Rain and more rain, hindering the Spring plowing and planting.
The South Carolina Poplar, wearing a new mint green dress.
A rabbit, scurrying through the rain drops.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:
On Friday, April 28, at about 7:30 P. M. I went into the City Office of Taneytown and asked to see the minutes of the Council Meeting of April 3. The lady on duty said she would have to get in touch with Mr. Henry Reindollar, Jr., and get his permission. I was at the City Office. The minutes were at the City Office. The lady on duty was an employee of the City. The City Charter states on page 3, paragraph 10: "The Council shall keep a journal of its proceedings and it shall be open to public inspection."

In my opinion the minutes are not open to public inspection when it is necessary to locate Mr. Reindollar and get his permission to show them. I can find nothing in the City Charter which gives the Clerk-Treasurer the authority to select who shall see the minutes of the Council meetings.

James V. Turner

There is currently being circulated over town a letter over the signature of James V. Turner whose purpose seems to be to embarrass and discredit the city administration by stating that too much authority is being exercised by the Clerk-Treasurer.

Of the many who read his letter as well as those who really would like to know what is going on and those who wish to ridicule all those concerned. Those of the latter group may as well cease reading this now, for no matter what facts are they will continue to try to belittle those involved in every way possible.

The letter signed by James V. Turner states that he went to the City Office and requested the minutes of the previous City Meeting and that he was denied the right to read them. He further states that his friend tried to obtain forms on which he might file as a candidate for the coming election but did not receive any.

There are two errors stated concerning the minutes. First, the minutes of a meeting are not official until they are approved at the next regular meeting of the City Council. This is done the first Monday of each month.

The second error is that neither the office secretary nor the Clerk-Treasurer is authorized to turn over the minutes to any one. The Council only has the authority to turn over official records. The city attorney was consulted some time ago concerning this matter and Mr. Stanford Hoff advised the Council that the proper method was to have anyone desirous of reading the minutes submit his request in writing. This then would be discussed by the Council.

Mr. Turner appeared at the recent Council meeting and was advised of the foregoing information and therefore knew the answers to his questions prior to the distribution of his letter. Why then did he distribute a letter? Further, he was advised by the Council that during the evening the matter, he was interested in, would be discussed and he was invited to stay (you, too, have this privilege). The section of the minutes in which he was interested was a matter of controversial nature and final action had not yet been taken.

Hence, it had not appeared in the new release. This section of the minutes was read to him verbatim and final action was agreed upon in his presence.

It is regrettable that Mr. Doty Robb was not able to obtain forms for filing for city offices. To my knowledge he is the only one who did not get such a form, however, he never contacted the Clerk-Treasurer. As near as we know all potential candidates (including Turner) who made their requests known either received them in person, had them delivered or mailed to them.

To summarize, the City employees, including the Clerk-Treasurer, do not have authority to hand over public records, since this is a function of the City Council. The public also should know that the letter being circulated over town was published after all the facts, both contents of the minutes as well as proper procedure to read same, were made known to the person signing said letter. WHAT THEN WAS THE TRUE PURPOSE OF THIS LETTER?

It is always gratifying to see citizens take a healthy interest in their local government. Constructive criticism has always been welcomed by the Councils with whom I have had the privilege of serving. However, there have been times when rumors and half truths have been circulated for selfish interests. This has made many an honest man hesitate to run for town offices or to seek re-election.

A half truth is most difficult to combat. Nevertheless, we hope that it is the intent of the vast majority to desire good government, both locally and in the higher levels. Frankly, we normally get the type of government we deserve.

Henry I. Reindollar, Jr.

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE' (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning.
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

It was really "two" in one day down town in Baltimore on May 10! First attending "Expo '67 Flower Festival at the Hecht Co. (and who else but Hechts' could put on such a display?) It was truly breathtaking as the public entered the revolving doors of that store. I stood there gazing upon all the beauty of the exciting tribute to Mother and to Lovers of Beauty Everywhere! Each year it seems to be more beautiful of the living blossoms right there. Heavenly is the world! And that from all over the world. As I observed the many faces of the individuals, I stood there and wondered if the Hecht Co. realizes the pleasure to all those present day after day for an entire week! I hope you and you did not miss it.

I, then, walked over to the Flower Mart — the 55th affair of The Civic League. Those women truly are wonderful—more power to them yearly! There must have been 100,000 by the end of the day. The crowd even at an early hour was terrific that you just had to move along with it all. Every individual seemed to be in a gay mood and all so colorful that one felt as though they were in a foreign country as Italy, Spain or France.

Luncheon was being served for the small price of 99¢ and I noticed two crab cakes on each plate. The men were treated royally as to their place first in line, due to the fact, that many came from their offices and had to return quickly.

There was special music, too and as for the booths, you just had to wait for your turn regardless of the merchandise and that meant about six deep. All appeared to be in a most genial mood. I observed more and more young people each year. Visiting the "Gladding House" for the first time since it all was renovated was really a treat and the interior was all carried out to a perfect setting of each room as all about that in a future Column for it would have to be a Column by itself so interesting is that lovely house.

Rabbits and squirrels play on the spacious lawn right here before my door and appear very tame. And the delightful aroma of the lilacs!

The Woolworth Store on Lexington St. will not be open for many months as I stated in a previous Column, although they had stated by May. There is so much to be done and it, no doubt will be a brand new store for they surely are starting from the floor up, as I peeped in the windows to get a good view.

Have you noticed, Ladies that so many of the Evening Gowns appear as glamorous night gowns? Now, young man if you really have what it takes to be a real POLICEMAN—just call M U - 1600 Extension 457. Nothing could be finer and it takes a brave man to be just that! What is more wonderful than protecting humanity?

How awful the Teachers Strike and our young boys in Vietnam? And that for just a little more pay. Ugh! Did you ever notice, Folks that behind every successful man there is a woman?

It was cute to hear Bob Hope state when asked about seeing much of TV in Russia, "You don't see much of TV there but TV watches you!"

Everything is really going up sky high. The Resinol Soap always was 25 cents for many years and then it went up to 28 cents and in four weeks it took a jump to 30 cents. I was so amazed when I went to buy a bar that I went to the manager and asked him about it and he looked it up in the books and there it was just what I had to pay for it!

At last, we are going to have those wonderful Philadelphia Charcoal steaks right next door to the Morris Mechanic Theatre. And that reminds me, if and when you are going to see a show right there be sure and ask for CENTER stage seats, otherwise you may be disappointed, as the side seats only show half of the stage!

It all is done in a beautiful light blue. Someone surely did pull a boner as to the arrangement of those seats in fact, I saw where columns are right in front of several seats in the very back row. Betcha, they will alter all that in a year or more!

If you have a talented teen-ager, as to the organ, be sure and visit "The Hammond Studio," on North Howard St., right below Center St. That organ really grows and grows on one and it never goes out of tune. The volume is most beautiful, so rich!

How stunned everyone was as to the Gordon and Shelia Mac Crae divorce after 15 years! When she was asked about it, she stated most frankly that it was something that kept coming on all the time but I observed he sang a most original song the other night (and he looks very badly) "Won't You Come Back to Me?"

If you want to taste real grapes at any time of the year, just ask for "Ideal Grape Juice" in bottles at the Acme store. Ummmmmm good!
And, Mrs. Housewife the next time you buy lotion for dish washing be sure and ask for "VEL" — believe it or not it has rose water and glycerine in the contents! And instead of any other cracker just try the freshness of "KEEBLER'S."

Have a grand week-end. Hope to be seeing you before June D. V. Until next week,
Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

Books are the treasured wealth of the world, the life inheritance of generations and nations.—Thoreau.

EXPRESS YOUR OPINION NOW

How big can our central government get without becoming a self-perpetuating mass of bureaus and administrative agencies beyond the control of the President, the Congress or the people? Such a government would quickly lose concern for what should remain its primary role of preserving the fundamental economic and political framework of a free society. Taxes are apparently on the way up, the value of the dollar on the way down, deficit spending continues and new proposals abound for pouring more untold billions of tax dollars into expanded federal programs.

Only the people through their votes and expressions of opinion to elected officials have the power to control the size of the federal government. The future of freedom will depend on a majority of the people making their concern and disapproval felt at the polling places during state and local as well as national elections.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Mr. J. Howard Pew, chairman of the Sun Oil Company, said: "Recently we witnessed an attack on the earnings of the oil industry when the government threatened the industry with the most dire consequences unless certain of the companies that had made a modest increase in the price of gasoline rescinded it. If the government continues to interfere with the price of gasoline, as it has done in the price of natural gas, it will establish another dangerous precedent which will prove to be a great dis-service to the American people."

The Associated Industries of Alabama says: "One of the best records of efficiently meeting consumer needs has been compiled by investor-owned electric utilities. While consumer prices have risen by over 200 per cent since 1930, the cost per kw/h of electricity has steadily dropped. Lower costs resulted from greater capital investment per employee, good management, and the need to compete with other fuels. Free market forces continue to be the consumer's best friend."

For more than 40 years the National Association of Manufacturers has been encouraging manufacturers to make the best possible use of the experience, knowledge, and skills which older people possess. Excellent progress has been made by the voluntary route, and many firms have dropped bans on hiring older people. The NAM said it would seem neither wise nor necessary to pass a federal law on this subject at a time when the states are taking affirmative action to resolve the problem at the state level.

Congressman Wendell Wyatt (R., Ore.) introduced legislation establishing a Small Tax Court to assure the average taxpayer of fairness in any dealings with the Internal Revenue Service. "Our court system should serve as arbiter in disputes between the Internal Revenue Service and any taxpayer," said Wyatt. "It is not always fair that the executive agency serving as collector of taxes also serves as final judge as to what taxes are actually due."

George Bernard Shaw, Irish playwright and satirist once stated, "Every person who owes his life to civilized society, and who has enjoyed since his childhood its very costly protections and advantages, should appear at reasonable intervals before a properly qualified jury to justify his existence. This existence should be summarily and painlessly terminated if he fails to justify it—and if it develops that he is a positive nuisance and more trouble than he is worth. Nothing less will really make people responsible citizens."

Safety experts report that driving at night is more than twice as dangerous as driving during the day, says "Today's Health," the magazine of the American Medical Association. In 1965, there were 10 persons killed for every 100 million vehicle miles traveled in darkness—four dead for every 100 million miles traveled in daylight.

"One of the important reasons the federal government needs to adopt a greater sense of fiscal responsibility—in curbing excessive spending and holding down the burden of taxation—is that state and local governments also must look to the same citizens for support of their operations," noted Walter Rogers, former U. S. Representative from Texas. "When a clear delineation is lost as to the proper role of federal, state, and local governments . . . a clear delineation is also lost as to sources of revenue each level should rely upon."

"Behind every advance of the human race is a germ of creation growing in the mind of some lone individual, an individual whose dreams waken him in the night while others lie contentedly asleep. We need those dreams, for today's dreams represent tomorrow's realities."—Crawford H. Greenwalt.

A Question of Budgets

Investors interested in the state of the national economy follow closely at this time the news of the President's proposed budget for the coming fiscal year. The considerable confusion about the national budget, comes, I believe, because there are actually three different kinds: the administrative budget, the cash budget, and the national income accounts budget.

The administrative budget is the most familiar one which traditionally the President sends to Congress for approval. It itemizes funds to be spent by the government for many federal programs together with an estimate of funds to be received—in the form of taxes—to pay for these expenditures.

The administrative budget however, doesn't include an accounting of the receipts and expenditures for an increasingly large area of government finance, i.e. the several trust funds administered by the government for such programs as Social Security, Unemployment, etc. And today these areas involve nearly 25% of all federal spending!

The cash budget itemizes the exchange of funds between government and the public and includes the trust funds. However, this budget reflects the distortions of financing the national debt in a tight money market.

The national income accounts budget is, I believe, a more accurate and equitable guide to the national economy. And recently—in a break with tradition—President emphasized this budget in his presentation to Congress.

The national income accounts budget is part of the bookkeeping system by means of which the federal government monitors the progress of the nation's Gross National Product.

This budget itemizes the government's purchases of goods and services . . . and relates them to total economic output. Moreover, it charts the redistribution of income in our nation. It illustrates—through an accounting of the various trust funds—the transfer of money received from taxpayers to those receiving pensions and welfare assistance.

Because this budget is more inclusive—obviously, its totals are higher than those in the administrative budget. For example, spending in the national income accounts budget totaled $169.2 billion vs. $135 billion in the administrative budget.

In emphasizing the national income accounts budget, I feel, President Johnson has led the way toward a greater recognition of—and acceptance of—this more realistic guide to the nation's economic progress.

CORNY

With ears filled with kernels clear to their tips, long husks to cover them fully, shiny kernels in even rows, this sweet corn was bred for flavor. Its name? Burbank Hybrid.

Of all the vegetables that regularly appear on menus, sweet corn is the most abused for it is served, time and time again, when it is too long from picking time and therefore no longer fresh. It seldom tastes the way it should.

You've heard the advice, "Put the water on to boil and then pick the corn?" The person who first said that knew his corn, for the sugar content of corn is lost so rapidly after picking that the only way to taste what corn is really like is to grow it yourself and follow the advice above.

Every year new varieties of corn are offered to gardeners. Generally these are more delicious to eat than older kinds. The newcomer illustrated above is named Burbank Hybrid and is said to "freeze as well as it 'eats.'" Selected for its flavor, this variety produces ears with kernels clear to the tips of their 7 1/2-inch-length which is well covered by the husks.

Should you feel that really fresh sweet corn is desirable but that planting long rows is too great a chore, copy the man who, like his bride, adored fresh sweet corn but wanted to eat each ear at its absolute perfection, flavorwise. To insure this he planted 2 seeds of corn each day during the planting season so there would be just a few ears to eat each day of harvest.

Modern Heating Units Are CLEAN

Most of the grime in a home comes from cooking fats produced in the kitchen, from tobacco smoke settling in the house, from dirt brought through open windows, from cracks in the door or tracked in by shoes or clothing exposed to muddy or dusty areas.

So smile when you hear the "clever" line about one fuel being "cleaner" than another. Better Business Bureaus in many cities have pointed out repeatedly that this is an untrue statement. With any modern fuel, including oil, no properly installed heating system "makes" dirt.

IF YOU PLAN to install a heating system in your home, you've probably heard many stories that this or that fuel provides "cleaner" heat. The plain fact is that all modern fuels—electricity, oil and gas—provide equally clean heat. All three systems circulate whatever dust or grime exists in a house. But the fuel itself, with the possible exception of old-fashioned coal furnaces, adds nothing to the dust or dirt already inside the house.

Oil heat, as a matter of fact, is so clean that you can broil a steak over the flame of a well-adjusted oil burner. There is no taint, odor, soot or film to spoil the taste or appearance of the meat. You can toast marshmallows or hot dogs in the flame, too. It's that clean.

Noticed: tulips are still bright in many places with the lilacs now giving off their lovely odor and geraniums being planted for their brilliant colors in many yards and flower boxes. . . . Another new house being started at New Midway, just south of the school and on the other side of the road. . . . The mustard weed is a nuisance in one's yard but isn't it a bright perky yellow in the fields? It has really been quite cheerful even with all the rain we have been having. Wish we could save some of this rain for about July. How about you? . . . And have you been reading about the drought problems they are having in Florida? Wish some rain for them now! . . . Black shutters have been put up on the new white siding on the former Washburn home near Keyville. Really "dresses" it up and looks good. . . . Have you noticed the progress they are making on the new Firemen's Building in Union Bridge? Moving right along. Have you helped to move the thermometer for donations and pledges up? Firemen are one organization I think we all need to help. Never know when we might need to call on them ourselves!

Big "I" and Little "You"

'Twas at the window stood the boy, one beauteous, sparkling night; His spirit glowed, enrapt with joy, and filled with child's delight. He viewed the skies bestud with gold, in wild profession laid, And through the spangled dome of old his childish fancy played.

He marked the gems of lustrous glow, and fixed his pensive eyes, And oft the mystic grandeur drew the child's increased surprise; "Twinkle, twinkle, little star, how I wonder what you are!"

The boy had older grown to years, with toils of studied lore, Had mounted up through sweat and tears from "fresh" to "sophomore." He viewed again the sparkling dome, each star he knew by name; And, wise above the kin of home, his father put to shame.

About these wondrous orbes he knew it all—their size and mold; Their distance far, and people too, Their composition told.

"Twinkle, twinkle, little star, Know exactly what you are!" The boy had grown to manhood's prime.

Philosophic age. Among the stars that brightest shine an Astronomic sage. That sparkling dome he often swept with telescopic eye, To know it all he would have wept with spectroscopic sigh.

He stood again at window old as when the little boy, And up the starry night and cold He mused with childish joy; "Twinkle, twinkle, little star, How I wonder what you are!"

(J0063) PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (FHTNC) May 8 — Marine Private William H. Shaw, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Shaw, Sr., of 242 Smith Ave., Westminster, Md., was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment. The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects; hygiene; first aid and sanitation; and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join Marine combat forces.

(H0808) USS MONROVIA (APA-31) (FHTNC) April 28 — Disbursing Clerk Seaman Mahlen D. Petry, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Petry of Rt. 7, Westminster, Md. is participating in refresher training cruise at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, as a crewmember aboard the attack transport USS Monrovia.

The cruise comes after an overhaul at Todd Shipyards in Brooklyn, N. Y., and includes drills on steamship, gunnery, navigation, damage control and security. Following the cruise, the Monrovia will return to Norfolk, Va., and prepare for two weeks of amphibious training at the Little Creek, Amphibious Base.

Upon completion at Little Creek, the Monrovia will have finished her entire overhaul training phase and be fully prepared to assume her duties as a member of the Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports —John Breth

One of the key figures in the 1967 BASEBALL SEASON up to now has been mother nature. She hasn't been treating the game very kindly. This has been one of the soggiest, most uninviting starts to a big league campaign in recent memory.

With the season not yet one month old, more than 40 games have been postponed because of bad weather—a combination of rain, snow and bone-chilling cold. More than one dozen games have been played in conditions more suitable for staying home in front of a warm fireplace or radiator. Thousands of fans have been doing just that from the looks of some of the attendance figures.

Statements from ballplayers indicate they would have preferred to have done that, too, rather than slosh through nine water-soaked innings, or shiver in sub-freezing temperatures.

Baseball, by its very nature, is a game for comfortable weather conditions . . . comfortable both for the fans and the players. Cold and damp weather is a hazard pitchers dread. Many an expensive pitching arm has been hurt under those conditions.

The dismal weather is accomplishing one purpose, however. It is gaining support for the camp which feels that the baseball season should not begin until May first, three weeks later than it now does.

Those three weeks of April on this year's schedule were especially bad. During that time, 26 games had to be put off because of the weather. Even Los Angeles wasn't spared. The Dodgers had their first postponement since they moved to the West Coast in 1958.

The advocates of a later start for baseball feel the present 162-game schedule should be shortened, or, if that can't be done, they say the season should be extended into October. They feel the caliber of play would be improved by a later start. Their claim is that all the good that is gained from spring training is undone by the gaps between games once the season begins.

Only the Houston Astros can laugh at the weather. They play their home games under the Astrodome. But, even so the Astros cannot laugh very loudly. They are in last place in the National League.

THE BALTIMORE ORIOLES are supposed to be a swinging team but they can't "hold that Tiger."

The Orioles have a reputation of being one of the most relaxed clubs in baseball, fond of kidding around and enjoying life in general. But they haven't been enjoying it much lately. And you can put all the blame at the door of the Detroit Tigers. All the Tigers have done is to win six out of seven games from the Orioles.

If they keep up that pace they are likely to win a pennant. But there is some doubt that they can keep up that pace.

Manager Hank Bauer of the Orioles says his team is pressing. He says his big hitters are swinging at pitches they should be taking and taking pitches they should be swinging at. They hardly have looked like the team that ran the Dodgers out of the World Series in four straight games last October.

Manager Mayo Smith of the front-running Tigers is naturally elated over this unexpected turn of affairs. Says Mayo, "Beating the Orioles six out of seven is bound to give us a big lift. However, our guys still think Baltimore is the team to beat."

The Tigers will have to wait a while now before they get another crack at Baltimore and the entire situation may be changed by then. Thanks to the vagaries of the American League schedule this year, Detroit and Baltimore will not collide again until July 25th, 26th and 27th when they will meet in a three-game series in Detroit.

Today's Sport Laugh — Los Angeles Dodgers outfielder Willie Davis angrily denied he had burned the glove he wore in last year's World Series. That was the Series in which Davis made three errors in one inning. Asked then, if he hadn't burned the glove, did he still have it? Davis replied:

"No sir, I gave it away."

Q. Can you give me some advice on how I can buy or sell property which would involve the least amount of taxes, particularly income, to be paid? What type of property would be best for this?

A. These questions are out of my field. I suggest you talk to an attorney or an accountant who specializes in tax matters. However, I would say from my experience that it is not wise to make tax saving your prime objective in any investment program.

Too much emphasis on tax savings can cloud your judgment as to the quality of the item in which you are investing.

The object of investing money is to make money. Once you have accomplished this, the burden of taxes can be met—even though you don't enjoy it.

One man told me a story of how he let fear of taxes color his thinking to the point where he actually lost money.

He owned some RCA stock which he had held many years and he showed a substantial profit. All his studies indicated to him that the stock was overpriced a year ago when it sold at 62 and that he should sell. However, he looked only at the tax he would have to pay if he sold the stock—and decided to hang onto it.

Later the stock went down considerably. He could have paid his taxes and bought quite a bit more of the stock than he originally owned at the levels it later reached.

Q. In January, 1962, we invested $2,500 in a mutual fund and have since put $100 to $150 into it each month. Considering growth, earnings and commissions, do you think we could do better with another mutual fund?

A. I have always felt that diversification was a good principle to follow in investing, and I would be inclined either to put the $150 a month into another fund or buy directly shares in two or three of our major corporations.

This is not to say you should sell the mutual fund shares you now hold. You have already paid your commission for them, and would pay a second sizeable commission if you switched to another fund. Besides, the one you bought has a respectable record, even though many others may have done somewhat better.

If you would like to compare the records of mutual funds with an eye toward investing in a second fund in addition to the one you already have, your public library or your broker can probably supply you with a copy of Arthur Wiesenberger's book, "Investment Companies," which analyzes the performance of all major mutual funds.

ACROSS THE FENCE

by ROBERT L. JONES County Extension Agent

It's a safe bet that we'll have weedy corn this spring. Cool, wet weather in early May usually means early weed problems in field corn.

Here's where chemical control comes in. Atrazine can be applied anytime from time of planting to three weeks later as long as weeds are less than 1 1/2 inches tall.

Where only broadleaf weeds are anticipated, 2,4-D will give effective results by applying at planting time or before the corn comes up.

Paul Hering, Bachman Valley, reminded me that a number of people stop by fields in the spring to pick flowers or to cut dandelions for making wine.

Since most fields are sprayed with poisonous materials for controlling insects, weeds and diseases, everyone should be cautioned to check with the farmer before he goes to the field. Farmers will also appreciate the courtesy of asking.

Big things are brewing for the County 4-H and FFA Fair. John Rinehart, Taneytown, and his Fair Board are hard at work behind the scenes to make the 1967 edition the best ever.

The new red activities building just erected at the Carroll County Agricultural Center will provide more room for lots of additional exhibits.

With the addition of commercial exhibits, there will be much to interest all who come to the fair on July 17-20. Committee chairmen assisting Mr. Rinehart are Mrs. William Ensor, Manchester, clerk; Vernon Beall, Westminster, treasurer; Mrs. Oliver Wright, girls activities; Mrs. Walter Bay, Uniontown, publicity; Mrs. Russell Frock, Westminster, exhibits; Earl Stonesifer, Keysville, agriculture exhibits; Roger Myers, Westminster, commercial exhibits; Mrs. Martin Long, Carrollton, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brehm, Route 4, Westminster, concessions; Jacob Ziegler, Westminster, and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Manchester, parade; David Reifsnider, Keymar, evening activities; Mrs. Daniel Shipley, Route 2, Westminster, demonstrations; and Cecil Massie, Westminster, grounds.

USS CONSTELLATION (CVA-64) (FHTNC) - Aviation Electronics Technician Airman Gary F. Shipley, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Shipley of 74 Court St., Westminster, Md., took part in the underway Naval training exercise "Blue Coral" off the southern California coast, as a member of Attack Squadron 155 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

Blue Coral, the second major fleet exercise conducted this year by the U.S. First Fleet, refined the techniques of surface-to-surface and surface-to-air warfare, as well as detection and destruction of subsurface craft. Some 21 air units and 25 ships participated in the week-long exercise. Pilots flew their carrier-based planes on bombing runs over a range on San Clemente Island. "Drone" aircraft were used as targets for the pilots in air-to-air rocket firing.

Participating ships trained extensively under simulated battle conditions using "hit and run" tactics to engage and evade the "enemy." Once again, drone aircraft were targets for ship-to-air missile exercises.

Lesson for May 21, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 6:1 through 8:1.
Devotional Reading: Matthew 10:24-33.

"The hardest thing of all," writes Dag Hammarskjöld, "— to die rightly. — An exam nobody is spared — and how many pass it?" (Markings: Alfred A. Knopf).

Jesus has passed the exam with flying colors and set the example for all who would follow. Yet that's the problem, isn't it? "Jesus was the Son of God," we protest. "He wasn't on our level of humanity."

Rev. Althouse: "We can deny this, of course, and affirm that Jesus shared our human nature, but for many this will not suffice. They will still continue to wonder if it is really possible for any man to follow him and pass the exam of death as he did."

Victory For All

This is why the story of Stephen is so important to us. No one can question his humanity. He was not even one of the twelve apostles; in fact, his job in the early church was waiting upon tables at their common meals. Yet this man demonstrated so dramatically that men like us, human as we are, can also pass the exam of death with flying colors. Christ's victory over death was intended to be a victory available to all of us.

The death of Stephen reminds us of the death of Christ. There is in both of them the spirit of victory over death. We remember Christ's final cry recorded in Luke 23:46, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit!" We find it echoed even as Stephen is stoned: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." (Acts 7:59 RSV)

Both men knew that they were firmly in the hands of God and therefore did not fear death. Was it because they assumed that God would rescue them from their peril? Were they confident that he would keep them from all pain and suffering? No, they had no such assurance. They knew they would suffer; almost as certain was death itself. They were free from fear of death because they knew that, though their enemies might take their lives, they could not destroy their souls.

Death's Deadly Weapon

It was this same assurance that inspired Martin Luther to write:

*Let goods and kindred go,
This mortal life also;
The body they may kill,
God's truth abideth still;
His kingdom is forever.*

Jesus had not prayed for God to vanquish his enemies. Peter and John had requested no special protection when they were threatened by the Council. Nor did Stephen ask to escape or call down the wrath of God on his persecutors. Thus, the power of death was broken because Stephen was not afraid to die. Fear is death's most deadly weapon. Take it away and death is swiftly disarmed.

Count Moltke was one of a number of Germans arrested by the Gestapo following the abortive attempt on Hitler's life. Subjected to cruel torture and tried in a ludicrous court trial, Moltke's spirit remained unbroken. In his last few weeks he felt "overwhelmed by . . . the presence of God" and the knowledge that God had been with him throughout his whole life. "Now nothing further can happen," he wrote to his wife just before he was executed. (Roger Manvell and Heinrich Fraenkel, The July Plot, Pan Books.) There was no bitterness. He shared Christ's victory over death.

More Than Courage

"Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do," Jesus cried on Calvary. "Lord, do not hold this sin against them," echoed Stephen. (Acts 7:60 RSV) There was more than courageous faith as he conquered death, there was also Christlike love and mercy. Countless men, many of them not Christians, have died bravely, but it is love added to courageous faith that helps us pass the final exam of death as victors with Christ.

NEW FREEDOM SHARES

What are they?
Who may buy them?

Americans have put their savings to work for freedom through U.S. Savings Bonds for many years. New Freedom Shares do the same job . . . plus. Read how.

Freedom Shares are U.S. Savings Notes. They pay a higher return than Savings Bonds, 4.74% when held to maturity. And they mature in just four-and-a-half years.

For regular Bond buyers only

These new Freedom Shares—which are not redeemable for the first year—are offered on a one-for-one basis with E Bonds, but only to people who belong to the Payroll Savings Plan where they work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where they bank.

There are four denominations of Freedom Shares, each of which may be paired with a Series E Bond of the same or larger denominations as a "package." For instance, for $39 total, you can purchase a Savings Bond that matures at $25 and a Freedom Share that matures at $25.

America needs your help

When you buy Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares you do an important job for freedom, backing our men in Vietnam and helping to keep the country economically strong. The need is urgent. What you do counts.

Sign up

Tell your supervisor or the Payroll Department where you work (or any officer where you bank) that you'd like to join a Bond purchase plan. Decide how much you'll save . . . whether you want Freedom Shares as well as Bonds . . . and just sign the authorization card.

You'll be helping your country as you help yourself. And the country needs your help.

CARROLL COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

The regular May meeting of the Board of Education of Carroll County was held in the County Office Building, Westminster, at 9:30 A. M. Wednesday, May 10, with all members present.

Superintendent Thomas presided for the reorganization of the Board. Mr. Thomas A. Raver, Hampstead, was unanimously elected to serve as president for the next year and Mr. Neal Powell, Taneytown, as vice president.

The minutes for the previous meeting and financial transactions during the past month were approved. Resignations were approved as follows: Mrs. Lucille Nichols, Mrs. Judith K. Southern, Linda A. Johnson, Mrs. Lillian G. Cornish, Catherine Bittel, Mrs. Barbara S. Nusbaum, Mrs. Ruth A. Brown, Virginia Hoffman, Hugh Friend, Paul R. Blossy, Jr., Mrs. Arlene Hamilton, Mrs. Virginia Barber, Woodrow Seisen, Robert C. Lakanan, Karen M. Gwinn, Marba L. Hart, LeRoy F. Kerby, Stephen M. Held, Jestina A. Held, James R. Dyer, Mrs. Helen F. Kable, Mrs. Janet H. Martin, Mrs. Mary A. Ford, Mrs. Jane B. Marsh.

Contracts for teachers for the school year 1967-68 were approved as follows: Joseph W. Kase, Donald L. Ripley, John B. Knox, Norma W. Knox, Beverly Kautz, Nancy O. Southworth, Marilyn M. Kirschner, Sharon J. Carle, James A. Wantz, Clarence Townsley, Callope E. Papandreu, Rosa L. Robinson, Duane E. Shaulis, Statira W. Wagner, Gladys Gall, Ethel H. Adams, Ann L. Davidson, Martha M. Fisher, Joyce O. Thomas, Mildred C. Bowman, E. Virginia Houck.

The following contracts were approved for the remainder of the current year: Mrs. Donna McPartland, Charles Carroll School, and Mrs. Janice B. Wyatt, Freedom District School.

The appointments of Mrs. Dolores G. Wright as secretary at the Freedom School and Mrs. Martha H. Lippy as stenographer in the central office were also approved.

Representatives from the Uniontown School PTA, by prior arrangement, discussed with the Board their desire for the positioning of a relocatable classroom at the Uniontown School. The Board indicated that a survey of the needs would be made and a decision reached in the future.

Representatives from the Carroll County Teachers' Association, Mr. Donald Reck, president, and Mr. Philip Lawyer, past president, and Mr. Robert Haugen, Field Representative from Maryland State Teachers' Association, expressed the desire that the Board continue to support the salary schedule as proposed in the budget and approved by the CCTA and the Board of Education.

Dr. Charles Ecker, assistant superintendent, and Mr. Louis Dollinger, assistant in purchasing, presented a report regarding the bids received on insurance for the Carroll County Public School system, excluding insurance on vehicles and Workmen's Compensation. On the basis of the bids, decision was reached to award a contract to the Hartford Insurance Group with the Thomas Insurance Agency as the broker.

Requests from the administration of the South Carroll High School, to be opened in September 1967 and from the Taneytown Band Parents Group for support in the purchase of band uniforms in the next school year by the passage of legislation in the recent session of the Legislature. The Superintendent reported the results of a recent survey of schools and the approximate number of aides required in order to comply with the law, noting that he would report to the County Commissioners the possible need for a supplemental budget request.

Discussion concerning the implementation of kindergarten programs ensued. At the present time there are not available kindergarten facilities, with three possible exceptions, in the public schools of the County. Further, the few available spaces in facilities cannot be expected to be continued in use for kindergartens because of the expected growth in school population, grades 1-12. The Board decided that it would not try to implement kindergarten programs in the 1967-68 school year.

Assistant Superintendent Ecker recommended that land at Freedom School, presently owned by the Board of Education, be cleared of the wooded area in order to expand the outdoor area at this school. This item, because of lack of time, was tabled until the next meeting.

A request received from a high school related to the purchase of physical education equipment was considered. The request asked permission that schools be permitted to have the monetary allotment for physical education equipment returned to them for individual handling. The Board voted to continue its present policy of central purchasing for physical education equipment for all schools of the county.

Members received written summaries of the meeting on vocational-technical education held on Wednesday, May 3, with Chamber of Commerce representatives and business and industry representatives throughout the county. Also distributed information concerning a summer workshop on instructional television. This workshop will be supported financially by the State Department and will be attended by approximately 18 professional personnel from the county.

The afternoon was spent by the Board of Education with the Board of County Commissioners in thorough discussion of all areas of the current expenditure budget. Board members were informed of the Commissioners' projections toward budget reductions. The Board reaffirmed its position that the total budget reflected needed funds for education in the county for the 1967-68 school year. Much discussion centered around teachers' salaries, with the Board of Education reaffirming its position that a $5800 salary base, indexed, for the Standard Professional certificate is necessary for recruitment and retention of teachers in a competitive situation with surrounding counties.

Adjournment was at 5:35 P. M.

"End Measles" Campaign Slated for Carroll County Children on May 21

The Carroll County Medical Society states that it is time to stop thinking of measles as a slightly humorous childhood disease.

"Many people don't realize two important things about measles," stated Dr. Daniel Welliver, local physician and Chairman of the Carroll County Measles Vaccination Campaign.

"First, it is acripper and killer. Measles strikes millions of children but the ones left with deafness or mental defects or encephalitis, and even the ones who die, seem to be forgotten by the public. Measles isn't at all a funny disease. It is one whose tragedy is not fully realized.

"Second, measles could be eliminated as a major health threat. Some medical officials believe it can be eradicated in the United States in 1967. There is no doubt that it should be," Dr. Welliver said.

There is a safe, effective measles vaccine and the Carroll County physicians and health department will join in an intensive effort to vaccinate every susceptible child in the county on SUNDAY, MAY 21. It will be administered by a jet gun applicator—a device which is relatively painless and takes only a fraction of a second to do its work.

All children over one year old who have not had measles and who have not yet been vaccinated for this disease should be brought to the measles clinic nearest their homes. Clinics will be held from noon until five P. M. at: Westminster Junior High School, North Carroll High School, and Sykesville Senior High School.

Since the measles vaccine is costly to produce, a donation of one dollar will be accepted. However, no children will be refused immunity if a financial donation is impossible.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

WHAT PRICE BEAUTY? Skin deep or not, beauty is precious to most people. Both men and women, as a rule, are acutely conscious of their physical attractiveness—or lack of it.

So it is not surprising that people hurt in accidents often seek damages not just for injury to their limbs but also for injury to their looks.

Should that kind of compensation be awarded at all? The law's answer is yes. Even though a scar is not disabling in the same way as a limp or an ache, disfigurement can be a real and serious handicap.

The biggest problem lies in deciding how much the damages should be. How do you put a price on the harm done by a scar?

The courts generally take into account both the characteristics of the victim and the characteristics of the scar itself. Thus, in particular cases, the following facts have lent weight to a damage claim:

1—that the victim was a girl ("scars on the face of a female are ordinarily regarded as more objectionable than on the face of a male");

2—that the victim had a job (as an actor) in which appearance mattered a great deal;

3—that the scar had an unpleasant side effect (distorted a young man's smile).

On the other hand, damages will be less if the scar can be mended by simple plastic surgery—or if it is in a place where it would not ordinarily be seen.

What if the mere display of a scar to the jury would be shocking or indecent? That could improperly inflame the emotions of the jury. Such a display may be forbidden, usually at the discretion of the trial judge.

However, in most cases, the judge will rely on the jurors to draw fair conclusions from what they see.

In one case involving an injury to a young woman's knee, the defense attorney objected to an inspection by the jury. He noted that the plaintiff was young, charming, and beautiful—and that the jurors were all men. But the court overruled his objection, commenting:

"She is entitled to resort to the same proofs that she might have resorted to if she had been aged, ugly, and repulsive."

GOLDEN EAGLE PASSPORT AVAILABLE

The Federal Government's nationwide Golden Eagle Passport will be valid for entry to all Federal recreation areas in the United States from April 1 to March 31, 1968. Stuart C. Peterson, Manager of the Carroll ASCS office of the Department of Agriculture, announced today.

The areas where the $7.00 annual permit is valid include all Federal recreation areas where entrance fees are charged under provisions of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act.

Valid and unlimited number of times during the year, the annual permit will admit the purchaser and all accompanying him in a private noncommercial vehicle to several thousand Federal parks, forests, monuments, wildlife refuges, recreation areas and other public lands all across the nation.

In addition, the annual permit will admit the purchaser—but not others with him—who travels by a commercial bus or walks into Federal recreation areas, Federal monuments or other historic Federal buildings that charge admission fees. The $7.00 Golden Eagle Passport does not cover special service charges, such as fees for elevators, guides, firewood, bathhouses, or rental of boats.

Persons who do not wish to buy an annual permit may purchase a short-term permit for a single designated Federal recreation area. A one-day permit, for a person driving a vehicle or entering by other means, will be available at most Federal areas. Money from the sale of the $7.00 Golden Eagle Passport and other Federal recreation fees goes into the Land and Water Conservation Fund. This helps provide appropriated a total of $168 million from the Fund for use by the States during the fiscal years 1965, 1966 and 1967.

These passports and a limited number of brochures are now available at our office located in the Post Office Building in Westminster.

THEME CHOSEN FOR FAIR— AGRICULTURE PAST AND PRESENT

Agriculture Past and Present has been chosen as the theme for the 1967 Carroll County Fair according to Mary Ellen Bay, publicity chairman. Mrs. Bay says that all floats in the parade on Monday evening, July 17, will also carry out this theme. The parade, a new attraction of this year's fair will go down Main Street, Westminster out to the Farm Museum. Another highlight planned for the opening night is the crowning of the County Farm Queen. Mr. John Plog, Extension Agent for 4-H and Youth, was enthusiastic about the new fair theme and its application to the Farm Museum which will be open during fair days and the progressive fair exhibits which will depict modern day agriculture and homemaking.

Another new feature of the expanded fair will be a large number of commercial exhibits according to Roger Myers, who is in charge of this phase of the 1967 fair. Myers, reports that several farm machinery companies, feed, fertilizer, and lime dealers and other farm suppliers have indicated a desire to display their products. This new feature should prove to be attractive to many suburban residents as well as to County Farmers. Mr. Myers urges individuals and companies interested in securing display space to contact him as soon as possible so that final arrangements for facilities can be made.
