

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1893.

OPENING OF THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The grand Exposition, to which for the past two years the attention of the entire world has been directed, was formally opened to the public on Monday, May 1st, and the introduction of this, crowning achievement of the nineteenth century, to a waiting world could not but awaken a thrill of national pride in the heart of every one who claims the honor of having been born and reared in the land that owes its place among the nations to the courage and perseverance of the great Columbus. The fact of their being a lineal descendant of the bold navigator to whom the world is so much indebted, present at the opening ceremonies of this stupendous manifestation in his honor, adds interest as well as lustre to the affair now happily inaugurated.

It is to be regretted, that the arrangements were not completed, and all the exhibits in position before the formal presentation to the public, that the managers on whom the responsibility rested for carrying out and perfecting the plans of such a wonderful undertaking, might have presented the finished work to the crowds who gathered in Chicago to take part in, or witness, the inaugural ceremonies.

From all accounts, it will be at least a month before the workmen will be through with buildings and grounds, and everything is in position to make the display what it is intended to be in its entirety.

That it will exceed anything the world has ever seen, there can be no doubt, as it embodies the results of the knowledge, experience and culture of the past, increased and embellished with the full brilliancy of what the present has proved equal to accomplishing.

Chicago has anything but an easy task before her, during the coming six months, as extraordinary effort as well as wonderful ability in the management of municipal affairs, will be required to keep the heterogeneous mass of humanity, gathered within her precincts, under such control as will make it safe and pleasant for visitors, no matter what their sex, creed or nationality may be.

That the police force of the city, with the manifold additions made to it, for the emergency, proved entirely inadequate to the work of controlling the crowds collected at the opening ceremonies, is very much to be regretted, as the confusion, crowding and crushing, resulting as it did, so disastrously, could not but throw a shadow over what would otherwise have been a gloriously brilliant scene.

It is a great pity that everybody wants to see everything, and all at the same time, and that each one thinks, that by pushing, he "can get there" if others can; but as discretion cannot be dealt out to the individuals that make up a crowd, it is necessary to control them by force, if nothing else will avail, to keep them from injuring themselves and others. There ought to be some efficient police regulations, to prevent the disgraceful manifestations of selfish rudeness, which are apt to prevail in densely packed crowds of people, and make accidents from such causes, impossible.

On the whole, it would be wiser and safer to defer going to see the great show, till the sharp edges are worn off, and the danger of being uncomfortably crowded, has grown less. The sights to be seen and the lessons to be learned will be as fine and do much good, three months after the opening as they are now, and the discomfort less.

No flowery rhetoric can tell the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla as well as the cures accomplished by this excellent medicine.

Horrible Explosion in Indiana.
TINK HAUER, Ind., May 4.—A special from Brazil, says: News of a horrible accident near Zel River station, south of here, has reached this city. Three men had been sinking a coal shaft. The three men were at work in their little shop when a piece of the red hot iron fell into a box containing 50 sticks of dynamite. Instantly there was an explosion that shook houses on their foundations for several hundred yards about the scene. The shop and shaft houses were wrecked and the three unfortunate men were blown to pieces. Their remains were gathered up in a basket.

Rates Fixed by Magnates.
NEW YORK, May 3.—The trunk line rate committee met for the purpose of fixing rates to California points as well as rates to Chicago. The Missouri river lines having named $40.50 as the rate from all points on the Missouri river, the rate of $10.50 from Chicago to Kansas City (first class) has been named and will be used in figuring through rates to California.

Military Men Celebrate.
ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 3.—The survivors of Kemper's battery, at one time the most celebrated military organization in this part of the country, gave banquet to-night at the opera house in honor of their organizer, brave leader and ex-commander, Colonel Delaware Kemper, who is at present a guest of his brother.

$100 Reward $100.
The readers of the CHRONICLE will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75.

THE GREAT EXPOSITION.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Without a hitch of any kind to mar the pleasure of the opening day, the great Columbian exposition has been successfully started on its career and it is now making marvelous history.

No pen could describe nor imagination compass the demonstration that followed when President Cleveland pressed the key of the gold and ivory instrument that turned on the electric current and vitalized the machinery and made the whole vast exposition as a thing of life. The wheels of the great Allis engine in Machinery hall commenced to revolve, the orchestra pealed forth the strains of "Hallelujah," and as the electric fountains in the lagoon threw their torrents toward the sky, the thunder of artillery came from the vessels in the lake, and the audience burst into a thundering shout that fairly shook the building. Overhead the flags at the tops of the poles in front of the platform fell apart and revealed two gilded models of the ships in which Columbus first sailed to American shores. It was a wonderful scene of transformation, never to be forgotten by those who witnessed it. Then the band played "America," and the exercises were at an end. The Columbian exposition was opened to the world.

The holiday was on and the people proceeded to the full enjoyment of it. The urban and suburban citizens and their cousins from the remote backwoods were goodnaturedly mixed up with the foreign representatives of all nations. The city below one another in the broad avenues of the great white city. Swarthy Turks from the shores of the Bosphorus walked side by side with their traditional enemies, the fierce Gooks of the Dan; sooty Nubians jostled yellow Lascars; subjects of the shah hobnobbed with denizens of the land of the white elephant; the Eskimos—children of the frozen north—sauntered through the long reach of roadway, gazing curiously at the Japanese whose home is near the equator. It was a congress of nations.

Of course Great Britain and continental Europe were the most strongly represented. There was a glitter of foreign uniforms and gold and lace in every corner, and every third man wore a decoration. There were Germans, Frenchmen, Russians, Austrians, Spain, which claims the chief glory of the Columbian era in right of Ferdinand and Isabella, who sent the great admiral forth on his quest, divided the honors with Italy, who claims his birthplace.

Buffalo Bill Attracted Attention.
There were some queerly assorted groups. In one party were a merchant from Baghdad with his two turbaned attendants, a squad of English soldiers, three Armenian gymnasts from the Midway pleasure, several malodorous and chattering Ginguas and Mr. William F. Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill," who, by the way, attracted as much attention as any pasha with three tails or other foreign notable on the grounds.

In another place a party of Arab donkey drivers divided the honors with three Hindoo snake charmers from Upper India in the eyes of a family from Missouri, consisting of father, mother and five children. The elevated road carried similar incongruous groups, and the cable cars resounded all day with the tongues of all nations.

Above the heads of the throng floated the flag of nations. The Columbian flag of old England swung side by side with the tricolor of France; the red and yellow of Spain was everywhere, and the Austrian eagles flew on the breeze along with those of Russia. China's yellow dragon pennant, the blue flag of Uruguay, the green cross of the Swiss republic, the star and crescent of the sublime porte, the lion of Persia, the island banner of Hawaii, soon, perhaps, to disappear forever, all these were there, and floating above them all the standard of the great republic, the stars and stripes, snatched in the breeze, a symbol of liberty and asylum to the oppressed of the whole earth.

Any nation that thought of the righter to look up the relics of the celebrated mariner whose name is given to the exposition. They are found in the reproduction of the Convent of La Rabida, which is a facsimile, as nearly as may be, of the historic structure in which Columbus sought refuge after being repulsed in his efforts to gain the assistance of the Portuguese court. In the original structure the walls are almost bare of ornament, but in the model raised to commemorate the discoveries of the great navigator, every available spot is decked out with mementoes culled from every corner of the earth to which his fame has traveled.

DIPLOMATS MAKE LOVE.

Maid of the Flowery Kingdom Captured.
Two Americans in Hawaii.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The latest news from Honolulu says that the marriage of Commander Whiting of the United States steamship Alliance to Miss Etta Afong, daughter of a wealthy Chinese merchant here, has been fixed for early next September. "Positively the very latest and choicest bit of gossip in Honolulu social circles," the correspondent adds, "grows out of the marked attention paid to Miss Marie, the oldest daughter on the Afong line by Mr. Mills, a young Virginian, who acts as private secretary to Commissioner Blount. There has been no definite announcement as yet, but gossips have it that there is a serious attachment between the two, and that an announcement may be expected before the United States commission concludes its labors."

Fine Sport in the Potomac Valley.
WASHINGTON, May 4.—It is pretty late for ducks to be flying, yet the people who live near Big Pool, on the Potomac Valley branch of the Western Maryland railroad, are now having fine duck shooting every day. Big Pool takes its name from the large artificial lake formed by the Chesapeake and Ohio canal at that point. This lake is about two miles in length, and the wild ducks, journeying northward, being attracted by it, are found there in large numbers. Sportsmen in that section to whom the canvasback and redhead are usually the favorite game, have had their fill of shooting ducks recently.

Cleveland and the Sherman Act.
WASHINGTON, May 3.—Secretary Carlisle in boldly proclaiming the purpose of the administration to effect the repeal of the Sherman silver purchase act, speaks with a confidence largely inspired by the president. Since his inauguration Mr. Cleveland has done a good deal of missionary work in and out of congress in behalf of the repeal of this law. He counts for material assistance from the southern members. The president believes that the interests of the south and east are so interwoven as to render a commercial and financial alliance between those sections natural and mutually beneficial.

Reinterment of Alex. H. Stevens.
ALEXANDRIA, May 1.—The remains of Alexander H. Stevens, vice president of the late Confederate states, will be laid in their final resting place at Crawfordville early this month and a monument erected to his memory. The completion of the monument is largely due to a woman, Miss Mary A. Gay, who has devoted her life to the preservation of Confederate memorials. It is a simple Italian shaft with suitable figures.

The Labor Troubles at Homestead.
PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Fifty skilled workmen in the beam mill of the Carnegie Steel works of Homestead refused to accept the reduction stipulated in the new scale and walked out. The reduction is from 37 to 26 cents per ton. The men are determined not to accept the reduction and the superintendent of the mills says that he will fill their places with new men.

FLOODS AND CYCLONES.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., May 4.—The Lewis and Clark reservoir broke and a section of the dam about 100 feet long swung back and a body of water containing 7,000 acres started down the Miami valley with a roar. The first thing it struck was a covered bridge 100 feet long. It carried the stone supports from under it and it fell with a crash and was carried down with the current. All bridges in the valley within seven miles of the reservoir were swept away and a large tract of land, including the towns of Lewisville and Lakeview, were entirely surrounded, their only means of communication with the outside world being by rowing across the reservoir above the dam, and even that can only be done with difficulty on account of the swift current.

The breach in the dam is about 10 feet deep, and in 10 hours the reservoir has fallen only 10 inches. This will give some idea of the amount of water in it and the time it will take to empty it. Men are entirely powerless to do anything to check the water until it has spent its force. The inhabitants of the vicinity of the threatening danger worked as only those who see their homes in danger can work. Brushwood and logs were carried and piled in front of the station in hopes that the water might be held back and their homes saved, but they were at last compelled to retreat from the gap and watch the waters sweep over their homes and farms. This is the second time the dam has broken since the last 10 years, and although there is no blame attached to the officials who have charge of it, since the recent heavy rains were the cause of it, yet there is a general feeling here that the reservoir should be abandoned.

Devastation in North Carolina.
RALEIGH, May 3.—A terrific cyclone struck this part of the state, and destroyed 15 buildings at Oxford, a town of 5,000 people, 40 miles west of here. The path of the cyclone was 150 yards wide. It wrecked several large tobacco warehouses, among them those of Hopkins, Lurkin and Smith. Several persons were caught in the ruins of the big building, and one was killed. A negro is dangerously hurt and four others badly injured.

This is the first cyclone on record in this section, and the excitement is intense, even outside of the district that was struck. The Masonic Orphan asylum, in which there are 300 pupils, narrowly escaped being wrecked. Towns of crops were laid and severe storms are reported in other sections.

Inundations in Arkansas.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 4.—The river at this place still continues to rise. Much driftwood is coming down the stream. Several large barns and outhouses went under the stream. Very little apprehension for the safety of bridges is felt as they are all substantial ones. Reports received from Saline county say that all farms in Perkins township are overflowed and crops ruined. The water is within a foot of the top of the bank at the bridge. The river is pouring into fields along the river as far west as Conway, doing much damage to cotton crops.

The Flood at St. Paul.
ST. PAUL, May 4.—The Mississippi continues to rise and has passed above the danger line. There seems to be no indication of its having reached the crest. The rise, and more or less damage to property has resulted. Hundreds of homes on the west side and on the low lands above the river are under water and many families have lost all of their household effects.

Damages Done in Western Ohio.
SPRINGFIELD, O., May 4.—The damage in this city and vicinity from the flood will run up into the thousands. Two hundred houses were flooded on the first floor and the furniture ruined. The greatest suffering is the Ohio Southern railroad, its extension to Lima, which is now building. The grade is badly damaged from here to Tremont City, 10 miles.

Tornado in South Carolina.
CHARLESTON, May 4.—A tornado passed through a portion of Lexington and Newberry counties, unroofing houses and mills and destroying barns, stables and out-houses. Much property was lost in orchards and woods. A white woman was killed and a number of persons were injured.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

The Available Gold Is Still a Million in Excess of the Treasury.
WASHINGTON, May 3.—The public debt statement shows that the cash balance in the treasury on April 30 was $21,482,934, a decrease during the month of $4,147,203. There was an increase during the month of $530 in the interest-bearing debt, a decrease of $3,100 in the debt on which interest has ceased and a decrease of $347,905 in the debt bearing no interest. The aggregate of interest and noninterest bearing debt is $82,407,704. The gold reserve is given at $97,011,330 and the net cash balance at $4,471,735.

While the gold reserve, according to the above figures, is nearly $3,000,000 below the limit fixed by law, yet there have been a large number of offers and acceptances of gold which have not yet found their way to the books of the treasury. Many of them have been offered by banks at distant points, and it takes several days for the exchange to be made. The actual amount of gold that is available is believed to be $1,000,000 or more in excess of the lawful reserve. Small offers of gold continue to be made and accepted by the department. It is expected that Secretary Carlisle will soon arrange to secure gold from Chicago and New York.

THE PAPAL SUCCESSION.

Rumors That Cardinal Gibbons May Succeed Pope Leo XIII.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The rumor that Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore was slated to succeed Pope Leo XIII, when that pontiff is no more, has excited keen interest among Catholic residents of this city. Monsignor Ducey was asked: "Is there any probability that Cardinal Gibbons will ascend the papal throne?" "I do not know," said the monsignor, "why the presentations of cardinals as among the probable successors to the present pontiff are given out to the public. The cardinal is an honest, gentlemanly, retiring man, and I am very certain these statements appearing from time to time are not pleasing to him. I cannot say whether there is any probability of his becoming pope. I do not believe, however, that there is. It is but natural to think that the Italian cardinals, who are in a majority, will fully believe that the Holy Ghost wishes them to elect an Italian."

IMPROVED RAILWAY SERVICE.

Fast Schedules For Both Passenger and Freight Throughout the South.

RALEIGH, May 4.—On next Sunday the fast schedule of the Seaboard Air line will go into effect. It will be a vestibule daily double train from Washington to Atlanta. This through train will use the tracks of the Atlantic Coast line between Washington and Weldon, N. C., and its own tracks from Weldon to Atlanta. The time from Weldon to Atlanta will be 15 hours, which is alleged to be the fastest time now made on any southern road. A passenger can eat breakfast at Raleigh and dinner in Washington. It is a schedule which suits the people of this section and will be largely taken advantage of by them. The Richmond and Danville system is now running three fast daily vegetable trains from North and South Carolina to the north. The new schedule, featuring in a great and profitable industry in these two states, and in the vegetable business in Virginia.

GOSSIP IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—"I see," said a prominent politician, "that correspondents of all the newspapers are still alleging that Mr. Cleveland is disgruntled on account of the opposition to his candidacy. I can't see for the life of me how any one can believe that in the face of facts. If you will go to the departments you will find that more than half the applicants for office are men who fought against his nomination, while I know that in my state more anti-Cleveland men have been appointed than those who worked for him. Why in several southern states nearly all the politicians opposed his nomination, and I have in my mind one man who made himself conspicuous in Chicago and was in print several times strong against Cleveland's nomination. And that man will undoubtedly secure the position he is applying for. In my city there are three candidates for the postoffice, and it is admitted by all (even the candidate himself) that the one Cleveland man has no show of getting it. The only way to properly account for the slowness in distributing offices is that it is the policy of the administration to go slow and make only such changes as are demanded by precedents and those resulting from resignations."

Excursion of Maryland Editors.
The Democratic Editors' association of Maryland will depart for the World's Fair on the 15th inst. Over 400 letters were written by business men of North Carolina to Mr. Cleveland, recommending his appointment. He did not state, however, that the president's private secretary had the job reading them. The president and his cabinet are once more in Washington. Promptly at 5:35 p. m. the special train arrived. Private Secretary Thurber met the president at the train and Mrs. Cleveland was in her carriage to greet him. "Yes, I am home," said the president to his better half, while Mrs. Carlisle leaned over through the window of the carriage and spoke enthusiastically to Mrs. Cleveland of the trip. Secretary Thurber and Smith both expressed themselves as pleased with the opening of the World's fair. There was no crowd at the depot to greet the distinguished arrivals, as the time was not generally known.

"Once more," said an officeholder, "the Democrats are in power. The Republicans have been running the government for a week."

Another Financial Conference.
It is said that Secretary Carlisle has decided to hold another conference with the New York bankers at an early day, as it is believed the treasury will need assistance from New York. The last caller was John V. McKane, a prominent Brooklyn Democrat, who wanted some changes made in the postmasters. Long Island, not having recovered from the fatigue of his Chicago trip, remained seated most of the time during the calling hour. Later he attended a special meeting of the cabinet. The Confederate Veterans' association of Washington had been invited to attend the ceremonies at Richmond on the 31st, incident to the reinterment of the remains of Jefferson Davis.

"I differ with the majority of officeholders," remarked one of the donors of patriots. "When I voted for Mr. Cleveland I did not expect him to make a clean sweep. He did not do it before, and there is no reason why he should do it now."

A prominent North Carolinian says the fever is the Ohio Southern railroad, its extension to Lima, which is now building. The grade is badly damaged from here to Tremont City, 10 miles.

At Death's Door.
but was entirely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. After taking with Mr. Carlisle to attend to the Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken two bottles I felt very much better. I have continued taking it, and am now feeling excellent. I thank God, and

THE NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Friday, April 28.

The Ohio Legislature, as adjourned, William W. Ballou of Hillsboro, Ga., was appointed a cadet at West Point. Dr. Whitford Smith, one of the most prominent Methodists in the south, died at Spartanburg, S. C., aged 80 years. Gilbert Dobbs, late superintendent of installation in the Manufacturers building at the World's fair, had been succeeded by C. W. Withersburg of Cincinnati.

Interest in the Lizzie Borden case is again aroused by the statement that the date of the trial will be fixed upon this week. The trial will undoubtedly take place in June at Fall River.

Michael Sweeney, a 13-year-old boy, met with a shocking death at Boston by descending a live wire. Sweeney threw a long piece of telegraph wire over an overhead guard wire of the street railroad.

The latest official report shows that cholera is steadily decreasing at Odessa on account of the cold weather. There were 588 cases and 162 deaths in the whole of Russia in the first week of April.

Saturday, April 29.
The Nobles of the Mystic Shrine from the western states met at Dodge City, Ia. British Columbia was swept by another blizzard, and the streets of North Sydney were blocked.

The Allan line steamer Prussian, from Glasgow, with 500 emigrants, is several days overdue, and great anxiety is felt for her safety.

Alfred Crooks, aged 10 years, waded into the Potomac at Anacostia, D. C., with suicidal intent, but her canoe failed her and she abandoned her purpose.

About 150 people were precipitated into a cellar while attending the ceremonies at the laying of a cornerstone in Cleveland. Great confusion ensued, but no fatalities resulted.

A bill asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan railway was filed in the United States court at Detroit. The instance of the Craig Ship building company.

The Standard Bank of Australia has suspended pending the reconstruction of the institution. The bank has authorized the bank is $1,000,000 and the reserve fund and undivided profits amount to a total of $125,000.

Monday, May 1.
Edwin Booth's condition is reported to be unchanged.

The gold balance in the treasury continues to grow.

Pittsburg mills will close down Sundays hereafter, owing to the enforcement of the Sunday laws by the Law and Order league.

The superior court of Massachusetts has assigned a trial of Lizzie Borden for the term beginning Monday, June 5, at New Bedford.

The search for the escaped Sing Sing murderers has been abandoned by the prison officials, and no clew of the convicts seems to remain.

Will Burke gave himself up to the authorities at Rockford, Ill., confessing that he killed his mother. He shot her through the heart while she slept.

The new Cunard ocean liner Campania, in her maiden trip across the Atlantic, beat all maiden trip records, her time being 6 days, 8 hours and 34 minutes.

A protracted drought in England and on the continent is causing considerable suffering. There is already a famine of green vegetables, and prices have gone up 50 per cent.

Tuesday, May 2.
Edwin Booth is reported better.

Lord Deramore of the English peerage died in Paris.

The new court of appeals of the District of Columbia has been formally inaugurated.

Not a mine is in operation in the Hocking valley, and the strikes of the miners is complete. There are no signs of violence. The United States supreme court will consider the constitutionality of the Geary law restricting Chinese immigration May 10.

A piece of crystallized soda, weighing 2,540 pounds, from the soda lake near Laramie, Neb., will be exhibited at the World's fair.

For several years past nearly all the slate pencils used throughout the United States have been made at one factory in Charlottesville, Va.

It is thought that negotiations between Chancellor von Caprivi and the progressive members of the center will result in the passage of the army bill.

The report of Secretary Dildin of the British Royal Lifeboat institution shows that the 304 lifeboats owned by the company saved 1,056 lives last year.

Wednesday, May 3.
A big leather trust with a reported capital of $10,000,000 has been organized in New York.

Trustee King announces that the estate of Erastus Wiman will pay out under any circumstances.

Edwin Booth, according to his attending physician, is still improving, and they expect he will recover.

By the breaking of a wire rope in a shaft at Breslau, a number of miners were precipitated to the bottom of the mine, three of them dying instantly.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide in the case of Rose Bengtson, who was found with her throat cut at the Southern hotel, Chicago.

J. S. Gatz, a Chicago jeweler, made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. He confessed judgments to the amount of about $3,000, mostly to local creditors.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train which left Parsons was held up at Briar Creek, Ind. Ter., by 6 armed men. The express messenger refused to give up the combination. The passengers were released of everything from pocketbooks to pocket knives.

Mr. Harvey Heed.
Laceyville, O.

Catarrh, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health."

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and

Could Scarcely Walk.
I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and could not swallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave medicine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me much good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, telling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been

At Death's Door.
but was entirely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. After taking with Mr. Carlisle to attend to the Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken two bottles I felt very much better. I have continued taking it, and am now feeling excellent. I thank God, and

Hood's Sarsaparilla
and my wife for my restoration to perfect health." HARVEY HEED, LACEYVILLE, O.

HOOD'S PILLS do not purge, pain or grip, but act promptly, easily and efficiently.

GRAND Spring Opening.

TRAUB'S CLOTHING STORE.

EMMITSBURG, MD.

We are wide awake and early in the field with a Spring Stock of the highest quality. Our special effort for the spring season is to increase the purchasing power of your dollar with the greatest values ever offered for the money. It will be to your interest to call and inspect our display of

MEN'S - NOVELTIES
and reliable standard grades in Men's, Youths' and Children's clothing, Hats, Shoes and Gent's Furnishing Goods, also Frunks, Satchels and Umbrellas. We are sure to have the best, and sure to give you a great dollars worth for your money. If you want to enjoy the full purchasing power of your dollar spend it with

J. TRAUB & BRO.
Hyder Building, Emmitsburg, Md., or at the Main Store, Union Bridge, Md.

WE LEAD.

We keep proving that for this community we are headquarters for all DRESS FABRICS. New Goods keep on arriving.

OUR STOCK will throw a flood of light on every uncertainty as to what to buy in this line. As to how to trim it.

OUR STOCK will give the utmost freedom to your fancy in making correct selections, our knowledge of proper things is at your command.

OUR SUCCESS is due in the main to our strict business methods of MAKING STERLING VALUE THE BEST OF EVERY TRANSACTION.

IN ADDITION to an increased stock of Silk and Wool Dress Fabrics we are now making a GREAT SHOW OF

WASH GOODS.

THE LEADERS

G. W. Weaver & Son,

GETTYSBURG, PA.

Dry Goods, Notions, Carpets.

STOVES!

ALL KINDS AND SIZES.

NEW PILOT COOK, WITH RESERVOIR!
WE MAKE THEM

Will Deal Direct With Consumers!
No Middle Men in Ours;
Customers will get dealers profits on their purchases!

Who will Profit by this Announcement?
Call at Salesrooms of Union Foundry & Stove Works, Central Hotel Building,
Oct 14-61. Frederick City, Md.

EMMITSBURG Marble Yard

CEMETERY WORK
Of all kinds promptly done Orders filled on short notice and satisfaction guaranteed.

W. H. HOKE, Proprietor,
EMMITSBURG, MD.

—CALL ON—
GEO. T. EYSTER,
—AND—
See his splendid stock of
GOLD & SILVER.
Key & Stem-Winding
WATCHES.

STATEMENT
Showing the condition of the Continental Insurance Company of New York, N. Y., December 31st, 1892.

ASSETS.
Value of Real Estate and Ground Rents owned by the Company, less amount of encumbrance thereon..... $ 180,700.00
Loans on Bond and Mortgage..... 138,980.00
Stocks and Bonds absolutely owned by the Company (market value)..... 4,533,215.00
Amount of all Loans (except Mortgages) secured by Stocks, Bonds, and other securities hypothecated to the Company for cash actually loaned by the Company..... 57,000.00 Interest due and accrued on Stocks, Bonds and other securities..... 748,871.41
Cash in Company's principal office and belonging to the Company deposited in banks..... 552,480.44
Premiums due and in course of collection..... 382,710.37 Bills receivable, not matured, taken for risks..... 288,796.54
All other admitted assets detailed in statement on file in this office..... 3,935.75
Total Admitted Assets..... $6,947,680.76

Assets not Admitted.
Securities deposited in various States for the protection of Policyholders in such States (market value)..... 137,740.00
Liabilities in said States..... 7,965.00 Surplus over said Liabilities

Emmitsburg Chronicle.

Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Emmitsburg Postoffice.
FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1893.

Emmitsburg Rail Road.

TIME TABLE.
On and after Oct. 2, 1892, trains on this road will run as follows:

TRAINS SOUTH.
Leave Emmitsburg at 7.50, 9.55, a. m., and 2.50 and 5.40 p. m., arriving at Rocky Ridge at 8.20 and 10.25 a. m., and 3.20 and 6.10 p. m.

TRAINS NORTH.
Leave Rocky Ridge at 8.20 and 10.40
a. m., and 3.32 and 6.25 p. m., arriving at Emmitsburg at 8.50 and 11.10
a. m., and 4.02 and 6.55 p. m.

WM. H. BIGGS, Pres't.
Established 1837.
Wetly's all-rye whiskey. It has no rival for superiority, is absolutely pure, and has a reputation of the highest standard for excellence and purity, that will always be sustained. Recommended by physicians. Also Old Kentucky Whiskey and Speer's celebrated Wines for sale by
F. A. DIFFENDAL.

The number of students in the Johns Hopkins University, in Baltimore, is 551.

A peculiar eye disease has been affecting a number of children in Frederick city.

On Tuesday a colored canal boatman fell from a boat, just below Cumberland, into the canal and was drowned.

Prof. THOMAS has been re-elected County Superintendent of the public schools of Adams county, Pa.

Read the new advertisement of Messrs. G. W. Weaver and Son, which appears in another column.

"A stitch in time" often saves consumption. Down's Elixir used in time saves life. For sale by J. A. Elder.

Mr. J. L. Hoke's spring opening of pattern hats, bonnets and millinery novelties is in progress, and exceeds all former openings.

The Republican Central Committee of Frederick county, will hold a meeting in the Court House, at Frederick, on May 13th inst.

MR. JOHN J. SPONSELLER, a well known resident of Charlottesville, this county, died on Monday afternoon, aged about 73 years.

The Vigilant Hose Company, of this place, will elect officers at its regular annual meeting, which will be held this evening at 7 o'clock.

The work of repainting the steeple on St. Joseph's Catholic Church, in this place, has been completed, and the improvement is decidedly marked.

JAMES SHRIVER, an insurance agent, died at the residence of his brother, Wm. Shriver, in Westminster, on Monday night, aged 66 years.

Gov. BROWN on Tuesday, appointed Prof. Samuel C. Chow Secretary of the State Board of Health, in place of Dr.
Chancellor, who resigned.

ABRAHAM DAVIS, colored, shot and killed Frank Sorrell, also colored, on Tuesday night, in Baltimore. Davis was arrested and placed in jail.

Dogs supposed to be mad are being killed all over Washington county.
Scarcely a day passes that some attack on persons or animals by dogs is not reported.

DENTAL NOTICE.—Dr. Geo. D. Fonke will visit Emmitsburg professionally, May 10th, 11th and 12th inst. Can be seen at the residence of Mr. Philip Lawrence.

GOVERNOR BROWN has signed the death warrants of Barber and Pinkney, colored, in Prince George's county, for the murder of Mr. Francis Bowie, fixing June 30th as the day of execution.

COSTIVENESS is the primary cause of much disease. Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters will permanently cure costiveness. Every bottle warranted.
For sale by J. A. Elder.

The May term of the Circuit Court for Frederick county, will convene on Monday next. It will be a non-jury term.
The cases on docket are: Criminal, 59; appeals, 45; trials 65; originals, 56.

CODING SYRUP.—Yes I am tired of hearing and seeing the word; yet if you want a good, reliable, pleasant-to-take, Cough Syrup, and a large bottle for the money, ask your druggist for Dr. Fahney's and take no other.

DURING the month of April there were recorded in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court for Frederick County 163 deeds, 114 mortgages, 39 marriage licenses and 26 miscellaneous papers.

A PRIZE of $50 has been awarded to Mr. Wilson Beale, son of Rev. D. J.
Beale, D. D., a pupil of the High School in Frederick, by the Woman's Auxiliary Committee of the World's Fair for a meritorious essay on the early history of this country.

Between this and the other side of the broad Atlantic, in the shape of tourists, commercial travelers and business agents "on the road," steamboat captains, ship's surgeons and "all sorts and conditions" of travellers, emigrant and new settlers appreciate and testify to the preventive and remedial properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in sickness, nausea, malaria and rheumatic trouble, and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels.
Against the prejudicial influences of climate, cramped or unaccustomed diet and impure water, it is a sure and safe remedy, and has been so recorded by the travelling public for over a third of a century. No form of malaria fever, from the climate of the Pacific and the broken home fever of the Mississippi to its mildest type, can resist the curative action of this beneficent preserver and restorer of health, a veritable boon to persons in feeble health or liable to incur disease.

Nine Times out of Ten Dr. Fahney's Peerless Liniment will prevent Pneumonia and Croup, if used in time. So say hundreds who have used it. Sold by all druggists for twenty-five cents.

THE Twentieth Annual Grangers' Interstate Picnic Exhibition, will be held at William's Grove, Cumberland County, Pa., beginning on August 28th and continue until September 2nd, inclusive.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made for the next semi-annual encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania, G.
A. R., at Gettysburg. The encampment will be held on July 15th and continue until the 21st.

In Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment is combined the curative properties of the different oils, with the healing qualities of Arnica. Good for man and animal. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale by J. A. Elder.

THE Adams County Independent, published at Littlestown, Pa., entered upon its sixth volume with its issue of April 29, with a bright future before it. The Independent is ably edited, bright and newsy, and we wish it continued success.

MR. HAMMOND URNER was married to Miss Mary Lavina Floyd, in the Presbyterian church at Frederick, on Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Beale, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. A. J. Gill, of the Methodist church.

Rev. J. B. KERSCHNER will preach in the Reformed Church in this place, on Sunday morning at the usual hour.
After the services an election will be held for a pastor, the candidate being Rev. A. M. Schaffner, of the Lancaster Theological Seminary.

Mr. HUTTON, of Baltimore, has submitted a proposition to the town of Sharpsburg, Washington county, to light that place with electricity for $300 a year. He has a scheme to locate the plant at the Antietam Railroad station, and extend the system to Shepherdstown, Keedysville and Boonsboro'.

THE following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., May 1, 1893. Persons calling will please say advised, otherwise they may not receive them:

Mrs. Bertha Delbone.
S. N. McNair, P. M.

EX-STATE'S ATTORNEY D. N. HEN-KING's valuable and thoroughbred mastiff Duke was poisoned by some one in Westminster. The dog was collared, licensed and tagged at the time he was killed. He was a registered pedigree dog, purchased by Mr. Henning at the Baltimore Kennel Club show held in Baltimore March, 1891, and was valued at $100.

World's Columbian Exposition
Will be of value to the world by illustrating the improvements in the mechanical arts and eminent physicians will tell you that the progress in medical agents, has been of equal importance, and as a strengthening laxative that Syrup of Figs is far in advance of all others.

Corporation Election.
The annual corporation election for a Burgess and six Commissioners to manage the affairs of this place, during the ensuing year, was held on Monday, and resulted as follows: For Burgess, Mr.
William G. Blair; For Commissioners, Messrs. Oscar D. Fraley, Charles F.
Rowe, Charles C. Kretzer, James A.
Elder, J. Thomas Gelwick and Peter J. Harting. There being only one ticket in the field, very little interest was taken in the election.

Daniel Dunn Dead.
Mr. Daniel Dunn, an aged and well known citizen of Hagerstown, passed away Wednesday afternoon of last week, about 2 o'clock, at his home, 64 West Franklin street, in his 85th year. He was born in 1808, and was among the oldest residents of the city, if not the county. He was born on the Williamsport and Greencastle turnpike, where he afterward followed farming with energy and skill, and made a great deal of money, a part of which he afterward lost by trusting in faithless friends.— Mail.

The May Eclectic shows a variety of articles from the best foreign magazines.
The number opens with John Addington Symonds' essay on "The New Spirit," considering the Reformation in its various social, religious and artistic aspects. An important account of "Recent Science," by Prince Kropotkin, Prof. Mahaffy's discussion of "What is a Nation," a psychological paper by James Sully upon "The Dream as a Revelation," need no further comment than that given in the names of their respective authors. "The Private Life of Renaissance Florentines" is described by Guido Biagi—and Mrs. Crosse's "Racket of Old Letters" shows her usual charm of style. One of the most forceful articles in the number, "Poor Abel," is a cry of righteous indignation
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political malefactors of to-day, while their victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald entitled, "How to See Antwerp." The translation of Goethe's poem, "The Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their
victims are forgotten. An article upon
Mr. William Watson's Poetry. Among
descriptive articles are Lady Jephson's
"French Canadian Habitant," "Stray
Notes on Artistic Japan," by F. L. Pig-
gott, and one by Percy Fitzgerald en-
titled, "How to See Antwerp." The
translation of Goethe's poem, "The
Golds of Greece," is by Sir Theodore
Martin. One must not omit to mention
Archdeacon Farrar's clever deduction
from Ouida, condemning the popular
tendency to canonize social and political
malefactors of to-day, while their victims are forgotten. An

