NOT ALONE.

"To all the sweetness and all the mirth,

That stir in the bosom of kindly earth.

To the flower in the field, and the bird

in the bough,

And the seed springing up in the track of the plough.

To the sweeping hours, to the mist and the rain,

And the sunshine that always returns

again:

To the laugh of childhood, and friendship call,

To the faithful around us, who help us

all,

To the love and the loveliness everywhere—

A presence I feel, and a blessing I share.

I sing and the song is forever new,

"I am glad I live in the world with you."

The good that we work for is hard to win,

But our labor and worship are woven in

To one marvelous web with the beauty

we see

Unfolding from blossom and star and tree,

That widens and lengthens and stretch-

Howard H. Baker has opened a confectionery store in the room attached to M. D. Kerrigan's Coach Factory on E. Main street.

A lawn tennis club has been organized in town and arrangements are being made to lay off a court and begin playing within a few days.

Mr. N. B. MARTIN, editor of the Waynesboro Gazette, is a candidate for nomination on the Franklin county Republican Legislative ticket.

See a young lady in another column with one of Aunt Rachel's Herb Pads on. It cures disease and it disinfects the air you breathe. Read all about it.

Mr. ALBERT DOTTERER of near Motter's Station sent us an egg, perfect in form except that it has a handle on the small end, giving it the appearance of a gourd.

Our old friend and former townman, Mr. F. A. Welly, now of Richmond, Va., has our thanks for copies of the Times and Dispatch of the 25th inst. published in that city.

At a special meeting of Mothers' class held in Chambersburg the pastoral relations existing between Rev. I. M. Motter and St. Paul's Reformed church, of Waynesboro, were dissolved. Mr. Motter has accepted a clerkship in the office of the Geiser Mfg. Co. at Waynesboro.

Number 18 of The Boy's Holiday has a striking article on the first page, which it justly terms the saddest incident connected with the history of West Point. It is beautifully illustrated by the distinguished artist, A. R. Wand, and no one can read the sketch which is strictly true, without being touched. We may add, that Number 18 of this model youth's paper is the best one yet issued, and we commend it to our readers.

One of the old landmarks of the town is disappearing—the old stone tannery on the banks of Hunting Creek, on the southern side of town. The large timbers are well preserved, but the walls fall readily and would have been no longer serviceable to withstand the jar of heavy machinery. The work of lowering the heavy self-supporting roof-frame is arduous and not wholly without danger. Many perches of excellent building stone will come from the walls, but some surprise is manifested at the fact that so many inferior stone should have been used at a time when surely building stone were both plentiful and convenient here.—Mechanistown Observer.

From Former Residents.
In renewing his subscription to the CHRONICLE, Mr. Matt Fisher of Chicago writes: "I find great pleasure in looking over your go-ahead paper." And again, "I find it very interesting to see the World's Fair, I will give you a drive behind one of my best teams over our fine boulevards and through the beautiful parks."

Mr. J. M. Lantz, writing from Leontown, Ohio, says: "I am prospering finely in this city. Have struck a bonanza in writing." (Mr. Lantz is a skillful penman and teaches writing classes. Success to you, Milton.)

Look out for Milton.
An exchange says the latest swindle is carried out by means of a double fountain pen, one end of which is filled with good, substantial ink, the other with ink that fades away in a day or two. The sharper writes his agreement, contract, or what you please, and he may have chosen, with the ink that fades, and has his victim sign with the other end of the pen in the ink that lasts. In a few days he has a slip of paper with nothing on it but a good signature, over which he has put a sort of a note that can be easily turned into cash. Look out for the swindler, for he is dangerous.

The Herb Pad.
Aunt Rachel Speer's Herb Pad, been made for fifty years, has cured thousands suffering from lung and throat diseases, and has prevented cases of throat and from contracting disease through impure air. The pad, when worn on the chest, is a thorough and continuous disinfectant and purifier of the air in front of the nose and mouth before it is taken into the lungs. The pad lasts for several years. Get Aunt Rachel's Herb Pad and wear it, if you are exposed to contagion, or La Grippe. By its use not one of the thousands who wear the pad has had La Grippe. Aunt Rachel Pad Co., Passaic, N. J.

The Frederick News says that at the School Commissioners meeting on Wednesday last week, the sum of $10 was appropriated for the purpose of buying school libraries at the East Church street school and at Emmitsburg, a similar sum having been raised at each of these places, and this being in accord with the State school law. A communication was received from Mr. Loy of Loy's Station, stating that the trees planted there on Arbor day were all destroyed by the above outrage is not given, but surely the perpetrators should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law and made examples of.

AUTOMATIC SEWING MACHINE.
Prices reduced. Every family now can have the best Automatic Sewing Machine in the market at reduced prices. For particulars send for our new Illustrated Circular with samples of stitching. Our Illustrated Circular shows every feature of the Machine perfectly, and is worth sending for even if you have a Machine. Kruse & Murphy Mfg. Co., 455 and 457 West 26th St., N. Y. City.

Released on Bail.

The Frederick News says Joshua Ohler was released from jail on Monday, May 4th, at which Dr. Anna S. Kugler a Missionary connected with the Lutheran Mission in Guntour, India, will give a talk on India and the Missions there.

A Missionary service will be held in the Lutheran Church next Sunday evening, May 4th, at which Dr. Anna S. Kugler a Missionary connected with the Lutheran Mission in Guntour, India, will give a talk on India and the Missions there.

Commendable.
All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

SCHOOL EXAMINER GLENN H. WORTHINGTON was married to Miss Julia Alvey, daughter of Chief Judge Alvey of the Court of Appeals on Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed at St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, Hagerstown, by the rector, Rev. Walter A. Mitchell. The affair was a brilliant one throughout. The bridal party went on a trip to New York.

Walking Club.
A number of ladies in this place have started a walking club, and intend taking long walks twice a week. The members, as far as we have learned are, Mrs. W. H. Heilman, Mrs. Luther D. Yoe, Misses Anna McBride, Belle Rowe, Mattie Simonon, Carrie and Edith Motter, and Helen and Anna Annan. On their first trip they walked about five miles.

Better Leave Them at Home.
Persons who have been in the habit of carrying concealed weapons, such as pistols, razors, dirk knives, sling shots and all other descriptions of concealed or dangerous weapons, will do well to leave them at home in the future. The new law passed by the Legislature imposes a heavy fine and imprisonment on any one known to have them about his person. Any person can inform on such as are seen or known to carry them, and receive one-half of the fine.—Citizen.

Particularly Applicable to Frederick County.
The Chicago Tribune, a leading journal, is observant of Maryland's strides towards eminence as a region of fine horses, and in its last number says: "Stock farms are now found in nearly every county, and it is a rare thing for a week to pass without an important race being held at one of the State tracks. Nature has given Maryland an admirable climate for stock raising, and in the near future it will be an important factor in the breeding world."—Citizen.

We had a heavy rain in this place and vicinity on Sunday afternoon, but no damage done, and the weather since then has been exceptionally fine. In fact we are enjoying typical spring weather now, trees, grass and shrubbery are looking the best, and while the air is fragrant from blossoming fruit trees, and the wheat fields are wearing their brightest green. Another rain storm occurred on Thursday afternoon, accompanied by thunder and lightning and some hail.

The Best Result.
Every ingredient employed in producing Hood's Sarsaparilla is strictly pure, and is the best of its kind it is possible to obtain. The roots and herbs are carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. So that from the time of purchase until Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared, everything is carefully watched with a view to attaining the best result. Why don't you try it?

MT. ST. MARY'S COLLEGE NEWS.

Base Ball Affairs.—The First Nine Selected and it is a strong One-To-morrow's Game. Junior Nine, captain of the Red-Blooded Mountaineers at the College.

Mr. St. Mary's College, May 1.—The last of the five competitive games of ball for position on the first nine of the College, took place this morning, and resulted in a score of 19 to 9 in favor of the Mountaineers. The record of each player was then carefully examined and was chosen as follows:

Brady, pitcher; Hynes, catcher; Kelly, 1 b; Sullivan, 2 b; Madden, (W) 3 b; McKenna, s. s.; Hart, 1 f; Cavanagh, c f; Coad, r. f. The officers are: Capt. Sullivan, Manager; Anderson, Official Scorer; McConnell.

Taken as a whole, the team is perhaps the strongest here in several years. The constant practice of the past few weeks has developed some first class ball players. The battery is exceptionally strong. Brady has some very deceptive curves and when he throws the ball over the plate, its flight is analogous to that of a bullet. He is splendidly supported by Hynes, whose great skill at throwing to second, is an effective intimidator to base runners.

Both in the field and out field could hardly be improved upon. All of which those desiring can satisfy themselves of by coming to the ball field next Saturday when the first regular match game of the season is to be played with the Pennsylvania College nine of Gettysburg, Pa.

The visitors are expected over at 1 o'clock and the game will begin about 2. The strangers come bearing an enviable reputation in base ball affairs, and this said their nine is even stronger than that of last year. But the Mountaineers have full confidence in the Home team and Maryland need have no fear but that the "old reliables" will sustain their honor on the ball field.

New base ball suits have been ordered from Baltimore and are expected here by Friday. The colors are white and blue, white shirt and knee breeches with blue cap, belt and stockings.

Two handsome teams have been donated by some admiring friends and "his hoped they will arrive in time for Saturday's game."

The Junior Nine has two games arranged. The first with the "Violets," a team composed of some of the senior students; and the second with a nine made up of ball players from the neighborhood of the college. The dates of these games are not yet fixed, but they will both take place shortly. The Junior nine this year is exceptionally good. The battery is strong, the hitting hard, and the fielding and base running excellent. The following is the club in full:

Ed. Mullin, c.; Thos. McTigue, p.; Jno. Stanton, s. s.; Wm. McMahon, c. f.; Paul Kine Sullivan, 1 b.; J. b.; Eddie W. Ciesler, 2 b.; Matthew Mulligan, r. f.; Johnnie Hughes, 3 b. The manager of the nine is Mr. Bernard J. Bradley.

The conferring of the Barbecue Medals took place today and the recipients were: Frank J. Sullivan, Gold Medal for "The best general Athlete," and Nicholas Abbaticchio, Gold Medal for "Half-hour-go-as-you-please Race." Juniors—Edward F. Mullen, Silver Medal, for "The best general Athlete."

The usual May devotion at Mt. St. Mary's College, began this evening in the College Chapel at half-past six o'clock, and will be continued during the month at that hour.

Impromptu Entertainment.—Alumni Reunion.
[The following communication was received last week, after the forms were "made up."]

Mr. St. Mary's College, April 24.—To-morrow being a recreation day there were no studies this evening and an impromptu entertainment was given by the students in the College Opera House.

The entertainment opened with a grand promenade around the stage and comprised singing, recitations and dancing. The music was furnished by the St. Cecilia Orchestra.

The Rev. W. L. O'Hara, Professors Thos. J. Donlon and Ed. J. Ryan, the Seniorians, and the senior students filled the audience seats. The entertainment closed with some Terpsichorean exercises.

The subject of the weekly biographical sketch in the Frederick Saturday News of last week, was John C. Motter, Esq., a native of this place, and one of the most prominent lawyers and politicians in the county. The article is embellished by a fairly good picture of Mr. Motter.

The War Claim Failed.
The House of Representatives committee on war claims has authorized an adverse report on the bill appropriating $231,500 to reimburse the towns of Frederick, Hagerstown and Middletown, for war assessments levied on them by Gen. Jubal A. Early in 1864.

Driving Accident.
Last Friday as Mr. Wm. H. Baker and wife were driving along the Waynesboro pike above the toll gate, and when near Mr. Hoover's, the horse scared at a grotesque figure painted on a large rock, becoming unmanageable, and upset the buggy, completely demolishing it. Fortunately the occupants escaped serious injury.

Death of an Aged Woman.
Miss Sarah Haffleigh died at the residence of her nephew, George Hardman, near Fountain Dale last Friday, in the 93d year of her age. Her funeral took place on Sunday, Rev. Mr. Shearer of Fairfield officiating. Her remains were interred in the Reformed Cemetery on the road leading from Fountain Dale to Sabillasville.

The County's Credit Good.
Mr. Joseph D. Baker of Frederick was the successful bidder on Tuesday for the $125,000 four per cent. coupon bonds to be issued by the County Commissioners of this county for the building of new iron bridges, repairing of roads, etc. His bid was $101.55 for every $100, making a total of $1,977.50 for the entire issue. A number of other bids were received, all of which were above par.

Treasurer's Report.
The report of the treasurer of the Corporation of Emmitsburg will be found in another column of this issue. This report is published in accordance with the law which requires that a report shall be submitted to the people prior to each annual election of officers. The report contains nothing to comment on, except that $128.35 of the liabilities of the Corporation has been paid, reducing the same to $650, divided into two notes of $500 and $150.

It's Bad Enough
to fool away one's precious time in experimenting with uncertain medicines, when one is afflicted, without being out of pocket as well. The only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, possessed of such positive curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in guaranteeing it to cure, or money paid for it returned, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. For all liver, blood and lung diseases it is specific.

Time that did Shake.
One day last week Messrs. J. Thos. and James Gelwick undertook to shake some lime in an old sugar barrel in the cellar. The lime somehow got a start on them and before sufficient water could be gotten on it, burst the barrel. The lime spread in every direction and the men couldn't find their way out, and had to scramble over a lot of boxes and barrels in groping their way to the door. Fortunately no injury was done besides the loss of the lime.

Charles Walters, Elmer Black, Harry Loy and Robert Ogle. During the ceremony the organist accompanied by a violin, played in a low tone the tune, "Annie Laurie," which had a pleasing effect. After the solemn rites had been confirmed the bride party with a host of friends repaired to the home of Mr. C. V. Loy, brother-in-law of the bride, where a reception was held. The Mechanicsville band came later in the evening, and gave the couple a royal serenading. The country band was not wanting and they came in for their share of the general good will. Nearly one hundred and fifty persons called to congratulate the happy pair, all of whom partook of refreshments bountifully prepared by the hosts and her able corps of assistants. The Bible Story.

The following is from Sir J. W. Dawson's "Modern Science in Bible Lands."

"Some 3,000 years ago, according to a history professedly written by contemporaries, the Hebrew people, migrating from Egypt, sojourned in this inhospitable region for forty years on the way to Palestine. No one in the intervening ages is known to have followed their precise route. Arab and Christian traditions have, it is true, ventured to fix the sites of some of the leading events of the march. Travelers have passed hastily over portions of the ground, and have given to the world the impressions produced on their minds by crude observation without accurate measurements. The results arrived at were so various and discordant that any one of half a dozen theories might be held as to the actual route and its more important stations, and skeptics might be pardoned for supposing that the writer of the history knew less of the ground than many of the subsequent visitors."

"But now science intervenes with its special methods. A corps of trained surveyors, armed with all the appliances of the art, and prepared to make observations as to climate, geology, and natural history, enters the peninsula at the point where Moses is represented to have entered it, and prepare to follow in his footsteps. They first endeavor to settle approximately the crossing-place of the fugitives, and inform us of the precise circumstances which must have attended that event, not omitting the strong east wind which still sometimes blows with terrific force down the gulf; they examine the wells of Moses, and test their water, and describe the structure of that remarkable shur, or wall of rock, from which the locality derives its Bible name, and which barred the way of the Israelites toward the east, and caused them to make a long detour to the south. They proceed southward from station to station and well to well, noting the remarkable coincidences, heretofore overlooked, with reference to the characteristics of the terrible wilderness of Sin, the various ways by which the table-land may be penetrated from the coast, the apparently devious course of the Israelites, and their encampment by the sea. They show how the host must have turned abruptly to the east by Wady Feiran, and how this brought them into conflict with the Amalekites. They explain the tactics of the battle of Rephidim, with the effect of the victory in opening the way to a junction with Jethro and the Midianites, and to the great and well-watered plain of Er Rahab in front of Mt. Sinai. They show how this plain and mountain fulfill all the conditions of the narrative of the giving of the law, and explain the necessity for the miraculous supply of water before the flight with the Amalekites, and the supply of water and pasture to which that battle gave access."

"As we follow the laborious investigations of the surveying party and note the number and complexity of the undersigned agreements between their observations and the narratives in Exodus and Numbers; as we study their account of the geology, productions, and antiquities of the country, trace its topography on their beautiful maps and photographs, and weigh their calculations as to the supplies of water, food, and pasture at different stages of the journey, we feel that the venerable narrative of the Pentateuch must be the testimony of a veracious eye-witness, and all the learned theories as to a late authorship and different documents disappear like mist."

Water for Rabbits.

A physician writes urgently to the New York World on behalf of infants. He says: "Permit me to call to the attention of mothers who have children unable to talk, the necessity of giving them a little cold water frequently. They suffer from thirst equally with us, but they are helpless and dumb. They can only cry and moan. The mother wonders what can all them, searches for pines, offers them food, and exhausts her patience in hunting for the cause. The torments of thirst which they suffer bring on a fever and often serious illness, sixty drops of cold water would prevent. Every person who understands this should urge upon mothers the necessity of frequently giving them a teaspoonful of cold water."

He was a New Yorker and on arriving here—being unaccustomed to the comparatively fresh air—it made him faint. Every other effort proving unavailing, they held him over a sewer. He revived almost immediately and murmured: "Ah, thank heaven; this smells like home."—Philadelphia Times.

She writes that she "has so many claims" upon her, and that when she subscribed to the fund she did not know that it was to run five years.

Warts—their Cure and Removal.

To the Editor of the Scientific American: In reading the Scientific American of February 8, I found a remedy for removing warts. I send you a remedy that we have found to be better and more simple. Take common washing soda and make a very strong solution. Apply it to the wart four or five times a day. We have tried this and have never seen one wart that this would not remove in a few days and leave no soreness at all.

Henry Clews's Bald Head.

Not everybody who knows Henry Clews (and almost everybody does know him, by reputation at least, so great is the power of printer's ink) is aware of the fact that he is very bald. A facetious friend of his once remarked that the hair that didn't grow on Henry's head would stuff a mattress; but Clews rather got the better of that wit, for when some obliging gossip repeated what his friend had said, Clews sniffed disdainfully, and said: "Pooh! the man is a surd."

"A surd!" repeated the gossip. "What on earth is a surd?" Whereupon Clews looked at him with some scorn and said, "Go look in the dictionary."

He did, and found this definition: Surd, n. In algebra a quantity which cannot be expressed in rational terms.

Simplicity in Speaking.

Benjamin Franklin, in his autobiography, lays down a canon of good breeding in conversation which is worth keeping in mind. He says that he found the habit of expressing himself "in terms of modest diffidence," never using the words "certainly, undoubtedly, or any others that give an air of positiveness to an opinion," on subjects that may possibly be disputed; saying, rather, "It appears to me, or I should think it so, or so, if I am not mistaken." This habit, he said, was of great advantage to him in persuading people to adopt his views, and also helped him to gather much valuable knowledge which otherwise would have been withheld. For, as a rule, people did not care to impart information to one who is firmly entrenched in his own opinions. Young people are very apt to have a positive, dogmatic way of expressing themselves, and should be trained to a moderate, as well as graceful use of language. The use of slang has a tendency toward the error which Franklin tried to avoid.

Destroy the Sparrows.

To the Editor of the Scientific American: I am compelled to take exception to the answer in No. 1826, to "C. McC." wherein it is suggested the English sparrow is useful in destroying worms.

The English sparrow is a granivorous and not a carnivorous or insectivorous bird, and will not touch an insect. The country to-day is as much, if not more, infested with injurious insects than before the sparrow made its appearance, and that is owing greatly to the fact that the English sparrow is an enemy to and has driven most of our native birds away, which were insect-eating and did much toward ridding the country of the pests. The little wren, one of the most valuable insect-eating birds, has got to be quite a curiosity on account of its scarcity, being run out by boss sparrow. It is a fact that the sparrow has become a nuisance in every respect, and should be exterminated.

The habits of birds has been a life study with me, and I speak from experience.
