VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

July is so often a month of drought in our area, and this one is no exception. Once again, pastures are sere and brown, and farmers must resort to feeding the hay which nor-mally would be kept for Winter. Our little stream has been dried up for weeks, except down in the woods, where it runs deepest. The vegetable where it runs deepest. The vegetable garden cannot possibly produce very much, unless the rains come soon. Even the hardiest weeds are begin-ning to droop. The only activities, farmers, which benefit from such dry conditions are hay curing and combining. No situation is, after all, completely bad. As I think about droughts and their effects upon our land, it seems to me effects upon our land, it seems to me that we humans also suffer droughts in our personal lives. So many of us, for example, are dried up spiritually. We are racked with the fevers of greed and materialism, grabbing money, houses, pleasure, land, cars furniture, and clothes. The more we grab, the less satisfied we are and the more we want. The law in the past has been some-what unclear and confusing on the rights of a landlord to force sale of a tenant's property or crops for non-payment of rent. Effective June 1, 1965, all the old laws were repealed, and a new law was enacted outlining and a new law was enacted outlining in detail the steps and procedure to be followed by a landlord to secure a lien upon a tenant's property for rent, and, if necessary, to sell it. This action, known as distress for rent, is an old remedy, but it is now more clearly spelled out for the benefit of both landlords and tenants. (About People, Places and Things) After the show was over of "The Yellow Rolls Royce" last week ex-pected to see a real storm but it was the awful blasting of "The Academy of Music" next door as to the thun-dering noise. I saw a crowd across the street looking unwards and the the street looking upwards and there the street looking upwards and there was a Crane Operator raising a big stone and then letting it come down with terrific force to break up the walls. It was the very first time that I witnessed anything to compare! As we walked away, a number of people said to me, "Isn't it just awful? Re-member that beautiful place? And now a parking lot to be built!" Walking down Howard Street I saw all the beautiful Brides in the shop windows and then I remembered it was June! Bridal gowns now are shop windows and then I remembered it was June! Bridal gowns now are minus those awful common lace af-fairs and the plainer, the more beau-tiful. The Hecht Co. in the very first window had the one that topped them all. Perfectly plain with a handsome floor-length veil, in fact, laying on the floor with the entire edge of im-ported lace. It was truly, "The One — The Beautiful and for the Great Moment." As I walked in the differ-ent department stores I was amazed to see so much Fall clothes on the hangers just brought in and that hangers just brought in and that usually takes place immediately after the 4th of July in previous years. Saw so many, "S L A C K" dresses on sale but always remember they are not for the plump Miss. And be sure, Ladias in purchasing a two sizes with

How wonderful! If you have one of those "Deep Wells" in your home, Mr. Son or Miss Daughter — Thank God you can take care of her! A recent daughter-in-law writes, "I just cannot call John's mother, "Mother" and I call her by her first name but nothing has ever been said about it. Do you think this plan is O.K.? I do not love her like a Mother". Here is the answer to that one — If it was not for that little Mother you would never have had the husband you have and from all you state he must be a fine young man. You stated nothing has ever been said about it. No? But think of that dear little Mother's thoughts when she is not called, "Mother" I am sure your husband feels the same way and being a fine person will not mention it. If I were you, I would apologize to her and start calling her "Mother!" What a change there will be of real happiness in your home! So long, Folks. 25th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Murray M. Baum-gardner celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, June 6th with an Open House for relatives and friends at their home on E. Balti-more St., Taneytown. Their sons, more St., Taneytown. Their sons, Allen and Dennis, as hosts had pre-viously arranged the affair.

There were 226 guests present, in cluding out of town guests from: Lit-tlestown, Baltimore. Waynesboro, Hagerstown, Westminster and Wash-ington, D.C. The couple received many lovely and useful gifts.

They were married 25 years ago in Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown, by Rev. Paul D. Emenheiser, Baltimore and assisted by Rev. Alfred T. Sutcliffe, pastor. Mrs. Baumgardner was formerly Emma Virginia Ohler, daughter of Mr. Raymond Ohler and the late Mrs. Ohler; and Mr. Baum-gardner is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Baumgardner. Organists were Mrs. George Har-ner and Mr. C. Richard Main; and Kenneth Baumgardner was soloist. Bestman was Charles O. Hesson and ushers were: Luther Ritter, Charles Ritter, Daniel Teeter and John Skiles. Matron of Honor was Mrs. Paul D. Emenheiser and flower girl was Lois Ohler.

WHEN YOU TAKE THE WHEEL

Here are some vivid stanzas which everyone who drives a car may well read and reread. Perhaps most important of all is the last stanza. Certainly, if every driver as he or she takes the wheel would utter this one sentence, "Lord, help me drive safely on this trip," there would be fewer accidents.

"If everyone who drives a car could lie a month in bed, With broken bones and stitched-up wounds, or fractures of the head, And there endure the agonies that many people do-

They'd never need preach safety any more to me or you.

"If everyone could stand beside the bed of some close friend, And hear the doctor say, 'No hope,' before that fatal end, And see him there unconscious, never knowing what took place— The laws and rules of traffic I am sure we'd soon embrace.

"If everyone could meet the wife and children left behind, And step into the darkened home where once the sunlight shined, And look upon 'the vacant chair,' where Daddy used to sit-I'm sure each reckless driver would be forced to think a bit.

"If everyone would realize pedestrians on the street Have just as much the right-of-way as those upon the seat, And train their eyes for children who run recklessly at play— This steady toll of human lives would drop from day to day.

"If everyone would check his car before he takes a trip, For worn-out tires, loose steering wheels, and brakes that fail to grip, And pay attention to his light while driving roads at night— Another score for safety could be chalked up in the fight.

"And last, if he who takes wheel would say a little prayer, And keep in mind those in the car dependent on his care, And make a vow and pledge himself to never take a chance-The great crusade for safety then would suddenly advance."

August 1. Under developers work, the County is supervising the construction of a road in the Blankner Subdivision off Woodbine Road and also roads in the Bowman Subdivision and Walnut Ridge Subdivision. Two streets that will be built in the near future under Developer Roads are Harvest Farm Road and Carroll Highland Road in Carroll Highlands Subdivision and Hickory Lane and Oakhill Drive in the Freedom Forest Subdivision.

Major repairs have been completed recently on the bridge over the South Branch of the Patapsco River on Gorsuch Road at Stone Chapel and the wooden bridge on Sam's Creek Road. The steel beam bridge on Sam's Creek Road will be repaired in the very near future. The Carroll County Road Department has recently purchased a Cater-pillar Tractor and Pan to be used in the digging of trenches required for the disposal of trash and garbage on our four landfills. This piece of equipment is now being used in the repair and grading of Louisville Road. This road is a cut-off from Maryland Route 32 to Deer Park Road and will serve traffic between Louisville and Reisterstown.

The County Roads Department op erates and controls four landfill areas: one at Bark Hill, one on Kate Wagner Road, one on Bachman's ley Road and one on Hodges Road. These landfill areas are open to the public daily except Sunday from 7:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. In the fall of 1964, Carroll County entered on an experimental project of placing calcium chloride on stoned roads. Ten miles of roads were done in 1964 and the results were very satisfactory. This program is being continued in 1965 by applying calcium chloride to 30 miles of stoned roads. The roads chosen for treatment are heavily traveled dirt and stoned roads where dust control has been a major problem. The Carroll County Roads Department had an inspection of its equipment on Friday, July 2. This equip ment was located at the Carroll County Road Shop.

MORE LOSS THAN PROFIT

As has been widely publicized on stage and screen, in song and story, "You can't take it with you." But, as Congressman Eugene J. Keogh of New York pointed out on the floor of the House the other day, you can't leave it either!

That is, if you have worked hard enough to own a business or otherwise achieve estate tax brackets, you can't leave any part of it to the people you would choose to have ituntil Uncle has been cut in, and extravagantly!

Originally passed in 1916 as a revenue measure, the Federal estate tax levied one percent on estates of $50,000 and upward to a ceiling of ten percent. But, seized upon later as a device for redistributing private wealth, the rates have sky-rocketed. With the exemption now at $60,000, the tax rate starts at three percent. on the first $5,000 above the exemption and escalates to a confiscatory 77 percent on whatever estates of $10 million or more may remain.

Realistically, the present law is weak on revenue since it produces less than three percent of the total. As Mr. Keogh told his colleagues in the House "the estate tax is a bad tax and the least we can properly do under present fiscal circumstances is to reduce it." (The Keogh Bill would reduce the rates 20 percent and equalize the deduction of 25 years ago, when dollars were worth twice as much, by raising it to $120,000.)

They mean the creation of new agencies and expansion of others -additions to an already ponderous, often blundering and wasteful, federal bureaucracy. They mean additional federal regulations and controls. Better health and better education are essential to achieving a better society. But must the nation become a welfare state to achieve these goals? That is the underlying issue."

Slowly, the Peking Communist hierarchy is moving toward total conscription of its 750 million population into the militia and supplementary para-military units. . . . The impression is given that every person in China capable of walking now undergoes military training of some sort, even if no more than mental conditioning."

of the Nation's productive power' in three ways:

1. It prevents many businessmen and investors from making fullest use of their business abilities and system." capital-by withdrawing some of both from effective channels into sterile arrangements to meet this often crushing obligation.

2. It tends to foster monopoly. Where, as often happens, it is necessary to'sell a small business to pay the tax, the likely buyer is a large, -public corporation, not another small, closely-held one that faces the same problem. And, each time such a sale takes place, as Mr. Keogh says, "One more small business has disappeared."

Reform in this area, which would produce far more in wages, job security and GNP than the present ghoulish shakedown by the Federal hearsefollowers collect in tax-money, is of expanding importance to a living, free-enterprise economy.

And, incidentally, consideration for American citizens should come ahead of the Treasury Department's demand for even greater estate tax relief for non-resident aliens in business in this country-which is also before Congress at this moment.

U. S. Press Association "FACTS AND OPINIONS"

Percy L. Greaves, Jr., writes in The Freeman: "The great advantage of the gold standard is that gold cannot be created by printing presses or by bookkeeping entries. When a country is on the gold standard, politicians who want to vote for spending measures must also vote for increased taxes or sanction the issuance of government securities paying free market interest rates that will attract the funds of private savers and investors. Under a true gold standard, men remain free, the quantity of money is determined by market forces, and both the manipulated inflations and the resulting depressions eliminated, along with all the poverty and human misery that they cause.'

Super-safe money box

Put your money in U. S. Savings Bonds and there's no way you can lose it.

Your name and the number on your Bond are recorded in a safe place. Only the Treasury Department can get at this information. So in case you lose a Bond, or have it stolen, your name-and your Bond number-will be checked, and the Bond replaced. There's no charge to you, either.

Your Bonds are not only lossproof. They're state and local income tax-proof, too. And you can defer your federal income tax until you cash them.

Join the millions of Americans who buy Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan where they work. Or the Bond-a-Month Plan where they bank. You'll become known as one of the smart savers.

And there's no better way to keep your savings super-safe.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my friends relatives, and neigh-bors for their lovely flowers, cards and visits while I was a patient in the Annie M. Warner Hospital and since my return home. Special thanks to the wonderful doctors, nurses and ministers. May God bless each and every one of them.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad, but loving memory of our dear son, LeRoy Baumgardner, who departed this life, one year ago, July 11, 1964.

'Twas hard to say a last farewell, To one whom we loved so well, But God thought best to take him

An angel whispered to him, Come!

He never more shall suffer pain His death is an eternal gain For they who die in Christ are blest And shall forever be at rest.

He sleeps, he sleeps, he is not dead! But lives with Christ his living head His body rests beneath the sod, ball had to change nicknames when they were moved to Minnesota. Other-wise, future generations would have spent endless hours wondering how the Minnesota Senators—or the Na-tionals, as they are sometimes called —got their name. Way back in antiquity, the Brook-lyn Dodgers got their nickname from the players' ability to dodge trolley cars on their way into Ebbets Field in Brooklyn. The trolley cars have long since disappeared from Brook-lyn, so has Ebbets Field and so have the Dodgers, but, the nickname lives on.

HAHN - SPRINGER

Mrs. Margaret E. Springer, Taneytown Road, Emmitsburg, was married to Harry S. Hahn, Waynesboro Road, Emmitsburg, Saturday, June 26, 1965, at 4 P. M. at Incarnation United Church of Christ, Emmitsburg. The Rev. John C. Chatlos performed the double ring ceremony. The altar of the church was decorated with pink and white gladioli. Miss Janet Springer, daughter of the bride, was soloist. Mrs. Lewis Higbee was organist

The bride wore a sleeveless dress of beige lace over a satin sheath, a pink pillbox hat and a crosage of pink rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Masser, Hagerstown, were attendants. The matron of honor wore a turquoise dress with a puckered bodice, a white veiled hat, and a yellow rosebud corsage. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. For traveling the bride chose a twopiece suit of charcoal gray and white stripes with a rounded collar. They will reside at their home on Taneytown Road.

To drive to your favorite picnic grounds? Go camping or boating? Really visit those inlaws?

Chemical researchers are helping to make your driving safer, and there is also much you can do.

researchers, for example, have been working with town fathers and highway superintendents across the country, introducing a chemical called Solvay calcium chloride that controls dust on the nation's roads - two-thirds of which are unpaved.

Allow yourself to carry out your spring plans safely by seeking dust - controlled roads and by making these motoring resolutions:

1. Let the spring air, not alcohol, intoxicate you. Studies prove that two-thirds of fatalities involving drunkenness were caused by only partial intoxication.

2. Test your eyes before driving, not when you're at the wheel. Optometrists advise that small changes in vision can accumulate, become serious distortions; they recommend an eye check every two years for | anything else again).

What did you plan for spring? | those under 40, a yearly test for those older than 40. 3. Respect spring weather.

MAKE SPRING AUTO SAFETY RESOLUTIONS

Like winter ice, spring showers can slick roads and cause skids. That misty April dew can lie treacherously on the road. Remember that speed limits are Allied Chemical Corporation posted for ideal, not rainy, conditions.

4. Check tires before leaving on even a short trip. All types of tires will last longer if you maintain recommended pressure and rotate them every 5,000 miles.

5. Care for your brakes; have them tested, tightened and relined frequently. Bear in mind that puddles of water can make brakes fail; if uncertain, test brakes by stopping several times on an empty stretch of road

6. Refine your road manners: everyone likes that spring ride, so even small roads may at times be crowded. If someone else fails at his manners, don't use your car to show your displeasure.

7. Concentrate on driving. Let a passenger hunt that perfect picnic spot — if you try, you might never find it (or

Yes, Again Lesson for July 11, 1965

Background Scripture: Romans 8:26-28 Philippians 3:7-10 PDevotional Reading: Hebrews 5:7-14.

A RE YOU a Christian? Some people-Christian or notfind this question in bad taste, to say the least of it. The best that can be expected, sometimes; is just a glassy stare. Sometimes the person who is asked the question doesn't answer because it seems to be "loaded," however you answer. If the answer is a straight Yes, that seems like bragging. If the answer is No, that seems like

Dr. Foreman giving the lie to this person's background, to his character, to his church membership. Sometimes the reply is: "I don't know, I hope so!" This in a very dubious and uncertain way. Well-, we wonder why people get all mixed up about this. Maybe there are some who are puzzled about whether they are Christians or not. They are Christians by intention. They aim at being true Christians. Anyone who wants to live as a Christian is surely a Christian by intention.

Toward the Goal

Being a Christian takes a lifetime of devotion. But you, whoever you are, can begin to be Christian before you finish this paragraph. A man may say, almost with pride: Am I a Christian? What a question! I was saved right in that old church one night in June when I was a boy. It would be more close to the truth if he had said, I began to be a Christian right there and then. But what since then? Was that a climax, a sort of Mt. Everest? Or was it a step on the way, calling for other steps every day? At all events, we can put down two truths. One is, that the Christian life car start, in you, whenever you say, in the words of the old carol, "There is room in my heart, Lord Jesus room in my heart for Thee."

Yes, Again

The other truth is that the Christian life calls on the Christian to stand up and be counted, to say "Yes" to God again and again. You don't grow automatically into Christian character. And you certainly make a poor showing if you think the race is won when it's not. St Paul can give inspired advice. If ever there was a Christian saint, it was he; yet he did not claim to have arrived. All he could or would claim for himself was that he had not stopped running. "I press on," he said.

Whose Victory is it?

Yet Paul does not claim credit for his progress on the trail of Christ. It is a long, lone marathon, and yet not lonely either. Paul knows where the credit for his spiritual progress should go: to God himself. He speaks of the Holy Spirit (who is not a thing but the personal God at work in the world and in the hearts of men). The Spirit takes our feeble prayers and so to speak translates them into God's language. For our prayers are often selfish, sometimes selfish without our realizing it.

It is a stirring thing to realize: no matter how many or how strong your personal temptations are, no matter how much stronger they are than you, the exciting fact is that God is for you. You may feel like quitting; but your divine partner has no intention of quitting. You may grow tired of the everlasting inner warfare the true Christian is called on to wage against "the world, the flesh and the devil." But God does not sleep. You may think you are not important. But even one soldier in the vast battle between Right and Wrong, — even one steadfast battler for Right is a needed man. If every Christian were a growing Christian, God's army would be growing stronger every year. Does it, or doesn't it, where you are?

To: County Commissioners of Carroll County

A copy of the proposed Compre-hensive Zoning Ordinance along with the associated zoning maps as recom-mended by the Carroll County Plan-ning and Zoning Commission was presented to the County Commissioners. Such approval is based on ap-proximately six months of actual study by the Commission itself on the provisions in the proposed ordi-nance and the districts as designated on the maps. The Ordinance and maps, however, are based on several years of planning studies, including the adopted Master Plan for Carroll County.

As a matter of acquainting your Board with the manner by which the Commission has processed the recom-mended Ordinance and maps, the mended Ordinance and maps, the recommendations as to future pro-cedures necessary for your Board to follow, as well as any other sugges-tions, this Commission is incorporat-ing below information which may be helpful to you preparatory to further consideration of the proposed Ordi-nance and mans nance and maps.

Study Phase — This Commission was presented with the preliminary draft of the zoning ordinance in January as prepared by the staff and the Commission's Counsel (Ralph G. Hoffman) Study Phase -Hoffman).

Upon the suggestion of the Com-mission's Counsel and his advisory committee of attorneys, the Commis-sion retained Mr. Malcolm Dill, wellknown planning and zoning consultant who worked with the staff and Commission for approximately two months in a study of this initial draft. Also, the Commission reactivated and en-larged the various advisory commit-tees to the Commission in further processing a zoning draft for pre-sentation to the general public. These committees and the members were as follows:

Agricultural Adivsory Committee: John J. Bixler, Frank Bushey, Jon-athan Dorsey, Lloyd B. Wilhide, George M. Tracy, Francis Barnes and

Edgar Sellers. Residential Advisory Committee: Mrs. Laura E. Miller, Mrs. William P. Atwater, Mrs. Raymond A. Rogers, Mrs. Ridgely Lee, Russell Ebeling and Carroll Crawford.

Park and Recreation Advisory Com-mittee: James P. Earp, W. Leroy Stegman, James M. Shriver, Thomas R. O'Farrell and C. Read Hoddinott. R. O'Farrell and C. Read Hoddinott. Industrial Advisory Committee: Clifton W. Warner, Leonard E. Sher-man, Lloyd M. Elderdice, Russell B. Morgan, Gerald S. Brickett, Fred-erick G. Schelm, Edward William, Charles Schaffer and Joseph Beaver. Historical Advisory Committee: Une Edward C. Beaver Mismittee: Charles Schaffer and Joseph Beaver. Historical Advisory Committee: Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes, Miss Eliza-beth Billingslea, Edwin A. Englar, Homer Twigg and Stanford Hoff. Public Relations Advisory Commit-tee: Charles Mooshian, Charles L. Stonesifer, Pearce Bowlus, Mrs. Vir-ginia Minnick, Dean Minnich, W. F. Church and Malcolm Rakestraw. Signs Advisory Committee: Harley E. Croft.

Hearing Stage - The Commission. Hearing Stage — The Commission, following numerous revisions, addi-tions and deletions in the first draft of the proposed ordinance, approved Draft Two on April 6, 1965, and ad-vertised for public hearings in all the county newspapers. These hearings were held on the evenings of May 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 at which 247 persons attended. Comments were received from a large number of those received from a large number of those Industrial and business develop-ment as a part of the County's future growth is dependent upon areas where the potential for such is great for transportation and other key services. It is believed that the areas being recommended are the most logical locations and, therefore, should be afforded zoning protection to enbe afforded zoning protection to en-able the use of these areas for future industrial and business growth.

6. The conservation areas being proposed are only the major stream valleys of the county and it is believed that these watersheds are being af-forded the protection under the rec-ommendations herein to insure no high density development which might otherwise be the case in the immediate future if no such protection were recommended. 7. It is evident that there is a definite task to be done in the incorporated areas of Carroll County to effect zoning regulations which are somewhat comparable, if not more extensive than the county's proposal, to insure zoning protection if and when any incorporated areas propose annexation procedures. It is the desire of this Commission that this report carry with it an ex-pression of deep appreciation for the work that the Planning Commission's advisory committees have done in aiding in the development of an ordinance believed to be in the best interests of Carroll County. This Commission expects to continue to request the aid of the members of these accounting these plenning these committees in other planning work and to aid your Board in any way possible in further studies and later amendments pertaining to zoning. Your Planning and Zoning Com-mission will be happy to meet with you at any time relative to this report and your plans for further con-sideration of the Proposed Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance.

present. All comments were recorded for study and, in addition thereto, many inquiries and com-ments were registered by letter.

Final Study Stage — Since the public hearings in May, the Commis-sion has held numerous meetings for discussing the comments and sugges-tions received. In addition, the ad-visors to the Commission have spent visors to the Commission have spent many hours recommending revisions believed in the best interest of the county and in obtaining a good work-able zoning ordinance for Carroll County. Therefore, for one and one-half months a thorough study has been made and many of the comments made during and following the pub-lic hearings have been incomponented lie hearings have been incorporated in draft three of the ordinance being recommended to the County Commis-sioners of Carroll County for its consideration.

consideration. Legal Procedures Remaining — Following the receipt of these rec-ommendations, your Board must de-termine a public hearing date and advertise a minimum of 15 days in a newspaper of general circulation in Carroll County giving notice of such hearing. It is assumed that your Board, however, will advertise in all local papers notice of such hearing Board, however, will advertise in all local papers notice of such hearing and will make available copies of the ordinance to any interested party. It is called to the Board's attention that such hearing should be well in advance of August 18, 1956, the ex-piration date of the existing Interim Zoning Ordinance. Sufficient time should be given the members of your Board, and the Planning Commission, if you would so desire, for ample reif you would so desire, for ample review of any comments received by your Board at the proposed public hearing.

General Observations - This Commission has drawn several general conclusions in the processing of the ordinance which are being passed on to your Board along with several letter attachments as a matter of further information. These conclusions are:

1. It is evident that there is a definite need for a comprehensive zoning ordinance at the earliest date which the Board can make effective

2. There appears to be general approval of the concept of zoning in Carroll County.

Carroll County. 3. It is apparent that there are some divisions in thinking as to the degree of zoning restriction needed in Carroll County, however, it is the belief of the Commission that the recommendations being made meet a contaction of the extreme points of centerline of the extreme points of view.

4. Although the County has recommended many residential zoning areas as an R-10,000 category, and in some cases as an R-7500 category,
