A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "29 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 20, 1882.
"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the enclosed letter will tell you a marvelous effect."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in this letter.
Yours truly,
W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER:

"It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a horrible humor, and scrofulous sores, which had caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882.
Yours gratefully,
HIRSH PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blisters, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It cleans the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

NOW.

The Fourth of July is very quietly welcomed in these degenerate days, and is noticeable more for the absence of enthusiasm, than anything else. We are fast becoming a master-of-fact and undemonstrative people, and if our wonderful enterprise and activity have not weakened our devotion to a free and independent government, they have at least, tamed down and modified our manifestations of it, so that we can but wonder how "the day we celebrate" will be honored, a hundred years hence. We have already had it proved to our utter consternation, that the "Declaration of Independence" was not signed on the Fourth of July at all, but only read and accepted, and we cannot help feeling a little sheepish, in presence of this astounding fact, when we think of the eloquent reminders to an admiring public, that "this is the hallowed anniversary of the glorious day on which our noble forefathers signed that wonderful instrument which made us a free and independent nation;" which formed such a prominent part of the celebration of every Fourth of July when we were younger, and more enthusiastic. Can it be that the prohibition of fire-crackers and such like spirit-stirring amusements has quenched the patriotic fire, in the breast of Young America, and turned his aspirations from the pomp and pageantry of the great revolutionary achievement, to the quiet self-indulgence in pic-nics and ice cream? So many of the heroes, and the heroic deeds, which we were taught to revere in our youthful days, have been proven by the light of modern information, to be but myths, that Washington himself, a few hundred years from now, may be regarded as but the fanciful embodiment of an idea.

We are travelling with fearful rapidity from the ways, the thoughts and the hallowed associations of the past; we are so eager to know everything, to possess, or have the means of possessing everything, that can minister to our vanity or gratify our ambition, that we have little time to look back over the past, to see if we may not be leaving more of real worth behind us, than we can ever attain in the future however brilliant it may prove.

One good old Fourth of July celebration, such as was indulged in by the most law-abiding citizens fifty years ago, would be good for all of us, if it only had the effect of making us forget, for one day, how great, and rich we are as a people.

A DELUGE IN BALTIMORE.

The heaviest rain storm since the memorable one of July 1868, occurred in Baltimore on Sunday morning. In two hours four and a half inches of rain fell. The small streams became rushing torrents, and the dwellings along their banks were inundated. Boats were brought into use in investigating the damage; goods were destroyed, hogs were carried off from the stock yards. The flooding of cellars, washing out of walls, &c., in the course of the flood will aggregate $75,000 damages. Trains were delayed six hours on the Western Maryland railroad by the washing away of the same 5 miles from the city. After the subsidence of the water in some places mud was piled up six feet in height and furniture and all kinds of merchandise were strewn around promiscuously. A tobacco manufacturer lost $5,000 worth of stock; some dealers in clothing had their entire stock ruined; Westminster Methodist church had its steeple struck by lightning and was considerably damaged. The heaviest thunder and lightning known for years attended the storm.

The Cecil County News says it would add vastly to the stock of martial happiness in this country if the bans of every marriage had to be published once a week for one month before the ceremony in some newspaper in the county where the lady resides. The same result might be obtained by publishing the bans in the church where the lady attends for several consecutive Sundays, as is done among Catholics. The law should make either the one or the other obligatory, and leave it optional with the persons intending to marry. If this be done, the marriage license and consequent fee might be abolished.

THE SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED.

The commencement season has ended; Hundreds of young persons, males and females have been released from the restraints of school life, to take their places in the conflicts of the world. There are those ever ready to put forth the enquiry, what is all this working to receive diplomas worth? and broadly to intimate that the time and the money consumed in the course, have been misplaced, if not absolutely lost; that many who might have become good farmers, good artisans, and so on, have been diverted from their proper calling, to the uncertain employments of the educated classes. In the multiplicity of the examples, no doubt the idea has its realization in some cases, but upon the whole there can be no question that the world is the gainer. Sydney Smith said "a life of knowledge is not often a life of injury and crime," hence its conservative influence in purifying, and elevating the body politic is everywhere felt.

We must have leaders, and as the blind cannot lead the blind, it is indispensable that the leaders shall be educated. Those who seek counsel in the conduct of their affairs do not go to the ignorant and inexperienced to obtain it, but they enquire of those whose opportunities have enabled them to drink at the fountains of wisdom.

Taken as a body it is wonderful to contemplate the numbers of the educated persons, who succeed in their undertakings as compared with the few who fail, and this reflection in itself speaks volumes in favour of advancing education by all proper and attainable means. It is therefore of the highest moment that every influence should be exerted to maintain the institutions of learning on a basis that shall be equal to the necessities of an ever increasing population, and it is a subject which ought to enlist the attention of legislators and statesmen. The problem of the mode, and the extent of advancing education is as broad as humanity, and cannot reach its full solution in the present relations of life, but must go forward in ever widening circles, making new advances, with new victories as the achievements of the present, prepare the way for the future.

To contemplate a condition in life in which all pursuits shall proceed on the basis of educated endeavour, is to foresee a state in which happiness, content and independence will have reached their highest degrees. But all this implies that education everywhere and at all times, shall be founded on the basis of morality and religion, apart from which its greatest achievements must prove a vain show, a power that lacks the elements of firmness and coherence and hence fraught with direct evil.

To the young taking up their armor for the grand conflict in life, there must be a realization that they have only begun their education; they have simply viewed the grounds here and there; meditated upon the first principles; and out of the vast field are to settle upon and determine what parts they shall hereafter cultivate; the preparation of the past has been but the acquisition of the rules, the determining of the line of investigation upon which future developments are to proceed, the past has opened the way, in which information may be found on such subjects as shall hereafter be desired.

Knowledge does not grow old, but is ever young, and the flight of years finds it ever renewing itself, and as we grow older "our knowledge doth but show us our ignorance." "Knowledge is power," says Bacon. But if power be not directed to good and laudable ends, it readily descends to injustice and wrong and oppression. Hence all the earnest solicitude that the conduct of education shall be upon the broadest, the most complete, and the most exalted principles of right, refinement and morality; hence also the world is so exacting in its demands upon those who are called to act as high priests in the temple of knowledge. The influence and example of a good teacher may make itself felt through generations, and therefore none but the best, the purest and the wisest should minister at its altars.

The top of the Bartholdi statue will be 305 feet above the sea.

"EX FUMO DARE LUCEM."

We learn from the Democratic Advocate that the "Anti-Nicotine Manufacturing Company of Westminster, Md.," was to have commenced operations this week. Dr. Edward D. Wells, of Westminster, has patented a process whereby the nicotine, the poisonous property in tobacco may be neutralized, and at the same time the flavor of the weed be retained. The expense involved in the process is so small as not to enhance the price of the manufactured goods. It may therefore be confidently expected that the smoking of tobacco will soon receive a new impulse, and that everybody will take to it, not excepting the women, so that we shall literally realize Irving's account of, how the Dutch settlers of New York, kept up such a constant cloud of tobacco smoke along their water courses as to have obscured themselves from their enemies passing along, and thus secured themselves from molestation, whilst they proceeded in dreamy blissfulness to enjoy their calm and quiet order of life. We are now ready to test this accession to human happiness.

MRS. DUDLEY ACQUITTED.

Mrs. Yselt Dudley, who has been on trial in New York for her attempt upon the life of O'Donovan Rossa, was acquitted yesterday on the ground of insanity. The defense which her counsel had put forward for her was that her mind was unsound, and that theory was supported by the testimony of several physicians as well as by letters from English institutions in which the prisoner had been known, but Mrs. Dudley, with a sincerity rare upon such occasions, told the jury in effect that she did not wish to shelter herself behind this plea, and that they should either acquit her on the ground of having done a justifiable act or convict her as a criminal. The jury, however, declined to consider her sane, and acquitted her on the ground that she was mentally irresponsible. — Baltimore Sun.

There is something particularly touching in the resignation of General Grant as he notes his life slowly slipping away from him day by day. His present freedom from pain and his disinclination to move out of the house is an exceedingly ominous sign, as the physician with him does not attempt to conceal. There would, indeed, be nothing surprising in a sudden collapse of the weary sufferer. Meanwhile the New York papers note the bad taste, to call it by no worse a term of certain speculators and other enterprising persons in sending up parties of excursionists to the mountain to stare at the dying general. This is almost turning him into a sort of dime museum attraction and is in every sense outrageous. Very probably his dislike to going out to sit on the veranda of the cottage is due in part to the annoyance he experiences from the crowd of curiosity-seekers loitering about to gaze at him. — Baltimore News.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

REPORTS from Spain in regard to the cholera show that the disease is steadily spreading in that country.

All the window-glass factories in the Pittsburg (Pa.) district have closed down for the summer vacation, that is until Sept. 1.

It is reported from Vienna that if the United States refuses to recall Mr. Kelley the Austrian government will formally decline to recognize him.

It is said the Baltimore and Ohio will put 10,000 men to laying tracks to Philadelphia and the officials say they will have trains running to New York by November next.

A Wyoming Judge passed sentence of death upon a condemned murderer in this wise: "I am by no means satisfied with the evidence in the case, and am not sure whether you killed John Forbes or whether he died by visitation of God, but my sentence is that you be hanged on the third Friday of June; and should you know of your own innocence you will have the comforting thought that it is doubted by some of the wisest thinkers of the age whether life is in any circumstances worth living."

PEGGY CARSON, a colored woman residing in Mechanicsburg, died recently in the remarkable age of one hundred and three years, nine months and five days. She had become so decrepit that she could hardly walk, and in her anxiety to be about, would at times crawl around on her hands and knees like a little child.

From a single grain of wheat planted in 1881 grew twenty-two stalks, each bearing a full head. These yielded 800 grains, 700 of which were planted the next year, producing one-fifth of a bushel of splendid wheat. This was planted the next spring, yielding seventeen bushels, making 1,020 pounds of wheat as the product of a single grain in three years.

J. C. FORBES, a celebrated Canadian artist, was attacked with hemorrhage of the nose on Tuesday, and is bleeding to death. He had been suffering from catarrh and injected some patent medicine, which has so eaten away the covering of the arteries of the nose that they burst, and all the efforts of his physicians to check the flow of blood have failed.

LONDON, June 29.—The Berlin Post, in an article supposed to have been inspired by Prince Bismarck, hints at a desire on the part of Germany for an alliance with England.

The Novoe Vremya, of St. Petersburg, says: "Russia ought not to forget that the Marquis of Salisbury and Lord Randolph Churchill have always been anxious to form an Anglo-German alliance against Russia."

The Los Angeles Herald, speaking of crop prospects in southern California, says the demand for the single article of cabbages is simply enormous. Carload after carload of the popular vegetable is being shipped to the Territories and to Texas, and they bring a return of at least $500 an acre to those who raise them. All the prospects for a large fruit crop are fine for the present summer. About 17,000,000 grape vines will this year yield their luscious fruit, while the peach, apple, pear, and apricot crop will be about double that of former years.

By the will of Robert Treat Paine of Brookline $50,000 has been bequeathed to Harvard College for the maintenance of a professorship, to be known as the Paine Professorship of Practical Astronomy in commemoration of his father, grandfather, and great-grandfather all of whom were graduates of Harvard. The residue of the property after some private bequests have been paid, is given to the President of the college, the income of which is to be expended for the support of the assistants in the Observatory, in purchasing and repairing instruments, and in awards for the discovery of new planets.

A GREAT stimulus appears to have been given to grape growing in southern California. The Los Angeles Herald remarks: "In every direction the land is being ploughed for the use of the vine. People are beginning to learn that grapes may form a large part of the food of a family, and are also good food for hogs, and will produce food for the porker where corn will not grow without irrigation. Figs are also most delicious food for hogs, especially young and growing animals. At least a million vines will be planted in the vicinity of San Gabriel Mission during this season, and 500,000 will be planted in the Duarte and on the east side of the San Gabriel River." — N. Y. Sun.

JOHN ESTES COOKE of Virginia has made a searching investigation of the evidence to be had, that Smith was captured by a party of Indians in 1607 and carried to the Indian capital on York River, where Powhatan ordered him to be slain. Pocahontas interfered to save him. She took Smith's head in her arms, so that it was impossible to beat out his brains without hitting her. Powhatan consented to spare the prisoner, and treated him kindly. Afterward Smith released some Indian prisoners, stating that it was for the sake of Pocahontas. He told his friends in Jamestown that Pocahontas had saved his life. In a letter to Queen Anne he said that he would be guilty of the "deadly poison of ingratitude" if he forgot the goodness of Pocahontas. In several letters he gave to this girl credit for his rescue from death. It was on this account that Pocahontas was flatteringly received at the English court. After her marriage to Rolfe she was baptized, and lived "civilly and lovingly with her husband." — N. Y. Sun.

It is stated that Professor Tyndall, of London, will probably soon present to the University of Pennsylvania the sum of $10,800 towards the founding of a fellowship in physics, to be conferred by the institution. When Professor Tyndall visited this country, some years ago, he delivered a series of lectures in some of the large cities, the proceeds of which he placed in the hands of three trustees. This fund has accumulated, and now amounts to $32,400, and it is announced that Professor Tyndall will divide this sum equally between the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia College, and Harvard University, for the founding of fellowships in physics. The University of Pennsylvania has at present five fellowships, none of which are endowed.

TIMELY RECIPES.—The following recipes, the value of which has been proved by frequent trial, will be worth bearing in mind, now that the hot weather is here and drowning cases and sunstrokes will very likely be as numerous as usual. The recipes are from the Baltimore Sun Almanac of 1876:

In cases of persons apparently drowned, they should be laid gently down, their wet clothing quickly torn off and dry blankets wrapped all around them. Then artificial respiration should be made by drawing the arms away from the sides, bringing the elbows up together above the head, pushing the arms down again and around, so that the elbows meet over the pit of the stomach, and so on at the rate of about 16 times in a minute. As the arms are brought down gently but firm pressure should be made on the stomach just below the end of the breast-bone.

In cases of heat or sunstroke lay the person in a cool shady place. Loosen his clothing. Let the bystanders rub the arms and legs with pieces of ice wrapped in towels until the excessive heat of surface is allayed. Give twenty drops of aromatic spirits of hartshorn in a little water every twenty minutes or half hour. No effort to rise or work should be allowed till the person is quite restored. Hartshorn is said to be better than brandy in cases of sunstroke.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements peculiar for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every corner of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfillment of its promise.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

For a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER is made, it cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dizziness, and thus prevents baldness, it stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes it so a matter of economy.

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Friend: I am sorry, Doctor, you have left Boston. Persons continue to come to me to inquire respecting you, while many others write me. Many who left me said they would surely seek your aid. Your success has been wonderful, and I am quite sure without a parallel. To my surprise my large Hernia appears to be perfectly healed. I did not expect it at the age of 70. After receiving your treatment I was relieved from suffering which was fast taking my life. I have no idea I should be living had you not taken my case in hand. I weigh, now 170 pounds, over thirty pounds more than then. I think you must receive a great amount of happiness from the relief given and gratitude rendered. You owe it to my son in Boston, who has known many of your patients before and after healing, that I applied to you. "Go," said he, "to Dr. Sherman; he is doing wonders." I had failed of help from a dozen others and doubted, but he would not let me rest till I went. I bless the day I did so. It is to me a mystery, Doctor, that you have had so wonderfully on-distance all in your profession. I hope your life will long be spared to relieve suffering, and thus bless the world. Most affectionately and gratefully yours, REV. JOHN ALDEN. The Rev. John Alden's case was quite as bad as Mr. James Corlies's, in Dr. Sherman's illustrated book. Those who value immunity from strangled rupture no time in securing the benefits of Dr. Sherman's treatment and remedies. His book, containing likenesses of bad cases before and after cure, with evidence of his success and endorsements from distinguished physicians, clergymen, merchants, farmers, engineers and others, is expressed to those who send 10 cents. Dr. Sherman can be consulted daily at his office, 251 Broadway, New York, except Thursdays and Fridays, when he will be in Philadelphia office, 302 Walnut Street. No operation or detention from business. Patients from a distance can receive treatment and leave for home same day. June 13-4t

THE Cheese Factory at Rocky Ridge is now under roof—the machinery will soon be placed in it. The building is of good size and well constructed. We hope the people, especially farmers, of this vicinity will aid in making this undertaking of Messrs. Biggs & Barriack a success, which certainly will be of benefit to this community.—Clarion.

No injurious effects can follow the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the treatment of malarial diseases. It contains, besides a specific and unfailing antidote for miasmatic poison, other remedial agents which unite to expel the poisonous humors, purify the system, and leave it in a healthy and reinvigorated condition.

Foot Mashed. Johnson Eyer, who drives Mr. D. H. Riemann's team that is delivering sand to St. Joseph's House, got off the "lazy board" on Tuesday and in attempting to push the board under the wagon, by a mistake had the wheel run over his foot crushing it badly. Dr. Eichelberger rendered surgical aid.

Ground Hog. Clarence Dudgeon, of this place, captured a ground hog on Saturday last in the field adjoining his mother's residence, and the animal has been quite a source of amusement and inquiry among the young people of the town. Clarence should keep it until next Spring, and test its prognostications about the weather.—Banner of Liberty.

A LARGE coal oil tank belonging to Messrs. Geo. Brust & Co., W. Patrick St., exploded with a tremendous report Saturday morning while their colored porter, Hiram Brown, was measuring out some oil. The can had a capacity of sixty gallons but at the time of the explosion contained only about ten or fifteen gallons.—Examiner.

Freel. John Burkett, our colored mail contractor to Gettysburg, closed his term of office on Tuesday, with certain innocent demonstrations of delight that attracted some attention along the streets. John has been a prompt and efficient officer, always on duty, kind and accommodating in his ways and strictly temperate. His special express will be missed.

The Baltimore American. The advertisement of the Baltimore American appears in this issue. The paper addresses itself to all classes and parties and as exerting great influence in the formation of public sentiment has a very extended field. Its news-items cover all the affairs of the day, and may be consulted with reliance for correctness at all times.

Newspapers. An Exchange says: How inconsiderate are those who send abroad for a newspaper, and will not subscribe to one at home. They do not wish the local paper to go down, but times are so hard they can't afford to take two, at least the one they can borrow at home. If they want to publish a temperance notice or obituary notice or a mammoth pumpkin or turnip, or large and luscious fruit, off they run to the nearest editor, and are vexed if he does not exclude something for them and have a paper to lead them a horse for an hour and give them a dime to buy oats with. Encourage your local paper.

The Century Magazine for July has a very fine portrait of Frederic Mistral by Johnson, accompanied by a sketch of his life by Alphonse Daudet, "George Eliot's Country" by Rose G. Kingsley is fresh and entertaining, whilst "Social Life in the Colonies," presents a good many phases of society which will be new as well as amusing to most readers. "The Rise of Silas Lapham," is continued, as is also "The Bostonians," "McClellan's Change of Base," "Bear-Guard Fighting at Savage Station," "The Seven Days' Fighting about Richmond," and the "Memoranda on the Civil War," together with Topics of the Time, "Open Letters," and the usual Brice's Frame, all will be found very attractive reading. A Monument Dedicated at Gettysburg.

GETTYSBURG, July 2.—Members of the Ninety-sixth Pennsylvania Volunteers and their friends today dedicated a monument of Quincy granite in the rear of "Wheatfield." Mr. Geoffrey Keeler, of Philadelphia, delivered the address. To-morrow monuments will be dedicated by the Twenty-ninth Pennsylvania and the Twentieth Connecticut Volunteers.—American.

List of Letters.

The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., June 29, 1885. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them:

Mrs. Laura V. Yeeror, Miss Susie Few, Mrs. Margaret A. Hahn, Mrs. M. S. Keene, Mrs. William Myers, Miss Kate Rhodes, Mrs. Stephen.

This is The 4th.

It is the duty of every citizen to do his best patriotic endeavors to make this day memorable; fortunately the Firemen's arrangements open the way in an inviting manner. Now let every one lie to the grove, and scatter himself or herself all over the shady grounds; hear the music, behold the rhythmic mazes of the dance, and be rationally happy.

POST MASTER McNair has given us the changes in the mail service at his office, which will appear in place next week. We can only now say: The fast mail from Baltimore arrives here at 7:30 a. m., and the through mail at 7:20 p. m., from Western places at 4:50, p. m., and from Frederick at 11:20, a. m., and 7:20 p. m. Mail is closed for Baltimore and Western points at 8:20 a. m., and way mail for Baltimore and Frederick at 3:15 p. m. The office is open from 6 a. m., to 8:30, p. m.

School Closed.

St. Euphemia School, the parochial school of St. Joseph's Catholic church in this place closed its scholastic year on Wednesday, without any public exhibition, and in an unpretentious way. Father White, distributed premiums to deserving scholars, and with kind words of congratulation on their progress, and good advice for the vacation, dismissed them. This school under the teaching of the kind Sisters of Charity, is a most important institution in our community.

This following has been going the rounds of our exchanges. We shall be thankful to any one who may tell us when and where the alleged law was passed? and where its record may be found.

The new postal law which goes into effect on and after Wednesday, July 1st, makes takers of a newspaper and the refusal to pay for the same, theft; and any person guilty of such action is liable to criminal proceedings, the same as if guilty of stealing goods to the amount of his subscription. The postmaster or the letter-carrier can testify in all such cases.

TWENTY-two years ago, to-day, hostile armies two hundred thousand strong converged from all points upon Gettysburg. The morning of the following day opened the roar and clash of battle, and during that day, and the next, and the next, this locality experienced all the horrors of bloody strife. Twenty-five per cent. of the contending hosts found record as "killed, wounded and missing." No wonder Gettysburg has been accorded a place upon the maps of the country; no wonder its fame is as world-wide as Waterloo's.—Compiler.

A Fatal Accident.

Stella Belle, daughter of B. Daniel and Emma Snyder, residing three miles west of town in Mountjoy twp., was almost instantly killed last Tuesday afternoon. After dinner, she and her little brother went out in the direction of the barn to play, near the barn was a stone-bed of a wagon sitting up against the fence, her brother walking on the edge of the wagon bed, his weight tilting it over striking his sister in the nape of the neck killing her almost instantly. Her age was 2 years, 10 months and 27 days.—Littleson Era.

From the Frederick Weekly News.

Fredricktown Savings Institution has made the hearts of its stockholders glad by giving them a dividend of five per cent free of all taxes.

The Frederick Band Orchestra has been engaged to furnish music at Island Park every Tuesday and Friday during the coming excursion season.

Mr. Cornelius Mercer living three miles east of Frederick finished his harvest of 20 acres of mixed wheat Thursday. The wheat was of very fair quality.

List of Patents.

The following patents were granted to citizens of Maryland, bear date June 23, 1885, reported expressly for this paper by Louis Bagger & Co., Mechanical Experts and Solicitors of Patents, Washington, D. C. Advers Free.

Chas. McCabe, Antietam, Md., steering canal-boats.

E. J. Moore, Baltimore, Md., water-tube boiler.

Wm. Painter, Baltimore, Md., electric railway.

C. R. Pue, Baltimore, Md., gun-wad.

From the Waynesboro Record.

We are gratified to learn that our manufacturing interests are brightening up, to some extent at least. Within the past few weeks many orders have been received for machinery, some pretty large ones. The business situation is therefore more encouraging than for several months, and an extra force of hands has been employed.

Mrs. Wm. Fox, living near Five Forks, in Quincey township, met with a serious accident on Wednesday last week. It appears she was on a tree picking cherries, from which she fell, striking a piling fence, the top of a piling entering the fleshy part of one of her thighs, and penetrating a depth of about six inches. The wound is said to have been a most frightful one. Dr. Geo. W. Boteler was immediately sent for, who dressed the wound and otherwise administered to the lady's relief. At last accounts her situation was encouraging.

General Grant's Condition. The Latest Report.

MOUNT MCGEEON, N. Y., July 2.—Notwithstanding the apprehensions that General Grant would pass a restless night last night, he rested and slept fully seven hours. Said Colonel Fred Grant, as he entered the hotel to breakfast at half-past nine o'clock this morning: "Father was sleeping when I left the cottage just now, and I know he slept well until after four o'clock this morning, for I was up and at work until that hour."

Dr. Douglas this morning remarked that when the General awoke last night to take food, or to have his throat treated, he did so with a clear mind. There seemed to be no drowsiness in his waking intervals, and he fell asleep again readily. The night was a very good one despite the mental work of yesterday. The morning is bright and clear, though chilly, after the past four days of wet weather.

From the Herald and Torch Light.

Hon. Louis E. McComas has recovered from his recent illness, which was of five weeks duration, and is again attending to his law business at his office in this city.

Col. H. Kyd Douglas, of this city, delivered an address last week before the Literary Society of St. John's College, at Annapolis, in this State, his subject being "Good swords make good plow shares." The Colonel argued that great wars are great advances of civilization and that the greatest advances in the arts, sciences and inventions have always followed immediately after great wars.

Mr. Dennis A. Cretin, whose illness was reported in last week's Herald died last Wednesday night at the Franklin House of general debility and collapse of the nervous system. He was a brother of John H. Cretin, formerly landlord of the Antietam House here, and was about sixty years old. He was a widower, and left one grown son surviving him, who lives in Ohio. He was born in Frederick county, but for some years was a resident of this place, keeping a saloon in the hotel kept by his brother during the time.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Kieffer, of this city, visited Hanover, Pa., last week, to attend the funeral of an aunt. He was again taken suddenly ill on Sunday afternoon and prevented from conducting the evening services at his church, but has recovered sufficiently to be able to come out again and visit his friends.

An old English Penny.

John Snowden colored, recently ploughed up in a field on the farm formerly owned by Dr. Garret, near Burkittsville, this valley, a strange copper coin. It is 1 1/2 inches in diameter, and an eighth of an inch thick. On one side is a head surrounded by the letters "Georgius III, O. G. Rex." On the reverse side appears a female figure, the word "Britannia" and the date 1797. The coin was sent to this office, where it now is.—Valley Register.

Frederick County Matters.

FREDERICK, Md., June 29.—Mr. Daniel Stine, a well-known resident of Broad Run, Middletown Valley, had his skull terribly crushed a few days ago by being struck by a windlass while looking into a well. He lingered in an unconscious condition until yesterday evening when he died. He leaves a widow and six children.

Miss Ethel Hacketton, daughter of Mrs. M. W. Hacketton, formerly president of the Frederick Female Seminary was married here this afternoon by the Rev. Jno. B. Harding, of Baltimore, to Robert G. McPherson, Jr., a young merchant of Greenvale, S. C. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends.

The temperature fell here this evening about twenty degrees within a few hours. Overcoats were found necessary for comfort.—Sun.

Miscellaneous.

He Was Not a Kicker.

Ben Ridgely, a Louisville, Ky., newspaper man, who, for the first twenty years of his life, had been accustomed to feeding on champagne and diamond back terrapin, has for the past twenty years been having a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match with the usual boarding-house spread, and is still alive but weak.

"Madam," he said, with a demisemi-quaver in his voice, and a piece of wetness in each eye about as big as a buckshot, "haven't I been a pretty good boarder for the two years I have been with you?"

"Why, Mr. Ridgely, of course you have. Only yesterday a lady asked me how long you had been a member of the Young Men's Christian Association," replied the lady in surprise.

"Yes, and when you gave us eggs with feathers on, did I ever kick?"

"Wha—what's that?" stammered the woman, thrown off her balance by the suddenness of the blow.

"And did I ever insist on your clipping their wings?"

"Sir, I don't—"

"And didn't I keep right on, even though you let the butter wear its hair banged, when you knew I hated bangs?"

"Mr. Ridgely, this is going too—"

"And did I complain, when I found a button in my pie, because there wasn't any buttonhole in the flap?"

"Sir, I won't stand this any—"

"And did I report you to the Society of Prevention of Cruelty when I picked that poor, helpless cockroach out of the biscuit?"

"Shut up, you—"

"Yes, and when I found a minnow in the milk, did I ask you whether you milked your cow with a fishing pole or a seine?"

"Wha—wha—wha—"

"Don't mention it, madam. When the steak was a little tough, was I one of the boarders who sent a buzz-saw and a steam-engine up to the house?"

"—I—"

"And did I ever object to paying for furniture repairs, because the bread was so heavy that when I swallowed it, it knocked the bottom of the chair out?"

"You mean, good for nothing—"

"Don't get excited, madam. Did I ever inquire whether you drew you tea with a windlass or a chain pump?"

"Oh, you villain, you wretch, you—"

"I hear you, madam, and I want to ask if I ever reflected on your molasses can by asking if you had a patent on that fly trap?"

"Oh—oh—oh you—"

"I ask, madam, did I ever do any of these things? And I answer by saying, 'Never, no never.' Therefore I want to know why in thunder, excuse my forcible language, please, when they bring me a plate of soup with a dishrag in it, they don't bring along a pair of scissors to cut the darned thing up so a man won't choke on it. That's all, madam."

"I CAN'T pay that bill just now; you will have to wait a little for the money." "All right sir," cheerfully responded the boy, as he seated himself and unfolded a copy of the morning paper. "Them's the orders of the boss." "What are the orders of the boss?" demanded the gentleman, sternly. "I'm to wait for the money."

It is said of Cartwright that when a certain woman who had more tongue than religion, at a class meeting said, if she had one more feather she could fly to heaven, he prayed: "Lord, stick in the feather and let her go."

Wm. M. EVANS is credited with retorting, when some one spoke of his long sentences: "Say what you will, there is only one class of the people really opposed to long sentences, and that is the criminal class."

SHE looked at the waning moon and remarked: "How pale it is."

"It ought to look pale," he replied, with the air of a man thoroughly conversant with his subject, "it has been full for several nights."

"PA," said Blossom, "has Aunt Mary got to go all the way out west in a trunk?" "In a trunk? why, my child, where did you get that idea?" "Why, I heard you say she had gone by the Grand Trunk railway and I thought they didn't carry any peoples, only trunks."

Humorous.

FACTS that are constantly coming to light—matches.

"RENTS are high this year," sadly murmured the tramp as he borrowed a pin with which to hold his coat-tail together.

ONE young man said to another: "It's a long way from this world to next." "Oh, never mind, my dear fellow," said the other, "you'll have it all down hill."

"WHAT makes you chew tobacco?" asked a nervous brother of Sam Jones, the evangelist. "To get the juice out," said Sam, who seems to be as practical about material as he is about spiritual things.—Lx.

A LITTLE fellow turning over the leaves of a scrap book, came across the well-known picture of some chickens just out of their shells. He examined the picture carefully, and then, with a grave, sagacious look, slowly remarked: "They came out 'cos they were afraid of being boiled."

A NEW YORK man went into a crowded car and asked if he could have the seat which was then occupied by a hat, whose owner was sitting in the next seat. The man angrily grasping his hat, answered: "Yes, take it, if you are a hog."

"I am so near one that I guess I will take it," said the other.

THE poor little school children make the same mistake the world over, when they are taught what they don't understand. In England, the Bishop of Chester, examining a school, asked one boy: "Who is your great spiritual enemy?" The boy looked up, and said simply and gravely, "The bishop."

"MY dear, look below," said a Harlem man, just as he stood on the bridge with his wife and gazed at a tug haling a line of barges. "Such is life—the tug is like a man working and toiling, while the barges like women, are—"

"I know," interrupted Mrs. G., acidly, "the tug does all the blowing and the barges bear all the burdens."

THE New London Day, which has twice recently erred in announcing the death of people, gives notice that hereafter any young man bringing news of a death at an hour so late as to make verification impracticable must be accompanied by the remains, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.—Harford (Conn) Times.

AT Montreal a thief went into the hall of a hotel while the boarders were at supper and gathered up all the hats. He was making his way out when a boarder, a little behind time, came in and asked him what he was about. "Oh," says the thief, "I'm taking the gentleman's hats around to Leary's to get smoothed." "Well," replied the boarder, "take my hat, too, will you?" "Certainly, sir," said the accommodating thief, and vanished.

A METHODIST minister tried to start a church in a Western town, but from lack of support, had to give up the project. This was the peroration of his farewell sermon: "At the last day the Lord will say to St. Peter, 'Where is your flock?' and St. Peter will answer, 'Here, Lord.' He will say to Calvin, 'And where is your sheep?' and Calvin will reply, 'Here, Lord,' and so all the shepherds can answer. But when he asks me, 'Where are your sheep?' how will you feel when I am compelled to reply, Lord, I haven't any; mine were all hogs."

THE negro Chairman of a Convention which recently met at Little Rock rendered an important decision. During a clamor for recognition the Chairman said: "Let de Cheer—let de Cheer rule on dat p'int. De Cheer rules dat de two gemmen kain' talk at de same time. One gemmencan mus' talk an' airtir he gits dun, de udder gemmencan he ken talk." Who's got de flo?" demanded a delegate. "Nebur mine who's got de flo." Keep on er axin' yer unpovermentary questions an' yer 'I' hab de flo—hab all o' hit dat yer kin kiver. I takes dis deah mefof fir ter 'nounce mysef de nomidre for county Jedge. All in faber o' de measure will make it known by sayin' 'I,' an' dose opposed will please gin up dar seats fer pussions what's got more sense. De 'I's hab it."

DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and AGUE Or CHILLS and FEVER, AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out.
