 "The Old Man" has been as cross as a bear for a week past. No wonder that bread is heavy enough to kill an ostrich. Go right to Bussey's and get a package of "Dry Hop Yeast," it will cost you but 10 cents for one dozen cakes. Give the "Old Man" some light bread, and he will "smile again."

The Baltimore papers of last Wednesday published the letter of John C. Motter, Esq., accepting the nomination of the Republican convention, as their candidate for Associate Judge in this District. The letter is a clear and open statement of the position of the writer, and does credit to his motives throughout.

List of Letters.
 The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmittsburg, Md., Oct. 9, 1882. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them.
 Mr. J. A. Lookingbill, Wm. Moore, H. C. Kiser, Miss S. Myers, Mrs. Agnes Ross, Mrs. Alice Rolston.

Mr. Jas. Gelwick met with an accident on last Wednesday afternoon, near Greencastle which might have proved serious, having started out gunning and on firing his gun, it bursted, the breech and drum being blown out, injured his right eye. Mr. G. suffered great pain for a time.—Clarion.

The Keystone Gazette entered upon its VII Vol. this week. Messrs. Martin and Fisher salute their readers with an introductory, which though somewhat exalted in its strain in the beginning, is toned down in a graceful manner to a business basis as it proceeds. We wish the accomplished Editors abundant success.

To Prolong the Tomato Season.
 Before the heavy frosts set in, pull up some vines by the roots, and hang them in sheds, or where they will not be liable to freeze—the fruit will ripen and will repay the trouble—besides having it still from the vines, when your neighbour has none gives you room to grow!

It will be gratifying to many of our readers, to learn that Rev. John M. Tittel, D. D., of Altoona, Pa., formerly of this place, has been attached to the editorial staff of the Reformed Quarterly Review, and will enter upon his duties, with the January number of that well known Periodical.

It Went On.
 John Briscoe (coloured) son of James Briscoe, had a pistol in the right side pocket of his trousers; some how it went off in the pocket, last Saturday night, the ball lodged in his left thigh, near by the femoral artery. Dr. R. L. Annan extracted it, and made John as comfortable as could be. His experience shows the convenience of carrying those atrocious pocket-pieces! They are made to go off, and a good many persons go with them.

"What Alexander might have Done."
 The late Czar of Russia was eminent by a great man, as his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if you only try it you will have a cure. 1m

Death of Dr. Henry Diehm.
 With the deepest sadness we have learned, just before we go to press (Friday) that Dr. Henry Diehm of Mt. St. Mary's College, died at Andora, his late residence, at 3.30 o'clock this morning. He was in the 72nd year of his age; became Professor at the College in 1843 and remained in that position hitherto. The funeral will take place from the College Church on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. We hope to present an extended notice of his life, and of the funeral ceremonies, in our next issue.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEVER is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Renever has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

 For 20 years the American Agriculturist, now in its 43d year, has been recognized as the leading Agricultural Journal of the world. Notwithstanding its past career, it now enters upon a new era, and proposes to excel its past accomplishments—moving forward to fresh conquests.

The October number appears in a New Cover, New Dress, New Type, New Engravings, with New Artists, and additional Editorial Writers, making altogether the most superb periodical of the kind ever issued. From this time forward the American Agriculturist is determined to avail itself of the best brain power, and the first artistic talent in the country. The proprietors have but to point to its past record as a guarantee of our promises for the future. Never before in its career was the Journal so prosperous as now, and at no time since the first year immediately following the war have subscriptions come in so numerously as they are now coming. We confidently believe that the American Agriculturist in the best paper in the United States for other Journals to Club with, being exclusively Agricultural in its character, as it is, and thus competing with no local Journal. MARYLAND LUTHERAN SYNOD.

At the time of going to press last week the Synod was occupied with various matters relating to church work. The session of Friday afternoon was taken up in presenting the reports on the state of Religion, in the different churches, by the Pastor of each. The reports show, that under the Divine blessing on the means of grace, the year has been one of at least, ordinary spiritual fruitfulness and success. The reports on the Theological Seminary, and on Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, represent both of those Institutions as being in a very prosperous condition.

On Friday evening the exercises were devoted to Beneficent Education. Addresses were delivered by Rev. M. Valentin, D. D., President of Pennsylvania College, Rev. J. G. Butler, D. D., Chairman of the Education Committee, and Rev. R. C. Holland formerly of Roanoke College. In these able and interesting addresses the Synod was urged to seek out and educate worthy young men for the Holy Ministry. The fields are already white for the harvest. Opportunities are given which almost overwhelm by their vastness. Men are needed, who are strong to resist a skeptical age, and able to teach men living lessons from God.

On Saturday morning delegates to the General Synod were elected. This Synod is represented in the General Synod by six ministers and six lay men, among the latter we notice the name of our esteemed townsman Daniel Sheets. Vacancies in the Board of Directors to the Theological Seminary were filled, the speakers for next year appointed, and a large amount of Church work attended to.

Services preparatory to the Lord's Supper were held in the afternoon, and an interesting and instructive sermon delivered by Rev. D. B. Floyd, of Boonsboro.

On Saturday evening the services were held in consideration of the subject of Home Missions. Rev. J. Q. McAttee, of Cumberland, preached an interesting sermon on the occasion, and was followed by Rev. C. S. Albert, of St. Mark's, Baltimore, in an address well conceived and highly edifying. He stated that the Synod still lacked forty dollars of the amount apportioned to it by the General Synod. A Committee was appointed to raise that amount, in a few minutes they reported that they had received $23.35 and that arrangements had been made to secure the balance.

On Sunday morning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. The sermon was preached by Rev. C. S. Albert, of Baltimore, to a very large and attentive audience. While at the same time the other pulpits of the to-wn were filled by the members of Synod.

In the afternoon a service of much interest was conducted in connection with the Sunday School, and speeches were made by Rev. P. Anstadt, editor of the Sunday School Journal; by Mr. Julius D. Dreher, President of Roanoke College, and by Rev. H. W. Kuhns, President of Synod.

In the evening after an Ordination sermon by Rev. P. Bergstresser, D. D., of Waynesboro, Pa., the interest centered in the licensing of eight young men to preach the Gospel and administer the Sacraments: viz. G. S. Bowers, C. A. Eyer, J. G. Graichen, Upton Hankey, C. H. Heister, M. L. Poffenberger, W. E. D. Scott, and M. F. Troxell. After which the President, by order of the Synod, returned thanks to the Pastor and members of the Lutheran Church and also to the members of other Churches for the hospitality extended to the members of Synod during its session.

On Monday morning after having finished all the business that claimed its attention, the Synod passed a vote of thanks to the Western Maryland Railroad for reduced fare and to the President of the Emmittsburg Railroad for special favors, and then closed its session in the Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Emmittsburg, and adjourned to meet in the First English Lutheran Church of Baltimore, on the third day of October, 1882. The meetings were all conducted in a very harmonious manner, and were characterized by a business like dispatch that rendered them successful throughout.

MALARIA, Chills and Fever, and bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy: never fail to cure the most obstinate, long-standing cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed.—They are prepared expressly for malarial sections, in double boxes, two kinds of Pills, containing a strong cathartic and a chill breaker, sugar-coated; contain no Quinine or Mercury, causing no griping or purging; they are mild and efficient, certain in their action and harmless in all cases; they effectually cleanse the system, and give new life and tone to the body. As a household remedy they are unequalled. For Liver Complaint their equal is not known; one box will have a wonderful effect on the worst case. They are used and prescribed by Physicians, and sold by Druggists everywhere, or sent by mail, 25 and 50 cent boxes. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made, only 15 Cents.—Standard Cure Co., 114 Nassau Street New York. apr 22-8m

The twenty-second annual exhibition of the Frederick County Agricultural Association opened on Tuesday. Favoured with bright skies, the opening day proved highly successful, the excellence and variety of the articles on exhibition, met universal commendation. On Wednesday and Thursday the rain interrupted the proceedings, but the crowd continued all the same. The Fair promises to result very successfully.

Imposing Ceremonies at St. Joseph's Church, Emmittsburg, Md.

COMMUNICATED.

On Sunday, the 8th inst., the Most Rev. James Gibbons, D.D., Archbishop of Baltimore, Confirmed a large number of children in St. Joseph's Church.

At an early hour the spacious and sacred edifice was crowded to excess, as not only were all the Catholics in town present on the occasion, but also people from neighbouring congregations, who had come to hear his Grace, and to witness the imposing and solemn ceremonies. The children to be confirmed were seated on either side of the middle aisle, in front of the Altar, the boys on the Gospel, and the girls on the Epistle side. The little girls and a number of young ladies of St. Joseph's Academy, all dressed in white, presented a pleasing spectacle. The divine service began at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Thomas F. Gambon, of Mt. St. Mary's College, celebrated Cram Episcopo, the solemn High Mass, at which the Rev. Thos. J. Fitzgerald, also of the College, acted as deacon and the Rev. Henry F. White, pastor, as sub-deacon. The Very Rev. Father Mandine, C. M., Provincial visitor of the Sisters of Charity, was assistant priest, and the Rev. Father Lavazari, deacon of honour to the Archbishop.

The altar was gorgeously dressed and illuminated. The floral decoration was in keeping with the solemnity of the occasion, and reflected much credit on the young ladies of the Sanctuary Society.

At the end of the Gospel, the Archbishop delivered an instructive sermon on the Sacrament of Confirmation, and after the Mass the Confirmation took place. His Grace was assisted by the Rev. Fathers White, Lavazari, and Father Kittell, of Pittsburgh. Dr. James A. Elder and Philip Lawrence acted as sponsors to the boys and Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Nusser to the girls. The music was very excellent, and the choir under the direction of Miss F. Marion Elder, organist, rendered the various parts of Millard's Mass with much precision, and in a manner highly creditable to the occasion. The soprano soloists were Miss Ann Carroll Elder, Miss Flautt, Miss Celeste Elder and Miss Adelsberger. The bass was well supported by the mellow and well cultivated voice of Mr. Settemeyer, of New York, who is visiting friends in Emmittsburg, and who kindly offered his services on the occasion.

The church, recently renovated and tastefully frescoed, presents a neat and devotional appearance and reflects much credit on the devoted and zealous pastor, the Rev. Henry F. White, C. M., to whose indefatigable labours the Catholics of Emmittsburg are indebted for so many improvements in their church, to gether with the advantage of having established among them a community of the Sisters of Charity, to teach and educate their children. Father White deems the instruction of youth one of the most important duties of a pastor, and he permits no other duty to prevent him from spending an hour three times a week, regularly in the school, teaching, instructing and keeping up a spirit of rivalry and emulation among the scholars.

He has established in his parish, various sodalities and confraternities for the young and old, and the Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and other devotional exercises are regularly held once a week, so that the people have every advantage and facility of enjoying all the blessings of their holy religion. Being regularly instructed and well informed, they know their duty and obligations and they cheerfully and generously cooperate with their esteemed pastor, whose only ambition is their spiritual welfare.

His Grace was highly pleased with his visit to Emmittsburg. He gave solemn Vespers in the afternoon and preached a touching and impressive sermon. He congratulated the Catholics of Emmittsburg on the many advantages they enjoy. He was highly pleased to find the children so well instructed and paid a well merited tribute to their pastor and teachers, the good Sisters of Charity. The children sang vespers alternately with the choir, and their clear, well tuned voices prove that there is musical talent in Emmittsburg.

On Sunday evening, his Grace visited Dr. Henry Diehm, who is very ill at present. His Grace sat by his bed side for a considerable time, spoke to him kindly and encouraging words, and imparted to him his blessing.

He spent Monday at St. Joseph's Academy, where he enjoyed the balmy air of that delightful spot where in the silent shade of its sacred bowers rest the remains of his illustrious predecessor, the late Archbishop Bayley, of sacred memory.

The Archbishop takes great interest in St. Joseph's Academy, which, as an Institution for the education of young ladies, has gained a high reputation, and is deservedly styled the pride of Catholic Maryland. It is the nursery as well as the Mother House of the Sisters of Charity in the United States, where so many young and accomplished ladies consecrate themselves to the service of their Divine Master, and from which they go forth in their mission of charity, wherever the voice of their Superior calls them, whether to teach the elementary parochial school or the higher branches of Science and Literature in the Academy or, as is often the case, to bind up the bleeding wound of the dying soldier, on the battle field, or nurse the plague stricken patient in the hospital, is altogether a matter of indifference to a Sister of Charity. They know no creed in suffering humanity; they set the part of the good Samaritan to all, and are ever ready to place themselves between the most malignant plague and its victim, and to sacrifice their lives in the service of their Divine Master. No wonder then that their Institutions flourish and that God blesses all their labours.

YIATON.

Death of Samuel B. Snively, Esq.
 On Monday morning of last week, 24 inst., Samuel B. Snively, Esq., one of Antrim township's valued and sterling citizens, died at his residence, near Shady Grove, after a long illness, from Bright's disease, in the 58th year of his age. Mr. Snively was a successful farmer, a good business man, and an esteemed citizen, and was well and favorably known in this and adjoining counties. He was a life-long and active member and an elder of the Reformed Church in Greencastle, and was also a life member of Mt. Pisgah Lodge, No 443, F & A. M. In 1876 he was one of the Democratic candidates for the Legislature, and although defeated made a very flattering canvass. He leaves a widow and five children and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. His remains were interred in Cedar Hill Cemetery on Thursday last.—Valley Echo

Black Walnut.

An address delivered last winter by W. H. Ragan, secretary of the Indiana horticultural society, on cultivating the black walnut for profit, contains so much that is valuable that we are induced to refer on the present occasion to some of the facts which it presents and to add a few farther suggestions. Mr. Ragan thinks the black walnut the most valuable of all trees for artificial plantations and timber belts. He states that a man in Wisconsin planted a piece of land twenty-three years ago with these trees. We are not informed of the extent of the land covered with it, but that the trees, sixteen to eighteen inches in diameter, were sold for $27,000. He adds that walnut lumber now commands from $75 to $160 per thousand feet in cities for particular decoration and other purposes. The trees bear nuts at early age and annually thereafter, which have an important commercial value. In raising the trees it is of utmost importance to do everything in the best manner. Those who carelessly plant the nuts, especially after they have dried for a long time, will probably fail to get trees, or if any grow and the owners expect the young trees to take care of themselves he will be disappointed. Mr. Ragan's directions are, therefore, the point when he says the ground should be prepared in the best manner in the autumn. Furrow the ground of each way as for corn, except that the rows ought to be seven feet apart. Take the nuts fresh from the tree and plant two at each crossing. They are to be covered just shallow enough to hide them. So much for planting. Then next spring furrow the seven feet spaces intermediate between the rows and plant with corn or potatoes. The corn and young trees will be cultivated alike and the trees must be kept clean. The second spring thin out the young trees to one in a hill. The thinnings will fill any vacant spaces when needed. Corn and potatoes may be planted the second year or even the third year, and after treat the trees must be kept clean and cultivated until they occupy the whole ground so fully as to keep down by their shade all weeds and grass. Standing so near as seven feet the trees will not require thinning, but will thus trim themselves. But when they begin to suffer from crowding take out every alternative tree in a row and in a few years another thinning out may be made by taking out alternate trees in the rows at right angles to the first, leaving fourteen feet each way. If the trees are to stand until they become quite large additional thinning may be necessary, but they should always be thick enough to obviate the side trimming of the branches. The thinnings will always possess considerable advantage.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

BAKED EGGS.—Baked eggs are delicious novelties. Sprinkle a layer of bread crumbs on either a tin or an earthen pie plate. Break the eggs carefully over this foundation, not breaking the yolk of any. Scatter a few bits of butter over the whole and a little pepper and salt. If the oven is hot the eggs will well "set" and cooked in about four minutes. The gas stove, with its heat over the pan or broiler, turns out baked eggs beautifully.

LEMON SPONGE.—Pour over two ounces of gelatine a pint of cold water; let it simmer for a quarter of an hour, then add half a pint of boiling water. If not sufficiently dissolved set the stewpan over the fire until it is. Add to this three-quarters of a pound of pounded loaf-sugar and the juice of four lemons. When the gelatine is cold, but before it begins to get firm, add the whites of three eggs which have been well beaten. Whisk the whole for a quarter of an hour, or until the mixture is quite white and begins to thicken; then put it into a mold which has previously been soaked in cold water. Set it in a cold water; when firm, then turn it carefully out, and garnish it with dried fruit.

It renews the healthy action of the kidneys, bowels and liver, and thus restores the natural life and strength to the weary. It can not be had in either dry or liquid form and in either way is always prompt and efficient in action.—New Bedford Standard.

Clocks.

Clocks were a timely and striking invention, commonly used to prevent the sun from getting ahead of its record, and to provide people with an opportunity to wonder how wrong they are. The facial expression (like some men) invariably betrays the internal construction, and any disturbance depicts itself very plainly. A clock never travels out of the square; it always goes round, as singular as it may seem, clocks are generally trusted, and yet they continually go on "tick."

They are also an exception to the rule of busy hands being out of mischief, for although no one will dispute that the clock's hands are busy, yet they can raise more trouble than a railroad train and make more than anything else yet invented. Railroad clocks are always kept wrong, as this prevents the stationmaster from explaining the difference between trains and the time.

Clocks are very selfish. If they don't have a good time anywhere they go, and they go everywhere they will cause everybody near them to have a poor time too. Clocks are well enough in their places, but just let them get loose once. When a clock begins to run down, and you are afraid of losing time, just turn the key on it to prevent its escape. This treatment usually winds up the movements of the clock for the time, and that's most effectually.

Some clocks are connected with a noise which is to all appearance entirely innocent of any connection with the time of the clock. At least the attempt to regulate it by the time has been practically abandoned as hopeless.
