FACTS AND OPINIONS

Raymond Moley writes in Newsweek: "... freedom of the seas' presupposes control of the seas by a dominant naval power. This imposes upon the United States, which has that dominance, the responsibility to make sure that the seas are used to frustrate the Communist threat to end all freedoms in Southeast Asia and the western Pacific. It means that the U.S. Navy be used to cut off all sea traffic in war material into North Vietnam. There are ample precedents for the use of a 'pacific blockade', which has historically been used when the nations concerned are not formally in a state of war... the Ho Chi Minh trail is long and winding. But it begins at sea."

The head of the New York Central System credits the millions of dollars a year being spent by the railroad industry in technical, marketing and cybernetic research with producing such dramatic changes "that the railroads will regain their dominant role in supplying transportation to our burgeoning economy." He added that the railroads are doing more research than ever before and more privately-financed research than any other form of transportation today. And some individual railroads, he said, are spending more for research than all other forms of transportation put together.

From the Mooresville, North Carolina, Tribune: "The truth is, electric co-ops are subsidized by the taxpayer, whereas private power companies are, generally, among the largest taxpayers in their service areas. This, basically, is why private power is preferred—because it contributes to tax coffers, rather than depletes them."

As of a recent date, consumption of natural gas in the United States had risen 281 percent since 1946. Gas accounted for 30 per cent of the nation's total energy consumed in 1964, not including the liquids extracted from it.

Samuel Lubell, the well-known opinion analyst and columnist, writes: "We have become so intent upon organizing our society in terms of masses of people, statistics and punch cards, and with so much emphasis on spending by the billions. But can you build a really Great Society if it is so impersonal and it has lost the focus on the individual human being?"

During 1965, drug firms spent $351 million on new drug research and development, a 10 per cent increase over the preceding year. The average cost of bringing a new drug to market was $5 million.

The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission observes that one of the most maddening practices on today's crowded highways is "tailgating" or following too closely. This bad driving habit is far and away the leading cause of accidents in present-day driving. The Commission warns against sudden stops designed to scare the tailgater away. Instead, it says, the defensive driver should gradually cut his speed back and pull as far to the right of the road as possible and thus encourage the tailgater to pass. In its words, "If you permit a tailgater to get your goat, you may lose more than your temper in the resulting crash."

The American Petroleum Institute has announced full cooperation with government in developing appropriate regulations for continued oil and gas operations in the nation's wilderness areas. In a new statement of policy, the Institute endorses the provisions of the Wilderness Act that requires affirmative action by Congress for withdrawal of large areas of land from public use and authorize the orderly exploration and production of petroleum on them.

DID YOU KNOW?
Ancient Greek women who'd gotten too near their home fires and burned themselves used cucumber rinds to soothe the skin. The expression "cool as a cucumber" comes from the therapeutic use of this vegetable.
Women in the 16th century treated their cuts with balsam, an aromatic plant resin. This crude antiseptic was kept in jars near cooking areas in case of kitchen accidents.
Kitchen cuts or 1 burns still plague today's homemaker. The modern antiseptic solution, S.T. 37, made by the Quilon Company, is an excellent treatment for these common kitchen accidents.

Oh, sad were the woes of Salesman Blue,
On a trip, with a cold, he was getting the flu,
And although he was freezin',
He got home in good season,
His tire chains pulled him right through.
PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES
The Safe Winter Driving League presents this tip for safer winter driving from the National Safety Council: "For severe snow and ice conditions, tests show that reinforced tire chains provide four to five times as much traction as regular tires without chains." Assure your ability to get through regardless of the weather—always carry chains and be prepared for winter's worst storms.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Six cases of small pox have been found in Hagerstown, four of the patients being nearly well of the disease. It is said to have been introduced by a man from Roanoke, Va.

Considerable ploughing was done in portions of this county, during January, a very unusual occurrence for mid-winter, for which the farmers were glad to take advantage of as a big help toward Spring work.

The deepest snow of the year fell on "Ground Hog Day" after a period of Spring-like weather.

Automobiles are making their appearance in sales of farm personal property, this year, and hereafter will be as commonly sold at public sale as other items of personal property.

J. Albert Angell is already preparing to build a two-story addition to his Middle St. home, to which he expects to move some time in March. He will also extend the front porch around one side of the house, which will greatly improve its appearance.

Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Hafer had the unusual experience of attending three funerals on Monday and Tuesday of this week—an uncle of Mrs. Hafer, a neighbor of Rev. Hafer and an uncle of Rev. Hafer.

William Erb, Sr., met with an accident which might have proved fatal, on last Friday night, while going to the store. The night being dark and he was walking in the middle of the road, when James Unger was driving in the opposite direction, and not seeing each other, drove over him. The surrey pole struck him in the side, knocking him to the ground, cutting his right limb and lip and otherwise bruising him. No bones were broken.

Public Sale Register: Edgar M. Staub, near Harney; Geary Angell, near Bethel Church; Joseph Croft, South of Union Mills, Phillip Stuller, near Keysville; Geo. N. Wilhide, nr. Keysville; Dr. Luther Kemp, near Mayberry; Wm. M. Anders, near Taneytown; J. Albert Angell, near Walnut Grove School House; Wm. H. Flickinger, nr. Oregon School House; Joseph Althoff, along State Road; John T. Koontz, near Sell's Mill; Samuel Renner, near Taneytown; John T. Dutterer, along State Road; Harry G. Sell, near Taneytown; Edward Hesson, Frizellburg.

Harney — We were compelled to ask what would next be expected of the people. The P. O. Department has certainly given us a fine money order system. A money order is issued and paid for here, then every day all the cash must be sent to the Taneytown Postoffice. If we received a money order we are compelled to take it to Taneytown to get it cashed, or hand it over to the station officials, and they send it in and we wait until the next day for it to be paid, or until the money can be sent out from town. Of course we are supposed to endorse the order before it is sent in, then it is gone, and we simply trust to the honesty of the officials and wait for our cash to come. The old system was good enough, and we think should not be tampered with. . . . John Snyder, our bread man, is building a large pigeon house. As soon as he has it completed, he has 200 thoroughbred homers, that he expects to put in the house.

Thought for today — The calibre of a man is to be found in his ability to meet disappointment and be enriched rather than embittered by it.

"Doctor Pellett is certainly the most absent-minded man I ever saw."

"What's his latest?" "He was married yesterday and during the ceremony, when the time came to place the ring on the bride's finger, he actually felt her pulse and asked her to put out her tongue."

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you: How ABOUT all this snow? At this writing (on Wednesday evening) we on the Keysville Road are just being plowed out by a bulldozer. For folks like us without farm animals to care for, it has not been so much of a hardship as for the dairy farmers who have not been able to have a milk truck get to them. Hope all of you heeded the warnings last Friday and did some shopping in preparation for the storm. Of course it goes without saying that the children are really "living it up" with all this time off.

This type of situation also brings out what a fine job radio station WTRR in Westminster does in keeping us posted on what is going on in the county to say nothing of how important the county road men are. Another thing for which we can be thankful is that there was not a loss of power. What a big difference THAT makes!!

Since everyone has been snowed in since last Saturday there is not too much news-wise to report but here are the items I have:

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumgardner of Terra Rubra near Keysville were Friday evening visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville.

Boy Scout Week is next week, Feb. 7 through 13, and Troop 330 of Union Bridge is working on an exhibit which will be on display at the former store of Otis Devibiss on Main St. They plan to have it open to the public on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening (weather permitting, of course).

Keysville Lutheran Church Women meeting is scheduled for Feb. 7 with Mrs. Dennis Myers and Mrs. Loren Austin as leaders, Mrs. Robert Stine and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide for specials, and Mrs. Mark Baumgardner, Mrs. Gilbert Stine and Mrs. Luther Keeney as hostesses.

Flower Committee for February will be Mrs. Luther Keeney, chairman; Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide, Mrs. Glenn Kiser, Mrs. Upton Austin, Mrs. Carol Austin and Mrs. Mary Devibiss.

The Eager Beaver Girls' 4-H Club will hold their next meeting at the home of Jeanie Myers near Mt. Union on Feb. 11.

Happy Birthday wishes next week to Mrs. Sterling Fritz and Fern Baines on the 8th, Mrs. Vivian Dougherty on the 9th and Myron Wilhide on the 11th.

Two good books I have read recently that might appeal to some of you are "Give Joy to My Youth" by Teresa Gallagher. This one is about Dr. Thomas Dooley whose books many have read and enjoyed. The other one — in a completely different vein — "The Complete Book of Absolutely Perfect Housekeeping" by Elinor Goulding Smith is hilarious and will be enjoyed by any of you who feel about keeping house as I do (I do it because it has to be done — and get bored with the repetition of it). Another one I just finished "wading" through is one that more of us should know about and try to do something about: "The Other America" by Michael Harrington. It truly is shocking to learn the situation that actually exists in the United States today!

Surely hope our snow situation is improved by writing-time next week. — Dharlys Fleharty

CHARGES JOBLESS PAY BILL IS NEW FEDERAL POWER GRAB

If the federal government gets its way a lot of people may soon find it more attractive to be unemployed than to have a job.

That is one possible effect of legislation now before Congress that would send unemployment - compensation benefits soaring to their highest point ever. According to a February Reader's Digest article, "New Grab for Federal Power," the bill, H.R. 8282, would wipe out the prudent standards that most states have established and substitute a gigantic federal giveaway program. Authors Earl and Anne Selby say that if the bill passes it will: be an open invitation to flagrant cheating; open the floodgates for untold thousands of claims now outlawed; cost billions of dollars more than present compensation programs.

Briefly, the bill provides for increases in the amount and duration of unemployment benefits, while reducing eligibility requirements in many cases. For example, under present state law Alaska's top weekly benefit check is $45. The federal bill would boost that figure to nearly $125 weekly by 1971, according to estimates made by the non-partisan American Enterprise Institute. Similarly New York's weekly maximum, now $55, would soar to $102; Florida's would go from $33 to $81; Nevada's from $41 to $105.

Most states now set a maximum of 26 weeks for duration of unemployment benefits. The new federal law would make 26 weeks the minimum. Moreover, the bill contains enough gimmicks to enable claimants to collect up to 78 weeks of benefits by working just a few additional days. The new law would add another questionable footnote to history by providing for the first time that benefits be partly financed from general tax revenues rather than from employer taxes exclusively. It all adds up to "one more giant step toward domination of the states by a monolithic government in Washington," charges the article. But a strong public outcry now could convince Congress to modify the bill to more reasonable proportions. If ever there was a time to write your Congressman, this is it.

Little Mary was on a visit to her grandparents, and the old fashioned clock on the wall a source of wonderment to her.

While she was standing before it her grandmother said to her from the next room, "Is the clock running, dear?"

"No, ma'am," promptly replied Mary, "It's just standing still and wagging its tail."

How do you owe a stack of Savings Bonds when you're older?

Start young.

Start small, if you want to, but start steady. The important thing is to have a regular program of setting something aside every payday.

What's most important: it's never too early to begin.

You say that takes more will power than you can muster up on a regular basis? Then use the easy, automatic way: join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

This way your employer saves your money for you—puts it toward the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond.

Pretty soon you won't even miss the money. In fact, you'll probably forget how fast your savings are growing.

Here's a for-instance: just $4.33 a week adds up to the $18.75 you need to buy a $25 Bond every month. That's $300, maturity value, a year. Not bad for a former spend-thrift! What's more, those few dollars you're tucking away to grow will be working all the time to help keep our country strong and free.

So start now, start young, building up the savings that count so much later on. Join the Payroll Savings Plan before next payday.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

LEO DUROCHER, the new manager of the Chicago Cubs, is supposed to be a genius at making a winner of a chronic loser by the simple process of convincing the guy that he is better than he thinks. Leo may be called on to demonstrate that talent this Spring when he comes face to face with one of his rookie pitchers, a young right-hander named Bill Hands.

The Cubs got Hands from the San Francisco Giants in a trade which also saw a young catcher, Randy Hundley, move to Chicago. The Cubs gave up relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel and outfielder Don Dandrum.

A San Francisco scout once said about Hands: "Bill was born to lose. Admittedly, he has great stuff much of the time. But he'll find a way to blow a game."

Until last year Hands had a minor league record of 41 wins and 49 defeats. Last Spring the Giants optioned him to their Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Bill stepped out and won his first eight games and the Giants, very much in the National League pennant fight, recalled him.

The supposition was that Hands had finally learned his trade. That supposition was knocked out of the box in a hurry.

Hands started two games for the Giants and was chased early in the going each time. He went back to Tacoma before he could even cash his first Major League salary check.

Hands did not go into a nose dive at Tacoma, however. He finished the season with a record of 17 and 6 shutouts and an earned run average of 2.19.

Now, it's up to Durocher. Hundley, also a rookie, batted .240 for Tacoma last year but looked good back of the plate. Durocher plans to give him a real shot at the regular catching job for the Cubs.

There are four more Rookie pitchers in the Cub freshman crop who have a chance to make it. Not all four, however. That's asking too much. Their names are Sterling Slaughter, Chuck Hartenstein, Paul Jaeskel and Dave Dowling. Slaughter, Hartenstein and Jaeskel are right-handers. Dowling is a southpaw.

The Cubs are taking their third look at first baseman John Bocabella, a husky first baseman who hit .232 with 20 home runs and 94 runs batted in last year for Dallas-Fort Worth. Ron Campbell, a second baseman who hit .258 for Salt Lake, will bid for an infield job.

When a pitcher reaches the age of 35 he usually starts looking around for a new pitch. If he's lucky he finds one that may keep him around for three or four more years.

BOB FRIEND may have found one . . . the time-honored slider . . . in the second half of the 1965 season. Bob wore the uniform of the Pittsburgh Pirates then as he did for the last 15 years.

This season he will work for the New York Yankees, who obtained Bob in a trade with the Pirates over the Winter. About that slider, Bob says that until last season he always relied on the three basics for a pitcher, the fast ball, the curve and the change-up.

But he reached a decision last Spring that he needed another pitch. At a time like that it always boils down to either a knuckle ball or a slider. Friend went for the slider and toward the end of the season it was sliding the way he wanted.

One thing about Friend that must have influenced the Yanks is his durability. He pitched 221 innings last year and 1965 was the 10th season in a row that he topped the 200 mark in innings pitched.

His record for 15 years with Pittsburgh was 191 victories and 218 losses. However, ten of those 15 years saw Pittsburgh finish in the second division which didn't help Friend at all.

In 1955 when the Pirates finished last, Friend was the earned-run champion of the National League with a mark of 2.84. He was the first pitcher ever to lead in earned-runs with a cellar club. He won 14 and lost eight that year.

Friend's record last year was 8 and 12 which is hardly a first-class showing. But the Yankee uniform may work wonders with Bob as it has with so many other players in the past.

Today's Sport Laugh — Defensive player Pat Fischer of the St. Louis Cardinals is listed as one of the shortest players in the National Football League at five feet, nine inches. He was asked if it is a disadvantage to be that short.

Replied Fischer: "I've never been taller so it is hard to answer that question."

—John Breth

YOUTH BASKETBALL

The Tigers handed the Globetrotters their first defeat of the season by a score of 9 to 8 in a closely contested ball game. Jerry Waddell, who led the Tigers with 5 points, scored the winning points with a driving lay-up in the closing minute of the game. The Globetrotters lost the services of their top gun, Paul Sell who fouled out early in the game, but Paul Reindollar took up the slack giving a good performance as playmaker and also contributing 6 points to a losing cause.

George Greenya led the Bullets back on the winning track as they scored a 13 to 10 victory over the winning game as he controlled both backboards, blocked shots, and scored 8 points. Steve Zentz was top scorer for the 76ers with 4 points.

Muddy or streaked windshields sharply reduce seeing ability. In a check of vision obstructions on vehicles involved in traffic accidents, 50 per cent of all such accidents involved visibility obstructions such as rain, snow, road splashes, etc. on the windshield. The same deadly combination accounted for 39 percent of the deaths in such accidents.

Ineffective windshield wipers multiply the many hazards that the driver encounters in bad weather. Various surveys show that a majority of cars a year or more old have ineffective wiping equipment that nearly smears or streaks the windshield, or often fails to wipe at all due to windlift. This adds to reduced visibility problems. While new model cars are well equipped with strong windshield wipers which quickly remove blinding obscurements, the problem for most drivers is how to tell if their old wipers can cope with the problem before they encounter an emergency.

All authorities agree that you must see danger in time to avoid it. Can you see clearly to maneuver or stop in time. Please check your wipers.

God, Living Spirit
Lesson for February 6, 1966

Background Scripture: John 16:7-15; Acts 2:1-4; Romans 8:9-27; John 4:13-21.
Devotional Reading: 1 John 4:13-21.

PEOPLE WILL tell you that they are confused by the Holy Spirit. This is strange, for in the Bible the Spirit is always thought of in connection with light, help, leadership, comfort. How can such a spirit confuse us? The truth is, it is not the Holy Spirit that causes the confusion, but people's ideas about the Spirit. Let us understand to begin with that in virtually all cases, the expressions Spirit, Holy Spirit, Spirit of God and Spirit of Christ all mean the same thing. Let us understand also that the Spirit of God is not like a sort of religious gas of mysterious properties. Also it is not a name of some kind of holy influence, a sort of aura that God gives off, or the kind of influence that all good people have, though they may not realize it.

God within
What then is the Holy Spirit? One of the best and simplest definitions is this: The Holy Spirit is God at work in the hearts of men. The Bible seldom if ever says what the Spirit is, but it says a good deal in the New Testament about what the Spirit does. We could almost say that the Holy Spirit is that which makes men good, loving, and so on; but the true Spirit is never a "that which" but a "one who . . ." The Spirit is as much God as our Lord Jesus is and he is never a "what", but a "Person". The Church says, "I believe in the Holy Spirit," but in saying this (following the Bible) the church is not proclaiming a second God, much less a third one. We believe there is only one God. We believe that the Creator-God is the God, and is also (and no less) the God who rules in history and in the hearts of men. Wherever God works in the minds and hearts of men, there is the evidence that the Spirit has been at work. If a person who is confused about the Holy Spirit will please remember that he is by no means like a ghost, but is God himself visiting us and inspiring every good thought, will and work we have or do, we can't go far wrong. Every time we are confused about this, we can get rid of much confusion by saying, instead of Holy Spirit, just God.

Spirit of Christ
When the church therefore says, I (we) believe in the Holy Spirit, we are meaning much the same as if we said, I believe that God can and does communicate with men, living in their hearts and active in their lives. The church from earliest times has called the Spirit the Spirit of Christ. That is to say, whatever we think about the Spirit must be in harmony with what we know of the mind and intentions of our Master. God in the heart and Christ in the heart and the Holy Spirit in the heart, — these are all the same.

How God works
When we say God's Spirit "works" or "acts" or "lives" in a human heart, what exactly do we mean? Can't we speak more definitely about this? Yes, we can if we follow what the Bible suggests and says. Consider only a few of the services God-in-the-heart renders to believers. The Spirit makes men realize their sins. When a person reaches the point of beginning to see himself as God sees him, that is a work of the Spirit, an effect of the God who lives within the man. What we can be sure of is that while today not everyone who is filled with the Spirit can speak in "tongues," the Spirit does in our time do for God's people what he did then — stir them with courage and faith.

Crab Casserole For Entertaining

Between a layer of creamy macaroni and thinly sliced tomatoes are sweet tender morsels of canned Alaska King crab, the distinctive ingredient that makes this a company casserole. In addition, three varieties of cheese contribute their good flavor. Company Crab Casserole may be prepared in advance and refrigerated until time to bake and serve. Since canned Alaska King crab is completely tenderness it is ready to use as it comes from the can. Simply slice it into bite-size pieces to spread over the macaroni-cheese layer.

To serve, mark the casserole into squares with a sharp knife and transfer with a broad spatula to dinner plates. Add a light, bright fruit salad and crunchy hard rolls to complete this perfectly scrumptious fare.

Company Crab Casserole

1 (7 1/2 oz.) can Alaska King crab	1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon lemon juice	1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups (6 oz.) shell macaroni	1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese	1/2 cup sliced green onion
1/2 cup dairy sour cream	2 medium tomatoes, sliced thin
1/2 cup cottage cheese	1 cup grated Cheddar cheese

Drain crab and slice into bite-size pieces. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Have cream cheese at room temperature. Add to hot macaroni and toss gently to coat. Add sour cream, cottage cheese and seasonings. Spread in shallow buttered 2-quart baking dish. Sprinkle onion over macaroni. Spread with layer of crab, then a layer of sliced tomatoes. Sprinkle tomatoes with additional salt and pepper. Top with grated Cheddar cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Husband Replacer?

Men who have learned to obey the wifely command: "Hook up my dress" are now being relieved of that obligation. What may be the greatest of all inventions (for husbands!) is the new E-Z Bonnie Clasp, that enables women to fasten their own garments in back.

Made from 100 per cent nylon, the clasp is (a) large enough to get hold of, and (b) works on a simple principle: OPEN and then CLICK. A sliding closure keeps it firmly secured. The new clasp comes in white and black, and in three sizes and can be found in major variety chains, department stores and fabric shops. Closures can be dyed to match the garment being worn.

IT'S A FACT!

Basketball may be unique in sports. It is one of the few games where no controversy exists about its origins. Dr. James Naismith of Springfield, Mass., invented the game in 1891. Then, there were 9 men on each team — instead of the 5 per side today.

Basketball is now the nation's number one spectator sport — and small wonder! It's a fast-paced, high-scoring, exciting game. Wilt Chamberlain holds the individual scoring record — 100 points scored in one game. The Boston Celtics claim the team record — 173 points in one contest.

The enthusiasts have for basketball a sure to keep it a top sport. As with all games, proper equipment is a must. The Royal Oxford, Keds Shock-Proof Arch Cushion Basketball Shoe, provides the support necessary for the game's jumps and quick starts and stops — has a patented "stay on strap" which keeps the shoe on the foot if stepped on from the rear.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

WHEN GUEST SUES HOST

"One of these days," mused a well-meaning home owner, "I've got to tighten up that loose railing on the back porch."

But for months he kept postponing the needed repairs. One day a woman visitor leaned on the railing, broke through, and plunged to the ground—nine feet below.

In due course the woman sued her host for damages, and won the case. The judgment came to $5,000.

Claims of this kind, by guest against host, are arising with growing frequency. They illustrate the fact, although your home is your castle, you must maintain the premises with due regard for the safety of your visitors.

How great is your responsibility? Clearly you are not liable for an accident if the premises are kept in proper condition. Thus, a guest who tripped on a carpeted stairway failed to collect damages, since there was nothing defective in either the carpeting or the steps.

Even if there is a defect, it must be substantial in order to support a damage claim.

For example: A three-year-old visitor, stumbling on a driveway, bruised his cheek on a little mound of cement. Strictly speaking, the mound—about the size of a saucer—did not belong there.

But a court held it was too trivial a defect to pin any blame on the home owner.

Furthermore, to justify legal liability, the defect must have a cause-and-effect connection with the accident. A guest who hurt his leg jumping on a diving board was denied damages, because he could not prove any connection between his injury and a slight looseness in the board.

On the other hand, the law usually does hold you responsible for the household booby trap (like that loose railing), known to you but not likely to be discovered by outsiders.

You must not let the unsuspecting visitor fend for himself amid hidden dangers that you have created. As a matter of law, as well as a matter of etiquette, that is no way to treat a guest.

A Letter From Annapolis

The first full week of the 70-day session of the General Assembly is fast approaching and there are many bills being introduced both in the House and in the Senate.

A bill was issued on Monday evening to earmark the $500,000 disaster fund set up in 1935 to be used to help pay off state construction bonds.

Senator North introduced a 13-page joint resolution which complained generally of recent Supreme Court constitutional interpretations, and particularly aimed at their decisions dealing with prayers. The resolution urged that the high court "construe and apply the religious percent contained in the first amendment to the constitution of the United States in the manner intended by those who framed the language of that amendment and understand at the time by the people who adopted it."

Also there was a House bill introduced to authorize the State Roads Commission to acquire property for future use by using funds of the State Pension systems. This would help in purchasing the land ahead of the inflationary value caused after the high was introduced in the House by Delegate Dulany to require premarital syphilis tests to be made compulsory before issuance of marriage license.

Insurance rates are once more getting some attention. A bill was introduced and strongly supported by the religious and civic leaders. I feel with our crime rate as it is at the present, I could have mixed emotions on this measure.

S B 26 was introduced to lower the voting age from 21 to 18. This I will have to oppose.

There are many automobile safety measures being introduced, the "implied consent law" requesting the breathalyzer test to be made compulsory. Also, automobile inspection bills to add to the already existing law.

The County Commissioners of Carroll County have requested the delegation to introduce a bill to consider seriously a transfer tax on real property sales to offset the need for any possible ad valorem tax in the financing of Water & Sewerage in the Freedom District. In my opinion, this sort of tax would be very unfair since this would be on all property in all sections of the County and the only place these facilities would be available would be in the Freedom District. Very little support is shown on this at this time.

I would like to extend an invitation to any person or group of persons wanting to spend a day in Annapolis to feel free to call me at my office and I shall be glad to arrange this.

THOMAS R. O'FARRELL, Senator from Carroll County.

A Voice from the House

"I am not a subversive person . . . I do not intend to overthrow the constitutional form of government of the United States or of the State of Maryland . . . I do not belong to any organization that is controlled by a foreign government which advocates the overthrow of my country . . ."

These words are part of an oath required of all state employees, including school teachers, and commonly called the Oath Law.

There are those in the General Assembly attempting to repeal this law through House Bill 87. I will do everything in my power to require this oath as a continuing condition for employment in our state.

Some people say the taking of this oath violates their academic freedom. But I certainly do not want a person, who is not proud of his country and its form of government and who is not willing to so indicate, to teach my children nor to represent my interests in the State of Maryland.

With the threat of communism being greater than ever, we must be continually on guard to protect our great American way of life and our democratic form of government.

I'm also extremely concerned with House Bill 88 which would do away with capital punishment in the State of Maryland. I do not feel I can support this bill in its entirety. I realize in most cases this calls for stringent judicious action. But there are some cases where capital punishment is justified when deliberate and premeditated murder is committed. Here I can see no alternative but capital punishment.

In conclusion, it is interesting for us to be reminded that while Great Britain had abolished capital punishment, that government is now asking that the law be restored under certain conditions.

HOW TO KEEP TAX REFUNDS BUSY AND GROWING

When you get your '65 tax return form, take a look at the option that lets you take U.S. Savings Bonds instead of cash refund. You'll find how to hang on to your tax refund, if you're lucky enough to have one coming.

When you check the Savings Bond line, you automatically assure yourself of two advantages: You provide an easy way of hanging on to your money and a sure way of making it grow one-third bigger at maturity.

Here's how that check-mark goes to work for you: If you're entitled, for example, to a refund of $42.00 you'll get a $50.00 face-value Series E Bond (cost $37.50), plus a check for $4.50.

Another good thing about that check-mark — it also helps to strengthen our country's future security. Uncle Sam puts our Bond dollars to good use in safeguarding our freedom.

Think it over. And, if you haven't started that regular savings program you've been promising yourself, here's a good chance to get at it — with ease, merely by checking the Savings Bond box on your tax return.

Waffles 'Round The Clock

Served any time of day — for breakfast, lunch or as a dessert — waffles can be "dressed up" in tempting ways.

Here's a favorite Plain Waffle recipe developed by home economists in the General Electric Housewares test kitchens. They suggest that you serve piping hot waffles at the table for informal family meals and buffet entertaining. This recipe yields four 4-section waffles.

Plain Waffle Batter

- 2 egg whites
2 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups milk
3/4 cup melted shortening or salad oil
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder

Place egg whites in mixing bowl; beat at high speed until stiff, not dry; set aside. In another bowl place egg yolks, milk and shortening; beat at medium speed until blended, about 30 seconds. Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking powder together. Add to egg yolk mixture and beat at medium speed, about one minute. Remove from mixer and fold in egg whites.

Preheat waffle baker according to the instruction booklet. Home economists in the G.E. Housewares test kitchens remind you to pour the batter from end to end along the center of the lower grid. Using about a cup of batter, spread evenly over grids. Close the waffle baker quickly. Once the signal light goes on, do not open the unit since this may break the waffle. When the light goes off the waffle is done. The Teflon-coated grids prevent food from sticking and assure easy clean-up.

Don't stack waffles; this will destroy their crispness. If you make them in advance for a group, keep them warm in a very low-heat oven with the door slightly open. Wrap leftover waffles in freezer paper and store them. Later, reheat in a toaster.

For breakfast, serve waffles with grilled sausages wrapped in bacon strips. Serve luncheon waffles with tuna or chicken a la king shortcake style. Post dessert waffles with fresh or frozen fruits; add a scoop of ice cream for a richer dessert.

Always remember that, with rare exceptions, you do not have to talk.

When the bell rings for lunch, even the best worker will stop his labor.

President Johnson Requests Funds Amounting to $3.39 Billion for Foreign Aid

President Johnson has asked Congress for five-year authority for foreign aid and proposed that the global program be split into separate economic and arms aid bills.

In a special message seeking $3.39 billion in foreign aid funds for next year, Johnson also spelled out a $1-billion program of food, education and health assistance abroad.

"I propose that the United States offer to join in new attacks upon the root causes of world poverty," the President told the legislators.

"The incessant cycle of hunger, ignorance, and disease is the common blight of the developing world. This vicious pattern can be broken. It must be broken if democracy is to survive."

Johnson said the large-scale foreign aid program is necessary for the same reasons as his "Great Society" program inside the United States. He said the aim is to improve "the kind of world our children will live in."

The $3.39 billion—$2,469 billion in economic aid and $917 million in military—more than Congress voted last year in comparable new funds for the year ending June 30, 1966.

But just how much the increase amounts to is difficult to say because a large chunk of the arms assistance, for Viet Nam, has been wrapped into the regular U.S. defense budget.

A fight seemed certain over non-money items in the aid legislation as well as the more usual tugging and hauling over the financing.

For economic assistance, Johnson's fiscal 1967 budget propose $2.47 billion in new appropriations, counting $550 million for Viet Nam. For military aid it seeks $917 million, not counting Viet Nam. If related programs such as Food for Peace are included, the over-all total pushes above the $4-billion mark.

The Agency for International Development's program for economic aid next year also includes an estimated $344 million unspent from past appropriations. This would bring the economic figure to $2.81 billion—a quarter-billion increase over this year, counting Viet Nam both years.

Johnson's proposal for a five-year authorization is in line with Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright's call for long-term aid authority. The Arkansas Democrat also has pushed for a separation of economic and military aid legislation.

The pier is part of a vast combine of docks and warehouses, designed for military and peacetime use, that will increase deep-water port facilities in Vietnam.
