ANNAPOLIS REPORTS

Several members of the Senate Finance Committee were greatly concerned during the rush last week to push through both Houses the largest operating budget in the history of our State, along with the largest single tax increase ($124,000,000) ever imposed upon our citizens.

Because of this, a Special Senate Sub-Committee, of which your correspondent is a member, recommended the appointment of a year-round Legislative Committee to more effectively evaluate governmental operations in the State of Maryland.

The new committee will make a detailed study of the Budget of each department as they are being formed. Heretofore, only representatives of the Governor have worked with the various departments.

The Special Sub-Committee is of the opinion that although each State Commission, Board, and Agency has a prime responsibility in a given area, they must be AWARE that their operations are not the only needs.

Each year new ideas, innovations and desires to obtain State Government dollars are cast upon the Legislature for action. In order for the Legislature to BUILD SENSIBLY, it must be able to place needs on a priority basis. Legislative machinery should be such as to have a full understanding of what impact particular projects will have on Maryland's growth, economy and revenue sources.

The Legislature should be in a position to analyze presently-operating State programs and to determine their efficiency in relationship to results obtained.

It is generally agreed among Legislators that many State projects have only been successful through interim (between sessions) Committee work and that Legislative CONTROLS and PROCEDURES will bring about a reduction of unnecessary duplication and waste.

In a time when the State budget has spiraled to an amount that exceeds one billion dollars, it is essential that the Legislature have a complete and thorough understanding of budget costs and programs and that it not have its hands tied by way of a quick 70-day look and see approach.

Charles H. Smelser
State Senator
Carroll-Frederick District

Since our last report, activity has increased here in Annapolis as a tremendous rate. We are now in day and night sessions. On numerous occasions Committee meetings have lasted till 1:00 A.M. in the morning.

This past week saw the passage of the Tax Reform Bill. The Constitutional Convention Bill has been passed and signed by the Governor. The Abortion Bill, although your Delegates voted against it, passed the House and has been sent to the Senate. There is a good chance the Abortion Bill will be killed in the Senate. A bill to abolish Capital Punishment has received a favorable report in the House Judiciary Committee and is slated for a vote in the near future.

Your Delegates have been asked by the Carroll County Bar Association to support the Unified Bar Bill. Delegate Yingling supported their thinking in Committee but the bill has been referred to legislative council for further study.

Another bill that passed the House over the opposition of your Delegates, was a bill requiring banks pay interest on Christmas Clubs. We feel this is a special service performed by the banks. If interest is desired on an account the customer can use the regular savings account.

LAWN GRASS BROWN INSTEAD OF GREEN?

Many lawns in some areas of the midwest and northeast may look brown this Spring when they should look green.

An Ohio State University turf specialist has an explanation. Robert W. Miller indicates that some areas have not had the normal snow cover this Winter. Therefore, lawns haven't had the Winter insulation they need, and grass has turned brown.

Unless something is done about it in late March or early April, he says, the lawn may be slow to green-up this Spring. . . . and you'll likely have a thatch problem — that is, a heavy build-up of dead grass.

In statements reviewed by National Plant Food Institute, Miller gives two alternatives.

One, remove the dead grass with a thatch remover that you can rent from most lawn and garden centers. Rake up dead grass, and apply a good lawn fertilizer. Follow directions on the bag or package.

Or, two, if you can't get a thatch remover, go over the lawn with a sharp rotary mower set at a low level, suggests Miller. Rake up dead grass and apply lawn fertilizer.

Have a green lawn instead of a brown one this Spring.

Taneytown Lions Club

PAST PRESIDENTS' NIGHT

The Taneytown Lions Club held their regular meeting on March 28 at 6:29 at Taney Inn. Lion President Delmont Koons presided over this Past Presidents' meeting. Lion Keith Brown led the singing with Lion Delmar Riffle as piano accompanist. Invocation was given by Lion Rev. Welker.

Quite a few Past Presidents attended the meeting including Lion John Hottinger from the Glade Valley Lions Club in Woodsboro and local citizen Wilbur Thomas.

Program Chairman Lion Glenn Reeve introduced the speaker for the evening, Rev. Eugene Gardner from Woodsboro. Rev. Gardner is a member of the Woodsboro Glade Valley Lions Club. He was an old friend to several of the Lions as he married a local girl several years ago and gave several sermons at the local Lutheran Church when he was attending the Gettysburg Seminary.

Rev. Gardner spoke on "Shabbiness in American Life." He talked on the many unpleasant things of the nation as our littered highways, smoke stacks blowing black poison and filth into the air, law officers receiving bribes, corrupt politicians. The public is in too much of a hurry to get something done to take the time to do it right. Their attitude seems to be "if it doesn't come out right this time, I'll do it better the next time."

A visitation group from the Hampstead Lions Club was present. Next meeting will be Lions Information Night with Lion Frank Wargny as Chairman.

VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

Now April trips over the hill, wearing daffodils in her hair and carrying a dainty umbrella. This tearful young lady generally brings showers, but she occasionally pelts us with a few snow flurries, for early April is apt to be blustery and cold, and to remind us far more of winter than of spring.

Regardless of the weather, however, the robins' flashing red breasts (these birds are everywhere), the greening meadows, and the sunny jonquils nodding their bright heads, reassure me that spring is definitely "in."

As I enjoy April's debut, courtesy of my kitchen window, it seems that all of nature is bursting with vibrant new life. It is all around me, on every side. The lilac bush is spiked with tiny green buds, and the South Carolina Poplar is coming into leaf. Our mother cat proudly displays her four tiny kittens, and in the barn there is a brand new calf. The groundhog is back in his old familiar haunts, and Beau keeps a sharp eye out for him. Nothing would please Beau more than to catch Woody-Woodchuck in an unsuspecting moment!

Song-sparrows, red-wings and meadow larks sound their silvery notes, and I am reminded of the words of that wonderful old hymn, "This is my Father's world, and to my listening ear, All nature sings and round me rings, The music of the spheres."

—Zola Cantwell

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE'

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Last week I visited the "Mother Seton House" at 600 North Paca St., which is 160 years old and is now a National Shrine. It is open to the public on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday or by special appointment and the hours are from 1 to 3 P.M.

Arriving about 20 minutes before 1:00 P.M. I thought I would have to wait out in the cold as the day was a bitter one but a colored workman who was most kind told me to ring the bell to the St. Mary Seminary and they would open the door for me. I did just that, consequently a Sister opened the back door and I walked in and there I was alone in that precious little home!

I walked through the kitchen, the dining room and living room and then sat down in the hall to await the lady who is there between those hours. Finally she came in exactly at the hour of 1:00 P.M. (a Mrs. Truman Semans) who is a charmer.

I introduced myself to her telling her that I did not like to walk around until she arrived. No adjective could describe how I felt sitting in that hallway alone, for I was thinking of this woman, Elizabeth Bayley Seton who was the Founder of The Sisters of Charity!

The house is filled with charm, as to all the rooms and the floors, woodwork, walls etc., are the original. Mrs. Semans told me that the color of Williamsburg green was the same color of the walls when this precious lady lived there. Every room in the house has its fireplace according to size and there is even a third floor where the children slept. The beautiful winding stairway is beyond describing for one can look up to the third floor standing on the first floor as it is so spacious.

The very lock to the front door is still there and the key is the original, about 10 to 12 inches long; (which is shown in a glass case). The floor boards are terribly wide, as in those days they have not been painted. There is one closet in the entire house! The kitchen used to have a brick floor but has been changed to a wooden affair years ago.

There is a certain peace and calmness to the entire atmosphere which I cannot describe and which I observed seated right there! It is carried out in a neat fashion as to the furniture of those days. The walls are very thick and are the original!

The house was built in 1807 and Mother Seton lived there with her children about a year and since then off and on the house has been rented as Mrs. Semans related to me.

The seminary which surrounds it was built by a French architect, Godefroy and the little house even has the French windows and they too are original! What impressed me was the Poyer Hall upon entrance to the front of the house. In those days only fire places were used for heating and I can imagine this little lady with all her responsibilities in the Winter time, even cooking by or in a fireplace!

Those days it truly was the country, about a mile from the town of Baltimore! The house those days was completely surrounded by orchards. Today, of course, it is in the city limits.

This little "Mansion" was restored by the women of "The Mother Seton House" in 1930. Mother Seton was a most religious woman and had been of the Episcopal Faith before she joined the Catholic church in Italy, where her children were born and after the death of her husband who passed away due to Tuberculosis. There is a large yellow gold watch in the case which belonged to her grandson! Calling all school teachers, that would be one place to take the pupils in the month of May. Mother Seton became a teacher and this is the way she managed to support herself and her children.

There will be many who will visit the precious little home who will have a home built exactly like it, minus of course, all the fireplaces. Everyone should visit this little house and be most proud that it was selected right in Baltimore.

Mother Seton was born in New York City, August 28, 1774 and was married to William Seton on January 25, 1794. Her husband passed away on December 27, 1803. On March 14, 1805 she was received into the Catholic Faith or church and arrived in Baltimore, opening the Paca Street school in June, 1808. She arrived in Emmitsburg, Md. in 1809 and the community life began in the Stone House.

I hope to go back again for another visit, so you and you may know how it all impressed me. Have a grand week-end. Folks. Be kind to one another and may love go around to others from your heart! Until next week D.V.

I am,
Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

THE NEW BANKING

Time was when a bank was a somber place, about as lively as a funeral parlor, and the people who stood behind the bronze grilles or sat behind the big glass-topped desks wore a grim look as a symbol of their profession.

No more. Today things are different. The cages of the tellers are going or gone, and the customers come face to face with smiling, friendly people.

This new atmosphere is being carried forward because one of the most successful banks in the country set an example that is being copied. In financial terms the example bank experienced spectacular results. Its resources grew from $25 million to $650 million in only 25 years. In addition, it has added something else of value to the bank's assets: an immeasurable fund of good will.

Under the presidency of Willard
K. Denton, The Manhattan Savings Bank of New York City has applied show business techniques to banking which have made him known as "the Ziegfeld of banking." But more important, these innovations have brought depositors flocking to his cheerful bank.

How do you combine show-biz with banking? At Mr. Denton's bank you find Christmas ice skating programs, dog shows, karate exhibitions, piano and organ recitals and golf tournaments. There's no stage, but the bank's spacious lobby provides ample room for entertainment, and there's a natural theater-in-the-round because big windows permit passersby to watch the show, along with the audience inside the bank.

When Mr. Denton started this,
other bankers were inclined to snicker
or snort at such undignified business.
But as people with money to deposit showed that they liked this light touch, the snickering and the snorting stopped. The fact that Denton is a member of the Society of American Magicians and can produce a waving U.S. flag from a walking cane

the American free enterprise system gives you an idea of his flair for playing to the galleries.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

THERMOPOLIS, WYO., RECORD:
"Young people particularly should realize that the foundation of all financial provisions for retirement security is a sound dollar. They should demand, as should all Americans, that the Social Security system be properly managed so . . .
that one day the working public will not rebel against the system. Even under present benefits the combined tax on employees and employers will rise to 11.3 per cent within a few years. Social Security benefits should be adequate but they should not be vulnerable to political influences. It might be wise to make a careful appraisal of the system, which is not three decades old, to see if it provides real security."

MESA, ARIZ., TRIBUNE: "A couple of news items which appeared the same day recently must have caused readers to blink and think.
One was about a couple of guys who stood in court with smirks on their faces as a reluctant judge had to dismiss murder charges against them because their voluntary confessions had been made without benefit of attorneys to inform them of their rights. The other item was the solemn warning by the secretary of the U.S. Treasury that unless Congress boosted the government's debt limit by $7 billion within 30 days, it might be just too bad for elderly citizens who depend on Social Security, veterans' pensions and retirement pay.

There just might be no money for such things."

THAYER, MO., NEWS: "The national debt will . . . rise to $336 billion, or more, from the present maximum of $330 billion. The average taxpayer may not be aware of the fact he is already paying fourteen billions a year interest on this debt.
Instead of being increased in these good times, the debt should be slowly decreased. . . . Until we end the war, it would be prudent to limit social, domestic programs. We simply can't afford both at the same time."

MOOSE LAKE, MINN., STAR-GAZETTE: "Everyone complains about the welfare expense and the way people abuse it but how many of you have complained to your lawmakers?"

GRAFTON, N. D., RECORD: "We read, just the other day, of a retail store in the East which carried the following thought-provoking sign:
'This store does not advertise. This savings goes to our customers.' . . .
This kind of inverted thinking crops up sometimes—the notion that advertising is a form of personal charity.
. . . That, you may be sure, is not the reason that the giants of American industry spend millions of dollars every year in advertising. The only need involved, as they see it, is theirs.
These big and successful companies are not philanthropic agencies. When they spend money they insist on getting a good return for it. And they know that they get it through newspaper advertising."

WHITTIER, CALIF., STAR RE-VIEW: "There is no reasonable answer in trying to understand why young people, many from very fine families, go out and break and destroy property that belongs to other people. . . . The fantastic costs to individuals and the public alike for the destruction wrought by vandals mounts each year. All levels of government are seeking solutions and the answers to combating the problem. . . . There will be no easy or pat answers to the complex world of our young where destruction of property seems to be a pattern of action that is unfathomable to an adult.
But the vandal and his actions are a challenge to society and one that must be solved for his sake and that of this very nation."

CANNELTON, IND., NEWS: "We want our young people to be able to think for themselves and to be active participants in community life, but we also want them to realize that freedom and justice are secured by law and order; that lasting rights and privileges are possible only by acceptance of responsibilities and obligations."

ALEXANDRIA, VA., JOURNAL-STANDARD: "While the business and professional man has become a popular whipping boy for all who care to throw stones . . . the taxes produced by these so-called 'bad guys' forms the backbone of our community."

A Military Census to be taken in Carroll. The Governor of Maryland has ordered that a census of all males of military age in the State, be taken and that this work be done by volunteers. The Governor appointed a board of five men in each county to supervise the census. Preston B. Englar of Taneytown is one of the members of the Board.

Have you been reading lately that the Carroll County Humane Society is asking for funds for needed enlargement and repairs at their center? On Monday Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Beth took daughter Jane and friend Betty Myers of Westminster back to studies at Bridgewater College at Bridgewater, Va. They had been home since the 18th.

Did you read that article in the January 1967 Parent's Magazine about each home needing a Home-Study Center with reference materials available? The description sounded just like World Book Encyclopedia. (Remember, it'd be glad to come and tell you about it if you are interested because you have found your children do need help at home these days: with so much to learn in school now!)

This Saturday, April 1, is the date for the annual Ham and Oyster supper by the men of the Middleburg Methodist Church. They serve a fine meal!

Have you been hearing and reading the talk about selling car license plates in the County Treasurer's office? Seems Carroll is one of only two counties in Maryland where they are not available locally. I'm sure I agree with the gentleman who wrote a "letter to the editor" in the Carroll County Times last week: why pay extra taxes for more people to work in the Treasurer's office when a five cent stamp will take your application right to the Dept. of Motor Vehicles and they, in turn, mail the plates back to you at no extra charge. There are also many service clubs that will pick them up for a slight charge. What is your opinion?

Speaking of taxes, did you also read where there are no funds for the Title One summer classes except for pre-schoolers? No funds have been appropriated for the Carroll County Community Action Committee either. Where did that tax money go?

Hope each and every one of you had a happy Easter.

—Dharyls Fleharty

Boy Scout Troop 330

Family Night was observed by Boy Scout Troop 330 in Union Bridge on Tuesday evening, March 28, at the VFW Post 8806, which sponsors the group.

William DeMuth, a Scoutor associated with Troop 440 at Owings Mills and a detective with the Baltimore Police Department, told about Philmont and his trip there in 1965. Philmont, a large ranch of 137,000 acres, is located at Cimmaron, New Mexico. It is an 18-day adventure and Troop 330 hopes to have some boys going in 1968. A boy must be 14 by Sept. 1 to be eligible.

Assistant District Commissioner Earl Myers presented the Charter for the Troop to Scott Davis, Institutional Representative of the Post, and urged all committeemen and parents to help their Scoutmaster and Assistants keep the Troop active and interested. He also awarded to the Troop a certificate for the National Camping Award — for which they qualified in 1966 — as well as a certificate for 100 per cent Boys Life Magazine subscriptions. He stated Troop 330 has been in operation for 27 consecutive years.

Merit Badges were awarded to Burnie Broadwater, Nature; Wayne Fleharty, Nature, and Dick Stultz, Basketball. Two-year Service Stars were presented to Burnie Broadwater, Roger Buffington, Alfred Dowell, Wayne Fleharty, Mike Harris, "Kik" Plympton, Ronnie Selby, Tom Sakiewicz, Donald Stitzel, Dick Stultz and Steve Wetzel. One-year Stars to David Edwards, Kendall Stoner and Eddie Stultz. Mike Harris received his AT patch, awarded to the boys for hiking and camping on the Appalachian Trail. Ribbons were given to the three patrols for their placing in the Points Contest over the past five months: first, Hawks; second, Eagles; third, Owls.

Announcements were made by Scoutmaster Fleharty: next Troop camping trip will be April 29 and 30 to Fort Frederick and transportation is needed. By May 5, the deposit of $5.00 for Broad Creek Camp is due and the balance of $10.00 by August 1. In June there will be a father-son camping trip to Gettysburg, Pa. The boys are now taking orders for Holland Bulbs at a dollar a box. They will be delivered in the fall and no money is due until then. The profit from this project will be used for camping trips. The boy selling the most boxes will receive a canvas air mattress for his prize. Orders will be taken through the end of April.

Senior Patrol Leader Ronnie Selby opened the meeting and Assistant Scoutmaster Burnell Broadwater extended welcome to all.

The Raccoon Patrol had the closing ceremony. Mark Bowser played Taps while the other patrol members removed the flags from the darkened room. Light refreshments were served.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports —John Breth

Like the guy who had a big year in 1966 and now has to pay taxes on it, THE BALTIMORE ORIOLES are a trifle edgy this spring.

Baltimore won the American League pennant by nine games last year and ran the Dodgers out of the World Series in four straight. Their young pitching staff really laid it on the Dodgers, shutting them out in the last 33 innings of the 36 played in the series.

With all that and with Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Boog Powell, a crack double-play pair and a mighty rookie in Mike Epstein, how can Baltimore be worried?

Well, it's that most painful of problems . . . pitching. The Orioles specialize in sore arms. Three of their four starters last year, Steve Barber, Jim Palmer and Wally Bunker, had arm trouble. Barber's case is the most serious and forced him to sit out the World Series. But Palmer and Bunker both felt well enough to shut out the Dodgers.

Barber has been throwing hard this spring, which indicates determination. Palmer and Bunker reportedly are all right. But it is a long season from April to October and pitching problems can weigh two-fold in August and September.

Around the diamond and in the outfield the Orioles are solid. Powell is a mass of muscle at first base. Dave Johnson at second and Luis Aparicio at short are dazzling. Brooks Robinson plays third base like a Green Bay Packer linebacker.

Frank Robinson is the Triple Crown winner in right field. Curt Blefary is fighting off a challenge from Epstein in left field which doesn't bother manager Hank Bauer a bit.

Last year Bauer platoonned Paul Blair, one of the World Series heroes, and Russ Snyder in center field. But he wants to try to go all the way with Blair this season.

Incidentally, in addition to Epstein, a long-ball bomber who can play both first base and the outfield, the Orioles have a touted rookie named Mark Belanger who is expected to be their shortstop some day but will work as an infield reserve this season.

Andy Etchebarren was a hustling rookie back of the plate last year and is expected to handle the major part of the catching again this season.

That leaves the pitching. Bauer's current plans are to use Barber, Bunker, Palmer, Dave McNally and Tom Phoebus as his starters. McNally was another one of the shutout pitchers in the World Series after getting knocked out in the opening game.

Phoebus may be very important in Baltimore plans. He came up from the minors for a trial last fall and pitched shutouts in his first two games, the seventh man in major league history to do so. He was ineligible for the World Series or the Dodgers might not have scored at all. Of course, pitching in September when everybody is tired and at the start of a new season can be continents apart.

If Bauer can get four regular starters out of the five he has named, the Orioles will be happy. They have a fine bullpen and it played a big part in winning the pennant last year. The two top men in the bullpen are Stu Miller, the ageless "junk man," and Eddie Fisher, who throws a knuckleball.

Moe Drabowsky, the hero of the first World Series game in relief of McNally, will be back as will Eddie Watt, who looked good last year. It is a deep bullpen and so important in Baltimore's scheme of things.

No matter how your computer works when you feed all the facts in, Baltimore emerges as the team to beat in the American League again this year. It could be a romp if there are no pitching problems.

Today's Sport Laugh — Houston Astros catcher John Bateman promised that he would check into spring training camp weighing no more than 215 pounds. And, he backed up his promise by saying the club could take any extra pounds out of his pay.

When Bateman had not yet arrived at camp, pitcher Turk Farrell had an explanation. Said Farrell: "His wife is driving the car and John is running along behind it. He still has some weight to lose."

I.R.S. CAUTIONS AGAINST USING WRONG TABLES

Income tax refunds of many Maryland and District of Columbia taxpayers are being delayed because they have not used the right tax table or schedule to compute their tax, IRS reported.

Irving Machiz, IRS District Director for Maryland and District of Columbia, said that the IRS Service Center in Philadelphia, Pa., where returns from Maryland and District of Columbia and five other states in the IRS Mid-Atlantic Region are processed, reports that so far this year, 27,915 showed that the wrong tax table or schedule was used to calculate the tax due.

Mr. Machiz urged Maryland and District of Columbia taxpayers to use the right table or schedule when they file returns. By making sure the right one is used a taxpayer can save the government money and avoid delay in receiving a refund.

There are tax tables on Form 1040 for married couples filing joint returns, single persons and married couples filing separate returns and for unmarried persons who qualify as head of household.

On the 1040A, there are tax tables for single persons, married couples filing jointly and heads of household and for married couples filing separate returns. One of the major reasons for delay in issuing refunds is the failure of taxpayers to include their correct Social Security number on the tax return.

As of last week, Mr. Machiz reported, 8,388 refunds had been delayed in Maryland and District of Columbia and the other five states of the Mid-Atlantic Region, because of incorrect or missing Social Security numbers. Mr. Machiz reported that to date other refunds are being held up because of a variety of other errors or failures to comply with instructions mailed to each taxpayer with his tax forms.

Tax returns filed up to last week included 15,938 without the signatures of husband or wife or both. These will have to be sent back to the taxpayers before refunds can be processed.

Returns with errors in arithmetic, which are causing delays in sending refunds so far total 111,159 in the Mid-Atlantic Region.

As of last week, Mr. Machiz said, the IRS Service Center in Philadelphia had processed 243,962 refunds of Maryland and District of Columbia taxpayers for a total of $34,648,958.48.

HEALTH FACTS by Rohe

THE DISCOMFORTS OF AGE

Not the least of the discomforts of the elderly is an affliction called Xeroderma (pronounced Zeroderma), an irritating skin condition characterized by a tight, dry itchy feeling.

Dermatologists (skin specialists) have found a capful or two of a therapeutic bath oil greatly helps the condition. But they also know that some elderly people are endangered by the oil film clinging to the bath tub, occasionally causing accidents.

Now, there is a new therapeutic bath oil called Alpha-Keri Spray which may be applied after the bath when the skin is still wet. As effective as soaking, it eliminates the danger of slipping. Non-prescription Alpha-Keri Spray is available in pharmacies.

How to Carve a Turkey—Electrically

One of the success stories of recent date is the rapid acceptance of an entirely new product—the electric carving knife. Now Dad's always tricky task before a sometimes critical audience will stand more of a chance.

If you've already bought an electric knife, or if you're considering getting one (which you ought to do), here are some pointers from Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation's Stainless and Strip Division, a major supplier of stainless steel, used for the blades in electric knives.

While you may have disliked carving the old-fashioned way, an electric knife can make a willing expert out of anyone. All you need is a few basic bits of know-how. The rest comes easily when you carve electrically because you can actually carve the way the books say you're supposed to. You don't need to worry about knife sharpness or meat tenderness anymore because the electric knife will work well under all cutting conditions. Serrated edges make for easy, fast cutting.

With Thanksgiving just around the corner, J&L offers these hints for carving a turkey—electrically. While there is nothing very new here, you'll find an electric knife will actually let you carve the way you've always tried to.

1) The traditional first step in carving a turkey is to remove the legs (drumsticks) by pulling them away from the body, cutting skin at joints, and using knife at joints as necessary. The advantage of this approach is that it gives you a long sweep for cutting. For looks, however, it is far from satisfactory because it spoils the appearance of the turkey. Because the new electric knives do not require the long sweep needed for hand slicing, an optional first step for carving a turkey electrically is to begin with steps four and five below.

2) Slice dark meat from body near leg joints and from drumsticks.
3) Slice additional dark meat from thighs by holding body firmly on plate with fork and cutting even slices in thigh parallel to bone.
4) Make base cut in breast to facilitate slicing white meat. Place knife next to wing, cut down deeply to bone.
5) Slice breast, beginning halfway up the side. Carve downwards but start each new slice higher up on breast. Carve only what you need.

Remember that, while safety is important wherever knives are used, the efficient cutting edge of electric carving knives calls for even greater caution. For example, never leave the knife where children can get at it. The best rule is to clean it and put it away immediately after every use. If you can't do that, at least unplug it.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT FROM Annapolis

By GOODLOE E. BYRON STATE SENATOR Carroll-Frederick District

LEGISLATIVE REAPPORTIONMENT

In the closing days of the 1967 Maryland General Assembly, when it became apparent to those members of the Senate who had supported re-apportionment of both Houses of the Legislature that the Joint Resolution which the Maryland Legislature had passed in 1965 requesting Congress to call a National Convention for the Constitution to offset re-apportionment might still be effective, Senate Joint Resolution 64 was introduced to rescind and withdraw the action taken in the 1965 session.

After the historic decision of the Supreme Court requiring re-apportionment of both Houses of a State Legislature, the 1965 General Assembly passed Joint Resolution 1, urging the Congress of the United States to call a Convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment which would permit the Legislature to follow the so-called "little Federal plan" permitting one House of the Assembly to be reapportioned on factors other than population. The Federal Constitution, which may be amended by two basic procedures, has never been altered by means of the National Convention procedure which is initiated by resolutions of three-fourths of the State Legislatures of the United States.

When it became apparent that 32 out of the 34 states required to initiate a National Constitutional Convention had already approved the Calling Resolution, the sponsors of Senate Joint Resolution 64 moved to withdraw Maryland from the list of states which had previously taken affirmative action. However, a battle seemed assured between the Senators and Delegates from the newly-reapportioned areas and the veterans from the unchanged districts of Maryland.

It should be noted that if 34 states succeed in initiating the National Convention Process, the Congress would face the dilemma of choosing between a National Convention Process with all of the other changes that could be wrought by such a process and approving the so-called "Dirksen Amendment," which would be submitted for adoption by two-thirds of the State Legislatures. Even the later process would probably encounter great difficulty because of the fact that most, if not all of the present State Legislatures, have been reapportioned themselves and would be reluctant to return to the old system.

The Third Book

Lesson for April 2, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 1.
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4.4-16.

Someone has said that the first chapter of Acts might just as rightly be called the 25th chapter of Luke. Of course there are only 24 chapters in Luke, but when we read the first chapter of Acts it is apparent that this is but a continuation of the story of the third gospel. It is part two of the same theme.

The writer of Acts, presumably Luke, actually begins his book with this introduction: "In the first book . . . I have dealt with all that Jesus began to do and teach, until the day when he was taken up . . ." (Acts 1:1,2 RSV) In the first book, Luke, we follow the life and ministry of Jesus, the man sent by God as his incarnate Son and the fulfillment of the Jewish expectations for a Messiah. We see God at work in his world as a Man among men.

Beyond Resurrection

Acts, however, follows the continuing ministry of Christ through the Holy Spirit. God is experienced now, not as Jesus in the flesh, but in power that is appropriated into the lives of receptive men. Whereas Luke's gospel brings us up to the resurrection, Acts is the story of how the resurrection victory continued to affect the lives of people and bring into being the Church of Jesus Christ.

Without this "second book," then, we might very well conclude that the resurrection was a victory for Jesus alone. God vindicated him by freeing him from the power of death. But what does that have to do with the disciples apart from indicating that they had thrown their lot with the right man?

The answer that comes to us in Acts is quite clear. The power by which Jesus was raised from the tomb and scored his great victory was to be the very same power that would be given them for their God-given mission. His victory would also be their victory.

In God's Own Time

How excited the disciples must have been! But then Jesus gave them instructions that must have seemed quite strange. Instead of launching into an immediate campaign to enlist more disciples for their cause, instead of making some pronouncements or staging a mass demonstration, they were told to go back to Jerusalem and wait. In God's own good time he would send them power and when that day came, not before, they would go forth in power to herald the gospel.

That order must have seemed disappointing. They were excited and ready to begin. But Jesus did not want them to go ahead. He said "wait." Most of us find it hard to wait. We are anxious to be off to the fray, even if we are not sure of the direction of the battlefield.

Swiftly To Nowhere

We must always be on guard against rushing off to nowhere. Fritz Chrysler, former Michigan football coach, is reputed to have ended a half-time oration with the dramatic challenge: "Boys, go out that door to victory!" His obedient team nearly drowned in the adjoining swimming pool. The great mentor had thrown open the wrong door!

Let us also rush off swiftly to nowhere, sometimes we are called upon to wait patiently until in God's good time we are given both the signal and the power to go ahead. Waiting does not necessarily mean we are doing nothing. When it is Christ upon whom we wait, it may be the highest form of doing.

The disciples did as Jesus instructed them and Acts is the record of what happened because they were obedient. This second volume is necessary if the first one is to have any meaning for us. But there must also be a third book, a sequel that is written even today as we continue in obedience and power to be witnesses to the risen Lord. You and I are responsible for the chapters being written. What episode will your life write today?

MEAL-IN-A-PANCAKE

Looking for a new idea to dress up your Sunday night supper menu? Crispy vegetable pancakes topped with creamy chicken sauce make a filling main course that's off-beat . . . and easy to prepare. Starting with a prepared pancake mix and a divider pak of chicken chow mein, you can mix up a batch of pancakes in the kitchen, and cook them on a griddle right at the table. Topped with hot chicken sauce (the contents of the top can of the divider pak), these pancakes are sure to please the whole family.

VEGETABLE PANCAKES WITH CHICKEN SAUCE
2 cups prepared pancake mix
1 cup milk or water
1 can (43 oz.) Chun King Chicken Chow Mein, divider pak
1/2 cup cream
1 tsp. curry powder (optional)

Stir pancake mix and milk together in a bowl. Separate cans of chow mein sauce and vegetables. Open can of vegetables, drain well, and fold into the pancake mixture. On a medium hot griddle or electric fry pan set at 375 degrees, spoon pancake mixture to form cakes about 4" in diameter (they will be about 3/4" thick). Cook until golden on one side; turn over and brown on other side. Meanwhile, open can of sauce. Pour sauce into pan, add cream and curry powder and heat to simmering. To serve, spoon sauce over hot vegetable cakes. Makes 8 four-inch pancakes.

Maryland State Income Tax QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I sold property on which I realized a profit, is this profit taxable? A. This is what is known as a "Capital Gain." Under current Maryland law, capital gains and capital losses are both excluded from the computation of taxable net income.

Q. I have already filed my Maryland return for 1966 and I now find that I failed to include another source of income, what should I do to rectify this error?

A. To rectify the matter, an amended return should be filed. The filing of amended returns during the regular filing period poses a problem as indexes cannot be maintained so that original returns may be found and the necessary corrections made thereon.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

HOBBIES: A DEDUCTIBLE EXPENSE?

You save stamps, or raise pigeons, or collect cigar-store Indians. Sometimes these sideline activities can be costly. Are your expenses deductible at income tax time?

That depends primarily upon your motive. If you are pursuing the activity as a hobby, for the sheer pleasure of it, then you cannot deduct your expenses—any more than you could deduct the expense of a family picnic.

But if you are out to make a profit, even though on a part-time basis, you are indeed entitled to take a deduction.

And what if your motive is partly pleasure and partly profit? Then, to qualify for a deduction, you must show that the profit motive is the stronger of the two.

One indication is that you have what a court called "the requisite greed." Consider this case:

A businessman collected stamps in his spare time. But he paid scant attention to hobby groups or to the finer points of philately. Instead, relying on expert guidance, he concentrated on the dollar value of what he bought and sold.

Accordingly, a court upheld his claim to a tax deduction, finding he was really more of an investor than a hobbyist.

Another indication of a dominant profit motive is the use of professional techniques. For example:

A sometime photographer, with no studio, nevertheless sold much of his work on a professional basis. And the equipment he used was the kind used by professionals, not by amateurs. He too was allowed to deduct his expenses.

But your assertion of a profit motive is weakened if, over a long period of time, your expenses are high and your income low.

A man of means decided to try his hand at writing. For 20 long years he wrote and published books. Unhappily, almost nobody ever bought them. A court denied him tax relief, finding that, whatever his motive, it couldn't be money.

Nor can you win a right to deduct expenses by describing as a "business" what simply isn't. Thus, raising Persian cats—when only five kittens were produced during the year—was held to be less of a business than a pleasure.

(The hobbyist) is to be commended for the devotion of his time and effort in a worthwhile endeavor," said a judge. "But this does not supply the missing element of profit motive."

PLOWING DEMONSTRATION PLANNED

Farmers in Carroll County will have an opportunity to learn how to properly adjust their equipment for spring plowing next Thursday, April 6, according to Walter Bay, County Extension Agent. Bay says the plow clinic will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon on the Sam Bare farm.

Bay reports that Mr. Guy Gienger, an agricultural engineer from the University of Maryland, will conduct the clinic. Professor Gienger will not only explain how farmers should adjust their plows, but will actually adjust them on the spot. Farmers will be able to note the tremendous difference that proper adjustment makes in the quality of their work as well as observe a reduction in the power requirement from their tractors.

Anyone desiring additional information about the plowing clinic may call Mr. Bay at the County Extension office. The number is 848-4611.
