WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND's farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND's direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPA-RILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Constipation, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND's permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Broad Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Longway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND's extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquiries much valuable information.

THE DEVIL.

Men don't believe in a Devil now, as their fathers used to do;

They've forced the door of the broadest creed to let His Majesty through.

There isn't a print of his cloven foot, or a fiery dart from his bow.

To be found in earth or air to-day for the world has voted so.

But who is mixing the fatal draught that palsies heart and brain, and lo! is the bier of each passing year with ten hundred thousand slain?

Who blights the bloom of the land to-day with the fiery breath of hell,

If the Devil isn't and never was? Won't somebody rise and tell?

Who dogs the steps of the toiling saint, and digs the pits for his feet?

Who sows the tares in the field of time wherever God sows His wheat?

The Devil is voted not to be, and of course the thing is true;

But who is doing the kind of work the Devil alone should do?

We are told he does not go about as a roaring lion now;

But whom shall we hold responsible for the everlasting row?

To be heard in home, in church and State, to the earth's remotest bound,

If the Devil, by a unanimous vote, is nowhere to be found?

Won't somebody step to the front forthwith and make their bow and show

How the frauds and the crimes of a single day spring up? We want to know.

The Devil was fairly voted out, and of course the Devil is gone;

But simple people would like to know who carries his business on.

In A Tropical Region.

ODD FACTS ABOUT THE POLITE PE-OPLE OF VENEZUELA.

The Splendors of a South American City's Parks.—The Remarkable Career of Guzman-Blanco.

The Venezuelans are the most courteous people that can be imagined, asserts a Caracas letter to the New York Sun. Impoliteness is unpardonable here. The clerk, with whom you deal over his counter, expresses his wish that you may live long and prosper, and thanks you gratefully for giving him the pleasure of showing his goods, whether you purchase anything or not.

When a gentleman meets a lady, he shies his sweetheart or his grandmother, he always says he "is lying at her feet," and he would rather be shot than be guilty of passing before her. They are not the semi-barbarians which some people in the north ern continent suppose. They have accomplishments which ought to make the rest of America ashamed.

Usually they are able to speak three or four languages, have refined taste in art and music, and, while they lack ingenuity, and usually do things in the hardest way, they are nevertheless possessed of the keenest perceptive faculties, and almost seem to read your thoughts. It is not difficult to make known your wants, even if you cannot understand a ton. There is no glass in the windows, but a grating of iron bars keeps out intruders, and heavy wooden shutters keep out the air and light. Such blinds as are common in North America would be the most admirable protection in this country; but no one has ever introduced them, and the people will continue to swelter behind solid shutters until the end of time.

The rooms of houses are not plastered, but the joists are all exposed.

The floors are of tile, and gaudy paper is pasted upon the walls of cement and stone.

In the court of every house are the most beautiful flowers. Tube roses grow in great trees, and the oleander is as common as the lilac in New England. The parks look like the botanical gardens of the North, and in the evening are always thronged with gentlemen and ladies until a late hour.

The police regulations are very strict. The other day a child was kidnapped by a man in a hack.— Every coach driver in the city was thrown into prison, and not a wheel was turned until the child was recovered. Drunken men are never seen in the streets. To become intoxicated is to invite yourself to work ten or twenty days in the chain gang; and to see the way in which prisoners are treated is an inducement to be temperate.

The president of Venezuela, General Crespo, is a mulatto of fine stature and commanding presence. He wears Louis Napoleon moustache and imperial, and is rather sluggish in his disposition. According to common understanding he is simply the mask of Guzman Blanco, who is presented from being perpetual president by a constitutional provision which prohibits the re-election of a chief magistrate without an intervening term. So, they say, Guzman serves as President every other two years in his own name, and puts up a dummy every alternate term.

Guzman-Blanco was born in the midst of revolution, and lived in revolution until he obtained the mastery of the country himself. For some time during Buchanan's administration he was secretary of the Venezuelan legation at Washington, and has made several visits to the United States. The latest was last summer, when on his way to Europe, and there was a scandal in New York, because a Fifth Avenue dentist charged him $10,000 for tinkering the teeth of his family.

After serving in various military capacities, Guzman finally, by his ability, courage, and force of character, became commander of the army, from which post, in 1871, he easily stepped into the presidency.

His authority was disputed for several years, but he kept strengthening himself until he became, and still is, as absolute a dictator as exercises power anywhere on the globe.— There has not been a law or decree, not even the slightest official act performed in Venezuela during the last ten or twelve years without his sanction, and, whether he sits in the chair of the president or enjoys life at his hotel in London or Paris, he is the acknowledged head and ruler of the republic.

The debt of Venezuela amounts to about $25,000,000 of principal and accumulated interest. When Guzman Blanco became president the bonds were worthless. His first endeavor after securing peace was to establish the credit of his country.

He went to London himself and secured the funding of the loan at a lower rate of interest, which has since been paid promptly in advance every thirty days. The bonds are now worth from forty to fifty percent. of par, and their security is guaranteed by the fact that Guzman himself has several millions of dollars invested in them.

Bolivar is known here as the Liberator, while Guzman takes the grandiose title of Pacificator and Regenerator of the republic—and he has earned it. From the time the Spanish viceroy was driven out, after a struggle of sixteen years, until 1874, Venezuela knew no peace, and was rapidly retrograding into barbarism. Guzman first pacified and then regenerated the people. They required rigid discipline, and Guzman was the man to enforce it; they required to be driven with a stiff rein, and he had the strength of character and the ability to guide them.

Next he commenced an extensive system of public improvement, giving idle men employment and laborers good wages. He built government offices, palaces, laid out parks, erected statues, paved streets, erected an aqueduct twenty-seven miles long to bring pure water from the mountains to the city, bridged streams, repaired churches which had been hacked and torn in revolutions, filled the plazas with beautiful flowers, and crowned his free school system with a university, bringing learned men from Germany to fill the chairs.

Finally he established an exposition

When you visit or leave New York City, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire and stop at the Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot.

Elegant rooms fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, reduced to $1.00 and upwards per day. European plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages and elevated railroad to all depots. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first class hotel in the city. oct 18-1y

Do not for a moment let your confidence betray you into supposing yourself incapable of mistake. It is indeed a serious blunder to refuse to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup when you even suspect you have taken cold.

ISSAC DEARDORFF, of Gettysburg, old and ill, distrusted banks and kept $150 in a strong box at home. Last week he woke up to find the snow in front of the house tramped up, a wire in the keyhole and the $150 gone. He hired a detective, and the theft was traced to Mr. D's son who confessed. He is in jail.—Village Record.

"How are we ever going to get through our spring and summer's work? We are all run down, tired out before it begins." So say many a farmer's family. We answer, go to your druggist and pay five dollars for six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This is just the medicine you need, and will pay compound interest on the investment.

List of Letters.

The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., March 30, 1885. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them:

Mrs. Joseph Gillean, D. A. Humphrey William Knott, George Marshall David Turner, Joseph Topper.

Dead.

He was born in the vicinity of Greenacastle, and is doubtless remembered by many of the older citizens of our county.—Village Record.

Another Chimney Fire.

A chimney of the Western Maryland Hotel took fire on Monday about one o'clock, p. m. A strong breeze was blowing at the time. The firemen turned out, and the excitement soon became general, but fortunately the flame was extinguished without damage, before the apparatus was set to work. Chimney fires make the town lively—next?

R., why the election had not been advertised to be held, in reply would say that the Board of Directors ordered me to make out an annual report, but failed to provide me with treasurer's statement which has caused the delay.

JAS A. ELDER, Pres't E. R. R.

Changeable Climate.

In this changeable climate hardly a week passes without catching cold. Wet feet, wet clothing, and exposure to draughts of cool, moist-air, abstracts heat from the body, chills the blood, and lays the foundation for many chronic lung diseases. In view of the above it is well to have within reach a medicine that can be depended upon—DuRoi's "Swiss Balm." Price 25 and 75 cts. Sold by C. D. Eichelberger.

List of Patents.

Benjamin Forsythe, aged sixteen, died apparently, at Freeport, Ohio, on Thursday of last week and was prepared for burial. He preserved a lifelike appearance, and at the grave Saturday, to satisfy the mother, the coffin was opened. A slight moisture attracted attention, and the body was removed to a house near by, where, after several hours' incessant labor, the boy was restored to consciousness, and will now, it is believed, recover.

Barn and Contents Burned.

Wednesday morning of last week a large barn on the farm of Frederick Oland near Greenfield Mills this county, was set on fire by a spark from a portable engine which was being used for some purpose quite near the barn. The barn and its contents were entirely destroyed. There were about 1,200 bushels of wheat, 400 bushels of corn, a lot of hay, and other grains, besides farming implements burned. No live-stock was lost. The loss is nearly $3,000, partly covered by insurance. Mr. Oland, the owner of the barn, lives near Woodsboro, and the farm is occupied by a son of his.—Union.

New Style of Incubation.

An inventive genius who lives in the neighborhood of Carlisle, Pa., conceived a brilliant idea from which he evolved a plan for a greatly improved machine to hatch chickens. He was busy with importance as he erected his machine, calling in his neighbors to view its wonders and he confounded by its mysteries. When completed the machine was started with four hundred eggs and steam got up speedily. All went well until the time when the young peeps should have broken through the shell, but not a tender bill emerged. With patience and hope the inventor waited full time, but at length curiosity to learn what kept the chicks back induced examination, when the discovery was made that the eggs had all been cooked, some of them as hard as billiard balls.—Boonsboro Times

A Permanent Cure.

Mr. John Lucabagh and wife, Westminster, Md., writes, June 10, 1884

My wife had a severe attack of asthma, and was treated by one of our best physicians until we considered a cure was effected but it soon made its appearance again. DuRoi's 'Swiss Balm' was recommended, we began its use, and believe it has made a permanent cure. We take great pleasure in recommending 'Aromana' and 'Swiss Balm,' believing them to be genuine. They are the only proprietary goods that we ever used that done what they claimed to do." Price 25 and 75 cts. Sold by C. D. Eichelberger.

A Novel Movement.

It is stated that the liquor dealers of Hagerstown have formed an association in which each binds himself, in the penalty of $50, to sell no liquor to certain habitual drunkards, of whom a list will be made out and approved by the association. This is emphatically a reform movement, against intemperance, not from without but from within, and its operation will be regarded with interest.—Mail.

No more milk is purchased by the Williamson Creamery, that establishment having adopted the Fairbank method of gathering cream. Instead of buying the new milk at the Creamery, as heretofore, cans are now left with each milk supplier, who is visited daily by a Creamery representative whose duty it is to skim off the accumulation of cream, paying for it at pound rates and leaving the skimmed milk with its owner. Antietam Creamery of this vicinity has adopted the same system, and will be put in force as soon as the cans arrive.—Keystone Gazette.

Truthful and Pointed.

The following from an exchange is both truthful and pointed: "You may be able to get a large city weekly filled with accounts of murder, scandal cases, cock fights, etc., for the same money you get your home paper for, but those city weeklies do not advertise your county and make your property valuable. They do not help along your schools and churches; they say nothing of you and your town and have no interests in you. A good newsy paper is as much advantage to a town or county as are good schools. Stand by your home paper, for they always stand by you, and are ever on the lookout for your interests."

Accidental Death.

David Hollinger, of Harrisburg, whose mother resides near Bragtown, the young man who was peddling fish, oysters, etc., throughout this section for some months past, was found Wednesday of last week at a place near Williams' Grove in a dying condition, the result of an accident. The wagon, horse and driver had been precipitated over an embankment, and when found Hollinger was lying partly in Yellow Breeches creek with a box of fish resting across his shoulders. Two young men witnessed the accident and hastened to his relief. He was carried to a house near by and partly restored to consciousness. He could not explain the accident, and died the same evening. Deceased was about 28 years of age.—Cont.

Now that spring is about to open the gentlemen who have charge of the affairs of the 'Mountain View Cemetery,' should arouse themselves and take such action as will promote the development of that beautiful locality. We insist that as a financial matter, there is nothing now offering in this community that promises more certain remuneration. It cannot fail to make a handsome return upon the money that may be invested in it and the sooner it assumes an attractive form, the more inviting it will prove in that aspect of the case.

But there are other considerations that with right thinking persons, vastly outweigh those that are merely pecuniary. To provide a fitting place of repose for departed friends has been characteristic of tribes and peoples in all ages, and the sentiment thus deeply implanted in human nature, finds the added impulse that springs forth from the influences of Christianity, which ever seeks to honour the bodies of the departed in regard to their being the habitations of the soul in the natural life. There is much due to the sacred dust that already lies in the cemetery, and the living are concerned to prepare for the repose that awaits them. how soon none can tell. To beautify those grounds and make them a place of resort in calm meditation, will be adding very conspicuously to the attractiveness of the beautiful surroundings of our neighborhood, and be evidence of the refinement of taste that is naturally to be expected from such gifts. There should be renewed efforts in the production of evergreens, the growth of flowers promoted, and all such improvements as pertain to the case.

Agricultural.

Live Stock in April.

The work horses now need an abundance of strengthening food. Keep the harness clean and soft. It is easier to prevent galls than to cure them, especially during this busy season, when a horse's labor is most constant and valuable. Many horses working upon soft ground are best shod when they are barefoot. Cows need careful watching during this season. When a cow's time approaches, the feed should be reduced. Look out for garget and use the simple remedies often mentioned in these columns. Ewes with lambs need abundance of food, otherwise the lambs as well as the dams will suffer. If ticks are troublesome use a dip of tobacco water, or some one of the several preparations sold in the shops. Swine need a run, and may do much good in the orchard. If the poultry have vermin, use kerosene upon the roosts and walls of the house. A dust bath is enjoyed by fowls.—American Agriculturist for April.

Horses to be Watered before Fed.

Bearing in mind that the stomach of a horse is small in proportion to the size of his frame, he requires feeding often, and though three times a day is sufficient, four times is better. Unlike human beings, horses should drink before they eat because, owing to the conformation of the horse, water does not remain in the stomach, but passes through it into a large intestine called the cecum. If a horse be fed first, the water passing through the stomach will be likely to carry with it particles of food, and thus bring about colic. Whatever a groom may say let a horse drink just as much as he likes. If he be watered four times a day he will never take very much, or too much to be good for him. A horse, it must be remembered, is fed on dry food, and this, with the strong work done by a hunter, always produces a feverishness, which a sufficiency of water tends to allay.—The London Field.

POTATO BEIGNETS—Mash a large plateful of mealy potatoes with two ounces of butter and two well beaten eggs. Rub them till no lumps remain, spread the mass out smooth, not quite an inch thick; then cut out with cutters half moons, round, oval, and three cornered shapes. Coat them with egg and bread crumbs, and grate cheese over. Fry them a delicate yellow, or put them in the oven to bake a nice pale color, without drying. Serve them hot, either alone or as a garnish to different dishes.

HEALTHY HOUSES—It is important for the household's health that the cellar should be rather light and well ventilated. There should be, if possible, one or more openings into warm flues in the chimney-stack, so that the air may be continually changing. The best way to keep a house dry and healthy is to use it living in all the rooms, either every day or by turns. A spare room is usually a damp, ill ventilated room, and an empty house deteriorates much faster than one which is occupied.

Many farmers, where apples are a profitable crop, are utilizing the roadside by planting some of them near or on the road line. The roots, of course, extend to the road, get the wash from the droppings of horses driven thereon, and otherwise fare much better than trees planted in fields kept in grass or grain. Another advantage the apple tree by the roadside has is plenty of room to spread its branches and ample sunlight to color and give flavor to its fruit.

THOS. H. BRATTAN, Esq., Snow Hill, Md., says in the year 1884 he used a fertilizer made with Powell's Prepared Chemicals, 200 lbs. to the acre, on corn with very satisfactory results. This economical fertilizer is recommended by farmers in three-fourths of the States of the Union, and can be bought for $6.00 per barrel—a sufficient quantity to make one half-ton of complete fertilizer. Brown Chemical Co., manufacturers, Baltimore, Md.

To Much Corn.

Corn is, without doubt, an excellent food for poultry, but they should never be confined to that alone for their food, and the thing to know, and that which many breeders do not know, is when and how much corn the birds should have. When feeding for winter laying, the first and all important thing to know, is that hens will not lay when fed on corn alone.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and ACUE Or CHILLS and FEVER, AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine claims to have discovered a remedy for all malarial diseases, and for all remittent fevers, and for all cases of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is the old and reliable remedy for impurities of the blood and Scrofulous affections.

Magnetic Cures. DR. HILL is to discover the philosophical principle that all nervous pains, aches and debility should be treated directly from the "Brain Battery." From whence emanate all nervous force and will power. All other forms of treatment for nervous disorders are failures. Every person who suffers from nervousness knows this, and that medicines only palliate, but never cure. These appliances are magnetic, and differ from all others on the market which are electric. Magnetism is the life of man. Their curative qualities are a wonder in all nervous complaints. The Roman physicians practiced magnetic treatment 1,000 years ago in nervous diseases, but did not treat from the "Brain Battery." Dr. Hill has made this great discovery, the only cure for nervous Headaches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Paralysis, Spinal Weakness, Dyspepsia, Catarrh of the Bladder, and Foot and General Debility. Miraculous cures noted every day. The Magnetic Brush lifts and builds up the system, and is the greatest curative agent known and used in a "brush bath" imparts tone, replenishes the depleted system, and restores the vitality. It is used by the "Brain Battery" and "Pulse" should be used. The brushes are warranted to do the work or the money refunded. Send for circular and testimonials. By giving a description of nervous trouble we will send a free and directions how to use our appliances. Hill Medical Magnetic Appliances Company, Lock Box 55 Washington D. C.
