AGRICULTURE CENSUS TO BE TAKEN IN CARROLL COUNTY

Plans for taking the 1964 Census of Agriculture in Carroll County have been announced by John C. Lovell, newly-appointed census crew leader for the county.

The job will be done in three stages, the crew leader said. First will come recruitment and training of enumerators to count all farms in the county. About one enumerator for each 150 farms will be needed.

Shortly after Nov. 12, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, will start the second stage by mailing agricultural census questionnaires to all rural boxholders in the county. This will give farm and ranch operators, who are required by law to fill out the forms, a period of time to consult their records and fill in answers to the questions.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionnaires. At the time of this visit, the enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions the farmers may have had difficulty with. Enumerator visits are scheduled to begin in this county on Nov. 16. Enumerators will take about three weeks to complete their work, the crew leader estimates.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventory, information on farm equipment and facilities, farm products sold, and use of fertilizers, insecticides and herbicides.

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE'

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Christmas decorations and toys are beginning to show up in the stores at this early hour and day and yet when we think of it, it is really November and in another month of December it really will be Christmas!

This Christmas will be very much different for Your Observer, as my three boys are sending for me by jet to Yuma, Arizona. There is to be a big gathering of the family, I understand for the big feast! There will be the three boys and their wives and ten grand-children! Two of the boys live in California. Did you ever stop to think, folks of that wonderful poem, "The Night Before Christmas," as to the origin? I remember reading the story somewhere or other and I never forgot it. It was in the year of December 1822 in New York where Dr. Clement Clark Moore, a professor of Greek and Hebrew (at the General Theological Seminary) lived with his wife and three daughters. His father was the second Episcopal Bishop of New York and had been rector of Trinity Church and had administered the oath of office to President George Washington and the last rites to Alexander Hamilton! However, after a lifetime of work as a scholarly teacher, fame came to Dr. Moore for his popular Christmas Poem among children the world over.

His wife, that Christmas eve was packing baskets for the poor in the rambling old mansion on W. 23rd St., overlooking Hudson River. That was truly the suburbs then, 3 miles uptown from the main business district! It was late in the night when Dr. Moore started out for the request from his wife, "Just one more turkey for the poor families who lived down near the wharves!" He doubted, that the poultry stalls would still be open but he cheerfully set out wrapping himself up well and tucking in the wool muffler into his great coat. As he trod through the snow, his thoughts were of a story that he had promised to tell his six year old Charity, the oldest of his three daughters. Little did he dream of the fame that was to come to him on that very night—that cold, snowy Christmas Eve in 1822! Luck was with him, the market was open and the poultry man had several fat toms on the hooks in the stall. On the return home, the snow had stopped falling and the winter sky was alive with a million stars. Moore, an amateur poet stopped to savor the magic of the moonlight on the frozen Hudson and the dancing shadows it made of the chimney pots on the crisp white snow. A line came to him, "The Moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below!" Remember that line, folks?

At the bottom of the hill, where the road from town led up to his estate, Dr. Moore met his caretaker, who was a bearded and jovial Dutchman with a round dimpled face with a pipe. They stopped and chatted and this led the Master of Greek and Hebrew to have this man as his subject for the future poem, "The Night Before Christmas!" He climbed the stairs to his study and in less than an hour after taking his quill in hand, the poem, "THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS," was on paper—the poem that made him famous! He then sat beside the fireplace with his three little daughters around him reading the lines which delighted his children. It was published in the "Sentinel" in Troy, N. Y., for the first time, the following year but it was 15 years before it appeared in print under Moore's name. It was in the year of 1869 when Dr. Moore passed on that a man by the name Thomas Nast who made colorful cartoons to go along with the poem.

So each Christmas (Eve) his grave in Trinity Cemetery is visited by children carrying lanterns and singing carols and that all down through the years!

And that story, I hope to tell and read D. V. the famous Poem on Christmas eve with my family around me in Yuma, Arizona that poem in the big book from which I used to read to the three boys before a fireplace in the Hereford Parsonage each Christmas Eve. In my next Column will relate of the things, I am gathering together to take and present to the boys and I know you and you will love that!

Until next week, D.V. Don't forget like that song, "Make Someone Else Happy!"

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

WE SALUTE A GREAT MAN

Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st President of the United States, a man who outlived the vicious personal attacks upon him to become one of the most revered men in all the world, passed away October 20 at the age of 90.

Mr. Hoover was the epitome of the American dream. Son of the village blacksmith and orphaned before the age of ten, he arose to become head of the most powerful State in the world. Shortly after his election to the Presidency, a world-wide depression in 1929 caught the United States in its near-paralyzing grip, helped send the stock market crashing down and the American economy along with it.

Although the "great depression" was not Mr. Hoover's fault, he was an easy target for a despondent people and he was defeated for the Presidency in 1932. His long life span, however, enabled him to see this unjust vilification disappear, and he became a universally honored man for his great humanitarian works, and for his monumental task as Chairman of the Commission on Government Reorganization.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, now the only living ex-Republican President, spoke for all of us in America when he said:

"The nation is a loser in the death of President Hoover. He has by his great service earned the gratitude of America and the free world."

TUBERCULOSIS VACCINE FROM WILL ROGERS

If you ever dropped a coin into the container when the lights went up in the movie theater around Christmas time, you may be receiving an unexpected dividend from your charity. The annual collection, of course, is for the Will Rogers Hospital at Saranac Lake, New York.

This was opened back in 1930 to care for vaudeville performers who had the misfortune to be stricken with tuberculosis. Through the years it has broadened its field to care for anybody in the amusement and entertainment industry who develops any of 15 serious chest ailments including lung cancer and emphysema, and lacks resources for treatment.

In addition, the hospital in recent years has conducted research on chest diseases in its O'Donnell Memorial Laboratories. From these comes word that a scientist named Morris Dworski there has developed a tuberculosis vaccine promising enough to be undergoing tests by the World Health Organization.

An effective vaccine has been sought, of course, ever since Robert Koch found the tubercle bacillus in 1882. One developed in France has been used in many countries but rarely in the U.S. When new drugs began to cure tuberculosis so dramatically that many sanitariums were closed a few years ago, interest in the quest lagged.

The disease was not wiped out. If we make a better mousetrap, maybe nature breeds a smarter mouse. Bugs may have become tougher because tuberculosis, after declining many years, is now on the increase. If it lives up to its promise, vaccine from Will Rogers Hospital will be a welcome addition to medical armament everywhere.

Drama in Desserts

Cold 'n creamy ice cream and colorful spring fruit are combined in this simple to make yet glamorous dessert. The recipe calls for vanilla ice cream but any favorite flavor can be used.

Fresh fruit is plentiful at this time of year and you can create any number of appealing mixtures. Try to get a variety of tastes and textures such as sliced ripe bananas, chunks of pineapple, diced pears, and halves of strawberries. As the ice cream is cut into wedges, the fruit forms its own tart-sweet sauce. With the dessert serve some plain crisp cookies to complement the flavor of the fruit.

FRUIT FILLED ICE CREAM BOWL

- 1 quart vanilla ice cream, slightly softened
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- Sugar to sweeten
- 5 cups diced, mixed fresh fruit
- NABISCO Vanilla Wafers

Line a 1 1/2 quart bowl or mold with foil. Using back of a spoon, press ice cream evenly over interior to make a shell. Freeze, covered, 5 to 6 hours, or overnight.

Add lemon juice and sugar to fruit. Cover. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, turn ice cream out onto a chilled plate. Peel away foil. Invert and fill with fruit. Serve with Vanilla Wafers. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

A glance at the rapid growth of our list of advertisers against trespassing will convince all that our farmers have not changed their minds on the subject of opposition to hunting.

The early closing rule of the Taneytown stores, has been discontinued for the present, and all will keep open every evening during the week until January 1, 1915.

A rather extreme interpretation of the election law, as we think, prevented the free distribution of sandwiches and coffee on Election day by the ladies of Taneytown. Presumably, so doing would have represented a form of "Bribery" — a corrupt practice.

The teachers and pupils of the public school gave Prof. Wilbur L. Koons, principal, a handsome rocking chair, as a wedding gift on Thursday during the opening exercise period.

Of the 643 voters of Taneytown district who registered this Fall, 64 failed to turn out.

That Carroll County would vote "dry" was foreshadowed from the outset of the movement, the only doubt being the size of the majority. For Anti-Saloon Territory 4233; 2017, Taneytown, Uniontown, New Windsor, Mt. Airy and Westminster were the banner "dry" districts.

A force of hoodlums destroyed a lot of movable property in town on Saturday night, and played a lot of so-called tricks that were anything but a credit to the gentlemen (?) who participated in them.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

STEEL PIKE (FHTNC) — Marine Second Lieutenant Robert T. Clingan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Clingan of Taneytown, Md., Marine Private First Class John W. Baker, son of Mrs. Naomi C. Baker of Route 1, Taneytown, Md. and Marine Corporal John T. Gosnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Gosnell of 44 York Street, Taneytown, Md., have sailed from the East coast of the United States to take part in Operation STEEL PIKE in Spain. The combat training exercise will be the largest amphibious operation conducted in the Atlantic since World War II.

These men are members of Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 262, which is normally based at Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, Jacksonville, N. C.

In the practice landing, 28,000 Marines of the Second Marine Division, Second Marine Aircraft Wing and Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, along with a battalion of Spanish Marines will take part in a mock assault on beaches in Southern Spain on October 26 from landing craft and helicopters.

The combined Marine landing force will be carried and protected by a U. S. - Spanish fleet of 94 vessels, including ships of the United States' Military Sea Transport Service and chartered ships of the U. S. merchant fleet.

Operation STEEL PIKE is being conducted to show the ability of U. S. and Allied amphibious forces to rapidly place large numbers of troops ashore and maintain them for as long as necessary. The operation will also train the forces of both countries in conducting joint operations.

Spanish Air Force units will fly missions in support of the landing force along with U. S. Navy and Marine aircraft operating from fast attack carriers and from the Marines short airfield for tactical support. (SATS).

SATS is, in effect, a carrier flight deck, including catapults and arresting gear, moved ashore. It was developed by the Marine Corps to allow Marine air units to go ashore quickly to support Marine ground forces in amphibious operations.

Most of the United States units taking part in operation STEEL PIKE will return to the U. S. during the first week in December.

Star-spangled way to send a son to college

Educators expect a year of college will cost at least $2,500 by the time the class of '76 don their freshman beanies.

But you can get it for less—by buying Series E Savings Bonds now. That's because Bonds pay you back $4 at maturity for every $3 you invest.

Bonds are a good deal in another way, too. Because they help preserve your son's freedom to use his education. Uncle Sam makes good use of the money, safeguarding our interests around the world.

If you like, you can build your college fund automatically by buying Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

All you need is a Payroll Savings Application—and a promising youngster.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7½ years)
- You pay no state or local income tax and can defer payment of federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it

Elmer A. Wolfe P-T-A Executive Committee Meeting

The Program of Legislation to be discussed at the State Convention of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers in Baltimore, November 10 and 11 was discussed and voted upon by the members of the Elmer A. Wolfe P-T-A Executive Committee at their meeting on Monday evening, October 26. In brief, the items involved are: 1. a masterplan for advanced education which would include coordination of colleges, 2. extension of State Aid to include public kindergartens, 3. State Board to set standards to assure libraries in all public schools by 1970 with the minimum 1960 standards in effect, 4. expansion of opportunities for Driver Education through the schools to reach more people using time other than school hours if necessary, 5. Revision of the state provision to remove scholarship from political influence and implement higher educational programs, 6. Regional residential treatment centers for emotionally disturbed children and provisions state aid comparable to that furnished other handicapped children, 7. Increase welfare payments to families with dependent children to meet standard established by State Department of Welfare, 8. Establish public day care centers and encourage the operation of private day care centers and 9. Offer preschool training to dis-advantaged children.

Vice president Robert DePew took charge of the meeting in the absence of the president and also gave a report on the Council meeting he attended on October 20 where discussion was held on changing the present way of making nominations to the school board.

The treasurer reported enrolling 119 members and a balance of $151.58. Publicity Chairman displayed the scrapbook that was purchased to keep a record of any writings about the organization. It was suggested that Mr. Smith of the Baltimore County School Board be approached as a speaker for the February general meeting, to explain about the nominating of school board members, and Mr. Perron will contact him. The Constitution By-Laws have been approved by the State and will be kept with the secretary's records. Reports were given on progress made so far for the Hobby Show and Supper that is planned for March 27. A correction for the Exhibits Committee: Mr. DePew will work with Mrs. Coshun and Mrs. Nusbauer not Mrs. DePew as previously stated.

Mr. DePew read a letter from Mr. Funk, Chairman and Director of the State Roads Commission stating no immediate date for completion of Rt. 75 from Union Bridge to Keymar and no difficulties expected at this time at that intersection. Mrs. Harold Thomas will be asked to represent the group at the Convention in Baltimore on November 10 and 11.

Observations on the World of Sports

It's a fact that he left "The Mark of Zorro" on two pitchers this year. We're referring to ZOILLO VERSALLES, also known as Zorro, who broke up a pair of no-hitters with base hits.

Versalles had one of his best years. He batted in the .260's and his 20 homeruns is a record for a shortstop on the Minnesota Club.

Versalles has been accused of being an erratic fielder. It is a charge which annoys him and which he considers unjustified.

He says: "I don't think I am erratic. I hope and pray I am not. Some days you come to the ball park and don't feel good. But you have to play anyway. There are so many plays to make at shortstop. It's easy to get tired."

His knockers point to the fact that Zoilo had made seven errors this year in the 9th inning of games. But only seven of all his misuses this year have resulted in unearned runs being scored.

Versalles is very fast and stretches a lot of singles into doubles and doubles into triples.

He has a nice way of making his decision on whether to go for an extra base.

He says: "If I see the ball still on the ground when I round first I go for an extra base."

Manager Sam Mele of the Twins has worked hard with Versalles on his fielding.

Mele puts it this way: "He has learned to play hitters better. He used to play everyone straightaway. By playing pull-hitters to pull he may give up a few base hits but he will have fewer difficult plays."

Versalles is only 24 years old and still has a lot of time for improvement. He took a long stride forward this year and if he takes another forward step next year . . . well, he may have a real good season.

A lot of people in New York—Milwaukee will have to speak for itself—are comparing Y. A. Tittle of the football Giants to Warren Spahn of the Baseball Braves.

This was the year that Spahn went so far over the hill as to be out of sight. He fell to a 6 and 13 record after 23 and 7 the previous years.

Pitchers have followed good seasons with bad ones many times before. But when it happens to a 43-year-old pitcher the suspicion is strong that he has had it.

The thing that made Spahn great—possibly the greatest left-hander of all time—is the same thing that now is hurting him. And the analogy may be exact in the case of Tittle.

Both have been such tremendous performers, a rare blend of talent, will to win and amazing stamina, that it is impossible for them to admit defeat.

When the 1964 baseball season ended Spahn was quoted as saying that he would not pitch in the bullpen next year and if Milwaukee couldn't find a starting place for him perhaps some other club could.

If Warren comes back with a big year in 1965, no matter where he is pitching, it will rate—not as a minor miracle—but as a major one. He will be 44 next Spring.

Tittle was 38 on the 24th of last month and in the brutal game of pro football that is at least equivalent to 44 in baseball.

Y. A. is having the worst season of his career but he stays in there with Spartan fortitude. However, he can't move around the way he used to, he can't throw the ball the way he used to, he doesn't call plays or move the team with the verve he had in the past.

Perhaps it's the assorted injuries he has suffered which are holding him back. But the simple fact is that at 38 you don't shake off injuries the way you did a few years earlier. It's always difficult for a great athlete to admit that the calendar has caught up to him. Tittle and Spahn are having that hammered home to them now.

Remember When Dept.—The late Bailey Goss had to go on TV and beg people to buy season tickets to the Colts so we could get a Pro Football team back in Baltimore? The year was 1953.

Today's Sport Laugh—There's the story of the football coach's daughter who got married and a sports writer asked him how the wedding went. The coach replied: "I have to wait until I see the movies."

In the Woods

This Autumn morning is so bright and sparkling that I just cannot resist the call of the out-of-doors, even though numerous tasks within require my attention. My philosophy is simply this: the work will always be here, but these golden days will end very quickly, now that November is upon us. Therefore, I must drink deeply of their fleeting beauty, while I may.

And so I set forth, armed with binoculars (for I intend to take in some bird-watching, as well), notebook and pencil and accompanied by the kittens, "Cream-puff and Reddy." They too, find the day exhilarating, for they romp and scamper about in a perfect frenzy of delight.

One of the very nicest ways to savor Autumn's charms to the utmost, I think, is to saunter through the woods, so to the woods I go! The pleasant crunch of crisp leaves underfoot, the fading glory of the trees, the purplish haze all around the country-side, the tang of smoke in the air—all of these make my walk a delightful experience, indeed.

Having reached my destination, (an observation point for bird watching) I seat myself on a large, comfortable stump, and prepare to enjoy some companionship with my friends of the wild. How healing and peaceful is the silence of the woods! Here among the tall trees, I feel far removed from the tensions and problems of every day life. The kittens have long since departed and the only sounds are the whisper of falling leaves and the occasional call of a bird.

And now, one by one, the feathered creatures come into view. Several blue jays eye me curiously and then, screaming harshly, swoop away. A pair of black-capped chickadees go through a series of acrobatic stunts and I grow dizzy watching them. This particular area is a virtual paradise for woodpeckers, and in rapid succession, I identify a flicker, a red headed woodpecker and a downy woodpecker. A brilliant flash of scarlet and a cheerful whistle announce the presence of my favorite bird, the Cardinal. A few moments later, I am startled by the loud crow and whirling wings of a gorgeous rooster pheasant as he practically sails right past me.

But, as fascinating as "birding" is, and as lovely as these surroundings are, the time has come when I must tear myself away and get back to more practical things. These quiet hours in the woods always bring me closer to God, for they make me more keenly aware of His many blessings, and of His infinite love and compassion for His children here on earth. So it is with lighter heart and step that I retrace my steps homeward, ready now to take up any task!

—Zola Cantwell.

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Witness

Lesson for November 8, 1964

Background Scripture: II Timothy 1:3-18, Devotional Reading: Psalm 27:1-3, 7-14.

THE BEST advertising is not in print. Manufacturers set aside enormous sums to full-page ads in newspapers or slick magazines, for posters and billboards, for spots on TV, and so forth; but what no company can buy is the best advertising of all — word of mouth. One person telling another; I've tried it, and it's great! is the surest way of getting the truth — if it is Dr. Foreman true — spread around among the population. You can pay to have lies printed; but you can't pay people to lie about your product; word-of-mouth advertising is generally truthful.

For Truth, not trifles

Christian life is more than talk. It begins with faith, and this is a matter of attitude, of response to God, not of words. The real test of a Christian is never first of all. What does he say? Nevertheless words are a part of the Christian life, and an important part too. Man is a word-using and word-making creature, and if Christianity were a silent wordless thing, it would be unfitted for the life and needs of men. The amount of words poured out in conversation every day is enormous, no one can count them; but how many of those are Christian words? This brings up another question: What kind of talk is Christian? For one thing, the Christian speaks up for truth, not lies, — of course. Many books today, many speakers from public platforms, many editors, feed the public with lies or half truths. The Christian man will not ask first of all what is pleasant and popular, but what is true. A lying Christian is no Christian at all. But the truths for which Christians speak are the important ones.

For those who have no voice

A communist will tell you that all religions, including Christianity, are gigantic frauds; tranquilizers to make people forget their fears and troubles; and that only communism has any real interest in the people on the bottom levels of society, the poor, the depressed, around the earth. This is one of the communist lies. A great deal was said and done for the oppressed and voiceless of the world long before any communists were heard of. For example: In England, when machines were first used in industry, much of the work was done by little children, as young as seven years. Their working hours were from five A.M. to eight P.M., standing all that time. In the mines it was even worse; little children five years old, boys and girls, had to drag tubs of ore out of the mines, through roadways often under 28 inches high, — for a sixteen-hour day. Those child workers were voiceless, they needed a voice to speak loudly for them; and it was Christian voices, especially that of Lord Shaftesbury, one of the great Christians of any century, who roused the conscience of England, and changed the laws. A "Christian" who is silent about injustice when he has a chance to speak, a "Christian" who is blind to injustice hardly deserves the name of Christian.

For Christ

A Christian's witness, then, is always for truth; always for justice; and also, first and last, for Christ. Speaking up for Christ seems often more difficult than speaking for truth and for the victims of injustice. Don't we often leave all the witnessing for Christ to the preacher? But the fact is, if we do that we are dodging what can be not only our duty but our delight. What does it mean, really, to "witness to Christ?" It just means speaking up for him. When you hear some one talking down a Christian truth, whenever you hear some one denying that Jesus was right, whenever you hear Jesus ridiculed as long out of date, or hear Christians caricatured as starchy-eyed fools, then is the time to speak a good word for him. Speaking out for Christ means letting people know you are a Christian.

Letter to the T. B. Association

Saturday, October 9, 1964
Mr. Willard Uhler, President
Carroll County TB Association
Westminster, Maryland
Dear Mr. Uhler:

An article concerning tuberculosis which was recently published in the Hanover Evening Sun came to my attention.

Due to the fact that I happen to be a victim of tuberculosis, am a resident of Carroll County where so many cases have been reported recently I was quite interested.

Since I have to remain in a hospital for six months away from my family and employment I am anxious to have something done about the high rate of tuberculosis.

To my knowledge there is no law that would compel individuals to have X-Rays taken periodically. This I feel would be of great help. Also I understand that even though there is a law that anyone employed in a restaurant is supposed to have an X-Ray this has not been enforced.

There are many people who have abused their good health and sound bodies, but I do not feel that I am classified in this group. Consequently, my illness could easily have been caused by one of these positive carriers since there has been no trace of tuberculosis in my family.

I am employed in a public office where I come in contact with all types of people.

Fortunately I have been negative since I have been hospitalized. And, I might add that it was through one of the Mobile X-Ray units that my case was discovered. Why don't more of the people take advantage of these units? They are very convenient for them.

Mr. Uhler, you as president of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association are interested in the fight against tuberculosis, as well as collection of money for fighting tuberculosis, but I also thought you might be able to bring this to the attention of the proper authorities in order to reduce this dreadful disease.

Sincerely,
A victim of tuberculosis.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

FORT LEONARD WOOD, MO. (AHTNC) — Army Specialist Four Raymond S. Flora, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Muncie Flora, Route 1, Union Bridge, Md., and other members of the 1st Infantry Division are participating in Exercise GOLD FIRE I, a 16-day field training exercise being conducted in the vicinity of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., ending November 13.

Specialist Flora is participating with Joint Task Force Ozark, one of the combat forces involved in the exercise. About 20,000 men are taking part in the maneuver.

The exercise, involving 2 opposing forces, Joint Task Force Ozark and Joint Task Force Sioux, is designed to test and evaluate the suitability of the U. S. Air Force concept for improving the use of aviation in support of Army ground forces. Ozark forces are employing the new concept of support and attack while Sioux forces are using current doctrines and procedures.

Flora is regularly stationed at Ft. Riley, Kansas, as a mechanic in the 1st Battalion of the division's 26th Infantry.

He attended Frederick H. S. before entering the Army in October 1956.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

AMARILLO, Tex. — Airman Third Class John L. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bennett of Rt. 2, Mt. Airy, Md., has graduated with honors from the technical training course for U. S. Air Force jet aircraft mechanics at Amarillo AFB, Texas.

Airman Bennett, who was trained to repair current Air Force jet fighters, is being assigned to a Strategic Air Command (SAC) unit at Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz. His air division supports the SAC mission of keeping the nation's intercontinental missiles and jet bombers on constant alert.

The airman is a graduate of Baltimore (Md.) Polytechnic Institute.

There is nothing as pompous as an "authority" who has to maintain his reputation.

SWIMMING POOL PLANS

Management Plan

A swimming pool manager and necessary life-guards will be employed to oversee the facilities, under the supervision of the Mayor and City Council of Taneytown; during the first year's operation, the project's Executive Committee will directly supervise the pool for the Mayor and City Council.

The specific rules and regulations will govern conduct of persons using the pool to ensure safety and a pleasurable atmosphere. These rules and regulations will be printed for public perusal as the project nears completion.

Contributors to the Fund-Raising Campaign will receive free family season tickets as bonuses if their contributions exceed various amounts, as follows: $50 or over, one one-year family season ticket; $100 or over, one one-year family season ticket; $500 or over, a three-year family season ticket; $1000 or over, a five-year family season ticket; and $5000 or over, a ten-year family season ticket.

Pledge System to be Announced

The system of donations and pledges will be announced in the next week. Finance and Fund-Raising co-chairmen Argyle Kaufman and Harry Dougherty, Jr., are planning an extensive campaign to raise the needed $60,000.00 swimming pool construction goal. This campaign, set for November kick-off, will cover Taneytown and vicinity.

The admission fees, rules and regulations were determined by Mrs. Brown's committee after thorough study of fifteen area commercial and private club swimming pools. Admission fees will be used for pool operational expenses, salaries of pool personnel, maintaining the proposed pool, and improving existing facilities.

Mrs. Harry Dougherty, Jr., Vice Chairman of the Executive Committee of the project, was interviewed Tuesday, Oct. 27, by WTTT, Westminster radio station about the swimming pool plans.

FOSTER PARENTS WEEK

Maryland's first Foster Parent's Week, a week set aside to honor the State's more than 3,500 foster parents, will be observed from Sunday November 15, through Sunday, November 22, it was announced today by Mrs. Lester S. Levy and Miss Irene Olson, co-chairmen of the state-wide event.

In making the announcement, Mrs. Levy and Miss Olson said: "There have, of course, been numerous local tributes to Maryland's foster parents by individual agencies in the past, but this is the first time that state-wide recognition is being given to these dedicated men and women."

"Actually of course, even this recognition is merely a token tribute. There can be no really tangible award for the services rendered by our foster parents, their service to the community at large in helping troubled youngsters grow up into responsible citizens, and their service to the youngsters themselves at a most critical time in their lives."

Receptions, teas and mass meetings attended by local dignitaries, and sponsored by local civic, religious and social groups will be held in all 23 counties, as well as Baltimore City. Testimonial certificates signed by the Governor will be presented to the honor guests who have been foster parents for five years or more.

In addition to honoring the foster parents, Mrs. Levy and Miss Olson said that the secondary purposes of Foster Parents Week is to interpret the Foster Home Program to the community at large, and also to recruit additional foster homes.

Foster Parents Week is being co-sponsored by the Maryland State Conference of Social Welfare, a citizens group comprised by lay leaders, social agencies and special workers interested in promoting the general welfare of the State, the Advisory Committee on Foster Care to the State Department of Public Welfare and approximately 29 social agencies throughout the State.

Foster parents are men and women who have taken youngsters into their homes at a time when the youngsters' own parents are temporarily unable to care for them. They include white collar workers, blue collar workers, professional men, business men, teachers, tailors, electricians, engineers, truck drivers—the entire gamut of occupations.

Foster parents receive a boarding allowance for the youngsters in their care, which varies according to the agency, the county and the age of the child. In addition, the social agency takes care of the medical and dental bills, supplements the boarding allowance with a clothing allowance and absorbs the miscellaneous expense.

Every effort is always made to place the right child in the right home, and the agency's social workers are always available to the foster parents and the natural parents for counselling.

Children may stay in a foster home for a month, or a few years, depending on the individual case.

Persons interested in becoming parents are requested to call the Carroll County Welfare Board, 848-5432, or the Maryland Children's Aid Society, 848-6780, during the 4-week period from Nov. 9 to Dec. 9.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

GLASGOW, Mont. — Technical Sergeant Donald E. Frush, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Frush of Rt. 4, Westminster, Md., has arrived for duty at Glasgow AFB, Mont., after a tour of service in Alaska.

Sergeant Frush, an air police supervisor, is assigned to a Strategic Air Command (SAC) unit at Glasgow. His organization supports the SAC mission of keeping the nation's intercontinental missiles and jet bombers on constant alert.

The sergeant is a graduate of Hampstead (Md.) High School. His wife is the former Joann B. Richards.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

FORT EUSTIS, VA. (AHTNC) — Pvt. Lee Fitzpatrick, whose mother lives in Westminster, Md., completed a 19-week single engine single rotor helicopter repair course at the Army Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va., October 30.

During the course Fitzpatrick was instructed in the repair of rotary wing aircraft of the reconnaissance type by inspecting, adjusting, removing, and replacing helicopter assemblies and subassemblies.

He entered the Army last March and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

The 21-year-old soldier is a 1962 graduate of Milford Mill H. S., Baltimore.

Cheerfulness, it is rumored, is largely a matter of keeping one's income above one's out-go.
