EMMITSBURG, MD.:

SATURDAY, SEPT. 9, 1882.

THE SCHOOLS AND THEIR TEACHERS.

The beginning of the school year is an interesting time for all who are in anywise connected with, or concerned in the matter of education.

The scholars, with more or less regret, contemplate the close of the joyous season of vacation. The teachers look forward to the course of usefulness they hope to pursue, while the parents, who are influenced by considerations as to the welfare of their children, are concerned that they may come under proper government, wise direction and careful training; and the Trustees, wishing to discharge aright the interests committed to their supervision, are exercised to see the school in proper working order, and to secure success to the contemplated objects before them.

The course of education seems at all points to be an experimental one; every person who undertakes to work in its interest, comes forward with some project of his own, more or less ideal, which he aims to engrain upon the system, in the hope of promoting its efficiency. In this way change and uncertainty have characterized the entire work, so that what in one year seems satisfactory, and gives promise of being continued, will the very next year be condemned and thrown aside as unworthy of further trial.

It would seem that such a thing as a complete and perfect order of school government, and instruction, is not to be contemplated in the present state of social relations; change is characteristic of everything with which we have to do. Thought itself is ever taking on new forms of expression, the deductions of science and the advances of art, all require at times new images, in which they may be recognized. That system therefore in the school which best meets the existing requirements of a community, may, to all intents and purposes be regarded as the complete one for the locality. No procrustean bed can be constructed in the case.

A community where general refinement, and elevated educational influences prevail will demand a higher and more extended course, than one of lower intellectual grade. But when all is said and done, the efficiency of a teacher's work lies, not so much in his working upon a prescribed system, as in his own mental competency for his work. He cannot impart that which he does not possess, and the mere possession of knowledge in any given form, does not by any means, imply the capacity to impart it; that is a gift in itself, apart from mere scholarship; one which is uninfluenced by examinations, and is not conveyed along with any certificate of merit.

The good teacher is one, who having mastered the mysteries of learning, has the capacity to make over the same to his pupils, enlarging their ideas, so that they may appropriate, and make what is taught their own. This aptitude, with a well stored mind behind it, necessarily produces the teacher par excellence; but the best educators are so often deficient in this respect—the capacity to teach, that in practical exercise, the reward of success not seldom attaches to medium ability. A man who respects himself, so as to command the respect of his scholars, whose decision of character, promptness and punctuality in duty, with a just estimate of the importance and dignity of his calling, will make a good teacher in any situation. He will enter upon his work with his heart in it, not merely from mere nifty motives, and not using his place as a convenient stepping stone to something beyond, but taking his stand on a professional basis, will devote his services to the same, as to a life occupation. He will therefore be a constant student, adding to his knowledge, that he may be the better able to instruct others. Herein, we conceive, lies the solution of the problems that concern the efficiency of any and all schemes of education, even the elevation of the teacher's state to a professional position; to give it permanency, like unto the places of the Lawyer, the Physician and the Divine. Let the emoluments of the office be such as will raise it to the honour and dignity of a learned profession in fact, as it is now but in name, and the law of demand and supply will work for the removal of all the distracting issues of the past.

THE WAR IN EGYPT.

In the latter part of last week there were reported only slight skirmishes at Ismailia, and that Arabi was withdrawing his troops to Tel-el Kebir, whilst the English, on their part, were strengthening their position at Ramleh, by concentrating the lines.

The beginning of this week found Gen. Wolseley continuing his preparations to attack Arabi Pasha, and sending his sick and wounded to the rear. The Sultan proclaimed Arabi a rebel.

There has been a halt in the English operations within the last few days. The Egyptians being well fortified, the English are entrenching, evidently awaiting reinforcements wherewith to make a forward movement with effect.

The parade of working men in New York, on Tuesday, was a grand affair, more than twelve thousand men marched with banners, flags and transparencies, all trades were united in one vast organization. The numbers on the Pic-nic grounds, Elm Park, were estimated at from 20,000 to 50,000, here the unions camped, some in tents, and some under trees. The idea of the demonstration was that labour should have more recognition.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

Hungary's wheat harvest is better than for years and a large export business is expected.

The yellow fever is spreading at Pensacola, and the United States troops and sailors have been ordered away.

On Tuesday the peach train into New York city numbered 82 cars each containing 500 crates of peaches and this is the daily rate, 10,000,000 of peaches.

A WAR is about to open between Japan and Korea, in consequence of the massacre of Japanese representatives at the Korean capital by the anti foreign party.

A resolution was recently offered in the House of Representatives, proposing an amendment to the constitution to empower the President to veto separate items of appropriation bill.

Hon. Robert M. McLane sailed from New York for Havre Wednesday, on the steamship France, to join his wife and daughter, who have been spending the summer near Paris, and expect to return to the United States in a few weeks.

A FORTUNATE HOSTLER.—Charles Miller, a hostler, employed by J. F. Wentling, of Greensburg, Pa., on Thursday received a letter from his uncle, who resides in Philadelphia, stating that Charles's grandmother was dead, and by her will he had fallen heir to two business blocks in Philadelphia, a house and lot in Edensburg, Cambria county, and a large amount of money.

Senator Stewart, the independent republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, has proposed to Gen. Beaver, the republican candidate, a joint discussion of the political differences in the State, at such places and times as may be agreed upon by the chairman of the respective State committees. It is said that Mr. Stewart also contemplates inviting Comptroller Pattison, the democratic candidate for Governor, to meet him in a joint discussion of the issues of the campaign.

THE "PRACTICAL" DIFFERENCE BETWEEN POETRY AND PHILOSOPHY.—It sounds very poetic to say "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," but why not apply the principle to the more practical side of the subject, and render the quotation thus:—"Swayne's Ointment on account of stopping the itching caused by the Piles has made countless thousands well and happy." There would be sound logic in this but poets are never cheerful, are they?

ACCORDING to the Rochester Union a boy called at the side door of the residence of a gentleman at that city recently and begged for something to eat. The servant said they had nothing. "Give me only a piece of bread," said the boy. A white terrier dog that had stood beside the girl was momentarily missed, but quickly returned, bearing in her mouth a large piece of bread that had been previously given her to eat. The dog went directly up to the boy, extended her paws with the bread in her mouth, and offered it to him.

CERTAINLY INVITING

Are the now as well as the hitherto mentioned features of the grand Oriole Festival at Baltimore—What the B. & O. propose to do.

Baltimore will certainly look her very best next week and afford her visitors such a treat as will for the time being at the least make the Monumental City the most popular centre in all the country. It is doubtful if so attractive a three days programme was ever before made up for a municipal celebration.

There appears almost literally no end to the new features being constantly added, and, practically, the whole week will be given over to one steady series of enjoyments. Baltimore is a big place, ranking high up among the great cities of the country in point of population, in many interests she stands first. Although having a reputation for conservatism, it is of that character which insures a thorough handling of everything which is undertaken. The first city in all the land to inaugurate railroad construction, the B. & O. being the pioneer passenger railway of the world, and now most fittingly offering all the advantages of half the regular rate of fare from every and all points on its great line. The first city lighted by gas, she is also the first city to adopt as a municipality the electric light, the entire city being now most brilliantly illuminated. The first city to fairly enter the lists against New Orleans in pageantry; this year's display will beyond all comparison excel any ever made in any city, not even excepting the very home of the Carnival, the Crescent City itself. Indeed, New Orleans herself will render all powerful aid in accomplishing such a result, for she sends her four greatest and grandest mystic societies to participate. The pageant of Thursday night, September 14th, will be a remarkable event, and as the visiting organizations are composed of the leading merchants and citizens of the cities named, the gathering at Baltimore is a grand compliment to that city. The Oriole has for months been closely and most diligently at work upon its divisions of the grand pageant, and they will be the most imposing and greater in number than ever before attempted by any one society. Last year's lesson was a most excellent one, and those who question what this year's result will be had better consider well before coming to a conclusion. The remarkable division of the visiting societies will itself be worth a journey of a thousand miles, but when is added the divisions of the Oriole, the general effect will be fairly beyond description. Military Day, Tuesday, 12th, Lord Baltimore Day, Wednesday, 13th, and Mystic Day, Thursday, 14th, will all present wonderfully varied attractions. On Military Day the parade will be a most memorable one. The second day will be as replete with attractions as the first, the parade being of a different character and in many respects decidedly novel and unique. The reception of Lord Baltimore will be accompanied by peculiarly striking and effective details. The military, the uniformed societies and the trades all parade in honor of Cecilius. The trade parade will embrace upwards of a hundred grandly gotten up tableau cars, illustrative of the city's material interests. A new feature of Wednesday is the novel night parade of steam vessels in the harbor, all of them most brilliantly illuminated and discharging fireworks. This promises to be a decidedly unique thing in every way.

The exceeding liberality of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in making so great a reduction in rates, is most emphatically to be commended. It is Baltimore's greatest corporation, and may always be counted upon to stand by its friends, not only in the Monumental City but all along its entire line. The rate by the B. & O. is one-half the regular fare, or one fare for the round trip, and will be in force on all the lines, divisions and branches owned by the Company. More than this, its immediate connecting lines have made the same rates, and thus not only is Chicago, Columbus, Pittsburgh and all the intervening country favored, but Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis as well. Every preparation has been made for the accommodation of all, and in addition to the regular trains which run from St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Chicago, and Columbus to Baltimore without change, extra sections and special trains will be provided wherever required to meet the demands. The B. & O. proposes to please all and afford such unexampled time and perfect accommodations as will not only retain all its old friends but make scores of new ones.

THE DEERING
TWINE SELF-BINDING HARVESTER.
AN IMMENSE SUCCESS!
10,000 SOLD THIS SEASON!
BENJAMIN F. STEWART
THE SOLE AGENT.

Call and see the Greatest Machine of the day.
Perfectly simple in its construction, no mechanic needed to run it; any farmer can work it.
The Deering will bind grain not for a day, but for an entire harvest.
It is light draught and no weight on the horse's neck.

IT IS EASY OF OPERATION

—AND—

MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL.

It cuts and binds entire crops without missing a solitary sheaf.
It separates every sheaf and never chokes.
Other machines require three and four horses, and in tangle grain require extra help with them.
The sheafs do not come open in hauling in.

The Deering does its work so easy as to require both man and horse.
Every satisfaction guaranteed or no sale, and every purchaser his own judge and jury.

The Famous ADRIANCE REAPER.

This machine has been in active work in Pennsylvania for the past six years, and to-day stands at the head of its class. Be careful to examine its superior points. No reaper in the market will cut a point which no other reaper can claim. Three speeds for the rake arms independent of the knife—running fast in light grain, medium in standing grain and slow in down grain. No other reaper has it. Rake head is placed far away from table and no grain can wind in it. Only four cog wheels, with long bearings and solid boxes. Platform can be folded for transportation on the road in five minutes. Seat folds instantly. Rakes can be adjusted for either rake to sweep the table form every one to every sixth and all turned into rakes instantly without stopping. Angle Iron Finger Bar which can be adjusted to vary the length of cut from one to eighteen inches. I challenge any agent to produce a machine its equal in ease of handling, Lightness of Draft, Simplicity, Durability and Construction. Width of cut five to six feet, with extra down grain slats, rods, etc., furnished free of charge.

THE CELEBRATED ADRIANCE MOWER.

This mower is now entering upon Twenty-seventh year and old age improves it. It is manufactured at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., by Adriance, Platt & Co., who also build the world renowned Reapers, Buckeye Reapers, and Mowers, combined and single. The manufacturers have not been compelled (as some of its competitors) to change its principles from year to year and as an expected result give the farmer an experimental machine. No "rat trap" getting with "gingdie" joints, which talks well but works poorly, but in its place we give you a mower with the old reliable gear, using long shafts, procuring our first or slow motion from the bevel pinion, and the second or fast motion from the straight spur pinion, equalizing the wear and strengthening its cutting capacity—exactly the reverse from all other mowers. Also perfect Tilting Lever, with astonishing simplicity for raising and lowering points of guards, and when folded the bar lays flat across the frame, which every one will admit is the only safe way. Front end which allows the operator to watch both machine and horses and no danger of being thrown in front of the knife.

OUR venerable friend, Mr. Frederick Black sent us a double peach, last week which was particularly curious, from the fact that the fruit was not only outwardly double, but it contained two perfectly formed and full-grown seeds, firmly joined together.

THE best way to dispose of peach pits is to put them into the coal-bin. It often proves deadly to feed them to swine, and nothing so rapidly wears out a trough in the pens, as happens by their being rubbed back and forth in them by the brutes. When you have enough for planting, destroy the rest, for your own comfort and that of others.

REV. WALTER E. KREBS of Littlestown, Pa., will preach (D. V.) in the Reformed Church at Emmitsburg, on Sunday the 10th of September inst., at 10 o'clock a. m., and in the afternoon of the same day at Fairfield, Pa.

We have received a copy of the Ladies Floral Cabinet, published at 23 Vesey St., New York, at $1.25 a year, which is full of interesting and instructive reading matter, and has the general appearance of a work that would be a welcome visitor in any refined family.

Registration.
Notices for the September registration have been printed. The registrars will sit from 8 o'clock a. m. to 7 p. m., on next Tuesday, and until Saturday evening, the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th, and on Tuesday the 12th to the end of the week, being the 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th days of September, 1882.

The Democratic Central Committee of Frederick county has appointed the 30th inst., as the day for the primary meetings, and the 21st day of October for the county convention to elect delegates to the judicial convention to be held in Frederick on the 5th of October, and the congressional convention at Cumberland on the 12th of October.

Accident to an Editor.
HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 7.—A telegraphic dispatch was received here this evening announcing that Mr. Edwin Bell, editor of the Mail, of this place, was to-day thrown from a buggy at Roanoke, Va., and seriously injured. He is being brought home on the night train, and Dr. Simmons, of this place, has been summoned to be in attendance.—Sun.

The American Farmer for September 1st, commends itself to the careful consideration of those engaged in agricultural pursuits, as there are an unusual number of short articles on the different interests of farming life, calculated to afford much needed information. This publication is eminently trustworthy, and its suggestions are always to the point. Published on the 1st and 15th of every month by Samuel Sands and Son, 128 W. Baltimore St., Baltimore.

List of Letters.
The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., Sept. 4, 1882. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them.

Miss Myrtle Eline, Mrs. Annabel Hahn Mr. McLean, Edward F. Oiler, E. S. Porter, Miss Hannah Reeves, Mrs. Marie Shriner, Miss Julia Schwarber, Mrs. Geo. H. White.

Future Registration.
We incline to the opinion that it will be found advisable in the future, to register the voters, in the same way the census, and the assessments of property are taken—by personal visitation. If the fathers did fight and bleed and die, to secure for us the rights of freemen—the greatest of them being the right to vote—there are plenty of persons, whose self-sufficiency makes them indifferent to their privileges.

That's What's the Matter!
"The Old Man" has been as cross as a bear for a week past. No wonder that bread is heavy enough to kill an ostrich. Go right to Bussey's and get a package of "Dry Hop Yeast," it will cost you but 10 cents for one dozen cakes. Give the "Old Man" some light bread, and he will "smile again."

MR. W. W. WITHEROW, of Adams county, Pa., brought us a most delicious peach that measured 9 1/2 inches in circumference, and weighed 8 ounces. We wish to see the person who can come up to it. Be quick. As an offset to the peach he brought two worms taken from a Prickly Ash tree, that were as beautiful in appearance as they seemed hideous in nature. We regret that our entomological knowledge has grown too rusty for us to name them.

"A LAND of darkness, as darkness itself."—Job.

The authorities of Emmitsburg are discordant. The result has been darkness for the inhabitants, who are innocent of any interest in the fight. When there should be light at night, the lamps are enveloped in the same darkness which covers the town. It is contemplated to elevate and illuminate the body corporate, on the public square, and close the exercises with music and dances.

P. S.—The lamps were lighted on Thursday night.

"Let Him Who Wins It Bear The Palm."
"He who cures the ills of flesh" quoth the sage, "is even greater than he who conquers in war." Certain it is then, that Dr. Swaney has earned the laurel of greatness. His Ointment for skin diseases has been the means of releasing thousands from the indescribable horrors of that complaint. The best evidence of an article is obtained by a practical test, and the unsolicited endorsement of those who profit by its use.

Jurors Disqualified.
The following gentleman drawn as Jurors for September term of our Circuit Court are disqualified: Daniel Baker, Jr., Buckeystown District; E. Louis Cramer, Frederick; W. G. Horner, Emmitsburg; John W. Sencenbaugh and Uriah Hurley, Catoctin; Levi Price, Urbana; Henry G. Wilson, Liberty; Joseph Shafer, Jefferson; John Jones, Mechanicstown; David F. Kinney, Jackson; Wm. R. Clabaugh, Johnsville; Wm. A. Lindsey and Jacob D. Trostle, Woodville; Cleggett W. Dorsey, Linganore. The following were drawn in their stead: George W. Padgett, Buckeystown; A. M. Landauer, Frederick; John Metzger, Emmitsburg; Levi Brandenburg and Samuel L. Holter, Catoctin; John H. Tabler, Urbana; James H. Roberts, Liberty; Carlton Horne, Jefferson; John A. Roddy, Mechanicstown; George D. Graver, Catoctin; Charles E. Ball, Johnsville; Jos. Hood, Woodville; George Gaither, Linganore.—Examiner.

An Enquiry.
MR. EDITOR.—Who is to blame for the new school-year, finding this community without a teacher for the public school? There must be a great lack of interest in the subject on the part of the citizens, as well as efficiency on that of the school directors.

We doubt not the school Trustees can give all enquirers a satisfactory account of their acts.

In the Stanhope vs. Stanhope divorce case, in which the daughter of Gov. Hamilton is the plaintiff and John S. Stanhope is the defendant, after several months' delay, another step was taken last week in the form of an attachment against the defendant, which has been served. The defendant having appeared by counsel and not answered the complaint, Mrs. Stanhope, nee Clara Hamilton, has a right to an interlocutory decree and divorce. The complainant may now obtain her decree interlocutory and proceed to take testimony ex parte and prove the allegations in her bill, and if she proves her case, obtain a decree of divorce.—Ex.

Serious Accident.
While Henry Sailor was unloading some goods from a cart on Tuesday, at A. R. Renner's, Sharpsburg, an accident that may terminate fatally occurred to his little son, Edward, who was holding the reins while his father was unloading the goods. When Mr. Sailor walked to the back of the cart to take off a barrel of crackers, the dump-stick being out, the cart tilted and tossed the father and son out. Mr. Renner, who was standing by caught Sailor, but the boy was pitched over Renner's head on the street, where he fell at full length, striking his back and head, and causing a severe concussion of the brain. Dr. Biggs, who attended the injured boy, is unable to state yet what will be the result of the fall.—Sharpsburg Enterprise.

Geo. H. SALZGIVER, formerly of Littlestown, was drowned in the Codorus, at Spring Forge on Monday of last week. He was laying out-lines and was drowned in a hole not deeper than 5 1/2 feet. The York Daily says a strange feature of the affair was a dream had by the eldest son of Mr. Salzgeber on the night of the fatal accident. It seems the lad had remonstrated with his father against going on this trip, and during the night he dreamt that his father was drowned. In his sleep he called aloud to his mother, saying that "Father is drowned." When he awoke in the morning, he related his dream to his mother, when she told him she had heard him crying during the night. The conversation was barely concluded when the wagon with the father's corpse arrived at the door.—Compler.

From the Hagerstown Odd Fellow.

Workmen have commenced tearing down the property recently purchased by Mr. Wm. Uplegraff of Dr. Frederick Dorsey, on Washington street, preparatory to lay the foundation for a large glove factory. The foundation will be laid this fall, but we understand, the building will not be finished until next spring.

One day last week a difficulty occurred between a son of Mr. Jacob Strite, in the Conococheague district, and a hired laborer on the farm, named King, in which the latter was assaulted by young Strite with a club and badly battered up. The injuries inflicted were thought to be of a very serious nature, and the matter has been called to the attention of the State's Attorney. It is likely Strite will surrender himself to the authorities, if he has not done so already. The whole matter was the result of hot blood on both sides, and is to be regretted very much.

THE business of Life Insurance which had such an active run in these parts about one year ago and earlier, has passed into forgetfulness, except with those who invested more money in it, than was returned to them. We believe the business was conducted here on an honorable basis; it yielded to the pressure brought against it by reason of the disreputable practices that signaled its course elsewhere. In the death-struggles of the drowning others are often engulfed. The effects of the business, however well meant were the doings of its agents, seems to have had a demoralizing influence over the community which shows itself in a general disinclination to lend a helping-hand to any project of general interest that does not promise pecuniary reward. We could have had mountain water coursing through the streets for the money that was sunk in the business, we could have had a cigar factory, and broom factory and other establishments of industrial progress. But all these projects and others are sleeping the sleep of stagnation.

Unlucky.
The Commissioners of this place were duly sworn into office after the May election. They proceeded to make arrangements to pave the streets at a heavy outlay of money: numerous tax-payers, by their respectful petition opposed the movement; the "powers that be," having apparently exhausted their best endeavors, stopped short, right there, and Achilles-like, have been on a sort of a sulks ever since. The Burgess seems to refuse to accord with the law-makers; next may come orders from the Court that may awaken a sense of responsibility somewhere. It would be odd to find the town turned over to a receiver! The offices are all without emolument.

Capable Mechanics.

The Bridge Gang in the employ of the Western Maryland Railroad consists of thirteen men, eleven of whom are citizens of our town, one of the neighborhood of Emmitsburg and one from Cave-town. The Boss, Mr. Irving Loy is a citizen of this place, who was promoted to fill the place made vacant by the withdrawal of Mr. S. J. Scott, formerly of this place, now of Phillipsburg, Pa.

The Gang has just completed the 300 feet trestle in the mountain, two miles west of here, having replaced the old with new timbers without having delayed one of the numerous trains that pass over it daily. This is the second large trestle renewed by them this season, they having in like manner replaced the part Howe Truss bridge and part trestle over the gorge at Beaver Branch, just west of Rocky Ridge. They are called upon to do various kinds of work outside of bridge building, such as laying platforms, fanning depot buildings and car sheds, and have been complimented by those in authority for their commendable proficiency in general work. We are pleased to know this, for we have long looked upon the Bridge Gang, as one of the Western Maryland institutions, exclusively Mechanicstown, and as such, feel a pride in their preference. We accept, in good faith, this expression of esteem by their employers, knowing them, as we do, to be every man of them, intelligent and capable mechanics.—Clarion.

An Art and Industrial Exhibition in the Capitol at Washington.

Under the auspices of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland, for the benefit of the Garfield Monument Fund.

The Board of Direction, composed of some of the most prominent names in public life, including members of the Supreme Court, Senators, Members of Congress, Army and Navy officers of high rank, and the first citizens of Washington, send the following to the press:

A National Bazaar, Art, and Industrial Exposition will be held in the rotunda and adjacent halls, of the National Capitol, at Washington, D. C., November 25th to December 3d, (inclusive), 1882, as authorized by joint resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, August 7, 1882. The object of this undertaking is to raise funds with which to erect a statue in this city to the memory of General James A. Garfield, late President of the United States, which work is in the hands of a committee of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland, who have already collected for this purpose some twenty thousand dollars, and expect, with the results of the exposition, to have a sufficient sum with which to erect a work befitting the great name it is proposed to commemorate.

The art exhibition will be under the direction of the leading artists residing in Washington. It is hoped that artists throughout the entire country, professional and amateurs, will aid the work by contributing some one work—as a gift to the fund—to be sold for its benefit, and be willing to exhibit others, under such rules and regulations as may be determined by the Board of Direction. All persons desiring to contribute in any way to this great work are cordially invited to do so, and to proceed in such manner as their judgement may dictate. Contributions from the ladies in the way of needle and fancy work are especially invited and anticipated as one of the more prominent features of the exposition.

To manufacturers this Exhibition offers opportunities second only to the Centennial Exposition. Occurring on the eve of the assembling of Congress, and at the season of the year when all the foreign representatives are at their legations, every exhibit will have the attention, not only of our own representatives, but of the representatives of the Press, who will gladly make full mention of all worthy exhibits; this, with the fact that each donation or exhibit contributes so much to a work that must commend itself to every patriotic citizen. All exhibits will bear the name of artist, manufacturer, etc., and will remain in place until the close of the exposition. Arrangements for transportation of exhibits are being made, and details will be given on application to the Board of Erection, rooms 90 to 96, Ebbitt House, Washington, D. C.

How to Make Cows Give Milk.

A writer in the Southern Farmer says his cow gives all the milk that is wanted in a family of eight, and that from it, after taking all that is required for other purposes, 260 pounds of butter were made this year. This is in part his treatment of the cow:

"If you desire to get a large yield of rich milk, give your cows every day water slightly warmed and slightly salted, in which bran has been stirred at the rate of one quart to two gallons of water. You will find, if you have not tried this daily practice, that your cow will give twenty-five per cent more milk immediately under the effects of it, and she will become so attached to the diet as to refuse to drink clear water unless very thirsty. But this mess she will drink almost any time, and ask for more. The amount of this drink necessary is an ordinary pail full at a time, morning, noon and night.

Whitewash the Out-Buildings.

There is no more healthful method of keeping the stables, sheds, and pens clean, than to give them a good coat of lime-wash. The wash is easily and quickly made as follows: Slake a bushel of fresh lime in a pork, or other barrel, with water enough to make a thick paste, after which fill up the barrel with hot water, and let it stand for a few hours. This wash may be applied in various ways. It may be spread upon the walls with a large white-wash brush, and no pains need be taken to do a neat job. Whatever wash falls upon the floor in the operation, is not lost, but helps to sweeten the stable or stall. The quickest and most satisfactory method, is to use a force pump, by which the lime-wash can be thrown into every corner.

American Agriculturist.

SOME people prefer to purchase medicines in the dry state so that they can see for themselves that they are purely vegetable. Others have not the time or desire to prepare the medicine, and wish it already to use. To accommodate each class the proprietors of Kidney-Wort now offer that well-known remedy in both liquid and dry forms. Sold by all druggists.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

PEA SOUP.—A pound of peas will make a gallon of soup. The peas should be washed and soaked in cold water over night, then be cooked in five pints of water, with gentle simmering. A pound of beef or a ham-bone may be boiled with the peas; for seasoning, add an onion with a few cloves stuck in it, salt to taste, and about forty whole grains of pepper. An ounce or two of sugar will add greatly to the richness of this, as it does to almost all soups. At the end of three hours' simmering, pass the soup through a wire sieve or colander, with the aid of a potato-masher. Fry brown some squares of stale bread in lard or drippings, and add just before serving, or serve these croutons, as they are called, separately, to be added at pleasure. Bean soup may be made in a similar manner. —American Agriculturist.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound, the great medicine for the cure of all female complaints, is the greatest strengthener of the back, stomach, nerves, kidneys, urinary and genital organs of man and woman ever known. Send for circular to Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

To make a paste that will keep, take of wheat flour, one ounce; powdered alum, one-half drachm; water sufficient, or eight ounces; oil of cloves, or wintergreen, three or four drops. Rub the flour and the alum with water to the consistence of milk; place this over a moderate fire and stir constantly until the paste drops from the wooden paddle in jelly-like flakes and has the appearance of starch. While the mass is still hot, add the essential oil and pour the paste into an earthenware pot or open jar. In the course of about an hour a crust forms on the top; pour gently on this an inch of water, more or less. When some paste is wanted, decant the water, take out the quantity needed and put some water again on the remainder, repeating the operation each time. Paste may be kept in this way for months, and will never be troubled with dies.

LOVE JACK, Mo., Sept. 14, 1879. I have been using Hop Bitters, and have received great benefit from them for liver complaint and malarial fever. They are superior to all other medicines. P. M. BARNES.

Humorous.

"It's all a matter of taste," as the boy said when he preferred a piece of gingerbread to a picture-book.

A SOCIABLE man is one who, when he has ten minutes to spare, goes and bothers somebody who hasn't.

"WHAT a change," exclaims the novelist Roe, "one little woman can make in a man's life!" Exactly; and what a heap of "change" she requires while doing it.

BRAIN AND NERVE.—Well's Health Renewer, greatest remedy on earth for impotence, leanness, sexual debility, &c. $1. at druggists. Prepared by express, $1.25, 6 for $5. E. S. Wells, Jersey City, N. J.

"FAITH," said Jimmy O'Brien, "America is the friend of the Irish. Bedad they think so much of the Irish byes and gurrils that they name their States by them. There's O'Hier, and O'Regan, and Mrs. O'Re; which the same is meant for Mrs. O'Hara, and I think as the next state will be O'Brien!"

SAID a pompous individual to a young hopeful, whose parents he was visiting: "Little folks should be seen and not heard." The small boy came to the surface immediately with: "Yes, and big folks, too, when they don't know any more than you do. 'E says you haven't got sense enough to know when to go home." Sensation.

A YOUTH of Hibernian extraction, in chopping wood with a hatchet the other day was so unfortunate as to graze the thumb of his left hand, with which he was steadying the piece of kindling he was splitting. Ruefully gazing at the injured member, he remarked: "Begorra, it was a good thing I did not have told of the handle with both hands, or I would have chopped it off sure."

ABOUT three weeks ago a farmer found a hen's nest in a field near his house which contained five eggs. Time passed and they were forgotten, until one day when on going to nest he found that three of the five had disappeared. Last week he was in the same field and came suddenly upon a large black snake. He had a hoe in his hand which he used in making two parts of the creeping reptile. This had hardly been done when three little chickens made their appearance from one of the wriggling parts of the snake, and one from the other part. The eggs had been swallowed and hatched.

It Didn't Squeak Again.
Fred McCabe, the ventriloquist, was a great joker. Some years ago he was on the Mississippi, on board one of the steamboats, and, making an acquaintance with the engineer, he was allowed the freedom of the engine-room. He sat down in a corner, and, drawing his hat over his eyes, seemed lost in reverie. In a few minutes a certain part of the machinery began to squeak. The engineer oiled it and went about his business. In another few minutes the squeaking was again heard, and the engineer rushed over, oil-can in hand, to give the offending spindle another lubricating. Again he rushed to his post, and again the spindle began squeaking louder than ever. "Jupiter," he yelled, "the thing's bewitched." More oil was administered, but the engineer began to smell a rat. Pretty soon the spindle squeaked again, and, slipping up behind McCabe, the engineer poured half a pint of oil down the joker's back. "I guess that ere spindle won't squeak again." And it didn't.

He Carried the Bullets.
As I sat on the hotel steps at Dalton, Georgia, talking with a drummer from Cincinnati, the landlord came out and asked us if we wanted to see a man who was carrying six bullets about with him. Of course we did, and we walked down to the other end of the verandah and were introduced to Col. B. I was going to approach him leisurely, but the hasty drummer rushed right at him, with:

"So you are carrying six bullets about with you, eh?"
"Yes, sir."
"Do they pain you much?"
"Oh! no."
"Lands alive! but I don't see how you lived through it. How many bullets were you in?"
"Eighteen."
"Did you get all these bullets at one time?"
"Yes, all at once. You want to know where they are located?"
"Exactly—exactly."

"I'm carrying 'em in this pocket to-day," was the quiet reply, as he fished down and brought up six old bullets picked off the battle field. The drummer was so mad about it that he wouldn't eat any supper.
