It was amazing to see the state of Nebraska in irrigation.

VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

As a result of the current drought, our farm looks very much like an arid, brown desert, but set in the midst of the discouraging scene there is a charming, green oasis — the little stream, with its never-failing spring, and surrounded by tall shade trees. The latter beckon to me with leafy fingers, and I accept with pleasure their gracious invitation to escape the heat and struggle of this fierce summer day, for a little while, at least. Both dogs accompany me, and they immediately jump into the water, much to the dismay of the minnows and water-spiders. I content myself by relaxing under an ancient oak tree and enjoying the light, cool breeze. Across the countryside the heat shimmers as the hot sun blazes down, but here in the woodland it is deliciously cool.

Despite the temperature and the hour of the day (noon), the wildlife is quite active. A redheaded woodpecker hammers away at a dead tree, a towhee scratches energetically in the leaves and several bluejays go screaming by. A squirrel chatters indignantly at me for invading his property, and a rabbit scurries through the underbrush. The dogs are so intent on keeping cool that they are not in the least concerned. Suddenly the peace and quiet is shattered by the ominous wail of the fire siren. It seems that the engines go out at least once — sometimes several times — every day, for the countryside is so dry that fires start and spread quickly.

As the whistle fades away, I realize that I must get back to work, but thanks to my cool, green oasis, the world now seems a much better place, drought or no drought!

Meeting of Taneytown Lions Club

The Taneytown Lions held their regular meeting at Taney Inn on July 26, 1966, at 6:29. Group singing was led by Lion Keith Brown and the invocation was given by Lion Rev. Welker.

Past District Governor, Lion Harry Dougherty, Sr., inducted a new member, LeRoy D. Crowder of Taneytown, into our club.

Calendar Project Chairman, Lion Glenn Bollinger, announced four team captains for our project. They are Harry Dougherty, Jr., Glenn Reaver, Donald Baker and Alfred Heltebride.

Lion President Delmont Koons introduced Lions Morgan Leister and Theodore Koons of the Roaring Run Lions Club. Our Roaring Run neighbors showed slides of the New York Farm Museum and the Pennsylvania Farm Museum. This is pertaining to our Carroll County Farm Museum that will be open in Westminster on August 13, 1966. In 1963 the Carroll County Farm Museum idea was born. The Commission for the Museum was established in 1964. In January, 1965, this idea became a reality. A formal dedication for this museum will be held on the opening day of August 13, 1966.

A Board of Directors meeting was held immediately following the regular meeting.

The Lions Club will furnish the material to screen in one pavilion to prevent birds from roosting. This work will be done by our local Jaycees.

Following other items of routine business the meeting was adjourned.

GOALS FOR CHILD RAISING

C. S. Hill

May every child learn the challenge and the reward of work and responsibility; and (my own goal) that they shall share alike among them the duty and the joy of being kind to Mama in her twilight years; that they learn to seek, and to find reflected in the image of one's better self; and that they learn to bear disappointment without bitterness.

May they carry off to work, or to war, or wherever, a pocketful of memories that they may sustain and inspire.

Any annoyance by visiting children who cut up grafted apple trees to make weiner sticks is quickly tempered by recalling the words of Him who chided the scholars: "Forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom."

This was an article in a 1952 copy of Farm Journal. I found it to be quite interesting. I hope you enjoy it also. Mr. Hill was asked, "Just how should you raise a boy?" His answer was: "First, pick for him, as I did, the best mother in the world." Any answer beyond that is too tough for an amateur parent. (and is there any other kind?)

GOODLOE E. BYRON RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

Governor J. Millard Tawes recently announced the appointment of Frederick County Attorney, Goodloe E. Byron, to the "Commission to Revise Maryland's Planning and Zoning Laws."

At the initial meeting of the newly formed group, Byron was elected Chairman.

The Commission has been set up to review all significant state and local planning laws in the United States, in an effort to revise and to strengthen Maryland's laws on planning and zoning.

Byron, a member of Frederick's delegation to the General Assembly, stated, "With the enactment of recent re-appointment legislation, our State is rapidly moving away from its rural character into an expanding metropolitan complex. The work of our Committee will act as a guide line for the revamping of the existing zoning and planning laws now on our statute books, in keeping with the newly emerging character of our great State."

The Silver Fancy Garden Club was entertained at luncheon at the home of Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, Taneytown, on July 21 with Miss Liza Carpenter and Mrs. Harry Mohney as co-hostesses. There were 18 members and three guests present.

A business meeting following the luncheon was conducted by Miss Carpenter, president.

Mrs. William W. Noel, Director, District Five of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland, was guest speaker. Her talk outlined the activities of the various clubs and she suggested that club members should have other interests than just horticulture and flower arrangement, such as garden therapy, etc.

Mrs. Donald Cutchall, Hagerstown, Past President of the Half Way Garden Club, gave an interesting talk on birds and their habits.

Mrs. George N. Shower and Mrs. John L. Zent of Taneytown were welcomed into the club as new members. The next regular meeting will be held on August 18 at the home of Mrs. Harry Mohney, Taneytown, with Mrs. A. D. Alexander and Mrs. Robert Clingan as co-hostesses.

Letter To The Editor

Harney Road
Taneytown, Md. 21787
July 27, 1966

Editor
"Carroll Record" Newspaper
Taneytown, Maryland 21787
Dear Editor:

As a Democrat, and candidate for County Commissioner of Carroll County, I feel the voters should know just where I stand on some of the problems in our County. I have no intention of making any critical remarks about anyone who may be in office, or running for office. I believe there are a few things that should be given immediate attention. Something which I think is long overdue, not only in this county, but in all subdivisions, is the failure to recognize the changing time habits of the public. The merchant was quick to change his hours of business to accommodate the consumer, but government, not appreciating the fact that the consumer is also the taxpayer, continues to keep the same old hours of 9-5, never realizing how much inconvenience it is to the taxpayer, or how much it will cost him or her in time lost from work or business, and apparently cares less. With all county offices open either Friday from 1:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M., or Saturday morning from 9:00 A. M. to 1:00 P. M. for the convenience of the working man, who cannot afford to lose a day's pay, this would result in a savings to the taxpayer of the county in both time and money.

Secondly, I feel that all solicitors should be licensed. I have heard of far too many cases where people have been taken for magazines' subscriptions, septic tank cleaning, barn roof painting, out-door furniture, etc.

Thirdly, another problem which should be handled with dispatch, is the nuisance created by hunters. The ever increasing population of the county makes it very dangerous, because of the great migration of men with rifles and shotguns from the near-by cities. Carroll County should have a non-resident hunting license law.

I would greatly appreciate your printing the above as an "Open Letter to the Editor."

Thank you very much for your anticipated consideration.

Sincerely yours,
Paul M. Snyder

HAHN'S STATEMENT

"It was a very difficult decision for me to make," said Mayor Joseph H. Hahn, Jr., in commenting on his filing for election to the office of State Senator for Carroll-Frederick Counties. "I am gratified, of course, that many prominent citizens, as well as present and past members of the Legislature, of both political parties, from Carroll and Frederick Counties, have strongly encouraged my candidacy and have been extremely complimentary in stating that my experience and qualifications make me a logical and desirable candidate for the senatorial office." "However," Mayor Hahn added, "I have enjoyed my service as Mayor of Westminster since May of 1964 and have obtained a great satisfaction from the many projects completed or nearing completion during my administration. If elected to the Senate, Mayor Hahn continued, "I will be required by law to relinquish the Mayor's office, but between now and November, I will continue to work hard and devote the major portion of my time and efforts to the progress of Westminster and its citizens. As much as I have enjoyed being Mayor, I have a deep obligation to the many persons in Carroll County who have supported me over the years in the legislative elections, and who are now supporting me in the forthcoming senatorial contest. To these splendid people of Carroll County and to our fine neighbors in Frederick County," Mayor Hahn concluded, "I promise, upon election as one of the two Senators from the senatorial district, to serve with dedication to the best interests of our State and our two outstanding Counties."

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Calling the fire departments and that's just about everywhere! The firemen working right there will be pleased to read the following—that all their efforts are not in vain. Not long ago there was a kindergarten class of "St. Paul's", taken by their teacher, to the fire department in Towson. The fireman and guide taking the class around to teach and show them just what it means and what you should do in case of a fire.

A few weeks later, a little girl by the name of Traci Davis ran out of the house when there was an explosion in the dining room on the table of a "CHAFING DISH", as her mother had guests for lunch. There was much excitement and they missed the five-year-old and when she returned with several people, she said so quickly, "Well, that fireman told us when there is a fire to go out quickly and get help!" So you see, Gentlemen when you least expect it there it registers.

The recent Gladioli bulbs that I planted and that in only three days time are four inches above the ground! Something to brag about, Eh? It was thrilling to see this unexpected surprise! And thinking of flowers and a lovely garden. Recently I visited one on Charles St., nr. Belton Ave., and upon the entrance was a most attractive sign which read: "The Kiss of The Sun for pardon. The song of the birds for mirth. One is nearer GOD'S HEART in a garden than anywhere else on earth!"

If you want to see a lively movie with Elvis Presley visit any of the neighboring theatres. The Teen-agers think there is no one else to compare with this chap and it really convinces one that he is a special character all by himself! There is much beautiful scenery taken in Hawaiian locations and that alone you will love. The story casts Presley as a pilot in a helicopter service which ferries tourists and cargo around those islands and of course he is in the picture quite a ladies' man. You will enjoy it, I am sure.

The "Farmer's Almanac" surely was correct for the month of July . . . "Crows on fence — Rain Goes Hence! Best for vacation and recreation and peregrination. In a car or cellar you are safer by far. Sweater weather. Sou'wester for your siesta. Sunny and hot, just what you bought. Better to be soaked than to be croaked!"

Don't forget if you are driving up at any time to Harpers Ferry go to see West Virginia's New "John Brown Wax Museum" (the man who hated slavery). There are life-size, life-like tableaux featuring the controversial career of the famed abolitionist. The hours are from: 9:00 A. M. to dark from March 15 to October 31. The rates for adults 65 cents and children from 6 to 12, 35 cents and under 6, free. There are special group rates for schools, organizations, clubs, etc. Write group director or phone Harpers Ferry 2191. The nice part, too, it is fully air conditioned. Then there is one of those dining places which serve a grand meal. And from the rooms you can look deep into the Potomac River Valley with panoramic views of three states and two rivers. They are open from April 1 to December and open weekends only in the months of March. It is called "Hilltop House" and it is truly Historic and Picturesque!

Betcha, through the plane strike there will be many more automobiles sold in every state in these United States.

Have a grand week-end, folks and when it is hot be sure and relax as often as you can and be sure and have those cold glasses in the refrigerator. If you do not care for soft drinks, you can always have fresh lemons squeezed and ready to serve lemonade in those cold glasses when the unexpected caller arrives.

Until next week, D. V.

I am,
Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Lova

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK

National Farm Safety Week co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture will be observed July 24-30 this year, by Presidential proclamation. "Safety Is Victory Over Accidents" will be the theme of the Week, and its purpose will be to put a new awareness of safety procedures in the minds of the millions of people on American farms. Accidents kill more than 8,000 farm residents each year and injure an additional 700,000.

This year, emphasis will be on tractor safety and promotion of the SMV emblem—Slow-Moving Vehicle.
It is a triangular emblem, highly visible within 500 feet, day or night,
and is intended to be used on equipment traveling 25 miles per hour or less. Every operator of farm equipment should contact his county agent,
or the Farm Department of the National Safety Council, 425 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, to secure information on where to buy his SMV emblem. Practicing safety during National Farm Safety Week can create lifesaving habits
throughout the year.

NOTED AND PASSED

On Eliminating Poverty: Sargent Shriver says that if the Congress will just provide him with $40 billion,
more or less, he can eliminate poverty in this country entirely in the next ten years. At first we didn't think he could do it, but now after further thought we think maybe he can. Our first reaction was that extracting $40 billion from the productive, tax-paying citizens would simply impoverish them while lifting the other type out of the poverty bracket, thus making it necessary for Shriver to start another ten-year-plan to reverse the flow of money from the newly-prosperous to the newly-impoverished. But now, noting the rapid rise in food prices, we rather think that poverty-eliminator Shriver must be counting on those who provide the first $40 billion to have starved to death during the first ten-year plan.

Demonstration Cities: This is a wonderful idea, with just a few amendments. We'd keep the title just as it is: "Demonstration Cities."
We'd need a dozen or more of them scattered throughout the country, where demonstrators for any cause could gather and demonstrate to their hearts' content. There should be some wide streets for big demonstrations, and narrow streets for just a handful to successfully block. There should be fireproof, air-conditioned buildings for safe and comfortable sit-ins.
There must also be plenty of fast-igniting wooden structures for more riotous occasions.

Perhaps the toughest problem will be that of equipping those Demonstration Cities with citizens to harass, tourists to stare, policemen to throw rocks at, elderly folks to mug and rob after dark, and cameramen to record it all. Without cameramen, there'd be little point in demonstrating. Would it be out of line to suggest that maybe those who are so fond of demonstrating could take turns being each other's targets?

On Federal Employment: Figures
just released show that there are now more people on the Federal payroll in Washington than ever before in history. That's good. We have been mindful for some time that anybody who works actually works for the Federal government. It's nice that a few more are now getting paid for it.

clad and fed, and to have a reasonable opportunity to secure an education for the betterment of himself and the world in which he lives. The pills are helping to make this ideal a reality."

BELLE CHASSE, LA., GAZETTE:
"American business, American workers and their families are finding that even when they are earning more they are getting less, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. . . . The government can curb inflation by eliminating all low priority spending, keeping the supply of money and credit in line with the quantity of goods and services, and balancing the budget, with a surplus in times of prosperity.
What do you think?"

MANTECA, CALIF., BULLETIN:
"In some 20 years of observing local government, we have noticed a disturbating trend—and that is a tendency for the governing bodies to take the side of the professionals they hire instead of the people they represent.
This is not to say that the professional is necessarily wrong and the public is right. But we do say that it is still the public's responsibility to determine the amount of government and what kind of government programs it wants."

ARCADIA, FLA., ARCADIAN:
"As boys growing up in the depression we used to laugh at the two or three town characters who thought the world owed them a living. Now, thanks to LBJ, they may have the last laugh."

LENNOX, S.D., INDEPENDENT:
"The use of the Internal Revenue Service by the administration and its supporters in Congress as an instrument to suppress opposition to repeal 14(b) was threatened during the recent knock-down-drag-'em-out fight in which the repeal was defeated. . . . Knowing what kind of pool the administration plays, it wasn't too surprising to learn a while back that the IRS had been instructed to investigate the National Right to Work Committee to determine whether the committee should lose its tax exemption status. The committee has inquired 'whether similar audits were being made of the other tax exempt organizations such as the AFL-CIO and the Americans for Democratic Action, who are subject to the same restrictions on political activities, but received no direct response.' And you can bet your bottom dollar, they aren't going to."

ZION, ILL., ZION-BENTON
NEWS: "Maybe the housewife and her provider will say, why all this talk about inflation? How is it going to affect us? We are just small earners and have nothing to do with government. When you go to the store and a basket of groceries which cost $14 last week cost $15 this week, then you are being affected by inflation.
Don't forget it! The small earners will be hurt the most by inflation their government creates."

MORRIS, MINN., SUN: "Looking down the road a bit it would appear that we are rapidly approaching the situation which will find every community looking to Washington for help on every civic improvement of any consequence. . . . When federal grants expand to the point where every community is affected, the federal government will control the destiny, will determine the life or death of each village, hamlet, town and city in the country. Can it be dependent upon to make wiser decisions concerning the future of those communities than could the residents themselves?"

ODESSA, TEXAS, AMERICAN:
"Most people figure that they work
for the government about four months of each year. It seems like more than that when income tax time rolls around."

Music: Summertime Pastime

One of the nation's 12 million energetic young musicians finishes baseball practice and sits down to play the piano. Over one million parents will have rented pianos this summer, according to Wurlitzer.

This summer a great many youngsters, seeking thrills, will not be setting fire to the new sunporch or playing with the power mower.
They will be sitting down to the piano and making their own music.
Statistics from the American Music Conference show there are 37,000,000 amateur musicians in the U.S., of which 12,000,000 are school age children (4 to 21).

More than two of three amateur musicians are piano players and bear out a recommendation by Fay Templeton Frisch, Wurlitzer music and education consultant. Because the piano combines rhythm, harmony and melody, she feels it is the best beginning instrument to satisfy a youngster's need for music.

"It's a sign of normalcy for kids to want to swing and sing to the 'Big Sound.' Their kind of beat is an accepted part of the music picture today. Parents appreciate the fact that a great many children enjoy the classic music, too," says Mrs. Frisch.

But the big question is always,
"Does my child have talent?" Mrs.
Frisch points out that learning to play the piano doesn't require a "natural ear" for music. The keys are struck, and this helps to develop the ability to understand pitch as the youngster progresses.

Teachers should be selected for their love of children, and for their ability to teach creatively, using the latest methods — not for their neighborhood proximity,
says the music and education
consultant.

While the youngsters have summer time to concentrate on new interests, parents are taking advantage of low-cost opportunities to find out whether they have a piano-lover in the family bosom.
For example, many Wurlitzer dealers have a piano-rental plan which allows five months use of a piano for a three-month rental fee.

After the kids get over their wild vacation dashes to swim or play ball, they'll come up with the inevitable, "Mom, what can I do now?" Renting a piano can be like rubbing an Alladin's lamp for the answer.

Cherry Chicken Summer Salad

Pitted fresh sweet Bing or Lambert cherries frame this bountiful chicken salad. For a new taste in salad dressing, serve with a piquant combination of mayonnaise, sour cream and horseradish.

You'll find deep scarlet fresh sweet cherries from the orchards of the Pacific Northwest in the market from the middle of June through the month of July. Abounding in flavor and nutrition, fresh sweet cherries are a real treat for out-of-hand eating. This juicy flavorful fruit will stay extra fresh and plump when stored in plastic bags in the refrigerator.

For a bright new approach to summertime meals, serve Cherry Chicken Salad to your family and guests.

Cherry Chicken Salad

2 cups fresh sweet cherries ¼ cup sliced almonds
2 cups cubed cooked chicken Salad greens
½ cup diced celery Piquant Dressing
½ cup pineapple tidbits

Pit and halve cherries. Mix chicken, celery, pineapple and almonds. Add half the cherries and toss gently with enough Piquant Dressing to coat lightly. Place in salad bowl lined with greens. Garnish top of salad with remaining fresh sweet cherries. Serve additional Piquant Dressing on the side. Makes 6 servings.

Piquant Dressing: Combine 1 cup mayonnaise, ½ cup sour cream, ¼ teaspoon horseradish and ½ teaspoon salt. Chill well to blend flavors. Makes 1½ cups dressing.

Make Your Own "Sundae Specials"

Here's a trio of sauces to make your own "sundae specials" any day of the week! Everybody's favorite Hot Fudge is equally good and gooey cold! Glowing pink Peppermint Stick and sophisticated Coffee Pecan are great for change-of-pace flavor. The rich and creamy qualities of smooth-blending evaporated milk assure success of these preparation-easy sauces.

Hot Fudge Sauce: In a small saucepan add 1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate chips to ¾ cup evaporated milk. Stir over low heat until chocolate is melted and sauce is smooth. If desired, add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Serve warm or cold. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

Peppermint Stick Sauce: In a medium saucepan mix 1 cup sugar, ¼ cup water and ½ cup light corn syrup. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Continue cooking 3 minutes over medium heat. Remove from heat; add ¼ cup crushed peppermint stick candy and stir until dissolved. Stir in ½ cup evaporated milk. Just before serving, stir in an additional ¼ cup crushed peppermint stick candy. Makes about 1½ cups sauce.

Coffee Pecan Sauce: In a medium saucepan mix 1 tablespoon instant coffee with 1 cup sugar. Stir in ½ cup light corn syrup and ¼ cup water. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Continue cooking 3 minutes over medium heat. Remove from heat and cool 5 minutes. Stir in ½ cup evaporated milk. Before serving, stir in ½ cup chopped pecans. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

"FOOD FOR THOUGHT"

by Margaret E. Sangster

I like to think religion is as simple and as sweet as the smile that lights a friends face when you meet her on the street.

I like to think religion is as nourishing and as sane as the shower that brings splendor to a tired field of grain.

I like to think religion is always very near to help us with our problems and to banish doubt and fear.

I like to think religion is spontaneous and gay, that it will never fail to meet repentant souls halfway. Religion is for the homeless and the lonely and forlorn, for those who have known cowardice, who wish they'd not been born.

For people who failed to live with love and grace; but also, for the happy folk who laugh in troubles face. Religion is for the misfits, yet it welcomes real success.

Religion brings the sick-at-heart a sure cease from distress.

Religion is for the optimist who live from Sunday to Sunday... in fact, dear friends, religion is for each and everyone!

A little boy was asked by his mother what made him so bad; he replied, "the Devil did it." Mother said, "well just tell the Devil to get thee behind me." Little boy, "I do Mommie but he keeps pushing me."

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports — John Breth

The 15 coaches of the NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE were asked what they considered the most important thing about the training camps. Here are the answers.

Norb Hecker of Atlanta said, "Conditioning."

Don Shula of Baltimore replied: "Reaching physical and mental peak." George Halas of the Bears answered, "The availability of two practice fields."

Blanton Collier of Cleveland said, "Taking on the basic offense and defense along with the necessary fundamentals."

Tom Landry of Dallas put it this way, "Perfecting skills."

Harry Gilmer of Detroit replied, "Deciding which rookies will help."

Vince Lombardi of Green Bay said almost the same thing when he answered, "A true evaluation of new personnel."

George Allen of Los Angeles gave this reply, "Setting the discipline pace for the season."

Norm Van Brocklin of Minnesota said, "Proper facilities."

Allie Sherman of the Giants, who always talks like a cross between a Harvard professor of English and a Madison Avenue ad man, said this: "Achieving maximum relative physical condition and mental toughness."

Joe Kuharich of the Eagles said: "Blending capable rookie personnel with veterans and developing a coordinated approach to team effort."

Bill Austin of Pittsburgh has this thought: "Getting in shape and trying the new men."

Charley Winner of St. Louis replied: "Building the offense and defense for the season."

Jack Christiansen of San Francisco had the shortest answer, "Team unity." That may also have been the best.

Otto Graham of the Redskins answered, "Conditioning, mental and physical."

Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns, who already has many records of his own, will tie Sam Baugh's all-time NFL longevity record this fall. This will be Groza's 16th NFL season, tying him with Baugh who played for the Redskins from 1937 through 1952. Groza came into the NFL in 1950 and missed the 1960 season. He played four seasons with the Browns in the old All-American Conference from 1946 through 1949.

When AL DARK got the heave-ho from the San Francisco Giants his stock as a manager probably was at an all-time low.

Less than two years later it is at an all-time high. Even higher we might add than in 1962 when his San Francisco club "lucked" into a pennant that the Dodgers should have won and gave away. The Giants repaid the Dodgers for that favor last fall.

Anyway, getting back to Dark, after a hitch as coach with the Chicago Cubs he moved to Kansas City. This is his first year as manager at Kansas City and he is being talked about as a candidate for Manager of the Year.

The A's are in sixth place in the American League, one game out of the first division. With more than half the schedule gone they actually are one game back of Minnesota, last year's pennant winner and now in fifth place.

The A's are virtually a team without a star and are composed mostly of players obtained in trades and waivers. But they have been playing exceptional baseball. In the last six weeks they have been going at better than a .500 clip, winning 24 and losing 21. They also have done amazingly well against the best teams in the league, owning a 19 and 13 record against the four top clubs.

Player after player on the team gives the credit to Dark. The team has wonderful spirit and one man after another says Dark has really built up his morale.

The manager refuses to take any credit. He says: "You have to realize these men have ability. They can hit, they can field, they can play. Just go down the line. They're good ball-players, that's all."

Before the season began the gag in the American League was that if the A's finished ninth, Dark would be named Manager of the Year. That gag may yet be topped.

Today's Sport Laugh — Although infielder Chuck Hiller of the New York Mets has improved his fielding, he still gets needed about his glove-work. The last time the Mets visited Chicago, third baseman Ron Santo of the Cubs asked Hiller:

"Did you get the key I mailed you?" Hiller asked what key, and Santo said:

"The one to unlock your wrists."

ANGLERS

BOOST YOUR CATCH BY MAKING A "WINDOW" THROUGH THE WATER

Like every angler who has ever wet a line, you probably dream about finding a wonderful transparent lake or pond where you can actually see right through the water and all but lift the fish you want right onto your hook.

The problem, of course, is to turn the shiny mirror-like surface of the water into a gin-clear "window" which will enable you to see your catch below. It sounds impossible, but the polarizing lenses in Cool-Ray Polaroid Sunglasses wipe out up to 98 per cent of it.

The molecules in Cool-Ray Polaroid lenses are arranged, so that they act like a row of invisible vertical bars. When reflected glare, which vibrates horizontally as it comes toward your eyes, meets the invisible molecular "picket fence," it is stopped dead.

Only the useful light reaches your eyes, so you see clearly and without strain. The annoying sheen is eliminated and you can actually see beneath the surface of the water.

Choose your sunglasses with care, and they may help boost your catch. And, if the fish just aren't biting, at least you'll see comfortably.

California Ripe Olives To The Rescue

Olive Advisory Board Photo

A pound of shrimp goes two pounds as far when you add a can of California ripe olives. People don't think of these handsome dark beauties as meal "stretchers," but that they are. They have the texture of good solid protein and a flavor all their own. As in this salad, they always command authority without stealing the whole show. Try ripe olives in first course seafood cocktails, in casseroles and stews, on pizza and in other dishes that need a helping hand.

OLIVE SHRIMP SALAD SUPREME

1/2 cup dairy sour cream	1 pound cooked deveined shrimp
1 tablespoon chopped capers	1 sliced cucumber
1/4 teaspoon seasoned salt	1/4 cup diced scallions
1/4 teaspoon pepper	Crisp salad greens
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup canned California ripe olives

Blend sour cream, capers, seasoned salt, pepper and lemon juice. Add olives cut into wedges, shrimp cut in halves, cucumber and scallions. Toss gently and serve on crisp salad greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

HEALTH FACTS by Rohe

THE SPA LIFE

The word "spa" derives from the name of a Belgian city known for its mineral springs. Marienbad, a leading spa became popular in the 1900's when society came to "take the waters." Over 40,000 visitors—mostly elderly people—came annually to this famous European resort for the "cure."

Healing natural waters and therapeutic baths have frequently alleviated both major and minor discomforts. President Franklin D. Roosevelt was a regular visitor to Warm Springs, Georgia, one of America's leading spas where he found the waters beneficial and healthful.

Today elderly people suffer from Xeroderma—commonly called dry skin—a condition not treated in spas. Skin specialists recommend bathing with a therapeutic non-prescription bath oil called Alpha Keri. Clinical studies show Alpha Keri softens the skin and locks in moisture, relieving the dry itchy feeling that causes so much discomfort.

Lesson For July 31, 1966

Background Scriptures: Exodus 20:8-11; Isaiah 1:12-17; Luke 6:6-11; Mark 2:23 through 3:6; John 5:16-18.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 84:1-6, 10-12.

"Because I said so!" This is a typical response from a parent to the inevitable "why?" of the child who has been told to do something. "Ours is not to reason why, ours is but to do and die," mused a teenager in my presence some time ago.

The fact is, however, that many people do "reason why," or at least attempt to do so. For short-range results "Because I said so!" may be adequate, but for long-range results it is best that we take cognizance of the need to "reason why." Too often we have attempted to teach values and morals without helping the learner to understand the purpose behind them. Thus today it is no longer enough to say to many people "The Ten Commandments say" For them the Ten Commandments as well as all other religious laws and values are simply arbitrary requirements which some people impose upon others.

PURPOSE BEHIND LAW

The Ten Commandments are not outdated but perhaps our careless way of teaching them is very inadequate for our contemporary world. We can no longer intimidate people with "it's in the Bible" or "Moses said" We can, however, help them to better appreciate the God whose every command is given for the welfare of men. We have said, for example, that God commands us to "have no other gods" before him because the inner "civil war" of divided loyalties is harmful to us as well as insulting to God. We have said that the worship of graven images is wrong because it handicaps man with a vest-pocket size God. The commandments are not arbitrary whims of a capricious God, but concrete evidences of his plan for man's welfare and happiness.

This is no less true of the Fourth Commandment: "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy . . . in it you shall not do any work." Many people regard this as an annoying regulation that interferes with their own plans. Yet, Jesus provides the key when he says: "The sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath." (Mark 2:27 RVG) This observance, which to some is but the arbitrary requirement of a task-master God, is really his provision for the enrichment of his children.

"To keep it holy," meaning to set it apart for special observance and treatment. The sabbath day is not to be like all other days. Even more specifically: "in it you shall not do any work." The rhythm of work-and-rest, work-and-rest is part of the inherent tempo of the universe and the commandment purposes to bring men into step with that tempo for the sake of their own renewal and well-being. Left to his own sense of timing, man has a way of making life into a ceaseless treadmill. The sabbath change of pace is not merely desirable but essential if man is to function with the full capacities with which he is created.

There is another "reason why" work is forbidden on the sabbath. It is a simple matter for men to become wholly engrossed in work and the pursuit of material gain. There are some families in which it is financially necessary for husbands to hold down two or even three jobs or for both husband and wife to work. Yet I have often observed that in many cases it is not necessity but greed that lies at the bottom of it all. The sabbath is a weekly reminder to us that life is more than bread . . . or cake.

Finally, the sabbath represents God's recognition of man's greatest need: himself! Although we can commune with him daily in the midst of our toil, there is also a weekly need to give him our undivided attention. To allow him opportunity for a time-exposure, to reach into corners and crevices of our lives, to renew us and refresh us and then send us back to our work, that is the purpose behind the Fourth Commandment.

Food for the Fourth by Betty Crocker

To get into the spirit of things, let's plan a picnic for the Fourth—at the seashore, in the park, or at home in your own backyard. And for food that's fun, what's more appropriate than good old American hot dogs—balsamic-style with relishes and mustard, or turned into Coney Islands with chili con carne. Balance the menu with deviled eggs, tossed vegetable salad, potato chips and fresh fruit. Add a Yankee Doodle Velvet Crumb Cake for dessert, a few patriotic colors—and, whee, it's a red-white-and-blue celebration. The cake is fudge in flavor and frosting, because that's the all-American favorite. The perfect choice, wouldn't you say, for Independence Day?

YANKEE DOODLE VELVET CRUMB CAKE

1½ cups Bisquick
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup cocoa
3 tablespoons soft butter
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to 350°. Grease and flour a square pan, 8x8x2 inches. Mix Bisquick, sugar and cocoa. Add butter, egg and ¼ cup of the milk. Beat 1 minute with electric mixer at medium speed. Add remaining milk and the vanilla. Beat ½ minute. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake 35 to 40 minutes. Frost. 9 servings.

This cake is a new variation of our old favorite, the Velvet Crumb Cake. Since the original is so popular, we turned it into a fudge cake—just as simple to do, just as fine and even in texture. And to double the fudge pleasure, here's a quick-as-a-wink chocolate icing for it.

OLD GLORY CHOCOLATE ICING

Combine 1 package (6 ounces) semisweet chocolate pieces, 2 tablespoons butter and 3 tablespoons milk in saucepan. Stir over low heat until chocolate is just melted. Remove from heat. Stir in 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Beat until smooth, glossy and easy to spread. Enough frosting for 8- or 9-inch square cake. Decorate with tiny American flags at serving time. One jaunty flag in the center of each slice of cake.

RED WHITE AND BLUE TABLE TRIM

Blue oilcloth as a tablecloth, white fingertip towels for napkins, bright red apples in the center. OR large white beach towels—red and blue bandanas.

Happy Fourth, everybody!

A couple of Scotchmen were walking along a road and one was jingling something in his pocket. His pal asked, "Jock, you must have plenty of money in there?" "Oh no," said Jock, "that's my wife's teeth. . . there's too much eating between meals at our house."

The blonde next door says, "A clever woman is one who knows how to give a man her own way."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"THE LIGHT WAS GREEN"

At busy corners all over the country stand familiar machines, designed to help automate justice. We call them traffic signals, and they deliver a clear and simple rule of law: green means go, red means stop. Unhappily, justice is far too complicated for total automation. The signals do help, but they cannot give a final answer. In fact, they are sometimes no more than a starting point in the process of telling right from wrong.

For example:
A motorist, sued for knocking down a pedestrian, offered this defense in court:

"The light was green when I entered the intersection, so I had a right to go through."

But the pedestrian too had started across lawfully, on a green light. The motorist was held liable for relying blindly on the signal, not giving the pedestrian a fair chance to complete his crossing. As one judge phrased it:

"A green light is not a command to go, but only a limited permission."

In another case a motorist was held negligent, again in spite of a green light, for colliding with an ambulance. Evidence showed that the ambulance had its siren on, that others heard it plainly, and that the motorist's window was down and his radio off.

Nor does a green light, beckoning in the distance, justify bad driving in an effort to get there before it changes.

One motorist, with that in mind, crowded close behind the car ahead of him. When the light changed to amber, the front car was able to make a proper stop. But the following motorist could not. Result: a bad crash, for which the impatient driver was duly held liable.

Just as green doesn't always mean go, neither does red always mean stop. For instance, emergency vehicles are often given the right by local law to go through a red light.

Yet even this special right is not clear-cut. Thus it was held negligent for an ambulance driver to race through a red light at a dangerous corner, without sounding his siren, when there was no medical need for haste.

The court held that even an ambulance must respect the one bed-rock rule that underlies all the rest: SAFETY FIRST.

Stainless In Spades

It doesn't take much to add sparkle to a simple at-home luncheon for the bridge club. Stainless steel can do it—sometimes with a surprise in spades.

Shown in the photograph are classically designed stainless steel knives, forks and spoons which will retain their bright luster for years on end, avoiding tarnishing and other blemishes sometimes common in more expensive silver pieces.

As another surprise, tea roses arranged in a stainless steel gravy boat, show the adaptability of a useful table piece at the hands of a clever hostess.

Aside from its beauty and versatility, stainless steel flatware has other advantages at lunch—or at any other meal. According to Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, dish washing chores can be considerably eased since warm water with mild soap removes even the most stubborn stains, grease patches and food particles.

With the "washing up" cut down, there'll be more time after lunch for that bridge game—or for "sparkling" conversation.

Citrus Is Big With Little Leaguers

Treat the team after practice to refreshing orange juice and Orange Peanut Refrigerator Cookies. Kids need the energy pickup of vitamin C-rich orange juice, and they'll love these chewy cookies.

Prepare the juice with fresh-frozen Florida orange juice concentrate—now sweeter, richer and more flavorful than ever before. This pure, natural product is better for them than a synthetic, high-sugar fruit drink.

The orange concentrate-flavored cookie rolls will keep in your refrigerator or freezing compartment for several weeks. Just slice and bake as you need 'em!

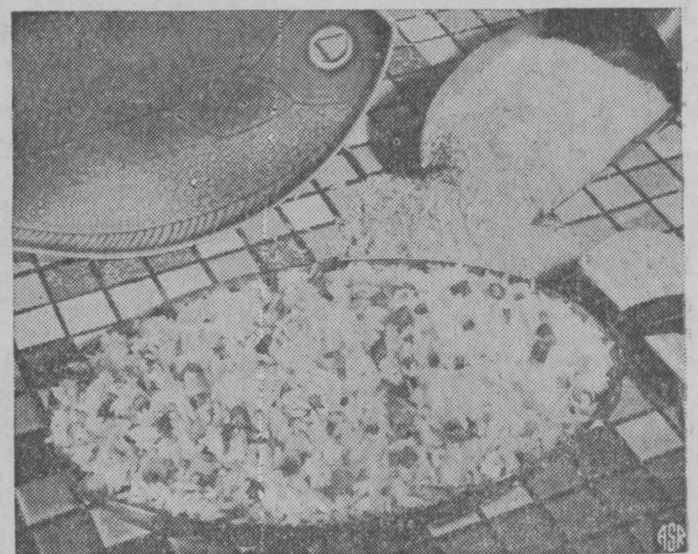

Orange Peanut Refrigerator Cookies

- | | |
|---------------------------|--|
| 2 cups all-purpose flour | 1 egg, well beaten |
| 1/4 teaspoon baking soda | 3 tablespoons frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | 1 tablespoon Florida orange rind |
| 1 cup butter or margarine | 1/2 cup chopped peanuts |
| 1/2 cup brown sugar | |
| 1/2 cup granulated sugar | |

Sift flour, baking soda and salt together. Combine butter and sugars; beat well. Add egg and beat again until light and fluffy. Stir in orange juice concentrate and orange rind; add dry ingredients and blend well. Stir in chopped peanuts. Chill dough. Shape into 2 rolls (2 inches in diameter); wrap in wax paper. Refrigerate several hours or overnight. Cut rolls into 1/4-inch slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in 400°F. oven 10-12 minutes or until done.

YIELD: About 4 dozen.

Delectable Rice Dish

The flavor of Clam Rice is so unique that most folks who taste it for the first time think it is made with many ingredients.

But this main dish accompaniment couldn't be easier to prepare. Bottled clam juice and green onions plus butter and seasonings are the only flavoring agents used to cook the rice. The interesting taste is the result of steaming the rice over low heat until all the liquid is absorbed and the kernels are tender and separate.

It is unlikely that any Clam Rice would be left over, but if it should, cover it and refrigerate for second servings within the week. To reheat, add two tablespoons of water per cup of cooked rice, and cook, covered, four to five minutes. The reheated rice will be as tasty as the first time it was served.

Clam Rice

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1 cup sliced green onions | 1 bottle (7 1/2 ozs.) clam juice |
| 1 cup uncooked rice | 1 cup water |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1 teaspoon salt |
| | Dash of pepper |

Cook onions and rice in butter until rice is golden. Add clam juice, water, salt and pepper. Heat to boiling, stir once, cover, reduce the heat and simmer 15 minutes. Toss lightly.

Makes 6 servings.
