Sale Register.

On Saturday, March 20, Joseph N. Smith will begin to sell his store goods at public auction, commencing at one o'clock and continuing every afternoon of the following week, until all is sold, at his store at Liberty Mills.

On Monday March 22, I. S. Annan, Executor will sell the personal property of David Gamble, deceased at his late residence about 2 miles west of this place.

On Wednesday, March 24, Jacob Smith, near Motter's Station will sell stock, farming implements, &c.,

On Friday, March 26, George Smith, one mile from Motter's Station, will sell stock and farming implements.

On Saturday, March 27, Granville T. Crouse, Agent, for Mrs. W. H. Crouse, will sell a large lot of household furniture, at the National Hotel, in this place.

On Monday March 29, Eugene L. Rowe, Trustee, will sell stock and farming implements at Mrs. Harriet Motter's stable in this place, the property of John A. Horner.

On Tuesday, March 30, Wm. L. McGinnis, 1 mile west of this place, will sell stock, farming implements, &c.,

On Tuesday April 6, Luther C. Derr, Sheriff, will sell the property of John Gillan, about 2 miles from this place, in front of the Western Maryland Hotel.

LOCAL ITEMS.

GARDENING has begun. PAY the printer and have a clear conscience. STRAW hats come out here and there, on the sky as it were.

Did you sow your seed for late cabbage plants on St. Patrick's day? BRACE UP your nervous system with Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron.

GREENS, so beneficial for the digestive organs and the liver will soon be plentiful. A FIRE on South Mountain has attracted considerable attention from Hagerstown.

EVERY babe should have a bottle of Dr. Fahmney's Teething Syrup. Druggists sell it. 25 cents. It may be well to expect some cold weather ahead, and not be deceived by present prospects.

THE greatest want of Emmitsburg at this time, is that of houses, for persons desiring to locate here. THE days and nights are now equal in duration, and according to the Almanac Spring begins to-morrow.

TAKE Dr. Fahmney's Syrup of Wild Cherry and stop your cough. Nothing equals it. All druggists sell it. MR. McCOMAS has introduced a bill to establish post-office savings banks as a branch of the Post-office Department.

WANTED—5,000 logs at Iron Dale Saw Mill, to saw on shares, Wm. L. McGinnis, one mile west of Emmitsburg. It is not prudent to keep your coat off after exercise, these shining days, particularly when in a state of perspiration.

DEAD branches, on a tree or vine, absorb much sap that should nourish the growing parts, hence they should be cut away. THE shadows of coming events, are always projected, by small fittings, that relieve the monotony of our street processions.

FOR FIRE Insurance in First class companies call on W. G. Horner, Agt, office N. E. corner of the Public Square, Emmitsburg, Md. MR. BUCHANAN SCHLEY of Hagerstown has been appointed an aid on Gov. Lloyd's staff, with the rank of colonel. —Herald and Torch Light.

COLONEL Henry J. Johnson, postmaster at Cumberland and editor of the Cumberland Daily News, died on Sunday, at Asheville, N. C., aged 44. AN exchange suggests to use a paper bag, such as groceries come in, to protect the hand in making toast and doing other culinary duties at the fire.

UNION BRIDGE is discussing the project of having water introduced into that place the coming summer, Little Pipe Creek to furnish it.—Banner. SOME of our maple trees already present beautiful aspects of efflorescence that contrast joyously with the lifeless appearance of the surrounding trees.

CATARH is a disease of the mucous membrane, almost invariably originating in the nasal passages and maintaining its stronghold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh in its worst stages, and gives immediate relief from cold in head. It contains no injurious drugs. Price fifty cents. TAKE Dr. Fahmney's Health Restorer the great Blood Purifier and Liver Invigorator. Druggists sell it. $1.00.

A Healthful Outlook.

One hundred and forty-nine new doctors were graduated in Baltimore this week.

THE Tree Planting. We hope our young men are not waiting for the ladies to inaugurate the Tree Planting Association. No doubt they will co-operate, but they should be invited to the good work.

REMOVALS. Mr. Chas. S. Zeck has removed to his residence on the square. Mr. Jno. T. Long has taken possession of his new home on the Gettysburg road about half a mile from town.

CAPT. HENRY L. BUD of Chambersburg, Pa., is 96 years old, and his wife 87. The sixtieth anniversary of their wedding was celebrated on Saturday. The Captain was a soldier in the war of 1812, and was in a battle with the British. He is still vigorous.

PERSONALS.

Misses Carrie and Emma Motter made a visit to Frizzlesburg this week. Mr. John O. Johnston, returned home from a visit to Philadelphia, and in Carroll county, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Joseph Byers and daughter Jeannette are visiting friends in Westminster. WHAT a pitiful sight! A suffering baby.—There is nothing better for cholera infantum, colic, &c., than Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Price only 25 cents.

Twenty-five cents will buy a pound package of Day's Horse Powder, the best article out. Try it. The curative power of Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills over bilious fever is appreciated by thousands.

FIRE at York, Pa. Fire broke out on Monday night in the warehouse of Schell & Brilling, at York Pa., and over six hundred cases of tobacco, valued at over $30,000, stored therein, were damaged. The loss will be heavy, but may not be total. The insurance is about $20,000.

LECTURE. On Friday evening 26 inst. a lecture on "Africa," will be delivered at the Public School House by a native of that country for the benefit of a student who is preparing himself to return there as a missionary. Admission 15 cts.

LIST OF LETTERS. The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., Mar. 13, 1886. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them:

Mrs. Franklin Myers, Mrs. Mary Myers, Milton H. Working. PLAIN questions for invalids.—Have the routine medicines of the profession done you no good? Are you discouraged and miserable? If so, test the properties of the great Vegetable Specific, Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters, the finest invigorant, corrects and alters that has ever seen the light, and you will find relief.

DEATH OF MR. PETER FLAIR. Mr. Peter Flair, of Middletown, who suffered for several months from a decaying leg caused by freezing, and who was paralyzed on the 4th inst., died on Monday morning, in the thirty-second year of his age. He leaves a wife and four small deaf mute children. Mr. Flair was a member of Catoctin Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Middletown.—American.

SINCE the ground-hog awoke on Monday from his deep sleep, he seems to have had a real jolly time of it in the clear, warm, and mild atmosphere of this week. But wearied by over much joy, the rain of Thursday night and Friday morning must have cut short his pleasures. He returned to his hole and everybody fired up anew, so grievous was the dampness.

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP. HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 15.—Robert Gassaway, colored, residing in the northern section of Hagerstown, was seriously wounded in the leg at an early hour this morning by a load of buck-shot from a gun which he had set as a trap for thieves. He placed the gun in his smokehouse, with a spring to the gun door, and on opening it this morning, received the load that was intended for marauders.—Balto. Sun.

THE Business Man. The business men of a town, are those who give it character and a name. It is impossible that a man can prosper and that his neighbors shall not be benefited thereby. His success must depend upon the good will and the support he derives from those around him, and this itself is the outcome of the benefits he affords to the inducements held out to his customers. He must in one form or another, make known his resources, and his facilities for supplying the wants of others. Hence the painter's art is brought into requisition, business signs, decorated walls, pictures, models tasteful displays, &c., invite to the inspection of the premises, but in advance of all these go the printer's work, advertisements, hand bills, circulars, &c., that call attention to the articles to be inspected. To be indifferent to these matters is to be wanting in the first elements that make a successful tradesman and we may add a successful man in any of the walks of life. The "wants" of the times occupy whole columns of the daily papers, and every interest of daily business is in like manner presented, all which confirm the imperious necessity of the printer's work.

To study the best and most beneficial mode of securing prosperity is the duty of the man of business, so his projects of improvement are always on the advance, he cannot stand still; new buildings mark his surroundings, workmen are encouraged in their erection, new comers flock to his town, the population increases, new industries arise and prosperity abounds.

Burned to death in a Lime Kiln.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., March 14.—Joseph McCull, aged about thirty-five years, of Philadelphia, had just been released from jail, and becoming intoxicated, went to a lime kiln and lay down to sleep. He was overcome by the gas, and the fire breaking through the crust of the kiln burned him to death.—World.

The Death of Colonel Johnson.

CUMBERLAND, March 14.—The death of Col. Henry Jeffers Johnson, at Asheville, N. C., of consumption, has created a sensation here, from his connection as editor of the Cumberland Daily News and the Sunday Citizen. He was a native of Bethany, Brooks county, W. Va., and was in his forty-fourth year. He was a printer by trade, and shortly before the war he was a resident of Wheeling. In July, 1861, he enlisted in the Union army as a private. He was promoted, and in 1862 was commissioned as first lieutenant. He twice declined promotion as captain, and was mustered out of service July 16, 1865. In April 1871, he started the Cumberland Daily News, and in 1879 he obtained control of the Sunday Citizen, and was editor of both papers up to the time of his death. His term as postmaster of Cumberland expired on the very day of his death.—American.

Improvements in View.

Mr. Jas. A. Elder President of the E. R. R. will remove to his property on Carlisle street, the Valley House, early next month, when he intends to tear down his present residence near the square and erect a new one.

W. G. Blair Esq. intends to make improvements on his property, recently purchased and now occupied by E. L. Rowe Esq.

Mr. Philip Lawrence has purchased the property now occupied by Mr. Blair and intends to tear it down and erect a new one on the site.

WHEN will the average citizen stop spending his hard earnings on cigars and tobacco? Give it up? Well, when he finds he can do without tobacco and cigars, but not without Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Salvation Oil, the greatest pain-cure on earth, is compounded of purest drugs. It is guaranteed to contain nothing of a poisonous character. Only 25 cents a bottle.

WILLIAMSPORT and the Canal. Should the proposed scheme of leasing the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal for a term of not more than thirty years be accomplished, the town of Williamsport will, in all probability, become an important shipping point. The effect of the lease would probably be to cause the construction of a railroad from the coal regions to that place and connecting with the Western Maryland, thus establishing a competing line to Baltimore. Williamsport would then be the point at which coal would be transferred from cars to boats and shipped to Alexandria by canal, the railroad and canal being operated together by a transportation company. This, it appears, is the complete development of the idea of leasing the canal.—Herald and Torch Light.

SOME Accidents. On Tuesday Mr. Spangler, his wife and daughter of Gettysburg, came to this place, that Mrs. S. and daughter might take the evening train for Hagerstown. Having some spare time, they drove out to St. Joseph's Academy, and on returning, at the gate-way one of the horses became comparatively unmanageable which, so frightened Mrs. S. that she jumped from the vehicle and in doing so broke her leg at the ankle. Having gotten her into the "Lodge," Mr. S. came on to town and secured the services of Dr. R. L. Annan, who bandaged the fractured limb, and the party returned to their home in Gettysburg. As Mr. J. W. Truxell and his father were driving down the Taneytown road on Tuesday, his mules took fright at a broken vehicle at Flat Run bridge, and wheeling suddenly broke the spread, the railing of the bridge only saved them from being precipitated to the Run below.

A sale bill having fallen on Mr. W. S. Guthrie's horse, at J. W. Gillilan's sale on Tuesday, the horse was so terrified that he pitched and plunged and broke the buggy shafts and a spring before he was quieted.

LIST OF PATENTS. The following patents were granted to citizens of Maryland, bearing date Mar. 9, 1886 reported expressly for this paper by Louis Bagger & Co., Mechanical Experts and Solicitors of Patents, Washington, D. C. Advice Free.

DR. J. SHELTON M'KENZIE. Oculist and Optician. Graduate of the University of Edinburgh, College of ophthalmology, and Royal Eye Infirmary has opened an office, in the Telephone Exchange Building, East Patrick street, Frederick, where he may be consulted by those suffering from disease or any difficulty of their eyes. Dr. M'Kenzie has made a special study of diseases of the eye and having had an active practice of ten years in Europe and America believes he can successfully combat the diseases which are so destructive to this delicate organ. All examinations are made with the ophthalmoscope and other scientific instruments used in modern ophthalmology. A correct diagnosis is made of each person's case and an accurate statement given of the exact condition of their eyes. In functional diseases of the eyes, where glasses are indicated, the doctor cuts grinds and adjusts them for each person thus insuring perfect vision, ease and comfort to the wearer. These glasses are free from the imperfections usually found in glasses, viz: Mud specs, cracks, flaws, waves, blisters, &c. They are made from pure quartz, very white and as transparent as the purest spring water. These goods are not put on sale in the shops. They are only ground and fitted to order. Thousands of people who are suffering with their eyes from over lachrymation, pain over the eye and through the globe, a dull heaviness of the eye itself, a morbid feeling as though there were sand imbedded in the mucous membrane of the lids, very sensible to light and air and a desire to partially close the eyes, or an incipient inflammation in the globe of lids. These and a great many more troubles may be cited which produce stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact, which experience has demonstrated in regard to Bestzer's Stomach Bitters, has stronger evidence to support than this, namely, that this medicine of comprehensive uses checks the formidable and atrocious disease, scrofula, less positively established than it is preferable to the poison often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salutary ingredients. It is also a signal remedy for malaria fevers, consumption, dropsy, kidney and bladder ailments, debility and other disorders. See that you get the genuine.

Physicians Have Found out That a contaminating and toxic element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive subcutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constant and shifting pain and aggregating as a calcareous, chalky deposit which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact, which experience has demonstrated in regard to Bestzer's Stomach Bitters, has stronger evidence to support than this, namely, that this medicine of comprehensive uses checks the formidable and atrocious disease, scrofula, less positively established than it is preferable to the poison often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salutary ingredients. PRISON LABOR.

The following article deserves attentive reading, it embodies the convictions of a gentleman, who, for many years has been identified with Prison Reform: When sentenced to confinement in the Penitentiary, it is understood, that as far as the convict is physically able, he is to be compelled to labor. Prison ethics secures him, wholesome and sufficient food, comfortable bedding, and protection from cold. He is to be securely confined, and not to be made worse either in mind or body from his imprisonment. It is due also to the taxpayer, that the convict shall earn by his labor, his proportion of the expense of the prison.

In some states, convicts are leased out for mining purposes, digging out iron ores, constructing railroads, farming service and on public works. In these grades of employment they, in the immediate neighborhood, largely supplant and interfere, man for man, with the humblest and most helpless of local unskilled labor, hence the riots within the present month in the mining regions of Kentucky.

The system of out of prison work, camp labor as it is called, produces a mortality of from 5 to 6 per cent. annually; it affords opportunities of escape, and it excites the pursuits of the fugitives with bloodhounds.

That the convicts ought not to be employed outside of the prison is obvious, and it will not be possible to work them otherwise without interfering more seriously than now, with skilled or unskilled labor. The latter class of labor from its very helplessness, deserves consideration, and will, if opposed by prison labor, suffer far more from the cause previously given. An appeal is therefore made to the sober judgment of the General Assembly not to interfere with the best system yet devised to carry out the penal laws of the State. The prison officers have done their best to avoid conflict with local skilled labor, and feel assured the result, as stated in this paper, cannot be successfully controverted.

The Maryland Penitentiary is more than self-supporting. Its mortality is but one per cent. Less than four hundred of its inmates are employed, altogether on contracts. Fully eighty per cent. of its manufactured products are shipped out of the State. Probably, nearly the entire twenty per cent. sold in Baltimore would otherwise be supplied by factories, or prison shops, of the New England or Middle States. Hence, by the selection of special industries by the directors, no comparative harm results, in their opinion, to the skilled labor interest of this city or State.

Not only no harm, but the industries there give employment and pay the highest wages for at least fifty competent employees, both in and out of the prison, who are citizens of good standing.

The contractors also buy material in this market to the extent of, probably, a quarter of a million dollars.

Abolish the various industries now existing in the Maryland Penitentiary, much will be lost to the city of Baltimore, a large trade interest, and all its advantages, and the employment of a number of citizens.

The tax-payer must, then, meet all the expenses. The Legislature must provide one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the coming two years to that end.

The Penitentiary is now self-sustaining. Its labor interferes very slightly with local interest.

Its existing system gives employment to many citizens of good repute. It causes large purchases in this market.

Its health statistics indicate the adaptability of its labor to the necessities of the situation.

Why not let well enough alone? Why not leave to experienced Directors, whose anxious study is to discharge their duties with the least possible interfering with honest labor, the management of prison labor?

The effect of idleness under restraint may be here well stated in the words of a report upon the subject made many years ago: "A considerable number of prisoners fell, even after a short confinement, into a semi fatal condition, from which it was next to impossible to arouse them; others became violently insane; others still committed suicide, while those who stood enforced idleness 'better, were not reformed.'"

The questions involved in prison management are but two— ENFORCED IDLENESS! ENFORCED LABOR!

The pains and penalties of idleness can hardly be conceived within prison walls, and labor if enforced at all, should there be enforced impartially, considerably and profitably.

The first reproach to an offender against the laws protecting property, is "Why steal? Why not work for your living?" Offended society after conviction sentences him to compulsory labor, and enforces the sentence to make him honestly earn within prison walls, what he was proached for not doing, when at liberty—his own maintenance. As a celebrated writer (Burton) put it, "Idleness is the chief author of all mischief, one of the seven deadly sins, the cushion on which the Devil chiefly reposes, and a great cause not only of melancholy but of mischief, crime and disease; hence compulsory employment is not only the penalty but the antidote of crime."

Testimonial of the Craig Folding Incubator.

(See advertisement elsewhere.) MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 17, 1885.

Dear Craig:

I must write you what good luck I have had with your incubator. The number of eggs I put in the first time was 200 and I got 197 chickens. The brooder I made from the plans in your catalogue is the finest thing for the young chicks I ever saw. Your incubator I know is the best one that is made. In fact they can't make them any better. I have been a barber for about ten years and am going to give it up now and go into the chicken business. I think that I will send for one larger than this one, shortly. The incubator is no trouble to run and works like a charm.

COMMUNICATED.

EMMITSBURG, March 17, 1886.

MR. EDITOR:—I read with much interest, in your last issue, the communication from our friend of "Tom's Creek" upon the manufacture of butter by the use of "A. H. Read's Celebrated Creamery and butter-worker."

The article in question contains a carefully prepared statement of the amount of butter manufactured during the year, from a given number of cows, the disposition made of the same &c., coupled with the expression "all honor to the A. H. Read famous Creamery and Butter Worker," and supplemented by a challenge "Can any of my neighbors using other creameries beat this?"

This last I fail to exactly comprehend! Is this to inform us of the success of our neighbor in his well directed labor, or is it an advertisement of the A. H. Read Creamery and Butter worker? If the former, we think our friend should be commended not merely for his success but for his generosity in designating the means by which he achieved the result. If the latter, I have to say that while I believe the Read creamery to be a good one, it is no disparagement to say, equally satisfactory results could have been obtained by the use of one of the many other creameries now upon the markets, or, so far as quantity is considered, by the old fashioned process of our grandmothers. We are fully abreast of the times in this matter, however, and do not wish to depreciate any of the excellent labor-saving machinery, but think in the distribution of "honor," vastly more is due the good housewife, who plans and works the motor-power in utilizing the forces at hand than to any particular style or make of creamery that may be found in our well-stocked markets, "Honor to whom honor is due."

Physicians Have Found out That a contaminating and toxic element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive subcutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constant and shifting pain and aggregating as a calcareous, chalky deposit which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. Agricultural.

Scarcity of Corn in the South.

While corn is forty-three cents a bushel in the city of New York, and thirty-six cents in Chicago, it is fifty cents a bushel in North and South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee. And yet corn is a southern plant and thrives in a semi-tropical climate.

Getting out Manure.

The good old way was to get out manure on snow and frozen ground, for then much heavier loads could be hauled. If intended for oats, barley, wheat, or potatoes, it was spread at once out of the wagon, or dropped in heaps to be spread without further carting.

Care of Young Lambs.

A newly dropped lamb is insignificant, yet it has an ultimate value of several dollars. We have at times realized from ten dollars down to three dollars and a half per head for our crop of spring lambs, and these small sums may make up in the aggregate, a large amount.

Drain Pipes Used as Culverts.

You can safely use common six-inch glazed drain pipe in hard ground, when covered with eighteen inches of earth, well packed. Even well burned tiles will answer a good purpose in such ground; they should, however, be laid deeper, and the earth well settled and rammed.

Never be idle, but keep your hands or mind usefully employed, except when sleeping.

A HASTY match—the parlor kind.

ALWAYS comes out on top—Your hair.

If you cannot lick a man, be lenient with his faults.—Picayune.

UNTIL Eve's arrival Adam was not a gift to the earth—he was a-love.—Yonkers Gazette

THE next worst thing to going to a dentist is going to a photographer.—Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin.

"ROUND again?" he asked, as the dun put his head in at the door. "Yes, and I'll stay 'round until I get square."—Chicago Rambler.

AN enterprising reporter, writing of a wreck at sea, stated that no less than fourteen of the unfortunate crew and passengers bit the dust.

"LIVE butter, eggs and cheese, exclusively cash trade, splendid stock" are the terms issued by a New York firm, in advertising the establishment for sale.

"HENRY, you ought to be ashamed to throw away bread like that. You might want it some day." "Well, mother, would I stand any better chance of getting it then, if I should eat it up now?"

Medical Item.

Dr. Perkins Sponover had to ride away out into the suburbs of Austin to see a patient.

"I am sorry, doctor, that you have had such a long trip just to see me," said the sick man.

"O, I've got another patient out this way, so you see I kill two birds with one stone."

THERE is an irreverent story which was once current in books of "American Humor." It is about an incautious traveler who explored certain parts of Polynesia. The natives, not being acquainted with white men, killed, cooked and ate him—not for cruelty, but to see what kind of an animal he was.

The Coming Senator.

Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, tells a good story of his four-year-old boy. He had started out on a shopping tour with his father and mother, and had appealed first to one and then to the other for some money. His father asked him what he wanted of money, and pressed for an answer until the youngster said: "Well, papa, what would you do if a robber stepped up to you and said, 'Your money or your life,' and you hadn't any money?"

A British Political Joke.

At a Conservative meeting a man was seen in the hall hawking about a basket of puppies for sale. "Good Conservative puppies," he cried: "who'll buy some good Conservative puppies?" A few days after he offered the same puppies at a great Liberal meeting. "Good Liberal puppies," he went about crying: "who'll buy some excellent Liberal puppies?" "Why, you rascal," said a gentleman to him, "I heard you, the other day, offering these as Conservative puppies; what do you mean by it?" "Ah! true your honor," he returned: "they were blind then, but now their eyes have been opened."—Max O'Rell.

Rough on Philadelphia.

The New York people have a great contempt for the residents of such small towns as Boston and Philadelphia. Mr. George Washington Childs was in New York not long since, and on being introduced to a gentleman who was born and had lived all his life on Manhattan Island the latter said:

"Are you still living in—in what is the name of that little town over in Pennsylvania?"

"Philadelphia?" suggested Mr. Childs.

"Yes I believe that's the name of the town. Are you still living there in—what did you say the name of the place was?"

"Philadelphia." "Are you still living there?"

"Yes, that is still my home," replied Childs.

"Yes, I suppose it must be very still there. Mr. Childs, I would like to ask you a question."

"Go ahead."

"Mr. Childs, do you live in Philadelphia in order to be considered eccentric?"
