After addresses by the Rev. Alex. Proudfoot, D. D., Rev. J. T. Smith, and others, the resolutions appended to the report were adopted, and areas follows: "That we approve of the recommendation of the General Assembly calling for one million dollars for foreign missions this centennial year, and that we hereby urge upon all our ministers, elders, churches and Sabbath-schools and individual Christians to unite in earnest, prayerful and persevering efforts to raise this presbytery's equitable proportion of said sum."

On Tuesday, J. R. E. Rowe moved into the house recently occupied by the late James Wisc, on East Main Street.

The Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church convened in Williamsport on Thursday evening, and will end its session on Monday next.

The Blue Mountain Express, on the W. M. R. R., has been discontinued, and Blue Mountain Station has ceased to be a stopping place for trains.

There will be another full moon this month. It don't often occur, but when near the beginning of months of 31 days and near the close it sometimes again happens.

THE PRESBYTERY OF BALTIMORE. The above church judicatory, whose composition and general work we described in our issue of last week, met in this place on Monday last, holding its two hundred and tenth meeting.

The business session began at 8 P. M., on Monday, October 3d, twenty-six ministers and fourteen elders being in attendance.

After devotional exercises the Rev. W. W. Downey of Havre de Grace was chosen Moderator, and William H. Cole, Elder of the Central Church, Baltimore, temporary clerk.

The Rev. W. Simonton, D. D., chairman of the Standing Committee on Foreign Missions, submitted a report, reviewing the operations of the past year. The following is a summary of the statistics contained in the report:

There have been in commission during the year, 173 ordained missionaries, 30 laymen and 268 women, all Americans; 134 native ordained missionaries, 154 native licentiates and 756 helpers, making a total of 1545 persons in the employ of the Board of Foreign Missions. There are 310 churches under the care of these missionaries, with 21,420 communicants, of whom 2791 were added during the year.

After addresses by the Rev. Alex. Proudfoot, D. D., Rev. J. T. Smith, and others, the resolutions appended to the report were adopted, and areas follows: "That we approve of the recommendation of the General Assembly calling for one million dollars for foreign missions this centennial year, and that we hereby urge upon all our ministers, elders, churches and Sabbath-schools and individual Christians to unite in earnest, prayerful and persevering efforts to raise this presbytery's equitable proportion of said sum."

The Rev. W. C. Brown (colored) was received from the Presbytery of Troy, and accepted a call to the pastorate of the Knox Church, Baltimore. Arrangements were made for his installation on the 28th inst.

The Rev. David H. Laverly was received from the Presbytery of Rochester, and accepted a call from the Lutheran church for his pastoral services. A committee was appointed to install him at an early date.

each church may have an opportunity to contribute to said fund. Mr. Thomas Doran and Mr. Joseph Speers of the New Windsor Church, and Mr. James B. Simmons of the First Church, Baltimore, were after examination, received as candidates for the ministry, and were recommended to the Board of Education for aid in the prosecution of their studies.

The Churches of Eight Street, Baltimore, Ashland, Knox and Barton, were recommended to the Board of Home Missions for appropriations, amounting in the aggregate to $875, for the ensuing year.

The report of the committee on Systematic Benevolence was presented, showing a gratifying increase in the liberality of the churches. The recommendations of the report were adopted. It provides for conferences on Christian Giving in the several churches in December next.

The next stated meeting of the Presbytery was appointed to be held in the Second Church of Baltimore, on the 2nd Tuesday of December next, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

A vote of thanks to the Pastor and Congregation, and to the people of Emmitsburg for their kindness and hospitality to the Presbytery, was unanimously adopted, whereupon the Presbytery adjourned.

The Succession of Ideas. As an instance of how "time goes on crutches," when interest is awakened, on the night of the fire Mr. Snouffer emphatically affirmed that he had run up and down the street for half an hour calling for help, and yet the entire work of the Hose Company did not involve over fifteen minutes; half an hour would have involved the destruction of the premises.

A Physician's Box is what some people call Laxador. They are right, it's a great physic. Easily answered.—If a strong man, who has frequently suffered rain, grows impatient and rebellious, how much more impatient should be the baby who does not know what suffering means.

The prettiest tree in this village stands in front of Mr. C. T. Zacharias' residence. It is a maple, tall and graceful in form and is a thing of beauty in all the seasons, and has no deprecat-ing insects to prey upon it, and now in its autumnal colors is highly attractive.

It WON'T BAKE BREAD.—In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result.

Our windows were washed on Saturday last, and now we can see to work as of old, and if the mist and cobwebs could be removed from a tired brain, by so simple a process as that which removed the dirt from the windows, our readers could rejoice in such improvement, even as we do, in the brightness of our surroundings.

We are willing to bear personal testimony to the efficacy and value of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have been advertising some years in our paper, having used it for blood impurities with great success. It is a preparation of standard merit, made of perfectly pure ingredients, and thoroughly effective in cleansing and purifying the system.

HYGIENE—OLD AGE.

Young people frequently look upon aged persons with pity, and think of them as deprived of most things that make life desirable.

To youth hope makes the future bright, brighter often than events will make them; to the aged memory makes the whole past, stripped of its gloomier features and filled with pleasant pictures, a part of the unchanging present.

Our inherited constitution has much to do with the length of our lives. The late Mrs. Cleveland Clark, who died in Springfield, Mass., not long ago, at the age of 102, was an illustration of this fact.

Her father lived to be over ninety, and her mother almost attained the age of 105. She leaves a brother who is over ninety, and a sister of ninety-seven.

Such cases are not merely the result of chance. A sifting process is going on all the time. The weakest are sifted out in infancy and early childhood; and, while strength does not insure a child or youth against death, it is usually the stronger who survive.

Long-lived heredity is not simply a physical tendency to live, it is also a tendency to the habits of life, conduct, and thought that preserve constitutional vigor, and hold in check or eradicate whatever might hamper nature's recuperative power.

This suggests the practical lesson we would enforce. By the voluntary cultivation of good habits those who have reached, say the age of thirty, in sound health may hope to live to a good happy old age.

"Sleep Off" a Headache. A scientific writer says: "Sleep, if taken at the right moment, will prevent an attack of nervous headache. If the subjects of such headaches will watch the symptoms of its coming, they can notice that it begins with a feeling of weariness and heaviness. This is the time that a sleep of an hour or two, as nature guides, will effectually prevent the headache.

A Remarkable Dam. A remarkable dam is about to be constructed by a water company at the San Mateo canyon, four miles from San Mateo, Cal., in order to form a reservoir. The canyon is very narrow and steep, and 15 feet below the bottom is a solid rock, on which the foundation of the dam will rest.

A BUSINESS man of Detroit has just discharged a clerk for being too facetious. It is to be hoped the lesson will be heeded by other young men inclined to be funny. The employer sent him out to purchase a blue lead pencil. When the boy returned with the pencil the clerk remarked gravely: "That expense might have been saved, sir."

ALTHOUGH contrary to what a good many say, it is a good thing when you burn or scald your hand, to put it at once into cold water, and then to tie it up in baking soda.

Miscellaneous.

Warming Poultry Food.

Experienced breeders appreciate the importance of warming the food for poultry during the cold weather, but many farmers as well as novices do not seem to, as they do not practice it. Our method is to warm all the food, whether mixed or cracked or fed whole. In feeding whole corn, warm it thoroughly in the oven, nearly parching it, and then let it cool off sufficiently to admit of the fowls eating it without discomfort.

Cultivating Flowers.

We wish we could impress upon every one the duty of cultivating flowers, which enhance the attractions of home. No one is too poor to raise flowers. They will cost you nothing, but earth and water; cuttings are easily obtained. And they will bestow the purest pleasure upon you in return for the labor you give them.

The Home Local Papers.

An exchange truthfully says: Did you ever stop to think what a tireless writer a local paper is? Week after week, reaching into year after year, it goes on telling the marriages, births, deaths, the doings of the people of the town, the business success or failure, accidents, crops, improvements, meetings, and events of all kinds.

THE Los Angeles Express says, apropos of the real estate craze, which eclipses everything else in Southern California, that in a religious meeting recently, the minister, in referring to the distribution of tracts and how they should be placed before the world of sin, asked: "Now, what shall we do with these tracts?" Deacon Jones, who was half asleep, heard the remark and yelled: "Cut 'em up into lots and place 'em on the market!"

A YOUNG woman entering a car flounced into her seat and, throwing up her arms, exclaimed: "Did you ever know anything so hot? I'm stifling! Can't you open this window? Whew! whew! oh dear! it's dreadful, isn't it? It's always so in these cars. My, isn't it awful!" When this kind of remark had been made at some length for the edification of the company a voice was heard from the other end of the car: "Yes'm, it's awful. But let's try to bear up. First, when you are sick, it'll not be pertaters and tay 'ell be gettin', but foin cuts of roast bafe an' heshin's of the best whiskey. Next, when you are dead, you'll have such a foin funeral that the folks on the sidewalk'll be after askin', wid their eyes stickin' out like a lobster's: 'Surr, who's in the coffin?' An' when you are buried we'll take such exsadin' good care of your wives and children that they'll all be rejoicin' greatly because they're widder an' orphans."—Harper's Bazar.

JASPER BRYAN, living out on the river, east of town, relates a remarkable incident between a pig of his and a rattlesnake. A fine sow and pigs used to go in the river swamp, and frequently the sow would appear for her sops with one pig short, which so worried friend Bryan that he mustered his forces and went in search of the cause of the absence of the pigs. He had not been in the swamp long before he was startled by the peculiar sound of the rattles, and upon investigation found that a snake had swallowed a pig, but the little grunter, not being satisfied with the confinement, had actually kicked its feet through the belly of the snake and was walking about trying to find its way out of the woods, with its head still inclosed in the lower part of the snake's body. The snake was promptly killed and found to contain sixteen rattles. The pig was carried home and is doing well.—Marshallville (Iowa) Times.
