THE RULE OF EVIL.

From the time of the fall of humanity there has been a constant succession of adverse circumstances attending its entire history. All attempts to explain the facts, or to unravel the mystery, apart from the solution given in the sacred Scriptures, have proven utter failures.

But this is not the case, war beyond doubt, through the influence of Christian civilization has been deprived of much of its ancient destructiveness, and it may be hoped that the progress of this same mighty influence may eventually cause its entire cessation.

HENCE THOSE TEARS. The country has suddenly awakened to a sense of the greatness of persons who but for the recent development might not have called forth the criticisms they have of late received.

JAMES COYLE, of Allentown, Pa., aged twelve years, while playing base ball, was hit in the stomach by a ball and instantly killed.

BELFAST, June 24.—The third General Council of Reformed Churches throughout the world, known in ecclesiastical circles as the Presbyterian Alliance or Pan-Presbyterian Council, convened at eleven o'clock this morning in St. Enoch's Church.

Reports settling the order of business of the Presbyterian Conference were adopted. The conference will last ten days.

and again, and been happy to see in good measure observed, will avert pestilence of every sort, through the blessing from above.

FALL FROM A CHURCH TOWER.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A derrick on the tower of Grace Church, used in hoisting stone and building material for the building of the new steeple, fell to day, carrying with it a mass of timber and rigging.

A BIG FAILURE.

Commodore Garrison, who has occupied a somewhat prominent position in New York as an enterprising millionaire capitalist, has made an assignment of his property, of an estimated value of some $15,000,000, for the benefit of his creditors.

WASHINGTON LETTER. [From our Regular Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24, 1884. The developments that have been made recently that involve the enmity and corruption of several Government officers, simply demonstrate the present condition of Washington society.

NEW YORK LETTER. [From our Regular Correspondent.] NEW YORK, June 24, 1884. The great metropolis, within a period of ten days, has been piping hot, with the thermometer running away up in the nineties, and it has been so cold that overcoats and fires were not uncomfortable.

BISHOP SIMPSON'S OBSEQUIES. PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—The body of Bishop Simpson lay in state in the Arch Street Methodist Episcopal Church until after 10 o'clock Tuesday night, and was viewed by thousands of people, who poured through the eastern entrance of the church, filed around the coffin, and passed out through the western entrance.

DISTRIBUTION

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY.

The Seventy-fifth Annual Distribution at St. Joseph's Academy was held on Thursday. Notwithstanding the heavy rain of the night before and the showers of the morning, a large and appreciative audience assembled to do honor to the occasion.

Among the distinguished guests present were Rt. Rev. Bishop Shanahan, of Harrisburg, Pa., Very Rev. Wm. Byrne, D. D., President of Mt. St. Mary's College, Rev. Charles Grannan, D. D., of the College, Rev. Fr. Giustini, Baltimore, Fr. Mandine, Frs. S. Lavizari and White, Frs. Gallagher and Abbott, Rev. D. J. Flynn and J. Tierney, of Wilmington, Del., Rev. E. P. Allen of the College, Rev. Fr. M. Murray, of New York, Fr. Gallaher, also Messrs. Harry Coleman, LL. D., Wm. Coleman, LL. D., of Philadelphia, Harry Spalding, of Baltimore, Jacob and Charles Rohrback, of Frederick, Mr. McCarren, Newark, N. J., and Prof. Leleup, of the College.

The program was excellent in every detail. The music, both vocal and instrumental was rendered with faultless precision and could not fail to interest all. It was evident to the most casual observer that St. Joseph's Academy still retained its place in the front rank of female educational institutions of the country.

A silver crown was awarded to Miss K. Coleman, Philadelphia, Pa. Gold Medals were awarded to Miss J. Baker, of Norfolk, Va., Miss C. Farrell, Petersburgh, Va., Miss G. Tiffany, Miss E. Connor, and Miss E. McCarren. A gold medal to Miss K. Coleman, for distinguished success in domestic economy. Medals for distinguished success in English Classes were awarded to Miss Anna Abbott, Miss Lena Miller, Miss Mary Joyce, Miss O. Freyhold and Miss Ellen Eyer.

Bishop Shanahan made a few happy remarks in which he congratulated the pupils on their success, and thanked them for the pleasure they afforded him.

The growing grain was flattened to the earth in all directions by the rain of Wednesday night, and the down fall of young apples was wonderful. We expect to hear of much damage in other directions.

The robins and catbirds are making havoc of the cherry crop in this locality. One gentleman tells us that he has a tree which produced a few weeks ago to yield a couple of bushels, but if he gets a quart he will be lucky, owing to the raids of the birds. He is in favor of expunging the names of robins and catbirds from the list of insectivorous birds.—Valley Echo.

The "Wizard Oil Concerts" on our streets, the last two nights have attracted large crowds, as if it were election time, and the parades of the spotted horses with the wagon, distributing flags and advertisements have riveted our young Arabs in the highest degree. Crowds always follow the crowd, and for these occasions, stores, saloons and wherever men usually congregate there was emptiness.

The well-known Charles A. Vogler Company of Baltimore gave their employees a treat on Wednesday, in the form of an excursion to Pen-Mar. There were seven coaches decorated with flags, emblems, &c., illustrative of the cures by St. Jacobs Oil. The parties spent a joyous day in the Mountain, and returned with renewed vigors of St. Jacob's interest on their behalf.

If there are no essential reasons for holding the commencements in the last week of June, which the experience of long years has shown to be an inclement time; it might prove highly beneficial to anticipate the time by one week, for which the same experience claims comparative calm, bright skies and moderate warmth. It would seem that the time when the sun's position changes from the most northern point, is followed by changes in the atmosphere that superinduce continued rains.

"It always rains on commencement day at Emmitsburg" is an old saying that has been verified year after year, for a whole generation at least. The rain began to descend gently about one o'clock p. m., and continued so until about seven, when it just poured down, and soon our streets were running streams from curb line to curb line. The lamp lighter could not execute his office, and what with the continued descent from the clouds and the darkness, the night was awful.

Have your vehicles all ready, then sit down and take a good meal, at your home, next proceed to the grove, stay there and wander around and enjoy the scenes, and then come home. This is greatly to the disadvantage of the big black ants, and other insects innumerable, beyond doubt; but a vast relief to those who have charge of the eating departments, and in the end most conducive to comfort all around, of course nothing herein contained need prevent the use of such refreshment as may be conveniently passed around, nor does it imply to such extensive gatherings, as embrace many hours in their developments. The kind we mean that need good, well displayed and attractive bills, for such we are always prepared to work, satisfaction guaranteed, call early. We run them quickly.

COMMENCEMENT

MT. ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The Seventy-sixth Annual Commencement of this renowned institution was held last Wednesday, and as usual, drew a large and appreciative audience. Owing to the trying ordeal through which the Mountain lately passed, the scholastic year just closed was from the start regarded as a critical one, but whatever doubts might have rested in the minds of its patrons were dispelled by the grand success that marked this year's closing day.

During the year 108 Scholars and 25 Ecclesiastical students were received, and the discipline and administration of the institution during the year, speak volumes of praise for Rev. Charles P. Grannan, D. D., the acting president, who bore the burden of the battle. The weather was all that could be desired, as if glad to welcome those who had come to revisit their mountain home. The walls of the spacious Exhibition hall were decked with banners, on which were enrolled the names of the numerous bishops, which the Mountain has given to the American Church.

Among those present were Rt. Rev. John Shanahan, D. D., bishop of Harrisburg, Pa., who presided, Very Rev. Wm. Byrne, D. D., President of the College, Rev. Charles P. Grannan, D. D., acting president, and the other members of the faculty, clerical and lay, Revs. Edward Terry, A. M. and E. Duffy, A. M., of Albany, N. Y., John McQuirk, LL. D., Frank McSwaney, M. J. Murry, A. M., and John Creedon, New York City, John McCabe, A. M., Providence, R. I., M. C. Fallop, A. M., John J. Tierney, A. M., and Dennis J. Flynn, A. M., of Wilmington, Del., J. Boll, Gettysburg, P. Gormley, Bonnevillie, Pa., H. F. White and Fathers Mandine, Abbott, and Leverizer of Lazarist Community, Emmitsburg. Among the distinguished lay visitors, we noticed Henry Coleman, LL. D., Philadelphia, Hon. Fred. J. Nelson, Frederick, Md., Harry Spalding, A. M., Baltimore, Prof. Leary, N. Y., Wm. Coleman, LL. B., Philadelphia, Jacob Rohrback, A. M. and Charles Rohrback, A. B., Frederick, Messrs. DeGarmendia, Echeverria, Duffy and Hurley, N. Y., Head, Latrobe, Pa., C. P. Donahoe and Hollowell, Boston, Robert Biggs, Esq., Baltimore, Jas. S. Biggs, Rocky Ridge, Dr. L. Canby, Baltimore, Wm. Reynolds, Baltimore, M. Cullen, Spruce Creek, Pa., John Freck, Brooklyn, and many others.

The programme was an excellent one, and admirably rendered, speeches were delivered as follows by John J. Lane, Boston, Mass., on "Leo XIII as Pope and Statesman," John Callaghan, Toledo, O., "Communism, its cause and Remedies," Richard L. Head, Latrobe, Pa., on "St. Francis Assisi," and by John J. Rooney, Philadelphia, Pa., "Poetry, its Character and Mission." These discourses showed much study and research, and their delivery indicated great elocutionary talent, improved by judicious training. Their efforts met with hearty applause. The singing of the Orphans Glee Club, under the direction of Richard McGovern, Lancaster, Pa., is deserving of special mention as were also the piano and violin performances of this same gentleman. Messrs. Fennelly, Rahm and Pani also acquitted themselves with credit at the piano.

The Valedictory was pronounced by John J. Lane who started clear of the lacrymosa.

The address to the Graduates and Philomathean Society, by Rev. Edward Terry, A. M., on "Science and Religion," was one of the most magnificent efforts ever heard in Mt. St. Mary's, one seemed to behold in bold relief the acumen of McMurdie's mind finding expression in the eloquence of McCaffrey in its palmist days.

At the conclusion of the exercises degrees were conferred as follows: the degree of L. L. D., on Rev. Edward Terry, A. M., an announcement that brought forth a storm of applause. The degree of A. M. on William H. Coleman, A. B., Philadelphia, Pa., Matthew P. Dunn, A. B., Savannah, Ga., John E. Kelly, A. B., Bridgeport, Conn., Francis V. King, A. B., Leonardtown, Md., George M. Nichols, A. B., Brooklyn, N. Y., Jacob Rohrback, A. B., Frederick, Md., John F. Sullivan, A. B., Boston, Mass., Henry F. Spaulding, A. B., Oakville, Md. The degree of A. B. on John J. Rooney, Philadelphia, Pa., John Callaghan, Toledo, O., Romualdo M. Echeverria, New York City, N. Y., Richard L. Head, Latrobe, Pa., John J. Lane, Boston, Mass., Thos. J. Larkin, Ireland, Felix A. Larue, New Orleans, La., John Meade, Columbus, O., Michael B. Donlan, Mt. Carmel, Pa., Germanus M. Kohl, Reading, Pa. The degree of Master of Accounts on Michael C. Dillon, Hagerstown, Md., Cullen Pani, South America, James F. Cullen, Spruce Creek, Pa., Harry P. Rahm, Evansville, Ind., Frank B. Robinson, Richmond, Ind. After the conferring of degrees the following medals for general proficiency were awarded. In the First Collegiate, a Gold Medal, to John J. Rooney, Philadelphia, Pa.; in the second collegiate, to George J. Sullivan, Mobile, Ala.; in the third collegiate, to Francis Dothage, Charleston, S. C.; in the fourth collegiate, to Wm. M. Byrne, Salem, N. J., and in the First Preparatory, a silver medal to James F. Cullen Spruce Creek, Pa.; in second Preparatory, silver medal to George McCarthy, Rochester, N. Y. The Gold Medal for elocution was awarded John J. Rooney who had strong competitors in Messrs. Jos. A. Campbell, Boston, Mass., Wm. M. Byrne, and Thomas Mooney, New York City.

The double eagle (gold) prize for proficiency in Metaphysics was carried off by John J. Rooney; the eagle (gold) prize for second place in the same study was won by John J. Lane.

At the conclusion of the regular exercises, Rt. Rev. John Shanahan, D. D., expressed his great satisfaction at the treat afforded him, spoke in warm words of the bright future of the Mountain, and appealed to all its friends to continue and increase their support towards it. His words were received with enthusiastic applause.

Shortly after the Commencement exercises, the Alumni held their annual meeting, when officers for the New Year were chosen as follows: President, Rev. Edward Terry, LL. D., Albany, N. Y.; Secretary, Daniel Quinn, A. B., Cincinnati, O., and Treasurer, Wm. Coleman, LL. B., Philadelphia. After the transaction of business all repaired to the dining hall, where ample justice was done to a bounteous spread. When mirth and eloquence had full scope, Hon. F. J. Nelson and Rev. E. Duffy were singularly felicitous in their remarks, eliciting frequent applause.

Thus closed one of the most successful Commencements the Mountain ever had, and all separated feeling confident that the success of the Mountain in the past was but a prelude to the success in store for her in the near future.

From the Maryland Union.
The next annual session of the Maryland Classis of the Reformed church will be held in Tanneytown, Carroll county, Thursday before Trinity Sunday, May 28, 1884, and Rev. J. G. Noss will preach the opening sermon.

The stroke of paralysis which Mrs. George H. Layman, residing on South Market street, sustained about two weeks since, resulted fatally last Thursday night. The funeral took place last Saturday morning, and interment was made at Mt. Olivet Cemetery. Mrs. Layman leaves a husband, two daughters and one son, and was aged about 50 years.

We are informed that a few days since a man named Liepy, residing about two miles from Woodsboro', became greatly enraged at a ten-year-old son of his and endeavored to satisfy his revenge by lashing the boy in the basement of his house. After having committed the act he went and told his wife what he had done, who at once compelled the father to release the unfortunate boy. A few moments longer, says our informant, the boy would have been dead, and he is now complaining from the effects of the brutal treatment.

Horse Thief Captured.
Three weeks ago Clem Yohs, of Adams county, came to York and sold a horse to Emanuel Boner, horse dealer, on West Clark avenue. After selling the horse Yohs went to a barber, got shaved, then bought a pair of shoes some clothing, after which he bought a railroad ticket and took the train for Illinois. On the same day Mr. Boner sold the horse to a dealer from Lancaster, from which city it was shipped to New York. Although the horse had been stolen from near Pinetown, Adams county, no one suspected the fact until Saturday morning when Detective Rouser and Sheriff Plank, of Gettysburg, Adams county, with the prisoner, Yohs, walked into Dearloff's Hotel. Detective Rouser, who had located Yohs, went to Harrisburg and received from Governor Pattison a requisition on the Governor of Illinois and proceeded to that State, where he captured him, and arrived in York on the 7:40 train Saturday morning, where Sheriff Plank met them. The affair created considerable excitement and talk in that part of town. After taking dinner at Dearloff's Hotel the sheriff and detective, with the prisoner, left for Gettysburg. The prisoner says that he did not steal the horse but that he was stolen and brought to York by another person whom he met on the railroad west of Botstown and divided the money with. There is no doubt a regular organized gang of horse thieves to which the party belonged.—York Daily.

A New and Destructive Pest to the Shade Trees.
The following we have alluded to elsewhere.
"Our attention was called the other day to an insect which seems to have taken possession of a maple near our office. The insect is found along the under side of small branches of the tree, and on the leaves as well, and at a distance resembles white mold, mildew or fungus. On close inspection it resembles cotton, attached to the bark by a glutinous substance.

The common name of the insect is Cotton Bark Louse, also Mealy Bug, and it is known to entomologists as plurivora unumvittata—Bathorn. It is frequently found on the grape vine, rose bush, &c. The annual report of the department of agriculture for 1880 describes it, as well as giving an article on it. The destructiveness of this insect is well attested in the sickly appearance of the tree attacked and its final death. It is capable of doing much injury, and unless exterminated may ruin many of our shade trees.

Prof. C. V. Riley, of Washington, in a recently published article, gives as a remedy, an emulsion or mixture of coal oil. This is made by rapidly agitating kerosene and soft soap. We cannot give the exact formula. A safe one would be, one pint kerosene and half gallon soft soap, churned together rapidly. A half pint of this emulsion diluted with three gallons of water and sprayed on the tree affected, would give good results.

"Rough on Rats" clears out Rats, Mice, 15c.
"Rough on Corns," for Corns, Bunions 15c.
This people, "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, &c. $1.

"Rough on Toothache," instant relief, 15c.
LADIES who would retain freshness and vivacity don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

The next annual session of the Maryland Classis of the Reformed church will be held in Tanneytown, Carroll county, Thursday before Trinity Sunday, May 28, 1884, and Rev. J. G. Noss will preach the opening sermon.

The stroke of paralysis which Mrs. George H. Layman, residing on South Market street, sustained about two weeks since, resulted fatally last Thursday night. The funeral took place last Saturday morning, and interment was made at Mt. Olivet Cemetery. Mrs. Layman leaves a husband, two daughters and one son, and was aged about 50 years.

We are informed that a few days since a man named Liepy, residing about two miles from Woodsboro', became greatly enraged at a ten-year-old son of his and endeavored to satisfy his revenge by lashing the boy in the basement of his house. After having committed the act he went and told his wife what he had done, who at once compelled the father to release the unfortunate boy. A few moments longer, says our informant, the boy would have been dead, and he is now complaining from the effects of the brutal treatment.

Horse Thief Captured.
Three weeks ago Clem Yohs, of Adams county, came to York and sold a horse to Emanuel Boner, horse dealer, on West Clark avenue. After selling the horse Yohs went to a barber, got shaved, then bought a pair of shoes some clothing, after which he bought a railroad ticket and took the train for Illinois. On the same day Mr. Boner sold the horse to a dealer from Lancaster, from which city it was shipped to New York. Although the horse had been stolen from near Pinetown, Adams county, no one suspected the fact until Saturday morning when Detective Rouser and Sheriff Plank, of Gettysburg, Adams county, with the prisoner, Yohs, walked into Dearloff's Hotel. Detective Rouser, who had located Yohs, went to Harrisburg and received from Governor Pattison a requisition on the Governor of Illinois and proceeded to that State, where he captured him, and arrived in York on the 7:40 train Saturday morning, where Sheriff Plank met them. The affair created considerable excitement and talk in that part of town. After taking dinner at Dearloff's Hotel the sheriff and detective, with the prisoner, left for Gettysburg. The prisoner says that he did not steal the horse but that he was stolen and brought to York by another person whom he met on the railroad west of Botstown and divided the money with. There is no doubt a regular organized gang of horse thieves to which the party belonged.—York Daily.

A New and Destructive Pest to the Shade Trees.
The following we have alluded to elsewhere.
"Our attention was called the other day to an insect which seems to have taken possession of a maple near our office. The insect is found along the under side of small branches of the tree, and on the leaves as well, and at a distance resembles white mold, mildew or fungus. On close inspection it resembles cotton, attached to the bark by a glutinous substance.

The common name of the insect is Cotton Bark Louse, also Mealy Bug, and it is known to entomologists as plurivora unumvittata—Bathorn. It is frequently found on the grape vine, rose bush, &c. The annual report of the department of agriculture for 1880 describes it, as well as giving an article on it. The destructiveness of this insect is well attested in the sickly appearance of the tree attacked and its final death. It is capable of doing much injury, and unless exterminated may ruin many of our shade trees.

Prof. C. V. Riley, of Washington, in a recently published article, gives as a remedy, an emulsion or mixture of coal oil. This is made by rapidly agitating kerosene and soft soap. We cannot give the exact formula. A safe one would be, one pint kerosene and half gallon soft soap, churned together rapidly. A half pint of this emulsion diluted with three gallons of water and sprayed on the tree affected, would give good results.

Agricultural.

The Grapevine in Summer.

There is no time, from the first pushing of the shoots, until the leaves are ready to fall, but destructive insects of some kind attack the grapevine. Fortunately, the later insects are mainly large caterpillars or beetles, and one who is frequently among his vines, can destroy them before they can do much injury. The great pest in the hot months of July and August is mildew, and the vine grower should be constantly on the look out for it. Some varieties of the grape are much more subject to its attacks than others, and these vines should be watched for the first appearance of the scourge. Whittish or grayish spots or blotches on the under surface of the leaves, are mildew, and the remedy, a thorough dusting with sulphur, should be applied at once. Sulphur bellows are now kept in seed and implement stores. Before using, the sulphur should be run through a sieve, in order to remove all lumps. Too large a quantity should not be placed in the bellows at one time, and in using it, the bellows should be so worked as to deliver a cloud of fine dust. Choose a still, hot day, and endeavor to have the under surface of the leaves as thoroughly dusted as the upper. A second dusting of sulphur may be made in about a week after the first, and it should be applied all through the season if mildew appears. Not only in early spring, but later in the season, strong vigorous shoots will appear upon the main stem of the vine. These start at no particular place, and grow with great rapidity. Novices in grape culture are puzzled as to the proper treatment of these shoots. A shoot from a regular bud, if not needed, is broken away, and the same should be done with these chance shoots. Unless a cane is needed just where such a shoot appears, break it off. The laterals puzzle many, but their treatment is very simple. As a shoot grows, there will be found two buds at the axil of each leaf—the part where the leaf joins the stem. Later, one of these buds will start into growth—this shoot is called a lateral. We wish to keep one bud perfectly dormant, for next year's fruiting. If the shoot from the bud that has started were pulled out, the other one would start into growth, and there would be no fruit from it next year. The proper treatment of the laterals is, to pinch them back to one leaf, as often as they push.

Training Tomato Vines.

The following plan has been recommended and extensively tried:—Set in even rows three feet apart. As soon as large enough, hill well, and close to each plant drive a forked stick, leaving about three feet above ground. On the forks tie long poles firmly. To these train the vines, tying with strings, and nip off the shoots that grow too far above them. By this means every fruit will be fine, free from mud, even when heavy rains fall, and the vines keep in bearing till late in autumn. The plants are more prolific, and but little fruit is lost, as is often the case when the vines rest on the ground. In case of early frosts double sheets of newspapers hung over the trellises will protect the tomatoes till all are gathered.

CANNED PEACHES.—When canning peaches one cannot guess at just the number of halves or quarters needed to fill the can, and so often after filling the can several pieces are left in the syrup; and if you add others and cook them over again they will drop in pieces. My way to avoid this is to take out the pieces carefully on a plate, cook the others, and when they are needed to help fill another can, drop them for a minute or two into the warm syrup.

It is a good plan to make a thorough cleaning-out of corn cribs and graneries to get rid of rats and mice. If every vestige is removed the new crop will suffer much less loss than by usual careless methods. Wheat kept for years in granaries is liable to be infested by the weevil, which is very destructive.

A REMEDY for balky horses, which works well, is to put a small stone or sand in the horse's ear. Generally the horse will start off at once at a lively gait, unless he balks from fatigue.

DIVIDING happiness: "My dear," said the aunt of a young widow to her niece one day, "is that your husband's portrait on the wall?" "Yes, auntie." "How blissfully happy and what a heaven on earth must have been his life below," sighed the aunt. "Ah, yes," said the widow, "but we divided the thing up so that when he became blissful in heaven I became happy on earth."

"Yes," said a Western man, de spondently, "this need to be a good deal bigger and more grown' section of the country than it is." "Bigger'n it is?" returned his companion with surprise. DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS
Has been so frequently and satisfactorily proven that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more in their favor. The immense and constantly increasing demand for them, both in this and foreign countries, is the best evidence of their value. Their sale today in the United States is far greater than any other cathartic medicine. This demand is not spasmodic, it is regular and steady. It is not of to-day or yesterday, it is an increase that has been steadily growing for the last thirty-five years. What are the reasons for this great and growing demand? Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills contain no mercury, and yet they act with wonderful effect upon the liver. They cleanse the stomach and bowels of all irritating matter, which, if allowed to remain, poisons the blood, and brings on Malaria, Chills and Fever, and many other diseases. They give health and strength to the digestive organs. They create appetite and give vigor to the whole system. They are in fact the medicine of all others which should be taken in times like the present, when malarial and other epidemics are raging, as they prepare the system to resist attacks of disease of every character. Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sold by all druggists at 25c. per box, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price.
