Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. A LOVE SONG.

In the spring, when lilies came And crocus set the woods aflame, All the world with love's delight All the world with love's dengit Flushed and glowed from dawn till night, All day long the happy birds . Sang and sang and found no words, And so my heart the whole day long Sang to thee a wordless song.

When the roses white and red
On the winds their fragrance shed,
Through a world of stunlight went
Love and frughter and content,
And my heart from leafy June
Caught and kept the strange sweet tune;
Prode and branch and bird and bee Brook and branch and bird and bee Sang of thee, my sweet, of thee.

Now, when golden autumn fills The purple wine cup of the hills, 'Mid their happy harvesting,
Still of love the reapers sing.
When the plover wheel and fly
Back against the shining sky,
In my heart the old refrain Swells and falls and swells again.

When winter comes, with icy breast And holly flashing in his crest All love's singers sweet are gone, Save the robin, he alone Pipes his music, sweet and strong— Death alone can still his song.
Like the robin, so shall 1
Sing to thee, love, till I die.
