may be given different names, such as Executive Secretary, or Moderator, or just Overseer; churches that don't like to use the Bible word Bishop have leaders all the same. And we have it from Saint Paul himself that it is no sin to be ambitious to be a Bishop.

No lover of money

By the time the letters to Timothy and Titus were written, years had gone by since Pentecost. It looked as if Christ were not coming back right away, and the church might have to last for a long, long time. It was time to get organized. This called for leadership. The old apostles were dead or dying off, and the church had grown so that they could not have handled it alone even if they had all come back to life. Officers were needed, more and more. Paul lays down the qualifications for church officers in these "pastoral" epistles. When the first officers of the church were chosen soon after the first Pentecost the leading qualification mentioned was being filled with the Spirit (see Acts 6). But in these pages of Paul on church officers not a word is said about the Spirit. Why is this? One reasonably good guess is that the church had found that not all spiritual men or women make good leaders.

Sensible and dignified

Almost every quality Paul mentions is an everyday common-sense one. He is planning for a church that will live and grow in a highly practical world, a church with its feet on the ground. Such a church does not need a poor innocent lamb for a leader. It does not need an egg-head nor a lazy dreamer. How solid (hardly inspiring!) the phrases are—above reproach, temperate, sensible, dignified. . . . Most of us know people who are bright enough, but they never seem to hold jobs very long nor to make many friends, just because for all their brilliance they don't make sense. A bishop who is long on prayer and short on sense does not make a good bishop. (The same goes for any church officer.) A bishop must be dignified. Trivial? Not at all. Some things that are no sin when other people do them, are sins for a bishop. It was not a sin for a small boy to skinny up the pillars in front of a church; but if the preacher or the bishop did that, what would we all think?

Gifted man wanted

When Paul wrote to the Corinthians he spoke about spiritual gifts, and some of these we should call miraculous; but in this letter there is not a line about miracles. What must a bishop be able to do? Not turn stones into bread nor water into wine. Very simple things: for example to teach, and to manage those whom he loves. To teach and to manage; it would sound more romantic to say "to speak in tongues and to cast out demons." But good teachers and good managers are the kind that make good bishops. For after all, an overseer or supervisor of men must know men; he must know how to teach men, he must love them and at the same time know how to manage them.

Mitsuko Funakoshi, 19 year old skating star who will be introduced to Baltimore audiences in the forthcoming Silver Anniversary performances of Ice Capades at the Civic Center, is continuing her college studies on the road tour through a correspondence course with the University of California at Los Angeles.

Should the time come when she retires from professional skating, the Chicago born skater will become a physical education instructor. Meanwhile, she practices every day to perfect the figure skating technique which brought her to the attention of Ice Capades talent scouts.

It was while she was skating for fun at a Los Angeles rink that the talent scouts recognized her freshness and charm and convinced her to interrupt her studies for a professional skating career.

Her accolades already include honors in the Southwestern United States Junior Ladies Meet and being selected as the youngest figure skating judge for the United States Figure Skating Associations.

Mitsuko made her Ice Capades debut at the end of last season when the troupe performed in Honolulu. In her Civic Center appearances from October 28 through November 8, she will skate as a princess in a lavish Japanese production, "Night of the 13th Moon" and in football game-celebration dance sequence called "The Big Game."
