MR. WM. L. MCGINNIS has our thanks for a big jug full of nice cider. All Young.
Some towns seem to be made up of old folks; but in Emmitsburg we are young; when persons reach the age of sixty years, as the most part do, they just rejuvenate. 'Tis the mountain air, good water and the orderly character of the community that effects the happy result.

List of Letters.
The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., Oct. 13, 1884. Persons calling will please say advertiser, otherwise they may not receive them:

Miss Margaret Bowers, Miss Jennie Bowers, John Fair, Michael Conner Amos Mianer.

We are gratified to state that there have not been any new cases of diphtheria in this place during the past week, and that the few cases reported last week are doing well. We are sorry to state, however, that a daughter of Mr. Reuben Keplart, residing about midway between Middletown and Jefferson, died from the disease on Tuesday night.—Valley Register.

THE REPUBLICAN MEETING advertised to be held in Emmitsburg on Saturday evening Oct. 25 promises to be an affair of no ordinary kind. Col. Henry R. Robert of Cecil County and Messrs. John C. Motter and Wm. H. Hinks of Frederick are announced as the speakers, on the occasion, and a grand Torch-light procession will illuminate the pathway of the crowds.

While returning from a professional visit one night last week, Dr. Snively drove against a stump, upset the buggy and was considerably bruised by becoming entangled in the lines and being dragged some distance. His buggy was considerably damaged, and had he not been driving a gentle horse, the accident might have been a much more serious one.—Hagerstown Citizen.

Are we Prepared.
Very few towns are as well provided against fires as ours. But the abundance of water is by no means the full requirement for security. The necessity of the engineering, the skill to use them, the order and regularity of the working forces, necessary for the occasion. Have we got them? all the water of the sea is of no account if the fire does its work before the engine action begins.

The Republican Procession.
Our streets were quite enlivened last Saturday evening, by the delegation of Republicans, that attended the meeting at Mechanistown that evening. The Emmitt Band in the lead they marched through to the west end and then counted r-marched to the square, the procession made quite a respectable show and the excellent music of the Band all together served to enlist general attention.

Ladies' Medical Adviser.
A complete Medical Work for Women. handsomely bound in cloth and illustrated; postpaid for 10 to 20-cent stamps. Tells how to prevent and cure all diseases of the sex, by a treatment at home. Worth its weight in Gold to every lady suffering from any of these diseases. Over 10,000 sold already. Address NUNDA PUBLISHING CO. j-19-3m. Nunda, N. Y.

The Keystone Gazette of Waynesboro', Pa., entered upon its ninth year this week, and recounts in felicitous style, the success of its course under the present management in the past three years. The office appointments have nearly all been renewed and a complete "deforestation" of its ancient appurtenances has taken place. We congratulate the proprietors upon their well earned success, and wish them a continued advancement on that line.

Insurance Rates.
It is about time the attention of the Insurance Companies should be called to the lessened risks on property in our town, by reason of our completed water works. We think the water company should invite the attendance of Directors, Agents, &c., at a meeting to be held, for testing the projectile force and free flow of the water by its own gravity; when the facts are known, the rates of Insurance must certainly be lowered to the benefit of all concerned.

SHILOH'S Cure will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping cough and Bronchitis. Sold by J. A. Elder.

SOME one has declared conceit worse than consumption, and the comparison is a true one. Many are the "conceited" who cry down legitimate remedies, and who delude suffering humanity, whose only salvation is the immediate use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Tomatoes.
Most persons appreciate the prolongation of the use of fresh tomatoes, when the growth of the other vegetables has ceased and the frosts have cut off all supplies from the vines. It is a real treat to eat the tomatoes when their taste remains toothsome, as earlier in the season the way to do it is to pull up a number of the vines by the roots, and place them in the cellar, with or without earth or hang them around in other places, where the frosts cannot reach them, they will continue their growth and ripen for use.

A Smash Up.
When the Republican procession on its return from the west end of town on Saturday evening last reached the square the horse of Mr. Sprengle (millwright) that was standing on the street with the wagon, became frightened and started off, made a dash as if for the excavation of the fountain, but his course being changed, he ran up the Gettysburg road and soon collided with Mr. David Moritz's buggy, in which he was coming into town, the buggy was badly broken up, the wagon received comparatively little damage.

A Serious Mishap.
On Thursday, says the Daily News of Saturday last, Mr. William Miller, living near Hansonsville, about five miles north of this city, was at work with two horses in plowing out some potatoes. He left the horses standing and went to the house for a drink of water. While absent the horses started off and after running about twenty-five yards came in contact with a stump. Such was the jar to one of the animals that he fell to the ground and expired within three minutes. The horse was a fine one and the owner had recently refused $200 for him.

List of Patents.
The following Patents were granted to citizens of Maryland, bearing dates Oct. 7 1884. Reported expressly for this paper by Louis Bagger & Co., Mechanical Experts and Solicitors of Patents, Washington, D. C.: H. S. Dash, Baltimore, cake-machine 306,141. J. E. Sinclair, Waverly, pump 306,113. T. P. Stabler, Sandy Spring, central office instrument for telephone line 305,360. James P. Stabler, Sandy Spring individual call instrument for telephone 305,361.

Goods Recovered.
Last week we announced the robbery of Mr. Arnacost's store at Graceland on Tuesday night. Our telephonic despatch was not altogether correct. The facts are: the articles taken from his store were not only ready-made clothing and ladies shoes, but a variety of almost everything the thief could seize hold of and handle. And then, it was not Mr. A's horse and wagon that he took, but Mr. Samuel Newcomer's. And now, we are glad to say, the parties have recovered the horse and wagon and nearly all the goods taken. They were found in the neighborhood of Mr. Pleasant.—Banner of Liberty, of last week.

The Changing Season.
With all the pleasantness of the atmospheric conditions of the present season, the evidences of decay meet us on all sides, the precursors of the coming tempests. The few flowers that still enliven the embrowned plates of grass, and give colour to the surrounding nakedness of the shrubs and trees, display their loveliness with all the pride of colours that marked the luxuriant courses of their predecessors of the season past. These serve as the connective links between Autumn and Winter. They show how nature prepares us by gradual approaches, with objects of beauty, special comforts for the time, and various stages of preparation to emerge from warmth to cold and from dreariness and clouds and storms, to brightness and warmth again.

HACKNEYACK a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents, Sold by J. A. Elder.

Still Onward. The Mails.

A very kind letter from Mr. Charles Miller, Postmaster of Frederick, dated Oct. 15th, informs us of his interest in correcting the irregularity of the mail between that place and this. He says substantially, that learning through Eugene L. Rowe, Esq., a week or more ago, of the nature of the delay and its cause, he communicated with Mr. L. E. McGinnis requesting his attention to the matter, and concludes: "I am pleased to inform you that I received notice of the change to day, from the Supt., of railway mail service, and hereafter the Lancaster and Frederick agent will make a closed pouch for Emmitsburg, which will reach your office at 11:30 a. m." We beg leave on behalf of our constituents, to return hearty thanks to Mr. Postmaster Miller for his kind attentions in this business and trust he will accept this evidence of our hearty consideration. The next move on the Time Card of the mails will be to get the government to understand that the Emmitsburg railroad will deliver the early fast mail in Emmitsburg before nine o'clock a. m., instead of at noon as now, on the most reasonable terms over its 7 miles of rails.

The Fountain.

Work on the Fountain, which had been delayed for a week or so, from causes over which the association had no control, was resumed with energy on Tuesday morning, Mr. Lynch, the foreman from the Variety Iron Works, having come up from Baltimore, the evening before to start the work in such a way that there should be no further loss of time, and his promptness and energy aided by the skillful operations of Messrs. Willhide and Mumma, masons, with several under-helpers, soon had the basin ready to place the long-looked-for Fountain which arrived on Wednesday evening, in position. There is still a good deal to do before the work will be completed but that, thus much has been satisfactorily accomplished, is a matter of congratulation to those who have been working so hard to secure the much desired improvement.

As the ladies have decided to place a granite coping around the fountain, and will probably have to add either a railing or posts and chains as a protection, they will be obliged to exert themselves considerably to raise the additional funds, but hope, by persevering efforts, and the assistance of those interested in the matter to accomplish all they have undertaken, in good time.

Mrs. SAMUEL MOTTER, President of the Association.

MT. ST. MARY'S COLLEGE, Oct. 16, '84. TO THE EDITOR OF THE CHRONICLE.

DEAR SIR:—The time-honored, ever-welcome barbecue was celebrated this year at the Mountain, on October 15th, with an overflowing enthusiasm, that recalled the best pageants of the long ago. The description of "King Comus and his merry crew" was fully equal to whatever it did not excel of it, kind in the past. It was without doubt a credit to the class of '85, while it must be said that not a little of its merit was due to the happy manner in which Mr. Jos. Campbell brought out its good points. His Majesty's court was amusingly portrayed, and as his patronage fell on fortune's favorites, their countenances clearly showed a deep sense of responsibility while their less honored, but still hopeful friends offered their hearty congratulations.

Having selected a King, the next step was to celebrate with becoming solemnity his coronation. The day dawned clear and inviting—"a straggler from the files of June"—yet sufficiently cold for the celebration of the public games. His Majesty, in royal robes, with his family and ministers of state, was escorted by the Mountain Band and Mountain Cadets to witness the athletic sports. These consisted of running, jumping, vaulting, pushing the stone, throwing the ball, hurdle races, bag race, pig race, pedestrian contest, tug-of-war, etc.

Among those who distinguished themselves are the following, the bands consisting of those of about equal size and strength: In the 1st Band, M. A. Smith 1st, J. Culman 2nd, 2nd band—Frank A. Campbell and W. R. Healy. 3rd band—F. J. Dillon and J. Tate. 4th band—R. Hussey and P. J. Brady. 5th band—A. J. Fatgo and W. Roach. 6th band—Jos. Kelly and M. Eyre. The gold medal for general proficiency in athletics was taken by Frank A. Campbell, with R. Hussey second and Wm. Healy third. In the half-hour go-as-you-please contest, Frank J. Dillon took the medal—Record, about four miles. Frank A. Campbell threw the ball about 120 yds., which is not far below the best on record.

The tug of war was a regular old Grecian struggle. The earth fairly groans under the contestants, whose red faces and glaring eyes show how earnest is the pull for victory. Not a word is uttered, not an inch gained or lost, and still they tug. At length there is a slight giving way, a little more, and all is over. Having picked themselves up, the victors shake hands with the vanquished, for it was an honorable defeat. Thus closed another happy day in College life.

The day was done; the setting sun. Its last bright ray withdrew. As homeward turned, from fields well earned, King Comus and his crew.

And ne'er more blest, came sleep's soft rest. To warriors tired and true, After the fight, thus came that night To Comus and his crew.

No bloody schemes disturbed their dreams. Such peaceful reign now rears. For laugh and shout e'er go about With Comus and his crew.

May his day then soon come again— The festive barbecue, May we all live and welcome give, King Comus and his crew. "JOJALI."

The Death of Mr. Geo. T. M. Martin.

The unexpected death of Mr. Martin was a shock to his family and friends, for though ailing for two or three weeks, from Typhoid fever, he was not seriously ill, and had become so much better as to be up and somewhat about the house, he took breakfast with the family on Tuesday morning, and seemed in good spirits, but became suddenly ill a short time afterwards, and died before his physician could be summoned. He was an active and consistent member of the Reformed Church, and had been a Deacon for several years and was one of its Elders for over a year past; he was highly respected, not only in the neighborhood where he resided, but throughout the community. His widow and orphan children have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their affliction. The funeral services were held in the church of the Incarnation on Wednesday afternoon and were largely attended, the Pastor Rev. George B. Resser officiating, and the interment took place in Mountain View Cemetery.

Death of a Famous Lawyer.

Marshall S. Swartzwelder, who for a quarter of a century has been the leading criminal lawyer of Pennsylvania, died recently at his residence near Pittsburg, from brain fever, resulting from an accidental fracture of his leg. Mr. Swartzwelder was born in Hagerstown, Md., in 1819. His father was an itinerant minister, but shortly after Marshall's birth removed to Pittsburg and engaged in business. Young Swartzwelder finished his preparatory course in Hagerstown, attended Dickinson College, at Carlisle, Pa., and went a short time to Georgetown College. He read law in Hagerstown, and was admitted to the bar there, as well as in Baltimore. At the latter place he practiced but a short time. Moving to Pittsburg he entered into a law partnership with Hon. Walter Forward, who was Secretary of the Treasury under Pierce, and served as Justice of district courts for the western district of Pennsylvania. He served two terms in the state legislature, and was instrumental in the passage of an act making the judiciary elective. His first criminal case created a sensation, ending as it did in the conviction of Greatrake for seduction, after one of the hardest fought legal battles. In a single bound he became a famous criminal attorney, developing a faculty which afterward saved many necks from the gallows. The only man he ever defended who was hanged was Ortwine, who murdered a family of eight persons. He did not undertake the case voluntarily, but was appointed by the court. Truthfully it can be said that not a client of his was ever hanged. Mr. Swartzwelder was an eloquent talker, and prepared his cases with remarkable care.—Baltimore American.

From the Herald and Torch Light.

New corn is selling at 75 cents per barrel in Clearspring.

The canal trade was brisk last week. Over fifteen thousand tons of coal were shipped from Cumberland by canal during the week.

During the past ten days sixty-five carloads of cotton, aggregating fifteen hundred bales, have passed through Hagerstown, consigned to Baltimore.

Last Wednesday evening, Charles Willard, a freight brakeman on the Shenandoah Valley Railroad, fell from a north-bound freight train at Marksville, near Luray, Va., and was killed. His body was cut in twain and when he was found life was extinct. What caused him to fall was not known by his companions on the train. Willard was about twenty-five years of age, and had been in the employ of the company only a few weeks. He was unmarried, but it is understood was arranging for a union with a lady of this city in a few weeks. The deceased was about 25 years of age an orphan and had no relatives here. His remains were brought to Hagerstown on Thursday night and interred in Rose Hill Cemetery on Friday morning, of which he was a member, escorting them to the grave.

Last Thursday evening, about 6:45, some workmen engaged in blasting for a side track in the W. M. R. R. cut below the Academy Hill exploded a blast which threw a 45 pound rock all the way to the house of Mr. Veniah T. Meredith, on west Washington street, three doors below Hartman's grocery store. The distance is between 200 and 300 yards and the affair came near causing the death of Mrs. Meredith. She was sitting at the street window with a child in her arms. When a heavy report was heard, and Mrs. Meredith remarked, "that's a very heavy blast," and then said a few words to her little son about his studies. He had hardly done this when a tremendous crash was heard and the whole house seemed to be coming down. He saw his wife and child thrown to the floor on the other side of the room, and the wall just below the window split burst open and splinters, bricks and mortar thrown all over the apartment. He at once went to his wife's assistance and was relieved to find that she was unhurt, save some slight scratches and cuts. She was severely shocked, however, and it was with difficulty he succeeded in calming her. Had the rock struck a few inches higher, so as to come through the window, Mrs. Meredith and the child would have inevitably been instantly killed or terribly injured.

The damages to the property have been all thoroughly repaired at the expense of the W. M. R. R. Company.

Off at Half-cock.

The crowing and the cooing of some of our exchanges over the elections of this week, are very striking for their apparent heartiness; but as matters now look, there is high promise that by this time, the feathers of the bird have become much bedraggled, and turned backward, and "that same old coo" has grown very sleepy.

White-Wash n'g.

DORSEY MILBURN, a young colored man who with three companions went coon hunting one night recently in Sugar Loaf Mountain, in Urbana district, fell from a tree and was killed.—Union.

THE B. & O. Red Book for Maryland is ready for distribution, and in more than one respect, is the most valuable of any of the editions hitherto based upon this State. As has always been the rule, the forwarding of a stamp to C. K. Lord, Baltimore, is all that is necessary to secure a copy, and in fact the only way, as the Red Book issues are all for mail circulation. The present volume is replete with political statistics and condensed data, not only as regards the latest Presidential, State and Congressional elections in this State, but relating as well to elections since admission into the Union. It would be difficult to imagine a more complete showing of past results in the State, or a more neatly put together and printed little book.

L. JEFF. MILBURN & Co., of Baltimore have issued the ninth edition of their "Advertising Guide Book." The increased business of this establishment has necessitated larger and more convenient quarters for the transaction of its business and hence they have located in the Marble Building, 163 W. Baltimore street. The present edition of the Guide is made up of 146 quarto pages beautifully printed on tinted paper, and contains carefully prepared lists of all the leading daily, weekly, monthly and semi-monthly publications in the United States and Dominion of Canada, with their character, circulation and rates of advertisement, and the book is well interspersed with advertisements. This establishment is the only one of its kind in Baltimore City and the largest one representing what may be regarded the Southern trade, and hence commands itself especially to the trade of Maryland and its sister states. The book is extremely convenient for reference, and will commend itself to all interested in matters pertaining to the subject of advertising.

Management of Sheep in Winter.

Shepherds, like poets, are born, not made. You may find a dozen men who can be trusted to take care of horses, cows, or pigs, to one who is entrusted with the management of sheep. Why, we do not know. All the great sheep herders of the world have given much of their own time and labor to the care and supervision of their flocks. We have not space here to go into details, and in fact it is not necessary, as these vary greatly, according to circumstances. Much must be left to the common sense and experience of the shepherd. If any of our readers are going to keep sheep this winter, and have had little experience, we would advise them to consult some good farmer in the neighborhood, and in addition to this, the following hints may be useful: Sheep must have dry quarter

TAPE WORM.

In one of the tropical provinces of Germany there has been found a root, the extract of which has proved an absolute specific for Tape Worm.

It is pleasant to take and is not debilitating, disagreeable in its effects on the patient, but peculiarly sickening and stupefying to the Tape Worm, which loses the hold of its victim, passes away in a natural and easy manner, entirely whole, with HEAD, and while still alive.

One physician has used this remedy in 400 cases, without a single failure to pass the Worm, which loses the hold of its victim, guaranteed. No pay required until so removed stamp for circular and terms.
