JANUARY — 1965

January is usually the most arctic month of the year in Maryland, but thus far at least, we have managed to escape Old Man Winter's frigid blasts and numbing blizzards. On the contrary, he has been handing out an abundance of rain, amazingly mild temperatures, and out here in the country, scads of mud. However, knowing the Old Man's fickle temperament, I would not be too sur-prized to wake up some morning and find ice and snow everywhere.

find ice and snow everywhere. Now the days are so dark and dreary that I must have the kitchen lights on constantly. But in the eve-if to make up so much gloom, Treasurer reported a balance ning, as if to make up so much gloom, the sun sets fire to the sky, scorch-ning, as if to make up for so much gloom, the sun sets fire to the sky, scorching it with flames of coral, apricot and pink. What a lovely, cheerful sight is a winter sunset, reassuring us that all is not darkness assuring us that all is not darkness and gloom after all. During the first week of January, our old house is strangely quiet. Not even an echo remains of the gay young voices and merry chatter which filled its rooms at the Holiday Sea-son. Now only the crackling of the faithful stove, Hercules and the gentle puring of the kitten, disturb the stillness. All of a sudden I must confess to a certain degree of lone-liness. The best antidote I have found for this malady is work—not typing for this malady is work—not typing or writing, but good, honest, muscle-stirring labor, such as scrubbing and waxing floors or cleaning out cup-boards. The curious kitten, who follows me everywhere, watches the flurry of activity with great interest. Finally, tiring of it all, the little creature relaxes behind the stove and creature relaxes behind the stove and is soon fast asleep. January, of course, ushers in the brand new year of 1965. We cannot know what it will bring forth. Cer-tainly, for all of us, it is time for a fresh beginning. God has given to each one a spotless clean page, on which to record his or her daily liv-ing May we ask His help in making ing. May we ask His help in making this particular January the gate-way to purer Christian living in the months that lie ahead.

To all my friends and readers — a very happy, healthy and prosperous New Year! —Zola Cantwell.

These people, both men and women are the L E A D E R S of the world! In fact, we could not go on without fact, we could not go on without them. They have a conscientious regard for duty and responsibilities that may rest upon them. They feel instinctively their sense of fitness for position or rank above the common level. Great respect for public opinion is a marked trait. They are highly methodical and scientific with highly reasoning powers which makes them loved by everyone. Goldwater and Nixon are Capricorn! They always are quite handsome and the men are great admirers of beauty plus beau-tiful women. They are the most fascinating listeners of the entire 12 signs. They never act on the impulse of the moment nor are they demon-strative being the "Earth" sign they are truly very deep. They are cool headed at all times and are most magnetic! When at the head of any business and they desire to discharge a fellow worker they are never thrown into confusion but can hire a man almost immediate-ly to fill another's place in any emergency. Our greatest need is unity—one who is acceptable to all people.

In our local government we must be united and work hard for our candidates. We will elect a Republican slate in Carroll County in 1966 if we have unity, qualified candidates and present a definite constructive

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

MANHEIM, PA., SENTINEL: "Moguls of the AFL-CIO are now readying a series of demands of the Administration, and what they hope will prove to be a 'rubber stamp, Congress, that will go along with any White House legislative request sent to Capitol Hill. Chief of these demands will be repeal of Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits the individual states to ban the union shop (compulsory union membership) through so-called rightto-work laws which give the worker his God-given right to join or not to join a labor union as his conscience may dictate."

ST. ALBANS, VT., MESSENGER: "There are people who care about a free and strong America. . . . We met a man the other night who dressed in his reserve officer's uniform, coming from a weekly training session In the course of conversation we asked what he did about his annual two weeks tour of active duty. 'Oh, I take that during my vacation time I couldn't ask the boys at the office to do my work for a whole month.' These men don't consider themselves heroes. But as long as we have enough of such men, America will survive."

CLERMONT, FLA., PRESS: "That the majority is always right, that our chosen leaders are infallible, and that our nation is invincible, are extremely popular misconceptions that are much too often confused with patriotism. The majority is not always right, our leaders are merely human id our nation, against the growing odds of socialism and the world government ambitions of the United Nations, is not necessarily invincible!"

then considered of relatively little value to white men. Note that we mentioned 'then considered' of little value. . . . today those redskins are discovering both oil and uranium on their spreads. . . . Maybe this oil and uranium bit is, in fate, a sort of delayed payment for the vast lands and hunting grounds our ancestors acquired by force."

OCEAN CITY, N. J., SENTINEL-LEDGER: "One thing the United States Supreme Court cannot do is declare the United States Constitution unconstitutional. If the Court could do so, it might attack the make-up of the United States Senate which, with two senators from each state regardless of size, is clearly defying the Court's fiat that representation in state legislature must be on the basis of population."

Every man has two educations-that which is given to him, and the other, that which he gives himself. Of the two kinds, the latter is by far the more valuable. Indeed all that is most worthy in man, he must work out and conquer for himself. It is that, that constitutes our real and best nourishment. What we are merely taught, seldom nourishes the mind like that which we teach ourselves. - Richter.

Pack Nutrition in Lunch Box

Back to school for the youngsters often means back to daily lunch packing for mothers, who naturally are concerned about providing tasty as well as nutritionally adequate meals-awayfrom-home.

from-home. Nutritional requirements are easily met by following the pat-tern of the school lunch program. The Type A meal includes: 1/2 pint whole milk; 2 ounces meat, fish, poultry or cheese or 1/2 cup cooked dried beans, peas or soybeans or 1/4 cup peanut butter; 6 ounces or 3/4 cup raw, cooked or processed vegetable or fruit; 1 serving bread, muffin or other hot bread made of whole whole or considered eased 2 to eaven on the pattern or fortified wheat or enriched cereal, and 2 teaspoons butter or fortified magarine.

It doesn't take long, though, to settle into a lunch-packing rut. Use a little ingenuity to keep lunches from becoming mo-notonous. Try different kinds of breads for sandwiches, such as pumpernickel, cheese, date-nut, French or cinnamon breads, poppy seed rolls, hotdog or hamburger buns. Vary the fillings, too. Especially good are sliced ham and jelly, shredded cheese with bacon, hard-cooked eggs with sliced frankfurters, meat loaf and pickle relish, cream cheese with chopped peanuts. Modern plastic wrapping materials such as Handi-Wrap sand-wich bags make it easy for youngsters to carry the kind of food they need for good health and to keep it fresh and flavorful until mealtime. Sandwiches can even be made ahead of time and refrigerated overnight. There's no longer any worry about juicy or drippy foods leaking all over the lunch. Tomatoes and pickles will remain fresh and won't make the sandwich soggy if they're packed in separate Handi-Wrap sandwich bags to be inserted into the sandwich at lunchtime.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

There were 61 relatives, neighbors and friends who visited with Mrs. Charles Cluts while she was at home at River Dale Farm at Keysville for the holidays from Western Maryland Hospital. She enjoyed seeing each and everyone of them. Mrs. Mary Bobyletts of Hagerstown spent four days and Mrs. Hugh Heaps and son Galen with his friend, Fred McGraff, near Silver Spring spent three days visiting with the Cluts.

A Christmas dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Virgie Ohler of Taneytown on the 25th by her children. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ohler and daughters Linda and Bonnie of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ohler and sons Joseph and Stephen of Thurmont, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Overholtzer and daughters Kathy and Cindy and son Michael of Harney, Donald Yingling of the Gettysburg Road and David Portner of Emmitsburg.

Jimmy Seibert of Clear Spring (and a college student at Frostburg) visited on Friday with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan. His brother Timmy and sister Mariann, who had been visiting the Wilhides, returned home with him that evening. The previous Tuesday evening, the Wilhides, Tim-my and Mariann had visited with the William Fleharty family.

Isn't it amazing the difference shrubbery makes around a house? | Short time ago plantings were made at both the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bowers of Keysville and of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Heltebridle of Taneytown. Really "dresses" them up. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Jane and Beth were visitors on Sunday with his mother and his sister and family, Mrs. Maurice Wilhide, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry and children of Baltimore. Those on the committee will be Berman Weeks, Paul Johnson, Mrs. Nor-man Black, Mrs. Ruth Thomas, Mrs. Danny Zile and Mrs. William Fleharty. The Keysville Lutheran Church Women met Monday evening with the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary and its Auxiliary as the topic. Mrs. James Coshun had devotions and Mrs. William Fleharty told of the work of the Auxiliary and gave some in-teresting facts about the Seminary such as: it was founded in 1826, it consists of 19 buildings on 52 acres of land, over 5,000 pastors have been trained there and it is the first Lutheran Seminary to conduct Pastoral Institutes. February is Seminary Emphasis Month and memberships will be available at that time. The goal this year is $5,000.00 and will used for Scholarship purposes for the Seminarians. Slides were shown with views of some of the buildings and the campus. The Special for the eve-ning was two songs by Marian and Diane Fissel. Diane played the ac-cordion and they sang "I'll Tell It Wherever I Go" and "The Keys To The Kingdom."

The business meeting was conduct-ed by Mrs. Edward Coshun, newly-elected president. A letter about the bead work done at the Rocky Boy Indian Mission in Montana was read by Mrs. Carroll Dougherty and a consignment will probably be ordered later. Important announcements were: for the used greeting cards and stamps project — please turn yours over to Mrs. Clyde Wilhide before or on the next meeting date, Feb. 1. World Day of Prayer will be held at Keysville Lutheran Church on March As delegate and alternate for the Annual Convention at Gettysburg to be held June 22-23-24, Mrs. William Fleharty and Mrs. James Coshun were named. Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, past president, thanked everyone for their cooperation during her tenure of office and asked that everyone do the same for Mrs. Coshun. A Guide for the New Year

And I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year: give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown! and He replied: Go out into the darkness and put thine hand into the Hand of God. That shall be to Thee better than light and safer than a known way.

time the Hawks take the floor, and he can handle himself under the best in the league. Did somebody mention scoring? Well, big Bob recently became the first man in the history of the N-B-A to score 20,000 points. Oh, that record will be broken and almost certainly Chamberlain and Robertson certainly Chamberlain and Robertson, and perhaps others, will wind up with more points in their lifetime than Pettit.

Piney Creek Presbyterian Church. But he still has been a very valuable man for the Hawks and is showing no sign of losing his touch. Pettit came into the N-B-A as a center and now plays forward. He doesn't have too many seasons left as a player, but that decision prob-ably will be left to him.

The Hawks were located in Mil-waukee when they drafted Pettit and Bob immediately journeyed to that city to try to help owner Ben Ker-ner sell tickets.

The pre-season sale wasn't going too well one day and Kerner looked at Pettit and said: "You know, Bob, I forgot to ask you. But, can you play basketball?"

Pettit didn't answer. But he has answered on the hardwood floor for the more than 10 years that have passed since then. Changing over from offensive end to linebacker in football is a little bit like making a switch from short-stop to catcher in baseball.

It doesn't happen often. A ques-tion of types. The type baseball play-er who can handle the job at short-stop rarely can do the job behind the plate. And in football a guy who is foot an und in the plate to be a short to fast enough and nimble enough to be a pass receiver rarely has the bulk and crashing talent demanded of a linebacker. STEVE STONEBREAKER made the switch this year from offensive end to linebacker for the Baltimore Colts, the Western Champions of the National Football League.

The Colts got Stonebreaker in a trade with Minnesota last Spring. Steve had played offensive end for the Vikings who drafted him from Detroit University. He wasn't help-

The Colts got Stonebreaker from Minnesota for Palmer Pyle, an offensive guard. He broke into the Baltimore lineup this Fall as Linebacker on the left side after the Colts lost their open-ing game to Minnesota.

Stonebreaker quickly established himself as a fine player at this new position and the Colts went on a long winning streak to win the title in the Western Division. Coach Don Shula says this of Stonebreaker: "Steve has a defen-sive temperament. He likes to sock people."

Stonebreaker puts it this way: "I like it just where I am. I have ab-solutely no desire to play offensive again." The long-time defensive end star

Yes-Carrots In Muffins!

That carrot is a versatile vegetable! It can appear on the relish tray, cooked and buttered as a vegetable and even in cakes. But have you ever considered adding carrots to muffins? They're deli-cious! Bits of grated carrot add a subtle flavor and sweetness to these corn muffins. The muffins are made the quick and especially easy way with a corn muffin mix, and you can be sure they'll come out perfectly every time. Just a bit of lemon and a touch of nutmeg give the golden muffins further flavor interest. Try them soon, perhaps for supper with a fried ham slice, parsleyed potatoes, leafy spinach and dessert apple cobbler.

FISH STEAKS, taste-tempting and nutritious, are served with crispy french fries and glazed carrots.

How to fry fish and seafood correctly is a lesson worth learning. Many foods—such as delicately flavored fish steaks—are best fried in a crisp coat of bread crumbs that seals in the flavor and keeps the fish moist. Golden Crumb-Fried Fish Steaks are ideal for the cool fall days moist. Golden Crumb-Fried Fish Steaks are ideal for the cool fall days ahead. Coat the fish well in crumbs and fry it in a vegetable oil that is hot but not smoking. Then the fish cannot absorb the frying oil. Vege-table oils are suggested because both they and the fats in fish are poly-unsaturated, which serve to depress saturated fats, number one suspect in hardening of the arteries and heart disease. Fish steaks—rich in protein, vitamins and minerals—are among the many seafoods available during the October Fish 'n Seafood Parade. Now is the best time to buy all fishery products as they are plentiful, and after the late summer and early fall harvest of fish and shellfish, many are economically priced.
