

FOUNTAIN ORDINANCE.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Town Commissioners action was taken looking forward to the protection of the fountain, and the keeping of it in a respectable looking condition.

The same ordinance empowers the Burgess and Commissioners to make an annual appropriation of not less than five or more than ten dollars, to be used in painting and keeping the fountain in proper repair.

ORIGIN OF MR. AND MRS.

In earlier times the ordinary man was simply William or John; that is to say, he had only a Christian name without any kind of a "handle" before it or surname after it.

Some means of distinguishing one John or William from another John or William became necessary. Nicknames derived from a man's trade or his dwelling place, or from some personal peculiarity, were tacked on to his Christian name, and plain John became John Smith.

Some John Smith accumulated more wealth than the bulk of his fellows—became, perhaps, a landed proprietor or an employer of hired labor. Then he began to be called in the Norman French of the day the "maistre" of this place or that, of these workmen or of those.

MAYOR OF GREATER NEW YORK.

At the municipal election in New York next fall the mayor of the enlarged city is to be elected. He will go into office on January 1, 1898, for a term of four years.

His salary is $15,000 a year. After a great contention in the commission an upper and a lower house in the Legislative body was decided upon. The council, composed of twenty-nine members, is the upper house.

The mayor cannot succeed himself. Before he can be re-elected a term must intervene.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to care with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.

Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by P. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.

OBJECT LESSONS IN FARMING.

Eastern Shore farmers are beginning to receive one of the most substantial advantages which come from immigration. Within recent years a number of Tunkers from Pennsylvania and immigrants from Holland have bought farms and settled in Caroline and other counties.

As long as tobacco, corn and wheat commanded good prices the Maryland farmer got along all right. But when the era of low prices came the staple crops no longer afforded money to buy those necessities of life which the farm should produce.

CAPITAL OF PENNSYLVANIA.

A bill is in the Pennsylvania Legislature providing for the rebuilding of the State Capital with the walls of the old building, which are still standing. It provides that the work shall be in charge of a commission, composed of the Governor, treasurer, auditor-general, President pro tem. of the Senate and Speaker of the House.

BOY DIES OF HYDROPHOBIA.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 28.—Benjamin H. Bevan, aged twelve years, one of the eight little boys bitten by a mad dog three weeks ago, died last night from hydrophobia. The first symptoms appeared last Thursday, since when he grew steadily worse.

AFTER using a 10 cent trial size of Ely's Cream Balm you will be sure to buy the 50 cent size. Cream Balm has no equal in curing catarrh and cold in head. Ask your druggist for it or send 10 cents to us.

THREE breaks have occurred in the levees that protect the Mississippi river delta and thousands of acres of rich farm lands will be devastated. There is danger of great loss of life.

It is reported that 20 persons were killed and 150 injured by a tornado at Chandler, Oklahoma.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, March 29.—The annexation of Hawaii seems about to be made a live question again, not by the negotiation of a treaty similar to that sent to the Senate by Mr. Harrison and withdrawn by Mr. Cleveland, but by a formal application from the government of Hawaii for the admission of the island republic into the United States, either as a territory or as a state.

Run Over by Cars. Mrs. Amanda Morgan, aged about forty years, while picking up coal on the Baltimore and Ohio tracks at Cumberland Monday evening was run over by five empty coal cars pushed by an engine. Her right foot was crushed and amputation was performed between the ankle and knee at the Western Maryland Hospital. She is in a serious condition from the shock.

Barn Burned. The frame barn and fine poultry house of Mrs. William Howard, a mile south of Hagerstown, were burnt Wednesday evening, with contents. The Hagerstown fire department went to the scene of the fire, but was unable, for want of water, to render much assistance. The buildings caught from burning brush and were insured.

Seriously Injured. John E. Fox, aged thirty-five years, a freight brakeman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was caught between two bumpers while attempting to couple freight cars near Spring Grove and badly hurt. He was taken to Frederick on a stretcher and taken to his home. Dr. Ira Z. McCurdy rendered necessary medical aid. The patient's injuries, which are internal, are thought to be very serious. He has a wife and several children.

Will Visit the Spot. It is probable that the Board of County Commissioners will name a day on Saturday next to visit the vicinity of Stall's Ford and a point along the Iron Ridge road, where petitions have been received for the building of a bridge across the Monocacy river. Diversity of opinion exists among the people of each neighborhood in regard to where the bridge should be built.

Mr. Frederick F. McComas died suddenly at his home, on Potomac avenue, in Hagerstown, last Saturday night of heart disease, after an illness of two days. When he first became indisposed no one suspected his illness was serious in character, and it was only six hours before he died that physicians were summoned. His wife and only daughter, Miss Bessie McComas, were visiting in Washington and were on their way home when he died. The train reached Hagerstown forty minutes after he expired.

The April Cosmopolitan contains a large number of articles by some of the foremost writers of the day. "Chas. E. Lloyd writes of 'Modern Greece,' and Eleanor Lewis describes 'A Royal Family.'" "The War of the Worlds," is by H. G. Wells; "College Fraternities," by P. F. Piper; "The History of the Lady Betty Stair," by Mollie E. Seawell; "Delaware's Whipping-Post," by Bianca A. Miller; "Modern College Education," is discussed by John Brisbane Walker. The Cosmopolitan contains a number of other instructive articles, as well as several fine poems. The illustrations are of a high order.

A Suicide Identified. The man who threw himself under a locomotive and had his head cut off in Highlandtown on Monday was identified as Jos. Slechts, of 909 North Dallas street, Baltimore. He had been drinking heavily lately, and it is supposed that he was despondent. He told a saloonkeeper in Highlandtown that he was tired of living, and he left a note addressed to his son, stating that the father hoped the son would find better luck in life than the parent had. Slechts was laborer, and fifty-four years old. He had been in this country one year from Austria. He served in the Austrian army twelve years. A widow, a son and five daughters who preceded him to Baltimore, survive him.

Supposed to Be Drowned. Joseph Frey, aged forty-five years, who resided on Heater's Island, in the Potomac river, opposite Point of Rocks, and who disappeared suddenly several days ago, has been given up for dead by his family. It is thought he was drowned in the Potomac river. On Monday of last week he was at Point of Rocks, where he remained until 8 o'clock P. M. Soon after that hour he was seen going toward the river, and getting in his boat started for his home on the island. Charles Ingram, who accompanied him to the boat, says he saw him land safely on the island, and he heard him chain up the boat after arriving at his destination. The general supposition is that he must have fallen into the river after having chained his boat, for nothing has been seen of him since. Heavy charges of dynamite have been fired into the river with the view of bringing the body to the surface, but so far without the desired effect. The dynamite has killed a large number of fish in the river. Tuesday a carp was brought up that weighed twenty pounds.

PERSONALS. Mr. Harry Rider, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Rider, near town. Mr. Wm. P. Nuemacker, clerk at Montevideo Hospital, Frederick, spent Sunday with his family in this place. Mr. Marshall Hyder, who spent several weeks visiting on the Island of Jamaica, returned to his home in this place, on last Saturday evening, well pleased with his trip. He was accompanied from Baltimore to this place by his mother, Mrs. Catharine Hyder, and his sister, Mrs. Charles Wentz. Mr. Charles E. Cassell, editor of the Thurmont Clarion, was in town Wednesday. Miss Emma J. Miller, of Rocky Ridge, was in town this week. Miss Lillian V. Fogle, of Double Pipe Creek, was in town this week. Mr. H. Motter is visiting his father, Mr. John Motter, of this place. Mrs. Amelia Birnie, Misses Fannie and Amelia Birnie, of Taneytown, spent Thursday at Dr. R. L. Annan's. Mr. Jacob L. Hoke was in Baltimore, this week.

Turnpike Damage Suit. James B. Albert has entered suit against the Williamsport and Hagerstown Turnpike Company for injuries sustained several nights ago while driving on the turnpike, which has been condemned as being in very bad condition. His wagon struck a deep rut, nearly up to the vehicle and pitched the driver upon the turnpike, badly hurting him. A record is being kept at the tollgate on the Williamsport and Hagerstown turnpike of all toll moneys received and from whom until the Court of Appeals render their decision as to the constitutionality of the law providing that a judge may order the tollgates thrown open when a jury condemns a turnpike as not being in proper repair. If Judge Sloan is reversed each person who has paid toll since the order closing the gates was given will be refunded his money. Mr. J. Clarence Lane Wednesday filed an appeal bond for $1,000, and the case will be sent to the Court of Appeals at once so that a decision may be secured at the April term.

Sudden Death. Mr. William A. H. Jones died quite suddenly at his home in this place, on last Saturday afternoon. He complained of not being well and went upstairs and laid on a bed. A few minutes later his wife found him gasping for breath. Medical aid was summoned, but he expired before the physician arrived. Apoplexy is supposed to have been the cause of his death. Mr. Jones formerly lived in Baltimore, having moved to this place for the second time about one year ago. Mr. Jones was twice married, his first wife died several years ago. By this union there were two children, a son and a daughter, both living in Baltimore. His second wife survives him. The funeral services were conducted at the home of the deceased on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, by Rev. Charles Reinwald. His remains were taken to Baltimore on Wednesday morning for interment.

Mrs. G. A. D. Buel Dead. Mrs. G. A. D. Buel, who died in New Orleans, La., recently, was one of the most distinguished women of Louisiana. Her maiden name was Marie Françoise Athenais Dimitry, and she was born on February 5, 1813. Mrs. Buel was married three times—first, to Mr. Isidore Ravend Martineville. By her second marriage she became the wife of Mr. J. B. de Lagarde, who had been an officer in the army of the first Emperor Napoleon, one of the children of this marriage being Prof. Ernest Lagarde, the accomplished scholar and linguist, who for the past twenty-five years has occupied with distinction the post of professor of literature and modern languages at St. Mary's College, near this place. In 1848, the deceased married the late Mr. George Alexander D. Buel. The New Orleans Daily Picayune says: "Mrs. Buel was remarkable for an unvarying vivacity of mind, which even in old age did not desert her. She possessed a fine wit, the inheritance, perhaps, of her Athenian ancestry, and was gifted with a natural intellect of a very high order, polished by reading, travel and observation. She wrote most graceful poetry and vigorous prose, although she never published anything from her pen, because her modest depreciation of her powers as a poet, both of sentiment and humor, would not permit her to measure her literary abilities by the high standard which others attached to them. She wrote always in the French language, her mother tongue, although in conversation she spoke both English and French."

The Young Men of the Mountain. The pocket-test is a great one in patriotism, and the pocket-test with school boys especially so. Often the school boy is like the friend whom Hamlet loved, "who no revenue hath but thy good spirits to feed and clothe thee." When we find the boys of "The Mountain" subscribing therefore, as they have done, their pocket-money for the support of the Greeks in their present struggle against the Ottoman and his allies, we know that these noble-hearted lads are in earnest in their hopes for the success of the Greek cause. And indeed it would be a dark day for civilization and liberty when the story of Hellas should cease to make young pulses throb, and young hearts warm up with love for the brave and the beautiful. Edmond About long ago wrote some notable things about "The Old Man of the Mountain." It were to be wished he were living and here with us to-day to write about our "Young Men of the Mountain" and their self-sacrificing deed for the cause of Greece. When they took this noble step they did not know that the greatest living statesman and renowned Homeric scholar, Gladstone, would so soon thunder to the world in the same interest of Religion, Liberty and Civilization.—Philadelphia Standard-Times.

Nature intended that every woman should look forward to the coming of her baby with joy and hope, unclouded by anxiety. Almost painless partition is quite the usual thing among uncivilized people. Even in our own country it occasionally happens with women in robust health and good condition. It ought to be the rule instead of the exception; and it is a fact that a very large proportion of the usual pain and suffering may be avoided by looking after the mother's general health, and specially strengthening the particular organs concerned in parturition. Many mothers have been brought through the trying time almost painlessly by the aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It prepares the system for delivery by imparting the organic strength and elasticity which the mother specially needs; shortens the time of labor and of confinement; promotes the secretion of abundant nourishment for the child and fortifies the entire constitution against the after period of depression and weakness. Its use should begin in the early months of gestation—the earlier the better.

The April Eclectic Magazine shows a contents table of twenty numbers, including the departments of Miscellany and Foreign Literary Notes. The first of these is from Prof. Max Muller and bears the practical title "How to Work." Two articles on political subjects are "The Two Sides of the South African Question" and "The Commercial War Between Germany and England." Among the names of well-known writers, those of Sir Herbert Maxwell with "A Soldier's Chronicle"—of Phil Robinson, writing in his charming style on "A Famine in My Garden"—of Leslie Stephen on "Wordsworth's Youth"—and of Grant Allen with an essay concerning "Spencer and Darwin"—are at once noticeable. Mr. E. N. Buxton's account of a fortnight's sport—"Timber Creeping in the Carpathians"—is absorbing, and the historical paper on "Anne Murray a Royalist Lady," is one of the best numbers in the magazine. We would likewise mention "The Execution of Charles First," "Druidism," "Books and their Ways," and "A Study of Richard Jefferies."

E. E. TURNER of Compton, Mo., writes us that after suffering from piles for seventeen years, he completely cured them by using three boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures eczema and severe skin diseases. Geo. W. Ogle & Son.

The Board of Aldermen of Frederick have decided to increase the water supply by tapping Fishing Creek at a point about three miles from the present reservoirs. Pownall & Mitchell, of New York, have been engaged to do the work.

It is surprising what a "wee bit of a thing" can accomplish. Sick headache, constipation, dyspepsia, sour stomach, dizziness, are quickly banished by DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Small pill. Safe pill. Best pill. Geo. W. Ogle & Son.

FAIRFIELD ITEMS. FAIRFIELD, Pa., March 30.—Mrs. Harriet Meeley, Miss Kate Wolf and Mrs. David Ceeke, of Cashtown, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Culp, of this place.

Mr. Dennis Myers, of Hanover, is spending a few days at this place. Miss Kate Kugler, of Fairfield, is reported being sick. Dr. Beaver is slowly improving.

Farmers in this neighborhood are plowing their stalk ground at this time. Mr. S. Grove, of this place, moved on last Tuesday to near Littlestown. His brother John, moved to this place. He bought the farm.

Mr. Wm. Reed, of this place, went west last week to Franklin Grove, Ill. He failed to secure employment and returned home to this place, and is now satisfied to stay in this country.

Mr. E. K. Leatherman, who had bought the David Martin farm, has sold it to Mr. John Hunter. Mr. Leatherman has bought part of Frank Manahan's farm in Highland township. Mr. Manahan will build a house on the land he kept.

Mr. Fred. Nindel, who had been reported sick, died on Wednesday of last week. Funeral Friday. Interment in Fairfield Cemetery. Mr. Nindel was 64 years 1 month, 28 days old. He was also member of James Dixon Post 83 G. A. R. of Fairfield.

Mr. Zac Sanders, who was confined to his bed for several months, is able to be out.

Mrs. John Butt and son, Milton, of Knox Linn, are the guests of F. Shulley and family.

Major Starr Camp, Sons of Veterans, of Fairfield, is being reorganized. They have thirty names as charter members. We wish them success.

The bean bake which was held on last Saturday night, was a success. The hall was crowded. After supper there was a debate. The question was "resolved that George Washington was the best American citizen that ever lived." After the debate the judges decided in favor of Abraham Lincoln being the best man.

Mr. Henry Sanders of this place, made a business trip to Emmitsburg.

Lock the Door. Before the horse is stolen. Purify, enrich and vitalize your blood and build up your physical system before disease attacks you and serious sickness comes. Hood's Sarsaparilla will make you strong and vigorous and will expel from your blood all impurities and germs of disease. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now.

Hood's Pills are the favorite family cathartic. Easy to take, gentle, mild, 25 cents.

GREEN MOUNT HAPPENINGS. Sales are about over, and moving is booming. Many changes are being made this Spring.

Messrs. Henry and John Hoofnagle moved last Thursday to the residence of the former's son, Mr. Samuel Hoofnagle, near Fairfield, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Abraham Herring visited Mrs. Levi Snyder last week.

Whilst Mr. John Snyder was examining the priming of a shot gun last week, the gun exploded with terrific report, tearing a hole through the ceiling and scattering splinters all over the room above, causing no little excitement. A similar accident occurred for Mr. B. F. Baker, recently, but fortunately no one was hurt in either case.

Mr. Jacob Hoke will move on Mr. Jerry Strausbaugh's lot this spring. Our new blacksmith is a hustler. He is doing good work. We wish him success.

Mr. Aaron Rohrbach has treated his horse to a coat of paint, which adds greatly to its appearance.

Mrs. Geo. Young visited her daughter, Mrs. John Herr, of Cold Forks. One of Mr. Budd Bowers' children is reported sick.

Mr. Samuel Heagy has resigned as miller at Witherow's Mill. He will be succeeded by Mr. Fliegler, of Philadelphia. Mr. Cyrus Livingood spent sometime with his father-in-law, Mr. W. Harner.

Easter Ladies' Home Journal. The Easter number of The Ladies' Home Journal is brimful of helpful and entertaining reading. "A Moravian Easter Dawn," by Clifford Howard, tells the story of the simplest and most beautiful Easter service in America. Ex-President Harrison's timely article describes "The Social Life of the President." The popular series of "Great Personal Events" is represented by "When Lafayette Rode Into Philadelphia," by Jean Fraley Hallowell. Ira D. Sankey has written for this number a hymn, entitled "The Beautiful Hills," with words by John H. Yates. The third illustration in Charles Dana Gibson's series of character sketches of "The People of Dickens" is "Tom Pinch and His Sister." Lovers of fiction will enjoy Jerome K. Jerome's story, "A Portrait of a Lady," and Herbert D. Ward's amusing serial, "The Burglar Who Moved Paradise."

There seems to be no field of woman's life, duties and interest not noted by the JOURNAL. These are practical views on vital questions by Mr. Bok; literary talks by "Droch"; suggestions on flowers and gardening by Eben E. Rexford; hints on amateur photography; a study of marriage by Ruth Ashmore; the latest fashions; Mr. Moody's Bible Class; Mrs. Bottom's talks with The King's Daughters. Each number of the JOURNAL is a valuable book of helpful hints and practical suggestions on the every-day problems of home life. By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Ten cents per copy; one dollar per year.

The trouble with most of the so-called dyspepsia-cures, is that they don't cure. They give only temporary relief. Indigestion usually extends all through the digestive tract, from the stomach clear down to the large intestine; and the liver too is frequently involved in the trouble, being torpid and inactive. For a thorough, radical, permanent cure you must have the whole digestive organism set right.—Not violently stirred up, but regulated. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will do it. They stimulate the digestive juices of the stomach; invigorate the liver and help it to actively secrete the bile; and act gently on the bowels to promote a regular healthy movement. This means a complete and lasting cure of digestive troubles.

They are so small that the most sensitive person take them. They are so effective that the most obstinate cases of constipation, headache and torpid liver yield to them. That is why DeWitt's Little Early Risers are known as the famous little pills. Geo. W. Ogle & Son.

An extensive forest fire prevailed in Montgomery county, sweeping over about a thousand acres of land, much of it wooded with young timber.

Don't allow the lungs to be impaired by the continuous irritation of a cough. It is easier to prevent consumption than to cure it. One Minute Cough Cure taken early will ward off any fatal lung trouble. Geo. W. Ogle & Son.

Farmers, Stockmen

AND DAIRYMEN.

You are especially interested in the care of your live stock; and know that by keeping them in prime condition they can be made more valuable to you, and give better returns. During the winter months when off grass, it is absolutely necessary that they should have a true tonic, something to take the place of the nourishment obtained from roots and herbs they get when browsing on the hill sides. For such, we direct your special attention to the Gleason's Horse and Cattle Powder, a compound that is purely vegetable and the fruits of careful study by the originator, who has had years of experience in handling stock of all kinds.

Properly fed in small doses it purifies the blood, regulates the Bowels, aids Digestion, expels Worms, Grubs and Cots, creates Bone and Muscle, cures Colic, Epizooty and Distemper, restores the Appetite, tones up the entire System, and makes the Horse more Handsome and valuable to the owner. As a Milk, Flesh and Butter producer it is unsurpassed.

Gleason's is a thorough condition Powder that no Farmer, Stockman or Dairyman should be without.

It is sold by all dealers and prepared by Gilbert Bros. & Co., BALTIMORE, MD.

On last Saturday afternoon, Vincent Sebald, trustee, sold at public sale in front of the Western Maryland Hotel, in this place, 16 acres of land and the improvements thereon, situated in Emmitsburg District, and known as the Seiss property, to Maria M. Gorley for $165.00.

SYRUP OF FIGS

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians. But if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most

A CITY OF THE DEAD.

PERE LA CHAISE, THE GREAT AND BEAUTIFUL CEMETERY OF PARIS.

It contains 90,000 Mausoleums and Monuments—The Last Resting Place of Many Whose Names Live in History—A Battlefield in the Days of the Commune.

Pere la Chaise, so called after Louis XIV's confessor, who had his residence on the hill long ago, covers 106 1/2 acres and is laid out, like a miniature city, in nearly 150 streets or avenues and little paths.

The French may not be a deeply religious nation, but they certainly do not lack personal affection and respect, and this is strikingly shown in their devotion to the memory of their dead.

Entering one of the main streets and walking up the hill, we were soon in a labyrinth of tombs. Inside of one little house, which had a glass door, there was a shelf built of marble, upon which stood a framed photograph of a man.

On each side were vases filled with white lilies, and underneath was stretched a white ribbon, and letters in gold upon it told that this was an offering from his sorrowful schoolmates.

At nightfall the mercury fell below the freezing point, so that this mist, as it drifted through the trees, was frozen upon their branches and twigs. The elms, the oaks and the other leafless trees took their ice coating quite evenly, but the thick, impenetrable masses of the needles of the pine trees were covered noticeably only upon the sides toward the north or northwest, from which the wind came.

Even in the afternoon, when the rain began to fall and the wind came from quite another quarter, that north wind of the night before still remained white and frozen over the pine woods, the pale, rigid corpse of a thing once keenly alive.—Listener in Country.

Of his recent extended study of the gold resources of South Africa Dr. Becker says that the Transvaal Republic contains the largest gold deposits in the world. Within 10 miles of Johannesburg there is an amount of gold, practically in sight, estimated to be worth $3,500,000,000, or nearly as much as the entire volume of gold coin now in the world.

The most surprising news which Dr. Becker brings is the testimony of an American who was formerly his assistant in the geological survey, and who is now engaged in mining in the Transvaal, where he has made several millions of dollars. The American mining expert says by his knowledge and belief the gold deposits, instead of being 20 miles long—the region now in sight—is practically 1,200 miles long, except that in the rest of the region later deposits have come in over the gold. This, however, will not prevent economical mining, but will simply delay it.—Popular Science News.

BEATING FATHER TIME.

The Mormon Bishop was Flustered at the Railroad Speed. Speed was once demonstrated on a western road in a fashion to curl the hair of at least one old Mormon bishop.

Now, for a wonder, the western connection at Ogden was quickly made, and after the lapse of but a few minutes the San Francisco bound travelers were on their way Californiward.

If you have traveled westward, you know that at Ogden the time changes, and San Francisco time one hour earlier is adopted. The conductor had San Francisco time, and he said: "It is 7:10—ten minutes after 7."

The old bishop, previously haunted by a dread of impending destruction because of the horrible rate of speed at which he was being whirled through space, rose with a wild cry and made for the door.

"Lemme off!" he cried. "It was 35 minutes after 7 an hour ago, an we're goin so fast we are goin faster than time can count itself. Lemme off!"

Had he really been going as fast as the old man had believed, he would surely have been beaten to bits as he jumped out of the train. As it was, he was only rattled something like a half mile and was carried back to Ogden on a hand car.—Chicago Record.

THE FROZEN BREEZE.

A Strange Phenomenon Observed by a Lover of Nature.

Did you ever see a frozen breeze? You might have seen one if you had gone with me into the country one winter morning.

This was the way it came to be frozen: All night long the air had been laden with mist. Over the fields, in the hollows, all through the woods, even on top of the hills, the fog hung heavily. All that time the wind blew steadily, but not fiercely, from some northern quarter.

At nightfall the mercury fell below the freezing point, so that this mist, as it drifted through the trees, was frozen upon their branches and twigs. The elms, the oaks and the other leafless trees took their ice coating quite evenly, but the thick, impenetrable masses of the needles of the pine trees were covered noticeably only upon the sides toward the north or northwest, from which the wind came.

Even in the afternoon, when the rain began to fall and the wind came from quite another quarter, that north wind of the night before still remained white and frozen over the pine woods, the pale, rigid corpse of a thing once keenly alive.—Listener in Country.

One excellent use to which the new X rays can be put should interest women. It seems that by their aid one can readily determine whether diamonds are real or false, for the rays pass quite through real diamonds, leaving them transparent, and not at all through false ones. A real parure when photographed would show only the mounting, but in a false one all the stones would turn out black. Strangely enough, the X rays will not penetrate glass. If, therefore, a photograph, come out black. This proved useful in the case of a Vienna glassworker who got a bit of glass into the mouth of a woman who was believed to have received some of his most noted inspirations in a dream or vision. In one of his letters he alludes to the statue of Moses and intimates that the idea came to him in a dream.

OSTRICH HUNTING.

Profitable Sport That is Making the African Birds Scarce. An ostrich chase is very attractive sport, or rather the sale of booty is so great as to attract hunters. The Arabs give themselves to it with a real passion.

Mounted on their fine little horses, they try as much as possible to fatigue the ostrich, for as it is 5 feet high and has very strong legs it possesses a quickness of movement which the best horse cannot attain. It has great endurance.

The Arab knows very well that it is the habit of the ostrich to make great detours about its nest in a circle. He chases it, then, without ceasing until it is almost there, when, worn out, it succumbs, concealing its head in the sand in order not to see its enemy, or instinctively hoping to escape a danger which it cannot see any more.

There were not two parties to its bargains. There was only one, who was always the third of the group and the one interested, not in satisfying the yearnings of the impassioned, but in a pecuniary sense of their value. He was the vendor and might be either king or baron.

It knew that its marriages had not been made in heaven and of ethereal sentiment. They were coarsely bargained for, either in the king's exchange or in the open market place.

These instruments have been before the public for nearly fifty years, and up on their excellence alone have attained an UNPURCHASED PRE-EMINENCE which establishes them as unequalled in TONE, TOUCH, WORKMANSHIP & DURABILITY.

CHIVALRY AND MATRIMONY.

Time Honored Notions of Olden Days Which Don't Stand the Test.

We all want to consider the days of chivalry as the golden days—never to be recalled—for womankind. This is by implication a rank injustice to our own time.

With all its fine expressions of ardent devotion to the fair sex, the multiplicity of its exquisite pretensions, chivalry was the degradation of the highest and tenderest human instincts—the veritable curse of the course of true love. Such a statement presents itself to the romantic believer as a terrible counterblast, but it is true, nevertheless. The records of the treasury and the law courts of those days, in furnishing the experience of popular life deeply marked by the worst shades of modern shortcomings, provide the fullest proof.

Chivalry did not make marriages, at least in the sense of those born of love's young dream; it entirely ignored all sexual affections and sold its victims with ruthless indifference to all mutuality.

There were not two parties to its bargains. There was only one, who was always the third of the group and the one interested, not in satisfying the yearnings of the impassioned, but in a pecuniary sense of their value. He was the vendor and might be either king or baron.

It knew that its marriages had not been made in heaven and of ethereal sentiment. They were coarsely bargained for, either in the king's exchange or in the open market place. Chivalry knew itself as a social falsity and the parent of lust. As a consequence the "lower orders" have had to give up the nomenclature of our love affairs. Chancer, the very mirror of the era of chivalry, has typified lust with his master hand, but he has no picture of the gratified tenderness of longing youth. In his surroundings it was not suffered to exist. These surroundings had no terms to enunciate the ardent swains and coy maidens of rusticity. But if the aristocracy can produce no one instance of the coy maiden, and the rustic sweetheart remains to mock the dubious fiancée, it has a wealth of crests of diplomacy, and an incalculable list of the terms of intrigue. Chivalry gave expression to the "maitresse," which may have had the faintest of meanings.—New York Herald.
