County Commissioners' Report

The tax assessment department under the supervision of William E. Smith completed the preparation of tax rolls and bills during the month of June for the fiscal year 1965-66. There were 20,972 tax bills mailed to the county's taxpayers on July 1. Approximately 252 transfers of property were recorded, in addition to furnishing information pertaining to assessments on property to be transferred.

This department issues all building permits and prepares notices to taxpayers concerning changes in assessments. Their daily routine of work is varied and includes answering letters to taxpayers concerning any information requested by them, posting of sales to tax maps as well as posting to all transfers the liber and folio reference. Reports were filed to the State Department of Assessments and Taxation plus many other details necessary in the operation of this department.

The assessors spent the month of June assessing all new property throughout the County that had been built between January 1, 1965, to July 1, 1965.

VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

As I gaze from my kitchen window on this summer day, the country-side drowns under a hot, almost tropical sun. The cows, finding it too warm to graze, relax under a shade tree, dreamily chewing their cud. Now the birds seek the coolness of the deep woods, and their singing has noticeably tapered off. A rooster pheasant stands, perfectly motionless, down by the fence. Skipper, the dog, and Cream Puff, our favorite cat, feel the effects of the heat, as they lie side by side on the concrete front porch. All of nature, it seems, is taking time out for a quiet noon-time siesta.

Suddenly, however, ominous black clouds bill up in the sky, and tension fills the air. The house sparrows twitter uneasily, and the pheasant scuttles away. Birds and animals instinctively know when a storm is brewing, and now the cows, too, begin to drift into the shelter of the out-buildings. Thunder peals and lightning flashes. Gusts of wind whip up clouds of dust and slash through the trees. The sound of thunder always bothers Skipper, and he sets up his usual distracted barking, while Cream Puff urgently scratches at the screen door. Even I, here in the kitchen, feel a few qualms as the lights dim and flicker and the wind grows stronger. How fierce and sudden the summer storms can be!

As the elements rage outside, I think of how suddenly and fiercely the storms of life, too, often bear down upon us—the storms of adversity, of illness, of sorrow, of accident, of bereavement. And yet we need not be overcome by a single one of them—not if we remember the One who rebuked the winds and waves on the Sea of Galilee, not if we hold fast to His enduring words, "Peace be still." For Jesus Christ is still the Master of every situation; calmer of every storm. We must simply have the faith to believe in Him.

SAVES GOVERNMENT THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

Three Fort Detrick employees received Special Act and Service Cash Awards during ceremonies in the office of the Commanding Officer, Tuesday, July 13.

Cited for saving the Federal Government more than $33,000 as a result of negotiations for a substantial extension to a contract with Space-General Corporation, El Monte, Calif., are Dr. Benjamin Warshawsky, Supervisory Physical Scientists Physical Defense Division; Mr. Leo A. Sanders, Contract Negotiator, Procurement Division; and Mr. Lester A. Gesell, Jr., Contract Price Analyst, also of the Procurement Division.

The cost reduction realized as a result of negotiating the present contract can also be realized in negotiating other contracts of a similar nature, with further significant amounts of savings anticipated.

The contract with Space-General Corporation originally called for monthly technical and administrative status reports and for comprehensive quarterly technical reports outlining in detail technical progress achieved by the contractor, standard reporting procedures in the past.

Taking cognizance of the special emphasis being placed on cost reduction within the Department of Defense, the three men coordinated their efforts in finding ways to reduce reporting costs in contracts where this could be achieved without losing effective contract management. The successful results of their combined effort amounted to $33,147 in savings in the first application of their newly developed management technique.

In effect, the reporting procedure developed by the three employees realizes savings in time spent by monthly technical and administrative reports. Freeing top technical personnel from the usual reporting responsibilities enables them to spend more time on planning, conducting and managing experimentation.

Each of the award winners received checks in the amount of $100 as part of the recognition given them for their achievement.

Mr. Sanders was born near Taneytown and attended St. Joseph Parochial School and Taneytown High School. He is now living at Cloverhill, Frederick, Md., with his wife and daughter, Mary.

He is Contract Negotiator, Special Contracts Branch, Procurement Division at Fort Detrick, Frederick, Md.

REPORT OF THE MARYLAND ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

The Maryland Association for Retarded Children honored Mr. Jay Engel, of Baltimore, for his outstanding work in behalf of Maryland's retarded. Mr. Engel, a retired Baltimore businessman, was presented with a gold lapel pin at the MARC Board of Directors Meeting, Sunday, in Catonsville. The prominent volunteer worker for a number of causes has been active recently in helping raise funds for the new Occupational Training Center and Sheltered Workshop operated by the Baltimore Chapter.

Mr. Engel is a member, an officer or on the Board of Directors of ten charitable organizations, including the Baltimore League for Crippled Children and Adults, the Salvation Army and the Campfire Girls. He is a member of the Board of Directors of CICA and noted as a Rotarian for his work with young people, having originated weekly theatre parties for handicapped children and an annual boat excursion on the Chesapeake Bay.

"This has become a full time job with me," said Mr. Engel. "My work with ten organizations gives me plenty to do. Why, I had ten meetings to attend in ten days at one stretch."

The President of the Maryland Association for Retarded Children, Mr. Robert Parrish, said, "We are most appreciative of the work Mr. Engel has done in behalf of retarded children. His record as a volunteer worker stands out to all as a shining example of the good that can be accomplished with dedication, compassion and interest in the problems of handicapped children."

The MARC Board of Directors was informed by Mr. Morris Scherr, Executive Director, that the State Board of Health and Mental Hygiene has formally adopted regulations detailing the screening process prescribed by recent legislation for detection and treatment of PKU, a metabolic disorder present in some newborn children, which can result in mental retardation. The screening process, required by State law, can detect the presence of the disorder. With a change in diet mental retardation may be prevented. Mr. Scherr said that four cases of PKU in newborns had been detected by the screening process since January of 1964. "At least four children, that we know of, have been spared a life of possibly hopeless mental retardation," said Mr. Scherr.

MEETING OF SENIOR CITIZENS

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens was held Monday evening at Memorial Park with about 75 persons present.

The Westminster Senior Citizens were guests and about 45 members were present.

The president, Mrs. Paul Warehime, called the meeting to order. Two new members, Mrs. LaRue Schaeffer and Mrs. Anna Foreman, were welcomed.

Mr. Richard Kelly, director of the YMCA of Westminster, was present and spoke briefly.

Mrs. Carleen Skiles presented a lovely scrapbook to the Senior Citizens group. The group is most grateful to both Mrs. Skiles and Mrs. Jo-Ann Dougherty, who have helped to sponsor the group and have been most helpful in getting organized.

Entertainment was provided by a group from Carrollton, known as the "Gospel Belles," and an instrumental trio who provided a varied program of sacred music. Miss Rachael Sies took charge of the program. After the program, group singing of favorite hymns was enjoyed.

Refreshments of cookies, crackers and punch were served to the entire group during the social hour.

The next meeting will be held August 16 at 6:30 o'clock at Memorial Park and will be a covered dish supper. All senior citizens of the area are urged to attend.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

SEVENTH U. S. ARMY, GERMANY (AHTNC)—Carl W. Bittle, son of Elmer R. Bittle, Rt. 2, New Oxford, Pa., was promoted to private first class, June 24 in Germany, where he is serving with the 543d Ordnance Company.

The 21-year-old soldier, an automotive mechanic in the 543d Ordnance Company near Hanau, entered the Army in September 1964.

He attended Littlestown, Pa., High School. Before entering the Army, Bittle was employed by the Keystone Cabinet Co., Littlestown, Penna.

His mother, Mrs. Lillie M. Bittle, lives in Taneytown, Maryland.

The Taneytown Ki-Wives have donated two redwood benches for use at the Community Swimming Pool. Mr. Harry Mohny designed and built the benches, assisted by Mr. Clarence Harner, who fitted them with supporting piping. Mrs. Mohny, representing the Ki-Wives, presented the donation to Pool Manager McPartland Sunday afternoon in the presence of Kiwanians, their wives, members of the Executive Committee and pool staff.

Plan now to attend the first swimming meet at the local pool next Wednesday at 7 P. M., when local swimmers will compete against those from the Westminster Riding Club. Taneytown's Olympic-size pool has been especially designed to accommodate swimming competition. Let's have a good turn-out to cheer on our young people.

The Executive Committee will meet Thursday, July 29, at 9 P. M. at the pool to review operation and finances with Manager McPartland.

Miss Gail Good, Union Bridge, and Roy Melvin, Westminster, have joined the pool staff as relief lifeguards, substituting for regular lifeguards Alan Laird and Bob Hampson on their days off and supplementing regular supervision on days of peak pool usage. Miss Good and Mr. Melvin are Red Cross-certified senior lifesavers.

Attendance at the pool has been good during July; on the 13th, over 400 persons used the facilities. Equipment is functioning well, and high standards of safety and cleanliness are being maintained. Patrons are reminded to use the designated containers for trash disposal, and to dispose of cigarettes in the orange canisters.

60 Acres Added to Francis Scott Key High School

During the Fall of the school year 1964-65, the Francis Scott Key High School presented to the Carroll County Board of County Commissioners a proposal for the use of 60 acres remaining in the Joy property. The Joy property is situated near the Francis Scott Key H. S. and grounds. The proposal was presented to establish a land area for research and demonstration purposes in agriculture. The complexities of farming today and also the need for research in agriculture points out the needs for students learning to be farmers finding practical experience in the following aspects of farming: seed selection, fertilizer use, plowing techniques, time for planting, conservation practices, sales of product and general farm managerial practices.

This land area near Francis Scott Key H. S. will be designated as Key High School Research Acres. This facility, over the years, will be developed and will be made available to farmers in the Northern part of Carroll County, where they can view demonstration farming techniques, practical demonstrations of USDA recommended conservation practices, to provide demonstrations of proper land usage which demonstrates efficient use of machinery, to see conservation techniques applied to all fields and woodland strips, to see demonstrated forestry practices as recommended by the U. S. Forestry Service, and to see these practices conform to those presented for proper use of land in the head waters of the Pipe Creek Watershed.

The school over the years is not planning to farm these acres with their own labor and equipment. Select portions of the 60 acres will be used by students to experiment with various aspects of farming using their own time and equipment. The majority of the land area will be rented to a local farmer on a cash rent basis, or on a shared basis. At the present time, the operation is working on a shared basis at least until the end of this growing season. In October of 1965 the school will be asking for a local farmer who will be willing to farm according to the plans and practices included here to enter a money rent contract. This arrangement will be for a lengthy period of time giving the farmer an opportunity to build up the fertility of the soil, increase its productivity for not only the school's but his own benefit also.

This land will continue in production with the proceeds from its operation being retained on the farm for improvements, construction of roads, and the initiation of the suited conservation practices.

It is felt at this time that this will be an important and valuable adjunct to the large industry of agriculture in the Northern part of Carroll County. The vocational agriculture department of Francis Scott Key H. S., the FFA members are parents who work with the FFA Chapter will be used as resource people and will contribute ideas and suggestions for the operation maintenance; and improvement of the research facility to be used by the school.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Now, here's to the Ladies and perhaps it may interest the over-weight gentlemen, too. How would you like to spend a "lost weight weekend?" No foolin', Folks and I mean just that and you will lose 5 pounds! Well you can do it by starting a simple, safe and effective eating program that physicians call the "High-energy diet" by Florence Brobeck. It is really a diet to enjoy for your Observer has tried it and it is wonderful! The nice part is that you really enjoy the food while you are on the diet. It is filled with Vitamins and I am sure your Doctor would be pleased. So here it is—the simple "crash" menu for the week-end, the first 3 days and you may desire to continue it to lose more called "High-Energy" dried fruit diet.

BREAKFAST . . . 4 prunes cooked without sugar, whole-grain cereal with skim milk, clear Coffee or tea.

LUNCH . . . One Lamb Chop (all fat removed) with 3 sliced mushrooms steamed in bouillon (all bouillon should be made from cubes) then cooked with chop, one piece of whole wheat toast, 3 dried apricots cooked without sugar and clear coffee or tea. Snack between lunch and dinner. . . 2 tablespoons raisins.

DINNER . . . Same as lunch.

SNACK AT BEDTIME . . . whole wheat cracker and one cup of skim milk. Your observer did kindly without the snacks of any kind.

Next Day — BREAKFAST . . . 4 small prunes, 1 egg boiled or poached, 1 thin slice toasted whole wheat bread, clear tea or coffee.

LUNCH . . . 1 cup bouillon seasoned with onion salt, 1 whole-grain cracker or rye crisp, 1 cup pot cheese (mixed with skim milk or buttermilk) I did not include that either on 4 lettuce leaves with half cup chopped celery and 1 tablespoon lemon juice sprinkled over all, 2 tablespoons of raisins.

DINNER . . . Half cup tomato juice seasoned with a dash of Worcestershire sauce, a small serving of roast lamb or veal (with all fat removed) ¼ cup lima beans or beets, 1 or 2 stalks of celery, 1 slice of whole wheat bread, 4 halves cooked dried apricots and 2 tablespoons of their juice, clear tea or coffee.

And the third day which is Sunday, start all over again. Keep going until you have reached your goal, for this diet is loaded with basic health foods and the seasoning is good, also making it palatable and satisfying so that you do not tire of it. Well—Happy eating and—reducing! Hope you let me know how you made out. You do not have to wait until the week-end—start right now! It is marvelous to start in the Summer.

First time, Your Observer visited the new theatre at the "Reisterstown Plaza." The theatre is really beautiful with its simplicity! A lovely shade of red for the upholstered, comfortable, living-room-like chairs with Natural Blonde arm rests. The stage curtains are of gold and although the entire floor is plainly tiled, a long red runner is laid down each aisle the same color as the chairs. Now, as to "The Sandpiper" in which Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Richard Burton appear. Miss Taylor is cast with Burton in an illicit love affair. In this picture she plays a free-lance artist and lives alone in a so-called shack with her only child, a son near the ocean waves! Burton takes the part of an Episcopal Minister and although the acting is excellent and it may be a true story nevertheless the Public is getting their fill and I think you know just what I mean and half the theatre was empty! Nuff Sed about this picture! Other Columnists may have given it a longer and most disgusting criticism but this Columnist cannot go further.

Now, read on what happened to Your Observer this past Sunday about 6:00 P. M. I went to mail a letter and the neighborhood was a strange one to me and as I stepped back to get into the car, my hand banged against the door (as my friend has stopped the car over a Culvert). One of those heavy, heavy grates—places in the street (if you know what I mean, right by the curb) my key ring with about 10 or 12 keys were thrown out of my hand and down into this culvert! As I bent over and looked down, I could see they lay right there. We tried to lift one half of this iron grate but it could not be done. I stood there and pondered "What in the world am I to do?" I looked across the street to a row of houses and why I selected the very one in which a man lived with his wife who owned one of those big iron derricks, I do not know but that is what I did. He came to my rescue—jumped down and picked up those keys! And then, I cried in gratitude but by now, you know I am an old softy anyway! UGH!

Well, so long, Folks. Have a grand week-end and next week will be writing about that beautiful and one of my favorite Signs of "Leo" D.V. those born from July 20th to August 20 inclusive. Until then. D.V. I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

Old Oscar observes, "Middle-age is upon you when one night out equals two days all in."

Fred Jester notes, "If you really want to stop smoking, try carrying wet matches."

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Writing in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy of the Pennsylvania State Police says: "Greater demands than ever before are being made on our police by American citizens for the preservation of law and order. . . . law enforcement agencies are presently in the most critical, crucial, and abusive era of modern American history. The entire social structure is changing from day to day. In most of our communities, where social and economic changes have taken place, you will find a restless, moving, ever-growing population which results in new tensions, new conflicts, and new demands for police service. The most alarming characteristics possessed by some of our citizens are a disrespect for authority and, many times, an outright defiance of law and rebellion against the moral code."

The railroad's freight load is equal to picking up every day all the furniture and furnishings of America's 56 million family households and moving them 10 miles.

Dr. E. B. Chain, co-discoverer of penicillin, writes in Medical World News: "I cannot visualize how the industrial pharmaceutical laboratory could be replaced adequately by any nonindustrial structure. Those who wish to abolish it by nationalization, or to impede its freedom of action, are conjuring a major health hazard. For in the future, the pharmaceutical industry has the potential of surpassing its contributions of the past."

According to News Front, manufacturing's upper middle class, open to corporations with annual sales of $100 million to just under $1 billion, welcomed 27 new members to its ranks in 1964. These additions brought total membership in the $100 Million Club to 408 for the year, the highest number in history.

An American Medical Association release observes that many questions remain about the effects of smoking on health. Some of the complicated problems still to be solved by scientific investigators are: How does tobacco smoke produce damage to the human body? Why do some people appear to tolerate the effects of smoking better than others? Is there a single factor involved in the tobacco smoke danger or are there several factors? The medical profession is taking an active role in attempting to answer these questions. The AMA's Education and Research Foundation alone is supporting more than 40 research projects in the United States and Europe.

Walter Lippmann writes: "Whether we are dealing with Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic, or with the foreign aid program in general, there is one common problem which is crucial and central for all the many things we are undertaking. It is to find governments that we can support which are reasonably honest, efficient and progressive, and are trusted by their own people."

By 1985, the U.S. Census Bureau reports, the nation's population will climb to somewhere between 248 million and 276 million.

Max Ascoli writes in The Reporter: "All delusions or illusions to the contrary, the Communist adversary still wishes us ill; his ways of wishing us ill are infinitely varied; ours of responding pitifully few. But the major difference between us still comes from the fact that they are more adroit in the most insidious practices of warfare. That is why President Johnson was so right in Vietnam when he started repaying them in their own coin. We have also had a tendency to interpret the divisiveness in their ranks as being automatically in our favor. Not a single instance has been provided so far that this is so. . . ."

HEALTH FOR ALL "OLD DEBBIL SEA"

That sparkling sand, those lazy little waves are so linked with fun and forgetfulness, it seems positively antisocial to remind anybody that beach life has its hazards, too. The sand in the picillili, the peeling proboscis, are things you can survive. Drowning is more difficult.

Best ways to avoid drowning are the ways dictated by common sense but ignored by people ducking dictation when pleasure beckons. Don't, for instance, go it alone; it's better to have a swimming partner and practice your rugged individualism some other time. Don't dive unless you're sure the water is deep enough and doesn't conceal any sharp or blunt obstacles to your wholeness of body and mind. Don't swim if you're tired, overheated, or full of that last luscious meal. And don't try to entertain your friends or yourself by getting too far-out in the water. Better to be prudent and alive.

All right, so it isn't going to happen to you—we hope—but what about the lad, or lady, who isn't primed with reminders? If you happen to be present when there's a drowning or near-drowning incident, it can be highly useful to know about artificial respiration.

The modern approved life-saving technique in such cases is mouth-to-mouth breathing. You place the victim's face upward and clear his mouth of possible debris. Then, to keep his tongue from closing the air passage, you tilt his head back and push or pull his jaw so it juts outward. Next you pinch his nostrils shut. Then you place your mouth over his mouth and breathe hard at the rate of about 12 breaths a minute. If you prefer it, a cloth between mouths won't affect the passage of air materially.

If results don't appear, keep trying. Lives have been saved because the rescuer refused to give up. Keep at it until breath returns, or until a doctor has pronounced death, or it's evident without question.

This is a heel fly

Rid-Ezy stops 'em both

What happens when cattle must stop grazing to fight horn flies? Cows produce less milk for calves, calves slow down growing, yearling gains suffer.

What happens when beef cattle eat MoorMan's® Rid-Ezy® Medicated? Horn flies are controlled. Cattle graze more. And you save the time, trouble and expense of spraying or other control methods.

Summer-long self-feeding of Rid-Ezy on grass stops cattle grubs, too. So does a 14-day mixed-feed treatment in the feedlot. Result is faster gains, less carcass and hide damage.

Added advantage: Rid-Ezy also supplies complete, balanced minerals. Your choice of form, too—blocks or granular.

CORRESPONDENCE

Latest Items of Local News Furnished
By Our Regular Staff of Writers

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Wednesday, if at all possible. It will be necessary, therefore, for most letters to be mailed on Tuesday morning. Letters mailed on Wednesday may not reach us in time.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Our sincere sympathy to the family of Oden Fogle of Union Bridge upon his death last Wednesday. Our neighbor, Mrs. Edward (Kathryn) Coshun, is one of his daughters. It is always so hard to lose a loved one.

Have you seen the pretty new trailer on the Gilbert Stine property next to the Monocacy? It is the new home of her mother, Mrs. Byron Stull. Please excuse my "goof": I said last week there were 289 registered at the Taneytown pool for the Red Cross swimming lessons. There are 216. The number last year at Meadowview was 250 so I don't know where I picked up the other number. All roads last week and this week surely have seemed to lead to the pool. . .

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander White of Long Green visited last Thursday with the various Wilhide families (Carroll, Clyde, Richard, Myron) and the Hugh Engle family. Mrs. White is the former Miss Martha Isenbeck and was a next door neighbor (while they were all "growing up") to Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide in Long Green.

The Union Bridge Parish Lutheran Men will hold their annual family picnic at Rocky Ridge Park on Thursday, July 29. All the families of the three churches are invited to attend. The ten girls, who will be members in the newly-organizing 4-H club in the Middleburg-Fessersburg area, and five mothers attended the 4-H Fair at the Ag Center last Wednesday afternoon and had a grand time looking over the exhibits.

There was a good turnout for the Keysville Lutheran Church Sunday School picnic at Taneytown Memorial Park last Thursday evening. The Keysville and Union Bridge ball teams also played a game that same evening. It was a close one, too: 10 to 9, favor of Union Bridge.

Callers this past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville were Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser of the Keysville Road, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumgardner of Terra Rubra, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Boller of Rocky Ridge and Miss Janet Boller of Gaithers, near Sykesville.

Libby Coshun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun, was an overnight visitor with Beth Wilhide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Thursday and Friday.

Don't want to forget to tell you that Mrs. James (Marian) Coshun of Detour came home from Annie Warner Hospital last Saturday. She is rather exhausted from all the tests that were made but I know we all hope and pray that now she will be able to make all uphill progress.

A bridal shower was given by Mrs. Hugh Engle at her home on the Keysville Road last Tuesday evening for her sister, Miss Audrey Wilhide.

Have you noticed what looks like a new house in Detour? The one next to The Village Store was purchased by Mr. Blessing of Keyman from Mr. Dayhoff (now of Frederick) and is being remodeled. Outside is finished with fresh paint and the inside work is now going on. Really looks good!

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilhide, Douglas and Debbie of Indiana, Pa., had family visitors on Sunday. They were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide of Keysville, and his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Harner, Steven and Brenda of Taneytown.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. William Fleagle and family were her sister and friend, Miss Carol Wolfgang and William Burr of Washington.

Pastor William Markley called on the Luther League members to help him with the service at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday. Those who took part were Steven and David Hohman, Rodney Devilbiss, Jane Bassler, Becky Gartrell, Patsy Kantors, Beth Wilhide and Roy Bassler. They all did a fine job. Communion will be served August 1 at 10:45 A.M.

The Monocacy CYP held a family picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weant of Harney on Sunday evening.

A surprise baby shower was given Mrs. Thomas (Betty) Flohr of Sixes Bridge Road last Tuesday evening by Mrs. John Blanchfield, Sr., of the Roop Road. Guests were members of his and her families.

Timmy, Mariann and Johnny Seibert of Clear Spring were Sunday overnight guests with their sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan near Detour.

Monday overnight guests with Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchfield, Sr., of Roop Road were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Loveday of Gloversville, N.Y. The Lovedays helped the Blanchfields celebrate their 38th wedding anniversary on the 19th and then went on to Cape May, N.J.

Surely are having erratic weather for July, aren't we? First so hot—as one expects July to be—and then cool (like today). Makes for teeth-chattering among the swimming-learners in the mornings. Have you noticed how lovely the petunias are now? Most homes seem to have some and they really make a bright splash of color wherever they are.

—Dharlys Fleaharty

Boy Scouts

Union Bridge Boy Scout Troop 330 and their parents were given the information needed to get ready for Broad Creek Scout Camp at their meeting on July 19 by Scoutmaster Fleaharty. He told of various equipment and clothing it is advisable to have and some of the things it is good to know about beforehand. The balance due of $9.50 for camp in August is to be paid by August 9. Baltimore Area Councilmen Stanley Taylor and Tom Dimeler were present also and showed a film and talked about Explorer Scouting. Another meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 27, for boys of 14 and over and their fathers.

Next regular meeting will be held Monday, July 26, Board of Review will also be held.

Tuning Church Bells

The bell makers were finishing a huge bell for a magnificent church, beside them stood a piano. One struck a note of music from the instrument; the other struck the bell a blow with a hammer.

"Cl-a-n-g!" sounded the mellow metal; and the man beside the bell took up his tools and chipped a small piece from its edge.

"Still too high," he said. "Now once more, George." Again the piano was struck and again the bell was struck. "Still too high," said the workman; and he carefully chipped off another piece of metal.

"Won't you ruin that bell, chipping it so?" a clergyman stopped to ask. "Why, bless you, no, sir," said the bell maker. "You always have to chip a bell to bring it to the required tone. Every bell, after it's done, has to be tuned and the only way to tune it is to chip it in this way."

This should comfort people undergoing trial and temptation; looked at in the right light, from God's standpoint. The blows of adversity are meant but to tune us to the heavenly music, so that we may live nearer the divine Ideal. —Selected.

State Roads Commission Reports

John B. Funk, Chairman-Director of the State Roads Commission, announced the awarding of 8 contracts totaling $11,420,055.90, during the month of May, two of which were for work on Interstate 70 in Washington County.

The remaining contracts were awarded for work in Allegany, Carroll, Frederick, Howard, Montgomery, Kent, and Queen Anne's Counties, and included road, bridge and curb building in those areas.

Also of major significance was approval by the Bureau of Public Roads to extend Interstate 95 between the Baltimore and Capital Beltrays from six to eight lanes.

Original approval from the Bureau called for construction of only six lanes but further studies by the Commission and the Bureau showed that because of the rapid growth of Columbia, a 22,000 acre residential development in Howard County which is expected to grow to 125,000 people within the next 15 years and the constant expansion of College Park in Prince George's County, the six-lane freeway would not adequately facilitate the free flow of traffic in the I-95 corridor.

Grubbing, clearing and grading for the 6-lane freeway has already been accomplished on those contracts which have been let, and as soon as engineering studies for the additional two lanes are completed, work will continue on this important North-South artery.

During the month of May, the largest contract awarded by the Commission was for construction of the Cumberland Thruway in Allegany County, replacing U. S. Route 40 within the city limits of Cumberland.

The Peter Kiewit Son's Company of Omaha, Nebraska, was awarded the Thruway contract in the amount of $5,367,920 for construction of .963 miles of single and dual lane elevated freeway in the city.

The contract also calls for the grading, drainage and paving of all ramps and road connections on the Thruway. Plans call for a total of 79 elevated sections of freeway and includes 2,400 feet of concrete retaining wall in the necessary areas. Work is scheduled for completion in October, 1966.

The rest of the month's awards by districts are as follows:

District 2

* Kent County

David H. Bramble Company — $135,178.25.

Grading, drainage, and paving of Route 813 from 5 miles South of Rt. 290 to U. S. Rt. 301. Road mileage—1.266. Also included is .625 miles of embankment along U. S. Rt. 301 from 5 miles South to 2 miles North of Rt. 313.

* Queen Anne's County

Reliable Contracting Company — $460,684.00.

Grading, drainage and paving of 3.265 miles of southbound lane of U. S. Route 301 from Route 305 to one mile South of Route 405, and includes the paving of 3.358 miles of northbound lane in the same area.

Since January, the State Roads Commission has awarded three contracts for the addition of more than ten miles of new southbound third lane as part of its program for the eventual complete dualization of Rt. 301 on the Eastern Shore. Contracts for the repaving of more than five miles of northbound lanes have also been awarded.

District 6

* Washington County

Williams Construction Company — $2,843,322.90.

The first of these two contracts for work on Interstate 70 in Washington County calls for the grading, drainage and paving of 3.095 miles of road from Conococheague Creek, East to U. S. Route 11. Included in the plans is the construction of five concrete box culverts, or small bridges.

Wolfe Brothers Construction — $195,264.50.

Also, the first of several contracts for bridges spanning I-70 in the Hagerstown area was awarded to Wolfe Brothers, for the erection of three dual steel beam structures over the Penna. Railroad east of Rt. 11.

Additional contracts for bridges over Bowers Avenue, the Norfolk and Western Railroad, and the B. & O. Railroad will be advertised in the next three months.

The total number of Interstate 70 contracts now under construction is 15, representing 33 miles of main line mileage, ramps, bridges and road connections. When these contracts are completed, more than 80 percent of I-70 will be open to traffic.

The State Roads Commission expects this major corridor in the Western reaches of the State to be fully open to traffic by 1967.

District 7

* Frederick County

Haverhill Contracting Company — $1,851,777.65.

Grading, drainage and paving of U. S. Route 340 from .15 miles West of Mt. Zion Road to .9 miles West of Relocated U. S. Route 15, including a steel beam bridge. Road mileage—2.517.

* Carroll County

C. A. Kibler Company—$150,374.60.

Grading, drainage and paving of the Hampstead Relocation, (Route 88) from Route 30 to lower Beckleysville Road. Road mileage—.682.

* Howard and Montgomery Counties

The evening's activities will begin at 5:30 with the installation of officers, which will be followed by a picnic supper. All Luther League age young people of the church and their families are invited.

Elwood Harner, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. David Hess, Sr., visited with Mrs. Betty Bartgis in Dover, Del., over the week-end. Mrs. Richard E. Holley, wife of Captain Richard Holley, navigator of the C-133's stationed at Dover Air Force Base, took them on a tour of the air base, which is the largest airport freight terminal in the world. Mrs. Holley is a parent of one of Mrs. Bartgis' pupils at the Base School. They had the pleasure of riding in a Cadillac Limousine equipped with air conditioning, which made the tour most comfortable in 100 degree temperature. After having lunch with Mrs. Bartgis, they went to Ocean City, Md., for the evening, having dinner at Phillips Crab House. Sunday was spent as a day of quiet relaxation in Dover, returning to Taneytown in the evening.

Dewey Jordan, Inc. — $415,534.00.

This contract calls for the widening of the four-span steel girder bridge on Route 29 over the Patuxent River, including the superstructure and abutments, to provide southbound lanes on Route 29. Included in the contract is the construction of two roadways, two median strips, one sidewalk and one safety curb, in addition to the existing roadway with sidewalk and safety curb.

Several traffic regulation changes were effected by the Commission last month. The following are some of the more important changes.

In trying to alleviate traffic hazards for the motoring public, the Commission adopted a general policy regarding the issuance of hauling permits covering any over size loads blocking two highway lanes. The policy requires any person or organization to pay a permit fee of $1,500, plus an additional $750 per mile of travel over highways and bridges and two weeks advance notice to the State Police for the purpose of providing a road escort for the mover.

The Commission arrived at the cost of the permit and per-mile travel by using figures from previous moves, which incorporates the time and material expended by both the State Roads Commission and the State Police in such an operation.

One of the most important actions taken by the Commission during May was the reduction of tolls on three of the State's toll facilities.

The most significant reduction occurred on the Potomac River Bridge in Charles County, Southern Maryland.

Also, at the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel the two-axle bus classification (Class 7 — toll $.70) was eliminated and reclassified as a two-axle truck (Class 2—toll $.60), or in effect, a $.10 reduction. The third reduction occurred at the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, where tolls for five-axle vehicles ($5.00) were reduced to $3.50.

TIGERS ROUT METS WITH 27 RUNS, 23 HITS

Combs and Pfoutz Homer; Caple Winning Hurler

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports — by John Breth

He wasn't good enough for the Mets but he may lead the American League in runs batted in this year.

His name is FELIX MANTILLA, the utility infielder the Mets traded off to the Boston Red Sox a couple of years ago for a couple of guys long since gone from the New York scene.

Felix has been running with the leaders in the vital RBI column all year and is showing no signs of tiring. It seems a tremendous task to ask of a player like Mantilla . . . to lead the League in runs batted across . . . but he just could do it. He has impetus now and will be hard to stop.

His teammates on the Red Sox have a notion that he will. Even such fine batters in their own right as Tony Conigliaro and Carl Yastrzemski believe that Mantilla will be a contender in the RBI race all the way.

Mantilla played for Milwaukee before joining the Mets and never seemed to quite find his place in the sun. He played some at second base and some at third and even some at shortstop.

When he put on a Red Sox uniform at the start of the 1963 season he had a label as a man who didn't care whether he played or not.

A couple of listless performances in exhibition games strengthened that impression and he spent the first four months of the 1963 season riding the bench.

But injuries and the normal attrition of the season earned him a chance in August and he hit hard and often the rest of the way, finishing with a .315 average.

Last year he again started the season without a regular job but got his chance sooner this time and proceeded to hit 30 home runs. They came in 425 times at bat. Dick Stuart led the club with 83 homers . . . in 603 times at bat.

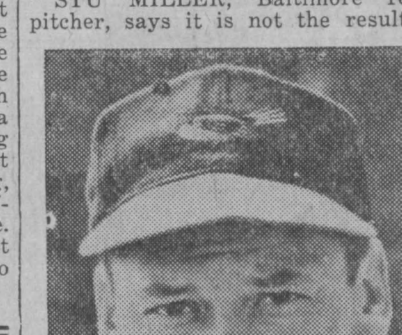

When manager Billy Herman took over at Boston this year he said: "I don't know where Felix will play but he'll be in the lineup somewhere." Herman had been a coach at Milwaukee when Felix broke into the big leagues.

Mantilla, as a hitter, is tailored for Fenway Park, where the Red Sox play 81 of their 162 games. He gets out in front of anything thrown his way and with the friendly Fenway wall in left he gets extra bases on anything he gets good wood on.

Felix has been playing second base for the most part but also filled in at left field when Carl Yastrzemski had to miss a few games because of injury.

Felix doesn't care much where he plays, so long as he's in the lineup and gets a chance to hit, the job he does best.

STU MILLER, Baltimore relief pitcher, says it is not the result of what he throws that counts so much as the means.

In other words, Miller says he has no great assortment of stuff to beat back the hitters but he does have a deceptive delivery.

He says he only throws a fast ball, curve and change-up. But the important thing is that he throws them all with the same motion and the hitter can't guess what's coming.

Miller now is 37 years old. He came up with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1952 and for these many long years has been rated one of the best "bundle of junk" pitchers in the game.

He is having a great year with Baltimore. Stu has a six and three record, which is excellent for a relief pitcher, and he has had a hand in 17 victories, which is a big hand.

His earned-run average is a dazzling 1.36. He insists—and with a straight face—that his fast ball is faster than ever.

His curve ball snaps and his fast ball sinks. His change-up is a real fooler.

The Baltimore manager, Hank Bauer, sums it all up with these words: "Miller is doing the same things that most smart pitchers are trying to do but he's just doing them better."

Remember When Dept. — Baltimore's longest losing streak of 14 games? It was in 1954 and was broken on August 26 by Bob Turley against Boston.

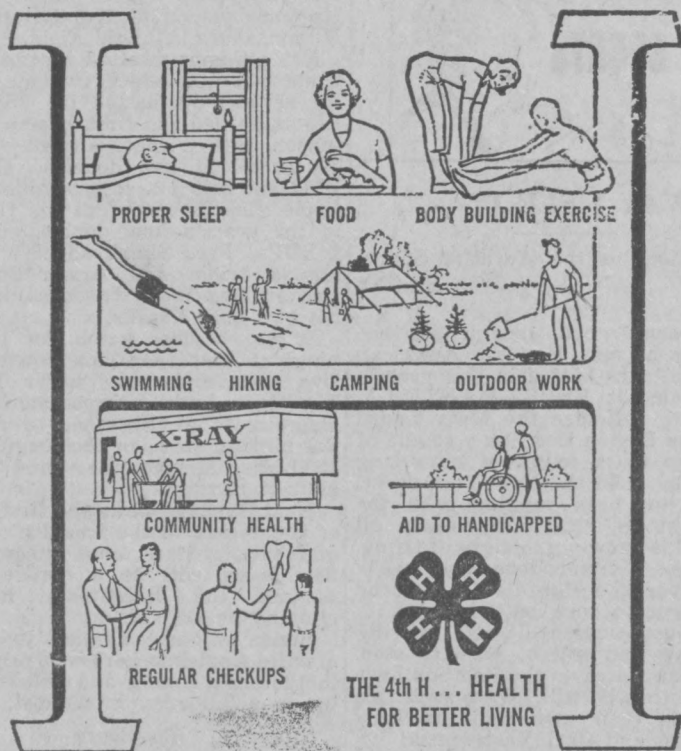

Today's Sport Laugh—The manager of the hotel where the New York Mets stay during spring training complimented manager Casey Stengel on the conduct of his players. He said: "I can't tell whether they are in training for the baseball season or the peace corps."

With Ernie Combs and Graham Wildasin supplying the big RBI push, the Taneytown Tigers swamped the Mummaburg Mets 27-3 Saturday at Mummaburg Athletic Field.

Ernie Combs swatted a grand slam home run and added two more hits for seven runs batted in. "Scooter" Pfoutz tallied his first homer of the season with a mate aboard. Jimmy Myers added two doubles. Graham Wildasin belted a long double and a triple. Lee Spencer got his first hit of the year, a long double, good for 2 RBIs. Fred Shank added a double and a triple and Arvin Bollinger thieved two more bases along with his two base knocks.

4-H Youths Keep Fit

When boys and girls club work first started in the early 1900's, the emblem was a 3-H clover symbolizing Head, Heart, Hands. Around 1911 the 4th H was added to represent Health. Ever since, both here and in about 75 other countries, this emblem has represented the equal training of "head, heart, hands and health for better living."

Health projects have grown over the years in knowledge, activities and membership, says the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H programs. And keeping fit is one important segment of the national 4-H Health program which today enrolls some 677,000 boys and girls.

It is easy to keep in good shape during summer months through sports, games, hikes, camping and outdoor work. But, cautions the 4-H Health bulletin, there is more to maintaining good health than strenuous exercise.

This recent publication points out the need for three nutritious meals a day, plenty of sleep, periodic physical checkups and a sensible balance of work and play. It also urges 4-H Club members to look for ways to improve family and community health.

Individual members and clubs can win awards for doing an outstanding job. Winners are selected by the Extension Service. Award donor and sponsor of the 4-H Health program for the last 10 years is Eli Lilly and Company.

The boy or girl judged best in the state will be a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago next fall, and will compete for one of six $500 scholarships. In the county, the best four club projects will be recognized with a certificate and medals will be presented to as many as four top individuals.

The Book to Study

Lesson for July 25, 1965

Background Scripture: Acts 17:10-12;
Romans 15:4-6; 1 Timothy 4:13-16;
11 Timothy 3:10-17.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 118:33-40.

THERE ARE egg-head religions, but Christianity is not one of them. There are, to be sure, some things in Christian theology which only egg-heads can understand. There are also some things in Christian experience which even an egg-head cannot understand.

But the main feature of Christian life is being and doing rather than merely knowing. Very seldom is known an egg-head cannot understand.

We may well be grateful that Christianity is the religion of a book. Not the only one of that kind; there is not one of the great religions of the world which does not have its own book. (By the way, if you want to compare religions, why not compare their sacred books? You will likely come back with relief and gratitude to the religion of the Bible.) The point here is that if this is true, if we Christians are taught to listen for the voice of God in our Scriptures, then there is no substitute for knowing what the Scriptures say and what they mean. The Bible is not a specialist's book, though specialists help us all to understand it. It is not a book for preachers only, though as teachers and preachers of the Bible ministers ought to have special skill in interpreting and using the Bible. This book is for every one.

Not like ordinary books

Those who best know the Bible have discovered that it is not like any other book. As J. B. Phillips, a modern translator of the Bible into everyday English, has said, working intimately with the Bible is like repairing an old house and suddenly getting a shock because the electricity is still on. There is a flash of discovery, a personal meeting between the reader and an unseen Spirit, a surge of power, a rebuke that reaches behind our stupid excuses, our pretenses and dishonesty, reaches in and wounds our pride where it hurts the most. The stories of persons who have been turned around, their whole lives revolutionized, by simply reading the Bible, are too numerous and too striking to shrug off. What the readers of the Bible through the generations have discovered, in short, is that the Bible is inspired. Paul may have said this first, but a great chorus of Bible readers agree with him. Now there is nothing magic about the Bible. Reading a few verses before going to bed, like a charm won't work. It's not the mechanical reading of the words that counts; it's humble contact with the truth within the words, that has transforming power.

Food for the man of God

The expression "man of God" is often used to describe a minister. But it should describe any Christian. If you aren't God's man, then whose are you? God's men and women are all who have the spirit of God and try sincerely to do what Jesus called the "weightier matters," justice, mercy, faith, the love of God. Such persons, whether children or grown persons, poor or obscure or gifted and influential, — all who desire to do God's will are missing a great source of spiritual health, missing the indispensable Book of "encouragement and hope" as Paul calls it elsewhere, if they do not study (not just read) God's Word. A Christian ignorant of his Bible is a shrunken, half-fed Christian, robbing himself of the spiritual vitamins his spirit needs. The study of this book prepares a man of God for "every good work." For contact with the living God, for service to living men, there is no resource that takes the place of the Book wherein God speaks to all men.

Letter To The Editor

May I beg the indulgence of your splendid paper as a medium in which to express my appreciation and pleasure for one of the most enjoyable experiences of my life? I refer to the very inspiring visit I had in Grace Reformed Church last Sunday morning, sharing with the congregation in the worship of the day.

I confess a selfish motive in arranging several weeks ago with the pastor, Brother Wiley, for the little interruption toward the close of the Service. Through his kind cooperation and the kindness of the guest minister for the day, Rev. Tipton, I was enabled to recall and to remind the congregation of an event which was so important to me.

In my announcement I recalled several events of the spring and early summer of 1915; how that Rev. D. J. Wolf, who had been the pastor of the Taneytown Charge for twelve years preceding 1915, as he was about to leave for his new pastorate at Apollo, Pa., was good enough to recommend me as his successor. Accordingly, I was invited to preach my "trial sermon," a most important step to a congregation in the selection of a new pastor, on May 16 of that year. While in Taneytown at that time, I was entertained in the home of Mrs. Ida Landis. However, on account of bad weather, I was not able to preach my trial sermon at the Keysville Church.

Two weeks later, on May 30, Rev. Dr. John C. Bowman, a professor in the Theological Seminary at Lancaster, had charge of the Services and conducted the election for pastor. The Keysville congregation, who had heard no trial sermon, were assured by Dr. Bowman to the effect that "I know Bready very well and can recommend him"; and so cast their favorable vote for me. The Keysville people like to remind me that they had to take me "on faith."

As recorded in the "Fifty Years Ago" column of The Record in last week's issue, I moved into Taneytown during the week following July 11, 1915. While we were in the process of getting "moved in," Mrs. Bready and I were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. George Newcomer in their home.

And then, on Sunday, July 18, 1915, exactly fifty years before last Sunday, July 18, 1965, I began my service as pastor of the Taneytown Charge, an association which continued without interruption until November 1, 1948, a period of thirty-three years and four months. It is no wonder, then, that on last Sunday, exactly fifty years after that auspicious beginning and with the memory of nearly thirty-four years of a most satisfactory ministry in those devoted congregations (Grace at Taneytown, and Grace at Keysville), I would want to stand in the same church before the same congregation and BOAST of that most important event of fifty years ago.

And so, for many reasons, last Sunday was a most happy day for me, and perhaps all the more so because I am sure that the congregation by its responsive attitude enjoyed it too.

Again, my thanks to Rev. Wiley and Rev. Tipton, and to you, too, Mr. Editor, if you will be kind enough to put this "little piece" in the paper for me.

Very gratefully,
Guy P. Bready.
