MURDERS AND EXECUTIONS

In an editorial in the April Century, entitled "Mob or Magistrate," the following comparison is made between murder and the application of justice : "Over against the fifteen hundred murders of the last year, we have the report of barely ninetythree legal executions. Many of these must have been cases in which the crime had been committed dur ing 1882, while many of the crimi nals of 1883 had not yet been brought to trial. It is not, however, far from the truth to say that, while thirteen of fourteen hundred murders are committed in this country every year, fewer than a hundred of the murderers suffer the extreme penalty of the law. When the willful slayer knows that he has thirteen chances out of fourteen of escaping the full penalty of the law, the de vidual and general health must re terrent influence of punishment cannot be said to be very powerful.

"The small number of murderers hanged by the sheriffs, and the greater number hanged by the mobs, should be evidence enough that the administration of our criminal courts in many quarters is fatally defective, and needs reforming. The only classes of persons interested in maintaining the present state of things are the criminals and the criminal lawyers; and it is not for their ex clusive benefit that society is organ ized. The contrast between the swift, firm, and sure methods of English and Continental courts in dealing with great criminals, and the tardy, feeble, and abortive methods of cur own, should sting our national pride to some energetic measures of reform. The people must rouse themselves to demand a more vigorous enforcement of the laws, and they must see to it that judges and prosecuting attorneys are chosen who have the ability and the will to bring evil-doers to justice. The judges on the bench may well inquire whether the protection of the criminal has not assumed dis proportionate importance in our criminal procedure. If, in our fear lest an innocent man may suffer, the law itself, which is the only protec tion of innocent men because utterly paralyzed, then there is a call for a revision of our methods and our and thus action and reaction govmaxims, and the infusion of a new epirit into our laws. Every judge who will brush aside the hair-splitting devices of the lawyers, and in eist that criminal trials shall be con ducted with rigor and directness of purpose, will deserve, and will be likely to win, the approval of his fellow-citizens."

Everybody who values health, and [From our Regular Correspondent.] it amounts to the same thing, life is interested, that the conditions to secure and maintain it should be at opening year. In the spring season about the premies and particularly in the cellars and closets &c., should be removed promptly and every. thing be put into order, that no emanations from decaying substances may an ov the genses, nor be at hand to breed disease. In no other bearing does the saying, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure" have a more important application, for an evil resisted in the begining may be overcome at once, whereas its continuance may pro. duce wide spread trouble and loss. Let their then be an immediate ex amination of and cleaning up of all cellars, the dirt and standing waters all be removed and abundant ap plications of lime, and copperas and other disenfectants be applied, that so there may be sweetness and puri ty of air in all quarters, and indi

WASHINGTON LETTER. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 1, 1884

The unequivocal refusal of Mr. hand, at the earliest time in the Sargent to accept the Russian mission, with the left handed compli the accumulations of the winter meats extended with the portfolio by Mr. Frelinghuysen, is not on ac count of ill-health at all, as the State Department would like to have it, but solely on account of the week-kneed diptomacy at Washingon that found no other superserviceable mode of condescension to the man who had so mercilessly snubhed the house of Representatives and the United States Government by sending back the Lasker resolutions The transferring of Mr. Sargent in stead of being a promotion, was a covert process of manifesting disapprobation that Mr. Frelinghuysen has made a custom in his depart ment, and Mr. Sargent has shown true manliness in rejecting a position which, to him at least, would have been the price of his humiliation, if if not disgrace. The outcome of the whole business will be the ultimate discomfiture of the American Government, including the swine, by the contemptible diplomatic littleness of the present State Department. Well might Mr. McPherson pray for a

The artistic excellence and superior workmanship of our designs are proven by the many specimens now on exhibition in our show room, and by the numerous works which we have erected in various Cemeteries in this and adjoining counties. We are among the oldest dealers in this ccunty, having had 20 years experience in the business.

Every department of our business is in the hands of skilled and competent workmen, capable of executing any piece of work, from the plainest to the most elaborate, and the whole receives our personal supervision ; there is thus a guarantee that complete satisfaction will be given, even to the most exacting patron.

We invite special attention to the White Brooze Monuments, whese strength, durability, color and resistance to out door exposure, proves it the best known material for Monuments, Statuary, &c. It will not blacken or grow dingy with age, moss will not adhere to or grow upon its surface as upon marble, and the color will remain undimmed through the ages.
