MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

ANNUAL OUTING SET

The Taneytown Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at Taney Inn.

Preceding dinner, Mr. Frank Milani, Jr., made a brief presentation concerning an advertising promotion that his firm, the Mi-Hi Corporation, desires to conduct in Carroll County and various municipalities, including Taneytown. The promotion involves a map of Carroll County, street maps of the municipalities involved and is supported by advertising, subscribed by local firms, and contained on the map brochure. After discussion, it was decided that this brochure would serve no useful purpose. Therefore, the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce gives public notice that it does not support or sanction this program.

August 25 was set as the date for the annual Chamber outing. President Frank Dunham appointed the following committee to arrange the outing: George Fream, Chairman; Paul Morelock and Thomas Smith.

The Chamber was made aware of contacts by the Mayor and City Council with Hurlock Bros. of Frederick, Md. This is an advertising firm specializing in promotional work for municipalities, counties, etc. The finished product is in brochure form, highlighting historic points of interest, recreational facilities, industrial promotion, highways, transportation, etc. Of course, any information desired by the sponsoring group can be included. Distribution can be made as desired. The Council is very much interested in entering into a contract with Hurlock Bros. to have such a brochure prepared for Taneytown if sufficient interest is evidenced. The Chamber seemed essentially in agreement but suggested that, in order to make this a truly community enterprise, the Council arrange a meeting with the representative of Hurlock Bros., the Council, the Chamber and representatives of the various civic groups before making a decision. This suggestion will undoubtedly be carried out.

Members are reminded that the next Chamber meeting will be a dinner meeting at Taney Inn, 6:30 P. M., June 20.

Local Man Named Delegate to Lutheran Convention

Merwyn C. Fuss of Taneytown will be an official delegate at the third biennial convention of the Lutheran

Merwyn C. Fuss

Church in America in Kansas City, June 21-29.

At least 2,000 persons are expected to attend the 8-day convention of the 3,265,000-member denomination, including 686 delegates from the 50 states, Canada and the Caribbean.

The delegates will set policy for the operation of the church in the next two years.

Among items on the agenda is the election of president and treasurer of the LCA as well as several members of the Executive Council and boards and agencies. The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, 65, of New York City, who has been president of the Lutheran Church in America and one of its predecessor bodies since 1944, is eligible for reelection.

Four position statements — on poverty, church-state issues, capital punishment and harassment of religious minorities — will be presented by the Board of Social Ministry. Approval of all four by convention delegates would double the number of policy positions taken by the LCA since it was constituted in 1962 with the merger of four Lutheran churches.

Delegates will also consider sweeping changes in LCA pension plans and a recommendation that Lutheran Church Men be dissolved as a national auxiliary. Searching reports are expected on the nature and mission of the congregation in today's urban society and on the doctrine of the church's ministry.

Mr. Fuss is a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church in Taneytown. The convention will be held in Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each bright day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

How beautiful the country side right now with all the vivid colors and especially the azaleas that are just about everywhere on city lawns, in the suburbs and the country! How sad all this beauty leaves us in so short a time but then there are other flowers to take their place.

Now, ladies, this will bring a big laugh—something funny happened on the way to Dr. Zhivago last Saturday. I parked the car up town and taking the bus down to Franklin Street and as I walked into the bus, I saw several people smile. I did not give much thought to it until I was looking in a window on Franklin Street at a pair of shoes. Being the day was a warm one, the door was open of this shoe shop and the lady said to me, "A price tag is on your upper sleeve, would you like me to remove it?" The store is called "Sachs," which has been right there for twenty years—a husband and wife team. Their slogan is, "There is no business like SHOE business!" I learned much right in that store and will write about it in my next week's column.

And as to that three-piece dress which I purchased about three months ago, after removing it upon my return it was full of wrinkles and always laying out anything first before hanging it away for about a half-hour, I went to do this and found it wrinkle free! (Rayon and silk — Wamsutta.) Nice!

As to the show Dr. Zhivago at the Mayfair theatre, it is a 3½-hour affair yet it was interesting that the hours flew. There it was, RUSSIA — cold, cold Russia — with the snow, snow and more snow and even all overcoats were wrapped up in cloths as they trudged along in the deep white stuff. The hard expressions of the men who appear as always so frightfully strong. The stars are Geraldine Chaplin, Julie Christie who won the Oscar for the best actress award. The show is most dramatic and the time when the Revolution was just beginning. Those cold, cold winters—Brrrrr! The hero (Omar Sharif) is a doctor, poet, healer and a creator, a symbol of man's constructive potential. He and his wife Tonya are members of the minor aristocracy living in a gracious and charming world which is completely swept away in the tide of the Revolution. They are uprooted, tossed about and finally parted when he is taken away to the service as a doctor. Then, he meets Lara (Julie Christie), a vibrant woman who reminds him of the beauty and warmth of nature. He finds peace with her until the war breaks again when they are separated. The entire cast is excellent and if you like a real deep, deep movie by no means miss it!

As to the movie "Madame X" with Lana Turner is an excellent picture although the story is 60 years old, it always brings a big crowd. The last time I saw it was in 1937 with Ruth Chatterton as the star. It is now being shown at five different movie houses but there is something about the Boulevard that I love—the huge, comfortable and reclining seats plus the atmosphere. Lana Turner shows that she really is a dramatic actress and this is her best picture. Of course, it is very sad and you will need to take along a couple of handkerchiefs (I could not stop sobbing) as you hear the son tell his father after the court room scene that he loved this woman the minute he saw her that he just did not know what it was! The nasty mother-in-law rules the home and insists that Holly Parker leave her husband and go on a trip out to sea to disappear so as she would not ruin the business career of her husband's who is now a very successful man. The mother plans it all due to the fact that Holly saw a man fall down the stairs and through this accident he dies! All of it was supposed to be secretly done through the planning of the mother-in-law as to going out to sea. Then, you see "Madame X" sinking lower and lower in life. This picture seems to be the favorite drama of the public and my advice is not to miss it.

Last week, folks, how strange I felt looking at the aged doorman thinking I had seen him some place or other in my lifetime! When the movie was over, he stopped me and said, "Are you not Irene deLeon Love?" I am Arthur Buckingham, who lived across the street with my family when you were a little girl in Philadelphia just seven years of age! He handed me two pieces of paper on which was written all the names and addresses and phone numbers of the entire family now living in Baltimore and he added, "be sure and call Lillian as soon as you get home!" Now, how about that?

The finest face and best commercial on any TV network is the gentleman who says, "It's silicone smooth!" Eh, ladies?

So long, folks, until next week, D.V. Always remember this bit of wisdom . . . There is nothing so powerful as truth and nothing so strange!

I am,
Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

There was a terrible crash as the train struck the car. A few seconds later, Mr. and Mrs. crawled out of the wreckage. Mrs. opened her mouth to speak, but her husband stopped her. "Don't say a word," he snapped. "I got my end of the car across. You were driving in the back seat, and if you let it get hit it's no fault of mine."

FACTS AND OPINIONS

As an aftermath of the power blackout in the northeastern U. S., the Monongahela News says: "Consolidated Edison still is sweating out the problem of finding a power plant location acceptable to everyone. In their fight with the conservationists and nature lovers who have blocked, at least temporarily, Con Ed's proposal for a pumped storage project at Cornwall, on the Hudson, the company recently got a bit of support from Robert Moses, chairman of the New York City Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority. Moses said that turning the control of the city's water and power supplies over to 'bird watchers' is the wrong solution."

Congressman Wendell Wyatt, of Oregon, called inflation "nothing but legalized robbery."

The Oregon Department of Motor Vehicles has released statistics which show that 64 per cent of the 70 motorists who failed to produce driver's licenses when stopped at New Year's Eve roadblocks had no legal right to drive. Twenty-eight and six-tenths per cent of the drivers had no driver's license; 17 per cent were driving while suspended; 10 per cent had no Oregon driver's license, but had a record on file as a result of previous accidents or violations; and 7 per cent had allowed their licenses to expire. The remaining 37 per cent (26 drivers) had valid licenses, but did not have them in their possession when stopped. The Indian government—facing the worst famine in 18 years—asked the Indian Red Cross to operate supplementary feeding stations throughout the 260 Red Cross branches in the famine area. According to reports from India, most immediate need is for rice, milk powder, protein rich food, baby foods and multivitamins.

Urban renewal and other federal programs are major causes of dependency and decay among the very people the projects are supposed to help, members of the United States Commission on Civil Rights said at a recent meeting held in Cleveland, Ohio. One member of the Commission, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame University, said that federal rebuilding programs, as administered here and in other cities were actually immoral and that people find their houses bulldozed from under them. And the present Administration's proposal for 60 to 70 "demonstration cities" could end up the same way. These would seem to be good arguments for defeating this federal proposal.

Rainbow trout are being used at Oregon State University for research work. The trout are replacing white mice and guinea pigs as research animals. Scientists in the food toxicology and nutrition laboratory are breeding their own stock. Trout are ideal for certain types of research because they are highly sensitive to many toxic materials which may be found in food and water.

M. L. Haider and J. K. Jamieson, chairman and vice chairman of the Esso Education Foundation, point out in the Foundation's report that success in providing more and better education will be a vital factor in the future of the American society. "Increased private assistance, including corporate support, will also help to encourage growth in initiative and independence," they write.

Joseph J. Brown, chairman of the Nebraska State Railway Commission, says: "Although regulation is deeply concerned with prices, the overall approach calls for emphasis on the economic and social objectives of these prices—an adequate rate of return for the company, and a level that makes service available and useful to the greatest possible number of people. So long as profit levels are closely regulated, I don't believe that regulation should invade the sphere of management by a hairsplitting approach to pricing."

DOES YOUR ATTIC CONCEAL VALUABLE CIVIL WAR RELICS?

Many attics and basements in Carroll County conceal (without the occupants' knowledge) priceless relics of the Civil War that the Union Room Committee of the Maryland Historical Society hopes it can bring to light for display in the Civil War Room of the new home it is erecting on West Monument Street in Baltimore.

Housewives in the Taneytown area therefore, are being appealed to by John H. Heidemann, relicarian of the group, to keep a weather eye out for such precious commodities during spring house cleaning that they'll be doing in earnest now that the weather is warming up.

Especially desired are mementoes directly concerned with the approximately 60,000 men from Maryland, who served in the Union Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

However, in addition to such things as uniforms, documents, letters, maps, pictures, weapons, and assorted military accoutrements — there are still concealed in out-of-the-way trunks and storage boxes, thousands of pieces of memorabilia dealing with the "home" front—the social life of the State during the years 1861-1865, and the committee in charge is equally desirous of obtaining such things for the information they'll cast upon the activities of "those they left behind them."

Recent campaigns by the Committee have unearthed much of value from the families of some of the most prominent and best known generals, colonels and other officers who served the Union. But equally to be valued — and just as much wanted — are the relics of the Maryland "Billy Yanks" who played humbler roles but without whom the war could not have been won.

Also desired are political mementoes of such prominent Maryland Union figures as Governor Augustus W. Bradford and Thomas H. Hicks; Senators Reverdy Johnson, Anthony Kennedy, James A. Pearce and John A. J. Creswell; Representatives James A. Stewart of Cambridge; Edwin H. Webster, Bel Air; J. Morrison Harris, Baltimore; Henry Winter Davis, Baltimore; Jacob M. Kunkel, Frederick; George W. Hughes, West River; Charles B. Calvert, Bladensburg; John W. Crisfield, Princess Anne; Cornelius L. Leary, Baltimore; Henry May, Baltimore; Francis Thomas, Franklinville; and Benjamin G. Harris, Leonardtown.

These men served the State during the 36th, 37th and 38th Congresses, and while there is much historical doubt about their complete loyalty (two of them, May and Harris, having been arrested and jailed for disloyalty at one time or another during the war) the Committee still seeks mementoes of them — letters, documents, photos, personal possessions, etc.

Any Taneytown area housewife bringing to earth such memorabilia during her spring housecleaning will earn the heartfelt gratitude of the Society and particularly the Union Room Committee by giving or lending the items for display where they can be best seen and most appreciated by the Marylanders whose ancestors these men served.

Communication can be made either to the Society at 200 West Monument Street or (preferably) to John H. Heidemann, relicarian, at 4605 Mark Avenue, Baltimore 5, Md., phone 485-5585. Arrangements will be made to pick up the items and prepare them for exhibition.

The successful man has the ability to make himself, as well as others, work.

MAYBERRY

There will be a Memorial Service at Mayberry Church Cemetery May 22 at 2:30 P. M. There will be special music and speaker. Everyone welcome. Special welcome to those having relatives buried there.

Corn planting time is here, but the weather still seems to hold a bit of winter's sting yet that seems to hold the farmers back a bit; but it will come around all right as the Bible tells us there will always be a seed time and harvest, Gen. 8:22, which is one of God's promises. And, folks, we are well fed, we could live on lots less than we do and which we may have to. God wants humble people and we in America may have to be brought down to where we can call on God more than we have done for some years.

We will soon be having some moving going on in this community. We don't see the old movings or flittings like there use to be when the neighbors, friends and relatives all came in to help. They would get around early in the morning and move the old cook stove to the new place, set it up and be ready to get the big dinner; and oh, those good eats. Not many have the old wood cook range any more, though a few around Mayberry still can boast of one. A good thing to have when the furnace goes off and a big snow is on.

Mrs. Oliver Brown, our oldest citizen, came home from her winter in Florida. She has spaded and put out garden and now has a quilt in and quilting. Could any of us younger folk do any better?

Sorry to have to lose one of our older neighbor folks. Mrs. Zelma Kunkle is moving away. We hope she will be happy in her new home. Times have changed. It use to be that boys and girls were never seen kissing; that was reserved till they were about ready to get married or even married. Now they are seen kissing right out in plain view in broad daylight—and so young. No wonder we don't have the happy, peaceful homes like we use to; they don't know what love really is.

Well, the little old-fashioned church in Mayberry has its door open for Sunday school at 9:30 A. M. and preaching at 10:15. Everyone welcome, come bring a friend.

LITTLESTOWN STOPS TIGERS, 5-1

Bollinger Gets Lone RBI; Storey Loses 3 Hitter

Tiger hurler Morgan Storey gave up only three hits, but the tight infield play of Littlestown and the clutch pitching of Charlie Chronister gave the Littlestowners a 5-1 win over Taneytown at Memorial Park on Sunday.

Star of the Game

Morgan Storey

Opening day fans were treated to a tight pitching duel between Morgan Storey and Chronister. The Tigers left many men stranded on the pads and this was the story of the game. The opportunities presented themselves, but the local nine just couldn't take advantage of them for the needed runs.

Arvin Bollinger got credit for the only r.b.i. of the game for the Tigers in the third frame. Morgan Storey was hit on the foot by a pitch, took second on a walk to "Scooter" Pfutz, advanced to third on a single by Jimmy Myers and rode home on "Skinny's" base knock through the middle of the infield.

Littlestown scored the only runs they needed in the third on a two out, two run double off the bat of Ralph Dusan. They added three more in the last frame with a base hit. Ernie Combs let a fly ball drop in to allow for two tallies and another was scored on a fielder's choice.

A fine opening day home crowd went home disappointed with the outcome, as Littlestown won it second straight decision at Memorial Park, going back to last season.

In the hitting department, Jimmy Myers, Arvin Bollinger and Ernie Combs chipped in with two base hits each. Our new left fielder, George Crouse, was welcomed by the opening day crowd. Long a favorite here, George went hitless in four at-bats, but won the throng with his fancy fielding, especially on his "Willie Mays" basket catch in the fourth inning. The "oohs" and "aahs" ran through the park. No doubt George will see some pitching duty before too much longer. As for pitching on Sunday, the Tigers wasted it.

THE DEFENDING LEAGUE CHAMPIONS, the Minnesota Twins, have been plagued by injuries to key men, yet they have managed to stay within hailing distance of the top. Credit the torrid hitting of Tony Oliva, who is in search of his third straight American League batting title. When full health returns to shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Jim Grant, the Twins should make their presence felt again—which of course, will make the race that much more of a scrap.

Today's Sport Laugh — Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phils has been experimenting with using Richie Allen in the outfield, although his normal position is third base. Allen had a rough time in an exhibition game and afterward, someone told Allen he looked a little awkward. Replied Allen: "I don't think I was awkward—I was just plain scared."

MUSIC FORUM . . .

by Dennis O. Baumgardner

This week's musical forum covers some of the highlights of the American singer Connie Francis. She is a very competent actress, but her big success is her singing. An interesting note that was made of Connie was that if all her records were stacked in one place, it would rise clear out of sight. That's how popular Connie is the world over. Some of her most popular records include "Who's Sorry Now," 1958; "Lipstick on Your Collar," 1958; "Where the Boys Are," 1960; and "Follow the Boys," a 1963 hit. The last two songs, incidentally, are from two of her most successful movies. She is without a doubt the most celebrated female vocalist in the world.

Connie Francis is the type of singer who can make you feel the way she feels when she sings, and her trophy room can prove it. She holds awards and honors from all over the world, and she continues to make new records, blazing into new areas, bringing her talents to wider and wider audiences. It's expected of the champion, required of the leader, and a fact of life for Number One.

And Connie is definitely Number One. Some of her trophies include awards as the Most Talented Female Vocalist for the last three years in The Billboard's Annual Disc Jockey Survey, Favorite Female Vocalist in the same poll, and the title "Most Popular Artist in Europe," conferred by Radio Luxembourg. The British publication, New Musical Express, as a result of its poll, proclaimed Connie "The World's Most Popular Singer."

It all adds up to an image that must grow, just as the listeners and fans grow in numbers. For the burn-haired songstress it means new worlds to conquer, new friends to make, new goals to strive toward.

Today, Connie is also Number One as a multi-lingual vocalist. She has made records in nine languages. It's not enough for her to bring music to her listeners, but as your considered Number One, to bring it in the native language of each land. She fulfills her responsibility as "the top star" and does that little extra in every area of her career to increase the range of her stardom.

There could be more said about Connie Francis, but there is little written about her as yet, for she is relatively a newcomer to an era of top stars. But the fact remains that she is one of the best and most likeable personalities of the musical world.

I will see you again next week with a different concept of the musical forum and our discussion will cover one of the newest upbeat groups, "Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass." If there are any special requests for Music Forum as to whom you would like to discuss, don't hesitate to ask.

Lesson for May 22, 1966

Background Scripture: II Kings 14:23-29; Amos 5:1-15, 21-24; 6:1-7, 7.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 5:1-7.

The United States as a nation is like a man who has worked hard and saved money carefully all his life, and suddenly one morning wakes up to find himself rich. He has so much money that he doesn't have to be thrifty any more. He belongs to the "Haves", not the "Have-nots". It is a bewildering experience for which he has had no preparation. Someone will even have to invent a

Dr. Foreman word to describe the kind of society (that is, what kind of country or nation) he lives in. Indeed someone has invented or dug up from the less-used pages of the dictionary, just the word to describe the kind of society we are: an affluent society. That means, put in less fancy words, a society that has more money than it knows what to do with.

Nobody Loves Poverty

The emergence of a nation as rich as ours is a rare thing in human history. Nations tend to take all the credit for their own affluence, but this is pure conceit. It was conceit when the nation of Israel through a combination of circumstances found herself wealthy. It is conceit for us to forget the factors (oil and copper, for two) that have contributed so much to our wealth, factors we enjoyed and used but did not create. But that is another story. The point here is that nobody and no nation wants to be poor. Indeed, don't most of us feel that if we only had money all our troubles would vanish away? Yet newspaper readers know that crimes such as drug taking, sex-crimes, theft and murder, are committed often by the young people from the community's "best" homes. Instead of doing away with troubles, families are finding out every day that money, so far from solving our problems, often only adds one more problem to those we have. And still we are foolish enough to want to be rich. Even we who read and claim to believe the Bible forget its many warnings against affluence.

DANGER FOR "HAVES"

For the fact is that in the Bible there are many more warnings against wealth than against poverty. The prophets were always condemning the rich, as Amos did. Jesus warned against riches in his Sermon on the Mount and in many parables. The only character in Jesus' stories who ended in hell was a rich man. James utters a special warning to those who contribute to the poverty of the poor by overcharging them or otherwise swinging the scales of justice in favor of the affluent. Prophets in the nation of Israel, at a time when that little nation thought it had "arrived" kept warning more insistently than ever that what makes a nation great is not wealth but character.

CHARACTER CALLED FOR

When a society becomes affluent, it is on the brink of becoming soft and rotten. Solid Christian character is just as needed in an affluent society as in a poverty-stricken one. But what traits of character are especially called for? What kinds of men, in short, are needed to stop the process of decay? One kind of man certainly is needed, in prosperity and poverty no less, men of reliable character, men who will not forsake the hard for the easy way. But remember: wealth is one of the severest tests of human character. For example, a man may be known for his self-discipline. He does not indulge in social drinking. He takes no alcoholic drinks in public or in private. But why is he a total abstainer? Perhaps only because he can't afford liquor at present prices. But if being poor is your only reason for being good, then you aren't very good after all!

New Flotation Jacket

Coast Guard Approves Boating Safety Aid

CHICAGO — A unique garment of high interest to boating enthusiasts, fishermen, hunters and sportsmen in general, has so many safety features, it is the first of its kind to win approval of the U. S. Coast Guard.

Safety-Jac, manufactured here, contains two independent flotation units. Each alone, is capable of keeping the wearer afloat, face up, through an automatic righting action. The first consists of cloth-covered PVC polyvinyl foam blocks, which extend over the shoulders and back. The second is a two-way inflatable bladder, utilizing either a self-contained CO-2 cartridge, or mouth-inflation. Available in a high-visibility orange or vivid blue, the new jacket is beautifully tailored of 100% nylon, with an outer shell of high-tensile strength water-repellent nylon. Elastic wristlets and a zip-away hood give added protection and comfort under severe conditions. Weighing only three pounds, it has trim modern lines, is not bulky, and permits complete freedom of movement when worn under ordinary conditions. It's available in adult small, medium, large and extra-large sizes. Its retail price, under $50, includes all units in place — polyvinyl blocks, bladder and cartridge. Descriptive literature is available from the manufacturer, Woolenwear Co., 222 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606.
