THE BARRIERS REMOVED.

As down on the beach we strayed; Blushed deep, like a bashful maid.

Looking out o'er the ocean grand, While the sea breeze played with her golden hair, I tremblingly caught her hand.

'If thou wert my own, O peerless maid, Thy smiles would shed-" quoth I, She blushed and heaved a sigh.

On the dreary path of my life," said I, "Thy smiles, fair maid, would shed" Was never more Again I paused, and again with a sigh She blushingly hung her head.

and without "Thy smile would shed-" 'twas all I could say, "Oh, fie!" said the lovely Rose, 'I'd not let a wood-shed stand in the behind her.

If I really wished to propose."

THE FALL OF A MOUNTAIN.

Some seventy years ago an old man sat at the door of his cottage in the Swiss village of Goldau, enjoying the warmth of the summer sunshine and the view of the fresh, green valley, dappled here and there with clumps of trees. All around the great purple mountains stood up against the sky, as if keeping thrown violently forward, the the family where our home was guard over the pretty little village in their midst, with tiny log huts clustered beneath the shadow of the nestling under the wing of the mother.

TWENTY-TWO FINE ENGRAVINGS.

This dainty book of 320 12mo pages is printed on good paper, with wide margins, and is a rize for a bibliophile.

This history is upon an entirely novel and original plan, which makes it indispensable to every person, no matter how many other histories he may have.

It is arranged chronologically by years, from the discovery of America to 1886. Every event is narrated in the order of its date. These are not confined, as in other works, to political matters, but embrace every branch of human action, it describes under its proper date all important natents, all discoveries in science and the useful urts; the digging of canals and the building of owns and the erection of notable buildings and bridges; the first performance of plays and the first appearance of actors and singers; fres, loods, hallstorms tornadoes, evelones, epicemes; accidents and business failures, "corn-rs" and phenomenal prices in all markets; lellor troubles, strikes and lock-outs, and hundreds of other matters never mentioned by historians, which are of the greatest importance to all who wish to understand the progress of their courty. Besides being a history in the ordinaly sense, it is a condensed newspaper file for four hundred years.

DO YOU WANT IT? The History will be sent FREE, by express, to very person who forwards $1 for a year's sub-

THE SUN from the day of its foundation has been in the front rank of progressive journalism, and its circulation and influence have become national. It may be said with entire truth that there is no newspaper upon which more pains are taken than upon THE SUN to secure accuracy of statement in the news it contains and the opinions it expresses. The intelligence it presents to its readers from all quarters of the globe is therefore looked for with the peculiar interest which its reliability inspires. The political and industrial world is now entering upon a stirring period of its history, the events of which as they occur THE SUN will present with its usual promptitude. Abroad, events of unusual consequence are anticipated, while in our own country the work of the sessions of Congress, the Legislatures of Maryland and Virginia and other States, together with the acts of various municipal bodies, will demand more than ordinary attention. Upon all affairs of national importance and of current moment in the busy world of trade and manufactures, as well as upon those features of social and literary interests which instruct or amuse the general reader. THE SUN'S large corps of correspondents at Washington. New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Richmond and other leading cities, will keep its readers fully posted. To all of its readers it will endeavor to maintain its high position as a faithful, entertaining and instructive friend and welcome visitor. Ferms of Subscription by Mall, Invariably Cash visitor.
