C.D.K. REGISTRATION

Parents of boys and girls, preschoolers who will be 4 years old (or 5) by December 31, are being urged to register NOW for the 1967-1968 session of the Christian Day Kindergarten sponsored by Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown.

For the past month a priority-registration period has been observed for 5-year-olds. And already the kindergarten is almost half full for next year. About ten (10) places remain for fortunate boys and girls whose parents act now. Informative brochures and registration blanks are available at the Church Office of Trinity Lutheran Church.

The CDK steering committee is anxious to finalize plans for next year's kindergarten. Some innovations are being considered which require the actual number of pupils to be known soon. The committee is anxious for parents of 4's and 5's to register their children now, in the hopes that the registration deadline of June 30 will be held.

The Christian Day Kindergarten is a non-profit venture of Trinity. It is non-denominational; for example, in next year's group, Episcopalians, Roman Catholic, Evangelical United Brethren, and Lutheran youngsters have already enrolled. Recently closing exercises marked the conclusion of its third successful year serving our community. Parents of 4's and 5's with questions about the CDK are urged to call the teacher, Mrs. C. Kenneth Smith (756-6215), or Pastor Miller (756-4151).

Social Security

By: R. W. HUGHES, Dis. Manager
Social Security Administration

$6,200,304 in social security benefits was paid to residents of Carroll County last year.

At the end of 1966, 7405 men, women, and children were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $516,692. Robert W. Hughes, social security district manager in Towson, Md., reported today, 6108 were older people, he said, receiving benefits as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers, and as the surviving widows or aged dependent parents of workers who have died.

"But social security is not just for older people," Mr. Hughes pointed out. 848 young widows and children in the Carroll County area were receiving monthly benefits amounting to $51,858 at the end of December. 292 disabled workers and 157 dependents were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $33,519. Practically every young family in Carroll County has survivors protection under social security that can be worth $75,000 or more, and equally valuable disability insurance protection.

"The average worker," he said, can expect to collect more than the value of his social security tax contributions just in the benefits payable to him and his wife in retirement. If he does not live to retirement, his family stands to collect far more than the contributions he has paid; and the same will be true if he should become totally disabled for work before 65."

Monthly payments to the family of a worker who dies, leaving 2 or more children can range from $66 to $368 a month, depending on the worker's average earnings under social security.

Social security survivors benefits, Mr. Hughes said, can be paid to the family of a young man who has worked and paid social security contributions for as little as a year and a half during the three years before his death.

Benefits to the mother and children continue until the youngest child reaches 18, or indefinitely, if the child has a disability which began before his 18th birthday and makes it impossible for him to work and become self-supporting. Under a change in the law enacted in 1965, a child's benefits can be continued up until age 22 if he or she continues in school. It can be expected that there will continue to be changes in the law to improve — as there have in the past.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF TANEYTOWN

Dear Voter:

As you are all aware, the City election will be held on June 5, 1967, at which time you are asked to elect a Mayor and two Councilmen. It is your civic responsibility to vote. I encourage you, therefore, not to be complacent, but to go to the polls and vote for the men of your choice.

I have never made it a practice to actively solicit votes and this is not the intention of this letter. I ask only that as you make your decision, you consider the many years that I have devoted unselfishly to the affairs of the City of Taneytown. I ask you to examine the results carefully. I suggest that you consider the future as you cast your ballot.

Many accusations have been made against the incumbent Council during the past several months. These accusations have been based on half truths. The person making these accusations had been made aware of the full truth, but purposely slanted his statements so that they would indicate devious methods on the part of the Council. This method is, politically, as old as recorded history. I have always known the people of Taneytown to be above average intelligence, therefore, I cannot believe that you will be "taken in" by this political gimmick.

One of the major criticisms has been an allegation of secrecy on the part of the Council. This is completely untrue. If this were true, the Council would call Executive Sessions quite frequently. An Executive Session has never been called since I have been a member of the Council. It has been clearly stated many times, both in the press and before public gatherings, that Council Meetings are public. Regrettably, few citizens have availed themselves of the opportunity to see their City Government at work.

I think, further, that the average person does not realize the present magnitude and complexities of the job of Mayor of a small municipality. Many long and tedious hours must be spent in the conduct of City affairs. The most rewarding aspect of the job is the satisfaction that you are attempting to the best of your ability, to serve your friends and neighbors well. Whatever talents I possess have long been devoted to the accomplishment of good government in Taneytown. I pledge continuation of this type of endeavor, if you, the voter, should decide that I am to serve you for another 4 years.

To recapitulate, I suppose I would condense the foregoing to the following 3 recommendations:

1. Look at my record.

2. Go to the polls on June 5.

3. Before you cast your ballot, THINK.

May I add that I strongly support the candidacy of the incumbent Councilman Mr. George Hemler, who is standing for re-election.

Yours in service,
Neal W. Powell

P.S. Remember, if you have not registered, you may do so at the polls before voting.

JUNE

Edgar A. Guest

June is here, the month of roses, Month of brides and month of bees, Weaving garlands for our lassies, Whispering love songs in the trees; Painting scenes of gorgeous splendor, Canvases no man could brush, Changing scenes from early morning 'Till the sunset's crimson flush.

June is here, the month of blossoms, Month of roses white and red, Wet with dew and perfume-laden, Nodding whoso'er we tread; Come the bees to gather honey, All the lazy afternoon, Flowers and lassies, men and meadows, Love alike the month of June.

Month of love and month of sunshine, Month of happiness and song, Month that cheers the sad wayfarer, As he plods the road along; Spreading out a velvet carpet, Green and yellow, for his feet, And affording for his rest hours Many a cool and sweet retreat.

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE' (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The many rainy days surely have given all the lawns the most beautiful green, green grass and at this time it is delightful to drive in any direction.

Did you know there were 8,399 stolen cars in Baltimore this past year? Be sure to lock the doors and windows, even going into a store for "only five minutes!"

The Book of the Month paid $325,000 to Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva for the right to distribute her Memoirs. You see how very much America wants to know all about her life and Stalin's. However, she will have to pay taxes to our government. She stated she wants to give a lot to Charity, if you recall. And I really feel that's just what she will do, thanking God in return for her many blessings.

Talking to a man at the Woolworth Store on Lexington St., as to the opening (for which the public is anticipating) he remarked, "Just look in and see for yourself for it positively will be opened in June." It really looks lovely and will be brand new from the floor up. It surely did need a new one for that was the original years ago when it first opened right there.

It was really thrilling to see "Proud Clarion" win in Kentucky on TV, in color, and the entire atmosphere was of England with the ladies so beautifully attired, too. Even his "Rider Ussery" was amazed as he was selected at the last moment. He sure did give that horse a loving and grateful pat. (Even if he did not come up first in the Preakness at Pimlico.)

"Painter's Mill" surely will be a treat since the entire renovation will be an all year around affair.

Hope you did not miss the pageant of Miss U. S. A.—Miss Alabama is truly a beautiful girl with so much talent. Many thought it would be Miss District of Columbia.

A wonderful new garage for sore throat which truly is magic "CHLOR-ASEPTIC" is the word. Ask your druggist about that one.

The Farmer's Almanac for May surely was on top telling about the rains etc. "Drought's forgot. Sun's bright, flies bite. Pours awhile then clear's the style — then rains a Nile mile. Strike one, home run, hot, what fun. This storm never born. In it's place days of grace. Cloudbursts be-gorah, wait till tomorrow. So fine it is almost divine. Pshaw, rainy and raw. Pollen!"

Did you know there are still 18 covered bridges in the state of Penna. which many learn when they take the bus trips up there; and the longest one in Penna. is 349 ft., called, "Shavely's Mill Bridge" and was built in 1850 and is in Lancaster County. One called, "Union Canal Tunnel", was built in 1825 in Lebanon County. Hay's bridge in Cumberland County, also was built in that year. And the slogan is "The hands and brains of soulless men—Destroy what time will never build again!" So you see what the Pennsylvanians think of their covered bridges.

If you are in town and want a delightful place to eat with their famous foods — do try SCHELLHASE'S, 412 N. Howard. They started in 1924. It is most convenient, too.

Now folks here is to the sign of the Crab: those born to June 20 to July 20, incl. This sign is governed by Luna the moon, the sign that rules over the breast and reflective faculties. As well as giving mechanical and constructive abilities. These men are usually wonderful mechanics and are not talkative. The women are just the opposite—talk most of the time. All delight in speculation, especially the men. They like all games of chance. The women born in this sign are the most feminine of all the signs and make wonderful mothers.

They are usually most attractive and sweet. They are most kind and sympathetic and the men have more acquaintances than friends and are daring and brave. Their mental attitude changes when night comes on, even the difference of a clear or rainy day! They are slow to adopt methods which may many times retard their progress and many are quite melancholy. Almost to a point of being despondent. It is always best for the men to wait a little longer for marriage as many times they appear fickle. The women must learn to keep their family secrets to themselves. They love home and entertainment and are always delighted to entertain friends in their home.

Have a grand week-end, folks

SOURCE OF A FREE PRESS

No country has a press equal to that of the United States. The 10,000 smaller newspapers scattered over the length and breadth of the land represent a body of independent thought that is indispensable to the preservation of our economic and political liberty.

When the suggestion was made recently that the best interest of consumers might be served by more stringent regulation of advertising, no great imagination was needed to see the connection between restricted advertising and press censorship.

The close relationship between advertising and the free press was presented recently by C. B. Dyke, writing in the Fairmont, N.D., Star. In his words, the home town newspaper reader "... wants his weekly to tell him about his friends, goings and comings, births, weddings, all sorts of local happenings and the neighborhood gossip. ... But he also wants to see what the local merchants have to offer in advertisements. ... It costs money to put out a newspaper.
Just like it costs money to run a grocery store, service station, garage or cafe. ... The major income is derived from advertisers. ... Everyone knows that 'Jones' has a store in town, but they also like to see what he has to offer in his ad." Active advertisers are the foundation of the free press. That is why freedom of the press, freedom of enterprise and the unrestricted right to advertise will all sink or swim together.

the new Mobil oil burner can give your heat-efficiency a big boost, while it keeps your fuel bills down.

Dr. C. M. Benner attended a Class Reunion at the University of Maryland, Baltimore, this week.

Miss Ellen Bruce Long is one of this year's graduates in Domestic Science at Irving College, Mechanicsburg, Penna.

As will be noticed elsewhere, Dr. Francis T. Elliot of Harney has taken Dr. Birnie's former office and has announced office hours for both Taneytown and Harney.

The general government suggests that "Registration Day" (Date the president has set for registration for draft for military service, every young man 21-30) June 5th, be a day for a profuse display of our National Flag, and that at 7:00 o'clock in the morning, the hour for opening the registration books, church and fire bells be rung and whistles blown.

Decoration Day services were observed on Wednesday in charge of the P. O. S. of A. The parade was especially well participated in by the children, a fair representative of the Order, two carriages with old veterans, one with the town officials, Taneytown Band and a few from other orders. The services following the decoration of graves was conducted by Rev. W. E. Saltzger, and Rev. K. K. Lewis of Uniontown, and Rev. S. R. Downie and Rev. L. B. Hafer, on the lawn in front of the Reformed Church.

The first Commencement exercises of the Taneytown H. S. were held on Tuesday night in the Opera House. The program was as follows: Repas Band, orchestra; prayer, Rev. L. B. Hafer; welcome, school song; principal's remarks, Prof. W. L. Koontz; A Dream of the South, orchestra; address to the graduates, Dr. George A. Steele, Baltimore; certificates to 7th grade, Prof. W. L. Koontz; solo "O How Lovely", Miss Alice Hess; awarding of prizes, Rev. S. R. Downie; awarding of Diplomas, Mr. Pearce Wantz; Baldwin Commandery, orchestra; benediction, Rev. L. B. Hafer. There were four graduates: Miss Clara Mary Hockensmith, Miss Anna Baile Chenoweth, Miss Eva Emandus Crebs and Norman Seiss Devilbiss.

Beautiful lawns can be ruined if you skin 'em during the summer months. Cutting height is particularly important for good lawns in late spring and early summer. Raise your mower height to 2-2½ inches now and keep it at this level through September. Mowing too close quickly weakens the turf and encourages weed growth. High mowing helps shade out crabgrass seedlings and prevents their becoming established.

Grass in lawns should not be allowed to grow too tall between mowings (usually not more than three inches) since only ½ of the plant should be clipped off at one time.

Mower blades should be kept sharp. It not only makes mowing easier; but it results in a healthier, better looking turf by preventing ragged or smashed tips.

Can barley be substituted for corn in cattle rations? It sure can and you can also save money on expensive protein.

While corn and cob meal has 5.5 percent and shelled corn has 6.6 percent digestible protein, barley contains 10 percent digestible protein. Or converting to a 1000 level there's 100 pounds of protein in barley as compared to only 53 pounds in corn and cob meal.

Marlin Hoff, New Windsor dairyman, said he's changing to barley. With his 125 cow herd eating lots of grain, trimming protein costs can mount up. With the barley harvest just around the corner, seems like good business to me.

When you sit down to breakfast each morning, the Maryland State Board of Agriculture sits down with you.

Do you have cereal? Perhaps the grain was not grown in Maryland, but the cereal—and the package it comes in—have to meet strict State Board of Agriculture standards.

Behind the milk or cream for your cereal stands a complicated system of State Board inspections that go clear back to the dairy barn. These include inspections of the tanks in which the milk is cooled, the immense tank trucks in which it is hauled, and every step in its handling.

Do you have eggs? The State Board of Agriculture inspections go so far behind the egg on your plate as to measure and check the feed of the hen that produced it. The egg themselves are sold by grade and weight classification and carefully labeled.

If you have bacon or ham for breakfast, you may be sure that the meat was produced under strict Board supervision. Also, to be sure your pound of bacon contains a full pound, a State Board inspector regularly checks the package weight for accuracy.

We seldom give a second thought to the background of the food we eat when we sit down to a meal. And we don't have to, because the many protective arms of the Maryland State Board of Agriculture have stretched far to make that meal economical and tasty.

Homemakers' Club Joint Meeting

Dr. Jarrett Charles Black, Director of the Carroll County Day Center at Springfield State Hospital in Sykesville, spoke at the joint meeting of the Union Bridge, Mt. Union, New Windsor and Keysville-Detour Homemakers Clubs at the Pipe Creek Church on Friday, May 26.

Dr. Black told about the Day Center and stressed that it is separate from Springfield Hospital though it does receive federal funds for operation through the hospital. It is operated on an out-patient basis with hours Monday through Friday from 9:30 A. M. to 3:30 P. M. Its purpose is to help those between the clinic and the state hospital who are mentally disturbed and is on a strictly voluntary basis. It is to help the patients learn to deal with stressful situations and try to prevent overdependence. They also help people already in mental hospitals learn to again take part in the community.

All those who take part in the program must be over 15 and be able to function in an open-ward setting for they do not use locked doors. Referral can be from almost any source but not all can be helped. Mental retardation or brain damage or those who need chronic care cannot be helped at the Day Center. The program is group oriented but there are also individual sessions with each person. Medication is used if needed and there is no experimenting. The Center was opened February 1966.

Mrs. Danton Ensor urged attendance at College Week for Women at the University of Maryland and told of some of the changes for this season. June 1 is the deadline for registering.

Each club broke into a small group for individual meetings and then refreshments were served by the Union Bridge Club which was the hostess club.

FAIRVIEW

Prayer meeting and Bible study was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cornett and family on Tuesday, May 23, with an attendance of 32. We have been having a wonderful time in the Lord in our cottage Prayer Meetings—the Lord has blessed us. We, the members of the First Church of God, Uniontown, Md., and Virginia Eldership began this work February 14, 1967. We have not had less than 17 at any of these weekly meetings, for which we give God the glory. Last Tuesday evening we surprised our pastor, Rev. Herbert Myers with a little party at the close of the service in honor of his birthday. A birthday cake lighted with candles was brought into the room by Mrs. Wm. Corbin and all began to sing, "Happy Birthday." It was a complete surprise. He received numerous gifts which were both lovely and useful. He then offered prayer in thankfulness to God and to all who had a part in the surprise. Refreshments were served to all present.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Smith and son, on Sunday were Mrs. Hannah Smith, Uniontown; her brother, Mr. Walter Selby, his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Selby of Littlestown, Penna. They also called on another sister, Mrs. Rosie King of Uniontown. They went to the cemetery of the First Church of God where they met other relatives: Mrs. Grant Baker and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Selby of Taneytown.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Masser of 901 Motter Place, Frederick, Md., Saturday.

Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goins who has been in the Armed Forces the past several months spent several days with his home-folks. Kyle returned to duty on May 22. I believe he will be stationed in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Baker and family of New Chester, Pa., called on his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock; other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock and children, Steven and Debra, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and children, David, Daniel and Deborah.

The Baker reunion which has stemmed out of the Selby and Rowe reunion will be held on Sunday, June 11. The descendants of the Selby's and Rowe clan started this reunion a number of years ago and was held at the Pine Mar Camp Grounds, near Pipe Creek Park, Taneytown, which at this time is not in use for such purpose. It has been held for quite a few years at the Taneytown Memorial Park. It causes us much grief to know there are such a few who come out. Invitations will be sent to all who once before had taken part in this reunion in the hopes you will come once more and have a day of fellowship together and renew our relationships with one another—come June 11th to the Memorial Park, Taneytown. Basket lunch at 12:30 or 1:00 o'clock, after which games will be played and prizes given to the oldest and youngest present.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Frock of Mechanicsburg, Pa. spent Friday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock.

For years I have been looking forward to meeting the lady who writes the column, "Spice and Everything Nice," for the Carroll Record. Well, last Friday afternoon while Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Frock and myself were making a business call to the Carroll Record and its editor a very nice lady walked in and I was introduced to Mrs. Irene DeLeon Love. The pleasure was very much; but enjoyed the pleasure of meeting her even more. God bless you dear lady—it will be more interesting reading your letter. I should say, by knowing you.

Prayer Meeting and Bible Study on Tuesday, June 6 at 8:00 P. M. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Crouse and daughter of Uniontown, Md. by the pastor, Rev. Herbert Myers and wife and the members of the First Church of God, Uniontown, Md. of the Md. and Va. Eldership—everybody welcome.

Thoughts for today — "The self-sacrificing life is the life admired by many, but lived by comparatively few."

"Naught can stay our steady progress. More than conquerors we shall be, If our eye, whatever the danger Looks to What and none but Thee."

SPEECH: HOW FREE?

"I believe in free speech," said a recent letter-to-the-editor. "And anyone against it should be silenced."

There in a nutshell is one of the great dilemmas of our day. We are pulled both ways. We want speech to be free, yet we want to silence speech that we don't like. Where shall we draw the line?

Some call for total freedom, with no limits at all. At the first sign of any restraint, they argue: "The Constitution guarantees freedom of speech, with no ifs, ands, or buts. Freedom means freedom, nothing less."

But our courts don't go that far. They hold that, even though the Constitution doesn't say so, certain implied exceptions cannot be avoided. Thus, freedom of speech may be limited as to time and place. For example, you have no right to holler through a megaphone at midnight, outside of a hospital.

Furthermore, besides limits as to time and place, the law puts limits on the content of speech.

One such limit is on speech that is defamatory. Without this limit, your neighbor could spread vile rumors about you—with no basis at all except malice.

Another limit is on speech that is obscene. Without this limit, a kindergarten teacher, if so inclined, could read hardcore pornography to her pupils.

Another limit is on speech that is seditious. Without this limit, a speaker could incite a mob to open and violent revolution.

Yet, even in these special areas, the limits on freedom of speech are flexible. Thus:

Defamatory statements may be held lawful if honestly made, on a matter of legitimate concern to the speaker.

Gross vulgarity may be held lawful if it has "redeeming social importance."

And wrathful political dissent may be held lawful if it poses no "clear and present danger" of serious evil consequences.

In short, the law says we must have limits on freedom of speech—but we must keep those limits to a minimum. Limits are the exception. Freedom is the rule.

DID YOU KNOW?

NIGHT DRIVING

Good vision and good lighting are the keys to safe night driving. Since it takes 45 minutes to adapt to seeing in the dark, don sunglasses when stopping for coffee or fuel to maintain your eye's "night-conditioning."

For safety—yours and fellow motorists—courtesy pays. Turn on your low beams at dusk so oncoming drivers can see you, and use them when following to spare the eyes of the driver in front.

If your eyes tire, or you feel drowsy, pull off the road pronto and rest. Practice these simple rules and more life-saving pointers as outlined in a special feature in the March issue of Popular Science Magazine, and you may save your life.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports — John Breth

If you want to give your baseball knowledge a test, try naming the general managers of the 20 major league teams. If you can do it, you have a much better than average knowledge of the game.

Actually, most baseball fans couldn't care less about who is in the front office. Their interest centers on the players and the field manager. So they are the ones who constantly are in the public view, and it's on their performances that a team rises or falls.

Yet, in many cases, the general manager is the man who put the players on the field and the manager in the dugout. This is especially true of JIM CAMPBELL, general manager of the Detroit Tigers.

A good part of the Tigers' success this season can be traced directly to Campbell's efforts. Before taking over as general manager, he headed the club's farm system. And the Tigers' roster is loaded with players who were developed on Detroit farm clubs.

The entire starting infield with the exception of first baseman Norm Cash was brought out of the Tigers' minor league system. Cash was acquired from the Chicago White Sox.

In the outfield, Al Kaline, Mickey Stanley, Willie Horton, Jim Northrup and Gates Brown all are home-grown talent. Ditto for pitcher Mickey Lolich and catcher Bill Freehan. Freehan is so home-grown, in fact, that he was born in Detroit.

He also is the most expensive product to come out of the orchard. The hefty backstop was signed for a $100,000 bonus. That's a little less than half of the total amount Detroit paid in bonuses to assemble this crew.

Campbell figures that the entire roster cost the team about $240,000 in bonuses. That's quite a bargain, considering some of the figures other teams have paid.

Not only did Campbell play a key role in helping to assemble the current Detroit team, but he also picked the manager, Mayo Smith. Some baseball people felt that Campbell went out on a limb in his choice, since Smith had not been managing for several years. Even when he did manage at Philadelphia and Cincinnati, his teams were less than spectacular.

So far, however, Smith has proven to be the right man for the job in Detroit. Nothing makes a manager look better than a winning club, and the Tigers certainly have been winning.

The BALTIMORE ORIOLES got away to a slow start this year, in glaring contrast to their fast break last spring.

As a result they have slowly been moving up from the rear guard as Detroit and Chicago cut out the early-season pace.

There are many explanations for the mediocre play of the Orioles this year and one of them belongs to Gene Woodling, a Baltimore coach and long-time star outfielder for the New York Yankees.

Woodling believes that Baltimore's romping victory in last year's pennant race and even easier World Series sweep against the Dodgers is now taking a toll.

Gene puts it this way . . . "The champions always have to face the best pitcher on the other team. Everybody wants to beat the champ. It was that way with the Yankees when they were winning pennants every year and it's that way with us now."

Woodling thinks a secondary reason for Baltimore's difficulties this year has been the balance of the American League.

Gene sums it up this way . . . "Any club in the league can beat any other team on any given day. Take Kansas City, an improved ball club. Do you realize what a difference it makes when Kansas City improves to the extent where it wins ten more games than it did a year ago? It just turns the whole thing around. Take Boston, a team that an outside score on any day when your pitching isn't good."

Woodling recalls the time when one of Casey Stengel's pennant winners at the Yankee Stadium went into a slump and checked into Boston's Fenway Park with a nine-game losing streak.

Stengel closed the clubhouse to all visitors and resorted to everything but a rabbit's foot to break the slump.

Woodling recalls . . . "It might have been even more serious but the thing that saved us was the fact that we had won 18 straight before we lost the nine in a row."

Today's Sport Laugh — The ragged work of the Los Angeles Dodger outfield in the second game of the World Series got some baseball veterans talking about poor outfield play.

Gus Zernial said: "We were talking about bad outfield play and we figured the worst defensive trio of all time would be Hank Sauer, Ralph Kiner and myself."

"The way we figured it, if a ball was hit to the outfield, all three of us would stand around and yell, 'You get it!'"

Can People Change?

Lesson for June 4, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 9:1-31.
Devotional Reading: Philippians 3:3-11.

"What's the use of trying? No one will believe that I've changed!"

These were the hopeless words spoken to me by a young man sick at heart after days of answering "want ads" for employment. Every prospective employer gave him an application form; every application form wanted to know whether he had ever been in trouble with the law. Convinced

Rev. Althouse that lying could no longer be a part of his life, he told the truth each time. Each time he was turned away with something roughly equivalent to: "Sorry, we can't use you."

No Radical Change

Why would no one believe that he had changed? He was a good-looking boy; despite his history of arrests for various offenses, he had a "sincere face." His appearance was neat, clean, and he was courteous in his manner. If anything, his appearance should have encouraged trust and a willingness to take a risk on him.

Prospective employers would not believe he had changed because there is a basic suspicion that people cannot change radically. It is believed that there is something "fixed" about a person's character, something that remains ever the same. While small changes and minor growth may take place, these have few consequences.

What a strange opinion of human nature for those who count themselves as Christians. They tend to divide all people into the "good guys" and the "bad guys," these divisions remaining quite rigid and unchanging. In doing so, they forget that Jesus taught that all men have potentialities for both good and evil. No one is wholly good or wholly bad. None of us are doomed to be one or the other.

What God Can Do

Saul, once the passionate persecutor of Christ's followers, encountered this attitude after he had his life-changing experience on the Damascus Road. Taken to Damascus, Paul waited for God to make known his will for him. While he waited the news of his experience spread through the Christian community. One gets the impression that it was regarded largely with suspicion and outright rejection. "Nobody changes that much," seemed to be the general reaction from most people. Even later when he had been accepted by the Damascus church, the suspicion accompanied him to Jerusalem.

Once again in the Damascus Road experience of Saul we see how God can foil the opposition of men to his plans. Saul's persecution might easily have finished the early Church, but God used that danger to accomplish his purpose. Furthermore, when he encountered Saul on his way to Damascus, he accomplished three things in one: (1) raised up someone to take the place of the martyred Stephen; (2) enlisted Saul's talents for the kingdom instead of against it; and (3) ended the persecution against the Church. In other words, he gained an apostle, lost an enemy, and protected his Church.

Yet this might never have happened if someone in the Christian community had not been willing to believe that Saul the persecutor could become Paul the apostle. There was Stephen who prayed for him as Saul watched him die. There was Annanias, the fearful but obedient man who helped Saul begin a new life in Damascus. Finally, there was Barnabas who was willing to risk his own safety to claim a new recruit for the Way.

Unless We Believe

How can people change unless someone is willing to believe that they can change? How is conversion possible when we continue to doubt the power of God to transform a person's life? Why should we be willing to believe that Saul became Paul if we will not believe that the delinquent can become a useful citizen?

If you were willing, like Barnabas, Annanias, and Stephen, to take a chance on God's power to transform men, whom do you know that might become a new person in Jesus Christ?

One of the greatest differences between the American home and the homes in other parts of the world is our electrical appliances. A radio can be operated for just a few cents a day, yet it brings us many hours of entertainment and information. The modern American housewife would be lost without her electric iron, toaster, washer and dryer. Our high standard of living makes heaters, blenders, hair dryers, coffee makers, blankets, fans, vibrators, broilers and refrigerators available to us at prices we can afford. Of the many things we can buy for a house, even to an electric clock, electrical appliances give us more pleasure and assistance per dollar spent than anything else, and Maytag is a nationally known leader in the field.

At Nace Appliances you will find a courteous serviceman to repair and service your electrical appliances. He is an expert and will repair your appliance so that it works like new.
