THE oysters have shut down for the summer. Those that may be taken henceforth will be caught napping. Insects, reptiles, &c., repose through the winter, but the bivalves must await the close of man's summer migrations to come again before the public. All right, so they come fresh and fat.

THE water rates of our village have been fully met, and we have the hose and other appliances to offset the outlay for them, and with these the satisfaction and security of having as complete an organization of firemen as any village in the State, whilst the counsel fees stand as a warning against past misgovernment.

List of Letters.

The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., Apr. 30, 1888. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them:

Mrs. Annie Smith, Miss Ettie Shoemaker, Mrs. R. J. Hunan, Miss Katie Nunemaker.

To Have the Light.

The election in Frederick on Tuesday in relation to endorsing the ordinance of the Aldermen to purchase the Thompson-Houston electric light plant resulted in the approval thereof by a vote of 684 against 127, a majority of 557 approving the ordinance. In 60 days the darkness of that city will depart.

Republican Primary.

The Republicans of this district held a meeting at the Western Maryland Hotel on Saturday last, and the following delegates were chosen to attend the County Convention to be held in Frederick to-day, (Saturday): Maj. O. A. Horner, W. S. Guthrie, S. N. McNair, C. F. Rowe, A. A. Annan, N. C. Stansbury, H. F. Maxwell, Geo. L. Gillelan, W. A. Fraley and Geo. T. Gelwick.

THE Century Magazine for May has for a frontispiece a really suggestive picture of "The Boundary Post," with its group of sorrowful exiles, taking a last look at their native country and bidding a last farewell to kindred and friends before entering on the journey over Siberian wastes to begin the life of servitude to which Russia condemns political prisoners, and George Kennan's paper descriptive of "Siberia and the Exile System," entitled "Across the Russian Frontier," gives a plain and interesting account of the workings and result of the Russian system. Edward Bellamy furnishes "A Love Story Reversed," "Sheriff's Work on a Ranch" by Theodore Roosevelt, with its admirable illustrations, is full of interest; Matthew Arnold's essay on "Milton" will be read with peculiar interest, from the fact of the brilliant writer's recent sudden death; the "History of Abraham Lincoln" is continued, as is also Edward Eggleston's story, "The Graysons"; Maurice F. Egan furnishes a short article on "The Personality of Leo XIII.," and "The Chances of Being Hit in Battle" is discussed by Col. Wm. F. Fox; there is also a history of "The Church of England in the Colonies," by Edward Eggleston; the first part of a story by Henry James, with the brief and meaning title of "The Liar," "Foods and Beverages" are discussed by Prof. W. O. Atwater; "The Locomotive Chase in Georgia," by Wm. Pittenger, with which Topics of the Time, Open Letters, several poems and a good collection of Brica-Brac, make up altogether an unusually interesting number for the month of May.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Dies Hard.

The Frederick News of Friday last having been confronted with the proofs from the Republican Office of our declaration that the latter journal, and not the News, had initiated the movement for the removal of the Court House railings, instead of gracefully and manfully acknowledging its error, dashes off on a new issue as to why "such conservative and sensible journals as the Chronicle and Citizen should have deemed it policy to make a newspaper war out of a matter in which the interests of the public only, and not those of the newspapers are concerned."

The question has been one simply of the veracity of the claim of the News in question; there was no possible "policy" in the case. We aimed to correct the audacity and effrontery of the News in claiming credit where none was due. It does not help the News under cover of verbiage to change the issue, it seems to act on the idea, that by "sticking to it" and diverting the issue, it may be believed all the same as if the facts had been given. "Facts are stubborn things," and they alone should make history.

The Burial of Mrs. Julia J. Baugher.

Mrs. Julia J. Baugher, died at her residence in Baltimore, on Thursday the 26th ult., and her remains were interred in the family lot at Mt. St. Mary's College Cemetery on Monday last. She was in the 86th year of her age. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Father Traynor of Baltimore, assisted by Rev. Edw. P. Allen, President of the College, and Rev. Father Ward, also of the College. The pall-bearers were Messrs. John A. and Henry Williams, Gen. E. C. McSherry, John Diffendal, Z. J. Gittinger, Charles W. Ross and Lewis E. Baker of Frederick, and Messrs. E. F. Baldwin, C. Warfield Bailey and John Mulloy, of Baltimore. Mrs. Baugher was the widow of Joseph Baugher, who when a young man came to Emmitsburg from Adabottstown, Pa., as a clerk in the store of Mutter & Baugher, and subsequently was a partner in the mercantile business with Isaac Baugher, a well known man of affairs in this village. Mr. Baugher subsequently removed to Baltimore where he became a prominent merchant as well as influential in the councils of the City. On retiring from business he removed to Frederick and died there. When a resident in this village the family occupied the house now owned by Mrs. M. E. Adelsberger, and afterward that of the late James L. Wise. Mrs. Baugher was a daughter of John Shorb, who came to this neighborhood from Littlestown, Pa., and lived for a while on his property, afterward known as the Morrison farm, and then he built and resided on the latterly known Munshour farm, and finally on the property now owned and occupied by John M. Bell. Mrs. Baugher was a sister of the late well known Dr. James A. Shorb, and was active in religious and charitable affairs and highly esteemed for her usefulness and graceful manners.

From the Union.

Clerk of the Court Parsons on last Wednesday received the commissions of the justices of the peace, notaries public and officers of registration, from the secretary of State. On Monday the officers of registration qualified and a number of the justices have also qualified.

During the month of April there were 298 instruments entered for record in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court. They embraced 149 deeds, 112 mortgages, 3 releases, 3 deeds of trust, 2 articles of incorporation, 16 chattel mortgages and 13 bills of sale.

Constable James E. Staub, last week brought a young man named Howard Stup, of Fairview, back from Miami County, Ohio, on a requisition from the Governor for larceny. The accused was committed to jail for his appearance before the next term of Court, but on Friday was released on $200 bail, his father becoming his security.

The iron railings, which for so many years have enclosed Court Square, no longer offend the eye, and they are a thing of the past. The work of removing the railings was begun last Friday morning, by Mr. John Baumgardner, who is superintending the improvement of the square, and by Saturday evening they were entirely removed. The work of removing the brick base, on which the railings rested, has been pushed right along, and a number of trees have also been cut down. The yard already presents a more slightly and pleasing appearance. The improvements contemplated consist of grading the entire yard and the laying out of seven walks which will lead to the center of the square, where will be erected a handsome fountain, which in the summer season will be kept constantly running. There will also be planted a quantity of shrubbery and ornamental trees, and benches will be scattered about under the trees. The improvements, when made, will certainly beautify the spot, and few cities the size of Frederick will be able to boast anything like it. There were over thirty tons of iron in the railings. The railings were sold to Mr. Baumgardner at fifty-five cents a hundred for the cast-iron, and sixty-five cents for the wrought-iron, and netted the committee the sum of $330.

That Highway of Nations.

The broad Atlantic, is over a stormy thoroughfare. Yet below the winds ever so fiercely, and ride the waves ever so loftily, seamen must make the good ships, tourists will brave the passage, and commercial travelers and buyers must visit the centers of foreign trade and manufacture. The atrocious malarial, seasickness, together with colicky pains and inward uneasiness often endured when Hostetter's Stomach Bitter has foundered the voyagers against their bet. Sea captains, and in fact all old salts and veteran travelers are acquainted with the protective value of this estimable preventive and remedy, and are rarely unprovided with it. Emigrants to the far West should use it as a safeguard against malaria. Seek the aid of the Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, kidney troubles, and all ailments that impair the harmonious and vigorous action of the vital powers.

It is a Curious Fact.

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

Last Sunday was as perfect a summer day as could be hoped for, warm and pleasant without the over powering oppression so often belonging to the time. The dry air in the absence of heavy gales let down the sun's rays to the temperature of 88° before noon. In the evening everybody and his kinsfolk came forth to see what had been done, and to enjoy the quietude of the lengthening shadows of night. On Monday the scenes were all changed, a cold wave having greatly reduced the temperature. Tuesday was yet cooler, and Wednesday required some firing up within doors. On Thursday there was a slight rise in the mercury, the air being pleasant, but fire was still needed. Friday was cloudy until about 10 A. M., and then we got back very nearly to Sunday's state, to the delight of the house-cleaners. There is many a turn of hope deferred until the weather settles down at this season, but those who wait get there surely.

MT. ST. MARY'S NEWS.

From our Special Correspondent.

Miss Emma McNulty, youngest daughter of Edward McNulty, died near Taneytown, of consumption, on Friday of last week, aged 19 years. Her remains were interred at Mt. St. Mary's College Cemetery on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

A finely contested game of base ball was played at Mt. St. Mary's College grounds on Saturday last, between the Mt. St. Mary's boys and the Emmitsburg nine, which resulted in a tie. The score was 1 to 1 at the end of eight innings. The features of the game were the fine work of both batteries, and a great running catch by McBride. The players and their positions were as follows: Emmitsburg—Bentz, c. B. Adelsberger p. Nusser 1b., C. Bowers 2b., J. Bowers 3b., T. Linsinger s.s., Benner Elder 1 f., Seltzer c. f., Tyson Linsinger r. f. Mt. St. Mary's.—J. McBride 2b., H. Elder 1 f., S. Wetzel 1b., G. Brawner, c. f., A. Wetzel r. f., B. Elder s. s., A. Umpire, J. Adelsberger.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE PEOPLE OF EMMITSBURG.

In Baltimore one of the most rapidly growing enterprises of the last few years, and one of the most appreciated as well as been the Installment Business. Its great advantage and benefits especially to the medium and poorer classes, cannot be overestimated. Formerly people in ordinary circumstances were compelled to do without a great many necessary comforts of life that, in their houses were scantily furnished, and only because they could not at any time raise sufficient cash money to properly furnish them. What little furniture they had, was of the poorest and cheapest class and never made a respectable appearance, or gave any satisfaction. Now on the Installment Plan any one person, no matter how poor or how rich, can get anything in the way of Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Crockery, Refrigerators, Baby Carriages, Parlor Organs, etc., in fact any or everything necessary to furnish the home complete from cellar to attic—they can get all these by simply paying a small amount cash down and the balance on small monthly payments, which are made to suit their circumstances and are always made so low that the furniture they had, was of the poorest and cheapest class and never made a respectable appearance, or gave any satisfaction. ### Perseverance an Important Factor in Achieving Success in Life.

In any line of business, the man who uses reasonable economy and has the ability to give fair management and the perseverance to hold on, will, in a great majority of cases, make a success; while, on the other hand, the one who rushes into whatever he has undertaken with a spasmodic endeavor to win all at once, as a general rule wastes his energies and often fails for sheer want of perseverance. The editor has observed that the man who starts in to do a day's work, and attempts to do as much in one hour as ought to be done in two, will usually find it necessary in a short time to take a rest, and while he is resting will lose valuable time which he evidently feels that he ought to make up, judging from the spasmodic efforts he will make when he starts in to work again. But, at night, the man who works steady, but perseveringly, will be found to have accomplished the most, while usually he will also be found in a much better condition to commence again the next day.

So it is in business. One will seem to hustle around and make a considerable todo over what he is doing, and after wasting his energies in accomplishing what, by taking a little more time, could be done with very little effort, and then, because, as he thinks, he fails to meet the success he imagines he should, becomes discouraged and is ready to make a change to something else. This, in a majority of cases, proves a loss, and, in consequence, he does not succeed as the energy he displays would seem to warrant. Another man, while he may not make a great display of his energies at the start, will go to work more systematic, and will have better opportunities to economize, and in many cases to manage better than when he attempts to rush matters. If he will but persevere, he will be ready to take advantage of any favorable circumstances that may arise. It always seems that the man who is constantly shifting about is always making a change at the wrong time, when a little perseverance would have brought him through all right. In all lines of business there are fluctuations, ups and downs, and in order to succeed we must persevere. It is when the odds seem against us that it seems the most important to persevere.—Industrial Gazette.

Food and Exercise.

A reporter asked Professor J. M. Luffin, an athlete, about some of the rules for muscular development and the food and exercise necessary. He said: "A man must not impose upon his stomach; it is the boiler, the engine, as it were, that supplies strength to the body. People of bilious lymphatic temperaments are apt to use drastic medicines to excess and ruin their constitutions. Once let the insidious use of strong drugs undermine the health, and then nine times out of ten the system never rallies to its pristine condition. Exercise is food, it is health, it is life. I have given my life to the study of the development of human strength and endurance.

How and when should a person exercise to be healthy, and not overdo the thing? was asked.

"Exercise should be avoided early in the morning before breakfast on an empty stomach. The air is very unwholesome early in the morning, and until the sun has purified it with its generous beams to breathe it freely is injurious. Malarial and chest diseases are liable to be taken; hence the imperative necessity of avoiding early morning exercise. People who are not professional athletes cannot stand the fatigue of exercise before breakfast, and it even weakens the regular professional ones who are ignorant. The system is weaker when a person rises than at any other period during the day. I will remember that I was forced to walk twenty miles before breakfast when I began to train. I came back weak and exhausted. It was wrong, and did me more harm than good. The athlete who trains on an empty stomach is merely devitalizing himself. The proper way is to rise an hour or so after the sun is up, take a light breakfast, and after the meal has thoroughly digested, then take the exercise. Then good work can be done without harm.

A New Year's Story.

"James," he began, as the clerk entered the private office, "the new year is close at hand."

"Yes, sir."

"How long have you been with us?"

"Twenty years, sir."

"Ah! twenty years. You came in from the country with all your worldly possessions tied up in a cotton handkerchief."

"I did, sir."

"You left home determined to achieve success."

"Yes, sir."

"You believed that honesty and integrity would be rewarded, and that faithful service would meet its reward."

"That's the way I reasoned, sir."

"Ah! I remember the morning you applied for a situation. I liked your looks and the way you talked."

"Thanks, sir."

"Now, James, my partner goes out with the new year. I've been thinking of you."

"Yes, sir."

"Of your long and faithful service."

"Yes, sir."

"And I'm going to reward you. I'm glad it's in my power to do so. I shall commence the new year alone."

"Exactly."

"With limited capital."

"Ah!"

"And it will therefore be necessary to reduce all salaries. On all the others I shall make a cut of 15 per cent. Owing to your long and faithful services, I shall make the cut in your case only 10. That's all, James, and I hope you will try and get down half an hour earlier in the morning, and also be a little more economical with the gas and fuel."

A clergyman at sea.

"A clergyman at sea," in encountering a storm the past season in the voyage across the Atlantic, was reminded of the following:

A clergyman was so unfortunate as to be caught in a severe gale in the voyage out. The water was exceedingly rough, and the ship persistently buried her nose in the sea. The rolling was constant, and at last the good man got thoroughly frightened. He believed that he was destined for a watery grave. He asked the captain if he could not have prayers. The captain took him by the arm and led him down to the fore-castle, where the tars were singing and swearing.

"There," said he, "when you hear them swearing you may know there is no danger."

He went back feeling better; but the storm increased his alarm. Disconsolate and unassisted he managed to stagger to the fore-castle again. The ancient mariners were swearing as ever. "Mary," he said, as he crawled into the berth, "thy sympathetic wife, after tacking across a wet deck—'Mary, thank God they're swearing yet.'—Harper's Magazine.

Seasonable Caution.

The caution is renewed at this season to thirsty readers to exercise judgment in the choice and moderation in the use of their summer beverages. Says a New York contemporary: "In the next three months thousands of persons in this city will injure themselves, and scores will kill themselves, by drinking the wrong things or by drinking too much of the right ones. There are a great many 'cooling drinks,' so called, that are really heating drinks; the lemon punch may be deliciously cool on the palate, but it is fire in the blood. The less the average man has to do with alcohol in any of its disguises, during hot weather, the better for him—for his comfort as well as for his health. And let our teetotal readers remember that it is just as possible to be intemperate in the use of water as in the use of whiskey, and that death lurks in the ice cooler as well as in the demijohn."

It is said that lemons can be kept fresh for some time by packing them in dry sand. They should be placed in layers with sufficient sand between them to prevent contact with each other.

An exchange speaks of "the battle of an arriving steamship." So long as marine usage continues to designate ships by the female gender something of this sort must be expected.

The ordinary life of a locomotive is thirty years. Perhaps it would live much longer if it didn't smoke so much.

Humorous.

A Western undertaker advertises:

"Comfortable hearses furnished. Satisfaction guaranteed."

TEACHER—What is the first thing to do in a case of drowning?

Small boy—Run and tell the Coroner.

HENS may be a little backward on eggs, but they never fail to come to the scratch where flowerbeds are concerned.

PEOPLE who go up in a balloon together are generally conceded to be considerably "taken up with one another."

SOMETIMES there may be found a trace of sugar on a fly's foot; but as a rule there is not much to be caught on the fly.

THE trouble with most people who believe that charity begins at home is that they never allow it to go outdoors for exercise.

LEAVE student—"Don't you ever sweep under the bed, I'd like to know?"

"Calm—'Goody'—'I always do.' I prefer it to a dustpan."

My name—L. B. Smith," said a man at a hotel yesterday; whereupon the gentleman addressed, remarked, with a sweet smile, "So be it."

Your husband is something of an anti-quary, isn't he?" asked a caller of Mrs. Snaggs.

"No, I don't think he can tell one kind of an aunt from another."

A LITTLE boy, 3 years old, who had been looking out of the window for a few minutes at a beautiful red sunset, exclaimed: "Mamma, look how sore the poor sky is."

VISITING clergyman (in Indian nation)—Are all these Indians Christians? Irish water—No, sir, not wan of them; some is Comanches an' some is Episcopalians.

Texas Sittings. "You're all right."

We should be careful how we encourage luxury. It is but a step forward from here to 'plum-pudding,' but it is a half and a half by the nearest road when we have to go back again.—Josh Billings.

A GEORGIA man stopped to pick up a pin on the street the other day, with the following result: His hat fell off and rolled into the gutter; two suspender buttons flew off; his collar split open and his store teeth fell out and broke on the walk. He secured the pin.

More than his share.

"Ma," said Bobby, thoughtfully, "I wish I had a brother or two."

"Why, Bobby?"

"To divide up the spanking. It's tough on a boy to be the only one in the family that gets spanked."

—Epoch.

LADY (entering editor's sanctum)—I should like to find out, sir, something about the condition of the poor in this town. Editor—Well, ma'am, at present we are well supplied with potatoes and cordwood, but a new pair of trousers or a spring overcoat would be quite acceptable.

A COLLEGE student was invited one Sunday to occupy the pulpit in a little country church. After what he considered a masterly effort on the subject of "Lazarus and the rich man," he called on a good old brother to pray, and was somewhat electrified to hear the following: "O, Lord! we thank Thee that we are not like this poor despised beggar Lazarus who we've just been listening to!"

MASTER FREDDY thinks himself by no means the least important member of the household. One evening, after he and his sister had gone to bed in the nursery, a violent thunder-shower came up. The children's mother, thinking that they might be frightened by the storm went upstairs to reassure them. Posing just outside the nursery door she heard Fred say to his sister, who was crying: "Don't be afraid, baby; me an' Dad's here."

This is from the Nebraska State Journal: "The power of the human eye is simply remarkable. Why, then, tanners can control the flowerbeds by simply looking at them." "That's all rot." "Did you ever try it?" "Yes, I was attacked by Grishy's bulldog the other day and looked steadily in the eye, resolved to control it, but the scheme wouldn't work." "Why not?" "I neglected to climb a tree before commencing to stare at the beast."

THE BALTIMORE WEEKLY SUN.

THE PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

A. S. ABELL & CO., PUBLISHERS.

111 N. BALTIMORE.

GEORGE W. ABELL.

EDWIN F. ABELL.

The BALTIMORE WEEKLY SUN continues to preserve its position as the most popular and most useful paper in the city.

During the past year, in order to accommodate the great variety of matter seeking admission to its columns, it has been found necessary to issue a Supplement almost every week, presenting a home paper in its entirety for freshness and variety. Its literary features are selected with discrimination, taste and with special reference to the entertainment and instruction of the family circle. Its Agricultural and Veterinary Department, edited by specialists, has been of great value to the farmer, while its Fashion Articles, Household Recipes, etc., have continued to be a source of weekly interest and instruction to ladies. The latest news up to the hour of publication is given in its correspondence and telegraphic dispatches, while its editorial features are among the most important features that will be promptly and copiously presented in its daily issues during 1888.

Full Commercial, Financial, Cotton, Cattle and Market and Stock Reports up to the hour of going to press.
