A Voice from the House

The Special Session of 1966 Legislature convened on March 30 for the purpose of adopting a tax program for the relief of Baltimore City and for the additional purpose of passing a re-districting law for the Congressional Districts of the State of Maryland.

The Session was a heated one and adjourned on April 6 having passed a controversial earnings or income tax law and having failed to reach any satisfactory conclusion on the re-districting.

The matter of Congressional Redistricting is now left to the Federal Courts unless another Session is called at which the Legislature can reach a decision. The failure to reach a conclusion resulted from the insistence of the Baltimore City Delegates that districts be designed so that the three incumbent Congressmen from Baltimore City would each be able to run in separate districts and would not have to run against each other.

Because Baltimore City's population has remained constant or may now be slightly less than heretofore, it is not entitled to the same share of representation as in the past. The balance of the State of Maryland has grown very rapidly and is entitled to more representation in Congress.

The earnings or income tax bill as adopted enables Baltimore City or any County to impose its own income tax or earnings tax on residents or on anyone working within that subdivision. For example, Carroll County residents working in Baltimore County or Baltimore City may be required to pay a 1 per cent tax to Baltimore City or Baltimore County without any deduction whatever. The law provides that a credit would be allowed if Carroll County itself should impose an earnings or income tax.

It was my position that this type of legislation is highly objectionable. The Cooper-Hughes Program, as modified, would have resulted in an increased tax in Carroll County, but Carroll County would have received back from the State, an amount virtually equal to the amount collected in Carroll County under the Bill as amended.

The Cooper-Hughes Bill having failed by two votes, it was necessary to adopt other forms of legislation to relieve political subdivisions. The net result for a temporary period, at least, is that the residents of the metropolitan area of Baltimore City, which includes Carroll County, will be taxed to produce sufficient revenue in order that Baltimore City may survive, and there will be no burden on the balance of the State of Maryland at this time.

The County Commissioners have requested the Governor to set up a hearing on the earnings tax bill with a view to requesting a veto. However, the prospects of a veto appear unlikely.

William B. Dulany
Member,
House of Delegates.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
I feel that this is, or should be, of interest to residents, farm and property owners of this, the northwest section of Carroll County.

This section is District #1 (Taneytown) and District #10 (Middleburg), from Taneytown north to the Pennsylvania line, south to Union Bridge, and west to the Frederick County line.

Do you want our part of the County to remain a residential, farming and light industrial section or are you satisfied to let it be turned into a quarrying section of the County?

An application has been filed for a shale removal operation in our locality. If this permit is granted—which will be the first in Carroll County northwest section—it will open the way for other shale companies to invade our section of the county, and could involve a large number of farms in a short period of time as has been done in Frederick County a short distance from our county line.

A 200-acre farm has already been purchased on the John Shirk Road, (the former Mohr off Simpson farm) about one-half mile off the Otterdale Mill Road by the Bowerston Shale Company of Ohio for the extraction of shale. It is our understanding that this shale will be hauled through Taneytown to a point north of Taneytown toward Littlestown for processing.

There will be a public hearing on Friday, April 29, before the Board of Zoning Appeals of Carroll County in Room 208 of the County Office Building, Westminster, at 2:00 P. M.

If you are interested in this matter you should attend this meeting and express your point of view.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I FORGOT!"

A motorist, hurt in a collision with a freight train, sued the railroad for damages. But in court, the railroad retorted that the motorist himself was guilty of negligence.

"He crossed those tracks twice a day for months," noted the railroad. "Yet he admits he failed to look out for a train."

"On this particular occasion," explained the motorist, "I just happened to forget about the tracks. But that isn't negligence. Everyone has a lapse of memory once in a while."

However, the court ruled that his excuse was no excuse at all and that he was indeed guilty of negligence.

If you should ever seek damages for an injury, your own conduct is likely to come under careful scrutiny. Were you partly to blame for the accident? If you knew that danger lay ahead, is it an excuse to say "I forgot about it?"

The general rule is: no. On the contrary, forgetfulness itself is one of the commonest forms of negligence. Said one court:

"Though we may regard with abhorrence the proverbial abstraction of middle age hunting for the thimble on its finger, and of old age troubled that it cannot find the glasses on its nose, absent-mindedness is not a satisfactory standard of care in the modern world."

Nevertheless, the law does not expect you to have instant and total recall of everything you have ever known. Mitigating circumstances may make your forgetfulness forgivable.

One such circumstance is the mere passage of time. Thus:

A schoolteacher who stumbled in a hallway won damages from the school board, even though she had known the floor was defective. Because the defect was hard to see, and because three weeks had gone by since she noticed it, the court decided she bore no blame for the accident.

Another possible excuse for forgetting is that something suddenly and forcefully diverted your attention.

In one case an elderly woman, walking home alongside a lonely road, heard men's voices in the darkness ahead. Terrified, she crossed the road—momentarily forgetting, in her panic, that there was a sharp dip on that side.

She fell, suffered assorted injuries, and sued the claim. And the court, in upholding her claim, found no negligence in her impulsive action.

"There is a clear distinction," a judge commented, "between forgetfulness which is one phase of negligence, and a sudden arising of conditions which throw one off his guard."

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

The special session, announced as the 70-day regular tour of duty came to an embittered end, had turned into a resounding battle over taxes and congressional seating plans by the week-end.

The legislators, hoping each night to finish a job they thought finished, went back to work the next morning to try to hammer out a satisfactory redistricting plan and to study a new tax proposal dropped into the hopper after the death of the Cooper-Hughes tax reform plan.

The announcement of the Governor's proclamation came as a shock to many of the legislators who had filibustered for eight hours to defeat the Cooper-Hughes tax reform plan. Washed out and weary, with hopes for a return to their homes and businesses, the Senators and Delegates were forced to face the issues once again when the administration apparently came up with second thoughts about the loss of the Cooper-Hughes plan.

The program came within two votes of passage on the hectic last night and at least two Delegates who were expected to vote for the reform of the tax structure, were called away by illness that day. Another indication of how close the bill came to passage was the changing of votes by some of the delegates from the larger counties. But the hour of midnight ended the battle, in spite of attempt to reintroduce the Cooper-Hughes plan the next day.

A new tax plan immediately put in the hopper and passed Friday night, is a permissive program to allow the counties and Baltimore City to levy a tax of up to 1 per cent on the net income of its residents or the gross earnings of those who work in the subdivisions. Although most of the legislators did not feel this is the answer to the problem faced by the State, the measure was approved to give Baltimore and some of the subdivisions the relief they need. The bill was an emergency measure to become effective immediately, but will be in force for only one year.

Two congressional redistricting bills went into the hopper in the special session along with the dozen or so local bills from other counties that failed to make the grade in the regular session. These, however, would not be considered, it was ruled.

One of the districting plans is similar to that going on referendum this fall. This plan, refused by the House during this regular term, would put Carroll County in a Sixth Congressional District with Allegany, Frederick, Garrett and Washington Counties and two election districts from Baltimore County. We considered that measure and another reflecting the House-backed plan in the Judicial Proceedings Committee but the latter bill was defeated, 10-1. This second proposal creates an identical Sixth District except for including three election districts from Baltimore County. This bill gives the Baltimore Congressmen the opportunity to run in three separate districts. The Senate-favored bill has been consistently fought by the House because it limits Baltimore City to two Congressmen.

The Legislature broke up early Saturday morning with plans to reconvene Monday, with hopes to finish before the middle of the week. The session by law could last 30 days.

Although this session has been discouraging in many respects, it was at the same time gratifying to see some of the major issues tackled seriously even though some of them did not pass. The conflict of interest bill was one of those that dropped by the wayside but will be studied by the Legislative Council this summer.

Others failing were implied consent, the judge-selection plan, revolving credit and anti-usury bills. We did face many other major issues, however, and among those passed were a juvenile agency bill, gun sale regulations, educational television, a bridge bill, tunnel bill, anti-blockbusting, the new court of criminal appeals and anti-pollution and conservation measures.

This will be my last Annapolis Report at this time. I certainly hope it has helped to keep you somewhat advised to the happenings of the Senate for the past session.

Thomas R. O'Farrell
Senator from Carroll County

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatter Column)
With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawn
I wish you always—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you health—near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

It's Spring and I know it for Forsythia is just about everywhere! And now the beautiful Creeping Phlox, which is becoming more plentiful all the time with the array of blues, whites, and reds. It seems so sad that all this beauty only lasts for such a short time. And thinking of Easter with so much buying for garments for the special day plus the beautiful flowers.

All my life, I have never had any Easter garment. My parents did not indulge and only purchased clothes when we really needed them, yet I used to watch the big Easter Parade on Broad St. when I was a growing girl and always admired the beautiful girls. Those days there were no cosmetics used and the girl had a natural beauty plus the sheen hair which is seldom seen today. For soft hands or the skin you love to touch meant just plain vaseline with an old pair of kid gloves worn at night and when the gloves were removed the hands appeared lovely and soft. For the hair, one would break an egg atop of the head after the shampoo for lustre, rubbing it well into every part of the hair. Somehow, those days no Crowning Glory appeared dull. There was much brushing at night, in fact it was the hundred strokes of the hair brush each night.

Now, the following are the names of a few hotels in New York City, near just about everything for the special request. The Astor, the Manhattan, Barclay, Biltmore and Commodore. There is no driving or riding around and all this within walking distance of the theatres, and within walking distance, too, of the bus—Greyhound and Trailways!

Here is an odd one—a close friend purchased a home in Tampa, Florida and drove down just two weeks ago and then that awful hurricane! Whoops! Not me! And that reminds me — a number of people who went down to buy in that state remained a year and returned North stating they were satisfied right here! So, you see, folks it is always best to spend the seasons there first and then you can make up your mind but so many do not do that but rush down and purchase immediately.

What a Mass Meeting there will be in Baltimore at the Civic Center for the Methodist Bicentennial of April 21st to April 24th for the National Observance of the 200th Anniversary of American Methodism here in Baltimore! Program highlights include: April 21st at 7:30 P. M. by Bishop Gerald Kennedy at the Lyric as to the Opening Address. April 22nd, at 7:30 P. M. at Civic Center, highly distinguished speaker. April 23 at the Civic Center at 7:30, address by Cardinal Shehan and Charles P. Parlin. April 24th at 7:00 P. M. at the Civic Center, religious drama, "Warm Hearts and Saddlebags." Historical papers Friday and Saturday at 9:00 to 11:50 A. M. at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Afternoon addresses on "Vital Issues Confronting the Church." Friday and Saturday afternoons at the Civic Center.

Sessions in the Mt. Vernon Place Church at the Washington Monument, April 21 at 8:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. Convocation on Worship. April 24 at 9:00 A. M., Love Feast. 11:00 A. M. guest preacher from England.

Hope to be seeing you right there! Have a grand week-end. For the month of April, as to the "Farmer's Almanac," "Rise and Shine, warm and fine. Root-ta-tee-toot-there goes my care down bumbashoot. Drive with care in April's glare. Heaven's best, God Help the rest. Showers for May, flowers, mowers and sowers. Cloud-burst or worse. Too cool to drool." That's it, folks.

And here is a bit of wisdom: Small kindness, habitually practiced gives greater charm to the character than display of great talent.

Until next week-end. D. V.
I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

APRIL'S WITCHERY

Raindrops splashing on the pane,
Violets blooming in the lane,
Singing birds, and daffodils,
Greening magic of the hills,
Streams a-tumbling in the sun,
Luring every fisherman,
Swelling bud and leafing tree—
These are April's Witchery.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

David Lawrence writes: "The true enemy of mankind today is Communist imperialism. It is not going to be checked or defeated unless the free world stands up to the fight and manifests its willingness to thwart the ambitions of the Communists. Their autocratic rulers profess to believe that Communism is the savior of mankind, but it has not brought contentment or salvation to the hundreds of millions of people in either the Soviet Union or Red China."

According to the National Industrial Conference Board, 10 years ago, less than one family in 10 had an annual income in excess of $10,000, measured in today's dollars. Now more than two out of every 10 families are in that bracket, and it is estimated that by 1970 over a third of the nation's families will reach or exceed it.

"The importance of the advertising industry in the economic development of our country is well-recognized and, more specifically, in the development of use of new and better drugs. Practicing physicians receive a substantial part of their education concerning drugs through the medium of prescription drug advertising. This indeed, is basic and underlies the Federal law which places responsibility on the advertising industry to present factual and undistorted information to the physician. Furthermore, the prescription drug advertising provision of the law actually is a recognition of the importance of such advertising in the entire area of medical care in the United States," says Joseph F. Sadusk, Jr., M.D., writing in Current Therapeutic Research.

According to a new survey, the cost of finding, developing, and producing oil and gas in the United States during 1963 totaled $6 billion 706 million. This was before making any provision for federal, state and local income taxes, payments of interest on principal or debt capital, or payments to owners as return on their investment in the business.

Accidents are now the fourth largest killer in this country, the American Medical Association reports. Only cancer, heart disease, and stroke kill more. Also, accidents comprise the largest single cause of death among children, teen-agers and young adults. Up to age 34, accidents consistently cause more deaths than cancer. About 10 million persons are accidentally disabled each year, and this represents by far the largest single use of hospital facilities.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says: "Law enforcement is highly exacting work. It demands mental and physical alertness, single-mindedness, dedication, and enthusiasm for effective performance. To fully discharge his responsibilities and do a creditable job, an officer should devote all his energy to his enforcement duties. Unfortunately, many cannot do this. They are required to 'moonlight' in order to give their families a decent standard of living. My criticism of moonlighting is not against the officers who must hold a second job. Rather, it is against the prevailing systems which unwittingly make this questionable practice necessary. Local governments and communities willing to accept the practice as a substitute for adequate police pay are applying short-range judgment to a long-range problem."

A railroad spokesman told a House Committee that his industry paid $75 million in excess taxes on their property in 20 states surveyed in 1964—more than doubling their property tax bill—because of discriminatory assessments.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The bad-tempered winter kept up its reputation last Saturday by presenting us with about 8 inches of snow that nobody welcomed.

Reindollar—On April 8, 1916, in Baltimore, Miss Dorothy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Reindollar, died of bacterial pneumonia.

Winters—Mrs. Ida May, 46, wife of Mr. Luther Winters, died at her home, the Wm. H. Flickinger farm, near Taneytown on April 7, 1916.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you: This Easter week-end had special tones of sadness for the children and families of Mrs. Maurice Wilhide of Baltimore and formerly Detour. Mrs. Wilhide, who had been ill for some time, died on Good Friday morning and was buried in the Keysville Union Cemetery on Monday. Our sympathy and that of all their many friends and relatives has been extended to them. The viewing was held at the Fess Funeral Home in Taneytown on Sunday from noon to 9 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Currens of Hampstead were among the many folks who helped the Wilhide family during their sad time. Everyone returned to the Clyde Wilhide home on the Keysville Road after the service for the family gathering. Mr. and Mrs. John Schilling and Rebecca of Eldersburg were Sunday visitors with the family. Mrs. Emory Yoder and Miss Elizabeth Yoder of White Hall, are still visiting and were also helpers for her.

Happy New House greetings to Mr. and Mrs. George Edwin Gartrell who recently moved into their newly completed home across from the Clarence Derr farm on the Keysville Road. They had been farming at the Gregg Kiser farm previously.

The new Shoemaker home looks as though it is about finished and the bricks have been delivered for the Charles Young house.

Nancy Stine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stine near Keysville, was home for Easter vacation from her studies in Dental Hygiene in West Liberty, Va., from last Wednesday until Monday.

Friday afternoon visitor with Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy on the Forest and Stream Club Road was Mrs. Joseph Bostian of Middleburg. Her children and their families were with her and Randy on Easter Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wildisan, Kevin and Kim of Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar and Loretta near Taneytown, and Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar, Bobby and Billy of Detour.

Callers over the week-end with Mrs. John Hood and children near Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Oler of Beltsville, Md., Edith Hood of Boonsboro, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hood and girls of Westminster and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Caldwell and Tracy of Hancock.

The mothers of the members of Cub Pack 459 in Union Bridge held a bake sale last Thursday evening. Thanks to all those who contributed and bought.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Young of Detour upon the birth of their daughter Brenda on Wednesday the 6th. Brenda has two sisters, Debbie (whose birthday is also the 6th) and Donna.

It may not feel like it yet, but spring is definitely with us: the county roads men took down the snow fence last week! Talked with my folks in Pennsylvania Monday and they have been having some snow during the night but it melts through the day. (In the mountains near Altoona.) They can have it. Say, how about our own snow on Tuesday and Wednesday?

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Priest near Detour were among those who attended the wedding of her nephew Edward Erich and Miss Darlene Bayliss in Cambridge, Md., on Saturday. Eddy is the son of Harry Erich of Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Harry (Ruth) Erich of Bermuda.

Mike and Len Fry, children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry of Baltimore, were Sunday overnight visitors with Beth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide near Detour.

Only one more week until the turkey and oyster supper to be served at Elmer A. Wolfe School by the P-TA on Saturday, April 23, from 4 to 8 P. M. Tickets will be available at the door or contact any of the school children.

Callers with Mr. and Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville have been Mrs. Mary Cluts of Harney, Pa., and her daughter Sally Brown, who recently graduated from Pennsylvania and will soon be going to Germany, and an exchange student for a year, and the Misses Nancy and Roxanne Stine near Keysville. Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh of Detour, Mrs. Mark Baumgardner near Keysville, Miss Geraldine Boller of Thurmont, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Boller, Susan, Christina, Thomas and Melissa of Mt. Airy as well as Cynthia Boller, home from Md. University for Easter vacation, and her fiance Don Ray Rutland, Jr. They are both of Mt. Airy also. Monday visitors for the day were their daughter and grandchildren, Mrs. Hugh Heaps, Patsy and Galen of Silver Spring. Patsy also had Easter vacation from her studies at the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music at Winchester, Va.

Eight members of the Eager Beaver Girls' 4-H Club with Mrs. Joseph Coshun and Mrs. William Fleharty attended the joint meeting at the "Ag" Center on Monday afternoon where Mrs. Janet McMurtry, Extension Agent-Home Economics, gave a demonstration on Flower Arranging. The other clubs attending the 3 P. M. lesson were Taneytown, Sam's Creek, Union Bridge, Bachman's Valley and Silver Belles. It was well done and the arrangements were kept simple enough for the girls to be able to do also.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Catlin and Mrs. Gertrude Warner of Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Black and daughter Marie of Baltimore and Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Miller, Jr., and daughter Lisa Marie of Greenmount.

A number of relatives from this area attended the wedding on Saturday of Miss Sandra Fry and Charles Navarro in St. John's Lutheran Church in Parkville. Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry of Baltimore.

Happy Anniversary on the 16th to Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Keilholtz of Keysville and on the 21st to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh of Detour.

Certainly good to see Mr. Alexander having the house in Keysville that was burned torn down. Too often these "eyesores" are left standing with nothing done to them one way or another.

The cantata, "No Greater Love," which was presented in the Union Bridge Lutheran Parish was beautiful! It told the Easter story with Scripture set to music and most of the pieces had such a lovely lilt, one would like to know them oneself to sing at other times. The cantata was directed by Mrs. William Markley, music by Mrs. Leonard Reifsnider and narration by Mrs. Carroll Dougherty. The Junior Choir sang "Our God Is Great" and "Lonesome Valley."

Just learned that Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeBerry of the Keysville Road will celebrate their 62nd wedding anniversary on Tuesday the 19th. Wouldn't a shower of cards by their many friends and relatives be a fine idea? Address is Rte. 1, Keymar, Md. 21757.

Dates to remember: Union Bridge Cub Pack 459 meeting on Friday evening, 15th; Terra Rubra Lions Club meeting on Monday, 18th; Carroll County Homemakers Council meeting on Tuesday morning, 19th, at County Office Building; Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club meeting Wednesday evening, 20th, at the home of Mrs. William Fleharty near Detour and Lutheran Church Women District Assembly at St. Marks Church in Sykesville beginning at 4:30 P. M.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion was celebrated at Keysville Lutheran Church on Easter Sunday morning. The altar flowers were placed there by Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clabaugh in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. George I. Harmon, their grandson Daniel Boone and Mr. Harry Clabaugh. Beth Wilhide, Karen Kronsteiner and Darrell Young were received into the church by Confirmation and Robyn Ann Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hood, was baptized by Pastor Markley.

A delicious buffet dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, Sr., of Keysville on Easter Sunday in honor of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hood and children Robert, Jr., and Robyn Ann. Also present were his mother, Mrs. Edith Hood; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hood, Terry and Donna; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Caldwell and Tracy, Darrell and Beverly Young and Robert Hast. Bob has been stationed at the Sonar School in Key West, Fla. He is now on leave until April 18 and then he and his family will leave for Newport, R.I., where he will go aboard the Van Voris (DE-1028).

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hood and daughter spent from Thursday until Saturday with his mother, Mrs. Edith Young of Boonsboro. They also visited with his sister, Mrs. Philip Caldwell, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fleming and family of Hancock.

Belated birthday greetings to John Rinehart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rinehart of Mt. Union, on the 11th. John, who is a student at Randolph Macon Academy in Front Royal, Va., celebrated his 16th.

COMMENTS: My personal thanks to Jimmy Eyer and Donald Stifely of the Flaming Arrow Patrol of the Union Bridge Scouts for distributing and then picking up the canisters around town for the Easter Seal Crippled Children campaign. I had served as Chairman for the area and they were a big help to me. . . . Cancer Crusade is now in progress and I agreed to Captain for the Detour and Keysville area. Be seeing you! . . . Was surely a pleasant surprise to meet Mrs. William Conrad of Northumberland, Pa., on Sunday. We have a mutual friend and had met only once previously and that time by telephone. She was the former Martha Fogle and was visiting with her mother in Westminster and they had called on her aunt and uncle, Pastor and Mrs. Samuel Weybright in Detour. I do meet lots of interesting people through this column also. . . . As I mentioned before, I helped our Extension Agent-Home Economics, Mrs. Janet McMurtry, with the lesson this month by visiting four of the Homemakers clubs in the county. Six other ladies are also helping her in the same way. I just wanted to add that I had a wonderful time visiting with these ladies and sincerely appreciated their warm welcomes. The Frizellburg Club met at the home of Mrs. John Hyle and the vice president, Mrs. Reichard, presided in the absence of their president. The Myers Club met at the home of Mrs. Rhoda Beachtel and Mrs. John Stiles is their president. The Mt. Pleasant Club met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Moxley and their vice president, Mrs. White, presided. My last-but certainly not least-visit was to the Union Bridge Club whose president is Mrs. John Roop and the hostess was Mrs. Herbert Snyder of Walkersville. (I learned, too, that Mrs. Snyder is a former Carroll County Homemakers Council president.) I was happy to have the opportunity to meet so many more fine ladies and look forward to seeing them all sometime again. Thanks again to all of them.

I was contacted last week by the Carroll County Times, weekly newspaper in Westminster, and asked to send my items to them also for they need a correspondent from this end of the county. I agreed to give it a try. I'd like to hear from some of you readers how you feel about additional coverage of our area news and would you continue to contact me with items? After all, this is YOUR column; I just put it together. How about it? Thanks!

FAIRVIEW

Mrs. Clarence Helwig wishes to thank all who sent her cards of cheer - due to an article that appeared in this paper some time ago. She heard from those she has not heard from for years and she deeply appreciates it. Thanks again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eyer and daughter, Mrs. Betty Day called on Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Doble and son, on Monday morning, in the evening Mr. Baker made a turn for the worse and those calling in the evening were: Rev. Frederick Horner, pastor of the First Church of God, Uniontown, Md.; Mrs. Mable Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock, Claude Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Selby, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Baker.

Easter was very quiet around here although very chilly, nevertheless a very fine day. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock were dinner guests in the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock and family. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and children, David, Danny and Deborah, called on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frock also called later in the evening.

We wish to thank all who sent us Easter cards. Your thoughtfulness is greatly appreciated. Again many thanks.

"Better Than a Thousand" A non-church-goer said to John Greenleaf Whittier, "You can give peace and serenity of soul and mind better by worshipping in the solitude of nature than by worshipping in your greatly loved meeting house." Whittier gave this poetic reply to his critic:

"Think not, my friend, because I seek this quiet shelter twice a week. I better deem its pine-laid floor than breezy hill or sea-sunny shore. But nature is not solitude: She crowds us with her thronging wood,

Her many hands reach out to us, Her many tongues are garrulous, She will not leave our senses still, but drag them captive at her will. And so I find it well to come for deeper rest to this still room; for here the habit of the Soul feels less the outer world's control, and from this silence - multiplied by these still forms on either side - The world which time and sense have known falls off, and leaves us God alone!" For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand, I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness (Psa. 84:10).

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports - John Breth

This may be the year of the doves and the hawks but there also is room for the Orioles . . . The Baltimore Orioles, the pick in this corner to win their first modern major league pennant.

With booming bats laying down a barrage of extra base hits, with a well-stitched defense backing up their pitching and with just enough of that latter commodity to make do, the Orioles are selected to fly home in front of a well-balanced American League field.

Ambitious Detroit is taken to finish second, Minnesota is picked for third, Chicago is taken to wind up fourth and Cleveland is the choice to finish in fifth place. The second division will have New York in sixth place, Boston in seventh, Los Angeles in eighth, Washington in ninth and Kansas City finishing last.

You probably want reasons. We have them and some of them may even make sense. The Orioles have beefed up their offense with the acquisition of Frank Robinson, a genuine crusher at the plate, not only for average but for power. He should team up with Brooks Robinson, the incumbent hero of the Orioles, to provide a solid one-two punch. John (Boog) Powell and Curt Blefary are likely to make the terrific twosome a fearsome foursome.

Luis Aparicio, at shortstop, and Jerry Adair, at second base, will provide the sound through-the-middle fielding a pennant winner requires. The only question mark is pitching. Manager Hank Bauer could use another starter. But every pennant winner needs a little push and Hank may find what he needs if he looks hard enough.

Detroit is on the march and would surprise no one, least of all manager Charlie Dressen, if it went all the way. The Tigers have put together a nice little collection of sluggers themselves and if Bill Monbouquette wins big to give the pitching staff the lift it needs . . . look out!

Minnesota won easily last year but may find an encore a bit more arduous. The Twins have the hitting but their defense could use tightening and it remains to be seen if they have enough pitching. Some of their pitchers may have trouble doing as well this year as they did last.

The Chicago White Sox will find their new manager, Eddie Stanky, a shade more demanding than Al Lopez and there's no telling how they will respond. The White Sox could win or they could finish fourth. We're guessing fourth.

Cleveland may have the Sandy Koufax of the American League in Sam McDowell and this is the kind of team which could take off and stay in orbit all year. But there is a nagging notion that the Indians lack players of the pennant-winning stamp.

The Yankees still have pennant-winning players - on paper - but Mickey Mantle is a long way from being in shape, Whitey Ford and Elston Howard are a year older, the young players may be at least a year away and there is a scarcity of first-line pitching.

The Boston Red Sox will do some lusty hitting with Tony Conigliaro, the defending home run champion, and Carl Yastrzemski, who has won the American League batting title in the past, providing most of the power. But the Red Sox pitching will frighten nobody, least of all in friendly Fenway Park.

Dean Chance is likely to give back with a large season and bounce the California Angels a lift in their new home in Anaheim.

Fred Newman and Marcelino Lopez are two other California pitchers who will help but the Angels are not a strong team around the diamond and in the outfield.

The Washington Senators will hustle under the field leadership of manager Gil Hodges but hustle is no substitute for talent.

Kansas City has a new manager in Al Dark, who will do a lot of experimenting in an effort to stay out of the cellar. Alvin may be in for a disappointment . . . his name plate already is on the door.

Today's Sport Laugh - Left-handed pitcher Steve Hamilton of the New York Yankees has two streets named after him. One is in West Liberty, Kentucky, and the other is in Charleston, Indiana. Hamilton says: "They will be there long after I'm gone and remain as my memorial. Unless urban renewal comes along and wipes me out."

Tigers Ready for Business

FULL SQUAD EXPECTED AT THIS WEEK'S PRACTICE

With the promise of warmer weather this week-end, and from now on, Tiger skipper Bob Fulle expects to have his squad at full strength this week-end for a complete work out.

Last Saturday, cold weather curtailed spring training for the third straight week-end. The number of players who did brave chill winds spent most of the time shivering and rubbing their hands and, of course, there were the showers. All in all it was most uncomfortable weather for a warm weather sport.

Tiger fans can be encouraged by the return of the last of the veterans to the camp. Arvin "Skinny" Bollinger had been contacted by other clubs who were interested in his playing services. His absence would have left a gap in our infield - but Arvin has expressed interest in returning to the Tiger fold this year.

"Skinny" Bollinger - Will be back

Neal Hoffman has expressed the belief that he will be the "comeback player of the year." After his rather poor showing at the plate last season for the local nine, one would hope that this would be the case. Neal was his usual artistic self in the outfield, but his dish work left a bit to be desired. He's at a loss to explain why this was the case, but we hope that he will rebound to his normal batting average of .300.

Opening day is scheduled for Sunday, May 1, at 2 P. M. The Taneytown High School Band will again provide the music for the festivities and Mayor Raymond J. Perry will toss out the first ball from his usual position on the pitchers mound. Last year you remember, the "Mayor" threw a perfect strike to the catcher and of course came the proverbial yell from the stands . . . "sign him up." Actually the Orioles are now bidding for his services, so the Tigers will have to wait in turn. We hope that you will be a part of the fun and festivities at opening day - May 1.

We hope that you will stop by at the Taneytown Pharmacy and take a look at the Taneytown Tigers window display. Trophies and pictures are there for your information.

Season tickets are available from any player or from Skipper Bob Fogle. They will entitle you to admission to all the home games - All-Star tilt and possible play-off games.

Next week - Opening day for the league.

New Window Treatments

Laugh At April Showers

The April showers that herald spring used to be a real headache inside the home — spotting walls and staining fine fabrics every time an open window let in a sudden downpour.

This spring, for the first time, homemakers can take the worry out of showers or storms. The newest window treatments start with a new kind of fabric that has a built-in barrier against rain staining.

The Rain-No-Stain feature is a permanent part of self-lined Roc-lonized ready-made draperies and sew-at-home fabrics, and the separate Roc-lon lining for the windows you're treating to the custom touch.

It's all part of today's emphasis on fabrics that work while they decorate.

The wonders that the new drapery fabrics work at windows start with protection against outside weather — the feature homemakers said they wanted most.

With an eye on all-weather protection, the chemists combined insulation against the heat and cold that seep through glass with the Rain-No-Stain feature that sends dampness rolling off draperies like water off a duck's back.

Hard-working window treatments are styled to suit any decorating mood. Newest for spring is this fresh floral. The insulating and rain-protection features are particularly important when you want to keep outside weather from penetrating this kind of loose-fitting French door — or any window-area opening on an exposed outdoor setting.

Tied back, as here, the draperies bring the garden inside to light up a tete-a-tete corner. When weather turns bad, draperies draw closed to make their own indoor garden — in a corner that stays comfortable because it's protected from damp and drafts.

A Flight To Remember

Practically everyone remembers the stirring accomplishment of Charles A. Lindbergh who 39 years ago flew from New York to Paris alone in a single-engine monoplane in 33 hours and 39 minutes. But aviation annals are filled with exciting firsts — each of which pushed the horizons closer and made the world seem smaller.

Twenty years ago on February 5, 1946, a single TWA Constellation pioneered the aerial highway over the Atlantic Ocean from the United States to Paris for passengers and cargo. The maiden voyage of the "Gonnie" included a refueling stop at Gander, Newfoundland, before heading across the water. The 36 passengers were whisked across the 3,635-mile distance in 17 hours and had paid $375 for the privilege — one way.

Captain Harold F. Blackburn commanded this first flight. The lucky passengers to make the historic trek — American businessmen seeking postwar European contracts, two New York fashion designers, some French executives and an ex-GI from Brooklyn traveling to claim his Belgian war bride — were booked on the flight on a first-come, first-served basis.

Since TWA replaced the Constellations and in 1961 became the first all-jet carrier on international routes, their New York-Paris flight has undergone tremendous changes. Today this nonstop flight takes a mere seven hours and the excursion rate is $341 — or about $34 less than the 1946 one-way fare. TWA projects that the next step will be three-hour service between these points using supersonic transports in the 1970's.

Lesson for April 17, 1966

Background Scriptures: 1 Kings 11:1 through 12:24; 11 Chronicles 10. Devotional Reading: Psalm 1.

"The mortality among nations is 100%," said a long-time professor of history. This may be only a fancy way of saying that no nation lasts forever. If so, this does not sound like news, does it? Don't we all know this without needing a professor to tell us? Perhaps we do need to be told this, for it is hard for anyone to think of the final death of his own nation. Rome died, Greece died.

Dr. Foreman Of course, we say impatiently. Yes, but do you realize that our loved America is just as mortal as Sodom? It certainly is, believe it or not. So this spring we are going to study two kingdoms in decay. Rot spread faster in one than in the other, but they both were doomed. In the course of our studies we may often have occasion to observe that the Bible is by no means silent on such themes as politics and public affairs.

Too small & share

The nation of Israel came into existence through a secession. The reader should by all means look up the story in the "background Scripture" where it is told more at length. King Solomon was dead. He had had a brilliant reign marked by a long peace and immense wealth. This wealth, however, was concentrated in the city of Jerusalem. The masses of the people had small share of Solomon's golden treasures. Indeed Solomon's son, Rehoboam, who would hardly have painted the picture blacker than it was, said to the people in their mass-meeting, "My father chastised you with whips, . . . in plain language of our time, "You took a beating." The people had a real grievance; they demanded to know what Rehoboam was going to do about it.

Too many taxes

The common people of that time had hardly any cash money. They paid taxes by serving in labor gangs months at a time, without pay. Naturally they did not feel kindly toward a government that was such a burden to them. A people will love a government (King or President or Congress or Parliament or whatever) which they feel is helping them get rich. They feel resentment and bitterness about a government that makes them poor and keeps them so. Now the new king Rehoboam did not realize this. At any rate he knew he needed advice, so he first asked the older men (cabinet members, we should probably call them) who had been King Solomon's advisers. King Solomon had been wise enough to know that even the wisest man on earth can use good advice! These experienced men gave young Rehoboam a piece of wisdom good for all governments of all kinds even today: If you will be a servant to this people, they will be your servants forever.

Too many young men

But instead of taking this fine advice, Rehoboam made the mistake of a lifetime. He went and asked the young men of his own age who knew no more about government than he did. The bad advice given by Rehoboam's pals ("Tell these grumblers they haven't seen anything yet" was the gist of it) spelled the nation's doom. It gave the secessionists something to secede about. Rehoboam probably died without ever knowing what had hit him, but he was really the one who lit the fuse of secession.

"Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt." With those words as a rallying cry, America's 11,000 linen-supply driver salesmen will be helping save lives while they ply their truck routes this Spring.

According to the National Safety Council, you are at least 35% safer when you drive "buckled up" than you are with no seat belt to keep you from slamming into the windshield in an emergency. Although all new cars now are sold with seat belts, many drivers still resist using them.

"It's a fact," says Samuel B. Shapiro, executive director of the Linen Supply Association of America, "that probably five thousand people died last year who didn't have to. The National Safety Council says that's how many lives might have been saved out of the 30,000 who died in automobile accidents."

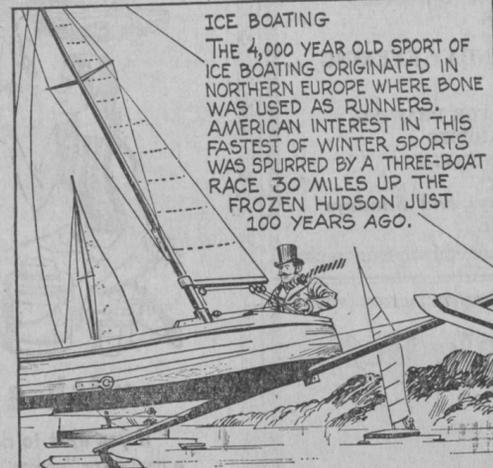

If seat belts are so vital, why aren't more people using them?

"We think people will use them more if they're reminded often enough," said Shapiro. That's where the 11,000 trucks of the 1,381 member companies of the association come in. Many of the Linen Supply trucks, which have helped other public service campaigns in the past, will be seen everywhere with their new safety signs bearing the reminder to millions of automobile drivers: "Safety is a Snap. (Buckle Up)."

In addition, decals bearing the words: "Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt" will be distributed free by many member companies.

ICE BOATING

THE 4,000 YEAR OLD SPORT OF ICE BOATING ORIGINATED IN NORTHERN EUROPE WHERE BONE WAS USED AS RUNNERS. AMERICAN INTEREST IN THIS FASTEST OF WINTER SPORTS WAS SPURRED BY A THREE-BOAT RACE 30 MILES UP THE FROZEN HUDSON JUST 100 YEARS AGO.

LOW COST, EASILY TRANSPORTABLE SKEETER MODELS HAVE MADE THIS EXCITING WINTER SPORT A FAVORITE. BLUE JEANS, THICK PARKAS AND KNIT FACE MASKS PROTECT ENTHUSIASTS AGAINST THE SHARP WINDS.

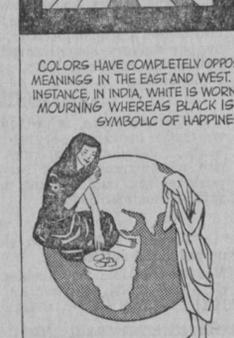

What They Wore... by PHYLLIS JOYCE

EARLY IN THE CHRISTIAN ERA THE CLERGY SOUGHT TO GIVE MEANINGS TO COLORS TO EXPRESS RELIGIOUS FEELINGS. EARLY MINIATURES AND WINDOWS IN CATHEDRALS SHOW THE VIRGIN MARY IN BLUE—THE COLOR THE CLERGY DESIGNATED AS THE SYMBOL OF TRUTH AND ETERNITY

THE NAMES OF COLORS FOR GARMENTS REFLECT THE TIMES. CAN YOU IMAGINE LIVING DURING THE TIME OF SHAKESPEARE AND TRYING TO DECIDE BETWEEN A DRESS IN "WHEY", "PEASE-PORRIDGE TAWNY" OR "BEGGARS' GRAY"?
