THE QUAINT OLD CITY OF QUEBEC

All of us-my mother and dad and The Taneytown High School P.T.A. held its first monthly meeting on Monday night, October 11th. There were teacher-parent conferences be tol of the province of the same name, but our enthusiasm was not dampened, especially after we employed the services of "Jerry." This friendly, capable guide took us on a thoroughly delightful tour of the city. His was no cut-and-dried spiel, for Jerry kept up a lively, interesting commen-tary on everything we saw as he car) through the narrow streets. We were particularly impressed by his driving as he squeezed the driving as he squeezed through Sous les Cap (meaning "under the cape") Street, said to be the most narrow thoroughfare in North America. We were told that on pleasant evenings, the women here in the Old French Quarters sit out-of-doors with their knitting, and one has to be careful not to run over their feet!

Quebec, a walled, fortified city set on a cliff overlooking the St. Law-rence River, is actually two cities-in-one—the Upper and Lower Levels. Our tour took us through both, and in addition, we visited the Plains of Abraham, saw the residence of Canada's Governor-General, and the residential district outside of the city proper. Later on, when we did some exploring of our own on foot, we were indeed grateful for Jerry's over-all coverage. From our centrally located lodging place, it was but a short walk to the imposing bulk of the Chateau Frontenace Hotel. Here we strolled along the "boardwalks," and spent a pleasant hour or two watching the ships and boats ply up and down the St. Lawrence. We then made our way back to one of the unique elevators, and descended to the Lower Level. Here in the older part of Quebec, people live in the queerest nooks and corners. But however disreputable these dwellings may appear from the outside, we were told that inside, they have been painted and improved upon. Our evening ended in one of the many excellent restaurants serving authentic French cuisine, and we were amazed by the generous size of the meal and the tiny price. For instance, three of us enjoyed a full-course dinner, from soup to dessert, and the cheek was only $3.15! The French, by the way, consider cooking a real art, and no food is more lovingly or more exactingly prepared. It was with real regret that we left this charming city, and we all voiced the opinion that when we visit it again, we will spend a much longer time. Truly, no city in America is anything like Quebec. It is leisurely, gracious and gay, and once seen, is never forgotten.

Due to its location, Francis Scott Key High School will be the closest of five stations for Taneytown and surrounding area; and also will be the station where the Jaycees will aid the medical staff provided by the Carroll County Medical Society.

The importance of obtaining immunization against tetanus cannot be munization against tetanus cannot be over-emphasized. It is not just "lock-jaw," the condition implied by its more commonly used name, tetanus is in all actuality, a disease caused by a specific bacteria, or germ. If an unimmunized person becomes infected by this germ, and does not receive treatment within 24 to 48 hours, the germ produces within the person's body a very strong type of poison. This "poison" will continue to spread in the body, and not only affect the jaw muscles, but eventually will cause uncontrollable, painful spasms and convulsions by affecting almost all muscles of the body.

The death rate in those persons infected with tetanus but never important the body.

The death rate in those persons infected with tetanus, but never immunized or treated for the infection, will, according to statistics, approach 100 per cent. This may seem hard to believe, but it is possible. Fortunately, this possibility can be completely eliminated by administration of the tetanus toxoid, which is to be given at the clinics. Hopefully then, the importance of maintaining constant protection may be realized.

stant protection may be realized.
One alarming fact though, is that many adults in and around Taneytown have not received a "booster" within the last four years; and some, possibly, have never even been immunized. The Jaycees want to emphasize that these clinics will benefit adults, as well as children, and possibly even more.

The following most frequently asked questions and answers, plus the additional information appearing in

Questions and Answers on Lockjaw (Courtesy of the Carroll County Medical Society)

Who should be immunized? Every man, woman and child, ages weeks-2 months to 100 years. 2. How good a protection do you get from tetanus immunization?

Almost 100 per cent, only one case of lockjaw was found in servicemen who had been immunized in World

3. How many shots are needed?
Three (3) injections. First two (2) one month apart; third, one year later. After that, every 4 years or with each new injury.

4. What kind of injuries are liable to cause lockjaw? Any dirty wound, but 50 per cent of the cases reported have come from minor blisters, cuts, thorns, slivers and other very minor wounds.

5. If you have not been immunized and get cut, what type of shots are Tetanus antitoxin is the only effective protective treatment. 6. Do people get reactions from the antitoxin?

Yes, about one person in ten will develop an allergy, hives, serum sickness, etc. More serious reactions requiring hospitalization are possible; however, if you have not been properly immunized with the tetanus toxoid, the antitoxin may be the only method of saving your life.

7. Do you get reactions from the regular immunization with the toxoid? Very seldom, and then only a local irritation where the injection was

8. How good is the tetanus antitoxin from the horse serum compared with the regular tetanus immuniza-

The tetanus antitoxin lasts only two to three weeks and gives partial protection. The immunization lasts fours years and possibly as long as ten years in some people and gives almost full protection.

New House "Erected" in Twenty-four Hours

An unusual thing happened in Taneytown on September 24 when a complete house was "erected" in less than 24 hours. In the afternoon of that date two large trucks arrived, each loaded with a half a house and proceeded to a point on the Harney Rd., near Taneytown, where a large foundation had been built. With jacks, trucks and men these two halves were placed together on the foundation, forming a large 24 x 40 ft. modern house. The job was completed the next morning.

This house is complete in every respect, ready to connect for electricity, sewer and water. All features such as hardwood floors, built-in modern G. E. electric kitchen, 3 bedrooms and bath. It has masonite siding and a composition roof, hot air heated, clothes closets in every room, fully screened windows.

This type home (many others from which to select) is built in Mills, Va., by Continental Homes and is sold by a local contractor, Wilbur A. Long. Mr. Long stated that the above home can be purchased for less than $9,000. The home will be open for inspection.

EASY COME, EASY GO

The welfare state comes high and the price is going ever higher.

Take these words of an Associated Press dispatch: "Millions of middlebracket taxpayers may be startled next year when they start toting up the bill for medical care for the aged and increased old age cash benefits. For the typical wage earner, the increase in Social Security taxes will wipe out 60 percent or more of the income tax cut he received in 1964-

As an example, the dispatch tells of a man with a wife and two children earning $6,600 a year, which is the top base on which social security taxes are levied and which is also about the national median income. His income tax reduction was around $140. Next year's social security tax boost will take something like $103 of that - and, under current schedules, there will be a further increase of $13 in 1967 and still another of$33

In other instances, taxpayers in the middle brackets will find that their total social security plus income tax bill is actually larger than it was before the much-ballyhooed income tax reductions went into effect.

Here is a perfect example of how the government puts money into one of our pockets — then promptly takes it out of another. If the trend to the complete welfare state continues, the take-out is going to be vastly larger than the put-in.

DOCTORS AND MEDICARE

The medical profession was strongly opposed to medicare, which is now law. That opposition was based on the firm belief that medicare endancal profession is based, may be an entering wedge to completely socialized or government-dominated medicine, and that it is not in the best interest of the elderly.

Now the news reports tell us that numbers of physicians, as is their legal right, will not participate in the program. But what this means should be clarified in the public mind.

It does not - repeat "not" - mean that physicians will refuse to treat patients who are eligible under medicare. It simply means that these physicians will not obtain their payment by filling out the government forms which medicare requires. The reason is their deep-seated conviction that this would subject them to government controls of a dangerous and possibly far-reaching nature. The patient, however, could obtain any financial benefits he had coming by applying directly to the government agency.

A spokesman for the medical group which is most actively working in favor of nonparticipation by physicians has said that its members are "not even thinking of turning down patients."

In other words, the question of whether to participate or not to participate is up to the conscience and conviction of the individual physicians, as it should be. But it cannot be too strongly stressed that the medical profession is pledged to serve anyone in need of attention, regardless of the ability to pay or any other contingency. That will always be the policy. First and foremost in the physician's heart and mind is the right to provide the ill with the finest attention possible.

NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH WEEK OCTOBER 10-16. In the current school year about 18 million children will be served nutritious noonday meals under the National School Lunch Program. It is administered by the U.S. Department of Agri-culture's Consumer and Marketing Service, which provides about a fifth of the total cost in cash and food. This program makes it possible for children to enjoy a complete lunch for an average payment of only 27 cents. A tenth of the nearly 3 billion lunches consumed last year were served free or at reduced prices to youngsters who could not afford the full price. About 71,000 public and non-profit private schools are expected to take part in the program this year.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

The big news in our neighborhood this week is, of course, the arrival of our newest neighbor: Christine Elizabeth arrived on Saturday morning about 6:30 A. M. to make the second daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide. She "weighed in" at 8 pounds and 3 ounces. Her sister Susan is visiting with the Flehartys during the hospital stay. Mother is the former "Cassie" Seibert of Clear

Have you noticed the beautiful "mums" again this year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Griffin near Mt. Union at the Union Bridge Road?

They are so lovely.
Mrs. Madelaine Stull near Thurmont was a Monday afternoon visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumgardner of Terra Rubra visited Friday evening and Sunday callers were Mrs. Mervin Conover and Norman Baumgardner of Taneytown and Mrs. Mary Devilbiss and Sylvia near Keysville.

The "right hand of fellowship" was Currans of Hampstead arrived at the Clyde Wilhide home on the Keysville Road for a short visit of several days. Some recent observations include the For Sale signs on the farm prop-erty of Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser on the Keysville Road, the facing of mr. and mrs. Carroll Wilhide on the 13th. It should have been Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser on the Keysville Road, the facing of Ranch Rock completed on the front of the new Taneytown Professional Building and "slow, but sure" turning of color in the foliage hereabouts.

Acting as literature chairman, I was among those who attended the Fall Assembly of the Lutheran Church Woung of Keysville, went down to week to Bob and Betty Hood upon the birth of a daughter, Robin Ann, on Sept. 25. Betty's mother, Mrs. John Young of Keysville, went down to Key West, Fla. (where Bob is stationed with the U.S. Navy), to visit awhile and be a "helper." Robin has a brother, Bobby.

A surprise birthday party was held at the Union Bridge Community Center on Sunday evening for Joan Thomas; given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas of Hollow Rock Farm. A number of friends and relatives helped Joan celebrate her 16th birthday. Our best wishes to her also. not just with our money though that is so important.

Greetings were brought by Synodical President, Mrs. Albert Fischer, who said we are each a link in the chain of the church and we must each carry out our responsibilities and be of service. I was also interested in Pastor Makolin's comment that St. Benjamin's was at one time a union church and still shares the cemetery with their "sister" church—just as Keysville Lutheran.

The afternoon session was four discussion groups led by Pastors Albert Makolin, Salem Parish, Roland Ries, Silver Run Parish; Lawrence Cameron, Woodbine Parish, and Wilbur Drawbaugh, Trinity, Deer Park. Pas-tor Howard Miller, Dean of the Dis-trict of Trinity. trict, of Trinity, Taneytown, also spoke to us in the afternoon; speaking of the many hats we wear for the Elmer A. Wolfe PTA Meeting The film "Meet Comrade Student," which is about education in Russia, was shown at the general meeting of the Elmer A. Wolfe PTA on Oct. 11.

Russian children attend school six days a week and are all required to learn and do some type of manual labor. Those who cannot pass the exams after eighth grade are sent to trade or industrial schools for training. Boarding schools are not becoming popular. The children attend these from Monday morning until Saturday noon and the cost is one-fifth that of raising a child at home The Russians allot 21 per cent of their budget for education. In Maryland, 30 to 33 per cent is allotted. The general theme of the film seemed to everyone doing the same things the same time with very little 'free thinking" encouraged.

President Robert DePew presided at the business meeting prior to the film showing. Motions were made and passed: to donate $150.00 to the library fund, to cover any miscellaneous expenses that might be incurred during the state of t during the week of Outdoor School to-donate $5.00 towards the hospi-Union for all those taking the unit "ABC's of Sewing" and they will have a follow-up workshop on Friday afternoon (15th) as well. A Hallowe'en party is being planned for the 29th to be held at Roxanne DePew's.

FAIRVIEW

THE EYES OF A CHILD A child has eyes that magnify those she loves the best-

Each leaf upon a forest tree, each flower that she sees, Becomes a major miracle—a dream that's doubly blessed; She wears enchantment like a cloak, there's music on each breeze! If only we, when older grow, could magnify delight And see the world through childhood's eyes our fears would melt away-And we would never pur, with dread, into dark of night, We'd wait, with breathless eagerness to greet the coming day.

—(Selected) Asked what he had learned at Sunlay School, the 10-year-old began, "Well, our teacher told us about when God sent Moses behind the enemy lines to rescue the Israelites from the Egyptians, when they came to the Red Sea Moses called for the engineers to build a platoon bridge. After they all had crossed, they looked back and saw the Egyptian tanks coming and quick as a flash Moses radioed headquarters on his waikie-taken send bombers to blow up the bridges and saved the Israelites." "Bobby," and his startled mother, "is headquarters on his walkie-talkie to that really the way your teacher told that story?" "Well, not exactly, but if I told it her way, you'd never believe it!" A woman was mailing the old family Bible to her brother in a distant city—the postal clerk examined the heavy package carefully and in-quired if it contained anything break-able, "Nothing but the Ten Commandments," was the quick reply.

EXPANSION OF THE WESTMINSTER POST OFFICE

Rep. Clarence D. Long (D., Md.) has announced that the apparent low bid for expansion of the Westminster Post Office is $360,000.

The bid was submitted by J. Vinton Schafer and Sons, Inc., of 4622 Hazelwood Avenue, Baltimore.

At a previous bid opening the Schafer firm submitted the lowest proposal but failed to list a subcontractor, as required by General Services Administration rules. Be-cause prices submitted by two other firms were too high, the project was re-opened to bidding . Rep. Long said actual award of the contract for modernization and expansion should be made within 45 days. The project is scheduled for completion by the end of 1966.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

WHO OWNS A LETTER?

Interesting letters may give birth "I'd better not throw away this letter from Fred. He might become famous some day, and then the letter could be worth a lot of money as a collector's item."

Suppose Fred really does become famous and his letter valuable. Would it belong to you, because it was sent to you? Or would it belong to Fred, because he created it?

The law's deft solution is to divide the ownership of a letter into two separate rights—the right of possession and the right of publication. The recipient has the right of possession of the paper and ink. He may keep the letter as memento, sell it to a collector, or even toss it onto a bon-fire if he pleases.

fire if he pleases.

But the right of publication—to make copies and exploit it as a literary work — still belongs to the original writer. The division of rights was illustrated in a famous lawsuit involving some personal letters written by Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Chris-tian Science. After Mrs. Eddy's death, her executor tried to prevent the auctioning of these letters.

ert Frock.

The children will be enjoying a few days vacation this week, from Thursday 'till Monday. We hope each one will have a good time, but we also hope you will not neglect your homework.

We have been having showers of We have been having showers of printing of the auction, because Mrs. Eddy had never given away the right of publication.

Of course, circumstances alter cases. For example, if you write a letter-to-the-editor, you are obviously giving the editor not only the right of publication. letters. But the court did forbid re-printing of the letters in advertise-of possession but the right of publication as well. Also, publication of a letter without the writer's consent may be justified by the necessities of law enforcement. Thus, when a woman was charged with adultery, incriminating letters she had written were held admissible in court even though she tried to keep them out.

But as a rule, the separate rights of possession and publication will be kept intact. For the law is simply leading from the law is simply lending form to the instinctive promptings of fair play.

As one court put it, in denying a man's demand for the return of love letters he had once sent to a woman: "According to befitting decorum, such letters, written to her to keep and read and cherish, are hers." -An American Bar Association public service feature by Will Bernard. —Distributed by the Maryland State Bar Association, Inc. "Government statistics show con-cern over the fact that 25 per cent of American families live beyond their

THE WAY I SEE IT

Observations on the World of Sports -by John Breth

The wondrous toe of the National Football League, LOU GROZA of the Cleveland Browns, has passed another milestone in his astonishing career. He played in his 177th National Football League game on Sunday, one more than anybody else has ever played in the NFL.

This is Groza's 15th year in the league, and, he is one season away from tying the record for most years ever played in the NFL. Sammy Baugh holds that mark. In all likeihood, Groza will stay on to match Baugh's record, because, he says he will continue to play as long as he is having fun, and the Browns want him.

The only one who may have reason to get a little anxious is Dave Lee, a kicker out of Louisiana Tech, whom the Browns are said to be grooming on their taxi squad. He is 21 now, but he may be an old man by the time Groza is ready to quit.

Groza has several lines in the Na-tional Football League record book devoted to his accomplishments. He has made more field goal attempts than any one else in the history of the league. He has kicked more field goals than anyone else. He has led the league the most times in field goal attempts. And, he still holds the record, set 12 years ago, for the highest field goal completion per-centage in a season. Back in 1953, Groza was good on 23 of 26 attempts. He also is the league's all-time high scorer, and, he holds several marks for points after touchdown. Groza is 41 years old now, but, age has not affected his accuracy. He has been good on three of four field goal attempts so far this season, and on eight tries for the extra point, he has kicked all eight.

Lou takes a lot of ribbing about his age, the bulge around his waistline and his varied business interests. But, once he bears down on the ball, the smiles vanish and are replaced by a look of awe.

DICK SISLER is out as manager of the Cincinnati Reds after one full season. He did handle the ball last year after the late Freddy Hutchinson had to quit because of his can-cer illness. In the closing stretch, Sisler did a good job of keeping the Reds in the running right up to the final day of the campaign. President Bill DeWitt of the Reds released Sisler as soon as this season was over. He said he was disappoint decided on a change of managers.

Needless to say, Sisler expressed his disappointment at being fired.

He said he thought he had done a good job. Many others close to the Cincinnati scene agreed with Sisler. But it always is convenient to fire a manager and look for someone else. Regardless of who takes over, Reds have a fine ball club and one that should be a contender. Players like Frank Robinson, Vada

Pinson and Deron Johnson don't come along often and when you have pitch-ers like Jim Maloney and Sammy Ellis to form the nucleus of a mound staff, the team should be solid.

One of his keenest disappointments of the estate of David V. Eck was the showing this year of Jim filed a First and Final Adm. Account O'Toole.

Last season, O'Toole won 17 games while losing seven. This year, he dropped to only three victories while losing nine. Of course, on the other side of the ledger was the fact that Ellis won 22 games—a 12-game im-provement over 1964. Joe Nuxhall provement over 1964. Joe Nuxnan also displayed improvement, winning 11 and losing only four this year. Last season, he had nine victories and eight losses. Maloney had a good with 20 victories.

Another key to the showing of the Reds was Robinson. He seemed to have many problems at the plate and it wasn't until the stretch drive that his bat started to speak with authority. But Pinson and Johnson certainly picked up the

Craftsman Lesson for October 17, 1965

Background Scripture: Exodus 31:1-5; 35:30 through 36:7; 37 through 38.. Devotional Reading: I Timothy 4:6-16.

If you were about to meet a man you did not know, (all you knew about him being that his name was Bezalel) and your introducer told you, "This man has been called by God," what sort of

You'd be surprised. This man is evidently no Priest nor preacher. He is an artist. From cover to cover, he is about the only artist mentioned in the

Dr. Foreman Bible. He belongs to a class of people you don't expect to find in church. This particular artist had perhaps had training in Egypt where at that time (as we know from King Tutankhamen's tomb and otherwise) there flourished skilled jewelers, engravers, weavers, embroiderers, carvers of wood and of metal, whose skill has never been surpassed. At any rate this Bezalel (pronounced BEZzalell) was an artist in all these ways. He was the creative artist and craftsman in charge of the construction of the Tabernacle, a small but exquisitely beautiful shrine, center of the worship of Israel, the Tent of God Himself, as they believed.

Beauty and religion

It was only later that the Hebrew people got it into their heads at last that God is everywhere. But it was important with them to know that God is somewhere - and for a child, or a child-people, that means you can point to him. So if you could have flown back there three thousand years or so, on a time-ma-chine, and if you had asked al-most anyone, Where is your God? they would all have pointed to this beautiful tent-shrine and said: There is where God lives! Right in among us, at the center of where we live. But since God is Who He is, He does not live in an ordinary tent like the tents of men. His dwelling must be in-comparably beautiful and costly.

Qualifications of artists

This Bezalel was no picked-up journeyman jack-of-all trades. When God called him he was already a master craftsman. Look at the list of his qualifications: "ability, intelligence, knowledge, He is not a man of one craft alone. Every one of his qualifications was needed for his various masterpieces. To this day no man can be a true artist without ability first of all. No amount of inspiration and ambition can make up for clumsiness. Intelligence too; how much modern art expresses intelligence rather than confusion? Knowledge also; it may be true that the great artist "swallows all formulas" but whether it be music or poetry or architecture or drama, there is a hard apprenticeship for every true artist. Much art today is not true art because it is clear that this "artist" has never really studied the principles of his craft.

Inspired to teach

Of course this Bezalel did not build and adorn the Tent of God alone. Oholiab and others helped him, un-named men who were the great artists pupils. We read that Bezalel was inspired to teach. The three great things an artist can do, this Bezalel did: Create (dream and design), produce, and teach. In the marvelously beautiful collection of glass flowers at Harvard, the visitor is saddened by being told that the artist who made these lovely things did not pass on his knowledge and skills to others. No more such miracles in glass were made after his death. Perhaps he did not teach because teaching is even more difficult than doing it yourself. Creating beauty is hard to teach, partly because one man seldom shares another's inspiration, partly because, unlike science, art has few rules. Blessed be the artists who like Bezalel can teach others what it is not only to feel but to create what is beautiful!

How to wolf-proof your home

One of the best ways to keep that wolf away from your door is by saving. And one of the best ways to save is with United States Savings Bonds.

The wolf-proofing you build with Savings Bonds is safe, steady and sturdy. You get a guaranteed return on your investment. And the longer you hold onto your Bonds, the more they're worth.

If emergencies arise in the form of medical expenses or unexpected bills, you've got protection. Because your Bonds convert easily to cash when you need it. And you've got lots of company. Millions of Americans have found Bonds a mighty good way to save.

Even if you don't expect the wolf ever to visit your door, you're building a good, solid financial future for your family. After all, there's a lot to be said for owning a wolf-proof door of your own.

And building a home around it.

ZONING ORDINANCE EXPLAINED

(This is the fourth in a series of weekly discussions on the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance adopted for Carroll County. Future discussions will be included in this newspaper on each of the vital phases of the zoning

In considering further sections under "special provisions" of the new comprehensive zoning ordinance, regulations pertaining to Extractive Industries, Cluster Subdivisions, Planned Business Centers (Shopping Centers), Industrial Parks and the Planned Unit Development are discussed in this portion of the series.

Any excavations and processing of Any excavations and processing of the products therefrom (except buildthe products therefrom (except building, highways, or stripping of sod) require the approval of the Board of Appeals. Most cases of this nature will involve stone quarries. The Board in approving such uses must be assured that any extraction will be 50 feet from road right-of-ways or adjoining property lines. Buildings housing power equipment (such as housing property lines. Buildings housing power equipment (such as crushers) must be at least 400 feet from adjoining lot lines. Likewise, a housing the property lines. bond is required to assure after the completion of the use that it is made safe by fencing, regrading or drainage or other suitable treatment.

The "Cluster Subdivision" provis-ion authorized the development of homes on smaller lot sizes if the land gained from such reduced size is set aside for recreational use or open space for the joint use of the residents of such subdivision. Quite nat-urally the Health Department ap-proval must be give relative to water and sewerage requirements.

Planned Business Centers (actually Planned Business Centers (actually Shopping Centers) must conform to regulations set forth in the special provisions. Approval by the Planning Commission is required of the development plan which includes access from roads, building locations, storm drainage, water and sewerage facilities. Neighborhood-type Shopping Centers require a minimum of two acres and community-types centers a minimum of 10 acres. Many business uses are prohibited in such centers such as amusement parks, auto ters such as amusement parks, auto ters such as amusement parks, auto repair shops, theatres, motels, truck terminals and wholesale business, warehousing, or terminals.

Industrial parks will, in all probabilty, become a reality in Carroll County sometime in the future. If so, the special provisions for Industrial Parks will apply. Again both the development plan and the site plan must be approved by the Planning Commission before the issuance of a building permit. Included in these plans are road access, internal of a building permit. Included in these plans are road access, internal roads, grading, draining, landscaping, parking, utilities, orientation of build-ings, storage, signing, as well as sev-eral other features. Many industrial uses are prohibited in an industrial park although most uses allowed in the Restricted and General Industrial Districts are permitted.

the Restricted and General Industrial Districts are permitted.

One of the newest concepts of zoning in this area is the Planned Unit Development. Special provisions allow a developer of 20 acres or more in an R-10,000 Residence District and 10 acres or more in an R-7500 Residence District to vary the type of housing used. Dwelling units may be singlefamily, two-family, or multi-family type such as apartments and town houses. The gross density of such houses. The gross density of such type development shall not exceed 6 units per acre and common open space shall not be less than 25 per cent of the land area. A development plan must be submitted to the Planning Commission for approval and be teria set forth in special provision section 14.8. An acceptable community water and sewerage plan is also a prerequisite for considering this type housing development.

The next in the series to be presented will review the provisions for administration of the zoning ordi-

PHYSICIANS HERE URGING PATIENTS TO GET PROTECTION AGAINST TETANUS

Westminster, Md.—All physicians in Carroll County are urging their patients to protect themselves against the carroll county and the carroll county and the carroll county and the carroll car patients to protect themselves against lockjaw by taking advantage of the current drive here against tetanus.

The physicians are backing the drive being sponsored by the Carroll County Medical Society to vaccinate every person in the county on October 17, 1965—designated as T-Day by the medical group. by the medical group.

"Tetanus," says Dr. Karl Green, Director of the Carroll County Medi-Director of the Carroll County Medical Society mass anti-tetanus immunization program, "can strike anyone at any age. The organism that causes tetanus is very common in Carroll County as well as in other places. All it takes to start an infection is a small break in the skin—a prick with a needle, a small scratch—and often the wound that opens the way for tetanus is passed off as 'too small to bother about.' Unfortunately, it often is — if it weren't for the danger of tetanus."

Vaccination with tetanus toxoid is Vaccination with tetanus toxoid is the only sure way to avoid infection, say the local physicians, and the only way to make the use of antitoxin unmay to make the use of antitoxin unnecessary. Antitoxin, used to overcome tetanus poisoning once an infection is suspected, often causes severe reactions, the doctors report. "What's more," says Dr. Green, "by the time a person realizes that he has lockjaw and needs medical attention, it is often too late for antitoxin to do any good."

toxin to do any good.

Vaccination stations have been set up and a well-organized staff of doctors and laymen will offer tetanus toxoid vaccine to everyone who requests it during the T-Day campaign, October 17, 1965.

A series of three injections of tetanus toxoid gives complete protection to nearly every person who is vaccinated.

In order to provide the three injections needed to give complete protection, the Carroll County Medical Society and the Carroll County Jaycee volunteer helpers will repeat the T-Day campaign in succeeding months. Dates and places will be announced as soon as they have been

"Tips by Tootie"

To be a wise shopper, read the labels when purchasing clothing or fabrics. The following things may be fabrics. The following things may be of some help to you:

An information label should give: the fiber content, the blend, any special finishes, facts on color fastness and shrinkage control, care instructions, name and address of manufactures.

Adequate labeling will not come until you, the consumer, demand it. Save labels as you remove them and mark on them what they belong to. Put them near your laundry area and refer to them for proper care. Report unsatisfactory service to retailer or manufacturer. retailer or manufacturer.

Oxygen bleaches are safer for most fabrics than are the chlorine bleaches.

If a garment is labeled a high percent of Dacron and a lower percent cotton, you should handle the fabric at the lower temperature required for

One of the newer wrinkle resistant finishes is Permanent Press. If correctly processed, a garment should never need pressing. How nice!

You can't be sure a fabric won't shrink unless you see Sanforized on the label. Pre-shrunk is not the same because they can shrink 3-5 percent which is too much for proper fit.

If you are thinking about purchasing a glass fiber known as Fiberglas for draperies, remember the floor, ceiling and sill must be cleared so there will be no rubbing involved. Rubbing seems to damage the glass fibers. If a lining is used, for example an insulated lining, it is recommended a separate rod be used for

Avoid rubbing wool when wet to prevent shrinkage.

Understanding what fabric terms mean can be very valuable to you. Here are a few: Sunfast—Best resistance to sun fading. Sun-Resistant—May fade slightly if continually exposed to sunlight. Man-made fibers -nylon, polyester, acrylic and mod-acrylic fabrics have little or no

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

We, the participants of the labor stoppage at the Kasper Mfg. Co. in Taneytown, Md., must protest the unfair accusations placed upon the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, in regard to the closing of this plant

In April, 1965, the National Labor Relations Board, as the result of a hearing in Westminster, Md., against Mr. Frenkil and Kasper Mfg. Co. for unfair labor practices, placed a notice in the Kasper Mfg. plant stating that the company's owner must negotiate a contract with the union since the majority of the workers, by signed cards, had signified their intention to belong to the Union, to which they had been members in this same factory before Mr. Frenkil purchased it. The workers, after repeated ineffectual demands for group insurance In April, 1965, the National Labor fectual demands for group insurance and shop benefits, decided to participate in a labor stoppage. Mr. Frenkil has said, "he hoped to build the Taneytown Plant up," but since the highest number of employees at the plant was approximately 42 people. plant was approximately 42 people, highest effeciency could not be maintained. And one must wonder why the many women who came there to work
