The Clerk-Treasurer reported a balance of $3,372.66 in the General Account and $325.00 in the Parking Meter Account.

Officer Boone reported 33 parking violations, seven warnings, three accidents and 11 state summons, four of which were speeding on Roberts Mill Road area.

At 8:00 P. M., a hearing of all interested taxpayers was held on the annexation of the two sections of land. No. 1-446 acres, Frederick Street area (Agway's new building); No. 2-47+ acres, the property of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Harner, Mrs. Merle Ohler, Memorial Park area and land immediately adjacent (26 acres) recently acquired from Mr. Sautle, which was not within the boundaries of the town. The Council, after the hearing, adopted a resolution of enactment on both parcels of land.

A report was heard on the drilling of the new well. The casing was placed to the depth of 129 feet, due to the nature of the ground formation. The drilling will resume as soon as the weather permits. This well was let on a contractual basis, therefore, the excessive time spent reaming the well and placing the casing was at no additional cost to the taxpayer, other than the cost of additional casing above that listed in the contract.

The Water Committee reported that they were receiving payment on all but one of the delinquent accounts. Further study will be given this report and action will be taken to collect monies due the town for services rendered.

Vote of Thanks for a Job Well Done

The Berean Circle of Taneytown Presbyterian Church held its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, February 28, in the social room of the church with Mrs. Mamie Ingram as hostess.

The devotions for the evening included the singing of hymns, responsive reading from the Book of Psalms and prayer led by Mrs. Ingram.

Our newly elected president, Mrs. Anne Harvey, then presided at the business session. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was also given at this time. Bills were handed in for the month and the treasurer was authorized to process payment.

A rising vote of "Thanks" was given to Miss Liza Carpenter for the very fine role as president to the group. Mrs. Gippie Neal expressed her appreciation on behalf of the entire Circle to Mrs. Edith McVaugh who has so faithfully served in the capacity as treasurer of the group for a total of 24 years. Surely we all could say, "A job well done, thy good and faithful servant."

Among items of new business discussed were: the purchasing of pew bibles for the church and the possibility of purchasing a 35-cup coffee urn. Both projects will be discussed in more detail at the next meeting. The annual bake sale by the ladies of the church will be held in May. An exact date will be determined at the next monthly meeting. It is hoped that all ladies of the church will make their contribution.

It is the desire of the Berean Circle that all ladies attend our meetings. A delightful fellowship followed the business with a delegation from the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church. The hostess served tasty and delicious refreshments to all present.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur W. Garvin, Jr., 29 Middle St., on March 28 at 7:30 P. M.

He served in the Korean War and upon separation from the Air Force entered the Harvard Law School and graduated in 1956.

Mr. Wolman is married to the former Mary Louise Laurentz of Houston, Texas. They have two daughters, 13 and 9.

To quote Mr. Wolman, "There are few limits to the general subject since the use of narcotics, and narcotic-related items, may be initiated in many ways, without regard to age, geography, income, or education." The Governor's Commission is devoted to stopping the first steps and, where this has already happened, helping in the rehabilitation of the "user" so that he or she, might take his place in society as an asset to the community.

There will be Parent-Teacher conferences from 7:30 to 8:00 P. M. prior to the General Meeting. Will you please make a very special effort to be present at this very important meeting. PTA needs YOU and YOU need PTA.

A LETTER TO ALL BUSINESSSES

"Good Friday" Closing Urged

Gentlemen:

As citizens of the community of Taneytown, who serve the many and various needs of our people, we know you are vitally interested in each aspect of community development. We of the Taneytown Ministerial Association, in cooperation with the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce, extend to you the opportunity to participate in the further promotion of Christian growth and development in the following manner:

The Good Friday service will be from 2:00-3:00 P. M. this year. This is shorter than the traditional service; however, it is the desire to achieve a greater Christian Witness in our community, and we feel this will enable more people to attend the entire service.

YOU are the key to success in this effort, and we ask your thoughtful consideration in the matter of closing your place of business from 1:45-3:00 P. M. on Good Friday in order that those who work for you, and you also, may be able to attend this service.

A representative of our group will call upon you seeking your support. You will be given a card which you may place in your window indicating your intention of being closed at this time, if you so desire.

Thanking you for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely yours,
Robert P. Mitchell

VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

There is a different look about the country-side these days, now that March is here. And rightfully so, for this month, as wild and changeable as it is, serves as the bridge that spans from winter into spring. Therefore, we are willing to make do with wind, mud, rain, and snow, as Mother Earth throws off the shackles of that formidable jailer, Old Man Winter, and once again prepares to step into the glorious freedom of Spring.

And so today, although snow flakes are flying, I hear the liquid notes of a song sparrow, and from somewhere the chirp of a robin. Speaking of this familiar bird, I have already seen several, even in the bitter month of February. Homesick colonists named the robin after an European bird with a much redder breast. Actually this native bird of the East is a thrush. This is evident in the spotted markings of the young.

The ancient cedar tree is gracefully bowing and bending to the music of the March wind. I wonder how many years it has withstood the elements? No weather, no matter how rough, seems to ruffle its composure.

As I watch the earth turning to another season, I am reminded of the words found in Solomon's Song, 2: 11, 12. "For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth, and the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle (dove) is heard in our land."

—Zola Cantwell

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

How nice to have everyone give you a great big smile walking "Around The Town," for there is no other town who could boast about that! Eh? "The Smiling Taneytowners!"

Although, the drive up was not a beautiful day on Monday of this past week, it was just like "going home"! Adjectives fail me!

I stopped by the "Carroll County Historical House" in Westminster and there was such a homey feeling, since I had visited last, which I felt was due to the grand personality in there right now, a Miss Griffin who seems to love every item in the house and is so very capable! She seems to be long right there! The next time, I go, I will take a comfortable pair of shoes and spend many hours for it is most interesting.

There is a dear aged humble lady there who is a direct descendant of the Shivers and her name is Mrs. Marie Shriver Beggs.

Going into Kresge's Five and Dime the other day, saw a packaged plant in a square box and it was called, "The Venus Fly Trap," ready to grow in it's own greenhouse planter. Red flowers bloom and it is exotically beautiful! It catches insects and EATS HAMBURGERS! The price is 88¢. I did not like the idea of it eating Hamburgers so I did not buy one!

Don't forget, Ladies if you do want to take off pounds just omit any dairy product, especially ice cream, and anything pre-treating to chocolate. You can eat anything else. Many girls and older women are still having their ears pierced and if you notice they wear the smallest earrings. Tiny pearl affairs. But for evening, they are huge in all sizes and descriptions.

Did you see Bishop Sheen on the Gleason 51st birthday party last Saturday night? Bishop Sheen—everyone loves! How he has aged with his snow white hair!

Walking on Mullberry St., going by No. 211 West—saw a strange sign which read, "The Leather People," and I walked into that place to get an eye full for this Column. They have stores in different sections and it talked with a young man who states it is going over very big with the teen-agers. One is in Towson and another on the Reisterstown Road, and still another in Ocean City, Md. Leather articles of all descriptions are selling them! Even dresses and smocks!

Last week as I left the grand exhibition of the Sarah Miriam Peale paintings, I walked over Fayette St., a little past Charles St., and just fancied some real Eastern Shore Raw oysters. There was a huge sign above me with, "The Cork and Bottle" Restaurant 22 E. Fayette, with the added "All Sea Foods"! I went in and a young man approached me and I immediately felt at home. The atmosphere made me think of that wonderful place called "Bookbinder's" in Philadelphia. Never have I met a finer Host and it was my first visit there. He assured me that they served Eastern Shore oysters, (as all Marylanders know) none can compare! Maryland is known for the Sea Food all over the world! Ummmm everything was delicious right there and no wonder they have such a fine reputation. It really is what I call, "Gracious Dining" and Cuisine Exceptional! Dinner is served until midnight and you can engage rooms for banquets and private dinner parties.

I have been in many restaurants in the various cities all throughout these United States, but there is really something different and wonderful about the special place. Try it the next time you are in town. Mr. Don Phillips is the owner and he is the one who greeted me. Simply Tops!

Only one more month, Folks for Winter—so don't complain!

Remember the 30th Annual Maryland House and Garden Pilgrimage House Tours will begin Thursday, April 27 through Sunday, May 7. Water cruises, Saturday May 13 and Sunday, May 14. Tour books will be sent on request with full information. Pilgrimage Room 223 Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore, Md. 21202.

Will be writing of "Aries" in my next Column, those born from March 20th to April 20th, inclusive. And if you can't sleep, Folks one night, you will sleep soundly the next night; so don't let it worry you for the "Sleeping Pill Medicine" is the biggest business of today, for it seems that everyone is taking them!

Have a grand week-end. Drive carefully and remember that saying, "It may be your own life that you may save!" Until next week D.V.

I am,
Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

And a P.S.—There is a "Carroll Record" of the year 1901, in a glass case in "The Carroll County, Westminster's Historical House!"

A man ought to guard his evil thoughts with the same care a woman does her age.

The more a man has, the more he complains—men just don't complain about nothing.

Many a swain has married an hour-glass figure only to find it was later than he thought.

THEY DESERVE BETTER

Last fall's elections may have indicated that the country is weary of a high living, high spending government. For a time, there was talk of economy in nondefense spending. That seems to have been forgotten. Federal spending programs for the year ahead now range somewhere around an estimated $135 billion. Officially, the deficit is estimated at some $8 to $9 billion. Unofficial estimates run much higher. No one really knows.

Instead of a curb on nonessential outgo, a tax increase is proposed along with ever-higher spending at a time when many economists see a definite downturn in areas of private activity. All of these signs of extravagance in the affairs of government might be a little less intolerable except for the fact that in a sense we are betraying those who are carrying the brunt of the burden in Viet Nam.

In the words of a leading oil company president, "The men in the front lines of Viet Nam are entitled to come home to something other than additional debt." It is entirely possible that these men will win the war while we at home lose the peace.

Opposition to repeal of the "right-to-work" provision of the Taft-Hartley Act as contained in Section 14(b) appears to be growing among the nation's independent business proprietors. In a nationwide poll just completed by the National Federation of Independent Business, 93 per cent are opposed, with 5 per cent in favor, and 2 per cent undecided.

Mr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, Calif., recently said, "... Large corporations have learned ... profits may be reaped in education. Education is more profitable than poverty. ..."

"The time is near," says the Portland Oregonian, "when the public should demand of its senators and representatives in Congress the same open record on financial affairs that Congress self-righteously demands of appointees in executive office."

The National Association of Manufacturers reports that, "Industry is now making a concerted effort to show students the great opportunities and challenges to be found in the business world. Students who can contribute new ideas, new efforts, new concepts are the ones industry is seeking; such students usually have the imagination and ability to recognize industry's vast contributions in problem-solving for the public good."

"To be successful in our, or any other business takes more than self-confidence," says Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange. "It requires that others, particularly the general public, also have confidence in the business."

Ronald Reagan, governor of California, stated recently, "... taxpayers should require of all local officials the same rigid economies, the same fiscal responsibility and the same true tax relief that is being demanded at the state level. State aid must not be an excuse for local extravagance."

According to the Arizona Farm Bureau Federation, "U. S. farmers apply about 35 pounds of plant nutrients to each arable acre of land. Japan applies more than 200 pounds and the Netherlands puts on more than 400 pounds per acre."

North American production of crude oil and natural gas liquids averaged a record 125,800 barrels daily, an increase of 3.9 per cent. Natural gas net production, including rental gas, in North America also set a record averaging 369.0 million cubic feet per day, compared with 320.6 million cubic feet daily a year earlier.

D. B. Shaun has purchased the huckster route of Jacob Bankard, near Uniontown. His son, Francis, will be the driver.

James B. Reaver has been appointed road commissioner for Taneytown district for 1917 at a salary of $100.

In Carroll County, the depth of the snowfall of Sunday was variously placed up to 18 inches and said to be the heaviest since 1894. A number of stables and sheds of various kinds collapsed in almost all sections of the county; and as the roads were nearly impassable on Saturday, the added fall of Sunday made them all the worse.

The corn canning establishment for Taneytown is an assured fact, as A. W. Feaser of Silver Run has purchased the old brick plant site, just north of town.

Samuel Weant—Mr. Samuel Weant, 71, died at his home in Bruceville, early Tuesday morning. Mr. Weant was one of the most widely known residents of this section, having been engaged in various lines of business in Bruceville for many years where he was the owner of considerable property. He leaves a wife and the following children: J. Frank, Harvey and Quillie, of Baltimore; Bruce C., of Union Bridge; C. Mervin, of Hagerstown; Mrs. Effie Eichelberger of Union Bridge and Mrs. Mertie Kohler of Keymar.

It makes sense. By plowing down your Southern States Fertilizer now, you get the jump on things. You give your fertilizer a chance to work down deep. That's where the moisture is. That's where corn roots make best use of plant nutrients, especially during dry years. Result: You come out bushels ahead. College research has proven the advantages of early plow-down on most soil types. Prove it to yourself now.

KEYSVILLE DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Callers last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville were Mrs. Clyde Boller of Mt. Airy on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumgardner near Keysville on Friday evening, Mrs. Ruth Valentine near Keysville on Saturday afternoon and Mrs. Laverne Keilholtz, Robert, David and Barbara also near Keysville on Sunday afternoon.

Next Lenten service in the Union Bridge Lutheran Parish will be March 15 at Mt. Tabor in Rocky Ridge.

The Monocacy YPC met on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide on the Forest and Stream Club Road. John Rinehart of Taneytown was the guest for the evening and he showed slides and told of his trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, where he represented Maryland as the "Outstanding Farmer of the Year."

The Key Club of Taneytown High School attended Keysville Lutheran Church together on Sunday. The lovely anthem was "Peace In My Soul." It was good to see Larry Dougherty home again.

Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty of Detour, has been stationed in England with the U.S. Air Force. He was home for the week-end, will spend three days being "processed" and then be discharged from the service. By the time you are reading this, he will be a civilian again. Welcome home, Larry!

Also good to see Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hast and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hood, Bobby and Robyn. Sure they spent the week-end with the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young, Sr., of Keysville. Both Bobs are serving with the U.S. Navy and are now stationed in Rhode Island.

Eager Beaver Girls' 4-H Club meeting at the home of Cathy Dedmon of Mt. Union on Friday, March 10.

Boy Scout Troop 330 has a camping trip planned for this week-end at Cunningham Falls. They will learn to set up camp at night on this trip for they will leave Union Bridge at 7:30 P. M. on Friday evening.

Just learned that Mrs. Hubert Null and George E. Gartrell have been recent hospital patients. Sorry I didn't know before to send cards, but do hope they are both much improved.

Cub Pack 459 meeting on Friday, March 17. Cub Scout Handyman was the theme for this month.

Rain, rain and more rain. Even caused flood waters in many places and the creeks around Detour are over their banks today (Tuesday).

Social Ministry was the topic at the meeting of the Keysville Lutheran Church Women on March 6. The filmstrip, "This Is the Mark," was shown by Mrs. William Fleharty, leader for the evening.

It was decided that Social Ministry is a fancy word for living the Golden Rule and trying to be one's "brother's keeper." Two readings were taken from the book "Listen for a Rainbow."

The special for the evening was a duet by Mrs. Vernon Schaffer and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty, "How Great Thou Art."

During the business meeting, Mrs. Robert Stine reported 79 Christmases completed and presented the bill for supplies. The food stand at the Steffen sale profited $107.69 which has been added to the funds for kitchen remodeling. The "kitchen committee" will meet at the church March 13.

The group has been asked to serve, along with the ladies of Trinity, at the reception Monday evening of the Convention in Gettysburg (July 10). It was moved to do this and more information will be available later. "Renewed in Christ" will be the theme for the Convention.

FAIRVIEW

Monday morning, March 6, 1967, a disagreeable day, weather wise—but we can always use the rain. A few days ago, I either heard it on the news broadcast or read it in the newspaper that the water situation has not come up to its fullest as yet—so we need the rain and snow, if we like it or not. This is what you call a blue Monday; but our days are only as we make them. I, for one, will try hard to make them happy days.

Mr. Paul Sherfy of Rocky Ridge, called on Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock on Friday evening.

Mrs. Donald Carl and children, David and Debbie and Mrs. Levi Frock called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock on Sunday evening.

Three Appearings

He hath appeared, the Son of God, in deep humility;

He bore the fathers judgment rod, upon Mt. Calvary;

His hands were bruised, his feet were torn

The father's lovely son;

He felt the pang of every thorn, 'till life on earth was done.

He doth appear in heaven, now our advocate and Lord;

Thorns do not touch his lovely brow, He's conquered every sword;

When we would fall, he lifts us up; For us He intercedes — with joy

He fills each empty cup; Each hungry soul he feeds.

He shall again appear in power, The earth will cry aloud;

Come thou eternal in this hour, Descend dear Son of God;

And let thy glories be unfurled, For things are growing worse;

Come back into a sinful world, And lift us from the curse.

—George White.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of GEORGE W. DEVLBISS who passed away two years ago, March 13, 1965.

We are not all here; a broken band Now gathers around our hearth; A light is from our household gone And hushed our joy and mirth.

A voice we loved is silent now; We see the vacant chair; All dreary are our souls and sad, For, oh! we're not all here.

BY HIS LOVING WIFE, SISTER AND CHILDREN

THE WAY I SEE IT . . . Observations on the World of Sports - John Breth

Clothes are supposed to make the man but do uniforms make the ball player? There was a time when the Yankee pin-stripes were supposed to turn all-American outs into sluggers and soft-touch pitchers into hard cases. That theory is now suspect.

The owners of the Kansas City Athletics, CHARLIE FINLEY, believes that colorful uniforms add something to baseball.

Each year, it seems, Finley comes up with something new in the way of apparel for his players. This year they will wear white shoes, made of kangaroo hide. They also will have shiny gold batting helmets.

Finley says: "Last season we had Kelly green batting helmets. I liked them but the gold batting helmets complement the rest of the uniform and the white shoes.

By the way, the A's have three sets of uniforms. They always change uniforms between games of a double-header. Finley calls uniform number one, "wedding gown white" . . . that's what the man said. Another uniform is "Port Knox gold" . . . that has a nice ring to it . . . and the third is "misty green," no relation to long green.

Finley says . . . "The accessories are the same for each uniform but we are making an addition to the stockings this year. We will have gold stripes and white trimming to go with the Kelly green socks."

For rainy or muddy days, however, the A's will not use their white kangaroo shoes. Finley has black shoes with white lacing running around the top of the shoe to give additional ankle support.

Finley has explained his love of colorful uniforms and listen closely: one, three of his seven children have red hair and their mother always dresses them in Kelly green and gold. Two, Finley says that because he's Irish he likes green. And, three, he grew up only 30 miles from Notre Dame and was always fond of the famed golden dome at that school.

In the words of the song, "It might as well be spring," and in Florida it is.

SPRING TRAINING TIME is here again in baseball—not only in Florida but also in Arizona and California. Of the 20 big league teams getting ready for spring training, 16 will drill in Florida, three in Arizona and one in California.

Most training camps are well attended already by rookies, pitchers and catchers and early bird veterans. The exhibition season will get underway in Mexico, of all places, on March seventh when the Cleveland Indians start a three-game set with local teams.

The Florida exhibition opener will come on March ninth with the New York Yankees taking on the Senators in the Washington camp at Pompano Beach. There will be six games the following day and after that there will be constant action until the regular season begins on April tenth.

The Baltimore Orioles will defend both their American League championship and the World Series title. Their main opposition for the American League pennant is expected from Minnesota, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland. Those perennial favorites of years gone by, the Yankees, will make news if they break into the first division.

The Los Angeles Dodgers will defend their National League championship and with Sandy Koufax in retirement and Maury Wills gone to Pittsburgh in a trade, they may be in trouble—and then again, maybe not. Pittsburgh is the opening favorite with San Francisco, Atlanta, Cincinnati and St. Louis the main contenders. Any other contenders? Possibly the Dodgers. They just could be a factor, especially if Don Drysdale bounces back with a big year on the mound.

There are the inevitable new managers. Dick Williams at Boston, Joe Adcock at Cleveland and Mayo Smith at Detroit are new. Ralph Houk with the Yankees, Dave Bristol with the Reds and Billy Hitchcock with Atlanta did not start last year in the pilot's seat but were moved in during the season.

Today's Sport Laugh - Jim Bouton watched Steve Hamilton taking his cuts at the plate during a batting workout by the New York Yankees at Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Bouton also watched Hamilton stroll back to the dugout after a poor showing at the plate. Said Bouton:

"You have as good a walk back to the dugout after failure at bat as any man I've ever seen."

Want early pasture to help ease your short feed situation this spring? Apply fertilizer now and with the first breath of spring your pasture will have the jump towards quick early growth.

Apply 40 to 50 pounds of nitrogen along with recommended phosphorus and potash according to soil tests. In the absence of a soil test apply 40-50 pounds of both of these elements. Thus the equivalent of 400-500 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer should be used. Applying fertilizer now can spread out all those spring jobs and fields are usually more solid to travel on. Waiting until the grass turns green means delayed growth.

Homeowners can also take the hint and apply 8-10 pounds of 10-10-10 or a similar analysis now to bring on an early uniform growth.

Speaking of the Soil Conservation District or the Soil Conservation Service usually brings a quizzical look by the listener. While many may think they are synonymous they are actually two separate organizations.

The Soil Conservation District is organized under an act of the Maryland Legislature and is composed of five "supervisors" or board members who are farm owners in the County. This board gives over-all supervision to the conservation program in promoting erosion control and proper land use.

Our Carroll District was organized in 1942 and is composed of Randall G. Spoerlien, New Windsor, Chairman; Horace S. Brauning, Deer Park,

Vice Chairman; Sterling J. Leister, Hampstead, treasurer; Melvin Leppo, Winfield, and Carroll Wilhide, DeTour. I serve as secretary to the board.

The Soil Conservation Service is the technical arm of the U.S. Department of Agriculture which gives engineering and supervision assistance for carrying out the activities of the District.

William O. Boothe, Westminster, and his fine staff have worked hand-in-hand with the District in carrying out one of the finest conservation programs to be found anywhere.

As land and water resources become more limited, conservation practices applied today, pay big dividends to the future generations on the farm and in the city as well.

"A stitch in time saves nine" can be applied very well to controlling pests on fruit trees in your backyard. Early spraying prior and during the blooming period goes a long way towards controlling many of the worst pests on fruit.

Controlling pests can be very simple by following a few fundamental rules and using the right spray material. Our Extension bulletin on "Sprays for Home Fruit Plantings" outlines an easy to use, complete spray program for apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, grapes and strawberries.

This bulletin is available free to anyone requesting a copy by writing our County Extension Office, Westminster, or by calling 848-4611.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT FROM Annapolis

By GOODLOE E. BYRON
STATE SENATOR
Carroll-Frederick District

ABOLITION OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Senate Bill 82 as approved last week by the Judicial Proceedings Committee of the State Senate will abolish capital punishment if enacted. The only cases excepted would be those involving the killings of police officers in line of duty or prison guards in attempted escapes.

The members of the Committee had previously listened to testimony presented by interested witnesses, many of whom had come from as far away as California to present statistics and arguments in support of their stand against the death penalty.

Maryland has not had an execution since 1961 and in the preceding decade only six prisoners had paid the supreme penalty.

The rate of executions in the United States has been continuously declining for the past 32 years. In 1935 the death penalty was assessed 199 times, while 1966 saw only 11 executions.

Under Federal law only 33 criminals have paid with their lives in the past 35 years. This number includes the six Nazi saboteurs who were landed on our shores in 1942 and subsequently caught, tried, and executed as well as the convicted "atomic secret" traitors, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

In 1847 Michigan became the first state to abolish capital punishment. Since that time 12 other states have followed this lead including Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, Alaska, Hawaii, Oregon, Iowa, West Virginia, Vermont and New York. Four of these states made this significant move before the turn of the century.

Of the other major powers of the world, only the Soviet Union, China and France retain this form of punishment.

Authorities in the field of criminology recommend abolition of the death penalty, arguing that it has ceased to have the desired deterrent effect against criminal homicide. They cite the well-documented fact that in most of our southern states where capital punishment still exists the highest homicide rates occur. Georgia has had more executions than any other state—almost 10 per cent of the total in the country since 1930—yet it still has one of the highest homicide rates in the United States.

The newly appointed Attorney General, Ramsey Clark, is one of those who have been advocating the abolition of the death penalty in Federal cases.

In last year's debate in the United States Senate on S.B. 3634 which sought this Federal abolition, Senator Philip A. Hart of Michigan quoted Thomas Jefferson's remarks of 180 years ago, "... I shall ask for the abolition of the punishment of death until I have the infallibility of human judgment demonstrated to me..."

Lesson for March 12, 1967

Background Scriptures: Luke 19:28 through 21:38. Devotional Readings: 2 Timothy 4:1-8.

A woman was counselling with her pastor and admitted that she was nursing a long-standing grudge against her neighbor. "The neighbor had done something which she felt she could not forgive." But don't you think God has forgiven her?" the clergyman asked.

"Yes," replied the woman, "but then it is much easier for him to forgive!" Many people seem to share this assumption that forgiveness is an easy task for the Deity. In W. H. Auden's Christmas oratorio, For The Time Being, a character remarks: "I like committing crimes. God likes forgiving them. Really, the world is admirably arranged." But it is not so: forgiveness is not easy for God or man — not if we take sin seriously.

Another Way

How does one handle the fact of sin? One response to sin is to refuse to forgive it. Another is to give the appearance of forgiving without really forgiving (to "forgive" without "forgetting"). Still another response to sin is to overlook it. The first and second responses take sin too seriously and the third doesn't take it seriously enough.

Surely there must be another way to respond to sin. There is: to pay the cost of sin in redemptive love. This response takes sin seriously, but it takes love even more seriously. It acknowledges the terrible power of sin and does not overlook it, but it also recognizes that long-suffering love is even more powerful.

Someone has said, "You cannot learn to forgive until you learn to judge." This may sound strange for many of us mistakenly understand forgiveness as the act of overlooking sin, of failing to take it seriously. This kind of forgiveness is little more than an indulgent pat on the head and an assurance that "it doesn't matter." It is, however, a worthless forgiveness. If my sin against you "doesn't matter," then your forgiveness is not worth much because it didn't cost you anything to give it. Only when my sin really matters, when it is painful to you, when it costs you something in pain or loss, is your forgiveness to me a precious thing, a gift I do not deserve.

What Justice Demands

So it is with the forgiveness of God. He does not "like forgiving" our sins. They are painful to him. He cannot overlook them. We sin so brazenly, flaunting our will so rebelliously before him, that he cannot fail to know and care. He does not smile indulgently and tell us not to worry. It is judgment he gives us and it is only because he judges us that his forgiveness is precious to us.

We see the pain of our sin reflected in the parable of the vineyard. There is pain in the failure of the tenants to acknowledge the owner of the vineyard. It does not belong to them, yet they act as if it did. ("This is my Father's world," we sing, but we act as if it really belonged to us.) There is pain in their constant refusal to heed his messengers. Even when he gives them every chance to do the right thing, they reject him. There is that greatest of pains in their rejection and fatal violence to his very own son.

Miracle of Forgiveness

God cannot overlook so much pain. He cannot make believe it never happened; his sense of righteousness will not allow him to do that. He must pronounce his judgment: "He will come and destroy those tenants, and give the vineyard to others."

It is at this same point, however, that God performs the greatest of all his miracles: having pronounced the judgment, he takes the price of that judgment upon himself and pays it. The destructive reality of man's sin is staggering; it cannot be denied. But the redemptive reality of God's love is even greater.

God gives us no cheap grace. It is a forgiveness that is precious because its price is great. Because he loves us, he judges us. Because he judges us, his love has the power to save us.

ANNAPOLIS REPORTS

The usual flood of last minute bills into the Legislative hopper keeps intact a practice which is practically a custom when the deadline for the introduction of bills approaches.

Past experience has shown that a large percentage of the bills introduced near the deadline date seldom make their way through the complete legislative process to final enactment.

Many of these bills are introduced by new members, recently elected, who are possibly overly ambitious, nonetheless sincere, and feel that they will be judged primarily by the number of bills they sponsor.

In my opinion, nothing could be further from the truth. It is important to have good legislation enacted, but I have always felt that one of the best contributions that could be made by a Legislator is to work hard to pass the good bills and, just as hard, to defeat proposals that cannot stand on their own merit.

A number of bills pertaining to control of junk cars and junk yards have been introduced. Senate Bill 396 would regulate junk yards along Interstate and Primary highways, and require junk yards to be obscured by natural objects or fences; and provide authority to purchase or condemn property in certain cases and allow the control of junk yards by the State Roads Commission.

Senate Bill 415 increases the gasoline tax by one-half cent per gallon and provides for the collection and use of the tax. The proceeds of the tax would be used for the construction and reconstruction (existing roads) of secondary roads in the State Highway system.

Senate Joint Resolution 39 requests the State Road Commission of Maryland to officially name the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, the William Preston Lane, Jr., Memorial Bridge. It will be remembered by many that the idea of a bridge spanning the Chesapeake Bay was conceived and accomplished by the administration of the late Governor Lane.

Charles H. Smelser
State Senator
Carroll-Frederick District

This week saw some of the liveliest debate far in Annapolis this session. A bill known as House 239 which your delegates have received quite a bit of communication on was resolved. This bill had reference to the registration and purchase of shot guns and rifles. Both of your delegates had indicated to those who had inquired that they were opposed to this bill. The bill never came to the floor for a vote since it was killed in Judiciary and Delegate Yingling's vote in Committee was one that helped kill it.

Another issue very hotly debated was capital punishment. There presently is a bill to abolish it. It was indicated in testimony that those who committed murder and were later paroled, very seldom committed murder again. Your delegates are not so much concerned that they will never murder again as they are concerned that they should have never committed the first murder. It was also indicated in the testimony that capital punishment is not a deterrent for murder. We feel if the sentence were carried out it would act as a deterrent. Today if a person receives the death penalty the odds are about 99 to 1 that they will never be executed. With the information that was given in committee and after serious consideration by your delegates we are inclined to vote for retaining capital punishment.

Delegate Matthews contacted Mr. Wolf's office of the State Roads Commission for a meeting in an attempt to speed up the proposed Hampstead by-pass. It is hoped that an early meeting can be arranged.

Statement From County Commissioner McKinney

It seems necessary for me to make a statement in view of some of the things that the public reads in the press. Inaccurate—to put it mildly—reporting has been published in two of the papers having wide circulation in our county. I say that this is sloppy reporting and I say that the staff writers should be more careful of what they write as well as check their source of information.

One paper displayed headlines saying, "McKinney Asks Legislators for 2-Man Rule." This is a major departure from the truth. I simply asked that the word "three" be deleted from the law and insert in lieu thereof the words "Board of." The law would then read "the Board of County Commissioners shall meet four full days per week every week."

Last year when Mr. Brauning and Mr. Crawford were in the hospital, the Board continued to meet regularly but the three commissioners did not meet and this wording would simply make this complying with the letter of the law and has no effect on the commissioners voting on issues. It is my understanding that two commissioners have always been able to transact business of the county and this would continue unchanged.

The present lack of unity and the resulting chaotic condition within the county office is without precedent in the history of the county. I have been told in open session by one of my colleagues that he has no intention to cooperate with me. This kind of atmosphere is not conducive to good administration and I feel that correction should be made. If I am at fault, I would gladly surrender my seat on the Board.

As to the budget and the setting of the tax rate, I favor orderly consideration of the budget requests. They are being tabulated and we propose to release these to the press soon.

Some newspapers have reported me as saying that I favored keeping the budget secret until completed. The budget will hardly be completed until May 15th as was the case last year and then the tax rate would be set.

As to public discussion of the county's business, I had hoped that my two running mates in the November election and I could hold public discussion of election issues during the past campaign. However, when the primary election was over I had as running mates, one who opposed my stand on Water and Sewage disposal and the other opposed the existing Zoning and Planning which I had supported while a commissioner. When we were together on occasions, controversy would arise and I had to abandon plans for joint campaigning.

I favor public discussion of the budget so that the taxpayers are aware of where their money is to be spent and recommend changes. We must examine every request so as to avoid waste of taxpayers' money.

At least one newspaper has reported that I "told one reporter yesterday the budget will not be made public until the tax rate is set." (May 15.) He continued with the statement: "McKinney told this reporter that the budget might come out next week, maybe. We haven't had a chance to see it ourselves." The facts are that I told the reporter that the budget requests would be made public when tabulated, probably March 6th.

We can hardly work intelligently until we know what income will be forthcoming from the legislature which runs for another three weeks. If the expected state aid is not forthcoming we may feel obligated to cut some items that would be favored by a majority of our citizens but would be unfair to our property owners. We can certainly proceed in earnest after adjournment of the legislature.

The lack of harmony in the Commissioners' office is regretted and the situation is not conducive to efficient work. This would not be tolerated in industry but, due to the character of the county organization, each commissioner seems free to be considerate or inconsiderate of his colleagues as he may elect. The voters can make corrections but four years is a long time for one to allow the present conditions to exist.

Mention has been made in the papers of an unwritten coalition between Commissioners Walsh and McKinney. There is no organized coalition, and friendliness between us is due to the attitude which Commissioner Bair has taken toward us during the past 90 days. Under the conditions, how could one expect it to be otherwise?

—Robert M. McKinney
