BE KIND TO EACH OTHER.

BY CHARLES SWAN.

Be kind to each other!
The night's coming on,
When friend and when brother
Perchance may be gone!
Then, midst our dejection,
How sweet to have earned
The blessed recollection
Of kindness returned!

When day hath departed,
And Memory keeps
Her watch, broken-hearted,
Where all she lov'd sleeps,
Let falsehood assail not,
Nor Envy disprove
Let thy lies prevail not,
Against those ye love.

Nor change with to-morrow,
Should Fortune take wing,
But the deeper the sorrow,
The closer still cling!
O, be kind to each other!
The night's coming on,
When friend and when brother
Perchance may be gone!

HISTORICAL SKETCH

OF

EMMITSBURG,

And its Vicinity.

THE VILLAGE INCORPORATED.

Emmitsburg was first incorporated by the General Assembly of Maryland, by its Act of 1824, chapter 29, passed January 13th, 1825, to which there were subsequently added quite a number of supplements; a new revised, amended and enlarged charter was passed, March 10th, 1854, chapter 232, which remains in force without any important change. Of the various men of worth and noted force of character, who have filled the offices of Burgess and Commissioners in the Corporation, their names and acts may all be found recorded in the records of that body.

THE COLLEGE CHARTERED.

In 1830, the President of Mt. St. Mary's, obtained the 1st Charter from the Legislature of Maryland, making this noble institution a College. In the joyful month of June, 1831, the graduates received their well earned honors from the hands of Rev. John B. Purcell. It was a gala day for the dear old Mount, standing in the pride and dignity of a College, conferring diplomas on her students. In another year her honored president was called to bear the Crozier and Mitre of the Episcopacy, and was consecrated Bishop of Cincinnati, the Queen city of the West.

Mt. St. Mary's is situated at the base of the Blue Ridge Mountains; the most prominent peak of this range bears the name,

INDIAN LOOKOUT.

There is a tradition, that during the revolutionary war, the Indians resorted to these heights and became scouts for the British Army. Be this as it may, the scenery from this charming spot, is truly grand, and well worth a ramble to contemplate it. The peak is in a northwesterly direction from the College. Beneath, in a beautiful valley, is the modest village of Emmitsburg; near by is St. Joseph's Sisterhood.

From this prominence can be seen the now famous town of Gettysburg, and towards the south, the village of Taneytown, made memorable, by the Father of His Country, (General Washington), having passed the night there, after taking leave of the Army, also, for having been the residence of the Russian Prince Gallitzin, better known as Father Smith, (whose body is buried at Loretta, Cambria county, Pa.) Although the Church in Emmitsburg was built prior to that at the Mountain, the Emmitsburg Congregation owe Mt. St. Mary's, a great debt of gratitude for having furnished to their Sanctuary holy and worthy Priests, for many years. Memory, however, twines its wreath of affection around the shrines of two, more particularly, Rev. John Hickey, who was also director of the Sisters of Charity. He officiated in Emmitsburg over twenty years, and died in Baltimore in 1869. "The night dew that falls, though in silence it weeps, Shall brighten in verdure, the grave where he sleeps, And the tear that we shed, though in secret it rolls, Shall long keep his memory green in our souls."

Not less dear, was Rev. Thomas A. McCaffrey, born in Emmitsburg, in 1812. He received his education at Mt. St. Mary's, and entered the Seminary in 1832. After being ordained Priest, he was sent to his native village in 1842, to preside over a flock that honored and loved him. It may be truly said of him, he knew well, how to soothe the wounded heart, dry the orphan's tear, and turn the sinner from his evil ways to God. Abounding in charity, he died a martyr of charity, during the cholera, in 1853, "Earning the palm branch which now adorns the silent tomb," erected by his admiring pupils.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY.

In 1809, the Foundation of St. Joseph's Institution of the Sisters of Charity and school for young ladies, was begun by Mrs. Eliza Seaton, in a plain dwelling and with humble surroundings. Here Mother Seaton and her band of devoted followers, labored for years in their high and holy calling, sowing in many a youthful heart, germs of religion and true piety, that were to bear fruit a hundred fold in other generations. Mother Seaton died in 1821 in the 47th year of her age, regretted by all who had the happiness to know her. This incomparable woman was beautiful as the first blush of early morn, lovely as a bright vision in a fairy's dream. It would indeed have taken a prophet's eye to foresee the magnificent pile that was to replace the unpretentious Academy left by Mother Seaton. St. Joseph's, today, is undoubtedly one of the finest educational establishments in the United States.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHARTERED.

The Charter, for the incorporation of this Institution, was obtained from the Legislature of Maryland, in 1817, through Mr. Robert Goodloe Harper's influence. Among the many spots rendered interesting by legends of the past, is a favorite resort in the grounds of the Academy, called the "Indian burying ground." This spot, surrounded by forest trees, has been converted by the Sisters of Charity, into a grotto for those who love to contemplate Nature, and through her Nature's God. Religion is represented in the interior of this grotto by a statue of her who is blessed by all generations, and in whom all creation rejoices. A crown upon her head has these words, "I am the flower of the field and the lily of the valley," inscribed upon the circlet. The Mother house of the Sisters of Charity, founded by Mrs. Eliza A. Seaton, near Emmitsburg, like the acorn, has grown to a large tree, whose branches overshadow the most distant States in the Union, numbering 110 missionary houses, these good Sisters taking charge of hospitals, orphanages and schools, all for the love of God. There are now 1100 members of this community belonging to St. Joseph's Valley, near Emmitsburg, daughters of Mother Seaton.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

In 1831 the Methodist church was erected, during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Moreland, a native of Ireland, who emigrated to this favored land and settled at the base of the Blue Ridge Mountains, under the shadows of Carriok's Knob. With a heart overflowing with sympathy towards his oppressed countryman, his home was always open to receive them; a kind welcome, a cheery word, and a good humored, benevolent smile always awaited them. This venerable Patriarch was found dead in his gig, one bright Sabbath morning in August, as he was on his way to officiate in the Methodist chapel on the banks of Tom's Creek. His remains were solemnly interred in the cemetery, adjoining the new church in Emmitsburg, which he caused to be built. The first sermon delivered in this edifice, was the funeral panegyric of Rev. Mr. Moreland, a fitting valedictory to the labours of this worthy gentleman, the pulses of whose heart vibrated with "peace and good will to all men." All denominations attended the funeral, testifying the respect in which this venerable citizen was held by the community at large. His aged consort, shortly after, followed him, and now rests by his side. It seems strange, that one so universally beloved and venerated, should not have even a humble stone to perpetuate his memory and record his worth. It should be a precious memento to his friends and admirers. Next year being the semi centennial of this (Methodist) church, may we not expect golden sentiments woven in the history of fifty years.

OLD Uncle Mose, of Galveston, was not noticed near the polls on election day, consequently a colored striker was sent to hunt him up. He was found sitting by the fire, groaning dismally in his cabin.

"Uncle Mose, has yer voted yet?" asked the colored rouser.

"No, chile, I wouldn't risk ketchin' cold in my lungsuss foah all de money in de world."

"Here's a dollar to pay for your time."

The old man secured the subsidy remarking: "Es you is comin' de bull-dose on dis old niggah he weakens. Hev you fetched a kerriage for me?"

"Hit's waiting at de doah, Uncle Mose."

"Is yer gwine to bring me back after I've voted?"

"Bring you right back, Uncle Mose; hurry up, now."

"Gimme a dram foah I starts!"

"Here it is," said the emissary, producing a flask. "Take a pull."

He pulled and asked:

"Gwina to gimme another pull when I've done voted?" and then he pulled again.

"Yes, take anudder pull right now. Don't be afeared ob it. Dar's plenty moah whar it come from?"

So the old man pulled again and wanted to know:

"Hev yer got anudder dollar bill wid yer?"

"Look heah, ole man, you must 'low de campaign committee's made of money. Here's yer udder dollar. Now jump in. De polls is gwine ter close."

"Lor, chile, you makin' out you is a statesman, heah! heah! heah! I've been foolin' yer. I done voted de udder ticket early dis morning, heah! heah! heah!" and the old image settles down in front of the fire and nearly chuckles his head off.

THE TIDY HOUSEWIFE.—The careful tidy housewife, when she is giving her house its spring cleaning, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than houses, and that their systems need cleaning by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure the diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she should know that there is nothing that will do it so perfectly and surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of all medicines. See other column.

MEN AND WOMEN.

Among all the burdens that woman is called upon to bear, there is none that can be made so galling to her as the burden of dependence. Man is usually, in the life of the family, the bread-winner. However much he may be helped by woman in the economies of home life, he is usually the one who earns and carries the money on which the family subsists. Whatever money the woman wants comes to her from his hands, as a rule. Now, this money can be given into her hands in such a way that she can not only preserve her self-respect, but rejoice in her dependence; or it can be given to her in such a way that she will feel like a dog when she asks for it and when she receives it—in such a way that she will curse her dependence, and mourn over all the shame and humiliation it brings to her. We are sorry to believe that there are multitudes of wives and daughters and sisters, who wear fine clothing and who fare sumptuously every day, who would prefer to earn the money they spend to receiving it from the ungracious and inconsiderate hands upon which they depend.

If we had entitled this article "A Study of Husbands," it would have led us more directly, perhaps, to our main purpose; but the truth is that what we have to say has to do with dependent women in all the relations of life. It is natural for woman, as it is for man, to desire to spend money in her own way—to be free to choose, and free to economize, and free to spend whatever may be spent upon herself or her wardrobe. It is a delightful privilege to be free, and to have one's will with whatever expenditures may be made for one's own conveniences or necessities. A man who will interfere with this freedom, and who will deny this privilege to those who depend upon him, is either thoughtless or brutal. We know—and women all know—men who are very generous toward their dependents, but who insist on reserving to themselves the pleasure of purchasing whatever the women of their household may want, and then handing it over to them in the form of presents. The women are loaded with nice dresses and jewelry, and these are bestowed in the same way in which a Turk lavishes his favors upon the slaves of his harem. Now, it is undoubtedly very gratifying to these men to exercise their taste upon the necessities and fineries of their dependent women, and to feast themselves upon the surprises and the thanks of those receiving their favors; but it is a superlatively selfish performance. If these women could only have had in their hands the money which these gifts cost, they would have spent it better and they would have gratified their own tastes. A man may be generous enough to give to a woman the dresses and ornaments she wears, who is very far from being generous enough to give her money, that she may freely purchase what she wants, and have the great delight of choosing.

This is one side—not a very repulsive one—of man's selfishness in his dealings with women; but there is another side that is disgusting to contemplate. There are great multitudes of faithful wives, obedient daughters, and "left over" sisters, to whom there is never given a willing penny. The brute who occupies the head of the family never gives a dollar to the women dependent upon him without making them feel the yoke of their dependence, and tempting them to curse their lot, with all its terrible humiliations.—Heaven pity the poor women who may be dependent upon him—women who never ask him for money when they can avoid it, and never get it until they have been made to feel as meanly humble as if they had robbed a hen-roost!

There is but one manly way in treating this relation of dependent women. If a man recognizes a woman as dependent,—and he must do so, so far, at least, as his wife and daughters are concerned,—he acknowledges certain duties which he owes to them. His duty is to support them, and, so far as he can do it, to make them happy. He certainly cannot make them happy if, in all his treatment of them, he reminds them of their dependence upon him. We know of no better formula into which he can put the recognition of his duty than that of an allowance, freely and promptly paid whenever it may be called for. If a man acknowledges to himself that he owes the duty of support to the women variously related to him in his household, let him generously determine how much money he has to spend upon each, and tell her just how much she is at liberty to call upon him for, per annum.—Then it stands in the relation of a debt to the woman, which she is at liberty to call for and to spend according to her own judgment. We have watched the working of this plan, and it works well. We have watched the working of other plans, and they do not work well. We have watched, for instance, the working of the plan of the generous husband and father, who says:—"Come to me for what you want, whenever you want it. I don't wish to limit you. Some years you will want more, and some less." This seems very generous; but, in truth, these women prefer to know about what the man thinks they ought to spend, or about what he regards as the amount he can afford to have them spend. Having gained this knowledge by a voluntarily proffered allowance, they immediately adapt their expenditures to their means, and are perfectly content.—It is a comfort to dependent woman to look upon a definite sum as her own—as one that has been set aside for her exclusive use and behoof.

A great multitude of the discomforts that attach to a dependent woman's lot arise from the obtuseness and thoughtlessness of the men upon whom they depend. There are some men so coarsely made that they cannot appreciate a woman's sensitiveness in asking for money.—They honestly intend to do their duty—even to deal generously—by the women dependent upon them; but they cannot understand why a woman should object to come to them for what they choose to give her. If they will answer that they can do it by putting into their hands, or placing within their call, all the money per annum which they think they can afford to allow them, and not to compel them to appeal to their husbands as supplicants for money whenever they may need a dollar or the quarter of one.

The absolutely brutal husband and father will hardly read this article, but we recall instances of cruelty and insult toward dependent women that would make any true man indignant in every fiber. A true woman may legitimately rejoice in her dependence upon a true man, because he will never make her feel it in any way; but a brute of a husband can make a true woman feel her humiliation as a dependent a hundred times a day, until her dependence is mourned over as an unmitigated curse.—Scribner's Monthly for December.

It is a mean farmer who, in order to get his men quickly from the house to the field, will start 'em on the run by sending his boy ahead to blow a dinner horn.

A FEW WORDS ON THE SEASON.

"In Winter awful thou! with clouds and storms Around thee thrown, tempest o'er tempest roll'd."

There is marvelous interest attached to the coming and the going of the seasons; each one has its period, which approaches with more or less precision in time.

When we consider the changes which have been made in the condition of our race, from the ages of wildness and barbarism, when they dwelt in caves and huts, and subsisted in the simplicity of ignorance on the most elementary substances, we are lost in wonder and admiration at the wisdom which has marked its progress through the successive changes in which christian civilization has led the way.

Instead of caves, palaces abound; for huts, magnificent houses have everywhere arisen, in which all the comforts and conveniences of home abound.

There are those, who, observing the increase of crime, and the apparently slow progress of truth and goodness in the conflict with their opposing forces, grow doubtful as to the final victory.

THE Municipal Sesqui-centennial Committee of Baltimore City has decided, instead of erecting a memorial shaft, to publish a memorial volume of the grand celebration.

and home happiness. The exercise of hospitality, and the thousand associations in which art and science and literature, are made to adorn the walks of life.

Soon we shall reach the joyous period of Christmas, joyous it must be, for the whole world is the sphere of its promises, and through its realities are all the nations blessed.

The earth rests, the winds, the moisture, the frosts, all have their work to do in fitting it for its future fruitfulness, when the storm period shall have gone by.

But sadly there comes to view another side of the picture. It is that in which we contemplate the victims of poverty and sorrow.—Their relations to the general community are an unavoidable necessity, and they are "always" present.

MR. ABBEY, the theatrical manager, in deference to enlightened public opinion, has very sensibly concluded not to produce the "Passion Play" in New York.

On the Pittsburg Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, there was a terrible accident on last Saturday, an engine and a car were hurled down an embankment of one hundred and fifty feet, and yet, providently as it would seem, but one life was lost.

THE question of Chinese immigration was voted upon in Nevada at the recent election, and the result was an overwhelming vote against the Chinese.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30th. Cabinet making seems to be the occupation of every politician here, except General Garfield himself.—No doubt he has already thought of the matter, and perhaps partially made up his mind who he would wish for his constitutional advisers.

There is great interest manifested as to whether Secretary Sherman will be his own successor as the head of the Treasury. It is well known that he would much rather go into the Senate than remain in the Treasury; but there is a powerful influence at work among the business men, bankers, and they say manufacturers, to secure his retention.—He has handled the finance so ably during the past four years, that a change just now, while the whole country is prosperous and growing in wealth, is in the last degree injudicious.

It is given out here, and upon apparently good authority, too, that the advocates of a subsidized line of steamers between this country and Brazil intend to make a determined fight for the success of a bill to that effect this winter.

Captain John Ericson is making further improvements in his torpedo boat, which is to astonish the benighted Englishman when their immense war vessels, in a time of hostilities, attempt to destroy our navy and bombard our cities.

THE Burnt Cork Minstrel Troupe of this place, gave a serenade on Saturday night, in which they proved adepts at their peculiar mode of exhibition.

LEWIS M. MOTTER slaughtered, on last Monday, six hogs, the average weight being 315 pounds each, while the heaviest weighed 365 pounds, and the lightest 280.

WM. H. PULLEN, Fowlerville, Mich., says:—I have not rested better for months than I did last night. The "Only Lung Pad" has helped me wonderfully. —See Adv.

IN the sleet of last Sunday, there were people who thought they could go straight forward, but they did not, among the ludicrous back-sets, we are happy to record, there was no serious injury.

A LADY in our neighborhood who has suffered for over three months the most extreme torture by a violent cough, has become completely cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. For sale in every Drug Store.

THE Hon. Milton G. Urner has gone to New York with his son, to obtain medical treatment for the latter. Several years ago his son fell from a porch and injured his back, from which he has never recovered.

CALL and examine our large assortment of envelopes, all sizes, qualities and prices, which can't fail to please, with your individual name or firm printed on them as low or lower in price, than you can buy the envelopes.

CHAS. L. ROSSITER, 195 Summit St. Toledo, Ohio, says:—I would not take one thousand dollars for my Excelsior Kidney pad, if I could not get another. I have gained in three months thirty pounds.—See Adv.

WA have just received a large lot of extra heavy envelopes, best quality of note paper, suitable for business and other correspondence, also bill heads, cards, etc., which we are prepared to label and fill out on short notice, at astonishingly low prices. Call in.

THE electoral colleges of all the states, met on last Wednesday, and cast the vote for President and Vice President, except the state of Georgia, whose state law requires a different time, and in consequence the vote of that state may be lost in summing up.

WE again recommend the burning of all chimneys, when the roofs are sufficiently moist, or when the snow is on them, some of these cold nights, when the wind blows hard, they may take fire, and then, damage or none, the Burgess will find the occupant of the house.

FUN WHICH PROVED FATAL.—On last Saturday, Fred Burkett, and Eugene Warthen, workmen at Mt. St. Mary's College, were wrestling, the former fell down, and the latter falling heavily upon him, caused internal injuries, which resulted in his death the next day. He leaves a wife and six children.

J. M. WEIKERT gave his Magic Lantern exhibition on Monday night. His pictures were good, and he spared no trouble to give satisfaction. Owing to the bad weather and the shortness of the notice, the audience was not as large as it would otherwise have been.

EDISON will not be satisfied until he has discovered a better remedy for Coughs and Colds than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. We say he will never succeed.

GOV. HAMILTON has forwarded the commissions of Captain H. Kyd Douglas, First Lieutenant S. F. Croft and Second Lieutenant A. M. Roberts, as officers of the Hagerstown Light Infantry. These gentlemen are experienced officers. The commander was Aid with the rank of Major to Gen. Stonewall Jackson during the rebellion, also was on the Staff of Gov. Carroll, with the rank of Colonel.

WORKINGMEN.—Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation, your system needs cleansing and strengthening to prevent an attack of Ague, Billious or Spring Fever, or some other Spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work. You will save time, much sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of Hop Bitters in your family this month. Don't wait. See other column.

ALBERT, a boy seven years old, the son of the Hon. John Ritchie, of Frederick, on Friday last was balancing himself on the baluster of the fourth story, in his father's house, when he fell over. He fell headlong about forty feet, but fortunately struck the baluster near the lower floor and lodged on the stairway. His collar-bone was broken, and seriously cut and bruised, but will probably recover.

FELL DEAD ON THE STREET.—On Sunday evening, the 21st ultimo, Henrietta Berry, a colored woman, aged 40 years, who lived in All Saints Street, this city, and was employed in the family of Mr. Clarke Eldridge, residing on West Patrick Street, fell dead on the street as she was on her way to church. Heart trouble is supposed to be the cause of her death.—Examiner.

MR. EDWARD KOORTZ, of Frederick, recently purchased from a farmer living at the foot of the Calverton Mountains an old ten plate stove 111 years old and weighing 540 pounds. One of the plates bears a well preserved medallion of King George III., which is surrounded by a spray of acacia. In the center are two Masonic emblems—compass and rule, square and level. It also bears the inscription, "H. W. Siegel, Elizabeth Koortz, 1763." Mr. Koortz intends putting up the old scotch.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.—By a large majority the people of the United States have declared their faith in Kidney-Wort as a remedy for all the diseases of the kidneys and liver, some, however, have disliked the trouble of preparing it from the dry form. For such a new candidate appears in the shape of Kidney-Wort in Liquid Form. It is very concentrated, is easily taken and is equally efficient as the dry. T. J. It.—Lowell Post.

THROUGH the polite attention of Mr. J. M. Tiernan, of Los Angeles, California, we have received a copy of the Semi-Tropics, California, "Devoted to Agriculture, Horticulture, and the Development of Southern California," for November, which appears in fine style throughout, and abounds in descriptions of the late Fair, and contains the closing address to the association, by the President, J. Delarsh Shorb, formerly of our neighborhood.

HOW IT WORKS.—The want of suitable accommodations for entertainments in this place, was conspicuously evident in the past week. There came along a gentleman whose credentials entitled him to no ordinary consideration, who would have given just such intelligent instruction and amusement, as would have been good and acceptable on a dignified and worthy basis to the people, but being unable to secure a suitable place for his purposes, he passed on to more favourable localities.

A PLEASANT MEDICINE.—CROFT'S NERVA FIGS, supply the long desired substitute for the nauseous, oils, boluses, pills &c., of the past, for cases of "Constipation," and bilious complaints. Put up in neat boxes of one dozen doses to the box, they are in a very convenient form to take; are to be eaten as figs, and are as pleasant to the taste as the fruit itself.—Are sold for 35 cents a box, to be had of all Druggists, or direct from the proprietor, S. F. Croft, opposite the Court House, Hagerstown, Md. oct 21f

Thomas, Baltimore city; B. O. Cheney, A. O. Lorentz, Peter Sabm, A. T. Stewart, D. H. Rutzahn, Frederick city; J. H. Plank, Arendtsville, Pa.; James Bigham, Gettysburg, Pa.; John Mickle, "Cerrillos Delight;" E. Morse, Philadelphia; John Late, George Slate, J. Newcomer, Emmitsburg; Caron C. Welton, Petersburg, W. Va.; Joseph Grupp, Hanover.

W. Md. Hotel—John M. Lyell, Sol J. Keller, Baltimore city; L. P. Hendrick, S. Picard, James Bowers, Philadelphia, Pa.; Joseph Landers, Jacob Landers, Lancaster, Pa.; Joshua Sombur, Clara Burger, Hanover, Pa.; M. Danner, Frederick city; Chas. Targo, Chicago, Ill.; John Peterson, Peter Devitt, Pa.

PERSONALS.—Misses Mary and Lucinda Horner made a visit home. Mr. Abe. Landauer, a popular citizen of Frederick, was among the visitors this week.

Miss Emma Reindollar returned to her home on Thursday last. Miss Anna E. Motter, who has been visiting in the family of Dr. Eichelberger, for sometime past, returned to her home in Williamsport, on Thursday. Mrs. Susanna Holland and Miss Hallie J. Smith, are visiting in Williamsport, Md.

DEATH OF ISAAC BRUNNER.—By the death of this gentleman, Frederick county loses one of her best and most valued citizens—the Reformed Church one of its brightest ornaments. He died suddenly on Saturday last, at his farm near this city, aged nearly sixty-six years, and his remains were interred in the grave yard of the Reformed Church, on last Monday afternoon. The health of Mr. Brunner had been frail for years. He was very systematic in all his affairs, and a great reader and very intelligent. He was one of the most conscientious and kindhearted men we ever knew, and lived possessing the confidence of all who knew him and his death is universally regretted.—Md. Union.

THE Christmas number of St. Nicholas has a picture of its patron Saint on the cover, and represents him coming down from the North Pole, at rather a backward speed. The old fellow looks somewhat scared at the antics his well-lauded reindeer seem to be performing. The frontispiece, of the Madonna of the Lily, is very beautiful, and the opening poem, "Little Nellie in the Prison," by Paul Hamilton Hayne, is sweet and touching in its extreme, while of all the funny pictures, the wonderful stories, the fresh new thoughts for mind and heart, which could be contained within the space of a monthly magazine, this number is the fullest. May every child who has not yet received it, get one for a Christmas gift. For sale by all booksellers. Scribner & Co., N. Y. Subscription price $3.00 a year.

MISS CATHARINE A. ROWE, whose precarious condition, from a severe stroke of paralysis was noticed in our last issue died on Wednesday night, about 11 o'clock. She was a most estimable Christian Woman, amiable, happy and joyous in her disposition, she was a great favorite among her friends, by whom her loss will be greatly felt. It will seem almost irreparable. They're comforted, however, with the assurance that she was "ready." Her health has not, for years, permitted her to attend on the Services of the Sanctuary, but she was a diligent student of the Bible, a faithful reader of the Church papers and other pious writings, greatly interested in Church work, and did what she could to promote the cause of the Master, at home and abroad. When the shadows of the last night were falling, and the solemn hour of her departure was drawing near, she assured those around her bed, as best she could, that the Saviour who has sustained her in all her sufferings was with her still. Now her friends remember all this, and are consoled, and though they sorrow, they sorrow not as those who have no hope. She was buried on Friday morning, in the Lutheran grave-yard, her pastor, Rev. E. S. Johnston, officiated, and delivered an appropriate discourse.

THE Frederick correspondent of the Baltimore Sun gives the following: FREDERICK COUNTY STATISTICS.—WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The following, from the figures of the census bureau, shows the financial condition of Frederick county, Md., for the fiscal year ending on the 11th day of June, 1880: Total value of real property—Assessed value, $17,421,745; estimated full value, $23,323,593. Total value of personal property—Assessed value, $7,966,105; estimated full value, $7,966,105. Aggregate value of real and personal property—Assessed value, $25,387,850; estimated full value, $31,289,698. Total receipts from taxation for all purposes except schools, $129,714.75. Total receipts from taxation for school purposes—Teachers' salaries, &c., $35,510.20; new schoolhouses and furniture, $6,491.34. Total receipts from State tax for all purposes, $4,822.11. Expenditures for schools, $25,510.20 and $4,911.82—total $30,422.02; roads, special appropriations, $19,615.40; road and bridges, contingent, $7,200; poor in Montevue Hospital, $10,000; poor on pension list, $7,795; all other purposes, $86,104.23—total expenditures, $164,516.67. Bonded indebtedness—1865, bounty to volunteers, bonds running from one to seven years before maturity, date of maturity from Jan. 1, 1880, amount paid $10,000, amount outstanding $25,000, 6 per cent. interest; 1875, new jail, five to twenty years, $25,000, 6 per cent. interest; 1880, new jail, five to twenty years, $25,000, 5 per cent. interest; 1876, for schools, six to ten to twenty years, $2,000 yearly, $5,000, 6 per cent. interest; 1879, refunding a mortgage bonds, five to twenty years, $80,000, 5 per cent. interest; 1880, floating debt, twelve months or less surety, $37,150, 5 per cent. interest—total indebtedness $225,850. The floating debt enumerated in bonded debt exhibit was occasioned by building new iron bridges and subscriptions to terminate companies from 1823 to 1870, and since funded in county 5 per cent. note, payable in twelve months from April 1, 1880, but may not be paid for years unless demanded.—There is no sinking fund. A levy is made in June of each year for so much as will be required to pay off bonds falling due on the first of January or July of the following year. The county's assets are: Farm and Montevue Hospital, about $120,000; court-house lot and furniture, about $48,000; county jail and sheriff's house, erected at a cost of about $72,000.

NOTICE TO FARMERS AND OWNERS OF PRIVATE RESIDENCES.—The safest and best company in which Farmers and owners of Private Residences can insure their Property, is the Time-Tried and Fire-Tested Agricultural Insurance Company. It insures nothing but private Residences and Farm Property. In the last 27 years it has not had a loss of over $5,000, in one Fire, and it cannot be affected by sweeping conflagrations, as its risks are all detached. It insures against damage by Lightning, whether fire ensues or not, and insures Live Stock against being killed by Lightning anywhere on the farm. The Agricultural Insurance Co., is a stock company, and the strongest and largest company, doing an exclusive Dwelling Business in the United States, if not in the world, and is now issuing 50000 Policies a year. For further particulars, apply to W. G. HONNER, Agent, Emmitsburg, Md.

THE Democratic Advocate, (Westminster) discourses as below upon "a pair of twins." We do not see why there should be the least hesitation in ruling out the expression for all, there is no sense and less reason in it, as for the authorities, they only confirm the accepted phrase, "great men are not always wise." The case needs no better argument than is given in the article. "Is it proper to say 'a pair of twins'?" We have no less an authority for such a phraseology than the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table. And yet, are not 'a pair of twins' four? Twins are not less than a pair, and a 'pair of twins,' according to the usual computation, are not less than four, although, by the common use of those terms, is meant only two. If 'twins' will express one's meaning properly, then 'a pair of' is not only surplus verbiage, but is numerically wrong.—But, we hesitate to pronounce a man like Oliver Wendell Holmes wrong, and will submit this question to the critical acumen of our readers. Who will solve it? Let us hear from you.

The same paper however contains an obituary, which closes, "This is three little babies they have lost." How could that babe be three?

VENDOR'S PREDICTIONS FOR DECEMBER.—VENDOR sends to the Albany Argus his weather predictions for December, as follows:

"December will, in all probability, open with little snow, but the weather will be cloudy, threatening snow falls.—There will probably be some snow from about the 4th of the month. With the second quarter of the month colder weather will probably set in with falls of snow, but good sleighing need not be expected until after the middle of the month. There will be a spell of mild weather about the 12th and 14th. After a brief interval of mild weather, during which more snow will fall, the third quarter of the month will probably see blustering and cold weather. The last quarter of the month will bring milder weather, but will terminate probably with heavy snow falls and stormy weather; in fact the heaviest snow falls will be toward the end of the month, and snow blockades may be looked for, the snow falls extending far to the southward, possible as far as Washington, with very stormy weather around New York and Boston."

[COMMUNICATED.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23, 1880.

DEAR CHRONICLE.—Perhaps among your many readers, there may be some few, who could have no objection to doing something of this "Elysium" of the West. The location of St. Louis, so well known, will count for its rapid growth. Central position in the Union, it gleams its commerce from all points, both by water and rail. Our new census, just finished, makes the population between 350 and 350,000. It is fast becoming the central grain market, and is one of the largest grocery and drug markets in the Union; and no one can thoroughly appreciate the amount of its commerce, till he investigates for himself. The city extends over a great area making it the second city in the U. S., in extent, if not in population. In fact, it is the Philadelphia of the West, and if its progress should be as rapid during the next years, as in the past, we may safely predict, that it will be the principal city of the Union. We have five hotels of first-class accommodation, and another soon to be completed, besides the numerous second-class establishments always found in densely populated towns. Our new Custom House is rapidly being completed, and will be one of the largest in the country. The cost will be about $3,000,000, and it is expected to be ready for use in 1883. The bridge across the Mississippi, has added greatly to our interest, by connecting R. R. communications, East, and our Tunnel enables us to have a complete central R. R. depot.

We have quite a number of newspapers, among which are Globe Democrat, which is a Republican; the St. Louis Republican, a staunch Democrat; the Post, Dispatch, and others. Until a few years, pennies, as money in circulation, were unknown, dimes and half-dimes being the lowest coins in circulation, which was a serious drawback to business, and it was overcome at last, by a daily issued evening paper, The Chronicle, which sold for two cents a copy, and is one of the best papers in the West for news and gossip. We have four respectable houses of amusement, and many that ought to be suppressed. I forgot to mention that our cotton business is immense, and any one visiting St. Louis, should not fail to see the works of the Southern Cotton Compress Co. Our weather is moderate, though there is, occasionally, intense cold, it does not last long, and snow is much appreciated as we seldom have it in any quantity. WANDERER, dec 4y 360 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

St. Nicholas for '81. 5000 for England, 100,000 for America.

St. Nicholas, the charming magazine for boys and girls, edited by Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge, has increased so much in size and number of pages during the past year that the publishers have been obliged to issue the yearly volume in two parts, instead of one as heretofore. As to its circulation, they report a gain of 10,000 in the average monthly editions of 1880 over 1879. The announcements for the coming year include a capital story for boys, full of exciting adventure, "In Nature's Wonderland," or Adventures in the American Tropics; Stories of Art and Artists, by Mrs. Clara Erskine Clement, a faithful outline of the history of European Art, with many illustrations; "Phaeton Rogers," a delightful and humorous serial by Rossiter Johnson; "Mystery in a Mansion," a six month serial; The Treasure-Box of Literature, directing and encouraging young people in the best reading; The Agassiz Association, fully explained in the November number; "Two English Queens," by Mrs. Oliphant; "The Land of Nod," a children's operetta, with music,—full of charming tableaux and effects; A series of beautifully illustrated Ballads for Young Folks, beginning with the Christmas number; A Special Budget of Fairy Stories by Frank R. Stockton—the first of which is in the November number; An Indian Story by "Bright Eyes," the Ponca Indian maiden; a splendid holiday story, "A Christmas with the man in the Moon," by Washington Gladden. Open-air Papers, stories of sports and games, will be continued, with all the popular departments. Subscriptions beginning with the November issue will include "the wonderful Christmas number," of which the edition will be 5,000 in England and 100,000 in America. The price of this number, to be issued about November 30th, will be 30 cents. Regular price $3.00 a year; 25 cents a number. For sale, and subscriptions received, by all dealers, or the publishers, Scribner & Co., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

FITS EPILEPSY, OR FALLING SICKNESS

Permanently Cured—no humbug—no one with a single fit of Goutard's Celebrated Infallible Fit Powders. To convince sufferers that these powders will do them all we claim for them, we will send them by mail, post paid, a free Trial Box. As Dr. Goutard is the only physician that has ever made this disease a special study, and as to our knowledge thousands have been permanently cured by the use of these Powders, we will guarantee a permanent cure in every case, or refund you all money expended. All sufferers should give these Powders an early trial, and be convinced of their curative powers. 21 Numbers of Scribner's for $5

The richly illustrated November number of Scribner's Monthly, the Decennial Issue, appears in a new cover, and begins the twenty-first volume. The increasing popularity of the magazine is strongly evidenced by recent sales. A year ago the monthly circulation was about 80,000 copies; during the past nine months it has averaged 115,000 while the first edition of the November issue is 125,000.

The first Part of the now famous serial by Eugene Schuyler, "The Life of Peter the Great," was finished in October. With November begins Part II, "Peter the Great as Ruler and Reformer," which will be an advance, in point of popular interest and wealth of illustration, upon the part already published.—The publishers made the following special offers to new subscribers after October 20th, who begin with the November number.

- (1) New subscribers may obtain, for $5.00, Scribner's Monthly for the coming year, and the previous nine numbers, February to October, 1880, which include Part I. of "Peter the Great," Mrs. Burnett's "Louisiana," etc. In accepting this offer, twenty-one numbers will be had for $9.00.
 - (2) They may obtain the previous twelve numbers of Scribner's elegantly bound in olive-green cloth (two volumes), containing Part I. of Peter the Great, all of Cable's novel, "The Grandissimes," with the numbers named above and a year's subscription, for $7.50.—Regular price, $10.00.
- All book-sellers or news-dealers will take subscriptions and supply the numbers and volumes mentioned in the above special offers, without extra charge for postage or express; or the publishers, Scribner & Co., 743 Broadway, New York, may be addressed direct. The regular price of Scribner's is $4.00 a year, 35 cents a number.

CONSUMPTION Positively Cured

All sufferers from this disease that are anxious to be cured should try Dr. KISSNER'S Celebrated Consumptive Powders.—These Powders are the only preparation known that will cure Consumption and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs—indeed, so strong is our faith in them, and also to convince you that they are no humbug, we will forward to every sufferer by mail, post paid, a free Trial Box. Agricultural.

Turning Carcasses into Fertilizers. The following method is given on good authority for not only preventing the escape of disagreeable odors from carcasses, but for converting them into a valuable fertilizer...

Remedy for Peach-Tree Blight. It looks as if there was some virtue in the following, which is claimed by a Western grower of peaches, and we publish it that peach-growers may give it a trial...

SPRING AND FALL PIGS.—Pigs littered in the fall or early winter, owing to the cold weather, lack of green food, etc., seldom make a good start, and in many cases are eaten so soon as dropped by their voracious dams...

PROFESSOR HILGARD of California, says the simplest way in which a farmer can obtain the full benefit of a moderate quantity of bones is to mix them in a hot, fermenting manure pile, provided the pile is kept in a proper condition of moisture.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

PIE CRUST.—Three and a half cupfuls of sifted flour; one cupful sweet lard, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful baking-powder, one cupful very cold water; mix with knife, using hands as little as possible to mix with; roll.

ROAST OYSTERS.—Open, leave the oysters upon the lower shells, place in a large dripping-pan and set in the upper grate in a quick oven for ten minutes. Take out, season with butter, pepper and salt and serve upon the shell.

OYSTER SOUP.—One quart of solid oysters, free from grit. Pour into a saucepan two quarts of boiling water; cream, a large tablespoonful of flour with a half-teaspoonful of butter, thicken the boiling water with the paste, season with pepper, boil up, add the oysters and cook until the edges curl. Have heated a teacupful of sweet cream or as rich milk as you can get, turn into the tureen, pour in the oysters and serve.

FOR burns and scalds there is nothing more soothing than the white of an egg, which may be poured over the wound. It is softer as a varnish for a burn than collodion and, being always on hand, can be applied instantly. It is the contact with the air which gives the extreme discomfort experienced from ordinary accidents of this kind; and anything which excludes air and prevents inflammation is the thing to be at once applied.

Humorous.

Son and heir—"Ma, I wish you would not leave me alone with the baby 'cause I have to eat all the jam an' oranges and cake and things to amuse her."

THERE was a large boiler of scalding water over a fire in the yard and several black imps playing near it. Suddenly a shrill voice was heard from inside the shanty: "You Gawge Washington, keep away from dat ar biler. Directly you is gwine upset de biler all over yourself, and yer will be the fust one to say: "Twan't me, mammy."

DURING a country ramble Brown fell into a puddle and fearfully muddied his inexpressibles. Jones, his companion, was trying by means of a casual stick to rid Brown of some of the thickest of it, when a passing countryman inquired: "Say, yeou what'r yeou doin'?" "My friend, I am simply scraping an acquaintance," said Jones in his blindest tones.

GILHOOLY lives down on Galveston avenue, not far from a milkman. yesterday he met the milkman, and taking him off to one side asked him seriously: "Wasn't there a fire in your barn early yesterday? I had a great notion to rush over to your assistance!" "Why, there wasn't no fire about the barn," said the milkman, his ears sticking out like door knobs; "what made you think so?" "Nothing except that I saw you pump two buckets of water right quick and rush into the stable with them where you milk your cows."

THE canny Scot has always an eye to the main chance, and will even go to church on a week day if he can get pay for it. A gentleman who employs a great number of hands in a manufactory in the west of Scotland, in order to encourage his work-people to a due attendance at church on a fast-day told them that if they went to church they would receive their wages for that day in the same manner as if they had been at work. Upon which a deputation was appointed to acquaint their employer that "if he would pay them for over hours, they would attend likewise at the Methodist chapel in the evening."
