I HAVE been troubled with chronic sore eyes for forty-five years, and during that time I have used many different remedies, but have never found any that seemed to do me any good, until I procured a box of Chamberlain's Eye and Skin Ointment. I have used only one third of the box, and can truthfully say, I have never had my eyes feel as well, nor look as well as they do now. I expect to cure them entirely with the Ointment. BEX that would guide, unerringly, into the haven of health, all that are on the troubled sea of impaired womanhood! It is nothing less, nor could be nothing more, than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—trail female's faultless friend

Death of Rev. Dr. Demarest.

The sad intelligence has reached us of the death of Dr. J. K. Demarest, Pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, on Sunday evening, at Hackensack, N. J., where he had gone in the hope of improving his health. His remains will be interred at that place on Thursday. A faithful pastor, an earnest, able and scholarly preacher, he endeared himself to his people and commanded the universal esteem of the community. Aged about 47.

Hon. David Wills and Mr. Chas. M.
McCurdy will represent the congregation at the funeral.—Gettysburg Contributor.

Mr. Wm. WESTLAKE, a prominent farmer and breeder of thoroughbred horses, living near Avoca, Neb., was so badly injured by being thrown from his sulk, as to be unable to raise his hand to his head. After using numerous liniments and consulting several physicians without getting any relief, he asked me "if I knew of anything that would help him. I recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he used, and within two weeks he had entirely recovered the use of his arm. I consider Chamberlain's Pain Balm the greatest preparation ever produced for sprains, bruises, deep seated and muscular pains, burns and scalds.—J. J.
LA GRANGE, Druggist, Avoca, Neb. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. D. Eichelberger.

We have received a copy of "The Natural and Industrial Resources and Advantages of Maryland" by J. Thomas Scharf, A. M., LL. D., which is a complete and exhaustive description of all the counties of the state with their capabilities and possibilities, and will well repay a careful study.

The opening paragraph which we take the liberty of copying, will give our readers an idea of the value of our little state and also the value of the work published in its interest:

"Maryland people ought to be the most contented in the world. We have the best markets and the most accessible markets in the world. Commerce on land and sea is easy and rapid, and rates are low. We have the most diversified resources, the best variety of industries, and a gloriousness of oportunity that cannot be excelled. There is no place in the world where there people can live better for less and live longer, if they take care of themselves.
We have an unsurpassed equipment of churches, of schools, and of the advantages of intelligent development. Better yet, we have a people whose courtesy and whose real moral and mental worth, united with a hospitality that is proverbial, make Maryland a society an achievement in civilization."

Nine Times Out of Ten

Dr. Fahrney's Peerless Liniment will prevent Pneumonia and Croup, if used in time. So say hundreds who have used it. Sold by all druggists for twenty-five cents.

In the Nick of Time.

The tick of time to stop the course of bladder and kidney complaints is when the organs concerned exhibit a tendency to grow inactive.
The beautiful impulse toward activity that they receive from Hostetter's Stomach Bitters rescues them from impending danger, and averts such dangerous maladies as Bright's disease and diabetes. Sluggishness of the kidney increases a liability to chronic rheumatism, gout and dropsy, and since the blood is filtered by these organs in its passage through them, the operation of the Bitters serves a doubly happy purpose. The medicine acts without exciting the fiery stimulants of commerce, without dyspepsia, constipation and nervous prostration being relieved by it. Since the advent of this specific medicine in the world, it has been widely demonstrating its worth as a curative and preventive of it.

When Traveling

Whether on pleasure trip, or business, take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectively on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50 cents and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

the following persons to represent Maryland in the National Republican Convention at Minneapolis: Louis E.
McComas, of Washington county; lace, Jr., of Dorchester; Wm. H. Butler, of Anne Arundel; John F. Parker, of Baltimore county and William E. Tigh-to vote for President Harrison.

"Disperse not the day of small things," as the tiny pill (taken from a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets) said to the 300-pound man, suffering from indigestion. As a gentle, thorough laxative, these Pellets resemble Nature more closely in their action than anything before discovered. Business and professional men, whose habits are sedentary, need something of this kind to ward off sick headache, biliousness and dyspepsia, but which will not strain and rack the digestive organs as did the old-fashioned pills. 25 cent per vial, at all druggists.

DURING an epidemic of whooping cough at De Witt, Iowa, a prominent family there bought a fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for their children. It proved so satisfactory that they recommended it to their neighbors; and they in turn to others.
In less than a week's time, the druggist,

W. J. GILSON.

Communicated.
Wm. J. Gilson was born near Emmitsburg, Md., Oct. 25, 1829; and died in the same house in which he was born, Sunday, April 3, 1892, in the 63d year of his age. The death of this good man, caused by injuries received whilst pulling down the logs of an old barn, has cast a shadow over the entire community in which he spent the whole of his life. Under the ministry of Rev.
Thos. McGee, he was converted in his 13th year, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Tom's Creek, an appointment on what is now Me-chanicstown Circuit. But, not being satisfied with his religious experience, at a camp-meeting held near Johnsville in Frederick county Md., six years after his conversion, he consecrated himself more fully to God and the church of which, at the time of his death, he had been an active and useful member for nearly fifty years; serving it faithfully during the greater part of that time as trustee, steward, and class leader. In his home Brother Gilson was a model; kind and affectionate in a high degree. The family altar was never neglected. As a man, he was respected by all who knew him, and esteemed most by those who knew him best. He was incapable of doing a dishonorable thing. Actuated by a sense of duty, he was found frequently on the unpopular side of a question, and it may be that, in some instances, his judgment was incorrect; but his conduct was as clear as the sunshine, and his motives were as pure as the light. As a Methodist, he loved his church, and was loyal to all its interests, serving it cheerfully, and supporting it with a liberality that was fully equal to his means. At the last session of our Conference he was present as a delegate to the Lay Convention, in which capacity he had represented his circuit several times before. The Sunday services he greatly enjoyed, especially the sermon by Bishop Foster, which was a rich feast to his soul. He returned to his home happy in Jesus, little dreaming then that he would so soon see the "King in his beauty." But so it was. He was ready. A short time before he breathed his last he joined his daughter in singing:
"Jesus, Lover of my soul, Let me to thee be bound." after which, he closed his eyes and, without a struggle, passed to his reward. His patriotism was intense, his hospitality was generous and the influence of his daily life upon those about him was good, and only good.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 4.— Fifty men and boys went on strike in Lewistown, Pa., yesterday, at the Shawm Rubber company's factory because of alleged bad ventilation. The windows were nailed down at the bottom, allowing only the upper sash to be lowered to admit fresh air. Because of oppressive heat the hands asked to be allowed to open the windows from the bottom, but this privilege was refused.
They thereupon donned their coats and stopped work. The superintendent said that the order was necessary to protect the goods in course of manufacture from draught, since the air served to impair the quality of the material.

DISASTROUS FOREST FIRES.

Confagations That Caused Much Damage in New Jersey.

MAY'S LANDING, N. J., May 4.—Monday was a great day for forest fires in Atlantic county. Four large fires raged in different parts of the county all day, creating great destruction. The worst fire was at Estelleville, four miles from here, and at one time it was feared that the little village would be burned out.
A careless farmer burning brush started this fire.

Large forces of men from this place and other surrounding places fought the flames all day with but little success, as the heat was so intense as to be unbarable. After a recess organization going to their beds. At 8 o'clock a heavy thunder storm came up, and at 10 the flames were extinguished. The storm was a Godsend to the poor people, who had labored hard all day to save their homes. Their loss will reach several thousand dollars.

Another fire that did considerable damage, burning much young standing timber and cord wood, was started at Glenchester Lane, below Egg Harbor City. Much fine cedar timber was destroyed by this fire. Two other small fires raged between this place and Newfield. The destruction by forest fires so far this season is more than in any previous years.

BRIDGETON, N. J., May 4.—Fire in the woods at Jones island, six miles below here, burned over 500 acres. It was caused by boys smoking cigarettes while hunting arbutus.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 5.—News has reached here from the track of the storm that passed within two miles of McCall, Mo., yesterday, that Mrs. Alph-Daniel and a child named Baird were killed, an old man by the name of Sharp received wounds which will probably prove fatal, and three children of James Daniels were seriously hurt. Those who escaped did so by retreating to a cypress swamp. Many people waded in water knee deep. Houses and barns were blown down and live stock killed.

PATTONSBURG, Mo., May 5.—About 8.30 p. m. yesterday a cyclone passed through De Kalb county in a northwesterly direction, sweeping everything before it. It wrecked the home of Mr.
Shipp and seriously injured him and killing his wife and Miss Boyd.
