SIGNS OF THE SEASON IN THE COUNTRY

Old Mother Earth, wearing her dia-mond- studded winter-white mantle. A bleak, gray sky, promising even The little stream, held fast in an icy grip.

The shy wild doves, coming almost to the house in their quest for food.
A large flock of pheasants (about 20), converging on the grain distributed by a thoughtful neighbor. Our frosted upstairs windows, glistening in the moon-light.

The Winter sky, blazing with a host of twinkling stars.

A black-capped chickadee, hammering away at a piece of sunflower seed. The energetic stove, Hercules, radiating his pleasant, penetrating

The sleepy kitten, purring blissfully in the wood box. A bitter wind, moaning down the kitchen chimney.

Dusky black crows, flapping to their roost at evening-time.

The electric coffee pot, perking a cheerful, bubbling song.

FARMERS FILING REQUIREMENTS

Farmers earning at least two-thirds of their 1964 gross income from ag-riculture should file their estimated 1964 Federal income tax returns, Forms 1040-ES, on or before Friday, January 15, 1965, according to Irving Machiz, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, which comprises Maryland and District of Columbia. However, such estimate need not be filed if the farmer files his final return on Form 1040 and pays in full any tax due by February 15, 1965. "Farmer's Tax Guide," which furnishes more detailed information on this subject, is available upon re-quest from your local Internal Rev-

A PROJECT IS BORN

A community pool is planned and the work has just begun. We have a long way to go before the goal is reached. This project will help our town to grow in more ways than one. It will be a meeting place for the teenagers, youth groups, cub scouts, and other organizations and neighboring towns will come and join in the fun and learn how to swim.

The pool is going to be erected in such a way that there will be room for one and all. The rules are strict, of course, only to protect us and the

There are still many questions to be answered. Some of these may be: Will my family get the full value out of the pool? Why are they going to make it so big? Will the admission fee be lowered in years to come? Most questions asked by the citizens of Taneytown will be answered as time goes on

If I were a man and discovered test housework and all that goes with it. If I were a man and discovered that before marriage that would not be for me. One hears many times, "I just hate cooking" or "We eat our meals out when we both return from business!" The reason there are so many men out of jobs is simply for the fact that women are taking over, I firmly believe that the woman's place is in the home so as to make her husband comfortable upon his return in the evening. Do not complain to your husband about little details that have gone wrong or to upset you to your husband about little details that have gone wrong or to upset you when he returns home and do not ask him to do so many chores before he even eats his dinner. Constant running out of the home for parties in the evening and then you may wonder why, "John is not up to par!" Many times wives continue on with work to purchase furniture and that on time and it continues mounting. A young husband said to me, "Well, my wife is a grand girl but she is so demanding as to the household effects that I cannot purchase the items as the cannot purchase the items as the Jones family has and we have had words about it until she threatened me that she would go out to work and that started the whole rumpus!" HOW BIG IS $100 BILLION?

We've become conditioned to annual federal budgets in the $100 billion range. But it's the world's safest bet that mighty few of us can begin to visualize so vast a sum.

Columnist Sylvia Porter provides a number of down-to-earth examples of just what $100 billion amounts to. Here's one of them: "If a corporation had started in business with $100 billion in the year 1 A. D. and had managed so dreadfully that it lost $100,000 a day, it still could have enough left of the original $100 billion to continue operating and to continue losing $100,000 a day for 776 years." Here's another: "If you had $100 billion, you could give each of our country's 60 million women a mink coat costing $1,700." This is the kind of money the federal government has been spending year after year. Much of it, represented by the soaring federal debt, must be paid by our children and our children's children and so on if it is ever to be paid at all. Even in boom times, with record tax revenues, spending has far outrun income. The mind reels at contemplating what would happen if there was even a moderate downturn in the economy. - Industrial News Review.

Herb-Flavored Beef Stew Crowned With Russet Potatoes Is Family Favorite

This hearty, fragrant beef stew can be a gourmet's delight, both to serve to guests or treat the family. It is full-flavored, nourishing and satisfying, according to the Washington State Potato Commission's menu-planning department. You can cook it on top of the stove or in the oven and, if desired, it can be prepared a day ahead, stored in the refrigerator, then merely reheated for serving. When the stew is done, crown the spicy meat chunks with tender Russet potatoes lightly sprinkled with cheese and dill. When you're shopping, look for the superior Russet potatoes from Washington State, because this all-purpose variety holds its fine-grained texture and full flavor under cooking processes. Washington State's new crop is in now so you can enjoy these Russet Potatoes in all your favor

STAINLESS BABY CARE

While few mothers own a stainless baby, any mother can acquire stainless utensils that make baby-feeding a less harrowing task. This cup and porringer, made of Jones and Laughlin stainless steel, never need polishing and require only a soap-and-water treatment to come clean.

ElectricHeat Gives House More Space

With construction and lot costs on the rise, many families are looking for ways to gain added living space without actually increasing the size of the house.

One way to gain extra usable space in a house is to use electric heat. Many home owners feel this is an important bonus feature of the most modern heating system

An electric heating system based on ceiling coils, wall panels or baseboard units eliminates the need for a bulky, space-stealing fuel tank or chimney. This space is freed for other uses, such as more spacious playrooms, workshops, or more storage area for household goods.

To make sure heating costs are kept as low as possible, most families who install electric heat rely on insulation in excess of FHA minimum requirements. Mineral wool, the widely used home insulating material, can be installed easily in new homes during construction. It can also be applied to existing homes by the use of special equipment that blows it into the spaces between wall studs and floor joists.

The National Mineral Wool Insulation Association advises families with electric heat to insulate their homes with mineral wool to provide an installed resistance to heat loss of R-19 or R-24 in ceilings, R-11 in walls and R-13 in floors above unheated spaces.

Labels Spell Safety

Most Americans wouldn't dream of signing a contract withream of signing a contract without first reading it thoroughly. Yet millions of parents take chances by using household chemicals without fully reading container labels.

Due mostly to careless-of parents, ac-of parents, accidental poi-cidental poi-sonings are commonest among children under five years of age. Fatalities are kept extremely low because of good labeling and the speed and efficiency of a nation-wide net-work of public Poison Control Centers.

In addition, an industry-wide "read-the-label" drive to back up federal regulations requiring detailed labeling of products has been launched by the Chemical Specialties Manufacturers Association. Classifications include cleaning and polishing compounds, insecticides, liquid fuels, detergents, solvents, waxes, bleaches, etc.
According to the association's

According to the association's president, Charles E. Allderdice, Jr., the following safety tips, if heeded, would reduce significantly the number of accidents which result from misuse of chemical products.

1. Read the entire label before opening containers.

2. Look for the words "danger,"

all container labels. Follow

Windows Can Work Wonders

"Probably no other single change can improve a house at such low cost as a large new window," says A. M. Watkins in his latest book, "The Complete Book of Home Remodeling, Improvement, and Repair," published by Doubleday.

The right window in the right place, he points out, can replace a small existing one to exploit a good view or greatly improve a room where there was nothing but solid wall before.

"Don't think of a window as merely a sheet of glass," Watkins says. "Think of it as a medium for letting sunshine, light and brightness flood into a room, as well as turning a dark room into a bright, cheerful space."

Watkins urges care in the choice of windows. Inferior windows, he warns, can be a source of chills and drafts. Two things to look for in a quality window are accurate fit and effective built-in weather-stripping, he says. Families in temperate parts of the country should use either insulating glass or storm windows to add comfort and heating

Families who agree with Watkins and plan to use windows as a remodeling tool in their own homes would be wise to look into the wide variety of factory-made ponderosa pine windows available from local building supply dealers.

Quality wood windows are precision-made for accurate fit and low-cost installation. Built-in weather-stripping and carefully designed hardware contribute to draft-free comfort and lower heating bills.

' Most people also prefer wood windows for their appearance. Condensation is much less of a problem with them because wood doesn't get as cold as metal.

to come.

WHEREAS January 21, 1965 is the Golden Anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International,

And, WHEREAS achievement of this milestone represents more than the completion of fifty calendar years, but is, in truth, the golden anniversary of community service,

And, WHEREAS the men of Kiwanis have contributed unselfishly to the good of this community, aided in their work by the citizens,

I, therefore, call upon the citizens to join me in honoring the Kiwanians of Taneytown, as those Kiwanians have honored us in countless ways throughout the years, and I declare this to be Kiwanis Golden Anniversary Week in Taneytown, urging each and every citizen to join me in wishing this organization of our fellow citizens a happy birthday and many more to come in the years that lie ahead.

Dulany Reports from Annapolis

The General Assembly of Maryland will convene for its first seventy-day session on Wednesday, Jan. 20, 1965. The issues of Legislative Reapportionment and Congressional Re-Districting will be of paramount importance in this session, and both issues will result in changes affecting Carroll County, according to William B. Dulany, Delegate from Carroll County and Member of the Special Sub-Committee of the Legislative Council on Re-Districting and Representations Senator.

Dulany stated that the House of Delegates will be made up of 142 members, and will be divided among the Counties and Baltimore City acording to population, as required by Maryland law and the Supreme Court. Each County in the State will receive at least one Delegate. Carroll will receive two since it has a population of nearly 55,000 of the State's total of 3,000,000 population.

Reapportionment of the Senate has been an extremely controversial issue. The Supreme Court has indicated, according to some interpretations, that the Senate should also be apportioned solely on the basis of population. Dulany stated that he is opposed to reapportionment of the Senate solely on the basis of population. The senate should also be apportion to the basis of population. The senate should also be apportion to the basis of population. The senate should also be apportion to the basis of population. The senate has a BA degree.

"If he wanted one, I'd say, 'Go work your way thru!'"

It was Finley Peter Dunne's famous "Mr. Dooley" who replied, when asked about the influence of colleges on progress, "D'ye think 'tis the mill that makes th' water run?" population. Dulany stated that he is opposed to reapportionment of the Senate solely on the basis of population, but supports the plan finally agreed upon by the Committee that each County and Baltimore City should receive one Senator as a minimum, and that 23 additional Senators be distributed to Baltimore and the larger Counties on the basis of population, a principle recognized to some degree many years ago when Baltimore received its present six Senators.

Each County should have at least one Senator because there are elements other than population alone to be considered in fair representation, Dulany stated. Also, if the County did not receive a Senator because of small population, it would have no resident spokesman in the Senate on its public local laws. Du-lany stated he was very much op-posed to some suggestions of the establishment of a unicameral legislature.

Carroll County would be removed from the existing Congressional District comprising Baltimore, Carroll and Harford Counties under the proposed Redistricting Bill, and would be placed in the Western Maryland District, Dulany said. The new District would encompass a small part of Baltimore County and all of Car-roll, Frederick, Washington, Allegheny and Garrett Counties, according to Dulany.

The Courts have required the Legislature to enact constitutional bills on reapportionment and re-districting before the 1966 elections, else the Courts themselves have threatened to act in this area.

—William B. Dulany.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor.

Our friend Alice Widener, that disarmingly keen mind, trenchant writer and lovely ornament to the fourth estate, appears to agree with us that the college-bred man may well be merely the product of a four-year's

In a recent column, she replies in considerable depth to a mother who writes to ask: "When will some parents get rid of the stupid idea that ALL children must go to college?' To the surprise of many readers, no doubt, she agrees with the lady that college for all IS a "silly notion," and in a rare burst of confidence explains why neither of her children went to college. "Each," writes Mrs. Widener, "attended the best private school (on part scholarship) that I, as a widow, could afford with my earnings as a writer. For this education of theirs,

I really slaved.

"But since neither of the children wished to be a scientist, architect, doctor or engineer . . . each of them felt, and I agreed, that at 18 them felt, and I is chould depend on future cultural life should depend on their own initiative.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . . MEETING OF Observations on the World of Sports

Sox are very excited about three or four promising Rookies who will be the minutes of the December meet-really has them wide-eyed.

He is pitcher BRUCE HOWARD, ne won 15 games and lost eight. His earned run average was two-point-two-zero. White Sox brass thought he rated a look in the big time, so they brought him up for the last two weeks of the 1964 campaign, and in three starts he allowed exactly two runs. Howard lost one of those games, one to 0, but he won the other two cases to 0, but he won the other two cases for the series of the series of it takes to win in the Majors — a sinking fast ball, a curve, a slider, and he uses a slip pitch for his change up."

Howard is one of three rookies rated an excellent chance of staying with the varsity. The others are second baseman Mary Staehle and outfielder Ken Berry. Staehle is an excellent slap-type hitter. He hit .337 in the Sally League in 1963, and last he hit .301 in the Pacific Coast League. However, there is some con-cern about his ability as a fielder. It's the other way around with Berrey. He is considered a fine prospect defensively, but his hitting has the White Sox worried. Berry seems to have the ability to hit the long ball, but he batted only .255 at Indianapolis last year.

Another Indianapolis outfielder who will get a try at Spring training is Jim Hicks. He hit .288 last year in

Also due for extra careful scrutinty is catcher Bill Heath, acquired in a deal with the Philadelphia Phillies. He hit just under .300 for Little Rock last year.

A favorite topic of baseball's HOT STOVE LEAGUE is the large in-crease in the number of home runs in recent years. All suggestions that the ball has been "Hopped-up" have been denied by responsible baseball officials. They insist the baseballs are being made the same way today as they always have been — except for one or two minor improvements they say would have no bearing on the baseball's sailing ability. Or, in baseball phraseology, there is no rabbit in the gopher ball. However, there is one baseball man who tells a rather intriguing story of how he souped up the horsehide several years ago. The man is Bruce Henry, now the superintendent at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Years ago, Henry was the business manager of the West Palm Beach, Florida team of the old Florida International League. The air gets especially heavy in that part of the country during the hot Summer days, and home runs then are hard to come and home runs then are hard to come by. The ball just hangs up there in that heavy, humid air.

Since home runs are great gate attractions, an absence of homers, and the resulting close, pitcher's battles tend to reduce the size of the crowds turning out for ball games. That's what happened at West Palm Beach this particular year. Henry decided to do something about it, so he bought a peanut roaster. That's right, a peanut roaster.

Before each game, he would roast the baseballs to be used that day. The heated baseballs proved the answer to the problem. They began to sail out of the park as if they were that out of a cannon. Batters who shot out of a cannon. Batters who never before had been noted for their home run ability suddenly were hitting for the distance. The fans loved it, and the team's attendance picked

Some of the umpires, however, didn't care too much for the idea. The team's bat boy would bring them baseballs hot off the roaster just before the game, and sometimes they were so hot the umpires would drop them, or juggle them from hand to hand like hot potatoes. Needless to say, the pitchers didn't think much of roasting, either.

DID YOU KNOW THAT - The Orioles are the only club in modern major league history to have made fewer than 100 errors in a season and they've done it for the last two

TODAY'S SPORT LAUGH - Recently at a meeting of basketball coaches, a report on officials was read. It said in part: "I defended one of your officials tonight. A fan said he wasn't fit to sleep with hogs and I said he was."

-John Breth.

The mother was deeply concerned about her daughter's new boy friend. "Remember, dear," she said, "get to know him before you become serious. Be sure he's considerate, for example." "Oh, I already know he's considerate," the young girl replied. "Just the other day he told me that he put his shirt on a horse that was scratched."

"One of the mysteries of the times in the U.S. is why such a large per-centage of butchers, bakers and candlestick makers, figuratively speaking, turn socialistic when elected to public office."—Robert W. Graves,

Old Fashioned "Sticky" Buns

Remember those wonderful homemade breakfast rolls the grandma used to make as an extra special treat? Fresh from the oven—dripping with a delicious mixture of crunchy pecans and caramel—gooey enough to satisfy the most avid craving for finger

". The real problem grandma had was not in the mixing or baking, but afterwards, when she had to scour a sticky, messy baking pan. Not any more. With today's Teflon-coated aluminum utensils, you can make these luscious Pecan Sticky Buns as often as you like without worrying about how to clean the pan. The new pans provide the same fast, even heating as plain aluminum, but since nothing sticks to Teflon, a quick sponging in sudsy water and a rinse is all that's needed for cleaning.

PECAN STICKY BUNS

For the dough, use a rich yeast roll recipe calling for about 5 cups of flour. After the first rising, proceed as follows: Punch down. Divide dough in half.

Melt 1 cup butter or margarine and mix with $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups brown sugar and 1 cup chopped pecans. Spread evenly on bottom of Teflon-coated $14^{\prime\prime}$ x $10^{\prime\prime}$ x $2^{\prime\prime}$ pan.

Mix 1 cup brown sugar with 1/2 cup chopped pecans. Put one-half dough on floured board and roll into a 12-inch square. Sprinkle with half the sugar-pecan mixture and roll as for jelly roll. Cut into 1-inch slices and place in prepared pan. Repeat with remainder of dough. Cover; let rise in warm place until

Christ Has Enemies Lesson for January 24, 1965

Background Scripture: Matthew 8 and Devotional Reading: Matthew 10:27-42.

We sometimes think that if Jesus were only alive on this earth he could win friends and followers for himself where we so often fail even when we try. We talk about goodness; but he was goodness itself, divine goodness, in person. How could he fail to be winsome? The fact is, he was winsome, but he had enemies all the same. We can expect some people not Dr. Foreman to like him. This female atheist who is now almost a professional anti-religionist, and is noisily vowing if she can to drive religion and the church out of existence (she's wasting her time); also criminals and cranks of many kinds,-we are not astonished when they scoff at religion and anyone who takes it seriously, as Jesus did. But the worst of it is that Jesus not only had enemies; but they were from the most respectable and re-ligious circles. What did they have against him?

Too deep, too high One thing came out in the incident of the paralyzed man let down through the roof of the house where Jesus was speaking. If Jesus had just cured the man -it was all he hoped for-there would have been no complaints unless he had done the cure on the Sabbath. But Jesus offended some people by going too deep and too high at the same time. Jesus probed beneath the surface of the man's life, and said 'Your sins are forgiven." How did Jesus know this bedridden man had any sins? What business was it of his? Live and let live, why not? But the offense was still worse. Jesus spoke with absolute assurance. Not, I pray your sin may be forgiven, but, "Your sins are forgiven!" Jesus not only knew what had gone on in the patient's mind—for a sick person's sins are most likely to be of the mind—but he virtually claimed to to know and to speak for the mind of God. If in dealing with the patient he had gone too high. At least, so it seemed to his critics. They seem not to have considered this point: What if Jesus' claims are true? Suppose he really can detect mental sin, suppose he actually does know the mind of God? No etiquette

1 1

There is in all religions a certain kind of thing we may call religious etiquette. The right way and time to stand or kneel or pray, the right clothes to wear. the right words to use in prayer. One form of such etiquette (another name for it is ceremonialism) much prized in Jesus' time was fasting. Fasting is not wrong; but when it is done by clock or calendar instead of spontaneously, and especially when it becomes a substitute for real heartfelt contrition for sins committed, it can be a nuisance and a type of hypocrisy. Repentance is a slow and difficult process; fasting can soon be done and over with. Repentance makes a different person out of you. Fasting can leave you just as you were, or maybe a bit thinner. Jesus fasted from time to time, we know; but his disciples did not. He never rebuked them for not doing so; and this again "riled" the Pharisees. Form is to religion what an eggshell is to an egg. It keeps the contents from getting lost, perhaps; but the egg-shell should never be mistaken for the egg itself.

Disreputable friends

Another reason why Jesus was bitterly disliked was the sort of people he spent time with. He knew and used to have dinner with some of the more notorious characters of the town. Now the enemies of Jesus supposed that the badness of these people would somehow rub off on him. It did not occur to them that maybe his goodness was of such a dynamic sort that it would rub off on the sinners.

What ever happened to Chester?

An installer-repairman for C&P-he was last seen around the turn of the century, walking Baltimore's cobblestone streets, past rows of tightly clustered homes on his way to install one of those newfangled telephones. What he needed for his job was a little knowledge of electricity and a very strong back.

Chester probably wouldn't recognize his job today. For one thing he wouldn't have to lug that stuff around on his back anymore. Oh sure, he'd still have to know your telephone inside out. But he'd also have to bone up on a mile-high pile of other communications equipment that has been developed in the last fifty years to give you ever-improving service.

Chester's job has changed. So have most jobs at the telephone company. The only thing that hasn't changed is the way all of us at C&P keep trying to bring to everyone in Maryland the best possible telephone service now and in the years to come.

YOUTH SPEAKS . . .

And there it is. Can't you see your self floating around in the big beau-tiful main pool, enjoying life as the sun tans your body, and where relaxation is the common way of life. Gee, I wish I were there now. The mirage is fading away. Boy, do I wish I were there! Things are really closing in on me around here. I guess this is my last stand. Nothing can save me now, except one thing, the mirage. If only it were true.

Can some one help me make this dream come true?

LET'S GET IN THE SWIM

A swimming pool? in Taneytown? Oh, yes, I've heard that comment and others like it many times. The proposed facility is regarded as an extremely "long-range" dream or even as just a faint hope by many of Taneytown's residents. Yet, with the cooperation and efforts of these residents, the pool can become a most definite reality.

The task, of course, is not an easy one. Many people are working already, as Jaycees and Jaycettes, soliciting funds and formulating more and more definite plans. These in-dustrious organizations have instituted the project and are doing their best to see it through. Hard though they work, however, nothing can be accomplished without the help of the citizens of Taneytown. It is essential to the plans illustrated in the literature prepared by the sponsors of the project, that interested and enthusi-astic parties contribute generously to the financial area of the plan. Without this support from the potential patrons of the pool, it is evident that no progress can be made. But I'm sure you're asking yourself—why be interested and enthusiastic and volumers. unteer my financial support?

A swimming pool provides one of the best forms of summer recreation. Of course, its presence doesn't insure of course, its presence doesn't insure good health, but wouldn't it help to give Taneytown's youth the opportunity to develop physically in an atmosphere of wholesome fun and enjoyment? Wouldn't it also help to provide "close" facilities for family recreation? By contributing your financial support to the Pool Project you will be helping to provide both of these plus, perhaps most important. these plus, perhaps most important, one of the best means of decreasing delinquency among the youth of the

The pool "... will be dedicated to the youth of Taneytown." This statement from one of the pamphlets prepared by the Pool Committee presents both a noble ideal and a challenge to the people of Taneytown. For the sake of the youth of today and the citizens of tomorrow

A DOG'S POINT OF VIEW

I've been a canine-citizen of Taneytown for all of my six frisky years. I've scampered up and down every street. I've come to know the youth of Taneytown. I know that these young people have one thing in common—they all love to swim. Every summer it's the same old story. They put their hot sweaty heads together put their hot, sweaty heads together and think and think—who can they get to take them swimming? (Since Taneytown doesn't have a swimming pool they must find transportation to another town.) If they're lucky they find a parent who will haul them to a far-away pool, wait for hours, and then haul them home. They're rarely lucky. Sometimes an older youth with a car will take them. usually they find no transportation and the result of their trying is just a group of hotter, sweatier kids with nothing to do. I pant my tongue and sympathize with them year after of course, these kids survive with out having a swimming pool, but I know they're missing something important. They're missing the opportunity to learn how to swim and to practice and develop swimming skills. A dog, such as myself, is born with these skills, but Taneytown's youth

These past few months the kids have been talking about a Taneytown Municipal Swimming Pool. The young-er ones are busy dreaming of that first sprinkly splash of cool water. The older ones are just as enthusiastic, but they realize that the pool has not yet been built. They know the necessary $60,000 has not yet been raised. Aren't you citizens of Taneytown close enough to your youth to realize the importance and necessity for a swimming pool in Taneytown Won't you show your interest and concern for tomorrow's citizens by raising the $60,000?

In Taneytown Why Jaycee Week? Why Jaycees?

The Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as all Jaycees across the nation, are presently observing the one week of the year specifically proclaimed for them, JAYCEE WEEK 1965. This week was the birthday of the United States Jay cees, who are now entering their 45th year of community service. But more important, it offers the chance for Jaycees, national and local, to inform their communities of their activities, their purpose, and their goals. In this respect, the Jaycees of Taneytown are no exception. Primarily because Jaycees are proud young men, proud of their community because they helped it grow. And proud of each other because they know civic work builds men as wel mmunities.

A Junior Chamber of Commerce is an organization of young men learning civic consciousness through constructive action. This being accepted then Jaycees must be dedicated to community improvement and personal betterment; and therefore provide a stimulas to community spirit. Com-munity growth cannot be possible if it is influenced by individual or or-ganizational selfishness. It will thrive only if there is a complete understanding and communication between its citizens and civic organizations, one and all. In Taneytown, the Jaycees hope to have the opportunity to take part in this growth and thereby obtain the greatest reward of all, self satisfaction.

The Bosses' Night program featured the Rev. Matthias W. Bott, Hampstead, as speaker. Rev. Mr. Bott was a Jaycee in Virginia and Penna. and had a very inspiring and challenging talk. Master of ceremonies was John G. Williams, chairman of the affair. Special guests included District Vice President Carville Downes, who brought greetings and congratulations from the State organization. President Dean Brown noted the current activities of the Junior Chamber, thanked the bosses for their interest, and asked for their continued support and encouragement.

An elderly woman picked out two very handsome sweaters and mailed them to her son-in-law as a birthday Some weeks later, the mother-in-law paid a visit. Being a dutiful and peace-loving man, the son-in-law was sporting one of the sweaters when the elder arrived. She looked him up and down and barked: "What's the matter, didn't you like the other one?"

In the relatively short period of time that the Taneytown Jaycees have been active they have been active they have been active they have been active.

have been active, they have been continually expanding and improving. Almost nine years ago, on May 19, 1956, 19 young men received the Charter of the Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce, thus becoming officially affiliated with the ing officially affiliated with the United States Junior Chamber, Fun-damental development was not easy, but nevertheless, growth was soon to be seen; a growth not only in size but also in prestige and service to Taneytown. Taneytown Jaycees soon were recognized by other Jaycees and have been the recipients of various awards for their activities. Most of these awards have had to do with their work within the community. their work within the community. Being interested in the youth of Taneytown, the Jaycees have sponsored or helped to sponsor such youth activities as: The Fishing and Bicycle Rodeos, the Punt, Pass and Kick Contest, the Youth Swimming Lessons, the Teenage Driving Road-E-O, and just recently, have completed construction of a new "Little League" baseball diamond. They have, for the past two years, presenthave, for the past two years, presented entertainment in the form of a Minstrel Show and Play and will do so again this year. Over the years, some of the major civic activities of the Jaycees have included: annually donating for Christmas Lighting, assisting with the erection of traffic signs within the town, compiling and preparing a door-to-door public opinion "Community Survey," paint-Memorial Park, providing 'Safety and Fire Prevention' inspection of all public buildings, etc., etc., and presently are promoting and co-spon-soring, along with the Jaycettes, the construction of a Public Swimming Pool for Taneytown. To enumerate any further on activities such as these should not be necessary, for by now it should be evident that the Jaycees of Taneytown have and will continue to work for their community. But, in all cases, the citizens of Taneytown must also work with the Jaycees as well. also work with the Jaycees, as well as with the other civic service organzations; so that as citizens and organizations, there may be a co-ord-ination of ideas which map the progress of OUR town.

The week of January 17-23 is JAYCEE WEEK 1965. It is a time to pause and think back over your Jay-cee accomplishments, and also a time for the Jaycees of Taneytown to express their appreciation to the citizens of Taneytown for their support and confidence in past Jaycee Pro-jects and to hope they will continue. In summary, it would be appropriate to say that; Jaycees do not choose to be common men. It is their right to be uncommon — if they can. They seek opportunity, not security; wishing not to be kept a citizen, humbled and dulled by having to be told how to serve. Together they will take the cellulated right to plan and to the calculated risk — to plan and to build, to fail and to succeed. They prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of accomplishment to the stale calm of utopia. They will not trade freedom for beneficence or dignity for hand-outs. It has been their heritage to stand erect; proud and unafraid; to think and act for themselves; to en-joy the benefits of their work and to face the world boldly and be able to say, "This is what we have done," to say, "This is what we have done," and whatever we may have done for the good of our community, we find to be the best work of life!
