Mr. Ivan Koelsch spoke on art and showed a number of his paintings. Much of his inspiration comes from the beauty of nature and the countryside found in Carroll County and Maryland. The goodness of his character was certainly reflected in his works of art. It made one realize that through the hurry and bustle of lesser important things, one fails to pause and see the rich beauty of things close at hand.

In all ages, men of profound wisdom, knowledge and understanding have held good books and sensible reading habits in high esteem. Steps taken to make them more accessible to all are desirable.

REFLECTION FOR MEMORIAL DAY

MEMORIAL DAY

We have come once again to that time of year when Americans pause to honor the memory of those who have given that last full measure of devotion on battlefields at home and abroad. As Abraham Lincoln said: "It is fitting and proper that we do this."

As we pay our respects to the nation's war dead, it also is fitting that we turn our thoughts to the peace for which we all pray. It is fitting, too, to reflect on life—not death—and on ways in which life may be preserved.

No more fitting time than Memorial Day could be found for this reflection, for the holiday signals the beginning of the Summer highway carnage. In a year's time more people are killed on our highways than died in combat in all of World War I.

Automobiles are safer today than they have ever been. So too, are the highways over which we travel. That leaves the problem squarely on the shoulders of the third element in any design for greater highway safety—the person behind the wheel.

One of the great freedoms we Americans share is the right to travel in our country when and where we please. It is a freedom to be preserved for all of us. Let's not abuse it.

Kiwanis Observe Ladies Night

The Kiwanis Club of Taneytown presented a Ladies Night program at Taney Inn, Wednesday evening. President Francis Lookingbill presided. The invocation was offered by vice-president, Stewart Peterson. Group singing was led by Sam Breth.

This clock was loaned to the Carroll County Farm Museum, Westminster and is now being proudly and prominently displayed in the museum.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Charles I. Ecker, assistant supt. of the Carroll County Schools. He told about his recent trip to Europe, visiting England, France, East and West Germany and Russia in the interest of comparing schools in those countries with the schools in the United States. His wife, Mrs. Ecker, who accompanied him, with other educators on the trip, told of some of her impressions received on the trip. About 41 persons were present.

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE' (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

As I stated in my previous Column, I would relate to you the history of The Thomas-Jencks-Gladding House which I visited at the time of "The Flower Mart" and it was opened to the public.

First of all it was owned by the individuals as named in the above, in rotation. The land on which it stands was purchased by George Eager from Lord Baltimore in 1688. As part of a huge tract, later to be called Belvedere, it passed eventually to his great grandson, John Eager Howard. (No doubt that is where Howard and Eager Streets got those names).

In 1815, when the Washington Monument was under construction, a small house occupied the site of what is now known as 1 West Mt. Vernon Place. A stone mason had built the tiny house and lived in it while in charge of cutting the stones for the Washington Monument as across the street (now known as the Peabody Institute) were the great marble yards of Bevan and Sons.

Upon the death of John Eager Howard in 1827, the entire Belvedere estate was distributed among his heirs and in 1831 some of the land was laid out in building lots and sold. Tax records show that a three-story house of brick with a basement in 1849 occupied the S.W. corner of Mt. Vernon Place. The house was finished in 1850 and in the "Baltimore Sun" appeared a paragraph of the completion of "One of the most elegant and princely specimens of architectural taste at present occupied by its owner, Dr. John Hanson Thomas," a prominent physician and banker from Frederick, Md.

The house was designed by Niernsee and Neilson, which firm was responsible for Alexandroffsky, Grace and St. Peter's Church, The Henry Walters house and many other buildings in the city. It is of Georgian style and has 22 rooms, a secret chamber and a terrapin bin!

In 1894 Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mankin Jencks bought the dwelling from the Thomas family. At this time the interior was altered considerably by Mrs. Jenck's brother, Charles Platt, a noted architect. He beautified the staircase and added the bay window in the dining room, plus other Italianate features.

When Mr. Jencks died in 1918, his widow continued to live in the house until her death in 1953—a period of 59 years! During this time some of the most delightful social functions were held here.

In 1953, after the death of Mrs. Jencks, the house was sold to the city by the family to be used as a part of the Walters Art Gallery expansion plan. Although, a more attractive price or offer had been made, the family was so desirous that the house become part of the Museum and the city bid $75,000! The Jencks even went further by offering a substantial contribution for the renovating.

However, in both 1958 and 1960, the Bond Issues for the Walters' expansion plan failed to win the support of the voters and project could not be carried out. (I was one of those voters) as all the citizens of Baltimore were interested. The house was in sad needs of repairs as it was greatly dilapidated during the years in which the city owned it, as it received scant attention. The exterior was so bad that nearby property owners and interested persons in 1962 raised $1,630 toward the cost of refurbishing the outside walls! The peeling gray paint was scraped off and the brick then exposed.

The Women's Civic League was founded in this lovely home and Mrs. Jencks was its third President! And during the War it was the United Nations to use the rooms, rent free, on the West side of the house!

Mr. Harry Lee Gladding who resides there now purchased this lovely home for the small sum of $100,000 from the city and then he promised to spend $95,000 if necessary to restore it. So in four years time this has all been accomplished.

It would fill Columns if I was to relate as to the interior's furnishing, as it was most interesting. If you missed it this year, I hope that the Gladdings will be kind enough to have "Open House" again, for I think that every real Baltimorean should gaze upon it all! Many ornaments are from Foreign shores. Each bed is against the wall instead of the American way of having the head to the wall which I think is much more effective but the oblong way is the European custom. I met Mr. Gladding and he recalled that I wrote a Column about it when it was being renovated—which I sent to him.

He and his mother are the residents in this lovely home along with the servants, of course. Mount Vernon is surely a home of Splendor and all Baltimoreans can be very proud and thank Mr. Gladding for this remarkable restoration in that grand and historical neighborhood.

Have a grand week-end, folks and be careful when you drive for you never know what the other driver may be thinking and suddenly do!

Until next week D.V. I am, Faithfully yours,

Irene deLeon Love.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

LEAD, S. D., CALL-PIONEER
TIMES: "There's a certain unpopularity about computers. But it isn't because people are afraid they will someday be automated out of their jobs. It's just a feeling that machines are becoming too human-like. This was revealed in a study based on interviews with 3,000 persons, reported in Datamation magazine. It was found that many people believe — wrongly — that the computer is infallible and that it is a 'kind of superbrain which thinks as humans do and which can provide instant solutions to highly complicated problems that the ordinary man cannot even begin to understand.' As more and more people come into daily contact with computers, however, this modern-day myth is expected to lose its force. Familiarity in this case will breed not contempt but better understanding of thinking machines' true capacity to think—which is no more than men give them."

PORT GIBSON, MISS., REVEIL-
LE: "In our vast space program it is possible we may in not many years put a man on the moon—but here on earth, with so many strikes, and threats of strikes, it seems very difficult to keep one on the job."

BEDFORD, IND., TIMES-MAIL:
"Findings of a national public opinion poll on reduction of federal spending in preference to a tax increase are hardly surprising. In the first nationwide poll taken since President Johnson's State of the Union Message, the public favored reduced spending and no tax increase by a 13-1 margin. . . (this) would leave little doubt, it seems to us, that congressmen and senators would be doing the popular thing in voting for reduction in expenditures and against any tax increases at this time."

PLATTEVILLE, COLO., HERALD:
"District Judge Lester H. Loble of Helena, Montana, says publication of the names of juvenile offenders, and their parents, has been directly responsible for cutting the crime incidence in his area—in half."

According to a University of Chicago Study of 649 employers whose employees were organized by unions, these are the five main errors the employers made that brought about unionization: "1. Giving employees only a minimum of information about the status of the company's health, financial position, its goals, sales and production achievements or nonachievements. 2. Introducing changes in plant equipment, tooling or policy without advance notice or subsequent explanation to work force. 3. Making key decisions in a vacuum of ignorance as to what employees really want. 4. Use of pressure tactics, rather than leadership, to secure high production and productivity. 5. Playing down or pooh-poohing personnel, or personal dissatisfaction in the plant."

Over the past several years, one of the fastest growing sectors in our economy has been the state and local governments. In just ten years these governmental bodies have increased their employment almost 60 per cent.
Over the same period their payrolls more than doubled, rising to $3.5 billion, and their total expenditures nearly doubled, increasing to about $80 billion. State and local expenditures have in fact grown about twice as fast as federal outlays and presently account for more than three-fourths of all government civilian expenditures, according to M. A.
Wright, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Noted Texas oilman and wildcatter
M. B. Rudman of Dallas predicted that the United States will be in a "desperate situation" within 15 years if wildcat drilling and new production of oil and gas is not accelerated rapidly.

One hundred and six members of the House of Representatives and 38 Senators joined in introducing the 1967 Home Ownership Bill, authored by Senator Charles Percy of Illinois.
The legislation would authorize the establishment of a National Home Ownership Foundation. This foundation would raise $2 billion private funds through the sale of bonds to provide mortgage assistance for lower income American families unable to afford or obtain conventional mortgage financing.

The new star in the calf growing program

NEW PURINA CALF GROWENA

Purina's New Calf Program brings you extra energy in Purina Nursing Chow, higher energy and lower fiber in Purina Calf Startena, and an all new Purina Calf Growena.

It can help you grow herd replacements fast, breed them early, and freshen them between 22 and 24 months—and help you take advantage of future high milk prices.

What's new about the program?

Based on recent findings that show heifers need increased protein and energy during their first six months, Purina has developed NEW Calf Growena. This is a 16% protein ration with an improved protein-energy balance.
It's fortified with essential minerals and vitamins. And it's coarse—the way young calves like a ration to be.

The new Purina Heifer Growing Program is better because it now satisfies the growing heifer's needs for protein at the time when she needs it most.

It's time to start your calves on the NEW Purina Calf Growing Program featuring New Calf Growena. Stop in and talk to us about it. You'll find us where you see the Checkerboard sign.

KEYSVILLE DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Happy New House greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Engel, Douglas and Jeff who moved into their brand-new house on the Keysville Road on Saturday. Her aunt, Mrs. Walter Gill of White Hall, baby-sat for them while the other members of the family helped with the actual moving. Our best wishes to them for many happy years together in their lovely new home.

Traffic will be increasing on the weekends on the Keysville Road now. The Castle Farms store opened for the season on May 12 and I know this is good news for many folks who have been waiting to hear about it. Hours are 1 to 7 P. M. now.

Have you been missing Mary Ellen (Mrs. Carlton Catlin) at the Detour Bank lately? Well, she's back at work this week after having a three-week vacation.

Mrs. William Weishaar near Detour and Mrs. Grover Wolfe and granddaughter Tammy of Bruceville were recent visitors with Mrs. Wolfe's daughter and new grandson, Mrs. Dale Repp and Michael David of Mt. Union.

Callers last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Boller of Rocky Ridge on Wednesday afternoon, Sam Breth of Taneytown, LaVerne Keilholz and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumgardner of Keysville on Friday and Walter Garrett with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Garrett of Manchester on Sunday afternoon.

Latest report on Mrs. Minnie Hatch of Bluff, Ill., is that she is improving and may not have to have an operation after all. She sent word to say Thanks so very much to all those who have been remembering her with cards, letters and prayers for she does appreciate them. She has received over 100 cards and letters from the East.

One sixth-grade class from Elmer Wolfe School in Union Bridge has already attended the Outdoor School and the second one is there this week. The children certainly do enjoy this period.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Beth near Detour were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Yoder and Mrs. Betty Temple of Mattawana, Pa. They then attended the wedding of Miss Beryl Hartzler to Mark Brubaker near Belleville. They also called on Mr. and Mrs. Chris Smoker at Belleville.

Miss Kathy Plympton of Middleburg spent the week-end with Ellen Fleharty near Detour. They enjoyed visiting the Boy Scout District Camporee site and seeing the displays on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Fleharty.

Mrs. Emory Yoder of White Hall spent Saturday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide, Susan and Christine near Detour.

Among those who attended the Seminary Auxiliary meeting at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg on Wednesday, the 17th, were Mrs. William Fleharty near Detour and Mrs. William Markley of Union Bridge. They were pleased to learn that the goal of $7500.00 for the Scholarship Fund was exceeded for this is such a worthwhile project. Several speakers were heard and they all were generous in their thanks for the benefits derived from this fund for the students. As one may put it, "it buys their students' time for study."

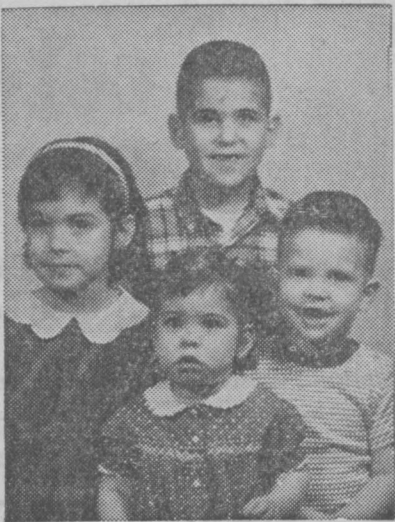

The choir, directed by Robert Clippinger, sang a number of selections. They are well worth hearing. (Perhaps we can have them in this area for a program sometime.)

A panel on the Intern Year was presented in the afternoon with the Rev. Dr. Donald W. Herb as moderator and students G. Frederick Aigner and Jere L. Hock as participants. They spoke of the benefits of this experience and why they feel it is better for it to be the third year of their schooling. This way they can share their experiences and evaluate them in their last year at the Seminary. This will become part of the official program next year. Officers of the Auxiliary were installed by Dean Stroup, president, Mrs. J. Robert Schaeke, vice president, Mrs. John Auerand, secretary, Mrs. John Stuff, Treasurer, Mr. Clarence Benson. After the meeting, the Faculty Wives served tea, sandwiches, cookies and punch. A very nice day. (Keysville members: we were one of only nine churches in the Westminster District who donated and we stood fifth. Good showing! Perhaps next year we can also interest folks at St. James and Mt. Tabor in this very worthwhile project.)

Sunday visitors with Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy near Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Clingan of Thurmont, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar and Loretta of Taneytown, Paul Wildman and Kevin and Kim of Westminster and Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar, Bobby and Billy of Detour. Monday afternoon visitors were Mrs. Lyle Hyde and Mrs. Mary Fossett of Westminster.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 820 of Taneytown took a trip, via Hess Bus Service, to the Gettysburg Zoo near Fairfield, Pa., on Saturday, May 20. Members who took their lunch and had an enjoyable time were Debbie Sholl, Debbie Hahn, Pamela Sholl, Joan Warner, Helen Crapster, Sandra Wilson, Amy Ecker, Mary Humbert, Joanne Barnhouse, Karen Wantz, Toni Markle, Sharon Markle, Bonnie Crouse, Linda Crabbs, Debbie Conover, Margaret Conover, Teresa McCarley with adults, Mrs. Lena Sholl, Mrs. Madeline Warner, Mrs. Julia Wantz, Charles Conover, assistant leader Mrs. Beatrice Markle and

Looking for an interesting book? New one on the bookmobile now is "More Lives Than One" by Charles Bracelen Flood. It is about a soldier in combat and then in a Chinese prison camp. His family are notified he has been killed in action and the story is about them as well as the young man. Gives you food for thought. Author tells us the story is based on a true experience.

Don't forget the joint meeting of the Keysville Detour Homemakers Club with Mt. Union, Union Bridge and New Windsor clubs on Friday (26th) at 1 P. M. at the Pipe Creek Church with the Union Bridge Club as hostess. The topic will be "Your Carroll County Day Center" and the speaker will be the Director of the Center, Dr. Jarrett Charles Black.

Among those who enjoyed the musical program, "Evening with Gershwin," at Westminster High School last Wednesday evening were Mrs. Lee Rinehart and Nancy of Mt. Union and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Mrs. Richard Wilhide near Detour.

Happy Birthday wishes next week to Harold Thomas on the 27th, David Keilholz and Leonard Wantz, Jr. on the 20th, Richard Bowers on the 31st and Steven Harner on June 1. Happy Anniversary wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thomas on the 31st also.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Albaugh near Detour week-end were Elizabeth Springner and Larry Smith of Rocky Ridge (who were on their way to their School Prom at Thurmont), Jerry and Ronnie Smith (who have been helping their grandparents with the work), Joann Denise, Jeffrey and Randy Smith also of Rocky Ridge (while their mother helped with the Church supper) and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Grossnickle of Keyman.

The Vacation Church School in Keysville is being planned and children should be registered with Mrs. Charles Stonesifer or Edward Coshun. Dates will be June 19 to 30 and from 9 to 11 A. M. Ages are four through the 6th grade. If you can help with the school or will provide transportation, please notify Mrs. Stonesifer or Mr. Coshun.

Union Bridge Firemen's Carnival coming up May 29 through June 3. Because of their drive for funds, for the new building, they will not be making contacts for donations. If you'd care to donate to the bake tables, please call Mrs. Harris on 775-2217.

Boy Scout Troop 330

Union Bridge Boy Scout Troop 330 was among those who took part in the District Camporee at Green Valley Scout Camp, May 19-20-21. The unofficial count, as of May 23, was 1350 Scouts from 59 Troops and 10 Explorer Posts. (This does not include the members of the staff.)

For their part in the Camporee, Troop 330 members built a monkey bridge and demonstrated their rope-making machine.

They came home the proud owners of one of the five Blue Ribbons awarded for displays (and there were five monkey bridges alone). Each of the four Patrols earned over 1090 points of a possible 1100 for inspection and received a Blue Ribbon also. Good work, fellows!

Leaders of this Troop are: William Fleharty, scoutmaster; Bunell Broadwater and Sam Fleming, assistant scoutmasters; Ronnie Selby, senior patrol leader; Wayne Fleharty, Burrie Broadwater, Dick Stultz and David Edwards, patrol leaders.

The Troop members thank all those who helped in any way with their paper drive on May 6. It was greatly appreciated. Roller skating at the Rainbow Rink in Taneytown was enjoyed on the 17th. Father and Son Encampment at Gettysburg coming up June 3 and 4.

Cub Scout Pack 459

Clowns, fat ladies, Siamese twins, weight lifters, monkeys, lion, and even an elephant were to be found at the meeting of Cub Pack 459 at the Church of the Brethren in Union Bridge on Friday, May 19.

"The Circus" was the theme for the month and the boys went all out to make it an evening full of fun. Den 3 had the opening and Dens 4 and 2 along with Dens 5 and 6 presented short skits. Homemade games were available and prizes were awarded. Refreshments of hotdogs and punch as well as cotton candy were available. Some of the costumes were most unusual.

Awards were presented by "Ringmaster" David Edwards to John Keiffer, silver arrow under wolf; Robert Curran, Bobcat pin; Bruce Fleharty and Randy Weishaar, silver arrow under Bear, and Glenn Edwards, gold arrow under Bear.

The blue and tan tents were a wonderful sight to see. A large group had gathered across the road, along a hill side and had candle light service. It was wonderful to see those young boys taking an active part in this organization. It is a wonderful experience for them. I wish I could of had the privilege of talking to the Captain and found out more of this wonderful work.

Prayer Meeting and Bible Study will be held on Wednesday evening, May 31 at 8:00 P. M. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hugg, Jasonstown Rd., by the members of the First Church of God, Uniontown, Md., of the Md. and Va. Eldership and their pastor, Rev. Herbert Myers. Everybody is welcome.

The fault of the age is a mad endeavor to leap to heights that were made to climb;

by a burst of strength, or a thought that is clever;

We plan to outwit and forestall time. We scorn to wait for the things worth having;

We want high noon at the day's dim dawn;

We find no pleasure in toiling and saving. As our forefathers did in the good time gone.

We force our roses before the season to bloom and blossom that we may wear;

And then we wonder and ask the reason. Why perfect buds are so few and rare.

To covet the prize, yet shrink from the winning—to thirst for Glory, yet fear the fight—

Why, what can it lead to at last but sinning, to mental languor and moral blight? Better the old slow way of striving and counting small gains when the year is done.

Then to waste our forces all in contriving,

And to grasp for pleasures we have not won.

The title of this poem is "Little and Big End of Life's Horn." It also says if you wish to come out of the big end of the horn, you must go in at the little end. Meaning taking small measures at a time. Start at the bottom instead of the top.

So long have a wonderful week-end and may God bless each one. Remember your loved ones who have gone on before and put a flower in remembrance come May 30 (Mem. Day).

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

USS FLETCHER (DD-445) (FH-TNC) — A task force of U. S. ships has been visiting the "down under" continent of Australia commemorating the battle of the Coral Sea, where, 25 years ago, U. S. and Australian navies turned back a Japanese invasion armada that planned to occupy Port Moresby and then invade Australia.

Seaman Apprentice David L. Pyles, USN, son of Mrs. Cora L. Pyles of Rt. 2, Union Bridge, Md., took part in the celebration there, as a crewman aboard the Seventh Fleet destroyer USS Fletcher.

The battle took place in the Coral Sea in May of 1942 as a Japanese fleet pushed hard for control of Australia and the many islands in that southern area. Despite heavy losses, the air-sea attack was stopped and that part of the world remained free and strong.

While in port, his ship held "open house" for the many visiting Australians who came to see the task force of ships now involved in another struggle in Southeast Asia.

VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

Whenever I feel sick and horrified over the daily news of mass murders and the war in Vietnam, I turn to that venerable physician, Dame Nature, who never fails to dispense her soothing medicine to one who earnestly desires it. I cannot go far afield on this particular morning, so I seek the magic dosage via my kitchen window. First of all, I catch a glimpse of the first, beautifully marked chipmunk, who lives under a pile of brush beneath the shell-bark tree. His cousin, gray squirrel, frisks across the lane to the pile of nuts put out for him. Two pert brown wrens fly about the bluebird house, their place of residence, and a barn-swallow dips gracefully over the field in an endless quest for insects. Suddenly nine or ten young pheasants, accompanied by their anxious mother, scuttle into the corn field. I hear the clear call of a bob white and the fluid notes of the mockingbird. A cardinal whistles from the South Carolina poplar and then flashes off in a scarlet streak to the woods, while several sunbeam bright goldfinches feed upon the purple flowers of the thistle.

Such is the beauty and charm of Mother Nature. To know her is to love her and be healed by her.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports —John Breth

Baltimore Orioles relief pitcher, MOE DRABOWSKY rates high on the list of practical jokers in major league baseball. One of his classic bits of Tom-Foolery took place last year when he had Kansas City pitcher Lew Krause bobbing up and down like a cork in the Athletic bull-pen. Drabowsky called the bull-pen on the special telephone and impersonated Kansas City manager Alvin Dark's voice to order Krause to warm up. Minutes later, he called to tell Krause to sit down. Only after the third phone call did the Athletics bull-pen coach Bobby Hofman catch on.

Two nights later, Drabowsky called Hofman, said he was Athletics owner Charles Finley, and asked for an explanation of the episode. Hofman gave most of the story before realizing that he was being kidded again.

Some of Drabowsky's teammates have been victimized in lesser-known incidents. For instance, Orioles outfielder, Frank Robinson used to terrify some of the players by pulling a snake out of his suitcase—until the players discovered the reptile was made of rubber.

That was too much of an opportunity for Drabowsky to pass by. He bought a couple of live snakes and put them in strategic spots around the clubhouse. The players who had been frightened by Robinson's fake snake, bravely pushed away Drabowsky's reptiles. When the snakes began to move and stick out their tongues, there was a hasty, mass exodus from the locker room.

One of those first out of the door was infielder, Luis Aparicio. He laughs at the incident now, but nevertheless, he keeps a close watch on Drabowsky whenever the pitcher is around.

Here are some notes from the NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE—

Who will be the next player in the National Football League to reach a career total of 500 points?

Tommy McDonald, the flying flanker of the Los Angeles Rams, is closest among active men to that figure. Tommy has 480 points, the result of 80 touchdowns. The all-time leader, of course, is Lou Groza of Cleveland who has the astronomical total of 1,273 points.

Although McDonald is nearer the 500 mark than any other active performer, there are two players who may beat him to it, although quite a few points behind going into the campaign.

They are Danny Villanueva of Dallas and Don Chandler of Green Bay, both expert place kickers. Villanueva has 435 points and Chandler has 434.

Villanueva needs 12 field goals and 29 extra points to reach 500 and Chandler needs a dozen field goals and 30 conversions. McDonald, of course, is not a kicker and must get four touchdowns to hit the 500 mark.

Here's one for the finger filberts. One out of every three games in the National Football League last fall was decided by seven points or less. The close-shave champions were the St. Louis Cardinals who played nine games, decided by a touchdown or less. The Cards won six, lost two and tied one of the nine games.

The coach of the New Orleans Saints, Tom Pears, has this to say about his quarterback, Gary Cuzzo, who was obtained from the Baltimore Colts: "If you put him in a jersey with number 19 on it, stoop his shoulders a little, and put those high-topped shoes on him, you'd be certain you were looking at Unitas."

The Dallas Cowboys have a rookie named Rayfield Wright who is 6-7 and 240 pounds. He is one of the smaller members of his family. Wright has an older brother who is 6-11 and a cousin who is 6-9 and still growing. Wright played both tight end and free safety in college, Fort Valley State in Georgia, but says he'll play anywhere the Cowboys put him.

Today's Sport Laugh — Schoolboy baseball players in Detroit apparently are trying to speed up their games by using the three-ball, two-strike system instead of the conventional four-ball three-strike pattern. Upon learning of this, National League president Warren Giles said: "Pretty soon they will have the players come out, take a bow and leave."

"I'm a self-made man." "You're lucky. I'm the revised work of a wife and daughter."

To Transform Defeat

Lesson for May 28, 1967

Background Scriptures: Acts 8:2-40, Devotional Reading: John 4:19-26.

Following a particularly expensive victory during the Franco-Prussian War, a German general is reported to have remarked: "If we have any more victories like this, we're finished!"

Students of military history are aware of the truth behind this apparently contradictory statement. The price we pay to win a battle may sometimes cost us the war because it is too high. The seeds of defeat may be planted in the midst of our victories. Both victory and defeat may be mere illusions in the short run.

Beyond "Final" Defeat

This was certainly true in the struggle between the followers of Jesus and his enemies. To insure his defeat, they had Jesus put to death. In time, however, they found that death had not stopped his movement; if any thing, it seemed to spur it on. Once more they tried the strategy of force on his chief apostles, Peter and John. Assuming the threat of violence was enough, they warned them and, when that had no effect, they put them into jail. Yet each of these "victories" turned out to be subtle defeats.

Then Stephen came on the scene and once again they attempted to win with violence. The death of Stephen touched off a violent persecution against the followers of Christ. Surely now the defeat of the Nazarene would be final. Stephen dead, the little fellowship attacked, disciples dragged off to jail, others scattered in their attempt to avoid capture — surely this would seal the defeat of this strange group and silence them once and for all! Their reasoning seemed sound enough. Many, many people have turned to violence and death to destroy their opposition, regarding it as "the final solution."

Often, however, it has been a hollow victory that later proves to have been a defeat. God has an awesome ability to raise up victories from the ashes of defeat. From the day of Christ's crucifixion, there came the morn of resurrection and the day of Pentecost. From the day of Stephen's martyrdom and the ensuing wave of persecution, there would come the beginning of the Church's mission to the whole world.

Lemons Into Lemonade

The strategy had been to kill Stephen and scatter the little band of Jerusalem Christians, but Luke tells us how God turned the tables: "Now those who were scattered went about preaching the word." (Acts 8:4 RSV) God was able to turn the evil intentions of his enemies to his own advantage. As Harry Emerson Fosdick once put it: he turned his "lemons into lemonade." Defeat was transformed.

The irony of it all is that, without the persecution, the Church might have remained content in Jerusalem and never gotten started in its mission to the world. It was persecution itself, intended to kill the gospel, that actually got the apostles out of Jerusalem and into the areas where God wanted the gospel carried. The violent opposition of men may affect the course of God's will, but not its ultimate objective.

Learn To Capitalize

The little Christian community in Jerusalem learned that victory is not always victory, nor is defeat always defeat. Because God can turn our failures into his successes, we must learn to let him capitalize our disabilities, to bring good out of evil.

H.G. Wells had to give up a dull, poorly-paying job because of his poor health. Thus, he stayed home, wrote successful books, and became a world-famous author. Edison used his deafness to help himself to better concentrate upon his inventions. So it is when we turn over our liabilities and our defeats to Jesus Christ.

The followers of Christ are sustaining many defeats in the world today. As always, however, if we will seek both God's will and power, these defeats can be transformed into victories for the kingdom.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

The Carroll Record in its May 18th edition printed the following statement signed by Mr. Henry Reindollar, Jr.:

"The Council only has the authority to turn over official records. The City attorney was consulted some time ago concerning this matter and Mr. Stanford Hoff advised the Council that the proper method was anyone desirous of reading the minutes submit his request in writing. This then would be discussed by the Council."

I ask this question of Mr. Henry Reindollar, Jr., and City Attorney Stanford Hoff: Why should the Council hold a discussion after receiving the request?

The City Charter states on page 3, paragraph 10: "The Council shall keep a journal of its proceedings and enter therein the yeas and nays upon any final action on any question, resolution, or ordinance or at any other time if required by any one member."

The journal shall be open to public inspection."

I repeat: When a member of the public asks to see the minutes of the Council meeting why is it necessary for the Council to discuss it?

GOVERNOR, PRESIDENT SALUTE TELEPHONE INDUSTRY

ANNAPOLIS, MD., May 11—Gov. Spiro T. Agnew joined today with President Johnson in activities marking installation of the nation's 100 millionth telephone.

For the first time, the President talked simultaneously to governors throughout the country over a special communications network linking the White House with state capitals and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The President and each of the governors used gold telephones, symbolic of the actual 100 millionth telephone which was installed somewhere in the nation last week. There was no attempt to pinpoint the precise instrument.

The ceremony marked a milestone for the Bell System and 2,300 independent telephone companies. In 1953, the industry installed its 50 millionth phone.

Bell and Independents provide this country with the largest and by far the best communications in the world. Bell serves 83,600,000 telephones and the 2,300 Independents operate 16,400,000. With only 6 percent of the world's population, the U. S. has almost half the world's telephones.

Governor Agnew called the nation's telephone network another tribute to the private enterprise system which has provided Americans with the highest standard of living in the recorded history of mankind. He addressed state government officials and leaders of the telephone industry in the Statehouse.

The assembly in the Statehouse paralleled the White House ceremony. In Washington, H. I. Romnes, board chairman of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, H. Dail Holderness, president of the U. S. Independent Telephone Association, and other industry leaders were joined by governmental, regulatory and labor officials in saluting the 100 millionth telephone.

In Annapolis, the state's one independent company was represented by Mr. Ralph Reed, former owner and now adviser to the Armstrong Telephone Company at Rising Sun, Md. and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland by Mr. L. Mercer Smith, vice president.

The Governor noted that Bell and the Independent Company serve nearly 2,000,000 telephones in Maryland and employ more than 21,500 persons.

Total telephone investment in equipment and facilities, he said, is more than $769,000,000 for both the Bell System and the independently owned and operated telephone company in Maryland.

The industry's contribution to the economy has been significant, Governor Agnew said, with more than $118,000,000 added during 1966 in new telephone equipment and facilities in Maryland and over $31 million paid in taxes. He said that Bell System expenditures in the state reached $268 million in 1966, $22 million more than it collected in revenues.

MONTH OF MAY

May — what are you trying to do? Trying to bring winter back, are you? Queen of May was here and gone, You act as if winter just begun.

Old King Coal is still on deck, We thought you took his good-by check.

Every day we order some more; Feeding the furnace makes us sore.

How did you get the weather mixed up,

Of old winter we drank our cup, Come on—give us a few warm days, Or for you we'll have no praise.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara

Q. We were told by a representative of a mutual fund that, if we invested $3,000 with him now, we would "without doubt" have $12,000 in 10 years. We would like your opinion on this before doing it.

A. No one can give you a guarantee as to what might happen if you invested $3,000 in a mutual fund. The particular fund you mention has a good record and a variety of programs in which you can invest, each yielding different amounts.

However, you must keep in mind that for $3,000 to grow into $12,000 in 10 years, your money would have to grow at a compounded annual rate of 15 percent for the whole 10 years.

In referring to Forbes Magazine's 1965 rating of mutual funds, I noticed that the best-growing program in the fund you mention yielded only 6.3 percent for that year. That's considerably less than 15 percent.

This same Forbes report does show that over the longer haul, these funds did very well. For instance, $100 invested in one of the fund's programs in 1953 would have been worth $479.75 by 1965. That's pretty close to what your salesman promised you.

On the other hand, that particular 13 year period was one where at the start stock prices were at quite a low level and at the end were at quite a high level. Stocks at present are at a fairly high level and, while I strongly believe that higher stock prices will prevail in the future, you are not now starting from a period when stock prices are as severely depressed as they then were.

Q. I am soon to receive $10,000 from a small business we had to sell because of my husband's illness. We don't particularly need this money right now, but because of his condition it might be increasingly important in a few years. I'm thinking about stocks, particularly utilities. Can you give me any help?

A. I suspect you and your husband had a business and made a lot of it until his illness. I suspect you have the patience and ability to select and hold good stocks.

I suggest that you contact a reputable broker, explain your situation to him and ask his help in choosing stocks. Utilities would be good for you to consider. Dividing your $10,000 among three companies might be a good idea.

Q. Last month our investment club voted to sell one of our stock holdings. But at our last meeting I noticed it was still on the list of the club's holdings. The secretary explained that he hadn't sold it because the club had not suggested any stock to replace it. Don't you think he did wrong?

A. Yes, I certainly do. It's perfectly good practice for either a club or an individual to sell one stock without immediately buying another. When a group makes a decision, it is not right for a member of the group to countermaneuver the decision. If the price of the stock had fallen sharply in the past month, your secretary would have a very unhappy group of people on his hands and this could be a very disruptive force in your club. I would suggest that you thresh this out at your very next club meeting.
