MEETING OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

A regular meeting of the Board of Education of Carroll County was held in the County Office Building, Westminster, Md., at 10:00 A. M. with President DeVries R. Hering presiding. Mrs. Margaret R. Marsh, Mrs. Virginia Minick, Mr. Neal Powell, Mr. Thomas A. Raver, Attorney L. Pearce Bowles, Superintendent Geo. E. Thomas and Assistant Superintendent Dr. Charles I. Ecker were present, as well as Mr. Sam Tilghman, press.

Minutes of the November meetings were approved. After consideration, financial transactions during the past month were also approved.

Personnel changes were approved as follows: Contracts—Mrs. Loretta M. Bassler, New Windsor; Resignations—Virginia E. Banks, Westminster High School; and Mrs. Charlotte B. Curry, Hampstead Elementary; Retirement—Edward L. Jason, custodian Johnsville and Mrs. Mazie Shipley, custodian West End. Salary modifications required by law and reimbursement for certificate renewals for teachers were also approved.

Carroll County Teachers' Association representatives; Mr. Philip Lawyer, President, Mr. Richard J. Mcpartland, Chairman OCTA Salary Committee, and Mr. Robert Haugen, MSTA Field Representative, presented proposals for a salary schedule for the school year 1967-68. The presentation included information on the salaries of teachers as compared with other occupational groups, all Carroll County teachers salaries as compared with other counties in Maryland, cost figures of implementing the proposed schedule, and information on potential sources of revenue. The CCTA proposal would change the salary for a Standard Professional Certificate from present scale of $5200-$8200 to a $6000-$9600 range. The Association proposed keeping the schedule for non-degree personnel at the present year's schedule, but recommended increases in classes of certificates above this category. Much discussion and consideration of the proposed schedule took place. The Board agreed to thorough consideration of the proposed schedule. In addition, other tentative budget materials and proposals were presented to members, by the administration, for consideration, including salaries for non-professional employees.

The Board approved the employment of a vocational education teacher, presently employed in the school system, for summer employment at South Carroll High School. The work assigned would be that of installation of vocational educational equipment in the shops of the school.

The student social activities policies of the Board were reviewed. A high school had requested this reconsideration urging that certain secondary school activities, specifically class night dinner dances and junior-senior proms, might be held in locations other than the school buildings. After review and discussion, the Board reaffirmed its policy that the secondary school student social activities specified should continue to be held at the school buildings.

A group of residents of the South Carroll H. S. attendance area discussed with the Board its point of view with regard to "late" bus transportation for students following after-school activities. The Board will continue to study this area of transportation.

In development of a standard policy for tuition charges for out-of-county public school students, the Board studied and discussed with the administration a proposed policy. This proposal was approved by the Board to become effective July 1, 1967.

Reports were made by the administration on building progress, land appraisals, surveys of school sites, and information thus far gathered with respect to available areas for school sites. Dr. Charles Ecker reported progress at the South Carroll H. S.; also, dissatisfaction with the hearing of the addition to the Windfield Elementary School. He indicated that the architect had been instructed to modify the plans for heating in order that recent difficulties with the heating system might be overcome.

A policy for the selection of architects for future construction was discussed and approved. This policy involves the use of an evaluative questionnaire to be distributed among interested architectural firms. The Board emphasized that the policy did not make commitment from year-to-year to the retention of the same architectural firm.

The Board policy on student dress was reviewed and reaffirmed as adopted in September, 1959. The Superintendent was directed to continue to work with the school principals and staff in implementing and interpreting the policy.

Enrollment reports for the month of November were presented to members.

The Board was given a complete report regarding the applicants and interviews for the position of Supervisor of Transportation. Considerations for the position of Assistant Supervisor of Transportation were also suggested. Acceptance of a recommendation for the position of Supervisor of Transportation may be made by the Board in the near future.

The administration advised the Board of the status of the community college, noting that the study committee had met with the County Commissioners on Monday, December 12. Following this meeting the Superintendent had asked the Commissioners for a release to the Board of Education of the community college funds held in reserve by the previous Board of Commissioners. The Commissioners had replied that they would not make release of the funds at the present time, specifying their interest in knowing of the plans, particularly in the field of technical instruction and the physical location of the classes in the early days of the college operation.

Adjournment was at 3:00 P. M.

May the true joy of the greatest of all holidays reach into every hamlet and home. In this season of "Peace on earth, good will to men," may the happiness that comes with the real meaning of Christmas belong to us, one and all.

The Magic of Christmas

Christmas — at the mere sound of the word, this battered old world perks up its ears, and wonderful things begin to happen. Smiles suddenly appear on tired, anxious faces and on sour visages where smiles are rarely seen. Sorrow takes a holiday, and selfishness takes a backseat. Hatred is all but washed out by the waves of pure, shining love and kindness which overflow at Christmas time. The air rings with music, and even the person who usually cannot carry the semblance of a tune joins in lustily singing the old, familiar carols. People who never come to church all year are there at Christmas time, if only to hear their youngsters recite in the Sunday School program. Homemakers who seldom bake now find themselves deep in fragrant dough, as they turn out batch after batch of cakes and cookies. Fathers who are usually too busy to even know what their children are doing, now set aside time to help the little ones select a very special gift for Mother. And everyone yearns to get home for Christmas, regardless of where home may be.

From whence comes this good-will, this love and joy and cheer? It all began almost 2,000 years ago, with the birth of a little baby, and the world has never been the same since.

A CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Lutheran Church Women of Trinity Lutheran Church held their Christmas program on Wednesday evening, December 14 at 7:30 in the church auditorium. The program entitled "The Child We Honor" written by Frances K. Spencer was a story telling the meaning of the Christmas. Christmas is a combination of parts of two words. CHRIST and MONogram. A christmas is just that, a monogram of Christ. A number of the Christmas symbols were used telling us who he was and what he did for us. Everyone joined in the singing of several Christmas songs. Miss Hazel Hess played an organ solo.

The group then moved to the large Sunday school room where they were entertained by the Montrose School Chorus under the direction of Mr. Myers. The girls sang a variety of songs which were well received by everyone present.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wilbur Naylor's group. The serving was done by Mrs. Charles Lookingbill's group. The room and tables were beautifully decorated for the Christmas season by Mrs. Daniel Nail's group.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning. A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

MERRY CHRISTMAS ACROSS THE MILES!

I Remember A Special Christmas... It was the year of 1933 — the night before Christmas in the 100-year-old parsonage of Hereford, Md. That Christmas Eve was something very special in my life and one of the happiest Christmases, I ever remember. Perhaps—because it was our first Christmas together—with my ready-made family of three little boys, ages 4, 6 and 7. It was only four months previous that I married the Minister, the boys' father and it was when I hesitated that the eldest, Francis, Jr. pleaded, "Won't you marry my father so as you can be my mother?" And that really clinched things and I think you and you know just what I mean!

The boys were fast asleep, snuggled in their beds, my minister had opened the old fireplace in the living room (which was closed for many years) and managed to build and light the logs as I trimmed the tree. Soon there was that delightful sound of the logs crackling and as I gazed out of the window there the pure white stuff was fast and thick falling to the ground. Such tranquility as I offered up a silent prayer!

Under the tree I placed the gifts for the boys—3 pairs of boxing gloves (for I wanted them to be real boys) 3 scooters, 3 pair of roller skates, a huge sled to hold three, and very large trains and the special clothing of sweaters, bath robes and slippers and—oh—yes, I remember I filled my minister's sock with surprises! As all was completed, we sat down on the divan and rested for one last view before retiring, as the hour was very late.

Suddenly, we heard a rap at the door and shuffling feet as though there were running steps. (But anything at any hour can happen in the Parsonage, which I soon learned!)

My minister opened the door and there was a very large bag with turkey feet much in evidence at the top. We hurried to the kitchen and there was a beautiful card tied to the bag (minus the name from the donor). It was fully a month later that we found out that it was the Commander of The American Legion whose office was in Towson who presented it to us! He had called twice at the parsonage to meet the bride previously!

It did not seem any time to me that I was in bed when three little pajama-clad fellows whispered ever so softly in my ear, "Merry Christmas, Mother!" Then, they got in bed with me for five minutes to cuddle up and as I looked at the time saw it was the hour of five! We softly crept down the stairway (so as not to disturb my minister as he had four churches those days in which to deliver The Christmas Morning Service) to the livingroom and as I switched on the lamp light there were jumps up of "Oh's" and "Ah's," and shouting up and down in their joy over the gifts.

They quickly threw their arms around me to give me bear hugs. It was our very first Christmas together and it always has meant "The Love Lines" that counted and not the "Blood Lines" that downed through the years!

Irene deLeon Love.

LEARN FROM SANTA CLAUS

Again at Christmastime, the United States is at war and the thought of peace on earth, good will toward men seems as much of a dream as ever. But nevertheless, Christmas is a day of family gatherings and good cheer, a period when we seek to be helpful to the afflicted and less fortunate.

But above all, Christmas is a time for the children. It is a great mystery of life to them. Fortunate are those who can believe in Santa Claus for a few years. What a thrill it is for them to go to bed looking forward to the morning when they will find a stocking filled with presents and candy and a Christmas tree shining with light. Just the smell of such a Christmas morning is something that stays through life. Doubly fortunate is the child whose stocking hangs in front of a fireplace on Christmas morning.

The visit of the unseen Santa means more than just gifts. It causes even the children to think of the less fortunate and to share their blessings with others.

Christmas dinner with family and friends is a never to be forgotten occasion for young and old alike. So as you enjoy it this year in your home, think of the countless millions over the world, who are not so blessed and resolve to do your best to make Santa Claus a reality for someone. In the meantime, if you gain humility from the good fortune that is yours, Santa Claus will not have called in vain.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

ANTIOCH, ILL., NEWS: "There will be many new veterans this year, young men who have served in Viet Nam. . . . Some of them will be facing life with a new handicap, the loss of a limb, perhaps, or of sight. Fortunately, industry is learning that many handicapped men more than compensate for their handicap. For to be able to work, to have the hours of the day crowded with an occupation that has some place in the scheme of things, is as important as preserving our liberty. Veterans' organizations help many of these men with advice, a friendly push when they need it, by putting them in touch with someone who can help them with their immediate problems. Support your local veterans organizations and you're giving a helping hand to many veterans."

PORTLAND, ORE., OREGONIAN: "Higher labor costs mean higher prices or a cut in the profit margin, or both. Higher taxes add to the costs of producing goods. If profits suffer and employment slackens because higher prices reduce consumer demand an increase in taxes will not produce as much revenue as expected."

MARYSVILLE, CALIF., APPEAL-DEMOCRAT: "Bertram A. Powers, president of the New York local of the International Typographical Union, predicts that his printers will get 'the biggest, fattest and juiciest contract' ever in soon-to-start negotiations with the city's newspapers. He thinks the nine other newspaper unions should do as well. The reason, he says, is that the newspaper industry in New York no longer has any 'poor cousins to cry poor mouth.' He's right. They're dead. Killed dead. They expired during the last strike, a little weeding out process of some 140 days."

DELTA, COLO., INDEPENDENT: "We believe that news media should have every right to obtain, and then publish, facts pertaining to a crime, the arrest of suspects and charges made against them. . . . press freedom not only dictates that newspapers have a responsibility to inform the public and guard against possible abuses of power on the part of policing agencies and judges. But freedom of the press also imposes another equally important obligation: to refrain from making published comments which may influence adversely both the public and potential jurors, thus prejudicing a fair trial and leading to the possible conviction of innocent parties."

TOWANDA, PA., REVIEW: "Little wonder that there has been a growing chorus of complaints against certain aspects of the tight money policy, particularly since many people think that our political leaders are setting a poor example. The President, for instance, has made it clear that he has no intention of sacrificing any of the features of his extravagant Great Society, which is about as inflationary a brainstorm as was ever conceived. And if you look at other facets of government, you will find a similar cynical attitude. The Tennessee Valley Authority, for example, with the blessing of the President, has just been authorized to borrow one billion dollars to expand its electric generating capacity—while private industry is being ordered to cut back."

CALDWELL, N. J., PROGRESS: "A stronger awareness of the 'new strategy' of the United States Communist Party for resurgent, revolutionary action' has been urged recently by John Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. . . . Their campaign to blanket college and university campuses with communist speakers—a program which has been accepted with palliative indifference by many persons — is a resounding success in the eyes of the party."

MOUNT AIRY, MD., REPORTER: "For the first time the Post Office Department has defied the overzealous critics of religious motifs on its Postal Stationery and brought out a Christmas Stamp which is truly representative of the event it commemorates. Christmas is observed as the birthday of Jesus Christ. . . . And to issue a Postage Stamp each year showing only a holy wreath, or a Santa Claus is a travesty on the true significance of the day. . . . To deny the public the beauty of these paintings on their postage stamps is to be foolish and petty. We hope this is only the first of our 'religious' Christmas Postage Stamps."

Farewell Service for Pastor Johnson and Family

The parish house of Baust United Church of Christ was filled Sunday evening when members and friends gathered for a farewell observance for Rev. Robert V. Johnson and family. Norman Graham announced the program which opened with group singing, accompanied by Joyce Maus. A poem entitled, "Rhyme of Cities and States" was given by Robin Little, Donna Haines, Bonnie Eyer, Mary Virginia Humbert and Carol Ann Haines, piano solo, "The Breakers" and "Terantello" by Neil Frock; readings on "Friendship" were given by Linda Van Fossen, Gladys Green and Charles Little; vocal duet, "The Drummer Boy" and "When the Saints Go Marching In" by Neil Frock and Lori Lee Frock. A very fitting message was brought by Rev. Wiley, pastor of Grace United Church in Taneytown; organ solo, "Silver Bells," by Joyce Maus; an original poem of tribute to the Johnson family, was written and read by Mrs. Russell Frock, as an expression from the entire congregation. A lovely hand-painted tray from the Baust Lutheran congregation was presented by Geo. Sanner. The closing remarks were given by Wilbur Long, vice president of the consistory. The closing song was "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," with the benediction by Rev. Wiley. An orchid corsage was given to Mrs. R. Johnson and daughter, Cynthia Johnson by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baer from their greenhouse. The Johnsons received many other gifts and a money tree. They would like to express their thanks for everything that made the evening such a pleasant and memorable one for them. A social hour followed the program, with refreshments served by Mrs. Wilbur Long, Mrs. Lewis Baer, Mrs. Wm. Maus, Mrs. Preston Myers, Mrs. Charles Little, Mrs. Raymond Baker, Mrs. Martin Rodkey, Mrs. Grace Nusbbaum, Mrs. Wm. Flickinger, and Mrs. Stoner Fleagle. Miss Becky Bare had charge of the guest book. Thanks go to each and everyone for their help, donations or any contribution in helping to make this evening a success.

Where to begin, we know not where, The words all seem to float in air. You ministered to us in so many ways, Pastoral duties filling your busy days, Preaching, teaching, visiting the ill, Words of comfort their souls to fill. But like the great Teacher in days of yore, You had time for our children on Sunday morn, They loved you and the songs you had them sing; And only thru your help, did the melodies ring.

There are so many things to thank you people for. . . Leadership, guidance and many, many more. Our lives have been richer for your passing this way, Bringing us kindness, and happiness these many days. Wonderful friendships, make it hard to see you go, For we're going to miss you, far more than you know. We wish the best of everything ahead for you; And may you think, and pray sometimes, for us too.

This is the original poem of tribute to the Johnson family, written and read by Mrs. Russell Frock as an expression from the entire congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson and family will leave the first week in January for a new charge at Mt. Mariah Parish, Boonsboro. He has served as the Pastor of Emmanuel (Baust) Church the past four years.

It was just like a summer day—weather wise—with the heavy thunder and vivid lightning; it was so warm—but believe me it was not so warm yesterday. . . the clothes froze in the basket before you could get them on the line, but, nevertheless clothes are all dry, ironed and put away for which we are so thankful.

The Meaning of Christmas C is for the Christ Child born upon the hay, H for Herald Angels in the night, R for our Redeemer, I for Israel, T is for the Star that shone so bright, T is for the Three Wise Men, they who traveled far, M is for the Manger where he laid, A is for all he stands for, S meant Shepherds came. And this is the true meaning of Christmas. —J. & G. Jackson.

FOR CHRISTMAS Cheer up and wear a smile, Happy days are on the way, Remember to be good and kind In everything you do or say, So make this day a happy one, To cherish in the years to come, May all your friends be kind and true, And those you love will love you too, So as you remember all these things Don't let your memory dim; Always remember whose birthday it is, Yes, first of all remember Him. —Frances Caldwell.

Best wishes to the Editor, his staff and all the readers of this paper. May you have a MERRY CHRISTMAS, and all your other days be happy ones. Your Fairview correspondent, H. C. Frock.

INCOME TAX TATTLETALES

Last year, Uncle Sam collected an extra $13 million in income taxes because somebody tattled for pay. Most tips about income tax fraud come in anonymously, from people seeking no reward beyond the satisfaction of doing their duty—or of getting even with someone they don't like.

But in 1965, a typical year, 4,000 informers filed formal claims for a reward. And the government paid out $600,000 for their information.

The practice of paying money for tax tips has existed ever since the early days of the republic. In each year's budget Congress sets aside a specific sum for this purpose.

There are those who condemn the whole idea. They argue that tattling is unscrupulous, not in keeping with our traditions. Certainly, generations of American readers have despised Tom Sawyer's half brother Sid for tattling on Tom to Aunt Polly.

On the other hand, tax cheaters are not as endearing as Tom Sawyer. And, as one court put it: "It is the duty of every citizen to communicate to his government any information which he has of the commission of an offense against its laws."

The Internal Revenue Service takes no position on fine philosophical grounds. Its job is simply to collect all the money that the government has coming—and informers are a big help. Using them not only puts the IRS on the track of cheaters but also helps to keep many a tempted citizen honest.

How much can an informer collect? Up to 10 per cent of what the government recovers, which can be considerable. However, the exact amount is left largely to the discretion of the IRS.

In one case an informer sued the government, complaining that he wasn't paid as much as his information was worth. But he got nowhere. The court said the IRS is obliged to make an honest evaluation of services rendered, but is not obliged to pay what others may consider a fair sum.

In another way, too, the IRS has the last word. For the informer, having won his reward, must then pay income tax on it. In fact, there have even been cases in which informers themselves were fined for failing to pay the tax on their reward. No doubt Tom Sawyer would have a phrase for that: Poetic justice.

SNOW-SANTA

Sometimes when snow has fallen fast, We make a snow-man jolly; And make him round-like Santa Claus— And deck him out with holly.

We put a clay-pipe in his mouth— And find a gunny-sack Which we fill up with ever-greens And put upon his back.

We use black coal to make his eyes— And one piece for his nose— And then we use whatever's left For buttons on his clothes.

Then all-us-children stomp and shout And circle 'round and 'round— While Santa Claus just stands and smiles And doesn't make a sound!

EVENING PRAYER

I thank Thee, Lord, for all these evening things - For crackling fire, and kitten's gentle purr, For flaming sunset in the western sky, For the tea-kettle, as it loudly sings. I thank Thee for my daily work, now through, For comfort of this quiet humble home, Yes, on this chilly autumn evening, Lord, I offer warmest thanks and praises, too. -Zola Cantwell

Christmas Is Remembering

Christmas is remembering The merry seasons past When we, star-eyed, wished Christmas Day And sugar-plums would last.

Christmas is remembering Our joy in little things Like ginger-spice and candy canes Or colored pop-corn strings.

Christmas is remembering Why holly wreaths one's heart And glistens - bright with tears - for those Whom Love has set aspart.

Christmas is remembering How bleak men's lives must be Without the symbol of the Star That crowns each Christmas tree.

Christmas is remembering - With lowliness and grace - What gift of glory and of light Still shines from Jesus' face! -Hazel S. Dame

CHRISTMAS LULLABY

Hush my babe, lie still and slumber, Holy angels guard thy bed, Heavenly blessings without number, Gently falling on thy head. How much better thou'rt attended Than the Son of God he denied, When from heaven He descended, And became a child like thee.

Soft and easy is thy cradle Coarse and hard the Saviour lay, When His birthplace was a stable And His softest bed was hay. Oh, to tell the wondrous story How the foes abused this king, How they killed the Lord of Glory Makes me angry while I sing.

Hush, my child, I did not chide thee, Though my song may seem so hard 'Tis thy mother sits beside thee, And her arms shall be thy guard. May'st thou learn to know and fear Him, Love and serve Him all thy days, Then to dwell forever near Him Tell His love and sing His praise.

CARD PARTY - Every Saturday night, Harney Vcl. Fire Co. Hall, at 8 P. M. 9-29-7t

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports - John Breth

There were two Robinsons traded during the INTER-LEAGUE TRADING period which ended last week, but neither was fabulous Frank, nor the coveted property of baseball's world champions, the Baltimore Orioles. In fact, there doesn't appear to be a player close to Frank Robinson's ability who has swapped from one league to the other since the 1966 season ended.

The only one who could come close to approaching Robinson is outfielder, Roger Maris, who was outfielder of the New York Yankees to the St. Louis Cardinals. If Maris regains the form that enabled him to hit a record of 61 homers in 1961 and win two straight awards as the American League's most valuable player, the deal could be a bonanza for the Cards. However, injuries seem to have robbed Maris of much of his slugging talent. And it is doubtful he will lead the Cards to a pennant and World Championship like Robinson did for Baltimore last season after he was obtained from Cincinnati.

The two deals involving Robinsons this year don't figure to greatly influence next season's pennant races. Cincinnati, still under fire for sending Frank to the Orioles, will have another F. Robinson in its outfield next season. Instead of Frank, it will be Floyd, acquired in a trade with the Chicago White Sox. The other traded Robinson, also, is an outfielder - Bill - who went from Atlanta to the Yankees.

Although numerous inter-league trades were completed, the quality of players does not seem to be as good as those swapped in intra-league deals. For instance, the Pittsburgh Pirates became the pennant favorites in the National League by acquiring infielder, Maury Wills from the Los Angeles Dodgers and pitcher, Dennis Ribant from the New York Mets. And the Minnesota Twins strengthened themselves for the American League Pennant race by obtaining pitcher Dean Chance from the Los Angeles Angels.

Other significant intra-league trades saw outfielder, Tommy Davis go from the Dodgers to the Mets for infielder, Ron Hunt, pitcher, Camilo Pascual sent from Minnesota to Washington, outfielder, Jimmie Hall move from Minnesota to Los Angeles and pitcher Dick Ellsworth, go from the Chicago Cubs to Philadelphia.

Within the short space of a few weeks the LOS ANGELES DODGERS have been drastically changed. First, Sandy Koufax announced his retirement. Then, the Dodgers dealt outfielder Tommy Davis to the New York Mets and swiftly followed it up by shipping shortstop Maury Wills to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Seldom does the face of a team get changed around that fast. But circumstances seemed to dictate the transformation. Whether or not the Dodgers will be Pennant contenders next season remains to be seen. Certainly their performance in the world series against the Baltimore Orioles did not stamp the Dodgers as a first-rate team. And it is certain that they will be encountering some rugged opposition from the Pirates, Atlanta Braves and San Francisco Giants again next year, especially with their great mound stopper - Koufax - gone.

The Dodgers have certainly changed since their Ebbets Field days in Brooklyn.

When they made their home on the East Coast, the Dodgers were loaded with batting power and were short in pitching strength. Having hitters like Duke Snider, Gil Snider, Roy Campanella, Carl Furillo, Jackie Robinson and Pee Wee never hurt the club. But as they started to leave the lineup and the move was made to Los Angeles, the picture of the team also changed.

The trend moved toward tight pitching and willfulness of foot on the bases with Wills leading the way.

Now, it is apparent that general manager Buzzie Bavasi is changing the format of the club once again.

As Bavasi stated, the Dodgers need power. And the acquisition of Bob Bailey, Ron Hunt, Jim Hickman and others may be just the start. None of the newcomers have speed. But they do wield good bats. It is quite apparent the Dodgers can't hit with the Pirates, Braves or Giants.

But Bavasi is starting to make an attempt to build up the batting strength.

It will be interesting to see how it works out when the firing starts next April.

Today's Sport Laugh - Pitcher Bo Belinsky was drafted last month by the Houston Astros, who use a synthetic composition for their infield - instead of grass - under their domed roof.

Said Belinsky: "I'm quite pleased at being taken by the Astros. I've always wanted to play on a pool table."

A teacher gave her class this problem: "If there are seven flies on your desk and you kill one, how many will remain?" "One," answered her most down-to-earth pupil, "the dead one."

"I want you to understand," said the teacher, "that it is the law of gravity that keeps us on this earth." "Please," asked little Nellie, "how did we stick on before the law was passed?"

"Yes," said the mountain climber, "I always kept a rope tied around my waist. It has saved my life more than once."

"But," said the listener, "it must be awful to be left hanging from a rope. Don't you ever feel nervous?" "Well, not exactly nervous," came the reply. "Just highly strung."

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

U.S. ARMY, Vietnam (AHTNG) - Army Private First Class Charles R. Stambaugh, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Stambaugh, Route 1, Union Bridge, Md., is currently participating in Operation "Meng-Ho 7" in Vietnam with his unit, Battery A of the 13th Artillery's 7th Battalion, part of I Field Force.

Stambaugh, a cannoneer, and other members of his battalion have been giving artillery support to the Korean "Capitol" Division since Nov. 11 in an effort to clear Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army troops from an area along Highway 19 in the Central Highlands along the South China sea coast.

This will insure safe movement of Army units and civilian Vietnamese by road from Qui Nhon to An Khe and Peliku.

The private entered on active duty in December 1965 and was stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla., before arriving in Vietnam last October.

He was graduated from Linganore High School, Frederick, Md., in 1965.

ROY'S TROPICAL TREAT

When Angels Have Gone
Lesson for December 25, 1966

Background Scripture: Luke 2:1-40.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 55:1-9.

It is possible to know the Nativity Story so well that it may no longer have the power to excite or challenge us. It may evoke sentimentality, but little awe and wonder. Christmas can become too popular for its own good.

Tradition tells us that the ancient Hebrews so revered a flute upon which Moses was supposed to have played during his days as a shepherd in Midian that they decorated it with much gold and precious stones. Their decorative zeal, however, was the undoing of the flute, for they clogged-up and covered-over with ornamentation the tiny holes and apertures of the instrument. It was beautiful to behold, but it wouldn't play!

Too Beautiful
This happens also with the Nativity message. Centuries of ornamentation and embellishment -- to say nothing of commercialization -- have enhanced its beauty, but covered-over the essential meaning. It too is beautiful to behold, but the message is being buried beneath the layers of sentimentality and secularization.

Perhaps we might begin to see this story afresh if we were to put ourselves in the shoes of some of those who were participants. For instance, have you ever stopped to imagine how this wonderful event must have seemed to the shepherds? If today, while you are working at your usual place of employment, someone were to suddenly appear and announce that the Saviour of the world had just been born in nearby East Podunk and could be found lying in an animals' feed trough, how would you react? Would you believe it?

Wrong Address, Perhaps?
What happened to the shepherds in the fields outside Bethlehem was no less startling. Perhaps, had the visitors told them to go to the house of Jerusalem's high priest or the city's richest merchant, the story would not have seemed so incredible. But a Bethlehem manger! That was hardly the place one would expect to find the Messiah. When they arrived at the manger, they found that not only had the Messiah been born in the wrong surroundings in the wrong town, but he had had the misfortune of being born into the wrong family. Who would believe that the Saviour would be born to an upstate, backwoods carpenter and his bride-to-be?

Yet the shepherds could not doubt what they heard and saw. "Glory to God in the highest!" seemed to resound from the heavens. The visitors were bathed in a glorious light. It could not be a dream, a hallucination. The awe and fear they felt was real.

With Haste!
Then, suddenly the visitors were gone! Now the true test would begin. In the midst of an awesome and mysterious experience, we cannot help but respond. When it is over, however, the conditions are different. If we can go back to our work and shrug it off as if nothing had happened, that is one thing. But if we respond by acting upon the experience, that is something else. The true test occurs when the angels have gone away.

What the shepherds had seen and heard was fantastic, yet Luke tells us, "When the angels went away" the shepherds decided: "Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us." They went, not reluctantly, but "with haste." There was something of the modern scientific spirit in them; something has happened -- let's see what it is!

For us, no less than the shepherds, of Bethlehem, the test occurs when the angels have gone away, when we are called upon to respond to the coming of Christ, not with words, but with deeds. When, in a few days, the bright and lyrical trappings of this day begin to fade, what will you do about the coming of Christ?

Old Favorite With A New Flavor

HERE IS A DELIGHTFULLY DIFFERENT VERSION of plum pudding . . . the traditionally perfect dessert for festive holiday meals.

According to home economists at The R. T. French Company, the key to its flavor, texture, and speedy preparation is instant mashed potato right out of the box.

PLUM PUDDING

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 envelope (1/2 cup) instant mashed potato
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup walnuts, chopped
- 2/3 cup candied fruit and peel mix, finely chopped
- 1 cup raisins
- 3/4 cup shortening
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1 cup brown sugar, packed
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup grated raw carrot
- 1/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, instant potato, baking soda and salt. Combine nuts and fruit with flour mixture. Cream shortening, spices and sugar. Beat in eggs, blend in carrots and milk. Add floured fruits and nuts; mix well. Pour into well greased 1-1/2 quart mold; cover tightly. Place on rack in steamer or deep kettle. Add enough boiling water to reach about 1/3 of the depth of the mold. Steam 2 hours. Serve with rum flavored hard sauce. Portions for twelve.

Make A Christmas Yum-Yum Tree

There'll be more than just visions when it comes to sugar plum trees this Christmas. Fifteen thousand candy store windows across the country will blossom with posters of a tree that is destined to become as famous as Rockefeller Center's.

It's a regular yum-yum tree, created in New York by artist Miyo Endo for Schrafft's Candies, and candy is what it's made of.

Standing four feet high and shimmering with hundreds of chocolates, foil-wrapped cherry cordials, caramels, and Jordan almonds, the candy tree is not only a joy to behold, but a treat to eat. Except for its cardboard nucleus, it's completely edible.

It took artist Miyo five days and five nights to create the original yum-yum tree, but you can easily make a smaller version of it to delight your own family this Christmas.

For a mantel decoration just cut a tree shape from heavy cardboard and coat it with soft fondant or simple syrup. Using a two or three pound box of Schrafft's chocolates, cover the cardboard in a merry Christmas tree pattern. After the candy is secure, prop your tree on the mantel and lean it against the wall.

A chocolate yum-yum tree also makes a delightful hanging decoration to suspend over your buffet or dinner table. As a combination centerpiece/conversation piece, how sweet it is!

OPEN SEASON FOR CRANBERRY COBLER

Grandmother had a culinary trick up her sleeve worth noting! When she didn't have the time to make a pie, she mixed up a quick fruit cobbler and slipped it into the oven. For an extra-special treat, try this easy-to-make spicy cranberry-apple combination topped with drop biscuits. It's baked en casserole, and bright with fresh ruby-red cranberries, just now at their seasonal best.

CRANBERRY APPLE COBLER
(Makes 8 servings)

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 6 apples, peeled, cored and cut into slices | 1 cup water |
| 2 cups Ocean Spray fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained | 3 tablespoons butter or margarine |
| 1 1/2 cups sugar | 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour |
| 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon | 4 teaspoons baking powder |
| 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| | 1 egg, well beaten |
| | 1/4 cup milk |

Combine apples, cranberries, sugar, spices, water and butter in a saucepan; cook over medium heat until mixture bubbles. Lower heat and simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until apples are tender but still firm. Pour mixture into shallow 2-quart casserole. Mix flour, baking powder and salt; add egg and milk and stir only until all dry particles are moistened. Drop dough by spoonfuls on top of cranberry mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 25 minutes or until drop biscuits are golden brown. Place a biscuit into a serving dish and spoon some of the sauce over it. Serve with heavy cream.

Holiday Gifts From The Kitchen

A wonderful box of Christmas cookies or a loaf of cake made in your own kitchen, carefully wrapped and protected with Reynolds Wrap, is a welcome gift during the holidays.

Cookies can be made ahead in quantity and stored until gift-giving time. Try this trick to speed up cookie baking: fill several sheets of foil with cookies, slide each sheet onto the pan to bake, then quickly off when done. Slip another sheet of foil dotted with unbaked cookies on the empty cookie pan and bake. This way no time is lost between batches.

When thoroughly cool, pack cookies in foil-lined boxes and separate layers with foil. Seal the foil tightly and they'll keep fresh for weeks. If they are to be sent through the mail to boys in the service or children at school, it's best to wrap cookies individually so they're protected against breaking.

Christmas cakes are naturals for foil, too. Bake them in foil-lined pans to keep them from overbrowning and to make it easy to remove them from the pans. Cool them, add a sprinkling of sherry or brandy for good Christmas flavor and then rewrap in foil. Although you may store and age fruit cakes in a cool place under 70° F., the best and safest place to age them is in your freezer.

To gift wrap cake, first thaw the cake—if frozen—then tie with bright ribbon and decorate with sprigs of holly.

Christmas Cut-Out Cookies

- | | |
|------------------------------|---------------------|
| 5 cups sifted enriched flour | 2 cups sugar |
| 3 teaspoons baking powder | 3 eggs |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 2 teaspoons vanilla |
| 1 cup butter or margarine | 2 tablespoons milk |
- Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, vanilla and milk. Beat well. Stir in dry ingredients. Chill dough. Roll 1/4" thick on lightly floured board. Cut in desired shapes (stars, Santas, animals, etc.), place 1" apart on foil-covered cookie sheet. Decorate with colored sugar, chocolate bits, nuts and currants. Bake at 375° F. for 10 minutes. Frosting decorations may be put on after baking. Yield: approximately 6 dozen cookies.

CHRISTMAS RECIPE

—By Evy Reis
Take a bit of cheerfulness,
A pinch of laughter, too.
Next take a cup of thoughtfulness
And stir them through and through.

Add to this tranquillity,
A verse of "Silent Night,"
That ever quiet we may be
When God sends His holy light.

Gently fold in some tenderness,
A handclasp or smile will do.
Perhaps it could be a fond caress,
Or a rose with a drop of dew.

Set aside a moment while you go
For spices, herbs, a scent of pine....
For music and fun, a candles glow,
And a star that was the sign.

Now mix and stir and fold again,
Then add some mistletoe,
A bit of faith and love and then
Into the oven your cake must go.

Where warmth and affection will combine
To make this cake come true;
Garnish with happiness, truth so fine,
Enough for you and you!

Cut a piece, but save some too
For every day of the year.
Serve with a prayer for peace on earth,
And a heavenly kingdom near.
—Esther N. Speak.
