Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopædia in 20 Vols., over 16,000 pages; 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top, for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent book publishing, may be fairly claimed to insure a Literary Revolution. to inaugurate a Literary Revolution

The Library of Universal Knowledge is a reprint entire of the last (1879) Edinburgh edition of "Chambers's Encyclopædia," with about 40 per cent of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of these who consult works of reference, and altogether the latest Encyclopedia in the field

Leading principles of the American Book Exchange:

1. Publish only books of real value.

11. Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one half what it was a few years ago.

111. Sell to buyers direct, and save them the 50 to 60 per cent. commission commonly allowed to tealers.

1V. The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a lime—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity.

V. Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "pading," fat and heavily-leaded type, spongy paper and gandy binding, which are so commonly reorted to to make books appear large and fine, and which greatly add to their cost, but do not add to bely value.

VI. To make $1 and a friend is better than to make $5 and an enemy.
