No date for the wedding has been set.

ONE WOMAN'S OPINION

by Esther Speak

First, I would like to say that I am not in favor of strikes, but if it is the only way to settle a problem that affects the livelihood of a lot of people and no better way is evident, then I guess it is something that has to be done.

I am speaking of the milk strike in this case. Farmers have the biggest investment with the smallest return for their money. Why people don't realize that farmers would like to show a profit puzzles me! Other persons are given raises to keep up with the high cost of living, so why such a fuss over the farmer getting in on it too? His costs have gone up just like everyone else, while the prices he gets for what he has to sell has declined. Now does that make good sense?

Surely all he wants is a chance to make a good living for his family. Let's hope everything works out for the best.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

The PTA meeting of Taneytown High School will be held on Monday, April 17, rather than on April 10 as previously announced. The program will begin at 7:30 with the Home Economics Department presenting a Fashion Show, the Industrial Arts and Art Departments having an open house of projects completed during the year and the Physical Education Department giving exhibitions in gymnastics.

In addition to these activities election of PTA officers for next year will be held.

Mrs. Jacqueline Hering has returned to Taneytown High School as a teacher of Home Economics. She is replacing Mrs. Barbara Airing who has been granted a leave of absence.

S. Edward Corbin resigned as a teacher in the History Department at Taneytown High School. Mr. Leroy J. Maas has assumed the teaching duties.

Larry Freshman, a senior at Mount St. Mary's College, and a native of Thurmont, is doing his student teaching under the guidance of Donald Stenley, Social Studies teacher at Taneytown High School.

On Thursday, March 30, the FBLA Club of Taneytown High School called a special meeting to select two delegates to attend the State Convention at Franklin High School, Reisterstown. Dolores Utz, senior, and Darlene Bowers, junior, were elected.

Those attending the convention are Doris Bowers, Dolores Utz, Roy Stambaugh, Patricia Milligan, Shirley Keilholtz and Darlene Bowers.

BAPTISMS AT GRACE CHURCH OF TANEYTOWN

On Sunday, April 2, Grace United Church of Christ, Taneytown, was the scene for the following children receiving the Sacrament of Infant Baptism: Pamela Kay Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy J. Baker; David Edward Crouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crouse; and Sherry Lynn Welty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Welty with sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Knippard of Baltimore. The Rev. William F. Wiley, pastor, officiated.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and City Council was held on Monday evening at 7:30 P. M., with all members present.

The Clerk Treasurer reported a balance of $2,536.73 in the General Account and $1,076.96 in the Parking Meter Account.

Officer Boone reported 37 Parking Violations, 13 Warnings, 3 State Warrants, 2 Accident Investigations and 9 State Summons (3 of which were the Roberts Mill Road area).

Wantz Chevrolet, being the low bidder, received the order for a Dump Truck. Their bid was $3,184.44.

A preliminary study was made on the flooding condition of the sewer during wet weather and sudden storms on East Baltimore St. This will be followed and a correction must be made in this area in the near future.

The Pool Committee reported that the pool will be opened the week-end of Memorial Day for the 1967 Season. Tickets are available at the Town Office at the same price as last season. The Key Club of Taneytown H. S. has volunteered to clean up the pool area on Saturday, May 20, 1967. "Children at Play" signs will be erected on George Street extended.

A new street light will be placed on Franklin Street.

The Council took action to have the fence erected around the Tennis, Basketball Courts in the Park. This will be installed in the near future. Badminton and Volley Ball Courts will be laid off on the grass adjacent to the Tennis Court area.

A delegation appeared representing the Harney Volunteer Fire Co. about water availability for their fire calls in their area.

Lenore D. Hanks
Christian Science Lecturer

"Our Right to Progress" is the title of a public Christian Science lecture to be given in Westminster, Friday, April 14 by Lenore D. Hanks, C.S.B.

The lecture will trace the spiritual roots of the "unalienable rights" which belong to all men, and which are the basis of human progress.

Sponsor of the event is Christian Science Society, Westminster. It will be held at 8:00 P. M., in Baker Memorial Chapel—Room 100, Western Maryland College, located at Westminster, Md.

Mrs. Hanks is a native of Portland, Oregon, where she is a recognized teacher and practitioner of Christian Science. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon with a degree in sociology. She is currently on a tour of North America as a member of the Board of Lecturership of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AHTNOC). Army Private First Class Timothy P. Myers, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Myers, 18 E. George St., Westminster, Md., was assigned to the 567th Transportation Company in Vietnam, March 20.

Pvt. Myers, a stevedore in the company near Long Binh, entered the Army in July 1966 and was last stationed at Ft. Lee, Va.

He is a 1966 graduate of St. Johns High School.

Jaycette Chatter

The Jaycettes held their monthly meeting Wednesday, March 22 at the home of Mrs. Joyce Dell. During the meeting, it was voted upon to extend the dues deadline to April 1st. The club decided to sponsor a girl in the Girls' State Program, which will cost the club $50.00. The girl to be sponsored will be chosen later. A nominating committee was selected. They are as follows: Mrs. Bonnie Becker, Mrs. Cathi Hawn, Mrs. Joyce Dell and Mrs. Glenna Lambert. The committee will meet during April upon notification.

The main issue of the evening was the dinner to be given for husbands of Jaycettes and prospective members during April. Plans are now in progress for a delightful evening. Also featured, will be a guest speaker.

Another important issue discussed was the making of host-gift-bags for the Maryland Jaycettes to be used at the Jaycee National Convention in Baltimore this year. All Jaycettes will participate in this project.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Joyce Dell and a film "Music of Williamsburg" was shown to highlight the evening. Next scheduled membership meeting will be May 24, at the Taneytown Grain & Supply building.

VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

On a dairy-farm, there is seldom a dull or idle moment, especially if one's time is divided between the house and barn. For me, "barn duty" means feeding hay, carrying milk, and various and sundry other duties that are an inevitable part of dairy-farming. These do wonders for developing muscles, but contribute little toward keeping up personal appearance. For example, the other day, when I ventured to look into the mirror, there were hay seeds in my hair, dirt on my face, and a tear in my dress. In a by-gone era, farm women could more or less, "get by" with this. Not so today! Modern farm wives are expected to perform their farm duties, keep house, prepare well-balanced meals, be a good mother, and take an active part in church and community affairs and still look attractive. It is a tall order, and the wonder of it is that so many women are able to stand up to it.

However, work or no work, this April day is so warm and balmy that I just have to find a few spare minutes to grab my binoculars, whistle for Beau and strike out through the fields and woods. Almost at once, I come upon a rather interesting character. Lying in the sun, beside the stream, I see a ropey-looking brown object. Bending down to take a closer look, I realize, with a start, that the "rope" is a snake. A short distance away Beau discovers another one, evidently the mate. Needless to say, I get away from there in a hurry! Down in the woods, Beau, after making a diligent search for a groundhog, flushes out two hen pheasants who fly off with a great whirring of wings. I also see a flicker, a mockingbird, a pair of mourning doves, and a host of robins.

But there is a basket of laundry to be tackled, and before I know it, milking time will be here again, so the walk must be cut short. However, it was a pleasant interlude in my busy day, and I am grateful for every moment of it.

CHRISTIAN DAY KINDERGARTEN OPEN HOUSE

On Wednesday, April 19, from 9 to 11:30 A. M., an Open House will be held at the Christian Day Kindergarten held at Trinity Lutheran Church. Parents and their children who will be 5 years old by December 31, 1967, are most especially welcome to come and observe the kindergarten. Opportunity will be given to secure informative brochures and to talk with the teacher, Mrs. C. Kenneth Smith. The Open House may be attended anytime and for any length of time during that morning.

A TRIP TO MEXICO

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rohrbaugh, Mrs. Ralph Hess and Mrs. Merle Ohler arrived home from their Mexican tour on Thursday. We left home on March 8 and drove through the Shenandoah Valley to Marion, Va., to Chattanooga, Tenn. At Oak Ridge we went to the American Museum of Atomic Energy. Oak Ridge is a complete city built during World War II. Here is the first permanent museum devoted exclusively to telling the story of peace-time adaptation of the atom.

The museum, operated for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission by Oak Ridge Associated Universities, is the only institution devoted exclusively to nuclear science. Especially trained lecture-demonstrators show how the power of the atom is utilized in medicine, industry and agriculture.

In Natchez, Miss., we took a tour of the city and saw some of the Antebellum architecture.

At the state capitol of Baton Rouge, La., we went to the 34th floor and viewed the surrounding country. The capitol is built of solid marble from every country in the world. There are 48 steps leading up to the capitol, the first 13 represent the 13 original states, then the other states follow the way they were admitted to the Union. Alaska and Hawaii are on either side of the last step. We drove through fields being banked and prepared for the planting of rice. On the Lost and Old Rivers we saw thousands of ducks migrating north.

Upon arriving in San Antonio, Tex., we stayed at the fabulous El Tropicano Hotel. Here we met our Mexican tour guide, Nick Mata. After a dinner party at the hotel he met the group personally and gave us instructions about the trip to Mexico.

On entering Mexico a U.S. citizen will need: proof of citizenship, tourist card and a small pox vaccination certificate. Baggage is examined by Mexican customs officers and seals affixed to avoid further examination. Any U.S. currency and travelers checks can be taken into Mexico, but it is wise to use Mexican currency. It takes a few days to familiarize himself with the pesos and centavos, but if he learns to think in pesos he'll encounter fewer confusing situations.

English is widely spoken. In all the hotels and restaurants menus are written in Spanish on one page and on the opposite page the same in English.

The tourist has to be a judge of the things he does. Due to the higher altitudes, he has to limit his activities while becoming acclimated to the high altitudes. All drinking water is bottled for purification.

If you stay in Mexico less than 12 full days you can bring back duty free, articles not exceeding $100.00 in value. In the markets and shops are found various arts and craft articles, among them colorful serapes, shawls, baskets, pottery, silver jewelry, tooled leathers, wood carving, hand wrought gold, silver, copper and onyx.

Tips are expected for all services. We entered Mexico at Laredo, Tex., and crossed the International Bridge into Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. From Nuevo Laredo to Monterrey is the longest straight road in the world—42 miles. The land is farmed, but in a very primitive way. Oxen were pulling the plows for the tilling of the land.

The U.S. of Mexico has 29 states with 93,000,000 people. During the Civil War in 1830 there were 20,000,000 people, 32 per cent could not read or write. The war lasted 23 years, very few schools were in existence, 44 per cent were Indians. In 1934 with the election of a President, who had the interest of the country and its people at heart, schools were built in every town, city and hamlet. The slogan was each one should teach another. In 1965 statistics shows illiteracy down to 16 per cent. The main object of the government is education. The Indian who lives in the remote desert areas are being given an education and is finding out that there is another way of life. The young people are doing away with the Indian way of living, but some of them still live and enjoy their primitive way of life in the desert wasteland.

We saw the Mexican Indian living in adobe huts with no roofs. Chickens, pigs, goats, burros live in the same huts with the Indian. The one thought of the people of the tour was how they existed on such barren land. The government is now helping these Indians by sending out trucks with food, clothes and other material things and selling them at a 60 per cent lower cost to help them along and show them that there is a better way of life.

As we rode the highway we passed the Indians on their way to the next (Continued to Page 6) (G0500) USS FORRESTAL (CVA-59) (FHTNC) March 27—Radaman Construction Mechanic Arthur L. Weaver, USN, son of Mrs. Julia V. Weaver of Westminster, Md., has returned to Norfolk, Va., after taking part in a six-week training cruise in the Caribbean aboard this attack aircraft carrier.

The training consisted of various drills and exercises held under the watchful eye of the Fleet Training Group, Guantanamo, Cuba, whose task was to insure that every man on board was familiar with his duties, and knew how to react in case of emergency.

Following a short in port period the Forrestal scheduled to begin air operations off the Virginia Capes with the squadrons of Air Wing-17.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The "Farmer's Almanac" is so accurate — so here is for the month of April: "Winter's back's broken by this terrible soaking. Purr, Sir. Nice to be kissed in the mist. Cool neat Summer heat. This last blast soon joins the past. Move over Casanova. April showers bring May mowers. These days bring love from above!" And remember now that Spring is really here that "Every Litter Bit Hurts" so take along a bag always in your car and never throw, even the tiniest paper out the window.

How awful for thousands just to attend church at Easter time and Christmas! If you have started on Easter Sunday just keep going all the time for you and you will never let church out of your life when you get the habit! Nothing can compare —not alone the sermon but even the music will mean much to you, too!

I was seated in the bus coming home one late afternoon and I saw a very young and sweet couple stop by "the flower man" on the sidewalk of Howard St. She was carrying books and she fumbled around in his pocket for the money (and I know it must have been his last quarter!) He bought a little bunch of flowers and in appreciation, she looked up into his eyes and then thanked him with a kiss! (I love teen-agers!) One meets so many sweet ones!

Hope you did not miss "Anastasia" with one of my favorite movie actresses—Julie Harris. It was truly magnificent in color! And that nice Danny Kaye—he is loved by thousands because he is a "Natural"! And as for those "trapeze artists" as they are called performing such dangerous stunts — I call it "cheapening life" Eh?

Did you know that there are only EIGHT LADY BUS drivers in the city of Baltimore?

Seeing one of those men placing cigarettes in the vending machine, I asked him which cigarette topped all others and to my surprise he stated, "WINSTON!"

I was seated in an office the other day and saw an elderly man with the most beautifully manicured nails, even to the light pink shade of color! His wife must have performed the service. And these days if you notice on TV more and more men are having the top part of their hair in a permanent!

And here is one which will bring a grin and from a lady. My foot was asleep and of course I limped as I went to stand and a pessimist came up to me and said "Oh, you better be careful for I know of a woman whose foot went to sleep and she broke it!" UGH! Nice and cheerful!

Now, here is for those born in the "TAURUS" sign from April 20 to May 20th. Venus is the ruling planet and under the influence of this planet both men and women are the strongest of any of the signs! They have wonderful will-power and can do with or without. These people are usually most determined and many times they may act upon impulse. They are keenly alive. They can be down in bed quite ill and the very next day are up and out. Both men and women have broad shoulders and large frames and representing a studious mind, capacity to labor, strong will and endurance. This type of physique is most excellent, giving promise of youth, vigor and freshness far into the declining years of life. They always have an excellent personality, fond of music, dancing, poetry and art and with their sympathetic winning manner they readily adapt themselves to all classes of society and being so magnetic they are liked by everyone. Their knowledge and intuition lie deep and do not readily appear on the surface. Taurus people can do just about anything they make up their minds to do. They are the most loyal of friends. They seem to have a knack of making money but they seldom hoard it always sharing it with less fortunate people. They often take over the sorrow and burden of others in fact their friends will never be in want so long as they are able to provide. Both men and women are quite handsome and have much talent along many lines.

How beautiful the sight on Easter morning as I walked into the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church at the Washington Monument to see the lilies displayed at the altar with the huge Palms on either side. The aroma was delightful!

Have a grand week-end. Folks. And if you have started church going on Easter morning just keep it up for the rest of the year!

Until next week-end. D.V.

I am,

Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

TAX COLLECTOR'S LAMENT

Those of us who are small businessmen are also small tax collectors.
We're the bad guys who take a piece of our employees' paychecks and deliver it to Washington, at our expense. If we're pretty clever with words, but pretty awful with figures, never mind. We're expected to hire a
uring for us. At our expense. And he will figure for us what we're obliged to collect from each of our employees, match to the last penny, and deliver it whenever Washington directs.

Words we understand. And being aware that we're part-time tax collectors we had a rather wide-eyed reading of the President's budget measure regarding the tax take.

Social Security expenses in that budget call for a 425 million tax increase in just one year. There are a lot of people in this country, and we really couldn't translate that into terms relating to our little business until the CPA appeared with his "book." And he made a trajectory of the figures, too, so that we could see what we should plan for, because we prefer to have our employees be able to provide themselves with at least food, clothing and shelter.

Just to pay for the presently scheduled benefits, the tax on the first $6,000 of income will rise to nearly ten percent in 1969; and to nearly eleven percent in 1973. It's our intent to be in business at this same stand in 1969. That's only two years away.
But ten percent rocked us.

Back in 1936, John Winant, a one-time Governor of New Hampshire and the first administrator of Social Security, assured an audience that filled an auditorium to hear him explain the wonders of this new bonanza that the government's take in establishing the system "won't go much higher." Want to know what it was the night Mr. Winant spoke? One percent.

In 1936, a dollar would buy ten loaves of bread. Simple arithmetic we can do, and we know that across the country average prices are such that a dollar won't buy more than 3 loaves of bread today.

Maybe you'd like to do a bit of arithmetic yourself. Project your own reasonable schedule of working years.
Ignore the inflationary forces at work. Just reckon the "inflation" we have experienced since 1936. And estimate how many loaves of bread a dollar will buy when you retire and start drawing social security benefits.

And something else: the government doesn't have a thin dime of what we've all paid in laid aside.
The year you retire, as every other year, they'll have to make small businessmen collect enough money to pay the tab.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Gardening was general this week, some of the early experts being so swift as to plant onions and potatoes last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis H. Reid left for New York City on Monday to stay two weeks. Mr. Reid will take a course in Linotype operation at the Brooklyn plant of the Mergenthaler Company, as an employee of The Record.

Ralph, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davidson, was run down by an automobile driven by Edward Reaver, last Sunday evening on the state road near town. He was thrown down and considerably injured about the head and body, but not seriously.

Active preparations are being made at the cannery location for new buildings. A well is being drilled and foundations laid out for several large buildings. The old brick kilns are disappearing, a considerable portion of the brick being fit for buildings of this character. Construction work will soon be under way, under the energetic management of Mr. Chenoweth.

Halbert Poole and family removed from Taneytown this week to their home in Franklin district; Raymond Davidson and family to Philadelphia; Hezekiah Study and family to Westminster and Clinton Eckard and family to Walkersville.

Visitors over the week-end with Mrs. Oharo Clabaugh were Mr. John Clabaugh, Bonneville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Theron Clabaugh and Larry, Baptist Rd.; Mrs. Russell Clabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spangler, Susie, Freddie, and Cindy Lou, Mrs. Edna Snider, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vaughn, Bonnie, Vonnice and Mike.

Week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer LeGore were Mr. John LeGore, Mrs. Mary Strickhouser, Littlestown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fink, Greenville; and Mrs. Edward Quinn and Jimmy.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickhouser and Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Shank returned home Sunday afternoon after an 8-day trip to Florida — visiting relatives and friends in Fort Lauderdale and Hialeah; also places of interest. The weather gave a warmer reception in Maryland than was found in the South.

Mrs. Alice Weant visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kump and Mrs. Effie Fream.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Mummert, Connie and Jimmie were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hill, Postoria, Ohio, and Mrs. Emma Chipley.

Callers Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bridinger were Mr. and Mrs. C. Francis Bridinger, Mr. Earl Harrison, Mr. Donald Selby, son Tony, Littlestown, Penna.; and Mr. Robert Strickhouser and grandson, Jerry.

Visitors on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hively, Jackie and Kimmy, Mr. and Mrs. William Slaybaugh, Billy, Mike, and Steve and Mrs. Evelyn Mentzer were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walck, Kathy and Timmy and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene DeShong, Green-castle, Penna.

There will be a "Fashion Show" held on Monday, April 17, at the parish hall. The models will display "Dutchmaid" clothing for the entire family. The public is invited to attend. A two-day "Walk-In" will follow on Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Mummert.

KEYSVILLE DETOUR

Greetings to you:

New neighbors at the Ralph Weybright farm on the Keysville Road between Detour and Keysville. They moved in Saturday. Understand the name is Webber Bell.

So very sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Emily Steinour, formerly of Taneytown, who had been making her home at the National Lutheran Home for the Aged in Washington. Sincere sympathy to her relatives and friends.

Heard recently that Jimmy Motter, the young Marine who was injured in Viet Nam, has been getting home for visits from Bethesda Naval Hospital and doing better all the time. Good news!

Sunday afternoon visitors at the Clyde Wilhide home on the Keysville Road were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide, Susan and Christine near Detour.

Charles Fuss of Akron, Ohio, spent the first part of last week with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of the River Dale Farm near Keysville. He left Thursday for a visit in St. Petersburg, Fla., before returning to his home in Ohio.

The Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of Union Bridge area will be having an other paper drive on May 6, beginning at 1 P. M. Hope you are saving your papers and magazines for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Beth were supper guests on Saturday evening with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide, Denise and Renee near Detour.

Sorry to learn Guy Angell of Rocky Ridge has been very ill. He is doing better now but is still at Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg at this writing on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun and family near Detour were among those who attended the Dedication Service of hymnals, windows and the organ at the Johnsview Methodist Church on Sunday evening.

Wednesday evening visitors at the William Fleaharty home were Mr. and Mrs. William Erwin near Woodsboro. Glad to report Mrs. James (Marian) Coshun of Detour came home on Sunday after surgery at Annie Warner Hospital last week. We surely do wish her a rapid recovery.

Speaking of illness, learned today that Upton Dayhoff of Keysville has pneumonia and he and his wife are now with their daughter in Taneytown. Sure we will all want to remember this old gentleman and his wife in our prayers.

Mrs. Harry DeBerry, who is in Annie Warner Hospital with a broken hip, is coming along alright. She will be there several more weeks, however, so how about some more cards for her? Sure they help to brighten her days.

Another one who would undoubtedly welcome being remembered is Linda Schaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Schaffer on the Keysville Road. She hurt her back somehow in gym at school and has been in Frederick Memorial Hospital. She came home Monday but still has a great deal of pain and must take it very slow-and-easy, and will have to do so for some time to come.

"Jimmy" Coshun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun near Detour, spent the week-end at home. Jim is stationed with the Reserves at Fort Dix, N. J.

Callers last week at the home of Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy on the Forest and Stream Club Road were Mrs. Paul Wildisan Kevin and Kim on Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richart and Mrs. Helen Wayson of Reisterstown on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafa Hyde and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wildisan, Kevin and Kim of Westminster, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar and Loretta of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar, Bobby and Billy of Detour, Mrs. Mary Plaine, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Plaine, Danny and Diane and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slenker of Mt. Wolf, Pa., on Sunday.

Martha Dutrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Dutrow of Mt. Union, spent part of the recent two weeks her parents were on a bus trip to Florida with Beth Wilhide and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide near Detour.

The men of the Middleburg Methodist Church served 348 suppers on Saturday evening at their annual event. Good for them!

The Eager Beaver Girls' 4-H Club will meet on Friday evening, April 14, at the home of Ellen Fleaharty near Detour. Those who entered the Talent Night on Saturday evening at the "Ag" Center to represent the club with baton twirling were Kathy Plympton, Sherie Coshun, Sharon Eyer, Mary Martin and Jean Myers. They won a second place. Congratulations, girls!

Next week is Cancer Week! If you aren't contacted at home, do please call one of the volunteers to come for your donation. In the Middleburg District it will be Mrs. Newton Six. Mrs. Rodney Bostian, Mrs. Joseph Bostian, Mrs. James Plympton, Mrs. William Weishaar and Mrs. William Fleaharty.

Snow fences started coming down in this area on Thursday. The week-end weather was just glorious. Spring had really sprung! It was a disappointment to go back to winter coats on Tuesday. At least now we can feel sure it really is "just around the corner."

If you enjoy going out to supper for turkey and oysters, mark the date, Saturday, April 22, 4 to 8 P. M., on your calendar. That day the PTA of Elmer A. Wolfe School in Union Bridge will be serving. The annual Science Fair will also be open for any interested folks with no admission fee. A bake table is also being planned with the supper.

The Carroll County Farm Museum opens again on April 15.

"Grandma" Yoder (Mrs. Emory) of White Hall celebrated her 84th birthday last Thursday at her home with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gill and children and Miss Elizabeth Yoder. Other family members who visited were Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, Mrs. Hugh Engel, Douglas and Jeffrey; Mrs. Larry Hively and Teresa, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Mrs. Richard Wilhide, Susan and Christine; Mrs. Myron Wilhide and Renee of the Keysville Road and near Detour and Mrs. John Shilling of Eldersburg.

Those who enjoyed the card party Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun near Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stine.

Happy Birthday wishes next week to Arthur Clabaugh and William Mehling on the 9th, Mrs. Mark Baumgardner and Mrs. Gilbert Stine on the 12th.

Everyone is thinking and talking about Canada and Expo 67 nowadays. Come to the play, "Tea for Ten" being planned by the Lutheran Church Women at Keysville Church on Sunday evening, April 16, at 7:30 P. M. Canada is the theme and you will find it most informative. Everyone welcome.

At the monthly meeting of the Keysville Lutheran Church Women on Monday evening, April 3, Mrs. Dwight Wahaus of the Baltimore District, showed slides and told about the National Lutheran Home for the Aged in Washington. The home was built in 1894 and many improvements have been added in the years following. There are now 265 guests and about 125 of them are invalids. There are 90 employees. There was a good turnout to enjoy this "tour" by slides.

For the special of the evening, Libby Coshun played piano solos, "Ice Carnival" and "An Evening Prayer." Shirley Keilholz and Eleanor Haines sang a duet, "The Old Fashioned Church." Announcement in the business meeting of the play, "Tea for Ten," on April 16 and twelve reservations have been sent in for the District Assembly to be held at Trinity Lutheran Church in Taneytown on April 26. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Roy Baumgardner, Mrs. Loren Austin and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty.

Mrs. Carroll Wilhide near Detour was a Friday overnight guest of her cousin, Miss Merle Yoder of Towson. They were supper guests of Morris Yoder and daughter Mary of Long Green and called on a number of other relatives and friends in Long Green.

As a new assistant leader with the Eager Beaver Girls' 4-H Club, I was among those who attended the Leaders' Banquet on March 30 at Frock's. Miss Dorothy Emerson, who has been connected with 4-H work for many years, was the guest speaker. Her topic was "Confidence in Leadership" and I wish each and everyone of you could have heard her. Terrific is the right word for this dynamic lady! She talked of joy in leadership and sharing it with others; of not worrying about "what other people think" and how they don't see you anyway, but the picture you are putting into their minds. We must guide our young people and not push them; for they will not learn unless they are ready to do so. Everything, she said, is consciousness. Leadership is giving others an opportunity to grow. And lastly, remember to be sure to say, "I'll be GLAD to." John Rinehart of Taneytown introduced Miss Emerson after Mrs. Patricia Stabler, Extension Agent, 4-H and Youth, presented certificates to the leaders who attended all three of the Leadership Meetings. All-in-all, a most wonderful evening. Very good dinner, also.

Cub Scout Pack 459

The Indians were again at the meeting of Cub Pack 459 in Union Bridge on March 31. This time they led David Buffington, Bobby DePew and Billy Dowdell from the Webelos Den forward to Boy Scouts. Sam Fleming, leader of the Webelos Den and an Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 330, had charge of this part of the program.

Awards were made by Cubmaster David Edwards to Eddy Stultz, Den Chief Brads; John Aurand and Mike Stambaugh, silver arrow under Wolf; Ricky Stambaugh, Dale Robertson, Walter Robertson and John Kefauver, Wolf badge; Glenn Edwards, Bear badge; Steve Fogle, Wolf badge and gold arrow; Mike Doble, silver arrow under Wolf; Randy Weishaar, Ray Conaway and Danny Johnson, Lion badge.

Den 3 had the opening. They brought in the flags and led the Pledge to the flag and the Lord's Prayer. Den 4 had a skit about different kinds of eggs and startled the audience by tossing (plastic) eggs at them at the end of their parts. Den 4 (located at Detour) won the Honor Banner for the month. Dens 1 and 2 joined for the closing. They sang a song about the Handyman theme for the month and then lit candles and each had a part about maintaining freedom.

Announcements during the business meeting included a reminder about the next paper drive, which will be May 6, and thanks to all who took part in the bake sale on March 25. Profit of $65.00 is much appreciated by the pack.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Mehling and Mrs. Forrest Roser.

FAIRVIEW

Happy birthday wishes are being sent through this column to Mrs. Harry Bergen of Denver Colorado, by her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilson of Bruceville, Md. May God bless you on your birthday and every day is our wishes for you, my dear sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock spent Saturday in York, Penna. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frock. They also called on Mrs. Ruben Frock and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gladfeller and family, also of York, Penna.

Prayer meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sherkey of Loys Station, near Rocky Ridge, on Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 P. M. by the pastor, Rev. Herbert Myers of the First Church of God and the Maryland and Virginia Elmhurst; everybody is welcome.

Mrs. Mable Smith of Keysville called on her mother, Grant Baker and her sister, Mrs. Claude Selby of 58 York St., Taneytown, on Friday.

We surely are having wonderful Spring weather—on Sunday it was more like Summer, doors and windows were thrown open and yesterday a little cooler temperature by mid afternoon, with a little cooler, yet this morning (Tues.); but it is beautiful, the sun is shining so bright with hardly a cloud in sight.

Our sympathy goes out to the Ecker family in the loss of a husband and father, Mr. Sterling R. Ecker, who was killed Saturday when a tractor upset on him. He lived in Uniontown, Md., and will be missed by all who knew him.

Our sympathy is with the Graybill family in the passing of a husband and father, Mr. Daniel L. Graybill, who passed away on Sunday at the Hanover General Hospital. He was a policeman in Taneytown before his illness took place which claimed his life; he too will be missed by many.

Mrs. Annie Frock Kalandros of the Glover Nursing Home, Hook Rd., nr. Westminster, was taken to the Greater Baltimore Medical Center, Towson, Md., on Thursday. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Merhl Crumbacker of Keyman and Mrs. Ralph Eyer, near Mayberry called recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Selby and mother, Mrs. Grant Baker of 58 York St., Taneytown.

"Singing in the Rain" (by William R. Newell)

The Mockingbird's a cheerful thing; Whatever comes, he'll sing and sing. All yesterday it rained and rained, And everybody else complained.

But Mockingbird, perched on a chair Out on my lawn, all dripping there, Trilled cheerful note and warbling air; And if it showered, he did not care!

These little birds teach me a lot— They are so much that I am not! How often when the night is dark, Alight will go his singing spark! And then for hours the night is cheerful.

For everyone who gets an earful! Through life he takes a singing part! Lord, give me, too, a singing heart!

A P R I L

April is the month we most look forward to. The month which brings the showers for the blooming of May flowers.

Crocus blooming in a riot of color. And the daffodil in their golden hue, bring joy to both me and you.

April seems to be beacon, and every winding brook urges you "go on, ward," and every where you look flowers nod a greeting, the thrush and robin sing, for every day in April bespeaks to you of Spring.

HOOPER'S DELIGHT

Those who visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farver and sons of Westminster were Mr. and Mrs. M. Snyder and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Barber and son, Mrs. Harry O. Farver.

Our deepest sympathy goes to the family of Mr. Ray Ecker and also to Ralph Reese.

Mrs. Harry O. Farver called on Mrs. N. Brunner and family on Thursday afternoon.

Those who visited in the home of the Barbers and Mrs. Farver on Sunday and during the week were Mr. and Mrs. James Lister, Mr. and Mrs. M. Snyder and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. James Benson and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farver and sons, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Farver and daughter, Mrs. Edgar Taylor and granddaughter, Kim Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. M. Brunner and daughter.

Mr. Wm. Farver of Westminster still remains on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. James Benson and daughters, Sherry and Mishell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Farver and daughter.

Mrs. Kathy Brunner of Howard Co. and Dennis Brunner spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. N. Brunner and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. James Lister of Manchester called at the same place.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this opportunity to thank all those who remembered me with cards, flowers, fruit, etc., visits and prayers that were offered in my behalf, while I was a patient at the Carroll County General Hospital and since my return home; a special thanks to Doctor Dayrump and Doctor Bell, the nurses and ministers; your thoughtfulness will always be remembered. Sincerely,

MRS. ETHEL RAY WILLET

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for the many, many lovely cards of congratulation received for our 65th Wedding Anniversary; also our thanks for the gifts and the personal well wishes. We certainly did appreciate everything. Again, our heartfelt thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Winter

I also wish to express my thanks for the birthday cards and gifts received on my 95th birthday.

Herbert W. Winter

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Mehling and Mrs. Forrest Roser.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all who remembered me while a patient in the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, with cards, fruit, flowers, birthday cake and visits; my special thanks to Dr. Caricofe of Union Bridge and to the Union Bridge Fire Co. ambulance and their very capable attendants; also to Dr. Johnson and the nurses and their Aids at the hospital; and to Rev. Wilbur Whalen and wife and all others for their prayers and all other acts of kindness. Again many thanks.

MR. ROY ADKINS

DIED

S. RAY ECKER

S. Ray Ecker, 52, of Westminster, was killed Saturday, April 1, 1967, in a tractor accident.

He was born in Frederick County and was a son of Florence Strine Ecker of New Windsor and the late Sterling K. Ecker.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irene Smith Ecker

Benjamin G. Tresselt, Jr., has been appointed Forester for the Eastern Division of The Potomac Edison Company which includes this area.

In this position, he will coordinate rights-of-way maintenance programs in the Hagerstown, Frederick, and Waynesboro District areas. He recently completed an intensive training program in forestry operations pertaining to Potomac Edison.

A native of Waynesboro, Mr. Tresselt attended schools there and is a graduate of St. Maria Goretti in Hagerstown. He attended Penn State, receiving his degree in 1962 and, for the past several years, has been engaged in forestry consultant work in the Waynesboro area.

He is married and resides with his wife and son near Waynesboro.

LOCAL INSURANCE AGENT RECEIVES HONORABLE RECOGNITION

The agency sales promotion department of State Farm Insurance Companies' home office of Bloomington, Illinois has listed Arthur W. Garvin, Jr., on their International Honor Roll. State Farm Insurance Companies has over 10,000 agents serving in the United States and Canada. Of the top 800 agents in the nation, local agent Arthur Garvin ranks 352.

This honor was made only through the faith and encouragement of his policyholders and friends. Our congratulations—keep up the good work, Arthur!!!

WELSH ELECTED DIRECTOR OF INSURANCE COMPANY

Laurence J. Welsh, Linwood, was elected a Director of the Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Dug Hill at the quarterly meeting of the directors on March 19th in Manchester.

Mr. Welsh, who has been an agent with the company for the past 11 years, was elected a director to fill the vacancy created by the death of Clyde L. Hesson. Mr. Hesson, a well-known bank official of Taneytown, had also been an agent, director and president of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Dug Hill.

MCINTIRE PRESIDENT OF LAWYERS' ASSOCIATION

T. Bryan McIntire, State's Attorney, was recently selected President of the Carroll County Bar Association. He succeeds William B. Dulany who served in that capacity for the past two years.

Other officers elected are David H. Taylor, vice-president; Marker J. Lovell, secretary; and Donald M. Smith, treas. The Board of Directors elected to serve term of one year are William B. Dulany, Charles O. Fisher and C. Rogers Hall, Jr.

The local group unanimously supported the Unified Bar Association Bill which was recently passed by the General Assembly. Plans are now being made for Bar Association participation in "Law Day — U. S. A." which is May 1st.

GLEEMEN ON SOUTHERN CONCERT TOUR

The Gleenmen from Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Maryland left National Airport, Washington, D.C., on Tuesday morning, April 4 on the first leg of their southern concert tour.

The chorale group, under the direction of Rev. Dr. David W. Shaum will make their first stop at Pensacola Catholic High School in Pensacola, Florida, on Tuesday evening, April 4 they will perform at Bishop Toolen and McGill High Schools in Mobile, Alabama. The next stop will be in New Orleans where they will present concerts at St. Mary's Dominican College for Women and at Loyola University. While in the Mardi Gras City, they will also tape a colored TV program.

During the tour, several days have been allotted to visiting historical and cultural sites in the various areas according to Dr. Shaum. The group will return to campus on Sunday, April 9th.

CARD OF THANKS AND APPRECIATION

I take this means to thank each and every one of my relatives, friends and neighbors for their many kind deeds; Taneytown Mfg. Co. for fruit and flowers; also cards; my minister, Rev. Wiley, for his visit, while I was convalescing at my home since January 9. Again many thanks.

CARRIE WEISHAAR

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports —John Breth

The crack of the bat against the baseball is again heard in the land. The sounds will be missing at Memorial Park this year. The Taneytown Tigers will not participate this year in the South Penn League or may be never again for that matter. Local baseball will join that mysterious limbo which is the home of the nickel phone call, knickers, and penny candy.

The reasons for the decline and fall of sandlot ball in Taneytown have been discussed before in this column so we won't go into them again. Let it be said that it will be missed by a few and ignored by many. The ghosts of by gone days will continue to haunt Memorial Park as the warm days grow into summer. Exciting plays played by local boys will always be in the memories of the ardent baseball fan and will not be easily erased.

The local diamond, easily the best in the area, may not be empty if the hopes of a few dedicated men in Taneytown are realized. American Legion ball, the breeding ground of many a fine ball player in the area, is trying once again to get started. Surely there is enough talent to stock a team locally, but is there enough dedicated men around to run the team and carry it through to success? That is the question now. We sincerely hope that there is and that Memorial Park will not remain empty. Let's get behind the men of the American Legion and support their efforts. Congratulations, men! Here's hoping that your efforts are met with success and that local baseball, at least on the Legion level, will not die or vanish like the Buffalo nickel.

Despite their runaway victory in the American League last year, THE BALTIMORE ORIOLES are aware that this is a new season and that their pitching problems may make it tough to repeat.

One of their big hopes in that area is Tom Phoebus, still rated a rookie despite his three starts last fall in a Baltimore uniform.

Phoebus won two games and lost one for the Birds and, of course, was not eligible for the World Series against the Dodgers. As it turned out, he was hardly needed.

Prior to his short trial with Baltimore, Phoebus won 13 games and lost nine for Rochester of the International League. That wasn't bad but this is better. He had a no-hitter, five shutouts and he also led the league in strikeouts.

But good as that was it doesn't compare with what he did at Baltimore late in September. He faced the California Angels in his major league debut and shut them out. He took on Kansas City in start number two and blanked the A's. The two consecutive shutouts equalled a major league record. Phoebus lost his third start to wind up with his two and one record.

The Orioles will give Phoebus every chance to win a job as a regular starter this spring. Maryland fans obviously felt this winter that he would. He filled about 30 speaking appearances in the state during the off-season.

This was new to him but he said: "I learned a lot about fans. It was an experience. Even at the last speaking date, I still got nervous before being called on. I was more relaxed with kids and I enjoyed passing tips on inside baseball to Little League players."

Today's Sport Laugh — Stu Miller is an excellent relief pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles. But he did not appear in any of the World Series games against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Said Miller: "The winning share will run about $12,000. And I must say it will be the largest unemployment check I've ever received."

MCINTIRE SEEKS NON-PARTISAN SUPPORT OF CONVENTION DELEGATES

State's Attorney McIntire urged all Republicans to forget political lines and to do their utmost to encourage the best qualified Carroll Countians to seek election as delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

"Our present one-hundred-year-old constitution has served us well but the voters have directed that it must now give way to a new one which will more adequately serve the needs of modern government. We must be sure that our best minds are sent to accomplish the rewriting task. I am hopeful that our people will form a non-partisan committee to encourage the candidacies of those best qualified."

McIntire made these statements in a speech before the Woolerys District Republican Club last Tuesday night. After reviewing the history of Maryland's four constitutional conventions of 1776, 1850, 1864 and 1887, he launched into a summary of the draft of the proposed constitution. He pointed out that the draft calls for a restructuring of the judicial branch of government with new methods of selecting and electing judges. The commissioner form of government will give way in all counties to the home rule type of government.

McIntire also decried the lack of public interest in the convention, remarking, "With the filing deadline just two or three weeks away, we yet have no announced candidates. I hear all sorts of talk throughout the County about councils and commissions but the most important document, the Constitution, seems to be attracting little attention."

The filing deadline for candidates to the convention is April 22 and the special election will be held on June 13. The Constitutional Convention will convene in Annapolis on Sept. 12.

An inmate of a modern prison always spent visiting days alone in his cell. This worried the warden, who finally called the man into his office. "Ben," he said kindly, "I've noticed you never have any visitors. Don't you have any relatives—or friends?" "Oh, sure I do!" replied Ben, happily. "But they're all in here!"

ACROSS THE FENCE

by
County Extension Agent

The milk withholding action of dairymen to raise producer prices in a number of states has enjoyed widespread publicity during the past weeks.

Reports of vandalism, dumping cans of milk, draining tanker trucks, shooting holes in truck tanks, and contaminating the milk with water, sugar and other materials have been numerous.

It seems regrettable that a few farmers would resort to the same tactics that they have so vigorously deplored when used by other groups. Carroll County and Maryland has enjoyed a stable milk market. The leadership of the producer cooperatives and private dairies have served the public well in supplying a pure, fresh product of highest quality to the consumer at a reasonable price.

Most food marketing experts believe that the only ones benefiting from a withholding action are those who are able to continue marketing their product without interruption. Good prices are not brought about by violence. It seems as if more legitimate methods can be used in assuring the producer of "nature's most perfect food" at a fair and reasonable price.

John Hull, Bachmans Valley, and Howard Devilliss, Route 5, Westminster, asked me the other day while riding over to the State Guernsey meeting, about the comparison of plowing down fertilizer versus discing in after plowing for corn production and whether using liquid nitrogen was a good practice.

Much of the research indicates that plowing down fertilizer would result in an increase yield of ten bushels of corn per acre. The yield increase is more likely when dry weather occurs during the growing season because the fertilizer is nearer the moisture zone. Since we now know when dry weather will occur, it is considered an advantage to plow down the fertilizer whenever possible. Of course, on ground plowed in the fall, fertilizer broadcast in the spring and discing in is the next best practice.

The use of liquid nitrogen is very acceptable. However, the phosphates and potash requirements must not be overlooked. A 100 bushel corn yield requires approximately 110 lbs. of nitrogen, 60 lbs. of phosphate and 80 lbs. of potash. Too often when nitrogen alone is used, whether in a liquid or dry form, the phosphate and potash requirements are neglected.

Husband (behind his paper)—Well, it must have been a little cuckoo.

A TRIP TO MEXICO . . .

village with his little burro, that are used as beasts of burden, piled high and wide with the efforts of his labor, usually cacti in some form, wool, wood, bark, till we thought his legs must double under him.

Whole families waited along the road for the dilapidated busses that would take them to the next city. They would have with them the papayas, pumpkins, turkeys, chickens with their feet tied together. These are held on their laps or put on top of the bus.

As we drove to San Luis Potosi the land was more fertile and from here to Mexico City we saw large herds of milk goats. San Luis Potosi is a very old city. The houses are all of adobe, facing narrow streets, with only a door to the street and no windows; but all homes have a garden or courtyard in the back. Here we went through the ancient cathedral with its three altars and domes burnished in gold.

Every day is wash day in Mexico. We saw people washing their clothes in the canals or any stream of water, hammering them with stones and hanging them on nearby bushes to dry.

The people walked along the road and streets with large baskets, buckets or containers with produce, greens, peppers, tomatoes or bread in them. These they placed on top of their heads and their arms in front of them.

Queretago was our next stop. It is a fascinating colonial city, steeped with Mexican history and tradition.

In the evening we arrived in Mexico City. Before we left Mexico City for Acapulco we had a tour of the city but will return later and see more of it. Before leaving we were given a tour of the residential homes of Coleria, bougainvillea and jackaranda were blooming on all the walled homes of the city. Beautiful rock gardens were to be seen in all of the beautiful homes.

As you enter Mexico City the highway becomes higher and higher to a height of 8000 feet. The city is located in the Valley of Mexico. It is surrounded by mountains on all sides, except the north. Some of the mountains are volcanic. To the south can be seen the peaks of Popocatepetl (17,888 ft.) and Iztaccihuatl (17,434 ft.).

The University of Mexico has 81,000 students (tuition $12.00 a year), but a student must have a B average every semester to enter. At the University of Mexico, the 1968 Olympics will be held in the stadium which seats 110,000 people.

All the buildings of the University have murals and mosaics, the work of Juan O'Gorman, composed of small stones of natural color brought from different regions of the country. All the murals depict the culture and history of the Mexican.

Our next stop was the city of Cuernavaca, one of the most charming spots in Mexico. The gaily tinted homes of pink, blue and yellow with their tiled roofs. Here we saw acres of roses and other flowers blooming, rice paddies, sugar cane and cucumbers by the acre. The homes with their walls covered with bougainvillea, jackaranda and tulip trees were beautiful to behold.

Here in Cuernavaca was the summer home of Carlotta and Maximilian as well as other Emperors of Mexico. The market days are made very colorful with the Indians selling their wares. It is noted for its beautiful woven huaraches and straw hats and baskets. We went through the Cortez Palace which contains many paintings, sculpture and murals by Diego Rivera.

In all the town squares children beg for pesos. There is a law that the children cannot beg. The governments want them to be resourceful and not depend upon begging and the government to keep them.

Next we went to Taxco, sprawled over a rugged hillside of Sierra Madre range. One cannot tell of it, it has to be seen. The town is perched on the side of the mountain. We stayed at the Borda Hotel, named after the Frenchman, Jose De La Borda, who developed the silver mine, the oldest mine in North America. Some of the mines are still producing.

Because of its unique character, the government has made it a national monument. No modern buildings are allowed to be built in an effort to preserve its old charm. Its steep, narrow streets of cobblestone paving, the fountains and the quaint buildings are all on different levels.

When one awoke in the morning to the sound of thousands of birds singing, dogs barking and roosters crowing and the bells of seven churches ringing, it was a mixture of sound that made one think all creatures were glad to be alive. We visited the Church of San Sebastian, built by Borda. The church is richly ornamented with frescos of gold inlay. No expense was spared to make it one of the most beautiful churches in Mexico.

From Taxco we went to Acapulco over high plateau land and high mountain roads. Acapulco, the "Pearl of the Pacific."

Over this road we saw many interesting things. Pigs were tied to telephone poles, grazing along the roads. Sponges for washing dishes were grown on a vine and cut with a razor the size one wanted. All over Mexico the cacti grow. On this road were miles of organ pipe, needle and candelabra cacti which the Mexican makes a stronger drink than tequila, called pulpa.

In Acapulco we stayed at the Hotel Galea, a beautiful building on the Pacific Beach. In the evening we went to La Perla to see the high divers, who dive 130 feet into the swelling surf from the high perch. This city contains some of the most fabulous hotels in the world.

In the afternoon we took a trip around the island on the cruiser La Roqueta and ate our dinner on the island. In the evening we went to The Presidential Hotel for entertainment—a troupe of dancers from the Nicaraguan. The Totonaco Indians danced the rain dance in the outdoor arena.

In the morning we made our return trip to Mexico City. We stayed at the Hotel Del Prado. In the evening we were free to do anything we wanted, so we took a taxi to Zocalo to see the lights. It was very beautiful and then on to the square to see the hundreds of troubadours and musicians dressed in their big hats and braided clothes to play for the fiesta and carachas and marachia dancing.

On Sunday we went to the Theatre of Fine Arts in the Zocalo to see the "Ballet Folklorico De Mexico." This was an interpretation of all the dances of the Mexican people. The costumes were beautiful. The Mexican music is heard wherever you go.

In the Palace of Fine Arts, we saw the famous colored glass curtain, depicting the two volcanoes, Popocatepetl and Iztaccihuatl. It was made by Tiffany in U.S. at a cost of $47,000 in U.S. money.

In the Parliament building we saw the famous Diego Rivera murals and painting interpreting the life and history of Mexico. Then the Borda Gardens, once the home of Maximilian and Carotta.

From the Zocalo we went to Xochimilco, the Floating Flower Gardens, the place where flowers grow. Fourteen miles south of the city is an area cut by numerous waterways, all that remains of a once extensive lake. The "floating islands" originally were rafts woven of twigs and reeds and anchored in the lake by the Aztec Indians who then covered them with earth and vegetation. Eventually this took root and now are natural flower gardens.

The flower decked boats carry visitors around the water ways. Hundreds of boats are in the canal and the flower vendors in their narrow hollowed out canoes make it all very colorful and festive.

Sunday is the festive day in Mexico. All sports are held on Sunday. Every day is fiesta day somewhere in Mexico for every village and town celebrates its saints day with religious ceremonies and gay entertainment with dancing, bull fights, fairs, parades and fire works. The bull fights are held on Sunday and those of us wanting to attend could. Mexico City's bull ring or Plaza Monumento is the world's largest bull ring, seating 50,000 people.

The Mexican says that bull fighting is not a sport, that it is an art, having its roots deep in its history. It is part of the breath of life for the Latin and it is hard for people who do not understand the Latin temperament, what it is that gets an entire nation passionately aroused as they do over a bull fight.

The great Cathedral, the largest church in Mexico began in 1573 and finished in 1667, is richly ornamented. It contains marble altars, statuary, wood carvings, silver railings, priceless tapestry and paintings. There are two large murals. The sacristy, adjoining the cathedral, contains two naves that cross with the high dome in the center. Here we saw a number of humanity worshipping. Last year they had a fire in the cathedral which destroyed the two large organs and we were shown only a part of the building.

On the Avenue Pasco de Reforma, some of the most beautiful monuments and buildings are seen. At the end of the drive is Chapultepec Park (meaning grasshopper hill), a forest of cypress trees. Maximilian Castle is in this park and is now a national museum.

We then went shopping to the hand-tooled leather factory and the native industries where silver, hand blown glass, tile and pottery, scarfs, hand woven blankets, baskets, needle work and jewelry are on sale.

We visited the Basílica de Guadalupe. The Virgin of Guadalupe attracts millions of people to her shrine every year. The daily average pilgrimage is about 15,000. They come from every state in the Mexican Republic. Tons of flowers are offered to her and the natives who come from every village dance for her from morn till night, playing their primitive musical instruments and singing to her in their native tongue.

The Shrine of the Virgin Mary of Guadalupe, a present that God made to the inhabitants of their country more than 400 years ago in the form of a picture representing the Virgin Mary. It appeared in colors on a mantle of an Indian to whom she made herself known on four different occasions and with whom she conversed in his native language—the Aztec.

A constant stream of people come on their knees in order to demonstrate their thanks to the Blessed Virgin for the many great favors for which they have received.

Every available wall in the Basílica is covered with plaques testifying to favors received. There are tapestries fashioned from gold and silver. The church is noted for its ornate decorations. It has three naves, eight large columns support the vaulted roof and fifteen domes. The central dome is 124 feet high and 122 feet wide. There are forty-six stained glass windows made from hand blown glass. In the dome is a large chandelier and a frame work supports its thousands of prisms and 225 light bulbs cast in bronze in Mexico City.

Then we continued on to the Pyramids of the Sun and the Moon—citadels of human sacrifices. The imposing Pyramid of the Sun, erected in about 500 B.C. in San Juan Teotihuacan, rises to a height of 200 feet. At one time it was surrounded by a great statue of the Sun God, adorned with a gold breast plate reflected the sun's brilliant rays. Like so many ancient works of art, the statue was destroyed by Mexico's first archbishop in his zeal to abolish pagan rites.

Teotihuacan, pyramid to the Moon, the sacred city to the Toltecs, was abandoned long before the Aztecs arrived in the area, yet the ruins still stand today as monuments of a remarkable culture. Here we saw the Mestices or Desert Indians who made up the masses of poor peons and workers who live in the remote areas that have hardly been touched by 20th century civilization.

We went to the Museum of Natural History and the San Juan market where all merchandise of the Mexicans were on sale.

From Mexico City we started our journey on Hi-way 85 over the high Sierra Madre mountains, a distance of 350 miles. Here the Huasteca Indian lives. They are called the "lazy people" but when one sees the sides of the mountains that they cultivate, where they put a rope around their bodies and tie it to a rock to keep them from rolling down the mountain, we know it isn't true. They cultivate their hillside farms and live in the lush valleys. Coffee trees were growing under the shade of larger trees. This coffee is known as Columbian coffee.

On this road is a marble canyon 3000 feet deep. The marble cannot be gaurried because of the depth of the canyon. Many orange and banana groves were along the highway on the sides of the mountain. A river followed the ravine and we saw V-shaped nets with a sort of lobster basket in the end where they set the nets to catch the trout and bass.

On this road we saw the traveling barber shop. A man on a bicycle with a straight chair and barber equipment who went from town to town barbering, for eight pesos you could have a view, the chair facing the street and for four pesos you faced the wall while having your hair cut.

From Valles to Victoria we saw fields of sisal growing. The life of a sisal plant or cacti is seven years. When the blades are cut, stripped and soaked in water, they are hung to whiten and dry, then it is ready to be made into rope, baskets, mats and pocketbooks.

We passed fields of cacti known as marquez or century plant. This is a very productive cacti as quite a number of things are made of the fibers as well as food and tequila, and is known as the jack of all trades.

Returning to Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, we entered the U.S. at Laredo, Texas, where immigration and custom authorities examined luggage and all articles bought in Mexico were declared and cleared and permits returned.

From Laredo we returned to San Antonio to the El Tropicana Hotel. In San Antonio we had a tour of Brekenridge Park. The Lone Star Brewery where is located Buckhorn Hall of Horns—a world famous collection. There are horns in each hall from Asia, Europe, Africa, and the Texas long horn "Old Tex" the longest recorded horns in history, and white tail deer horns with a formation of 78 points.

There are deer, Texas longhorns, moose, elk, antelope and buffalo. Visitors come from the far corners of the globe to see this interesting collection.

Easter Sunday morning (6:30) we all attended Easter service in the Civic Auditorium. The city presented the pageant "I Am the Way," a sacred pageant depicting the last week of Christ's life, with a cast of over one hundred. Through music, pageant and words we heard and saw the story of Easter.

We stayed in Dallas, where we were able to walk to the Kennedy Memorial and saw where the events of his assassination took place.

We stayed in Little Rock and drove on to Memphis and Nashville where we visited "The Parthenon" in Cenery Park.

Through the southern part of Tennessee we passed stone quarries where the colorful stones were being cut for building. Passed the Crab Orchard quarry where the stone for our house was quarried.

One of the things that we all missed most was the delicious fruit that was served to us. Large plates of tree ripened pineapple, papayas, cantaloupe, watermelon, oranges, grapefruit and banana. One of each fruit for each person. Never had we tasted any that was as delicious.

Our last overnight stop was at Marion, Va., and home after a never-to-be-forgotten visit to the Land of Adventure, South of the Border.

Lawns In Spring

Although fall is the best time to plant new lawns, it is possible to achieve one in spring by tilling and making a fine, level seedbed before fertilizing and planting seeds. A handy tool for leveling the area is a metal door mat which is given a cord handle and dragged over the area.

When the weather warms the first thoughts of most gardeners are of their lawns. How did they survive the winter? What must be done to bring them to perfection? And, if there is no lawn yet, how early may one be planted?

Lawns which were fertilized last fall and cut until grass growth ceased should need little maintenance this spring. Dead grass should, of course, be removed.

There may possibly be a few bare spots which are easily mended by raking the soil, planting the same kind of lawn seed used previously, firming it to the soil and then covering the area with transparent plastic. This holds moisture in the soil and increases daytime temperature underneath.

Gray spots in the lawn probably are signs of a disease called snow mold. This is caused by too early cessation of mowing in fall. Nothing will help now but raking out dead grass and reseeding. Prevention starts next fall with late mowing so tall grass does not encourage fungus growth. Treatment with a broad spectrum turf fungicide also may be necessary.

If the lawn was not fertilized last fall, that's the first chore this spring after raking out dead grass. Kinds and amounts of fertilizer to use depend on the kind of grass you have. Remember that there are now fertilizers which release plant nutrients slowly and do not burn grass.

After fertilization comes weed killing. Crabgrass preventives may be applied until apple blossoms bloom. 2, 4-D products should be used only after weeds are growing lustily and then only with great care to guard other nearby broad-leaved plants.

New lawns are really best planted in autumn but may be achieved in spring by waiting until soil has dried, then tilling and leveling a seedbed, of fine soil, fertilizing and then planting good quality, virtually weed-free lawn seed. Water is usually the limiting factor as the area must be kept moist until seeds sprout and watered regularly and thoroughly throughout the summer.

Mulching the planted area with straw helps hold seeds in place and keep the soil cool until seeds sprout.

Lesson for April 9, 1967

Background Scripture: John 14:15-17, 25-27; 16:5-11; Acts 2:1-13; Galatians 5:16-25.

Devotional Reading: John 14:25-31.

Let's assume that you didn't get to church last Sunday. Today, however, you find the whole town is talking about something strange that is alleged to have happened there Sunday during the service.

Rev. Althouse

It was a normal Sunday service, nothing special. Attendance was back to its usual uninspiring level after the momentary Easter surge. It was not a day of "special observance," the men at denominational headquarters obviously having overlooked this Sunday and left it undesignated for anything except "just" the worship of God.

A Strange "Joy"

You can't believe what you hear. First Church, they are saying, has suddenly become "a bunch of holy rollers" and "religious fanatics." Not First Church, the congregation that so appealed to you with its quiet, unruffled dignity! Yet all over town people are talking (and some are laughing) about the "commotion" at First Church last Sunday morning.

It is said that the congregation poured out of the church in a state of excitement. They were talking loudly, "incoherently" said some. Others were convinced some of them had been drinking. "Maybe they're putting something new in the communion cups down there these days," said one man with a sardonic wink. Accounts varied, but "joy" seemed to be the descriptive term most frequently used.

None of this makes any sense to you. This "joy" you have never seen at First Church before. Worship services there are self-consciously somber, almost grim. You can dismiss completely the suggestion of "drinking," for people of First Church are wise enough to stay home when they are "like that." The pastor's sermons are usually entertaining, but it would stretch the imagination to call them "inspiring." The people of First Church are never demonstrative except at budget meetings, football games, and occasional political rallies.

Embarrassment Of Pentecost

You are profoundly disturbed by these reports, but what should you do? You could withhold your contribution, an idea that has considerable appeal though little promise of solving the problem. You could call for the resignation of the pastor or demand an immediate investigation by the bishop. Perhaps you could contact other members who were not present on Sunday—presumably a considerable proportion of the congregation—and call for a special meeting to determine strategy. Or you could simply move quietly to another congregation and disassociate yourself from First Church entirely. That might be the best way to reply to those irritating cracks at work: "Hear you're getting religion down there at First Church these days!" How embarrassing for an ordinary Christian.

This "let's assume" may seem quite far-fetched, but perhaps it helps us to understand better the radical nature of what happened to the little band of Jerusalem Christians on the day of Pentecost. Perhaps we might begin to wonder whether, in our understandable desire to avoid emotional excesses of the past and guarantee order and dignity in worship, we might have gone too far and virtually excluded the Holy Spirit from our worship today? Have we perhaps "thrown out the baby with the bathwater"?

The early church lacked almost everything needed for success: financial wealth, educated clergy, trained laymen, beautiful buildings, intricate denominational lock-step programs, erudite theologies, etc. They possessed only the power of the Holy Spirit—or it possessed them—and that was enough. As someone has said, whereas today the church speaks mostly of its problems, the early church spoke mostly of its power.

What might happen in your church if some day the worship service were divinely interrupted?

"The Pleasures Of Spring Cleaning"

"Rubbing down her master's cello" is one approach to all-out spring cleaning. The modern approach is don't wash the cello — and don't try to do all your spring cleaning at once.

Recipe for faultless spring cleaning:

1. Wait until you're in the mood.
2. Dress in "mod" fashion while cleaning — you'll feel better about it all if you look neat.
3. Buy some new-look cleaning equipment to make the job easier. This spring you can even sponge away your household cares. For example, there's a sponge broom and long-handled dustpan, another large hand sponge that's ribbed on one side for scrubbing and smooth on the other for wiping. There's a sponge on a handle for no-stoop bathtub cleaning and no-reach cabinet-top cleaning.

4. One all-purpose cleaner to join the team and you're all set — choose a pine oil cleaner-disinfectant to clean, disinfect and deodorize all at once. As soon as you're tired, if you don't have a cello to play, put yourself into a warm tub and forget about spring cleaning 'til another day.

Ripe Olive Variations For Spring

With spring parties underway, canned California ripe olives are the most convenient food to have around for hors d'oeuvres. This all-purpose ripe olive spread changes consistency and character with its various additions. It can be chilled and rolled, dipped or molded and served hot and bubbling. Keep it on hand in the refrigerator and you're ready for any festive occasion, impromptu or otherwise.

4-WAY RIPE OLIVE SPREAD

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 1 cup canned California ripe olives | 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion |
| ½ pound grated sharp Cheddar cheese | 1 teaspoon curry powder |
| ¼ cup mayonnaise | ½ teaspoon garlic salt |

Cut ripe olives into chunks and combine with remaining ingredients. Makes 2 cups spread.

VARIATIONS

BALLS: Shape ripe olive spread into small balls. Roll in chopped parsley, sesame seed or chili powder. Chill.

BROILED: Spread ripe olive mixture on toast rounds and broil until cheese melts.

DIP: Combine equal parts ripe olive spread and dairy sour cream.

MOLDED: Soften 2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin in 3 tablespoons cold water; heat until gelatin dissolves. Add 2 tablespoons sherry. Cool. Stir into 1 cup ripe olive spread. Spoon into small mold. Chill until firm.

Blood Assurance Group Met

Recently a group of interested members of local organizations met at Taneytown Fire Company Hall with Mr. George Zeller, Blood Recruitment for the Baltimore Regional Chapter. Discussion was the planning of an organization of a Blood Assurance Group in Taneytown.

Mr. Zeller reported the need for blood locally. The Baltimore Regional Office uses the 35,000 pints it receives each year. This is only 55 per cent of the amount needed in the 34 hospitals they supply.

What does this mean to Taneytown? To its citizens?

First let's talk about you, your family, and your Red Cross Blood Assurance Program.

As a member of an organization that participates in the Blood Assurance Program you are automatically eligible to receive blood through the Red Cross. If you are single, all of your blood needs (except cardiovascular surgery) will be met for you, your parents and your brothers and sisters who are dependent upon them. By the same token if you are married, all of your blood needs (except cardiovascular surgery) for you, your spouse, your unmarried children and your parents, as well as the parents of your spouse will be met. And this blood is replaced in all hospitals in the United States and Canada affiliated with the National Red Cross Blood Program and the American Association of Blood Banks.

However, for this program to be successful AT LEAST 1 OUT OF EVERY 5 members of your organization (men or women) must donate blood once during every 12 month period.

Your membership and participation in the Red Cross Blood Assurance Program helps protect you, your family, and your community — this is your chance to help save a life.

Remember blood is available immediately from the Red Cross and there is no charge for blood. No charge is made for the blood itself when furnished by the Red Cross. Hospitals incur costs in connection with blood transfusions. These include: laboratory tests, transfusion equipment, services of doctors and nurses, and administrative costs. These charges appear on the patient's bill but the blood itself is free. Each donor will receive a card to identify himself at any hospital in U.S. or Canada that will give him access to this free blood.

Mr. Zeller brought out that it takes all types for a blood bank. Out of 100 donors: 46 have "O" blood, 40 have "A" blood, 10 have "B" blood and 4 have "AB" blood. Of these same 100: 85 have RH positive blood, only 15 have RH negative blood. They are divided 7 are "O" negative, 6 are "A" negative, only 1½ are "B" negative and less than 1 is "AB" negative. But any of these types may be called for by your doctor. When you have your next trip to the hospital ask to see the blood bank and see how small the bank is to all of the needs the public calls for.

To help in an emergency if you are carrying a blood type card the hospital can start replacing your blood immediately, but if your type is not known it would require time to type your kind and this time may be needed to save a life.

Some of the most important questions asked, that you as a Taneytown citizen may want to know the answer, were:

1. Is my blood donation needed? Yes, and urgently. Every year medical science discovers new applications for blood in the fight against injury and disease. Science has not devised a plan to obtain blood except from donors.

2. How is blood used? Whole blood is used in surgical operations, to combat shock; in cases of severe burns, for victims of injury. Blood derivatives are used for a great variety of purposes—among them, as a preventive medicine for measles, infectious hepatitis, for victims of hemophilia, and others.

3. Can I be sure that my blood donation will be used?

Yes, no blood is ever wasted. If blood is not used for transfusion within 21 days, it is made into plasma or blood derivatives which keep indefinitely.

4. How much blood am I asked to give?

ONE PINT. There are approximately 12 to 15 pints in the human body, depending on your weight.

5. Does it take long?

No, less than an hour. The actual donation takes only about 5 minutes.

6. How long does it take to replace this blood in your body?

Within a few minutes the fluid volume but the iron content requires several days for replacement.

Who benefits?

You and the community.

Am I eligible to give blood?

Yes, if you're between 18 and 59 and pass the physical check-up. Written permission of a parent is required for persons under 21. Blood can be donated at 8-week intervals, but no more often than 5 times a year.

Watch this newspaper for next meeting and at that time we may be able to have 100 people say that they will give blood between 2 and 7 P. M. when the bloodmobile comes to town. Your civic organization or lodge should contact James Trenary, of Potomac Edison, for more information. We will try to make it a community project instead of an organization project for therefore more people can become covered. For numerous people do not belong to any civic organization but would like to be covered by this assurance program.

We thank this newspaper for its space to relate these words to you, the public of Taneytown.

Water for Carroll

Senator Charles Smelser (Carroll-Frederick) points out that some 36 years ago Baltimore City foresaw, with an increasing population, the need for additional water sources. At that time, the counties adjoining the Patapsco apparently were not so concerned nor did they possibly foresee their future needs, because an act of the Maryland Legislature in 1931 empowered the Mayor and the City Council of Baltimore to establish and maintain reservoirs or lakes in the Valley of the Patapsco River in Baltimore, Carroll and Howard Counties.

With the passage of this bill in 1931, Carroll County was prevented by law from building reservoirs on any of her tributaries within the County that flowed into the Patapsco River. This covered a drainage area from Westminster east to the Patapsco.

Unfortunately, no provisions were made in 1931 for the County to receive a specified daily amount of water from the Patapsco River, nor in 1945 when the City of Baltimore agreed to pay the County $50,000 in consideration of the County releasing the City from all claims for tax or other revenue losses as a result of the City developing the Patapsco Valley as a source of water supply for Baltimore City.

As a result of the passage of Senate Bill 699 during the recent session of the Legislature and sponsored by Senator Smelser, Carroll County will have the authority, after 36 years, to build a reservoir on the Piney Run near Sykesville which flows into the South Branch of the Patapsco River below the Liberty Dam.

This is a rapidly expanding area of the County and the fact that a reservoir can now be constructed should be welcome news for area residents who have long been concerned about the adequacy of the water supply.

In addition, there is reason to expect future authorization for the construction of reservoirs as needed on the tributaries to the north to serve the Hampstead-Manchester areas. It is most important to construct reservoirs or impoundments for the storage of water in time of plenty to be used in time of need.

Like I always said—there's only one thing wrong with the younger generation—I ain't in it anymore.

Smile more often. Greetings should reflect friendliness. Remember, the face with a smile wins.

Build Strong Root Systems

Plowing down AGRICO fertilizers is the best way to build strong, deep, sturdy root systems for your corn. It's excellent protection against drought, and it gives you a big start toward a bumper corn crop.

AGRICO in your soil assures a deep root system that will take in the subsoil moisture and plant food that shallow roots miss. Growing plants get the nourishment they need to develop husky, healthy stems and leaves, and big, uniform ears.

AGRICO fertilizers also help decompose stubble, enriching your soil with even more plant food. Many farmers have earned $3 and more for every $1 invested in AGRICO plow-down. There's opportunity, too, for even bigger savings if you order in bulk. Spread it yourself—or make arrangements for one of our spreaders. Or, we'll spread AGRICO for you, if you prefer.
