DEATH AND FUNERAL OF MR. GARRETT.

Mr. Jno. W. Garrett died at his pleasant retreat at Deer Park in Garrett county at 5:25 o'clock on Friday morning of last week, all the members of his family were present when he passed peacefully away. He has left a name that will not be forgotten, the great railroad in whose interests he literally passed the prime and the decline of his life, will continue as the greatest monument of his great and distinguished life. He was known as well for his philanthropic works, almost as his brilliance in the conduct of one at least of the greatest of railroads in the world.

The funeral took place from Montebella his late residence on Sunday last, at Greenmount cemetery and was an imposing demonstration in the way of a spontaneous tribute of respect to the deceased, 10,000 persons gathered at the cemetery to witness the last rites.

A TERRIBLE TORNADO.

On Sunday last a tornado passed over the region of Bradford, Pa. crossed the New York state line and struck the village of Shungo. The little town became a scene of death, ruin and desolation. Two persons were killed outright, about twenty were badly injured, and thirty buildings in the business part of the town were destroyed; more than two-thirds of it are now a ruin. The wind current was so force that in the village graveyard, only two tombstones were left standing, all the rest being thrown to the ground and some were even carried out of the cemetery across the street.

THE PERILS OF BRIDGE BUILDING.

On Wednesday Seven men were imprisoned by an accident in a caisson under water at pier No. 9 of the Baltimore and Ohio bridge, now under construction over the Susquehanna, and they were rescued after five hours confinement under about 50 feet of water.

Every effort is being made by the managers of the New Orleans Exposition to make it one of the grandest affairs ever witnessed, either in this country or in Europe. Every State in the Union and every civilized nation will be represented. A spirit of interest and encouragement is developing itself in almost every quarter of the globe for the promotion of this commendable movement.

The will of the late John W. Garrett was probated in the Orphans Court of Baltimore County on Tuesday. It bears date at Deer Park, August 8th, 1884. He gives $60,000 a year to the Poor Association of Baltimore, and provides for the annual bestowment of $50,000 to benevolent objects.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

The number of Union soldiers killed in battle in the late civil war was 60,976; died of wounds, 35,047; died of diseases, 133,464.

It costs the Government $50,000 a year to repair and keep in order the 100,000 mail bags which are used in the transportation of the mails.

A cow dying on the farm of M.C. Potter, of Rock Run, Chester county, Pa., recently, of an unknown disease, was cut open and a black snake found coiled around her lungs.

A MOUNTAIN at Charlotte, N.C., sends a stream of water 236 feet high, icy cold and clear as crystal. It has its source in the adjacent mountains, and it is said to be the highest in the world.

The British empire's area is 8,500,000 square miles, but there is indirect domination over enough more to make the total 10,000,000—one fifth of the land surface of the globe. Of the total population only one seventh are Christians.

The Catholic missionary authorities of Paris have received advice from Hong Kong stating that the Chinese have destroyed the Catholic chapels in the province of Canton and that 6000 Christians in that province are homeless.

In the Japan mission of the American Board there was last year an increase of three churches, and of 736 members or sixty eight per cent. Of the twenty-two churches, fifteen are self-supporting. The contribution is amounting to $6,750.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

"Stat Nominis Umbra."

Time in its progress respects not even the venerated stations that have bestowed benefits upon, and received the blessings of men. New issues, new institutions and machinery, ruthlessly set aside and replace the usages and the instruments of the past. How the old things pass away! and with what flourish the new come upon the grand stage of action! We know of no one now living, who can fix the time when the well on the square was excavated; it has been suggested that it was first dug, and the town was built around it; but this cannot be, for the original settlers got water from a spring, long ago filled up, in the cellar of Mr. L. M. Motter's log house on the street leading to the railway station. Pump has succeeded pump, in the well, through several generations. The present stocks however represent the action of the passing years, whereby men and animals have drawn refreshment from the excellent water they have brought to the surface. Though but twenty-five feet deep and only four feet in diameter, the well has never been known to go dry. That old pump, has been the rallying ground for most of the scenes of youthful gaily-ings, of political and other meetings, of bon-fires and jollifications, and generally for the exercises of the fire company of the town, and various other occasions for several generations past. On Monday last Messrs. N. Rowe & Sons began the work of preparing for the Fountain on the square among the first things done was to pull up the ancient sentinel, as it were of the locality, and it has lain ignominiously, on the street ever since. Its past will now go into the storehouses of memory and instead of the solitary trunk of timber, cracked and battered on all sides, very soon the new Fountain will send forth its bright streams of living waters, that will make the lately neglected locality, one of attraction and liveliness on all sides. The pump has retired with the plaudits of grateful hearts for favor past, for usefulness ended. We still hope there may be enterprise enough to convert the timber into canes, and charms, and other useful articles, in remembrance of the past. The new age dashes onward!

TO THE MEMORY OF ROBERT H. GELWICKS.

At the last meeting of Massesett Tribe No. 41, I. O. R. M., of which Robert H. Gelwicks deceased, was a member for seventeen years, the following resolutions of respect were drafted by a committee appointed and passed by the Tribe.

Whereas, The Great Spirit in His mysterious providence, has called from the Hunting Grounds of earth, the Spirit of our well beloved brother P. S. Robert H. Gelwicks and whereas it is eminently proper that we his collaborators should express in such terms as his life and conduct pre-eminently merit the high admiration of his exalted virtues as a member of our Order therefore.

Resolved, That to us as a Tribe, this visitation of Providence is a sad one, as it is the first vacancy that has occurred by death since our Tribe has been instituted.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family our warmest sympathy in the hour of their great affliction.

Resolved, That the members of Massesett Tribe, wear the usual mourning badge for space of sixty days and that these resolutions be published in the EMMITSBURG CHRONICLE and a duplicate copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

Whereas, God in His mysterious and all wise Providence has called from our midst the soul of our highly esteemed brother Robert H. Gelwicks, therefore.

Resolved, That we bow in humble submission to the Divine will, but deplore his untimely decease, and herewith express our sorrow that a life so young should be so prematurely called away from the activities of a career of usefulness.

Resolved, That to us this visitation of Providence is peculiarly sad and pointed as it is the first brother that the hand of death has called from our midst.

Resolved, That we tender to the relatives of our deceased brother our sincere sympathy in their bereavement and assure them that we too realize his loss.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the EMMITSBURG CHRONICLE, and that a duplicate copy be sent to the family of the deceased brother.

Fraternally Submitted,
RUSSELL P. JOHNSTON,
WILLIAM H. HOFF,
JOHN F. ADELSBERGER,
Committee.

When the Mason & Hamlin Company announced the accomplishment of a great improvement in Upright Pianos, which they would soon give to the public, much was expected, because of the vast improvements which had been effected by them in recent instruments, and the acknowledged superexcellence of their organs. These expectations are fully justified by the extraordinary purity and richness of tone. Every mechanic will see that the peculiarities of ability and especially their capacity to keep in good tune.

This company have as great a future in their plans as they are already realizing in their organs, which are as perfectly as any such instruments.—Boston Traveller.

KING'S EVIL ORDINANCE

CORPORATION OF EMMITSBURG

ORDINANCE NUMBER 55.

PASSED SEPTEMBER 27th, 1884.

SCROFULA

Was the name formerly given to Scrophulous because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effective an alternative that it eradicates from the system all hereditary Scrophulous, and the kindred poisons of cutaneous diseases and mercury. At the same time it enervates the vitality of the blood, restoring healthful action to the organs, and rejuvenating the entire system.

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Sulfur, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

The Oyster Interest.

In the general estimate of the weather and other conditions "good for oysters," it will be borne in mind that the real purpose is to have the bivalves good for human use. The case is one of pure selfishness.

Street Work.

Under the judicious supervision of Mr. D. Zeck, some of the inequalities of our streets have become level. We trust the good work may go forward. Our theory of road making is to do well what is done, if it be but a little at a time.

MANY persons think all that is necessary to fatten a horse is to turn him in a fine pasture, and let him graze. This is a mistake. He will take the slavers and get poorer still. To prevent this give him Day's Horse and Cattle Powder once a day.

A Bold Robbery.

At Graceland on Wednesday morning about 2 o'clock occurred one of the boldest robberies that has occurred in this county for years. Out on the sidewalk in the bright moonlight, the burglars bored a piece out of the cellar door of Wm. L. Armacost's store room, slipped the bolt, entered the cellar and serving a door at the head of the steps in the same way entered the store and took about $300 worth of shoes, clothing, etc. They then appropriated Mr. Samuel Newcomer's horse and wagon worth $130, loaded the stolen goods and left. Parties left in all directions, and a descriptive telephoned over the country, but as yet nothing has been heard of them.—Clarion.

SUFFERERS from the effects of quinine used as a remedy for chills and fever, will appreciate Ayer's Ague Cure, a powerful tonic bitters, composed wholly of vegetable substances, without a particle of any noxious drug. Its action is peculiar, prompt, and powerful, breaking up the chill, curing the fever, and expelling the poison from the system, yet leaving no harmful or unpleasant effect upon the patient.

Installation.

Owing to Rev. Dr. Valentine's indisposition his installation as Professor of Didactic Theology and Chairman of the Faculty of the Theological Seminary at this place was postponed from Thursday to Friday evening, when a large audience assembled in College church. Rev. H. Baker, of Altoona, President of the Seminary Board, after a fitting address, did the installing, and Dr. V. followed in an able inaugural.—Compiler.

The situation on the Canal.

The situation on the C. & O. Canal at the present writing is most distressing; the extremely low freights and small shipments of coal through to tide water the past season never had its parallel, and now the long and continued drought causes the suspension of business entirely owing to the extreme low water in the Potomac the only feeder for the canal. Hundreds of boats are lying along the line with not water enough to float them with the pasture burnt up and the boatmen without feed for their stock or provisions for themselves and no money to buy with, although these necessary articles are both plentiful and cheap. A more deplorable and heartrending condition of affairs was never before witnessed in this country. With the summer all most gone without any returns, and the winter with all its grim viceses fast approaching the outlook for these poor unfortunate people is anything but promising.—Williamsport Leader.

The Fountain Fund.

The following additions to this fund have been received by Mr. L. M. Motter since our issue of last week: J. M. Sweeney, $5.00; A. E. Duphorn, $1.50; M. H. Duphorn, $1.50; Dr. George S. Poulke, $2.00; Bernard Black, $2.00; Frederick Welty, $1.00; J. J. Snouffer, $5.00; Thomas Bond, $2.50; Frank S. Gibbs, $5.00.

Ground was broken on Monday for the erection of the fountain and the work has been progressing regularly since, though the unexpected looseness of the soil some distance below the surface, will retard operations somewhat, as it will be necessary to go much deeper than intended, and fill in with stone to make a solid foundation.

Property Changes.

Mr. Henry Lingg has bought the "Weaver property" near the college, containing a little over 4 acres, for $985. The Emmitsburg Water Company has purchased the Stouter property for $1,000, containing a little over 833 acres, it has a good brick house and other improvements. The spring which is their objective aim, lies about 50 yards west of the reservoir, and is elevated 16 ft. above it. With the addition of this supply there can be no deficiency in the storage. The present drought has made no sensible diminution in the contents of the Reservoir, but the company shows forethought in providing thus against the remotest contingency.

Mr. MATTHIAS MARTIN and wife sold their farm to Joseph E. Baker, 123 1/2 acres for $8,000.

News from Frederick.

FREDERICK, MD., September 30.—George W. Speaks, James Smith and Granison Johnson, the three colored men yesterday arrested for the killing of Moses Lyles, on the Hagerstown road, about a mile west of this city, were before Justice Eckstine to day. They waived a hearing and were committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury. The two latter were held as accessories to the killing, Speaks being charged with striking the fatal blow.

The Presbyterian congregation of this city have extended a unanimous call to Rev. Lancaster Ould, of Baltimore, to become their pastor. Mr. Ould was formerly stationed at Williamsport, Maryland and lately has been supplying a charge at Oakland, Maryland.—American.

Died on His Way Home.

The remains of Mr. Cyrus D. Hoover, a member of the Hagerstown Bar, and a son of David Hoover, Esq., of Chewsville arrived here by the C. & O. R. R. on Sunday morning. Mr. Hoover, who had been experiencing no benefit, he started home, became unable to travel further alone. At the request of his father Mr. Chas. A. Little went to Chicago to tender him assistance and accompany him on the remainder of his journey, but he became Mr. Little.

Stimulated by the hope of meeting his kindred and friends once more, the dying man started with his father and friend for home, but his life was fast passing, and when reaching Union, Md., he was unable to yield to the dread conqueror. Although one of the youngest members of the bar Mr. Hoover had given promise of an honorable and useful career and his early death will be greatly regretted by his friends and associates.—Herald and Torch Light.

There are many persons in this place whose hearts the above news, cast deep sadness. The deceased was principal teacher in our public school, some years ago, made many friends here by his genial disposition and remarkable fitness for his position, and general interest for the public good. Peace to his ashes!—Ed.

From the Maryland Union.

During the month of September, Adolphus Fearhake, Clerk of the Court, issued twenty-three marriage licenses.

It is proposed to hold a garden party in Court House Square next Tuesday evening for the benefit of the proposed improvement to be made about the Square. A committee of ladies will have the matter in charge.

Five or six acres of fruit trees on the farm of Mr. James P. Rogers, between Lime Kiln and Buckeystown, this county were destroyed recently by a fire kindled by sparks from a passing locomotive. The clover on several large fields was also burned.

About two o'clock last Saturday morning a large barn on the farm of John G. Stone, some three miles south-east of Middletown, was totally destroyed by fire, together with a wagon shed and corn-crib, both of which were near the barn. About 1500 bushels of wheat, lot of other grains and hay, thrasher and harness were also consumed. The dwelling, which was in close proximity to the burning buildings, was saved from the flames with considerable trouble. The diary supposed to have been of incalculable value. The total loss is about $3,500, with $1,200 insurance in the Montgomery County Insurance Company, and $1,000 in the Granger's Insurance Company of Middletown. The farm is tenanted by James Crampton who lost considerable property.

Partridges Successfully Domesticated.

Messrs. Fred. F. McComas and George A. Davis have succeeded in having that well known and highly esteemed bird the partridge breed in confinement at Mr. McComas' residence in this city. This is so far as is known the first time it has ever been done. They placed the birds in March last in a large cage some 12x4 feet, resting on the ground, and put them as nearly as possible in the same wild. A few days ago they were rewarded by the mother bird bringing out the eggs she had laid a brood of six, which was observed by them that the male bird did more than half the incubating.—Herald and Torch Light.

Accident.

On last Thursday a very serious accident occurred in the Fair Grounds. Capt. Charles J. Sefton, one of the assistant marshals, brought his daughters to the Fair, and whilst driving the horse to the stable at the southeastern part of the grounds the horse shied at something and became unmanageable. Mr. Sefton thought he could control him by alighting from the wagon, but notwithstanding the assistance of two other men, he was unable to do so, and the horse ran against the stable breaking the vehicle to pieces and throwing the three occupants violently to the ground. Mr. Sefton was severely bruised but no bones were broken, one of the daughters broke her thigh bone and the other her left arm just above the wrist. Dr. Robert Horn rendered the necessary surgical aid and the young ladies are doing as well as could be expected.

In the evening whilst Mr. Lawrence, the owner of the horse, was taking him home, the horse ran off again breaking the buggy all to pieces, but Mr. Lawrence fortunately escaped.—Star and Sentinel.

The Tableau, Etc.

The entertainment at Gelwicks' Hall on Thursday evening, in aid of the Fountain Fund, proved one of the most brilliant and successful affairs of the kind ever given in Emmitsburg. The Hall, though much too small to admit of an attendance large enough to make an entertainment very profitable, was crowded to its utmost capacity, with an admiring and appreciative audience.

The only thing that marred the enjoyment of the evening was a disturbance created by some drunken coloured men near the door, who attempted to join in the scenes, during the presentation of one of the most striking Tableaux of the evening, and which came near creating a panic among the audience, but the door-keeper speedily ejected the offenders, and when order was restored the Tableau was repeated.

The Programme of the evening was as follows:

"The Bandits," "No Rose without a Thorn," "Bitter with the Sweet," "Catherine Gordon before Henry VII," "The Harvesters," "Zekiel's Courtin'," "Lalla Rookh," "Rest in the Desert," "Tenting To-night," "Faust," "Love at First Sight," "Bazaar at Algiers," "Sly Taste," "Esther Before the King," "Go Where Glory Waits Thee," "Death of Minnie," "Leaving Impost at the Gate," "The Last Lesson," "The New Government," "Farce—Using the Weed," "Old Pump."

All the costumes were brilliant and effective in the extreme, and the characters suited so completely the style and bearing of the persons chosen to represent them, that the illusion was perfect. Miss Anna McBride and Miss Maria Helman are entitled to the thanks of both performers and audience for their untiring zeal and skilful management, in preparing and grouping the different scenes, as also Mrs. R. L. Annan, Miss Barbour and Miss Stella McBride, for the musical performances with which the entertainment was interspersed.

The affair closed with a representation of the discarded street pump, bidding farewell to the citizens. As the voice of the old pump was naturally weakened and broken by his extreme age as well as it is therefore thought best to publish it, with the rest of the proceedings, as those of our citizens who were not present and those particularly living in distant places cannot but be interested in all that was said and done.

VALEDICTORY OF THE OLD PUMP.

"I came here to-night, old friends, to say farewell I may days are numbered; The spirit of improvement has reached even this sequestered spot, and cast its glamour over those whose fore-fathers, hailed my advent with delight, and vainly dreamed of my existence as a precious heritage to remotest generations. Poor deluded fore-fathers and fore-mothers of an ungrateful race! could they spirit look down on us as we now appear, this poor shabby dilapidated remnant of the past, and the noisy eager crowd that represents the progress of the present, if they could see us as we stand to-night, the old loved pump at which they quenched their thirst, and washed their faces, they refreshed their beasts, at which they threw mud and snowballs in their youth, and they had older grown; Standing in pitiful humiliation awaiting its destruction, and you their descendants, for whose benefit my life was to be prolonged in definitely, holding high revelry over my removal, think you, they would enjoy the sight?

But friends I blame you not, changes must come, old things must ever thus give place to new, and in this my last farewell, I can but say, although with broken voice, that bright, better, grander things, await the dear old town than the past has ever dreamed of, if you remain but true to yourselves, true to one another and true to your native place. Farewell for ever."

The proceeds of the entertainment amounted to $46.75.

From the Examiner.

The County School Commissioners of this county have granted to the teachers the privilege of closing their schools one day during our Agricultural Fair. This is a good movement and will be appreciated by both teacher and scholar.

On Saturday last, on motion of Capt. Jas. McSherry, Edward I. Kountz, of this city was admitted to practice at the bar this county, and shortly afterwards qualified.

A difficulty occurred at Jefferson, on Saturday afternoon, between Luther and Charles Culler, brothers, sons of the late David Culler, aged 17 and 19 respectively, which might have been very serious. It appears that they had some difficulty about a horse when a fight ensued. Charles receiving a very serious cut about four inches in length in the right side from a knife in the hands of Luther. Dr. J. I. Crum was immediately summoned and dressed the wound which is very painful but not serious.

The Storm Question Again.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Clarion, will find on investigation that all who have considered the subject of the Equinoctial storm question, and he will find it unmistakably the view of the late Prof. Joseph Henry. We said in our recent allusion to the point, "the changes between winter and summer, and summer and autumn have nothing to do with the Equinox." We now add, it were far more appropriate to speak of the Fourth of July storms, for gunpowder and gas are notable factors of the temperature of that day. The extended argument of the Clarion is labour lost, except in so far as, by begging the question, it substantiates our position; to divide equally a term of twenty days "before and after September 23d," we assert is altogether aside from the question. It doesn't accord with the astronomical conditions of the case. There is but one longest day in the year and but two of equal duration for day light and darkness. We have rains and winds for all seasons but none for any fixed dates, so there can be none peculiar to the time of the equinox, hence to talk of equinoctial storms is simply absurd. Happily the point is one that everybody can settle for himself, by personal observation.

The Surrender of the Drought.

After the holding of the fort for several weeks, with an obstinacy almost unprecedented in this latitude, the clerk of the weather made a sortie on last Saturday night, as if reconnoitering the position. His presence was felt in the way of some genial showers, that were refreshing to a considerable extent of territory; but withdrawing again to the strong-holds, the normal state of heat and dryness and dust was resumed on Sunday, and the thermometer registered 88° on that day, and Monday all day and through the night continued quite oppressive. It will go on record that the last days of September, 1884, were so warm, as to require open doors and windows the night through for comfortable sleep. About 8 o'clock, a. m., on Tuesday, the heavens grew black, the sun disappeared, and the rain descended. The rain descended, not long at a time, but in vast sheets of water, as if a whole lake were poured forth at a time, and then followed an interval of sullen cloudiness, as if the next attack were under consideration, and here our observation must close, while everybody is joyous over the happy coming of the rain—the long wished for rain; the rain so comforting in its gentle, yet copious descent! Now who shall first cry hold! enough?

Hog Cholera in Frederick.

Miscellaneous.
Our Sleeping Rooms.
A physician of note says, "We here a great talk about malaria now-a-days, but there is more malaria to be found in most modern bedchambers than anywhere else." Persons who are moderately intelligent on other topics, appear to have small thought, or that very perverted, on the subject of hygiene in their sleeping rooms, and especially those occupied by children. The ventilation of a bedchamber cannot be too carefully attended to; and, as says Horace Mann, "seeing the atmosphere is forty miles deep all around the globe, it is a useless piece of economy to breathe it more than once." Yet nine mothers out of ten will carefully close all the windows "for fear of colds and night air," and leave two or three children to sleep in a stifling atmosphere, and see no connection between the colds and throat troubles they have, and the vitiated air she compels them to breathe night after night. Let the morning air and sunshine into the bedroom as soon as possible after the occupants have risen; and if there is no sunshine, and it is not raining, let in the air. Do not make up beds too soon after they are vacated. You may get your house tidied sooner, but it is neither cleanly nor healthful to snugly pack up the bed clothing until the exhalation of the bodies have been removed by exposure to the air.

Look carefully after the washstand and the various utensils belonging thereto. The soap-dishes and tooth-brush mugs cannot be kept too scrupulously clean. All slops and foul water should be emptied very promptly. Wash out and sun all pitchers, glasses, and whatever vessel are used in the sleeping room. Never allow water, or stale bouquets of flowers to stand for days in the spare chamber after the departure of a guest. Towels that have been used should be promptly removed, and no soiled clothing allowed to hang or accumulate about the room. Closets opening into a sleeping apartment are often the receptacles of soiled clothes, shoes, etc., and become fruitful sources of bad air, particularly where there are small children. After such places the housewife should look with a keen eye for objectionable articles, and remove them with an unsparring hand. I have encountered such closets, in which one might find all the odors traditionally belonging to the city of Cologne—any one of which was enough to suggest ideas of disease-germs.

Even an innocent piece of furniture as the bureau, may by carelessness become the recipient of articles which may taint the air of your bedchamber. Damp and soiled combs and brushes are not only unsightly and disgusting, but lying soiled and unclean from day to day, will certainly contribute to evil air and odors, as will also greasy and highly scented hair ribbons, etc. Never lay freshly laundered clothes upon the bed; nor air the same in your bedroom, if possible to do so elsewhere. Do not hesitate to light a fire on cool mornings and evenings; and if so fortunate as to have an open fire-place, you possess grand means of comfort and ventilation in the bedchamber.—LUCY RANDOLPH FLEMING in American Agriculturist for October.

Cucumber Pickle.
Wash them, rejecting any that are soft in spots. Place them in a jar, and pour over enough well salted water to cover them. The color is better if the brine is cool, about a pint of salt to a gallon of water is the rule, well dissolved and mixed. Let them stand twenty-four hours, but not longer; better only twelve hours than too long. If bubbles arise on the water it is time to take them out, as the flavor will spoil. Let them drain or wipe them dry. Take as much vinegar as you used of water to cover them. Spice it well with mustard, capsicum, whole ginger, allspice, and a little mace, but use no cloves or cinnamon, as these latter discolored and spoil the flavor to most tastes. To every gallon allow a piece of alum, the size of a hickory nut or a trifle larger. Let the vinegar and spice come to a boil, and pour it over the cucumbers in a narrow-mouthed crock. Keep in a cellar or a cool room covered with a crack lid. A little sugar, say a quarter pound, will help to make the pickles keep, and in time it strengthens the vinegar. The mixed spices of the stores are usually good.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
Smith's Tonic Syrup
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER,
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if it is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Use it in difficult and long-standing cases. Use it to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is the old and reliable remedy for impurities of the blood and Scrofulous affections.
