We are under obligations to Rev. Dr. Higley, Superintendent of Public Instruction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for a copy of his report for the year ending June 1st, 1885. The report is a model of its kind; binding, typography, paper, its literary features, exhaustive statistics, all together make it an invaluable book of reference and instruction in its special sphere.

It takes the south wind to bring out the fields from their seclusion beneath the snowy garments that have covered them so long. The covering has been good for the grain. The daily thaws followed by the long nights of freezing, may yet prove highly injurious. To feel the breath of the gent'le winds inspires longings for spring, and all hearts will henceforth turn hopefully to its coming.

EVERYBODY reads the large sale bills, for they think the size means business to come off; very few notice the small ones, for they conclude there can't be much to sell where there's so little show. To make a good sale, a large assemblage is needed, whatever may tend to draw it together, adds to the outcome. Extensive provision for the occasion is the part of economy. The sale bill leads the procession.

R. move the snow.

Everybody who can, should remove the accumulations of snow, that are contiguous to the houses. In melting the water may thus be diverted from settling in the cellars. But in any case the removal will relieve the extra cold and dampness that attend its presence. It is economic in particular to have enclosures on the north side of a house freed of the chilling drift masses.

Smith, of Woodsboro, secured the brush, the run though short was exciting, being visible nearly all the way from the starting point.

A Striking Picture.

H. Pelouse & Son, of Washington City, have sent us a "Shut the door" card, that gobbles up the entire bakery. The scene represents a Printing office; a compositor stands with his back to a type-case; with one hand he holds some copy on his case, in the other is his composing-stick that rest against his apron, which flutters in the breeze. A visitor has just left the office, and his form is still visible through the door, and the snow flakes are rushing in over the floor; the type cases and everything. His hair is dishevelled, his mouth wide open, displaying his teeth, and his eyes distended. The expression is that of intense indignation, "mad as a hornet," and loudly he exclaims—"Shut the door!"

The Catholic Jubilee.

Right Rev. Archbishop Gibbons in compliance with the Pope's mandate of December, 1885, has issued a circular letter announcing a jubilee for 1886. To gain the indulgence of this jubilee, the faithful are commanded to make certain visits to their churches, praying for concord and peace, the extirpation of error and the propagation of truth. A fast of two days, excluding not only meat, but butter, milk and eggs is required. Confession and communion must be strictly observed, distinct from other duties, and the faithful must devote themselves according to their means. To stimulate a spirit of sincere devotion in the hearts of all true Catholics, so as to secure the success of the jubilee, the clergy are instructed to have missions, or some special religious service at such time as they may think best.

A Beautiful Scene.

On Monday morning the trees presented a most beautiful aspect in the form of a deposit of frost of an inch or more in depth; on every branch and twig, and as the sunlight advanced the expansion of the crystals caused them to take wing, as it were, and the efflorescence disappeared, in a little snow fall that involved only the grounds beneath the trees, and every little flake was radiant from the sunlight.

MR. GEO. L. LORILLARD, the well known New York turfman, died in Nice, France, on the 3rd inst. He had gone there in the hope of benefit to his health from the mild climate.

THEY are using natural gas in Pittsburg for clearing away the snow. Using a common rubber hose with a nozzle, it was attached to the gas main, and applying a match, a slender flame eight feet long was directed into the snow, which was converted into water in short order.

ALL reports agree that this is the hardest winter Scotland has experienced in twenty years. The snow is two feet deep. Sheep are starving and perishing, and wild birds are flocking to the towns and villages to obtain food. The railway companies find it very difficult to keep trains moving.

A CROWD of roughs attacked a chapel near Reading, Pa., on Monday night, while services were being conducted, breaking in windows and knocking over the pulpit. In the panic that ensued one woman was seriously injured. The names of the men engaged in the mob have been ascertained and they will all be arrested.

MR. JOHN JACOB ASTOR promised to subscribe $25,000 towards a building for the use of the Young Women's Christian Association of New York, provided a similar amount was raised before February 1. The new building will cost $125,000. Of this sum over $60,000 has now been raised, thus securing Mr. Astor's liberal subscription.

ONE of the most ludicrous lapsus lingui that we have run across lately was committed by Mr. Hubbard recently in presenting a petition from the Young Men's Christian Association to the House of Commons praying for the better protection of girls and young women. There were several ways in which the presentator could have passed it to the proper official in silence, but he arose and without a break or pause repeated as follows: "Mr. Speaker, I beg to present a petition for the better protection of girls and young women from the members of the Young Men's Christian Association."—San Diego Sun.

A FAVOURABLE report has been made on the bill before the House of Representatives to appropriate $500,000 for the erection of a monument in New York City to the memory of General Grant. It is provided however, that no part of the money appropriated shall be expended or drawn from the Treasury until the sum of $250,000 shall have been subscribed and paid into the funds of the Grant Monument Association, and is available for the purpose of erecting the monument.

REV. J. H. DUBBS, D. D., Professor of History and Archaeology in Franklin and Marshall College, was recently notified of his election as a Fellow of the Royal Historical Society of Great Britain, in recognition of his labor in the department of historical science. There are but few persons in this country who have received this distinction, but in England it is an honor which is highly appreciated, as it confers upon the recipient the title F.R.H.S. It also conveys the privilege of annually receiving the proceedings of the Royal Historical Society, which are distributed to members only.

"MR. SMITH," asked the professor of natural history, "which animal exhibits the greatest susceptibility for attaching itself to the human race?" Smith reflects: "Ah—er—er—I think the leech, professor."

THE foolish virgins who spend nine-tenths of their leisure time in learning to decorate china would do well to remember that the young man in search of a wife is more likely to tie to the girl who knows how to decorate her china with a good square meal, well cooked and daintily served, says a modern Solomon.—Rochester Herald.

YOUTH, AGE and Knowledge. "Yes, sir," said Jones to Smith, "as men grow in age and experience they advance in knowledge." "I don't think so," replied Smith. "Don't think so? That's rather singular. The opinion I hold on the subject is the universal opinion." "It may be, but I have my own opinion, nevertheless, and it is that the younger we are the more we know. When I was a youth I knew twice as much as my father. Now I am aged I don't know half as much as my son."—Boston Courier.

A Crawford County Opinion on Niagara. We took in the excursion to Niagara. It was our first visit to the Falls; and while standing below the mighty cataract, listening to the threatening of the mad torrent as it rushed and rolled over the precipice, seething and foaming at our feet in all its glory and greatness, our former friend, who stood as if transfixed to the rocks seemingly as stoic as petrification, inspired with awe and admiration at the grandeur and solitariness of the scene presented, suddenly broke the solemnity of our thoughts and gave vent to his pent up feelings with: "By golly, what a bully place to wash sheep!"—Cochran Times.
