"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

How lovely the "Memorial Day"! To my surprise there were so few flags displayed as I drove up to West Grove, Pa. That was only in Maryland and as soon as I drove over the Md.-Pa. line every house and business was celebrating with the smallest to the largest one and of course that thrilled me!

As I went to the grave in Darlington, Md., where a soldier was buried who was in the First War—in the trenches for eight months—seeing all his buddies killed beside him in France—called the American Legion—there was the flag on that soldier's grave—my Minister—which always touches me deeply as they never forget! I thought that I would be early enough for the ceremonies but, no doubt maybe two hours late. Do you know that it was in the year of 1868, the first Memorial Day was generally observed across the nation to honor the dead in the Civil War? Wonderful! And it was in 1945 that the Memorial Day Services were held at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Washington.

And now, folks, that nice Dr. Calvin Hornstein has another office—No. 3 at 12 Guilford Ave., Baltimore. It is called "The Midtown Treatment Centre."

Well, there are many women who are doing their Christmas shopping right now, believe it or not, due to the terrific sales these days. That is wise!

Mrs. Housekeeper, the next time you go to shop, ask the grocer if he sells "BIXMIX" from the Martha White's Kitchens from Nashville, Tenn. Just add water and Ummmmmm good!

The house where I visited in West Grove is over two hundred years old and Abraham Lincoln signed for it to be a post office which was also a store and a big home building. It all has been restored without the store just the dwelling part and never have I seen anything so beautiful! The young owner who passed away not long ago was also in the mushroom business and instead of flowers on the tombstone there are mushrooms in the corner carved out, on or in the stone! How original! I never thought mushrooms were beautiful before!

Now, here is a good dessert, ladies. After preparing Jello or Royal (the latter which I use) do not place in the fruit but after it is firm and ready to serve take spoonful of "fruit cocktail" and place it on top. It has a grand taste and so very different than adding the fruit before it is firm.

Be sure and see "Main Set" site of a film shop—"The Shop on Main Street"—at the "Little or Pikeville" for it truly is a most impressive film. It is a film of comedy and tragedy and it has a moral. It is a brilliant evocation of a particular time and place. It takes place in a small Slovakian village in the year of 1942—the hero is Tono (Josef Kroner) with Roaslie Lautmann (Ida Kamulsky) who operates a "button shop" and who is a Jewish widow. The story is so very human that I will say, "Just go to see it!"

Now, here's one for you—a little boy was looking at a western on TV and his mother steps into the room and sees a man going into a saloon and as the mother is very severe against any kind of drink of alcohol (which the little son realizes) when she throws up her hands in horror, the little son quickly says, "Oh, Mama, he is not going into that saloon to take a drink, he is going in there to kill a man!"

So long, folks. Have a grand week-end and do take care of your teenager! Until next week, D.V.

I am,
Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

One reason students cheat in school, according to an article by Nancy Bowden in the Farm Journal, is that the parents keep after the students to make good grades. This was the reason given in 62 per cent of the cheating cases students confessed to in a survey of 100 Virginia schools. Reason behind the increased pressures from parents for good grades is the desire to have their children go to college. So cheating has become big business—and a major concern in 70 per cent of the schools surveyed. Other reasons for cheating were: Pressure to conform, and laziness.

Alan S. Boyd, Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation says, "It is an oft-used cliché but a truism nonetheless that transportation is the lifeline of our nation. It affects the cost of everything we buy. And it is generally agreed that the future of our nation will depend upon how well we all handle the job of integrating and coordinating the most advanced technologies into all segments of our transportation mix."

The Industrial Forestry Association notes that in the big timber country of Oregon and Washington, over 800 tree farms encompassing some 7 million acres are located west of the Cascade mountains.

The United States, still the world's leading oil-producing nation, broke all records in 1965 with an average daily output of nearly 7.8 million barrels. Oil Facts says the Soviet Union ranked second with about 5 million barrels a day and Venezuela third with nearly 3.5 million barrels.

Theodore Roosevelt once said, "The things that will destroy America are peace at any price, prosperity at any price, safety first instead of duty first, love of soft living, and the get-rich-quick theory of life."

Nine thousand pedestrians were killed by traffic in this country last year. Many because they believed they had the right of way.

J. Edgar Hoover's annual report to the Attorney General on the past year of FBI work puts the government once again on notice that the Communist Party is alive and kicking. Its membership is up 10 per cent or more, Hoover says, from the 10,000 reported a year ago (probably an underestimation), and recruiting activity has been greatly encouraged by recent Supreme Court decisions.

Alcoholism, states Dr. Ruth Fox, medical director of the National Council on Alcoholism, is a wrecker of home and family. She says it causes a "... high rate of divorce, desertion, poverty, promiscuity, illegitimate pregnancy, physical abuse and cruelty," in addition to a high mortality rate.

It is estimated that 18 million of the 800 million drug prescriptions filled in the U.S. last year came from dentists, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association reported.

Gas companies are particularly vulnerable to slight changes in temperatures. A one-degree drop has been known to increase the demand for gas by forty million cubic feet.

This Business Of Beauty

Simple but beautiful! Concrete area outside of Cobo Hall, Detroit's convention hall, boasts evenly spaced boxes planted with trees and shrubs, surrounded by colorful annual flowers.

Take a tip from one who knows — Dick Fanning of the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation. After partaking in a successful beautification program for downtown Detroit he offered the following ten ideas at the state-wide governor's conference on natural beauty.

- 1—Be certain that the head of your local government is enthusiastic about and firmly committed to the local beautification program.
- 2—Select a small committee of people from different city departments, each with authority to make decisions without appealing to someone higher up. This may mean that the head of each department delegates authority but it is essential to the success of the program.
- 3—A working committee of not more than 4 or 5 people should tour the areas to be beautified, select the projects to be attempted and assign them to various city departments.
- 4—Beautification should not conflict with city planning. Small, inexpensive beautification projects should be selected. Taken all together they will give a large overall effect. Huge projects which require a great deal of planning time never get off the ground.
- 5—Set a deadline for the completion of the beautification program. This might be a civic event, an important meeting in the city or something similar.
- 6—One-shot beautification projects should be avoided. Plan only those that can be continued year after year and add to them each year.
- 7—Since there is no such thing as a new idea, do not be embarrassed by using ideas that have been used previously by others.
- 8—Don't be afraid to experiment — don't be afraid to fail.
- 9—Get things DONE. Do not try to put all plans on paper and talk them over for weeks. Select a few streets; make them colorful with flowers so people can see and enjoy them.
- 10—Don't plan long-range projects. Select only those beautification ideas which can be achieved shortly or immediately.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is presented as a public service in cooperation with the Treasury Department and The Advertising Council.

To the star-spangled American boss

—And others who deserve it for doing a favor that you might not have thought about

Hats off to the many presidents and managers of companies who helped build the Payroll Savings Plan into what it is today—one of the most popular and easy ways to save money.

These business leaders provided the facilities and manpower necessary to operate the Plan—plus their own enthusiastic endorsement. And never stopped to count hours or pennies.

Thanks to them, over 8 million Americans—their employees—are building security and helping their country through this automatic savings plan.

There are others who have helped other millions of Americans own a share of their country. Volunteers in every walk of life. Folks in radio and TV, movies and the theater. Newspaper and magazine and billboard folks. And Bond "salesmen" in thousands of banks and savings institutions.

Buy Bonds at your bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, and you'll see what a good idea it is. And the next time you see your boss (who helped make it so easy for you to save)—thank him.

He deserves it—from all 190 million of us.

MARRIED

MRS. JOHN DUNCAN-HELLER

HELLER — CLINGAN

Miss Faye Louise Clingan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ralph Clingan of Taneytown, Md., was married Saturday, May 28, to First Lieutenant John Duncan Heller, United States Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Desmond Heller of Glen Head, N. Y. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Howard Miller at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Taneytown.

Traditional wedding selections were sung by Miss Gale Crabbs, cousin of the bride, accompanied by Miss Hazel Hess, organist.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an A-line empire gown of organza over taffeta trimmed with chantilly lace. The removable chapel length train was attached from her shoulders and was accented by borders of lace. Her head piece was made of pearl clusters attached to elbow length frothy illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. John W. Wetzel, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Anne Fox of Miami Shores, Fla., and Mrs. Arthur Buchman of Baltimore. They wore matching floor length aqua gowns made of sack cloth. The dresses had an empire waist straight skirt with a contrasting lace top. Adding to the dresses were removable short jackets with Kabuki sleeves.

The matron of honor carried a cascade of white roses and daisies while the bridesmaids held cascades of yellow roses and daisies.

Mr. Alan Bigley of Doylestown, Pa., was best man. Ushers included

Mr. John W. Wetzel, Taneytown; Mr. James Keyton, Waldorf, Md.; Mr. Ralph Cann, Palmyra, N.J., and Mr. Rorick Rimash of Baltimore.

The flower girls were Kristen Keyton, niece of the bride. She wore a white, empire-styled dress and carried a basket of yellow roses and daisies. Master Jeffrey Wetzel, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. Acolytes were Master John Wetzel, nephew of the bride, and Master James Yealy, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise silk dress with short sleeves accented with a scattering of crystal drops and matching seed pearls. The groom's mother wore a two-piece mint green silk dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore a white orchid corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church social hall. Out-of-state guests were from New York, New Jersey, Ohio, District of Columbia, Virginia and Pennsylvania.

For going away, the bride chose a green A-line dress with a matching jacket. A white rose corsage and matching white accessories were worn to complete the ensemble.

Mrs. Heller is a graduate of Taneytown High School and Towson State College where she belonged to Gamma Theta Upsilon Fraternity, national geography honor society, Lieutenant Heller is an alumnus of Friends Academy, New York, and Johns Hopkins University where he was a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

The couple will reside in Oceanside, Calif., for the summer.

Creative Woman." So many things that are said about women, they said, are actually cliché expressions and are outdated or untrue. Three expressions were discussed and rewritten. Mrs. Gregg Kiser used "Never underestimate the power of a woman." This was rewritten as "Never underestimate the power of a Christ-filled life." "Woman's place is in the home" by Mrs. Charles Trout was rewritten as "Woman's place is to serve God in His world through her home"; "Woman's work is never done" by Mrs. Leonard Reifsnider, as "Woman's work is never done till God is praised through it and she finds rest in the 'good portion' of His word."

The "Special" of the evening was the singing of "Cleanse Me" by Mrs. Charles Trout, Mrs. Carroll Dougherty and Mrs. Leonard Reifsnider. In the absence of president, Mrs. Edward Coshun, Mrs. William Fleaharty conducted the business meeting. Registration for visitors for the LCW Convention was arranged. Plans for the food stand at the Blanchfield sale in August will be made at the July meeting. Cards were prepared for "shut-in" members. Refreshments were served by hostesses, Mrs. Loren Austin, Mrs. Thomas Flohr and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty.

The iris have been lovely here in the area and the peonies are blossoming forth this week while the roses are coming out in all their glory. Those at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sell in Keysville, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clabaugh of the Keysville Road are truly a sight to see. Sure there are lots of them in other gardens also.

Speaking of lovely flowers, Washington is so beautiful now. Course I always have ever since my high school trip. Last week from Tuesday afternoon until Friday evening, I enjoyed a four-day vacation visit with my sister, Carol Wolfgang, thanks to my husband my mother-in-law. I made a number of visits including having lunch with Mrs. O. M. Hobbs in Rockville and supper with my sister Fay Wolfgang in Kensington. Also had V.I.P. treatment with my sister Carol by her boss, John Elliott, international president of the Amalgamated Transit Union on Wednesday. (We celebrated her ninth year with the company and seventh as his secretary.) Even registered at the National Archives to do some genealogical research into the family background. Really enjoyed myself. I'm in favor of mother's having a few days away from her children occasionally. It is a good feeling to not have to worry about the clock all day and do just about what you would like to do and when you would like to do it. Even if it is just spending the morning reading a good book and then not feeling guilty for using the time that way. Wish all you mothers some free time. . . .

TIGERS LOSE SIXTH---DROP TO LAST

Owls Prevail, 6-4; Bulldogs Win, 7-3

The Taneytown Tigers lost their fifth and sixth game in a row over the week-end and have dropped to last place in the league standings.

On Sunday, the New Oxford Owls maintained their jinx over the Tigers with a 6-4 victory and on Tuesday night, in a make-up contest, the Brunsdown Bulldogs won their first game over the local nine in four years by a score of 7-3.

On Sunday, the Tigers turned on the extra base hit power but it was for naught, as John Harner won again to maintain his jinx over the Tigers. "Scooter" Pfoutz and Arvin Bollinger homered in a losing cause, as Art Caple lost his first game in three years.

The Tigers scored two tallies in the fourth frame on a sacrifice fly by Fred Shank and a single by Arvin Bollinger. The other runs scored on the homers.

MUSIC FORUM . . .

by Dennis O. Baumgardner

The past several weeks we have been giving you a run down on the top singers and how their careers got started. This week again, we will discuss one of the biggest money-makers of the recent year, "Pet" Clark.

Although she has sold millions of records in Europe, Petula "Pet" Clark was practically unknown in the United States until recently when Warner Bros. obtained the releasing rights of hits for America and she repeated her foreign hit pattern with the release of her first single, "Downtown," which skyrocketed up to the top 100.

At the beginning of World War II Pet starred on the B.B.C., singing and reciting poems for the families of British soldiers. Her first appearance gave birth to her career, and she became a regular on the network, making over 500 appearances by the time she was twelve.

While still in her teens, the lark began her wide travels as an artist, first in Holland, then farther into the continent, starting on radio, TV and making numerous p.a.s.

Despite the language barrier, she became famous throughout Europe. Following the release of her first English hit, "Gondolier," her French label, Vogue, requested that she perform the same song in French for Gallic release. Pet set marks in the record biz as the first vocalist to have a bi-lingual hit. She soon became a Parisian music-hall favorite.

The songstress, who is married to a French A&R director, now lives in Paris with her husband and two children.

This concludes another Musical Forum. Join me again next week as my series continues on the modern stars in music.

Devil's Disciple

Lesson for June 12, 1966

Background Scripture: II Kings 21:1-18; II Chronicles 33:1-20.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 143:1-10.

Why do people go wrong? The fact is, nearly every one who disobeys God does so because of some one else.

One of the worse kings in history was named Manasseh. He is denounced in the Bible not only on his own account, but because he "made Judah to sin." How do you make a nation sin? How do you make any one sin?

The answer is in another historian-prophet uses: the king "seduced" his people into sin. He was a kind of "devil's disciple" who lured (not lashed) his people into sins, worse than those of their godless neighbors.

Let's see how this works today. We can easily imagine the line put out by the devil's disciples. No doubt Manasseh used some form of these same old arguments.

'SWIM WITH THE TIDE'

"Everybody does it... Everybody thinks so... Who sees any harm in it? It's the New Thing, it is the wave of the future... Statistics show..." and so on. Now wait! You can't use statistics by themselves to show that anything is right or wrong. You can prove by the books that the consumption of heroin and marijuana and similar drugs is on the increase. But that is a long way from demonstrating that the use of heroin is growing less and less bad all the time. "All the kids in school cheat one way or another, it's only a kind of game." What does that prove? Suppose they did all cheat (which they don't), so what? It would not prove that dishonesty is getting nearer and nearer right all the time; all it would prove is that honesty is getting more and more scarce.

'THE BEST PEOPLE'

Another line put out by devil's disciples in all ages is: "Look at the best people; they wouldn't steer you wrong." In Manasseh's time, as we look back on it, this argument seems and is pretty dreadful. For the "best people" were the king and his court, and what they did was often cruel and wicked to the sickening point. This evil king burned his own child alive as a sacrifice to the dark gods Molech and Baal; that was wicked no matter who did it. Sin is sin when committed by gutter-snipe or aristocrat. But at the time, it is a little hard (to say the least) to live differently from the aristocrats. This argument, by the way, is seldom honestly put. The "best people" to whose example the devil's disciple points us are not always actually best. What is meant is the notorious people, the rich people, the social-register people, the playboys and girls. Those who get their pictures oftenest in the papers are not necessarily the best nor the wisest!

MAKING IT HARD

"You don't want to make a martyr out of yourself, do you? If you stand against the crowd you will do yourself no good. People will think you are some kind of nut." For example, when a young man (perhaps against the advice of his family) decides to enter the Christian ministry, one of the tests he will be required to take is psychiatric. This is only right and fair, for a man may be as unfit for the ministry for reasons of mental illness or weakness as by physical defects. But what is not so right and fair is the fact that often these tests are set and graded by psychiatrists who are not Christians. Their settled opinion is that if a young man "feels a call" to the ministry in the first place, it is a sure sign he is mentally abnormal. It is a fact that ministers (and one might add, Christians in general) in these times need to be specially hard-headed, to swim against the tide of popularity, to refuse to follow the pace-setters of society, and to face the scorn and even contempt of those who regard all godliness as so much weakness of the mind. But better this than saying "Yes" to any devil's disciple!

We're not worrying about that loud-speaker that can be heard four miles, it is the one that can be heard four apartments away that concerns us.

"Help Wanted" (selected)

While looking through the papers just the other day, I turned to the want ad section to see what it would say. My! but there was a list, as long as it could be. Surely, there's a job for me—I'll just look and see. I found the section, "Men Wanted!" At least that is what it said. And so I started reading—from top to bottom I read. There were auto mechanics wanted, and carpenters needed to; and men to sell, gas tanks to fill, and electrical jobs to do.

A plumber to fix pipes and a gardener to pull up weeds, but not a job was there for me—even among such needs. I read each ad with care—the ones I thought I'd try, but at the end it always said, "experienced only need apply." My heart was so discouraged as I laid the paper down, for in a list as long as this, not a thing for me I'd found. There was a large variety of jobs both old and new, but none that would take me as I was and teach me what to do.

I picked up my Bible then, to see what it would say; and see if there was comfort in its words for me today, the words I read were, "Follow Me", and a fisherman he it said. Everything to be supplied, even the daily bread!

Watchmen, too, were listed, and builders were in demand—none to be rejected; all could lend a hand! My eyes began to open and I knew right then and there, that now, concerned with what I'd learned, that I would fit somewhere.

For some were needed for breaking ground, and some to sow the seed, while some were needed to water, and others to keep out the weeds. And there was a harvest mentioned, but the laborers were too few; So I stopped and said to my Lord, "what will you have me to do?" Not knowing where I'd fit the best, or how I'd qualify, it seemed the only important thing was saying, "Here am I." His answer came, "start moving, and follow Me day by day; your teacher, The Holy Spirit, will lead you in the way. Obedience is the requirements for every job, you see, and what I need is Laborers," for that he could use even me.

Upon Every Remembrance of You (by R. E. Neighbor, D. D.)

Though years may come and go, I never forget
My heart doth still o'er flow without regret,
As I remember scenes of old when you first came into the fold—they linger yet.

How oft I pray for you by night and day,
That you will stand all true, in this my confidence is strong, it fills my being with a song, a happy lay.

Twas God the work began His Grace did send,
And through life's full span He will befriend,

And never leave thee, nor forsake thee, but will perform and undertake unto the end.

Tis thus, ye saints of yore, of days long past,
Still linger at the door in memories cast;

Your fellowship of old was sweet, I'll love you on, 'til at his feet we meet at last.

REPORT OF MUNICIPAL LEAGUE CONFERENCE IN OCEAN CITY

The 18th annual Conference of the Maryland Municipal League convened on June 5 at the Commander Hotel in Ocean City and extended through June 7. The League is presently serving 187 Maryland cities and towns.

The League is dedicated to the improvement of municipal government. The ability of a city council or town governing body to provide its citizens with practical, efficient and economical municipal government depends largely upon the knowledge of municipal officials about their duties and responsibilities.

The Conference furnishes each delegate the opportunity to obtain information which will assist him in the performance of his duties and offers him the opportunity to meet fellow municipal leaders, well qualified in local government with whom they may discuss matters of mutual interest.

The League serves as a municipal legislative representative, an information service through research, and an extensive municipal library, as liaison with federal, state, county and regional agencies and associations and as liaison with the Bureau of Governmental Research and the Maryland Technical Advisory Service.

Meetings and workshops were held on town charters, job descriptions, employee pay scales, drafting ordinances, codification of ordinances, federal aid programs, community development, urban renewal and housing and on the League and the Legislature.

The Conference was well attended and was of great value to all attending. Those representing Taneytown at this Conference were Mayor Perry and Councilmen Naylor and Smith.

Board Approves Operation For Extraction of Shale

WESTMINSTER — A 200-acre farm, although only 36 acres can be used, on the John Shirk Road, near Taneytown, has been approved by the Carroll County Board of Appeals to be the site of an extractive shale removal operation.

The applicant is Bowerston Shale Co., Bowerston, Ohio.

By limiting the use to only 36 acres, it was considered by the board that at the maximum rate of an acre per year, some 36 years would pass before any further area would be needed.

Several other limitations were placed on the firm's operation by the Appeals Board. They include the maintenance of the John Shirk Road which will permit the unobstructed passage of traffic at all times with work to include sufficient crusher run stone and a yearly application of calcium chloride to control dust.

Also the board restricts the area which would be stripped for excavation to one and a half acres at any one time. As additional areas are stripped, portions already excavated in excess of the acre and a half, must be rehabilitated by regrading, replacing top soil and planting of trees.

Protestants claimed that health, safety and general welfare of the community would be adversely affected, but the board ruled that it would not be.

The board directed the zoning administrator to issue the zoning certificate when the County Commissioners have certified in writing that the applicant has provided the guarantee required in the zoning ordinance and are assured of compliance with the conditions specifically set forth.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS ELECT ERWIN D. CANHAM PRESIDENT

FABIAN SACHRACH

ERWIN D. CANHAM
new President of the Christian Science Church

Scores of Christian Scientists from Maryland were in Boston Monday, June 6, for the movement's Annual Meeting at which it was announced that Erwin D. Canham, editor-in-chief of The Christian Science Monitor, had been elected president of the church, to serve one year.

Members from practically every church and Society in the state, including several from Christian Science Society, Westminster, were present among the estimated 15,000 persons attending the business sessions, the workshop meetings and the Tuesday evening meeting at which papers, elaborating upon the theme of the annual meeting, are presented.

Simultaneously with the announcement of Mr. Canham's election, according to Mrs. Charlotte Starnier, Assistant Committee on Publication for the Westminster area, construction workers a block away were beginning land clearance for the religion's expansion of its headquarters area, known as The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The election of Mr. Canham and the start of the clearance project, Mrs. Starnier pointed out, were the climatic events in this year's centennial observance of the founding of Christian Science by Mary Baker Eddy in 1866.

And, Mrs. Starnier added, the annual meeting brought forth the biggest attendance in the Church's history, with members from throughout the world overflowing the Church edifice into the adjacent Civic Auditorium and a nearby theater, where the proceedings were carried on closed-circuit television.
