BABY'S FIRST PRAYER.

Little fat fingers crossed meekly,
Mimicking patient mamma;

Gracie looks up to our Father;
Charmingly lisping "tah, tah."

This is the whole of her worship;

Yet He who promised to bear

Wee little lambs on His bosom, Listens to baby's first prayer.

Sweet little picture of Heaven!

Well did the good Master say,

They must be like little children

Who would my Father obey.

Baby knows nothing of doubting,

Dark unbelief and despair;

All these she leaves to grown people,
Baby knows only her prayer.

So let it be, gracious Father,

All through her life's blessed day;

When clouds and darkness oppress her,
Teach her, great Teacher, to pray.

Tenderly lead and protect her,

Draw her with Fatherly love,

Make her both perfect and holy,
Fit for the mansions above.

Then, though my baby girl's future

Blissful or painful may be,

Here is the ultimate welcome,
"Little one come unto Me."

The Canadian Pacific Railway.

THE FAR NORTHWEST CONCLUDED.

The Canadian Pacific road extends from Montreal in the east, to Vancouver in the west, a distance of 2,906 miles. In this letter I shall only speak of the line between the western terminus and Winnipeg, in Manitoba. From the latter city diverging lines lead to Chicago and the east. I shall also speak of Puget Sound, between Tacoma and Vancouver.

But little is known, here, of this great transcontinental route. Canada was long in bringing into rail communication with the east the vast region lying between the great lakes and the Pacific. The building of this road, however, has brought the remotest provinces into near relation with the entire Dominion; has created and cemented a strong national spirit; has opened for settlement and culture immense areas of fertile land and made accessible stores of mineral wealth, and has been the prime factor in her recent development. No point in a country seems remote when communication is had by an unbroken line of steel with the other sections, and when daily trains convey its people and products throughout the whole extent of national domain. This road, built and equipped in the most thorough manner, with all modern safeguards, furnishes, also, the excellent service essential to comfort on long journeys by rail, while it offers the tourist the strongest attractions in varied and splendid mountain scenery.

TO GO EAST, from Tacoma, over the Canadian Pacific, the traveler goes by steamer to Vancouver, via Victoria. The ride up Puget Sound is full of beauty, the lofty mountains of the Olympic range and the wooded shores of Washington being in full view. The irregular outlines and winding course of the sound, its deep color and calm surface, the soft, picturesque effects of unbroken lines of green firs, which rise, in gentle slopes, from the water's edge, make the ride one of

word of praise has been given this great inland sea. Everything we see confirms the reports of its beauty and charm.

VICTORIA is reached in the evening, a day's sail from Tacoma. It is on the island of Vancouver, which is separated from the main land by the straits of Fuca on the south and the Gulf of Georgia on the north, and is the capital of British Columbia. It is a quiet town of 12,000 inhabitants and offers strange contrasts to the bustling towns of the states—especially on Sundays. I spent a day here enjoying the lovely drives, for which the city is famous. On Beacon Hill, a suburban park commanding a splendid marine view, a game of base ball was in progress, the Canadian youth evidently appreciating the delights of the national game. This somewhat lessened the foreign air given scarlet-coated soldiers. In the city is an old post of the Hudson's Bay Company, a name that used to fill

THE CRY OF HARD TIMES.

The complaint of hard times and the eager looking forward to social or political changes, by which plenty of work and plenty of money are to be secured, seem to have become indispensable to human nature, at least to human nature as represented by our republican government. Every four years the country is shaken throughout its entire limits by political agitators, representing the different parties striving for ascendancy, each one promising individual and national prosperity, protection to industry and subsistence, if not wealth, to every man, woman and child in the country, if his party can have control, and predicting untold misery to the people as well as ruin to the government if any of the others get hold of the reins.

Then when the election is over, one party triumphant and the others ignominiously thrust into the background, the world moves on just as it did before, except that old office holders are removed to make way for new ones, without regard to past services, efficiency or faithful discharge of duty; as every political party religiously carries out the principle of rotation in office however much it may be denounced in theory, and the good times promised, fail to appear.

The question naturally arises, do not these political upheavings, involving changes of administration from the chief executive down to the lowest subordinate, occur too frequently for permanent prosperity? One party advocating Free Trade reduces the tariff, opens the avenues of trade and manufactures to all competitors, and succeeds in bringing confusion and disaster in financial circles by the upsetting of schemes already in operation, and when order has been fairly brought to the surface of the political chaos, and business begins to breathe again, another general election brings a different party into power; to right the wrongs of down-trodden humanity, which begins operations, by turning out all the office holders, small and great and appointing new ones who will require, even as their predecessors did, all the time they will be allowed to retain office, to master the duties belonging to it and as fast as possible reversing the different governmental policies which were beginning to get into regular working order, upsetting business arrangements and turning things generally topsy turvy again, and so the farce or tragedy (?) goes on continually, whilst the political caldron is kept boiling at the expense of the toiling disappointed workers who look in vain for the advent of the "good times" promised so bravely by all the party leaders.

Must this state of things continue? Is our political organization such, that those in whose hands legislative and executive power is placed must spend their whole terms of office in learning "How not to do it," whilst all the interests of the country suffer for want of enlightened, honest and permanent legislation?

If dignity, wisdom and patriotism were the prominent characteristics of our legislative assemblies, the people would have reason to hope that a better order of things would eventually prevail and the spirit of confidence engendered thereby would go far to hasten the coming of the good times all are longing for.

ANOTHER DAM GIVES WAY.

Spring Lake Reservoir near Fiskville, Connecticut, broke through its embankment on Sunday afternoon and the water swept with a wild rush through the valley. The reservoir covered eighteen acres and contained 35,000,000 gallons of water. Fortunately the rush of water was through a thinly settled country and comparatively little damage was done, only three lives being lost, as far as known.

The Justice Field Case Dismissed.

Acting upon a communication from Governor Waterman, Attorney-General Johnson has addressed a letter to district Attorney White, at Stockton, Cal., in which he says that in view of the fact that there is no evidence to implicate Justice Field in the shooting of Judge Terry, public justice demands that the charge against him be dismissed.

THE NATIONAL FLOWER.

The Hartford (Conn.) Times comes forward with the suggestion that if a national flower is to be adopted the mountain laurel (Kalmia latifolia) would be the most fitting. There are undoubtedly very strong arguments in favor of the laurel. In beauty of form and richness of color it cannot well be surpassed. It can be cultivated in almost endless variety; it blossoms North and South, East and West, and as it is an evergreen it is symbolic of that perennial life which dwells in the Republic. All over the continent it can be seen opening its masses of glorious bloom; and even when the winter comes, and trees and fields are bare, its green shines brightly amid the desolation. A correspondent of the journal mentioned has written the following verses, which are not only tender in sentiment but fully sets forth the laurel's claims:

Mountain Laurel let it be—Emblem of our Liberty!
Ever green, in sun or shower,
Earth has not a fairer flower.

When the snow is on the hills,
And hoar-frost has bound the rills,
When the sunflower hides its head,
And the bluebells silence keep,
Warmly in their winter bed,
Violets and daisies sleep;
Then the Kalmia's rugged form Stands erect amid the storm—
Never cringing, never cowed,
Though the tempest thunder loud—
As the rocks and hills steadfast, Gathering strength from every blast—
Like our own Republic's story,
From disaster reaping glory.

We heartily endorse the above as perfectly applicable to the question "What flower is suitable to use as a national representative?" of the genius and spirit of the country that claims the recognition of the world.

The only objection that could be made to the laurel, is that it is dangerous to handle, and in this peculiarity it might be urged, lies its strongest claim to the position of our floral representative, as, like the free and independent "Yankee Nation," it cannot be carelessly handled with impunity, but with all its attractiveness of strength, beauty and endurance, it warns the world to keep at a respectful distance.

THE WILL OF A GOOD MAN.

The will of Mr. John W. McCoy, of Baltimore, was filed on Monday in the Office of the Register of Wills for probate. The bulk of the estate, valued at about $250,000, will eventually pass absolutely to the Johns Hopkins University, and, in the meantime, the university will derive a large annual income from the estate. The testator remembers the various charitable institutions liberally, there being fourteen specific bequests of this character. The bequests are as follows: First, to the Little Sisters of the Poor, $3,000; second, to the Aged Men's Home, $3,000; third, to the Aged Women's Home, $3,000; fourth, to the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, $3,000; fifth, to the Boys' Home, $3,000; sixth, to St. Joseph's German Hospital, $3,000; seventh, to the Presbyterian Eye, Ear and Throat Charity Hospital, $3,000; eighth, to the Baltimore Eye, Ear and Throat Charity Hospital, $3,000; ninth, to the Shelter for Aged and Infirm Colored Persons, $3,000; tenth, to the Home for the Friendless, $3,000; eleventh, to the Young Women's Christian Association, $3,000; twelfth, to the Women's Industrial Exchange, $3,000; thirteenth, to Stephen S. McCoy, brother of testator, $5,000; fourteenth, to Emily Virdin Foard, wife of N. E. Foard, $5,000; fifteenth, to Richard Malcolm Johnston, $2,000; sixteenth, to Margaret F. Watkins, one of the librarians of the new Mercantile Library, $2,000; seventeenth, to John W. M. Lee, librarian of testator, $2,000; eighteenth, to Emma Boyd, Uniontown, Ky., $1,000; nineteenth, to Patrick J. McKenna, bookkeeper of W. T. Walters & Co., $1,000; twentieth, to Dr. W. W. Virdin, Harford county, Md., $1,000; twenty-first, to Edward Clark, servant, $600; twenty-second, to Sally Clark, wife of Edward, $200; twenty-third, to the Johns Hopkins University, my library in bulk, books, &c., absolutely; twenty-fourth, to the Peabody Institute, all pictures, works of art, &c.—American.

DEATH OF HENRY SHAW.

Henry Shaw, the venerable philanthropist and best friend St. Louis, Mo., ever had, died at 3:25 on Saturday morning. He died without showing evidence of physical pain or mental suffering. Henry Shaw was an Englishman by birth. At the age of nine he came to America and located in St. Louis, arriving here on May 4, 1819.

He first embarked in the hardware business on the levee, and also gave some attention to Indian supplies. He prospered, and after twenty years of commercial life had amassed a sufficient fortune to enable him to retire from business, which he did at the age of 40. He went abroad, being away from this country about ten years, and on his return commenced the study and cultivation of plants and flowers, and it was in the prosecution of these studies that the now world-famous botanical gardens had their origin. He made his gardens and beautiful estate free to the public. With the death of Henry Shaw the famous botanical gardens become the property of the State of Missouri. Another and perhaps more valuable munificence was the gift to the city of Tower Grove Park, a resort of peculiar beauty. Mr. Shaw's residence, where he died, was at Tower Grove Park and he spent but little time at his downtown home. Mr. Shaw's estate is valued at $2,500,000, and it is thought the greater part will be left to the city of St. Louis in various bequests.

PUBLIC morals in New York are at such an alarmingly low ebb, that it is hard for those living in the rural districts to believe the social and municipal depravity that the papers of the metropolis daily disclose.

The Elack Divorce scandal is a disgrace to the whole state, involving as it does judges, lawyers and other court officials, who receive enormous salaries for their supposed administration of law and justice, and are openly charged with crimes that would send a common citizen to the penitentiary. They make no pretence of denial, each one trying to shove the responsibility on another, for using the power belonging to him in his official capacity to help Sheriff Elack in his scandalous proceedings to rid himself of his lawful wife against whom no charge of even impropriety is made, that he might legalize the second marriage which should have sent him to a felon's cell as a bigamist. One would think from such records that money and political influence are all that is needed to shield a man in the commission of any crime he chooses to commit.

And on Sunday last in Atlantic City a crime was committed which shocked and startled the pleasure seeking crowds, but which was only another link in a chain of crime and falsehood which has dragged one of the proudest names of New York society down to infamy.

The disgusting details of the life led by the woman for whom Robert Ray Hamilton forfeited honor, fame and social position, are such that one cannot help feeling that her murderous assault on the woman who exposed her was the natural result of such unblushing depravity, yet the wealth of the man whose name she bears will no doubt furnish a key to unlock the prison bars behind which she poses now, whether her victim lives or dies.

WILLIAM O'BRIEN was sentenced to two months and James Gilhooly to six weeks imprisonment, without hard labor, in Cork (Ireland) jail for holding a national meeting which had been prohibited by the English government.

DISPATCHES from Egypt say that famine prevails at many of the river towns. People are feeding upon the bodies of the dead, and from twenty to thirty deaths occur daily from starvation.

CHINA is so far away that we feel little interest excited by learning of the floods, fires and earthquakes that occur there, but the records of such disasters in the Celestial Empire is simply appalling, the latest, the bursting of the embankment of the Yellow river flooding the country for miles to a depth of twelve feet, utterly destroying everything, ten districts having been submerged, whilst the loss of life is too great to be computed.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

The trial of the six men accused of conspiring to murder Dr. Cronin, began on Monday last.

The earthquakes in Japan still continue, fifty-three shocks having been experienced.

It is said that the national Cordage Co., which is the concern responsible for the late binder twine "trust," will have a surplus of 25,000 tons of twine to carry over to another season, a fact which would indicate that the combination "slipped a cog" somewhere.

It seems that the Brown-Sequard Elixir has been used among the Indians for centuries, the only difference being in the animals selected to furnish the material, the Indians taking it only from goats, as they are free from disease.

LYDD HEISLER, aged 16 years, was instantly killed on Wednesday by a heavy steam boiler which he was assisting to load on a railroad car at Bellefonte. The hoisting rope broke in two, allowing the boiler to roll back upon him, crushing his head in a horrible manner.

ROBERT RAY HAMILTON, of New York, and his wife, are under arrest at Atlantic City, charged with probable murder of Mary Donnelly, a nurse girl. Mrs. Hamilton is held as the principal and her husband as accessory.

Mr. Hamilton is the great-grandson of Alexander Hamilton. His grandfather left him an income of $18,000 a year. For eight years he represented the Murray Hill district in the New York Legislature and was one of the "four hundred."

Then he married a woman with seven aliases, and was ostracized from good society. Tired of being snubbed he left New York for California six months ago, afterwards returning to Atlantic City, taking with him his wife and child and a Mexican dagger she assaulted him, and a desperate struggle followed, in which mirrors and furniture were broken. The nurse attempted to interfere when Mrs. Hamilton, accusing her of telling Mrs. Hamilton "about" Mann's visits, turned upon the girl and drove the dirk in her abdomen.

The girl will probably die. During the excitement it is said that $2,000 worth of Mrs. Hamilton's diamonds were stolen from the room.—Sun.

HOOD'S
COMPOUND EXTRACT
SARSAPARILLA

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Sarsaparilla, and is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

PROHIBITIONISTS are startled by the confession of the founder of Asbury Park, N. J.—the Utopia where their theories were supposed to flourish with all their beneficence—that the principle is a failure. High license, he says, is the only rule that can be enforced. When this man laid out this now flourishing settlement by the sea, he incorporated in every deed that he gave an iron-clad clause that forfeited the land should liquor ever be sold on it.

Our public schools will open this season on Monday Sept. 2nd and continue until the last of May. The teachers appointed for the school year in Emmitsburg are Miss Annie Duplone, principal and Miss Fannie Fraley, assistant.

The Holy Communion will be administered at the Rev. Lutheran Church of this place on Sunday. The pastor Rev. Luther DeYoe will be assisted by Rev. H. W. McKnight, D. D., president of the Pennsylvania College, who will preach in the evening.

A Democratic primary meeting will be held at the Western Maryland Hotel in this place, on Saturday, August 31st, at 7.30 o'clock, p. m., to select delegates to attend a County Convention to be held in Frederick on Saturday, September 7th, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Convention to be held in Baltimore, on Thursday, September 12th.

PRESIDENT J. M. HOOD, of the Western Maryland Railroad, and President A. W. Eichelberger, of the Hanover Junction, Hanover and Gettysburg Railroad, have been quietly at work for some time past in York county securing the right of way for the eastern extension of the Baltimore and Harrisburg Railroad, the Western Maryland's proposed branch to York. It is understood that about three-fourths of the right of way has been secured, and the depot property in York was purchased several months since. There still remains several large cases to be disposed of, but little trouble is expected when the projectors of the road are ready to negotiate with the owners of the properties. There is little doubt that the proposed line will be completed.—Star and Sentinel.

Some one had been stealing pigeons from the barn of Frank Sorrenson at Nanticoke, Pa., and being unable to detect the thieves, Mr. Sorrenson loaded a revolver Saturday, suspended it from a beam, with the muzzle toward the door, and attached a line so that the opening of the door would cause the revolver to explode. He was himself the first to try the trap, and the bullet entered his body just below the heart, inflicting a fatal wound. Sorrenson was 30 years old and married.

Struck by a Railroad Train.

While Mr. Abdell Sherman, a young farmer of Union township, Adams county, Pa., and Mr. Hockish Trone, of Hanover, Pa., were driving across the Pennsylvania Railroad track Monday afternoon on Railroad street, near the new Union Depot, the passenger train struck their vehicle, completely demolishing it and throwing out the occupants. Mr. Sherman receiving internal injuries and severe cuts and bruises on his head and body, which may prove fatal, and Mr. Trone a fracture of the arm.—Sun.

Almost On Us.

A few days more and then this section of country packs traps for Baltimore to see the great celebration. We have word from the great clothing firm of Baltimore—we all know them—Oehm's Aene Hall, 5 and 7 W. Baltimore St.—that the comforts and conveniences of their immense establishment are free to all readers of this paper and dwellers in this section. The firm will be splendidly represented in the procession and at the Fair. Write them quickly if you want anything to make you ready for the great event now almost here.

THERE was an exciting trial in town on Tuesday before Justice Hickey, the principle parties in the case being Joshua Oiler vs. William Ovelman, the trouble which instituted the suit, being more "spitwork" than anything else, the affair though it made considerable noise did not amount to much. Our young lawyers Jer. O'Donoghue and Vincent Seabold were the attorneys in the case, and each presented his clients side of the story with eloquence and ability. The case was decided in favor of Oiler who brought a claim against Ovelman for board, horse hire, clover seed, &c.

From the Star and Sentinel.

The opening of the fall term of Pennsylvania College has been postponed for two weeks till Sept. 19th, to give time for repairs to the old building to be changed to a dormitory.

On Saturday a Jacob Mumper was driving in from Round Top the shaft iron of his wagon broke, causing the horse to run off. Mr. Mumper was thrown from the wagon and dragged some distance, but escaped without serious injury although he was badly shaken up and bruised.

The Presbyterian Congregation of Lower Marsh Creek has granted its Pastor, Rev. W. S. VanCleave, a four weeks vacation to be taken at his option. The congregation of Great Conowingo, which forms part of the charge, has granted the same privilege. In addition to the privilege of a vacation the people of Lower Marsh Creek have added a purse to defray the expenses of a trip.

Scribner's Magazine for September opens with rather a startling frontispiece entitled "Danger Ahead," which however proves to be only one of the illustrations of an interesting article on "Safety in Railroad Travel" by H. G. Pratt, we have next a very life-like portrait of Alexander Dumas, the celebrated French novelist, with a short sketch, not of his life, but of his genius, and the good points in his career, by Andrew Lang, "Nepigon River Fishing" by A. R. Macdonough, furnishes a delightful sense of recreation and enjoyment to those who are debarred from actual experience of such restful sport, the first three chapters of a story by Harold Frederic, "The Place of the Fitting School in American Education" is discussed by George Trumbull Ladd, and "Night Witchery" beautifully illustrated, described by W. Hamilton Gibson, T. R. Sullivan furnishes a short story called "Out of New England Granite," "The Master of Ballantre" is continued, and "The Small Arms of European Armies" are skillfully handled by W. W. Kimball, U. S. N., all of which together with several poems and some other reading matter make up the very interesting number for the first of the Autumn months. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.

Is Consumption Curable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middleman, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottle free at all druggists.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Valuable Mountain Land.

As an evidence of the fact of the rapidly increasing prices for land at Blue Ridge Summit and in the vicinity of Pen Mar on the Blue mountains may be mentioned the fact that Major Lewis Delamarter of Hagerstown, offered $7,000, which was refused, for thirty six acres of land which would have sold ten years ago for $700. The popularity of these lands for summer resorts and the raising of peaches has caused the advance in value.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR.—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy free to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address.

Respectfully,

T. A. STOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., N. Y.

AUTUMN seems to have set in before its time this year, the weather is delightful during the day, the soft hazy atmosphere peculiar to the season making one feel that the idle dreamy enjoyment of the passing hours, would be happiness enough for this life, if it were not for the sadness underlying it all, which comes from the sense that this loveliness is the prelude to decay and that the life and joy and brightness of the glorious summer time will soon be buried under the falling leaves whose gorgeous coloring can only deck the grave which will soon be covered by winter snows.

Probable Fatal Accident.

Mrs. Garber, wife of Mr. Samuel Garber, formerly proprietor of the hotel at Waverton, and well known in Frederick, met with a serious accident on Saturday. She resides near Knoxville, along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks, and stepped out the door to call one of the members of the family to dinner. To avoid an approaching train she crossed one of the tracks. At the same instant, a freight train came along, and knocked the lady to the side of the track. She was picked up in an unconscious condition.—Frederick News.

Ring in the Celebration.

The city of Baltimore is going to have an especially grand celebration in September. All trades and pursuits are to be represented and conspicuous among these will be the Bell Clothing House which will ring in the Exposition with a display of clothing artistic in character, elegant in finish and so low-priced as to practically give every visitor a chance to wear home a "brand-new" suit without knowing he spent the money for it. The Bell Clothing House invites all visitors to call and use its conveniences as a Headquarters while in Baltimore. It is located on Pratt Street, near Hanover—near the wharves and railroad stations.

From the Frederick Union.

Miss Mary Rohrbach, who resides with her brother, Mr. M. N. Rohrbach, on West Patrick street, met with a mishap last week one day that resulted in the fracture of her left arm.

Mr. William Funk, an aged and well known resident of this county, and for many years a Justice of the Peace for Urbana district died at his home near Park Mills, last Saturday night about 11 o'clock, aged about 68 years.

The coroner's jury in the case of Brish W. W. Burgess, who died very suddenly and under mysterious circumstances, at his home near the cornfields in Liberty district, on the 7th instant, rendered a verdict, last Thursday to the effect that the deceased came to his death from the effects of strychnine poison, administered by some person or persons to them unknown.

New Jersey Wine Sent To Europe. Mr. Speer (of New Jersey) the Great Wine Man's Success has arisen from the strict purity and valuable properties of his wines for invalids and feeble persons, and his reputation extends around the world. His Port Grape Wine is now being ordered by families in London and Paris.

Rough On Howard.

Mr. William Davis, one of the most prominent farmers in Howard county, says: "Farmers in my county have been nearly ruined financially this season by the loss of almost their entire wheat and hay crops, owing to the unusual wet weather. Many of the farmers are very much distressed. Those who rent farms are unable to pay their rents, and nearly all of those who own farms have mortgages upon them which they cannot cancel. I predict that the fall and winter will bring greater distress in Howard county than any year previous. I own about fifty tenement houses in Marriottsville, and cannot collect any rent, as the occupants are destitute of means of support.—Frederick Times.

Lord Baltimore a Fine Bell.

The new City Hall bell, Lord Baltimore, was taken out of the mould at McShane's foundry on Tuesday morning, and showed a perfect cast. Mr. Lotz, the manager of that department, states that it is as fine a bell as has been cast by the firm, having come from the mould as smooth and nice as could be desired. It is now being finished up, and will be ready for removal on Wednesday. Though only about a half a ton heavier than Big Sam, it has the appearance of being considerably larger. Its diameter at the base is exactly six feet, about two inches longer than the old bell, and it is four feet and ten inches in height. When placed in the belfry it will just about have enough room. The tone of Lord Baltimore is natural "A." Big Sam was "B" flat. But the manufacturers say that neither the tone, nor anything else about the new bell will be flat.—Sun.

Homeless at Harmony.

Thomas Show, aged 35 years, and Wm. Hooper, aged twenty-six, farm small tracts of land near each other in the mountain near Harmony. Both are married men. Show has a wife and five children, and Hooper a wife and three children.

On Thursday last Show found a bee tree in the woods on the land of a Mrs. Gaver. He then asked permission of the lady to cut the tree down, which was given, she also loaned him an axe to fall the tree. The tree was cut down, and a portion of the honey was present, and Mrs. Gaver, and the balance Show took home. Hooper, on learning that Show had cut the tree, became very angry and claimed that he had discovered the tree first and marked it.

It is an unwritten law in that neighborhood for the finder of a bee tree to claim the honey provided he cuts a certain mark on the tree. Show says the tree was not marked, and that he was entitled to the honey after obtaining the permission of Mrs. Gaver. It is stated that Hooper then threatened to kill Show. After Show heard of this he went down to see Hooper to talk the matter over with him, and said that if he was in the wrong he would apologize. Hooper had retired when he reached his residence, but he called him and Hooper asked him to wait until he came down. Show answered, yes; but afterwards walked up the road a few paces. Hooper called to him saying that he would pass his house shortly and "sink him in the ground."

No further conversation was had until Saturday morning about 4 o'clock when Hooper passed Show's house, it being on his way home from Frederick. Hooper stopped and asked Mrs. Show, who was at the wood pile, where her husband was. She replied by telling him to please go on home and not quarrel any more about the bee question. He then became somewhat boisterous and applied some profane language to Mrs. Show. Her husband who was digging potatoes back of the house, on hearing his wife abused, came around. When Hooper drew a revolver, and pointing it at Show, threatened to kill him. Show not wanting to have any trouble persuaded him to put the pistol in his pocket. They then began to talk the matter over, when Hooper again drew the revolver, this time cocking it. Show backed a few steps and went into the house and procured a shot gun; coming out he told Hooper to put that revolver away and go home. He put the revolver away the second time and Show set his gun on the ground. Then Hooper and Mrs. Show began to quarrel and becoming exasperated, she picked up a stone and threw at Hooper which he dodged. On rising Hooper aimed his revolver at Mrs. Show, she being quite near at the time. At this moment Show raised his gun and fired, the charge taking effect in Hooper's neck and head killing him almost instantly.—Frederick News.

Idleness Is a Dangerous Fault.

In the kidneys, which inactive life speedily falls into disrepair. Those obnoxious and fatal maladies, Bright's disease and diabetes, ensue with terrible certainty upon the action of the organs affected. Catarrh of the bladder, neuritis, gravel and stranguary are also to be apprehended from a partial paralysis of the bladder, of which weakness and sluggishness are the causes. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a fine tonic and promoter of activity for the renal organs, and one which can be relied upon to afford them the requisite stimulus without exciting them to an effect to be feared from the untimely use of such potent commercial stimulants. The beneficial effect of the Bitters, by reinvigorating the kidneys, is to enable them to drain from the blood the poisonous humors, thus impurities productive of rheumatism and dropsy. Nervousness, fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia are conquered by the Bitters.

A Frightful Fall.

John Stanton an employe on the farm of Mr. John H. Wither, at Harmony Grove, a few miles north of Frederick, met with a painful if not a serious accident Friday afternoon. He was assisting in threshing wheat and was on top of the stack up under the cone of the roof of the barn when he slipped and fell to the floor, a distance of nearly thirty feet. Fortunately his feet struck the floor first but the shock was so great that he had to be removed to his home near by. Dr. F. F. Smith was summoned. No bones were broken but he will be bedridden for some time. Stanton is about thirty years of age and married.

In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or prompted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result.

From the Williamsport Leader.

Mr. Samuel Angle, who resides on the farm of Mrs. Rhodes, two and a-half miles from this place lost a valuable horse on Tuesday night last by its falling in an open well on the place, as no bones were broken the supposition is that the death of the horse was caused by foul air in the well.

The frame work for Darby & Gruber's steam flouring mill at this place was raised into position on Tuesday, and the contractor, Mr. J. Michael Miller, has a strong force of mechanics at work pushing the work to completion as fast as possible. This firm is also having an artesian well put down for the use of the mill. Messrs. H. A. He resisted arrest, but was finally overpowered by the sheriff and his deputy.

Robbers broke into the store of Thomson & Norris in Williamsport on Saturday night last, and helped themselves to about $30 worth of goods.

The September Eclectic recommends itself to the readers and lovers of good literature. "W. W. Story, under the title of "Recent Conversations in a Studio," gives us a rare and suggestive discussion of various topics in art, politics, and social life. Karl Blind, the veteran socialist and reformer, has a word to say on the New Italy as in some measure the outgrowth of seeds planted by such men as Giordano Bruno, the philosopher, who died for freedom of opinion in the year 1600. There is a most readable paper of a scientific turn, but amusing and racy, on "The Potato's Place in History," which is a model for articles of popular science. A clever paper on Goethe and Carlyle makes the reader wish it were longer. Professor Sayce's discussion of "The Primitive Home of the Aryans" is of superior interest. Goldwin Smith's striking article on "Progress and War," one of the best of recent papers by this able writer, "Dr. Johnson on Modern Poetry" is an interview in the Elysian Fields with that bluff old intellectual giant, by Mr. Watson. Father Barry contributes a seasonable word entitled "Wanted, A Gospel for the Century," indicating those needs which demand a revivification and even revolution in religious methods. Mr. John Rae tells us about the Russian peasantry in "An Empire of Crofters." Sir Murell Mackenzie contributes the second part of his article on "Speech and Song." For most of our readers, however, the remarkable contribution entitled "The Papacy: A Revelation and a Prophecy," will be the most interesting paper in the number. The minor articles are well chosen.
