

GEN. HARRISON MARRIED.

Ex-President Benjamin Harrison and Mrs. Mary Lord Dimmick were married at 5:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, in St. Thomas's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York city, by the rector, Rev. Dr. John Wesley Brown.

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, which had quickly displaced the Easter decorations. They arrived at the church entrance at 2:20 and proceeded to the tower room, where the bridal procession formed in the following order: Mr. E. F. Tibbott, Mr. Daniel M. Ramsdell, ushers; Mrs. Dimmick and Lieutenant Parker, and proceeded to the chancel, where General Harrison, accompanied by his best man, General Tracey, received his bride.

MIGHTY RUSH OF WATER.

Booneville, Ky., April 3.—The cloudburst on Little Sexton and Buffalo Creeks did more damage than at first reported. Instead of four, there are probably sixteen drowned. Sexton Creek rises near Burning Springs, and is one of the feeders of the south fork of the Kentucky River. It flows in some places through deep gorges flanked by rocks. Through these gorges the stream rushes, when in flood tide, with the speed of a race horse, and striking the bottom land below, it spreads out with wonderful rapidity.

People little thought that the brook would rise so rapidly, or was capable of gathering such a volume of water. The cloudburst occurred in gorges, the water gathered in a moment and the flood poured down in a solid wall, carrying death and destruction in its path. Five people were drowned by Little Sexton. Buffalo Creek is even more crooked and treacherous than Little Sexton, and by it nine people are believed to have lost their lives. A great many logs were hurled down with the tide, and these speedily knocked the cabins and outbuildings to pieces.—American.

A MONUMENT TO JEFFERSON.

The art committee appointed to pass upon designs for the proposed monument to Thomas Jefferson has reported in favor of that of Sculptor T. Scott Hartley, and the report has been adopted. The contract executed by the committee in making the award to Mr. Hartley provides for a structure with the surmounting figure of Jefferson and statues in bronze, costing in the aggregate $75,000. The decorative features of the drum above the pedestal will be "Liberty Calling the Colonies to arms," expressed in 16 life-size figures in bronze. Other accessories will be emblematic of the life of the author of the Declaration of American Independence, of the statute in favor of religious freedom and of the founder of the University of Virginia. The money has been pledged.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

REFUSED TO SIGN THE BOND.

Senator Smith, of Caroline county, of the Senate Committee on the Library, has refused to sign Mrs. Jeffers' bond as state librarian, on the ground that the functions of the committee have ceased, except under special order during the recess of the legislature. This decision is based on an opinion rendered by the Court of Appeals in the case of Thomas J. Marshall vs. William Harwood, and reported in the Seventh Maryland, which decided that "a person appointed state librarian under the present Constitution (that of 1851) before he is entitled to the office, must give bond, approved, during the session of the legislature by the committees of the Senate and House of Delegates of the legislature, as directed by act of 1847, chapter 53. Committees have no power to act as such during the recess of the legislature, unless they are specially authorized to do so." The present law on the subject of the bonding of the librarian as codified in article 55 of the Code section 2, is identical in language with the act of 1847, on which the decision above was founded.—American.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—While nobody believes for a moment that Chairman Pitt, of the House committee on Foreign Affairs was not perfectly sincere when he stated to the House that he believed President Cleveland would act in accordance with the Cuban concurrent resolutions, which have been adopted by both House and Senate, it is impossible to find anybody else who will say that he shares that belief. In view of the almost unanimous vote for the resolutions in both Senate and House it would seem odd for any other President than Mr. Cleveland to ignore them, but odd things are expected of Mr. Cleveland. A Senator who is in political sympathy with the president, but not on very pleasant personal terms with him, said to-day on the subject: "If Mr. Cleveland is wise, he will recognize those resolutions, to the extent of recognizing Cuban belligerency if no further. If he doesn't Congress will compel him to do more than that before it adjourns, as public sentiment is thoroughly aroused and will demand that something tangible be done for the Cubans before the session closes. Just remember that."

Now that it is becoming apparent that there is a real movement on foot to make Secretary Carlisle the democratic candidate for President, the Silver democrats in Congress from the South are making their opposition to him known. They do not hesitate to say they will not support him, and if they represent the sentiments of their constituents as they claim to do, it is difficult to understand where Mr. Carlisle can get the support necessary to nominate him. The gold democrats of the East have never fully trusted Mr. Carlisle, but would probably be willing to support his candidacy if he could show them that he had the Southern democrats behind him.

The House committee on Territories has taken no further action upon the bills for the admission of New Mexico, Arizona, and Oklahoma, notwithstanding extraordinary efforts on the part of the friends of the candidates for statehood, but it has favorably reported a bill requiring one year's residence for parties to suits for divorce brought in the territories.

Secretary Herbert wants to know by personal experience how it feels to go to sea on one of our fighting ships, and in order to find out he has gone to Fortress Monroe where the North Atlantic Squadron has made its quarters since December, supposedly being held until it was known what would be the result of the Monroe doctrine message—a sort of check for the "flying squadron" assembled by Great Britain at about the same time. This week the squadron will go to sea for three or four days and the Secretary will go along as a guest of Admiral Bunce.

The political situation in North Carolina is attracting much attention in Congress since the disagreement between Senator Butler, the populist, and Senator Pritchard, the republican, both of whom were elected by the fusion legislature of that state, became known. Senator Butler believes that the populists can carry the state this year without any help from the republicans, and is opposed to making any concessions for republican votes, while Senator Pritchard puts forward the same claim for the republicans, but is willing to make a fusion electoral ticket for the state. Needless to say that the democrats are much pleased at this disagreement, as they believe they can recapture the state if the republicans and populists run separate tickets.

The proposal to investigate the U. S. Consular service by means of a non-partisan commission, which shall be authorized to recommend a plan to reorganize that service and place it upon a business, instead of a political basis, which is contained in a bill introduced by Representative McCall of Mass., is such a good one that there should be no doubt of its becoming a law, but as there is absolutely nothing in the idea to appeal to the professional politicians there is much doubt. More than one man thoroughly familiar with the subject has declared that it would be a decided benefit to this country to abolish our entire diplomatic service, which is so largely ornamental and spend the money thus saved in improving the consular service, which is really useful and capable of being made much more so. But how could our Presidents reward their rich friends if there were no diplomatic plumbs carrying social distinction to be distributed after every Presidential inauguration?

My Nerves are weak, many people say, and yet they do not seem to know that they are literally starving their nerves. Weak, pale, thin blood cannot give proper sustenance—that is why you are nervous, tired, exhausted. The cure for this condition is to purify, vitalize and enrich your blood. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla fairly and faithfully, and the rich, red blood, which it makes, will soon feed the nerves the elements of true strength they require; they will cease their agitation and will resume their proper place—being under the control instead of controlling the brain and body. Read Miss Bartley's letter: "I want to express my gratitude for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. My health has been very poor for three years, due to trouble with my Kidneys I was nervous, had pains in my back. I cannot tell what I suffered. My eyesight became affected and I was so despondent I did not have any interest in life. I did so and in a short time I began to notice a change in my condition. Things began to appear brighter, my eyes improved and

My Back did not trouble me so severely. My appetite returned and I gained strength every day. I am now able to do my own work, and feel perfectly well. POOR Indeed! There are degrees and kinds of poverty, just as there are differences of opinion among those who compute and measure poverty and riches by different standards. Some men deem themselves poor because they are less rich than others, again there are comparatively poor people who are satisfied with a competence. There is a kind of poverty for which no amount of wealth can compensate, namely, a poverty of bodily stamina, evinced by nervousness and a derangement of the functions of digestion, bilious secretion and the bowels. To restore vigor upon a permanent basis there is one remedy that fully covers the requirements, "Pills for the Bill," and this is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By restoring digestion, giving a healthy impulse to the action of the bowels and liver and transmuting the food, it fulfills the condition necessary to a resumption of strength by the system. It also overcomes malaria and rheumatism.

Dynamite Exploded. A man by the name of Miller placed some frozen dynamite in an iron pot over a fire on S. L. Johns' farm, on the west side of the town, on Monday afternoon. The dynamite exploded, bursted the pot and scattered it in all directions. Several of the pieces hit a mule that was standing near by, badly cutting and bruising it. Fortunately several men who were standing near by escaped uninjured.

"The Progress of Science," and "Some Examples of Recent Art," are the ending chapters of the April number.

BIRTHDAY SOCIAL. The birthday social given by the Society of the Order of the Incarnation on Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. The invitations to the party were printed on small envelopes and read as follows: "This birthday party is given for you. The something which well merited applause. And the ladies will furnish a musical treat. The society will be most anxious to see you. Please you will come to your own birthday party."

Each envelope contained a small neat sack, in which the receiver was expected to place his contribution and return it on the evening of the party. This being the first time a birthday social of this kind was ever held in town, it became a sort of a novelty and nearly every person who received an invitation present on the occasion, swelling the audience to about one hundred and seventy-five.

The "musical treat" mentioned in the invitation was of a high order, and elicited rounds of well merited applause. The bonded indebtedness of the town is $79,000, which is shortly to be increased by the issue of $7,000 drainage bonds. When these are completed, the Mayor believes the city will be well drained. The message shows cash on hand in the city treasury, $8,604.36; receipts during the past year, including a $6,598.11 balance, $41,231; total expenditures $31,238.46; total expenditures by mayor and council, 17,225.18, making $33,626.46 in all. My heart leaps up when I behold A flower ever so rare; So was it when my life began; So was it when my first love came. So let it be when I am old, Or let me die!—Wordsworth.

What man with a heart would not feel his heart leap on beholding roses blooming anew in his wife's cheeks? No true man likes to see in his wife a salient complexion, dull eyes, and the ill attendant upon the irregularities and "weaknesses" peculiar to the sex. Happily these can be banished, and the roses be ensured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For nursing mothers or those about to be, it is a most valuable medicine. It lessens the pains and perils of childbirth, shortens labor, promotes the secretions of abundance of nourishment for the child, and shortens the period of confinement.

OUR LETTER FROM FREDERICK. Divorced After Six Years Abandonment.—Death of Daniel Castle.—The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal to be Reopened.—Applicants for Assessorship.—New Election District.—County Treasurer to be Elected by the People. FREDERICK, April 8.—Some persons are opposed to divorces on any grounds and think they should not be granted for any cause. Fortunately the laws of this State permit divorces under certain circumstances and courts of equity are empowered to decree a total and complete separation of the parties where the causes specified in the code of laws are shown to exist.

A case in which the authority of the court was recently exercised was that of Thomas S. Brown, who sought a divorce from his wife, Emma J. Brown. The two were married in 1886 and after living together for four years, the wife one day quietly told her husband she intended to leave him. A week or two later she actually did leave, taking with her the only child, and went to reside in another State. She has ever since lived apart and never even intimated a desire to renew the marriage relations.

He was shown to be kind and considerate to his wife and no apparent ground existed for her action in leaving, except to gratify a whim. For six years she was a married man without a wife and he then applied to the court for a severance of the nuptial ties on the ground of abandonment, and the court granted his request by a decree of absolute divorce. Both are now discharged of their unhappy alliance.

On Thursday afternoon, April 2, Daniel Castle, of T., ex-judge of the Orphans' Court and ex-Tax Collector for Frederick county died at his home opposite the B. and O. depot in this city. He was 61 years of age. He was a native of Maryland. His wife, Mrs. Ellen Castle, is now in New York, where he has accepted a position. His place is being filled by Mr. Jno. N. Mark, of Silver Run, Md., who is in every way capable of filling the position, having at one time been editor and publisher of the Westminster Carrollton, one of the best weeklies published in Carroll county. Mr. Spalding has many friends in Littleton who wish him every success in his new undertaking.

Mr. J. Mc C. Foreman, Misses May Shorb, Rose and Jennie Foreman spent Monday evening in Gettysburg. Miss Shorb returned to her home in Laurel, Md. Tuesday morning. G. W. Foreman will open a gent's furnishing store in L. M. Allemen's building, at the square in the room formerly occupied by Robert Patton.

Music at Mt. St. Mary's. The following music was rendered at Mt. St. Mary's, on Easter: Dr. Henry Dielman's last mass, which has recently been published, was well rendered by the choir. It is a creditable Gloria in a credible manner by the following: The "Gratias," was sweetly sung by Miss Rose Hanley; "Domine Deus" by Mr. Edgar Moore; duet "Domine Fili," by Miss Rose Welty and Mr. E. Moore; in the "Qui Tollis" the dulcet tones of Miss Bernadette Welty were recognized. Solos in Credo—"Deum de Deo," by Mr. E. Moore; "Lumen de Lumine," by Mr. Charles Eckenrode; "Et Incarnatus" duet by Mrs. H. F. Manning and Mr. Edgar Moore, was beautifully blended exquisitely with Mrs. Manning's pure soprano. "Crucifixus" and "Et Unum," were artistically sung by Mrs. J. C. Claggett, whose highly cultivated voice resounded through the old mountain church.

In Sanctus—"Hosanna," by Mrs. H. Manning and Miss Laura Orridor, the latter doing great credit to herself. "Benedictus" by Mrs. H. Manning, who excelled in this solo. "Agnus Dei," solo, Miss Emma Moore. "Dona Nobis," full chorus. "Regina Coeli," at the Offertory was in keeping with the Feast. Solo "Quia Quam," by Mr. Charles Eckenrode, was exceptionally fine. Strike the cymbals, full chorus. Mr. Moore manipulated the cymbals. A feature of the occasion was the rendition of Weigand's "O Salutaris," by Mrs. J. C. Claggett. "Tantum Ergo," full chorus. Miss Moore presided at the organ. Too much praise can be bestowed on the amiable and accomplished organist for her efforts in choir training. She has now one of the finest choirs in Western Maryland.

Spring Requires That the impurities which have accumulated in your blood, during the winter, shall be promptly and thoroughly expelled if good health is expected. When the warmer weather comes these impurities are liable to manifest themselves in various ways and often lead to serious illness. Unless the blood is rich and pure the appetite will fail and you will find yourself "all run down." Hood's Sarsaparilla tones and strengthens the system, drives out all impurities and makes pure, rich, healthy blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier, the best spring medicine. Be sure to get only Hood's.

Sent His Guests to the Stable. It seems that the proprietor of a well-known hotel located at the West End of town—whose name we would not divulge under any circumstances—is getting somewhat absent minded. Yesterday he captured two guests who arrived on the 11 o'clock train. They got in his carriage and he drove the team up in front of his place of business, where he jumped off the horse's seat and went in the hotel, leaving the occupants in the carriage. The hostler came out and drove the team to the stable and began unhitching the horse, when he discovered that there were some persons in the carriage—a lady and gentleman. When the general proprietor was informed of his ungallantry, he became wholly nonplussed, and the only explanation he could give was that he had forgotten having passengers in the carriage. Had his son, Harry, made such a blunder, the cause could easily be explained.

Business on the Canal. George W. McCordell, collector of tolls for the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company at Williamsport, sent in his report for the past fourteen days. The report of the shipments of coal gives a total tonnage for fourteen days' time of 5,564.10 tons. The toll collections amounted to $1,427.03. This is a splendid showing for the old Water-way.
