CLUB INSTALLS OFFICERS 1965

Officers of The Taneytown Rod & Gun Club, Inc., were installed at their regular monthly meeting by Mr. Frank T. Dunham, President of The Taneytown Chamber of Commerce and local manager of Potomac Edison Company. President, Mr. Carl V. Angell; vice president, Charles A. Anders: secretary Singleton E. Anders; secretary, Singleton E. Remsburg; assistant secretary, Donald R. Baker, treasurer, William B. Hopkins and directors, Elmer Reaver, Wade Harner, Monroe Bowers and Freed Sheller. and Fred Sheller.

The Annual Report of the club activities was given by William B. Hop-kins and president Angell appointed committees for the year of 1965. This popular local club is growing in membership and continues to be an asset to the community. The public is invited to attend its regular monthly meeting held the last Wednesday of each month at eight P. M.

Taneytown Swimming Pool Project

With returns from the recent house-to-house canvass still incomplete due to the weather's interference with the solicitation, the Taneytown Swimming Pool Fund has passed the $13,000 mark. A canvass of the rural area around the community is next on the agenda of the project's Executive Committee, slated for February and March. It is hoped that the results of this solicitation, and pledges and donations from induspledges and donations from industries, businesses, and organizations. will raise the Pool Fund much closer to the $60,000 goal needed for construction of the proposed pool and bathhouse in Memorial Park.

Acknowledgments for pledges and donations received thus far in the drive are being prepared for mailing. Upon receipt of these acknowledgements, donors entitled to bonus season tickets are requested to in-form Mrs. Dean Brown of the family members' names to be included in family season ticket coverage. Mrs. Brown will then forward the bonus tickets to the donors.

At the January 28 meeting of the Executive Committee, reports were heard from all sub-committees and heard from all sub-committees and officers. The Committee is considering placing a bronze plaque on the bathhouses recognizing large donors. Publication of donors' names, with their permission, will begin in February in local publications.

Final plans of the bathhouses are being prepared and will be submitted to all local builders for possible bids.

Mrs. Harry Dougherty, Ir reports

Mrs. Harry Dougherty, Jr. reported that the Carroll County chapter, American Red Cross, has tentatively scheduled a two-week swimming instruction program for the Taneytown pool. Additional swimming classes will be set up for this Summer as soon as construction is definite.

The resignation of Mrs. Argyle
Kaufman and John Williams from the Executive Committee were accepted by the group with regret. These vacancies will be filled by the Jaycees and Jaycettes immediately. An amendment to the Committee's By-Laws will be voted upon at a special meeting February 10; the month's regular Committee meeting will be held February 25.

To the citizens of Taneytown and surrounding area:

I am thankful that I am able to make a contribution to the Taneytown Swimming Pool in the name of my beloved wife, Irene Beard Hansen. Although I have sold my house and Although I have sold my house and am leaving the Taneytown area, and as a result, will not enjoy the pool; I still want to give my share, knowing that I have been the receiver of benefits that previous generations have handed down to me.

I am proud of the citizens of Taneytown for having the initiative to provide their own recreations. They did not wait for the Federal, state, or county government to build the pageant, and the Band, Glee Club, and Girls Chorus will play and sing for it.

The production will be held April 8th and 9th, in the auditorium of Linganore High School.

The production will be held April 10th Walt for the Federal, state, or county government to build the pool for them, but saw the need and went to work themselves. We hear a lot of talk about the growing power of the Federal government and everyone dipping their hands into the result. lic till. Well, here is our opportunity to show that the local community can provide for itself and not rely on someone in Washington to do the job for them.

Very best wishes, Ben Hansen

A swimming pool in Taneytown—think of all the fun I'll have! That was the first impression of most people when this idea of a swimming pool was brought forth, but this project will supply more than just fun for the people in this small com-munity of Taneytown.

The citizens in and about the town of Taneytown have always had to travel several miles to be able to enjoy the sport of swimming. Having a pool in this area will allow such water-loving people to participate more frequently in swimming with-out adding miles to their cars.

Besides, supplying the above fact, the pool will bring the standard of Taneytown up to that of the neighboring communities. The beauty of pool will make this miniature city as attractive as any big city. Even though Taneytown contains a limited number of citizens, most of these people know only a few of the members of Taneytown. So, the pool would also act as a meeting place of the Taneytown citizens.

Swimming is also a sport, which supplies a large amount of good physical exercise. So, by erecting this pool Taneytown will be carrying out the late President Kennedy's Physical Fitness Plan. Also when you go swimming you obtain a healthy amount of fresh air and sun-

Although, the swimming pool being dedicated to Taneytown's youth, the seniority members of Taneytown will also be entertained by it. So, if you should have even the smallest amount of extra money give it to this worth-while project, please.

WEEKLY REPORTS FROM ANNAPOLIS

Many Important Bills are Being Prepared for Legislature Action

This past week we introduced Senate Bills 90 through 107 covering the local laws of Carroll County in an effort to get these laws in such condition that they can be brought together and compiled in one volume. These bills made no substantial change in the laws for Carroll County but they did repeal such obsolete ty but they did repeal such obsolete laws as that regarding the building of lines of electric railway companies and those regulating delivery, selling and offering for sale coal and coke. There was also a bill that would provide that the 1965 Edition of the Code of Public Laws of Carroll County, being Article 7 of the Code of Public Laws of Maryland, would be legalized. It also authorizes and discontinuous articles are companies. legalized. It also authorizes and directs the Board of County Commissioners to make appropriate publication of the Code and to provide for

At this writing there had been some 200 bills introduced in the Senate. The first 49 of these were the result of studies made by the Legislative Council. Two of these, Senate Bills 9 and 10, would provide additional home rule powers for the County Commissioners through building, electrical and plumbing codes. It would give additional powers in the field of parks and recreation and community services. Also provisions would be made for the establishment of Home Rule Code Counties. This would be in the form of a constitutional amendment and would establish procedures for the creation of Code Counties and set forth certain powers and limitations. This, in effect, would provide a system of home rule in addition to the provisions already available in the form of a Charter County. available in the form of a Charter

Baseball Meeting Held

Baseball enthusiasm was at an alltime high at last Sunday's meeting, held by Taneytowns entry in the South Penn League.
The well-attended meeting was opened by the outgoing president, Paul McNair. The first order of business was the election of new office of Figure Flocked to the effice of prosident was proved that compared with wonderful, Sir Winston Churchill! No man was ever loved more than this English, American Nobleman — how proud he was to continue to say, "My American Mother!" He truly was "The Wheels of England!" Think of any one individual to have been — Historian, Artist, Statesman, Soldier, Orator, Author, Politician, Sportsman, Correspondent plus his marvelous wit coming up always with the right answers! He seemed to know just what to do at the right time and just the proper thing to say. And with it all, he was the real lover all down through the years to his wife, Lady Clementine!

As Valentine Day is approaching why not give her a party? There is something different about Valentine Day for both young and old. There are many who are distant and never show any type of affection to the most close relative no matter how deep the love may be and this day one can send a really appropriate card to that someone regardless of the relationship! This may mean more than you think to that someone? As to a party—there is no sweeter one and when sending inv to a party—there is no sweeter one and when sending invitations be sure you state that it will be a masked affair. It is delightful as to the guessficers. Elected to the office of president was John Breth of Taneytown and to the office of secretary was Donald Jordan of Westminster.

The new president then addressed the club on matters pertaining to the club's home field, Memorial Park, which included a new scoreboard, sound system, scorecards and ways to get the fans out to all the games.

A rousing vote of thanks was then given to Arvin "Skinny" Bollinger for his leadership of last year's team.

The new manager, Bob Fogle, and his coach, Fred Shank, next called for the first spring training practice to be held on March 20 and 21 at Memorial Park.

A representative of the Grove and Sechrist Company, Red Lion, Pa., spoke to the club about new uniforms and equipment.

An official nickname, the first in the team's history, has been chosen, as well as new team colors.

Pineapple Cheese Cake For Valentine

This melt-in-your-mouth pineapple cheese cake heart carries its own special Valentine message. A rich cream cheese filling, baked in a graham cracker crust, is topped with a golden crushed pineapple glaze. The cool, refreshing flavor of canned pineapple is just right for this festive dessert. Serve it in a setting of hearts and flowers for a special Valentine Day party.

Keep the recipe handy to use year 'round. A regular cheese cake pan may be used instead of the heart shaped mold.

DELUXE PINEAPPLE CHEESE CAKE

2 cups fine graham cracker

/4 cup softened butter 3/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar

3 (8-ounce) packages cream

3 eggs 1 teaspoon vanilla

1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin 1 (1-pound $4\frac{1}{2}$ -ounce) can crushed pineapple

Blend together graham cracker crumbs, butter and 2 tablespoons sugar; press firmly in bottom and sides of heart shaped pan or mold. Thoroughly beat cream cheese with eggs, ¾ cup sugar and vanilla; pour into graham cracker crust. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Chill. Invert onto lightly greased cooky sheet, then onto serving plate. Sprinkle gelatin over 3/3 cup syrup drained from pineapple; place over low heat stirring until gelatin dissolves. Cool until slightly thickened. Spoon drained pineapple over cake top and spread with gelatin glaze. Chill thoroughly. Makes 1 cheese cake.

WORLD'S FAIR WONDERS

New Low Cost Bird Feeder Is Rust and Rot-Proof

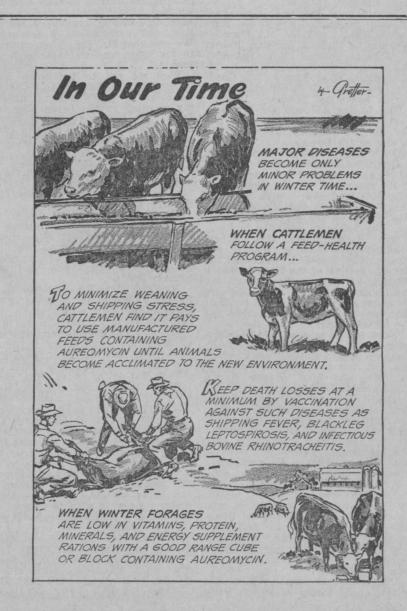

Many persons miss the songs and the beauty of birds during the winter because their yards do not offer a good supply of food. Others have an abundance of feathered visitors because they have placed bird feeders in their yards.

Feeding birds during the winter does not have to be expensive. The Alden Speare's Sons Co., Cambridge, Massachusetts, is marketing a molded plastic feeder which sells for less than a dollar and includes a full pound of bird seed.

Pelaspan expandable polystyrene, a product of The Dow Chemical Company, is used to mold the two-piece feeder, which is equipped with automatic dispensing gates to allow the seed to move into the feeding rim as needed.

When the feeder is empty, it can be refilled by following step by step instructions supplied with it. The weatherproof feeder cannot rust or rot, and hangs easily in a tree or sits on any flat surface.

The new feeder is being marketed nationwide through grocery, drug and variety stores.

Beautiful new way to say, "I love you."

KEYSVILLE - DETOUR

Greetings to you: There were 39 families who contributed to the collection taken up by Mrs. Richard Wilhide and myself during the previous week for Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar of Forest and Stream Club Road for a total of $237. Those contacted were neighbors and friends in this area alone. You know from previous columns that Mr. Weishaar is in the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore (address: Osler Medical Center, Room 811) with kidney trouble complicated by high blood pressure. Thanks to a type of "flush-ing" used at Hopkins, his kidneys are now reactivated and he is making slow progress. The doctors now hope to discover what caused the trouble in the first place in the hope of curing it. The reason for the collection was a lack of income for the Weishaars since he became ill just a few days before he was due to be laid off for the winter; therefore no compensation. Mrs. Weishaar (Mignon) was most grateful and asked me to say "a sincere thank you to each of you for both your financial help and your prayers." (I'd like to add my personal thanks as well for this is one family that is most deserving of our help: fine, decent, Christian people.) She also added she just can't find the proper words to express her gratitude for it is unlimited!

Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Jane were visitors on the previous Tuesday at the Brookfield Manor Nursing Home in Middleburg with Mrs. William E. Ritter, Mrs. Anders and Mrs. Ibach. They also called on Mrs. Russell Stonesifer in Keysville.

Observations on the World of Sports by John Breth

A 1965 model Ford will have a lot to say about the Pennant chances of the New York Yankees this year. We're referring to WHITEY FORD, of course, the blue-chip southpaw of the Yanks who was operated on last Fall for a circulatory block in his pitching shoulder.

The shoulder was so bad that Whitey had to deal himself out in the World Series after starting and losing the first game. A healthy Ford might have — make that almost certainly would have — made the dif-ference between a Yankee victory and defeat in the classic. The cards won the series in 7 games as the Yankee pitching wore out.
Ford at that time couldn't even comb his hair. It is now about four months since the operation in Houston and he not only is combing his hair without effort but is looking forward to some golf in Florida. He is going to Miami tomorrow for a 10-day vacation.

Ford had a record of 17 and 6 last year and seemed a cinch for a 20-game season until a sore hip hit him and the shoulder trouble finished him

Whitey doubled as a pitcher and pitching coach for the Yanks last year but is giving up the coaching part of it this year.

Ford long has been the big-money pitcher of the Yanks, the guy they handed the ball to in the tough games.

They will need him if they are going to add another flag to their vast collection of buntings this season. The rest of the league is closing in on the Yanks and it is no coincident that they were beaten in the last two World Series. Whitey is 36 years old and that won't help any when he starts working out next month. But it is hardly the baseball point of no return, either. There is plenty of baseball know-how in the lively Ford brain and if there is some life left in his pitching arm he should play his usual the property of the very large and the state of the state starring role in the Yankee cast this

It isn't often that an outfielder can spot a flaw in the pitching delivery of a member of his own team. But because of the sharp eyes of outfielder Russ Snyder, left-hander DAVE McNALLY of the Baltimore Orioles will go into the 1965 season with an over-abundance of confidence.

Snyder made the discovery that Snyder made the discovery that McNally was tipping his pitches during a casual catch last Summer with the 24-year-old from Billings, Montana. Snyder told McNally that he could tell when he was going to throw a curve and when he was going to use a fast ball.

Then, for three weeks, Baltimore pitching coach Harry Brecheen worked with the young left-hander and Snyder was among the Oriole players who served as hitters, trying to call McNally's pitches. Fin-Mc-ally, the flaw was found. . . . M Nally has short fingers and arms. On his fast ball, as he brought his left hand above his head, the heel of the hand was touching the heel of his glove. But on the curve ball, the heel of the hand was not touch-ing the heel of the glove. The reason for that was because of his short fingers. worked. Dave was able to keep the heel of his left hand in contact with the heel of his glove, so opposing batters could not see what he was throwing until it was too late.

However, it took McNally so long to develop his new motion that he was able to use it only once in a game. But that was a 2 to 0, onehit, ten-strikeout victory over the Washington Senators. That brought his season's record to an unimpressive nine and eleven.
But it buoyed his hopes for the 1965 season.

However, McNally may be bucking odds that he is not aware of. In long history of baseball, there has hardly been a pitcher with short arms who has been an outstanding winner. One of the biggest flops in recent years has been the $150,000 bonus baby of the San Francisco Giants, Bob Garibaldi. His problem—

DID YOU KNOW THAT - Brooks Robinson of the Orioles missed only two innings last Summer and has played in all but four of the Oriole's last 879 games starting in July, 1959. TODAY'S SPORT LAUGH -Guard Jerry Welch of Arkansas football team was talking about the platoon system: "When the defense does its ob, it's in there just three plays.

SENATE BILL NO. 31

(The following is the second of four articles written by Judge Emory H. Niles in explanation of the Senate Bill 31. —Editor.)

THE DEFECTS OF OUR PRESENT SYSTEM OF JUDICIAL SELECTION

What the Constitution of Maryland says about selection of judges and what happens in actual practice are two different things. The Constitu-tion provides that all judges be elected. But, if a judge dies or retires, the vacancy must be filled by gubernatorial appointment, because the courts cannot suspend nor curtail their activities for a year or two until the next election comes around. Therefore, what actually happens is that the great majority of our judges —more than 90 per cent in the last 25 years—have reached the bench initially by being appointed by the Governor. The only restriction on the Governor's appointment is that the individual chosen must be a lawyer. You may inquire: "How about the Bar Association list?" Yes, the Governor may ask for recommendations ernor may ask for recommendations from the local Bar Association—but, this is only voluntary; he is not re-quired by law to do so. And, there is no assurance that any Governor might not disregard these lists and make whatever appointment he wanted, without consulting the Bar.

Even if the Governor asks for Bar
Association recommendations, he is not compelled to make his appointment from the names on a Bar Association list. If he choses, he can ignore the recommendations alto-gether, and in the past there have been instances when he has done so.

Furthermore, there are several Bar Associations in some jurisdictions— 5 in Baltimore City, for instance— and all of them publish lists, whether requested or not. So, if the Governor is sincerely looking for guidance, he is not greatly helped by being confronted with a total of 12 or 15 "Bar Association recommendations."

This system is fundamentally weak because it is designed to insure that judges be merely "adequate," rather than to get the very best possible. The present system provides no thorough or unbiased test of the qualifications of a candidate to be a judge; instead, the Governor's ultimate selection is subject to being influenced by personal friendship, popularity among fellow lawyers, expediency, reward for services rendered, factional influence, or other considerations that have nothing to do with a lawyer's quite hill; do with a lawyer's suitability to serve as a judge. The valid considerations should be: his knowledge of law, his experience, his temperament, his character, his experience in public service, his practical judgment.

The whole point of the Niles Plan proposal is to insure that the man appointed is well qualified to be a judge. It provides for a Nominating Commission in each jurisdiction whose one and only duty is to prepare a list of nominees when a judicial vacancy occurs—not a large list, but of from 3 to 5 in Baltimore and the larger counties, and a list of 2 to 3 in the smaller counties. From these carefully selected nominees, the Governor must make his appointment.

The Nominating Commission consists of 5 members; 3 are lawyers, elected by the members of the local Bar; 2 are non-lawyers, appointed by ren, Rev. Warren M. Eshbach, pastor.

So, instead of bringing his hands directly over his head, McNally brought the only because they are interested in good government. When a judicial vacancy occurs, they have the duty of screening all candidates. Any aspiring lawyer, either personally or through friends, will be able to have his qualifications put before the Commission. Therefore, when the Governor is presented with the short list of candidates, he is assured that all give evidence of making good judges. Whoever he appoints will be a good appointment.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

All morning the sky has looked gray and threatening on this February day. Now, as I gaze from my kitchen window, the heavy clouds let down their white burden. The whole world looks raw and cold, as the snow piles up deeper and deeper. At the moment, Spring seems quite far

However, despite the frigid weather, nature is even now sounding her alarm clock, to awaken the earth from its long winter sleep. A magic touch is stirring the plants to activty, the birds from the South, and the animals from their snug beds of hibernation. What is this magic touch? For years, people believed that it was heat, or the return of warm weather, which accomplished this miracle of Spring — time resurrection. Scientists and biologists. have since proven that we owe it, mainly, to light.

Temperature is fickle, for it varies sharply from day to day and from year to year. Light, on the other hand, is completely reliable; every year on a given day, the duration of light is the same, and has been for millions of years.

The hours of (day and light) during the month of February increase each day, and they are slowly, but surely breaking Winter's icey grip. Already, deep under the snow, the blood-root and skunk cabbage plants are pushing upwards. Before long the roots of all growing things will feel a swift surge of power, and the sap will rise in the trees. The familiar robin will soon be with us, and from creeks and swamps, the peep ers will once again sound their elfis

Only when God commanded, "Let there be light," did the universe come into being. In Genesis 1:4 we read, "And God saw the light, that it was good; and God divided the light from the darkness." Without the mysterious touch of light, we would never know the joy of Spring after the long, cold Winter. Indeed, without it, we would know nothing of Victim: "That's what I was doing life at all for there would be none. -Zola Cantwell

Look-Alikes Lesson for February 7, 1965

Background Scripture: Matthew 13. Devotional Reading: Romans 2:1-11.

THERE'S A WORD in one of the parables of Jesus that bothers translators. In the King James translation it is called "tares," but that is not a commonly used word any more. The RSV calls it "weeds" but that the meaning. The New English Bible comes closer; it calls the stuff "darnel." This plant, not just any old weed, but this plant in particular, looks so still does not hit

Dr. Foreman much like wheat that it is hard to tell the difference even with an experienced farmer's eye. By the time the two plants have grown enough so that the real wheat can be told apart from the imitation plant, the roots of the darnel have become so intertwined with the roots of the wheat that it is impossible to root up one without uprooting them both.

This look-alike puzzle made one of Jesus' most searching parables. There is usually only one point in each of the parables; or if there are more points than one, there is one big main point which stands out. Jesus is not talking about wheat and darnel, really; he uses them for a picture of what he's driving at. The real point is: In this world the good people and the bad people often look so much alike and grow so closely together that only God can ever finally judge the difference.

Everything good has imitations

Few criminals would bother to manufacture counterfeit money in a country where the currency had gone to pot and even "good money" was worth nothing. Counterfeits s flourish only where the standard genuine money is worth what it claims to be. Everything good has imitations and imitators. An article that's no good has no one to copy it. Paintings, rugs, flavorings, houses, clothing, name your item anywhere, and the more imitators it has, the better it is likely to be.

Now bring this back to people, as Jesus did when he explained the parable to his disciples. The wheat means the "Sons of the Kingdom" and the darnel stands for the "sons of the Evil One," Satan. Sons of the Kingdom (meaning God's Kingdom) would mean men about as good as men can be. Sons of the devil could hardly be anything but the lowest kind of men at all. Yet the true sons of God manage to look so much like the imitators, the "phonies," that they are hard to tell apart and hard to sort out.

Why are imitations possible?

How is it, though, that evil can be made to look much like good? One reason is that it is always possible to copy the outside of a thing. The writer knew a designer who was at work for a large bakery. A rival establishment was making better bread, and putting it into an attractive jacket. The designer was trying to create and succeeded, too - in making a jacket that looked almost exactly like that on the better bread; and it fooled lots of people. The point is that this artist's bakery couldn't or wouldn't imitate the bread, so they imitated the package. That what "phonies" always do and it's all they can do imitate the package.

Is there a sure-fire, guaranteed way, this side of the Day of Final Judgment, to tell wheat from tares, the true from the false, the good from the bad? There is one test which Jesus suggested in the Sermon on the Mount: "By their fruits ye shall know them." Dar-nel looks like wheat until the wheat ripens; then a baby could almost label each plant. A legend is told of King Solomon. The Queen of Sheba brought in her luggage two wreaths, one of real flowers, the other of artificial ones. Which was which? Solomon could not tell. So he opened a window and waited. Presently a bee flew in and then another. The wise man could not tell true from false; but he knew the bees would know. The bees knew where the real honey was. It is not too hard to imitate the outside of a good thing; but the true inner goodness is to be found only in the genuine article. Take no other!

& Savory Veal-Ham-Cheese Patties

Elegantly thin slices of yeal and ham and cheese are flattened together, sauteed in butter, and then simmered in a flavory sauce that brings out their full rich taste. When people remark that you must spend minutes and more minutes achieving that wonderful sauce . . . well, mention your shortcut, if you wish.

Or just smile.

The sauce is simply bottled Monaco French salad dressing poured over the patties. The patties simmer quietly in it just long enough to absorb some of the sharply spicy exuberance of the dressing. Then you serve them glistening hot and brown and tender, smelling deliciously of the meat and cheese, and of the backs and spines of the dressing. herbs and spices of the dressing.

5 thin slices of yeal, cut as for scallopini
(about 1 pound)
5 thin slices cooked ham (about 6 ounces)
3 ounces Swiss cheese

1 teaspoon dried basil leaves
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
1¼ cup Wish-Bone Monaco
French Dressing
Lemon and snipped or Gruyere cheese, cut in small strips Pound veal slices thin between wax paper. On each slice place one slice of ham, a portion of cheese and a generous pinch of basil. Fold over in half so that the ham and cheese are on the basis. Fold over in half so that the half and theese are of the inside. Flatten each again. (For pieces of veal too small to overlap use 2 pieces and fasten together with toothpicks.) Saute in butter or margarine until well browned on both sides. Pour the dressing over the meat and simmer, while partially covered, for 5 minutes. To serve, place a thin slice of lemon on each and sprinkle with parsley. Makes 5 servings.

KEY LIME PIE FROM A PACKAGE

A modern version of Florida's major dessert triumph, the Key Lime Pie, can now be made the short-cut way with the aid of a packaged mix. The new product, Royal Key Lime Flavor Pie Filling, has just become available at food stores across the country.

As versatile as the famous Key Lime Pie whose fascinating history began centuries ago in the Florida Keys, the new mix can be prepared in many ways. Package directions indicate how to make a meringue-topped pie and a chiffon pie from the same basic combination of ingredients.

When frozen, the chiffon pie becomes a third version. And, there are many other variations through the addition of ingredients such as cottage cheese, chocolate bits, fruit slices, whipped cream—and so forth. Pie crusts can be varied, too, from conventional pastry ones to crusts made of cookie crumbs or a baked meringue shell such as the one featured here:

KEY LIME ANGEL PIE

2 eggs, separated 1/2 teaspoon vinegar 1/4 teaspoon vanilla Dash salt 2/3 cup sugar

1 package Royal Key Lime Flavor Pie Filling 1/2 cup sugar 2 cups cold water 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped Combine 2 egg whites, vinegar, vanilla and salt; beat until frothy. Add 2/3 cup sugar gradually and beat until stiff peaks form. Spread in well-greased 9-inch pie pan. Bake in slow oven (300°F.) about 45 minutes. Cool. Combine Royal Key Lime Flavor Pie Filling and 1/2 cup sugar in saucepan. Gradually add water and 2 slightly beaten egg yolks, stirring to keep smooth. Cook over medium high heat stirring constantly with high heat. pan. Gradually and water and 2 signify beaten egg yorks, stirring to keep smooth. Cook over medium high heat, stirring constantly, until mixture just starts to boil. Break flavor capsule if undissolved; stir into filling. Pour into bowl; place transparent wrap or wax paper directly on filling. Chill until set.

Fold whipped cream into lime pie filling. Spoon into meringue shell. Chill about 1/2 hour. If desired, garnish top with additional whipped cream, and mandarin orange sections.
Makes 1 9-inch pie.

WEEKLY REPORTS FROM ANNAPOLIS

(Continued from Page 1) first degree murder under all circumstances where the murdered person was a police officer who at the time of his murder was acting in an official capacity. This sentence would not be affected by the jury's recommendation "without capital punishment"

Senate Bill 120 would provide for window stickers to be issued for the urpose of display on automobiles to indicate the insurance status of that motor vehicle. This is an effort to assure that all motor vehicles that are not covered by insurance would be brought under the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund by the payment of the required fee, this fee now being $70.00.

A rather unusual situation existed at the time of this writing in that there were less House Bills in the Legislative "mill" than there were Senate Bills. At this time there were but 179 House Bills. However, we are certain that there will be more to come in the very near future.

House Bill 8 would give the County Commissioners the power to acquire land by purchase, gift, devise, bequest and condemnation. This property would be acquired for public uses and the procedure used would be the same as that for property acquired by the State. This Bill would also allow the County Commissioners to dispose of such public property at either public or private sale, after advertising such sale.

There is a bill in the House that would codify the laws relating to distress for rent. At present, action that is followed for this purpose is subject to little or no court regulation. The present bill would set up extensive procedures to elevify this extensive procedures to clarify this area of the law. It would provide for filing of actions of distraint with the Trial Magistrates of the State and would set forth the rights and remedies of the land owner, tenant and third parties having alaims to and third parties having claims to the goods being distrained on. There is another piece of legisla-tion that would call for a constitutional amendment which would es-tablish a Commission on Judicial Disabilities which Commission on Judicial Disabilities which Commission would be authorized to hold hearing on charges against any judge and to make recommendations to the Court of Appeals of Maryland for removal or retirement. The Court of Appeals would be empowered to take such action as may be presented. action as may be necessary to remove or retire a judge. Another bill con-cerning the same subject matter would give the Commission the pow-er to hold hearings, administer oaths and enforce processes in connection with its proceedings.

House Bill 24 would remove all differentiation and inconsistency with reference to the time upon which persons reach the age of majority. It would provide that all males and females would be considered to have reached majority at the age of 21 reached majority at the age of 21. At present, there are numerous differences existing throughout the laws as to the time to be considered the age of majority for males and

A new crime would be established with the passage of House Bill 47. This would make it unlawful to maliciously open the gate to another person's field or enclosure, which field, pasture or enclosure is holding livestock. The crime contemplated is the malicious opening of the gate. House Bills 50 and 51 would permit

House Bill 74, introduced by the Carroll County Delegation, would exempt from State and County taxation on real and personal property owned by the Historical Society of Carroll County.

A new ground for divorce in Maryland

A new ground for divorce in Maryland would be established with the passage of House Bill 106. This would provide for the divorce of a husband and wife who have lived separate and apart for 5 consecutive years without any expectation of reconcilliation. There would be no necessity for the original separation to be voluntary or either party to be at fault to obtain this type of divorce.

E. O. WEANT, JR., Carroll County.

A Republican legislator from a nonslot machine county called upon his fellow lawmakers to make positive suggestions to help fill the economic void created by the removal of slot machines in Southern Maryland.

"It's all very well and good," said Delegate Jacob M. Yingling (R., Car-roll), "to get up on your feet and expound on the evils of these devices and call for their removal, but we should not leave our Southern Mary-and friends high and dry.

"Statistics show that slots make up a large portion of the Southern Maryland economy, and something must be developed to take their place if the region is to presser along with

"While the State Department of Economic Development has done a tremendous job in calling the nation's attention to Maryland as a tourist mecca, more must be done with emphasis on the Southern Maryland area."

Mr. Yingling said industry must be drawn to the region to provide payrolls for the citizens of the area as well as help shoulder the tax burden.

"Take the proposal to locate the United States Patent Office in Maryland as an example," Mr. Yingling

He urged Southern Marylanders to give careful study to proposals to construct large suburban developments in Charles County.

"There may be dangers in these proposals," he said. "Charles Coun-tians should take a long, hard look at such ideas. "They should make absolutely certain that they will be a boon and not

"Legislators, civic leaders and county government must be aware that the creation of a strictly residential suburban city will bring with it requirements for more schools, more teachers, were highways as the school of the county of the coun teachers, water, highways, sewerage, police, fire and other services.

"Taxes are needed to pay for these things and a strictly residential community, unless they are talking about $30,000 to $40,000 homes, might not produce enough revenue to foot the bills unless, of course, the tax rate were raised to sufficiently high levels."

Mr. Yingling said he would be happy to pass on to his Southern Maryland colleagues "any and all' ideas" which might help fill the void reated by slot phase out.

"Southern Maryland legislators know that an economic problem is on the way and are working hard to find a solution.

Here's why a tung oil base finish lasts longer!

TUNG OIL, pressed from the nut of the tung tree, was used to waterproof Chinese ships as long ago as the 14th century. A thin, transparent oil, it penetrates deep into the wood pores, forming an almost permanent seal against moisture because it retains its elasticity.

Using specially-processed tung oil, WATERLOX carries the resins and ... so that sealer and finish coats practically become a part of the wood.

WATERLOX dries into a beautiful, armor-like surface (either satin or gloss) that never needs waxing, yet resists moisture, heat (even boiling water), alcoholic beverages.
