

Judges' Salaries.

A bill repealing the act of 1892, by which the salaries of the judges throughout the State were increased, has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Mr. Perry, of Frederick. The Passage of this bill will be a return to the old salaries paid these judges, which was $3,500 a year for chief judges and $2,800 for associates. Under the act of 1892 these salaries were increased to $3,500 for associates and $4,500 for chief judges. Mr. Perry says he was prompted to introduce this bill by petitions and appeals made to him by persons in his county who have given the subject consideration. These constituents, he says, urge that this is a bad time to put additional burdens on the State and taxpayers. The policy should rather be to decrease and not to increase expenses, when all farm products are so low and a general business depression so widely prevails, an economic policy should be adopted. There was no difficulty, he contends, in securing efficient and capable judges under the former salaries paid, and laymen generally think the amount paid prior to 1892 was ample for the service. It is more than was paid when every branch of industry of the State was prosperous, and no complaint was then made that these salaries were too low. The bill has not many friends in the House, and the impression is that it will be killed by the committee of ways and means, to which it has been referred.—Sun.

A Rare Coin.

The Rev. L. M. Zimmerman, A. M., pastor of Christ English Lutheran Church, of Baltimore has in his possession a rare and valuable silver coin that carries one to the age before the advent of Christ. It is about the size of a dime and is in splendid condition—almost as perfect as the time it was coined, which was during the reign of Augustus Caesar, 44 years before the birth of the Saviour. After the death of Julius Caesar, his friends commemorated the event, during which a comet appeared, which they regarded as a signal that his spirit had at that moment entered among the gods. This important event was commemorated by Augustus Caesar having the coin struck with his own profile picture on one side and that of a star and comet on the other side with the inscription: "DIVVS JVLIVS" (The Divine Julius), plainly engraved. The coin is somewhat irregular in its outline with the edges a little roughened, indicating that the machinery for stamping was in a very primitive condition. The picture of Caesar is of quarter bust size and the features are wonderfully preserved. According to the Christian Calendar the coin is over 1900 years old, and it is stated that but few are in existence.—Baltimorean.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

The Puzzle Solved.

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most noxious and disgusting of the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. No druggist is without it.

Crows.

A peculiar feature of the counties in the lower Valleys of Virginia is the presence of this useless and destructive bird. From the days of earliest recollection millions of these birds in the early morn quit their resort on Maryland Heights, above Harper's Ferry, and begin their daily food trips in the corn fields of Jefferson and Clarke. There they spend the day and when the shades of evening appear they start back to the roosts. To see them then is a sight to be remembered. For an hour or more there is one continual line of these birds, always in the same general course of flight, and their numbers are millions, and this has been the case for hundreds of years.

A reporter was recently in Harper's Ferry, while a curious old character was being wargered into scaling the mountain and driving the crows from their roost. The old fellow, took several clubs and put on a heavy overcoat. He climbed for a while and the crows paid little attention to him as he waved his club and yelled, "Git owdet." When the birds took notice of him they did it right. They settled on him and after a few blows with his club the old man curled up on the ground and yelled for help. He was rescued with his overcoat picked full of holes and his courage all gone. The birds had to be pulled off of him.

Remarkable Surgery.

The throat specialists of New York are discussing a phenomenal case. Some time ago a patient applied to the professor of laryngology in College of physicians and Surgeons for treatment. He was suffering from a malignant tumor known as a sarcoma in his larynx. It involved the vocal cords. To save his life the doctor removed the whole of the diseased larynx and vocal apparatus, inserting a metallic tube in its place.

The doctors and patient had given up all hope of the patient ever being able to articulate again, but, to their surprise, as the wound healed, the vocal powers returned. Tuesday he appeared before a clinic at the college and addressed the students, telling them of the operation. His speech was perfect, the only disability he suffers in is not being able to shout. Physicians are totally unable to explain the phenomenon.

First Action—Second Action—Third Action.

So said the wise Athenian. We shall be wise to follow his advice in many matters; in none more so than in grappling with a cold or with dyspepsia; or in seeking relief from consumption in its earlier stages. It is absolutely useless to sit down and bemoan our bad fortune. We must act—act—act. The first and most imperative action necessary is to procure a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The second action will be to use it. The third action will naturally follow—we shall proclaim abroad its virtues.

Savdis, Big Stone Co., Minn. R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—Having felt it a duty to write of the good I received by taking your medicine, I now would say, that one year ago I was given up by my family physician and friends; all said I must die. My lungs were badly affected, and body reduced to a skeleton. My people commenced to give me your "Medical Discovery," and I soon began to mend. It was not long before I became well enough to take charge of my household duties again. I owe my recovery to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Respectfully, MIRA MILLS.

Died at the Age of 102.

Mr. John H. Proctor, Howard county's oldest resident, died last Sunday at the residence of Mr. Andrew Ray, near the seventeen-mile stone, on the Frederick pike. Mr. Proctor made his home with Mr. Ray. He went to Howard county from Virginia, where, according to his own statement, he was born seven years before the death of Washington. As that occurred in 1799, Mr. Proctor's years numbered one hundred and two. Until recently he led the active life of a carpenter. He always chewed tobacco, and until a few years ago was an inveterate smoker. He stopped smoking only when its indulgence required too much exertion for his waning strength. His wife, who died a few years ago, was over ninety years old. They left no children. Both were members of the Baptist Church.

Drowned in Nanjemoy.

Mr. Samuel T. Chandler, of the third district of Charles county, was drowned in Nanjemoy creek last Tuesday, with a colored man named Patrick Turner. Mr. Chandler and Turner went out in a light skiff to collect decoys which had been set out for some duck gunners the day before. Tuesday afternoon Mr. Alexander Gray, while in his boat, found Mr. Chandler's hat. A search was made, and later the skiff was found capsized, with the paddles floating near it. Mr. Chandler was a good swimmer. It is supposed the boat turned over. Turner caught hold of his employer and both sank in the struggle. Mr. Chandler was in his fifty-fourth year.

Melon Rates Unchanged.

All the correspondence of the Wicomico melon-growers with the railroad companies in regard to better freight rates on melons has accomplished nothing of advantage to the truckers. Many of them assert that they will not ship a melon by rail, but will ship by vessel. Others say that they have abandoned the idea of growing melons for market. It is safe to assert that fewer melons will be grown in Wicomico this season than in previous years. The committee appointed to confer with the railroads insisted that the companies make no extra charge for excess over 24,000 pounds as a minimum carload except for the excess of over 30,000 pounds. The companies' agent said this proposition could not be entertained.

New Bridge Nearly Completed.

The last span of the new iron and steel bridge, now being built by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Harper's Ferry, will be completed and put in use in a few days. To complete this span all traffic on the present track will be stopped for about one hour, when the new span is put in position. All trains will immediately resume using the new tunnel and tracks from a point just west of Sandy Hook station to the east end of the old tunnel west of Island Park trestle. This will complete the improvements at Harper's Ferry, except the building of the new depot and connection with the Valley road.

To Return the Negroes to Africa.

Rev. A. J. Warren, one of the leading colored ministers of Alabama, has issued a call for a convention of colored people to convene in Birmingham, March 21. The object of this convention is to consider the question of general migration to Africa, and the call is the result of the National Colored Convention held in Cincinnati last November. The leaders of this move have practically the same views as Bishop Turner, who says that Africa is the real home of the negro, and the sooner he gets there the better off he will be. It is thought that at this convention definite steps will be taken by the Alabama contingent.—Sun.

The Maple-Sugar Industry.

Capt. Warner G. Welsh, of this county, an inspector in the maple sugar department of the internal revenue service, was at the Baltimore office last week. He will go to the western part of Maryland, where all the maple sugar in Collector Vandiver's district is produced, for the purpose of making an official inspection of that industry. There are about 85 manufactories of maple sugar in Allegany and Garrett counties. The government pay a bounty of from 1 1/2 to 2 cents a pound on the product, but in order to become entitled to it, the grower must be licensed and must produce at least 500 pounds of sugar.

Dreamed His Father Was Calling Him.

Oliver B. P. Long, of Millford station, Somerset county, Pa., was instantly killed at his saw mill Friday. A pulley broke and crushed his head in a terrible manner. For three successive nights before his death Long dreamed that his end was approaching. One night he dreamed he heard his dead father calling him. The dream frightened him and he sprang out of bed exhausted.

The next night he dreamed he saw a bleeding mangled corpse lying in his saw mill. His wife and family tried to prevail on him to stop work on the saw mill, but he said that he would not be scared by dreams.—Torch Light.

of Baltimore, ran into a wagon belonging to Jno. Burgoyne, of Greenmount, Carroll county, on Thursday last at the corner of Eutaw and Fayette Sts. George Knoch, of 523 W. Franklin street, was in the wagon with Mr. Burgoyne and both were thrown to the ground. Forty dozen eggs were scattered from the wagon into the street. The damage to eggs and wagon was $25. Mr. Burgoyne was slightly bruised on the hips.

THE USUAL treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches, and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.

FIRE destroyed the dome of the Agricultural Building at the World's Fair grounds at Chicago Saturday. The flames were extinguished after a hard fight. The destruction of the dome left the already partially ruined building even more unsightly than before. The fire was of incendiary origin. The gilded statue of Diana was removed six weeks ago.

It is reported that at a sale in Somerset county, Pa., a large number of persons became very sick from eating poisoned meat and that two died from the effects and others are seriously ill. Among the articles of food prepared was a lot of beef that had been boiled the previous evening in a copper kettle and remained in the kettle over night. Shortly after eating many persons took sick and the sale had to be adjourned.

On last Saturday, Judge Brentano, in Chicago, overruled the motion for a new trial for Patrick Eugene Prendergast, the assassin of Carter H. Harrison, and sentenced him to be hanged on March 23. Prendergast denounced the plea of insanity which was made in his behalf, and claimed that his act was justifiable.

F. W. Hawley, of Rochester, who exhibited two tons of Jersey butter at the World's Fair, has asked the New York State board of health to condemn and kill his herd of registered Jerseys, numbering 60 animals of the finest breed, on the ground, that the cattle have been contaminated with tuberculosis. The board decided to grant his request.

Gov. Hoag, of Texas went hunting with friends recently in Macozoches County and killed a deer. Shooting deer at this season being against the law, information has been filed against the Governor and his party. The county attorney says he will prosecute the case.

The Grant Monument.

The Grant Monument Association held its annual meeting in New York Wednesday. Gen. Horace Porter, president, presented a report showing that some progress had been made with the work. The main structure he thought, would be complete in about two years. The amount of funds in the treasury a year ago was $476,058 89. Since that time there has been received $4,249 87, making a total of $480,308 76; expended during the year $47,070, leaving a balance of $433,238 66.

An Unseen Enemy

Is more to be dreaded than an open and visible one. That subtle and lurking foe, which under the generic name of malaria manifests itself, when it clutches us in its tenacious grasp, in the various forms of chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague or ague cake, can only be effectually guarded against by fortifying the system against its insidious attacks with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a thorough antidote to the poison in the system, and a safeguard against its thorough to be relied upon. In the event of a malarious attack, apply promptly to the blood with quinine, and use instead this wholesome remedy, unquestionably the safe and far more efficacious than any drug. The scholars of the public school, in this place, will give an entertainment at the Opera House, on Monday evening, March 26. The programme will consist of recitations, dialogues, singing, &c.

Money to Teachers. Friday last between $17,000 and $18,000 was paid out by the school commissioners to the 215 teachers of the county for the past term's work of 2 1/2 months. This gives each teacher on an average about $32.50 per month.

Sudden Death. On Sunday morning while attending services at the Reformed Church, in Frederick, Mrs. Anna E. Colliflower, was stricken with paralysis and died in the evening. She was in her eighty-third year, and the widow of the late Rev. Wm. F. Colliflower.

Cut His Foot. One day last week while Mr. Ed. Riffle was engaged in pointing rails on the farm of Mr. Harry McNair, in Freedom township, Pa., near Fairplay, the axe slipped, striking Mr. Riffle on the left foot and inflicting an ugly cut, which will prevent him from working for several weeks.

On Saturday morning freight engine No. 41, of the Western Maryland Railroad, drawing a train of freight cars on the main line below Emory Grove, jumped the track, and running down an embankment, upset, causing some delay in the train service.

Free Lecture. At the Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, Thursday evening, March 8th, at 7:45 o'clock, by the Rev. P. H. Miller, of Westminster, Md., and C. Armour Newcomer, of Baltimore, Md. Subject, "Liquor and Opium Habits are diseases and not a crime, and can be cured by The Leslie E. Keely Gold Cure." The public is invited. No collection.

Two boys named Hensley and Osterham, who ran away from their parents' homes in Baltimore and walked up the tracks of the Baltimore and Lehigh Railway, arrived in Belair Wednesday night. A lady of Belair gave them supper, shelter and breakfast, and they started out to find some work on a farm. Mr. Wm. Hensley, the father of one of the boys, took the boys back to Baltimore.

3,800 More. In last week's issue of the CHRONICLE, our Fairfield correspondent gave an account of a young lady who made a quilt containing 6,500 pieces and asked who could beat it? On last Saturday we were informed that Miss Olie G. Riffle, of this place, daughter of the late Geo. Riffle, pieced a quilt when eleven years of age, which contains 10,350 patches. This quilt has 3,800 more pieces than that mentioned by our wide awake correspondent.

Her Objections. O maiden, thou art passing fair; No charms with thine are worth comparing. I love thee, yes, I vow, I swear— Said she, "I much object to swearing." O, from my suit, love, do not shrink, I feel thy bright eyes fascination; Intoxicating love-draughts drink— Said she, "I hate intoxication."

If thou object, my race shall end Beneath the turf the earth embracing; The last remains of thy fond friend— Said she "I hate the turf and racing." But if he had taken with him as a present, a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, he would have been more successful in his suit. She doubtless owed many of the charms which captivated him to its virtues. For brightening woman's eyes, and giving her that healthy look so much admired by the opposite sex, it has no equal. Guaranteed to cure or benefit in all cases of "Female Weakness," irregular, painful periods and kindred ailments, or money paid for it returned.

Scribner's Magazine for March opens with the second article by Joel Chandler Harris on "The Sea-Island Hurricanes." There are two articles of practical interest to dwellers in American cities entitled, "The High Building and its Art," by Barr Ferree, who speaks with the authority of a skilled architect, and "The Cable Street Railway," by Philip G. Hubert, Jr. "Subtropical Florida" is the title of a very interesting travel article by Charles R. Dodge, who has made a number of tours in the southern part of the peninsula of Florida, where few travelers go. The special frontispiece this month is "Tito Lessi's 'Milton visiting Galileo,'" which is accompanied by Philip Gilbert Hamerton's brief notice of the work of Lessi, and a portrait of the artist.

Among the other articles of interest in this number of the magazine will be found a "Pound of Cure," by Wm. H. Bishop; "The Farmer in the North," by Octave Thane; the third installment of "John March, Southerner," by Geo. W. Cable, and "The Summer Intimacy," by George A. Hibbard.

The house of Grant C. Wachter, at Mechanicstown, was entered by a thief who stole a milk check of the Monocacy Valley Creamery, to the amount of $13.

The Earliest Easter Until 1915.

Easter comes very early this year, as it falls on March 25; but it will be nearly a hundred years before it falls again on this date, the next years being 1951, 2035, 2046, 2057, 2103, 2114, 2125 and 2198. The earliest date upon which Easter can fall is March 22, and the last Easters on this date were in the years 1693, 1716, and 1818; but so early an Easter will not come again until 1970.

Buried in Potter's Field.

The body of a man supposed to be James Gallagher, was buried in the Allegany county Potter's field, last Thursday. He was killed while attempting to board a freight train in Cumberland last Wednesday. On his person were found sixty cents and two pay envelopes from the Douglas Coal Company of West Virginia. The authorities at Cumberland could not discover where Gallagher's home was.

A Relic of the War.

Mr. John D. Garling, of Hagerstown, has in his possession a Bible which he found at a soldier's camp on his father's farm east of that city after the battle of Gettysburg. It is a small pocket Bible and on the fly leaf are the words, "This Bible was found on the train taken from the rebels on the 5th day of July, 1863, by John N. Wolsin and I take it as my guide through life with Jesus as my Captain. Boonsboro, Md., July 7th, 1863." It may be possible that Wolsin is still living.—Med.

The Spring Medicine.

"All run down" from the weakening effects of warm weather, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not put off taking it. Numerous little ailments, if neglected, will soon break up the system. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now, to expel this disease and give strength and appetite.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Harmless, reliable, sure.

Exchanged Properties.

The trustees of the M. E. Church, of this place, exchanged the property they purchased sometime ago, known as the O'Donnell property, located on the west side of Zacharias' alley, for the property owned by Mr. Jacob Smith on West Main St., opposite the Chronicle office. The trustees propose erecting a new church on this site. Mrs. McBride who occupies the house now owned by Mr. Smith will remain in the house for another year.

Appointments.

The new Board of Charities and Correction, having jurisdiction over the Montevue Hospital and the jail, met at the Court House, in Frederick, last Saturday, and made the following appointments for Montevue: Superintendent, Tobias Main, of near Middletown; Farmer, J. Wesley Cramer; Clerk, Wm. H. Tyler; Quarryman, D. McKensie; Fireman, A. J. Morgan; assistant Fireman, Edward Hackerty; Physician, Dr. Franklin B. Smith; Pastor, Rev. G. C. H. Hasskarl; Butcher, Charles Merling; Baker, Benjamin F. Grove; Tramp Boss, David McGaha; Night Watchman, George Hoffman.

Minus Thirty-Five Dollars.

Harlan F. Dutrow, a young man employed on the farm of Jacob Shank, at Bolivar, this county, claims to have been robbed of about $55 last Sunday night. He charges that a young man, an intimate friend and companion of his, called to see him after he had retired, and sat for a long while beside his bed on a chair upon which rested his pants, in one of the pockets of which was his pocket-book, containing the money. At a late hour his friend departed, and he alleges that when he arose in the morning and dressed, he found the money abstracted from the pocket-book.

Snow, Wind, Rain, Hail and Sleet.

The coldest weather of the winter was experienced here on last Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and on Sunday afternoon snow commenced falling and continued for about twenty-four hours. The storm started in a business-like manner and soon convinced everybody that it was going to be the biggest snow of the season, which it was. Monday forenoon was very disagreeable, snow, wind, rain, hail and sleet being the ruling elements of the day, making it the dulllest day experienced in business in many months. As soon as the snow stopped falling on Monday afternoon the weather began to moderate, and the snow commenced melting quite rapidly, which spoiled the anticipation of many persons for several days of good sleighing.

Mr. Maurice Willhide, who was serving an apprenticeship in the saddlery business, under Mr. J. Henry Stokes, in this place, has served his time and entered the list of journeymen. Mr. Willhide went to the home of his parents, near Mud College, on last Saturday, where he expects to remain for sometime.

Entertainment at "Hayland School."

The little red brick school house known as "Hayland School" No. 10, 2 miles south of this place, on the old Frederick road, was the scene of a very interesting entertainment on Friday evening last, which brought joy and gladness to the hearts of both the old and the young. The occasion being an entertainment given under the auspices of the scholars of the school assisted by some of the former pupils, which is under the able tutorage of Mr. John F. Adelsberger. Long before the hour appointed for the curtain to rise, the house was crowded to its utmost capacity, not even standing room being attainable, and the perfect order maintained during the performance was remarkable, as on such occasions quietness often seems to be an impossible feature. The manner in which the many difficult parts were rendered by the scholars showed that they had been well trained and reflected much credit upon the pupils and teacher. The performance consisted of recitations, dialogues and singing. The following programme was rendered: Singing—"Gaining Knowledge," by the school; Recitation—"The Builders," by five small boys and five girls; Recitation—"The Good Old Days," by Charles Haugh; "In Want of a Servant," by Edgar Moser, Rosa E. Henley, Maggie C. Henley, Louisa A. Rosensteel, Daisy M. Warner, Marie F. Benz and Geo. Ling; Recitation—"A Lament," by Euphemia Benz; Recitation—"A Woman's Story," by Blanche E. Lingg; Parody—"Casablanca," Luther Starnor and Charles Haugh; Recitation—"My Josiah," Daisy M. Warner; Recitation—"Curfew Shall Not Ring To-Night," Edith Myers; Recitation—"Not So Easy," Helen Knode; Recitation—"One Afternoon," James Lingg; "The Months," represented by six boys and six girls; Recitation—"Bell of Freedom," Henry E. Warner; Recitation—"School Children of Frederick County," by Irene Willson; "Courtship at the Churn," by Blanche Lingg and Harry Rosensteel; Recitation—"A Big Mistake," Emma Lingg; Recitation—"Somebody's Mother," by Albert Sebald; "A Practical Joke," Jennie G. Lingg, Blanche Lingg and Marie Benz; A comical piece entitled "A Deacon Catching a Mouse" was read by Edgar Moser; Recitation—"No Kiss," Percy Nunemaker; Recitation—"A Dutchman's Experience," Tresie Harner; Recitation—"The Flag," by six little boys; Singing—"The Red, White and Blue," by the School; Recitation—"Deacon's Courtship," by Jennie G. Lingg; Recitation—"Cast Up by the Sea," by Henry Warthen.

The Site Marked.

The bronze tablet to mark the site of Old Congress Hall, at Baltimore and Sharp streets, Baltimore, was unveiled last Thursday, in the presence of military and civic organizations, of Baltimore, and a large number of persons. The tablet was erected by the Maryland Society, Sons of the American Revolution.

The centre of the tablet is a plate surrounded by an ornamental border. Upon the upper section of the plate is a picture in relief of old Congress Hall. Beneath is this inscription in relief: "On this site stood 'Old Congress Hall,' in which the Continental met December 20, 1776, and on December 27, 1776, conferred upon General Washington extraordinary powers for the conduct of the Revolutionary War." At the bottom of the tablet is a second inscription: "Erected through the efforts of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, February 21, 1894." Above the plate containing the picture and inscription is an ornamental cornice, with an eagle with outstretched wings on each corner and a supported scroll-work, surmounted by a star in the centre. The sides of the tablet are rounded. On one of these rounded sides are the names of seven of the original thirteen States—Maryland, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Delaware, New York, Rhode Island and Connecticut—with a star between each, and on the other the names of the other six—New Hampshire, New Jersey, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. Shields decorate the lower corners.

General Hammond's Tombstone.

The tombstone of General Hammond, now used as a doorstep of a farmhouse, three miles from Annapolis, has been raised, and the inscription on the reverse side taken for Delegation Hammond of the House, who is a descendant of General Hammond. The inscription was: "Here lieth interred the body of Major General John Hammond, who departed this life the 24th day of November, 1707, in the sixty-fourth year of his age." General Hammond brought with him his title of major general from England. He was one of the commissioners to lay out lots in Annapolis in 1694, and also a member of the House the same year. He lived about three miles from Annapolis, where to-day a part of the Severn is called "Hammond's Flats." The tombstone was sent from England to mark his grave, but tradition says the spot was not known, and the stone was thrown into a field, where it lay for many years, at last to be utilized as a doorstep.

Accidentally Shot His Step-Father.

Early last Thursday morning James Douglas, of Lonaconing, accidentally shot and probably fatally wounded his step-father, Mr. Joseph Bradburn, of Lonaconing. The young man was preparing his gun for a hunt when the accident occurred. When he last finished using it he removed the charges. Mr. Bradburn had put a load into the weapon for some purpose without his step-son's knowledge. Douglas, in handling the gun, snapped the trigger, and Mr. Bradburn, who was standing near by, received the charge of shot in the back. Some of the pellets penetrated as far as the lungs and Mr. Bradburn's condition is serious.

Cough Syrup.—Yes I am tired of hearing and seeing the word; yet if you want a good, reliable, pleasant-to-take, Cough Syrup, and a large bottle for the money, ask your druggist for Dr. Fahrney's and take no other.

A Long-Lived Family.

Mr. Frederick Welty, who was born at Piney Creek, near Taneytown, Md., March 12, 1779, and afterwards moved to Dillsburg, York county, Pa., died on the 28th of April last, aged 98 years, 1 month and 16 days. His father, John Welty, was born in Eppingen, Germany, Sept. 14, 1722, and died near Emmitsburg, Md., January 16, 1817, aged 94 years, 4 months and 2 days, leaving four sons and three daughters, whose respective ages at the time of their decease show a most remarkable instance of family longevity. Elizabeth Kintz lived to the age of 103 years. Susanna Hornaker died March, 1854, aged 84 years, 4 months and 3 days. Caspar Welty died Feb. 27, 1856, aged 88 years, 9 months and 21 days. Bernard Welty died April 1, 1856, aged 82 years, 8 months and 11 days. Mary Hovis died Sept. 17, 1866, aged 91 years. Abraham Welty died May 2, 1874, aged 97 years, 11 months and 22 days. Frederick Welty, the last survivor, died April 28, 1877, aged 98 years 1 month and 16 days. Their aggregate ages amount to each, a most remarkable instance of individual longevity in a single family.—Ev.

Officers for St. Joseph's Fire Company.

On last Saturday forenoon an election for officers of St. Joseph's Fire Company, was held at St. Joseph's Academy, near town. The following were elected to serve during the ensuing year: General Superintendent, Charles C. Rowe; President, Thomas Barry; Vice-President, James Mullen; Secretary, John Barry; Treasurer, Joseph Neck; Captain, William C. Taylor; First Lieutenant, George Sanders, Sr.; Second Lieutenant, James Rosensteel; Chief Hose Director, Peter J. Harting; Assistant Hose Director, William Hanley; Chief Nozzelman, John Topper; Plugmen, Wm. Zurgable and Isaac Kelly. The company is in a flourishing condition, well equipped and prepared to do efficient work in time of fire.

Lost in the Snow Storm.—Saved by a Dog.

The barking of a dog was the means of keeping an aged and respected citizen of this community from perishing in the blinding snow storm of Sunday night last. During the evening Mr. Jacob Turner's dog kept up a continuous barking and Mr. Turner believing something was wrong went out of the house before retiring, to listen if any noise could be heard. In the distant mountain he heard the faint voice of a human being, crying in feeble terms: "I'm lost! I'm lost!" Mr. Turner went into the house and prepared himself to go to the rescue of the suffering person, and in company with his son, started out in the raging storm, the dog leading the way, to find the lost one. The cry led them towards the foundation of the old Du-phorne saw mill, on the mountain west of this place, and on arriving at that place, they found a man lying in the foundation, who proved to be Mr. Adam Tressler, an aged gentleman of that locality. He was assisted out of the foundation and taken to the residence of his son, Mr. James Tressler. Mr. Tressler had been visiting his daughter, and in the evening started for his home in the raging snow storm with a lantern. He had not gone very far when the wind extinguished the light, and he was left in the darkness, and soon wandered off the road and became lost and walked into the old foundation, falling a distance of about eight feet, receiving a few slight bruises. Had it not been for the dog barking, which attracted Mr. Turner's attention, it is quite possible that Mr. Tressler would have perished during the terrible cold night, as he was nearly exhausted when rescued.

FOR OR AGAINST THE GROUND HOG.

Is there a man living who has the audacity to stand up and say the Ground Hog is not a good weather prophet? Certainly not. But there are people who believe in witches, and are in favor of summary judgment on a poor old woman, because of certain reports about her, that she is a witch. Then there are others who believe in ghosts, spooks, hobgoblins, or any other imaginary thing that gives no palpable evidence, only so it is mysterious and past finding out. While these same people decry the poor Ground Hog, a real animal that can be found upon his own premises and tamed, yes and rail out against him, saying he is not a good weather prophet, all to-morrow if he comes out on a certain day and sees his shadow, he will go back and remain six weeks, thereby indicating that we will have six weeks more winter weather. Let us give evidence before a conscientious court. Did the Ground Hog know anything about the weather when he crept forth from his winter quarters—on Candlemas Day—to look into the future. Imagine with what sanguine mien he looked to the four quarters of the earth and then adjusted his vision by holding up his front foot to shade his defective eye, and retreated to his quarters with a genuine hog grunt.

Why this tradition upon the Ground Hog, for ages past that he did know, evidently, because the father of the past watched to see which way the wind blew. They were an observant set, and handed down to us this valuable information, as they, like other informants wished this tradition to serve future generations.

Who knows when and why the pyramids of Egypt were built? Who knows what language Adam and Eve spoke, or whether the land of Nod was just outside Eden or across the mountains or where? Who can tell why the needle refuses to point correctly in certain localities? Why we dream, and how long it takes to dream of a trip around the world.

All such conjectures are very laudable, and awaiting an answer. Here palpable evidence of knowledge possessed by the Ground Hog cannot be gained, his parting grunt as he enters the realm of shade to remain six weeks is so forcibly demonstrated by the recent winds, snow and cold weather, that we must conclude that he is a far seeing animal, whose brain should be subject to an autopsy by the most experienced surgeons, to see how far it differs from the human brain. Perhaps, like the monkey, this knowing animal has a language.

If the learned professor seeks to unravel that tongue and make out a language, whereby he can communicate with us Darwin says, our parents, and take the corrupt grunt of the ground hog and anglicize and set it to note, we might go singing the songs of each season from day, to day and what an acquisition this ground hog lore would be to the almshouse. This ground hog might become as sacred as the elephants of Siam, or the ox Apis, or dogs of Constantinople, or Ceres of Antiquity, and increase so by and by we might, eventually, have a ground hog university, without the hazing corruption or shin breaking, body bruising, head butting foot ball games, and other lesser coarse pastimes of the day, for who would expect the ground hog, a creature of such astute wisdom to be engaged in such frivolities? Not a prophet surely.

ALPHA.

P. S.—For fear of a mistake in the animal, the foregoing is not about the ground hog we eat in our sausage.

The Modern Way

Commends itself to the well-informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colic, headaches and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Death of a Noble Woman.

Hannah M. Scott, known in religion as Sister Stanislaus Scott, died Feb. 20, at St. Joseph's House of Industry, Baltimore city, of bronchial consumption. She was the last of three of the same family who had devoted their lives to God, and the three have died of that dread disease, consumption. She was a model sister of charity, devoted to her vocation. She was born in Petersburg, Frederick county, Md., Nov. 18, 1858, taught school in Burkittsville one year, as an assistant teacher, and on April 17, 1875, she joined the Sisters of Charity at Emmitsburg, along with her sister, Ellen Scott, known in religion as sister Raphael, who died at Saint Vincent's Hospital, Norfolk, Va., 15 years ago. Standish, her only brother, who was studying at St. Charles College for the priesthood, died of consumption in the 17th year of his age. There are two of the family living, Mrs. Janie M. McFall, Paris, Ill., and Mrs. Lizzie A. Dennis, living near Petersburg.—News.

FAIRFIELD ITEMS.

Mr. Samuel Musselman is a visitor to this place.

Miss Nannie Shriver, of Gettysburg, is visiting Miss Della Hazlet, of this place.

Mr. J. C. Shestzer, who had sailed on Saturday, moved to Mount Holly on Thursday.

Mr. Jess Buffington, saddler, of this place, has left and gone into business at York, Pa.

There has been a large amount of wheat hauled to Fairfield Station during the past week. 55 cents per bushel is being paid.

Mr. Amos Ness, of this place, has been arrested on the charge of driving Mr. Harry Bennett's horses and sleigh. He is now in jail awaiting trial.

The election in this place came off on the 20th and then it snowed. The Republican ticket was elected with the exception of C. P. Bream, for assistant assessor. The majority for the Republicans in the State is increasing from the fact that it snowed.

Miss Alice F. Musselman, of this place had a social on last Saturday. The following young ladies were present: Misses A. R. Musselman, Carrie Bender, Ruth Marshall, Helen Ness, Esther Harbaugh, Mattie Marshall, Beulah Bream, Erma Musselman, Fanny Low, Lottie M. Shulley, Maty Benner and Clara Musselman.

Mr. Billy Yingling, who lives with Mr. A. Grove, of this place, rode one of Mr. Grove's horses to town the other day. He was carrying a basket of eggs. The horse shied along the road and Mr. Billy forgetting that he had eggs in his basket, struck the horse over the head with the basket, breaking all the eggs. You must be more careful, Billy.

The G. A. R. Bean soup at Fairfield on last Friday night was a success. About one hundred and fifty took supper. Fairfield cannot be beaten for getting up suppers. The citizens in this community are interested in the G. A. R. suppers. They are enjoyed by all. The Post extends thanks to
