CHANGES IN FOURTH-CLASS POST-OFFICES.

Publication of the official bulletin of the Postoffice Department was resumed Friday last after a suspension of nearly a month. This bulletin announces the daily changes in fourth-class postoffices, but had not been issued since March 4. Mr. Joseph L. Bristow, the new Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, has begun work. The mills have begun to grind again and the 70,000 postmasters who will probably be relieved of their positions will soon hear from the department. The list Friday gives three offices to Connecticut; to Kansas, 5; Maine, 4; Maryland, 2; Massachusetts, 2; Michigan, 5; Minnesota, 3; New Hampshire, 2; New York and Ohio, 1 each; Pennsylvania, 2; Tennessee, 3; Vermont, 2; and Washington, 3. The Maryland appointments were: W. J. Valentine, at Motter's, Frederick county, vice J. C. Rosensteel, resigned, and J. Z. Powell, at Ocean City, vice W. W. Bigger, resigned.

MUNICIPAL elections were held Tuesday in Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and other States. In Chicago Carter H. Harrison, "Regular democrat," was chosen mayor by about 76,000 plurality, his vote being greater than that of all his opponents combined. Henry Ziegenhein, republican, was elected mayor of St. Louis by about 14,000 plurality. The democrats were successful in most of the Missouri and Arkansas cities. In Wisconsin party lines were not generally drawn.

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

THE WATERS' WILD WORK.

MEMPHIS, TENN., April 3, 1897.—A flood has inundated the greater part of the Mississippi delta and East Arkansas and is threatening to hurl itself into the lowlands of South Arkansas and North Louisiana, and may break the levees around New Orleans.

From the upper Mississippi there is coming another rush of waters. The situation now with the second flood coming is difficult to grasp. Already the people of the overflowed country have suffered a supreme calamity, and there is no measure for the catastrophe that is now threatened.

Probably 50,000 persons have been driven from their homes. Possibly 15,000 are destitute. Five thousand have been brought to Memphis, which is the highest point on the river from Cairo to Vicksburg. Those in Mississippi are crowding to the levees and many are being brought here by boats. Others are going back to the hills.

If the flood lasts forty days more the time for cotton planting will be over, and the product of the overflowed district is three-quarters of a million bales. Great quantities of corn are also raised, and already thousands of acres of land have been planted which is now under water.

Probably 200 persons scattered throughout the district have been drowned. The loss of cattle, horses and hogs has been fearful. Suffering among the people has begun in the delta, and what cattle have escaped the flood are being killed by the Buffalo gnats.

TRAIN FALLS FROM A BRIDGE.

PITTSBURG, PA., April 5.—The north approach to the Ohio connecting railroad bridge collapsed about 6 o'clock this morning while a Fort Wayne freight train was crossing it. The locomotive and thirteen cars were precipitated to McClure avenue, fifty feet below.

Fireman William Haggerty was killed instantly and Engineer William Graham was fatally injured. The locomotive was wrecked and the cars, which were loaded with coal and iron, were demolished.

The Ohio connecting bridge crosses the Ohio river at Wood's run and connects the Panhandle and Fort Wayne Roads of the Pennsylvania Company.

A BABY'S EYES BURNED OUT.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Edward Freer, the ten-months-old child of Richard Freer, had both his eyes burned out last night by his two-and-a-half-years-old brother, Russell.

The children were playing in the basement of their home when Russell took a poker and holding it in the stove until it was red hot poked it into the infant's eyes. The baby was terribly burned and cried aloud in pain.

The mother, hearing the cries, ran into the basement, where she found Russell standing over the baby holding the red-hot poker and laughing. On the floor lay the infant with both eyes burned out. The little one will probably die from his injuries.

Who can fail to take advantage of this offer. Send 10 cents to us for a generous trial size or ask your druggist. Ask for Ely's Cream Balm, the most positive catarrh cure. Full size 50 cents.

ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since a boy, and I never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The Senate Monday, by unanimous vote, adopted a resolution reciting the reports that Gen. Ruis Rivera, the Cuban commander, is about to be tried by drum-head court-martial and shot, and expressing the judgment of the Senate that if these reports are true the President of the United States should protest to the Spanish government against such a violation of the rules of civilized warfare. This resolution does not go to the House of Representatives, and becomes effective as a measure of advice to the President by its adoption Monday.

SUPERINTENDENT SEIBERT, of the Washington county almshouse, says the institution is over-run with tramps, who sleep and eat there at the expense of the county. He advocates a workshop for them.

USES FOR EGGS.

It is said that 40,000,000 dozen eggs were used in this country last year by calico print works, 10,000,000 dozen by wine clarifiers and photographic establishments, and many millions more by bookbinders, kid glove manufacturers and for finishing fine leather. Thus limed eggs or packed eggs find a market. Strictly fresh eggs are always in good demand at good prices.

WARSHIPS FOR NAVAL RESERVES.

The naval authorities propose placing at the disposal of the naval militia during the coming practice season as many ships of the North Atlantic fleet as can be spared for that duty. Maryland, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania are to each have large cruisers assigned for the work and Southern reserves will be equally well cared for. The ships of the Pacific fleet will be ordered to take the reserves in that section to sea. The Michigan will perform similar service on the Great Lakes.

BARN BURNED NEAR WAYNESBORO.

About 3 o'clock Sunday morning fire totally destroyed the large barn on the farm of Mrs. Rebecca Funk, near Waynesboro. Clayton Miller, the tenant, lost five valuable horses and five calves. One horse belonging to Miller's brother-in-law was also burned. The total loss will reach $2,000. Barns on the same site were burned in 1893 and 1896.

WALTER COUTTEE, a colored child, aged two years, was burned to death, and two other children of the same family made a narrow escape from the same fate. They were in a house by themselves on the farm of Mr. L. Beall, near Sandy Springs. The doors were locked, and it was with difficulty that two of them were rescued.

What costive people need is a natural laxative like Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets which are powerful without being violent. They move the bowels gradually and comfortably but surely. You can regulate the dose—one, two or three "Pellets"—exactly as you need. They strengthen the intestines to do their own work, so that after their movements have become regular they keep on naturally of themselves.

THE anniversary of the declaration in 1821 of the independence of Greece from Turkish rule was enthusiastically celebrated in Athens. The King received a great ovation on his way to the Cathedral, and the crowds cried "Long live war!" "Long live Crete!" "Long live the King!"

A broken-winded horse is rarely seen in Norway. The fact is accounted for by the statement that a bucket of water is always placed within reach of a horse when he is feeding, and the animal alternately takes a mouthful of hay and a sip of water.

The indications of higher prices to be asked on all imported goods in consequence of the New Tariff Bill, which will most likely soon become a law, and which will enhance the price of the tariffed articles in some lines quite a great deal, would make our large stock a great deal more valuable soon, if we were buyers for speculation.

We believe that our great success as distributors of DRY GOODS and our usefulness to this community, is not because of the fact that we carry twice and three times the amount of stock of other stores, but mainly because we are at all times looking for the lowest prices on the goods we buy and giving our customers the benefit.

As Dress Goods, both black and colored, are some of the articles most effected by the tariff changes—we bought at the lowest prices these goods ever touched at, when the importer was looking for business—and we shall make no raise until present stock is exhausted and we are compelled to pay the advance.

Haunted!

The human tenement is often haunted—to the grievous discomfort of its possessor—by those malignant spirits, consumption and biliousness. But the abortive path may be speedily driven out with the potent help of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This genial alterative, while it relieves the bowels and regulates the liver, never so a drastic purgative does, produces violent effects and weakens the intestines. On the contrary, the action of the Bitters is precisely analogous to an effort of nature seeking to resume her proper functions. This furnishes pretty conclusive evidence that it is better to use permanent means, so to speak, than to endeavor to coerce nature to a return to duty. Violent remedies produce only a temporary effect, followed by a hurtful reaction. For indigestion, malaria and kidney complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, the Bitters takes highest rank among remedies of the philosophic school.

Thirty-seven died from infectious diseases, 127 from consumption, 104 from pneumonia, 28 from influenza, 28 from bronchitis, 15 from Bright's disease, 35 from nephritis, 47 from heart disease, 32 from apoplexy and 6 from typhoid fever. Of the total 258 were of children under five years of age.

During the month 216 cases of infectious diseases were reported, an increase of 98 compared with the preceding month.

One hundred and nineteen deaths occurred in hospitals, of which 31 were reported as non-residents.

John McKinley's Neck Broken.

John McKinley, aged about sixty years, an inmate of the Allegheny county almshouse, was found in the yard of that institution Tuesday morning with his neck broken. The unfortunate old man was at one time a well-known coal miner in the Cumberland coal region, and while thus employed contracted what is known as the miner's asthma, which finally compelled him to abandon that occupation, and he has for many years been a great sufferer. He would frequently have to get out of his bed at night and go out on the porch of the building to get fresh air in order to get his breath. It is believed by the superintendent and the physician of the institution that Mr. McKinley had gone out on the porch of the building during the night, and became dizzy, had plunged down the steps or fallen over the railing of the porch into the yard and broke his neck by the fall. McKinley was at one time a resident of Frostburg, where he was employed in the mines. He worked by the side of the late Edward Donahoe, one of the oldest and best-known miners of the mining region, whose funeral took place Tuesday at Frostburg. McKinley was to have attended the funeral of his old friend.

Incorporated.
The Washington & Gettysburg Railway Company was incorporated on March 24th. Messrs. Geo. W. Cissell and Edgar P. Berry of Washington, D. C., and John F. McCoy, Albert Gleason, F. C. Drane, R. G. Israel and J. Enos Ray, of Maryland, incorporated. This is the company that proposes to build the road via Frederick City, Thurmont and Emmitsburg, with a line to Hagerstown from Frederick City. We are in receipt of a copy of the Act of Incorporation and a letter fully outlining the work already accomplished and plans for work in the immediate future; we regret its late arrival as we are compelled to defer publication until next week. Our Frederick City and Hagerstown friends should henceforward give this matter the attention it deserves. Other communities are reaching out for this enterprise and it is only by arousing in the people a sense of the opportunity afforded and that may pass by them, owing to their supineness, that this now very promising movement may be made a certainty.—Clarion.

The Court of Appeals handed down an opinion last Thursday in the case of Annan, Horner & Co., vs. James T. Hays, in favor of Mr. Hays. The Court of Appeals confirming the order of the court below with costs. This case was taken to the Court of Appeals by Annan, Horner & Co., on an appeal from an order of the court below in ratifying an audit stated by James T. Hays in the sale of the real estate of Mr. Joseph Byers under a mortgage. Annan, Horner & Co., contended that as Mr. Hays held a chattel mortgage on the personal property of the mortgagor and suffered Mr. Byers to sell the same without turning over the proceeds to him in satisfaction of the mortgage debt, as far as they could satisfy the same, and as Mr. Hays had no lien on the real estate, they were junior lien creditors of Mr. Byers under several judgments. Mr. Hays should contribute to the satisfaction of their judgment claims. The Court of Appeals decided that the senior creditor could not be held liable to contribute to the satisfaction of junior creditors claims, even if he released part of his security, unless he had actual notice of such junior claims and that the recording of such junior claims was not sufficient notice to hold him liable. Mr. Byers, Horner & Co. were represented by Messrs. E. L. Rowe and Wm. P. Maulsby; James T. Hays by Messrs. Vincent Sebald and John C. Motter.

A Great Book Given Away.
One of the most deeply interesting and truly educative books ever written is "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. This splendid volume of 1008 pages, including ninety pages on the subject of diseases peculiar to women, with directions for home-treatment, rendering unnecessary the embarrassing "examinations," and generally useless "local treatment," so dreaded by the modest women. It also treats exhaustively diseases of men and points out their remedies. The book contains the most comprehensive explanation of human physiology and the rational principles of hygiene ever published, illustrated with over 300 engravings—a complete medical library in one volume. No other medical book in the English language ever had such an enormous sale. 650,000 copies were sold at $1.50 each. Dr. Pierce is now distributing a new free edition of half a million copies. A copy will be sent absolutely free to anyone who will send to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing. If we send you the new edition in all respects the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that it is bound in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth.

Claim Part of a Fortune.
WILLIAMSPORT, Md., April 6.—The descendants of the Mozier family in this county and elsewhere lay claim to a fortune amounting to $90,000, which consists of a vast tract of coal land in Pennsylvania, and already one hundred heirs have turned up. The land in question is now occupied by the Lehigh Coal Company. According to the statement of Mr. M. G. Shiver, of Hancock, this county, one of the heirs, one of the original members of the Mozier family, emigrated to Lehigh county, Pa., and died, owning a large tract of land, the value of which he had no idea, and neglected to make a record of his estate or a will.—American.

DEATH OF WILLIAM WELTY.

William Welty, familiarly and affectionately known as "Billy Welty," died last week and was buried from the Mountain Church on Saturday morning, 3rd inst. The Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Manley, and in the absence of the President of the College, Bishop-elect Allen, the Vice-President, Rev. W. L. O'Hara, presided in the sanctuary, where were seated Reverend Professors McSweeney, Tierney, Brown, Bradley, Philip Gallagher and Farrelly.

After the mass Dr. McSweeney gave the absolution and spoke to the following effect:

He esteemed it a privilege to stand in the old Mountain Church before the corpse of one who, as boy and as man, had served the College for seventy-six of his fourscore and five years, and in the name of the generations of priests and prelates, of lawyers and doctors and engineers, of merchants and soldiers and sailors, of all who had known and loved and respected Billy Welty, to testify to their and his own appreciation of his faithful, manly, gentlemanly character. Not a State in the Union, not a nation on the globe probably, but contained some one who would be interested in hearing of his departure to the land whither most of his old acquaintance had preceded him.

He was a gentleman. Born on the mountain-side and nurtured amid the grandeur of its forests, the music of its torrents, and the flowers of its meads, he had the simplicity, and grace combined with the frank, independent bearing, that marks and makes attractive the mountaineer. In addition there was in him a kind of clerical courtesy arising doubtless from long association with gentlemen and scholars.

Enjoying so frequently their conversation, listening every Sunday to their preaching, hearing so often the essays and speeches of the graduates, and witnessing the receptions of the many distinguished visitors to the college, he caught something of that quiet agreeable manner that marks the gentleman.

The College honors his memory. She reckons him with Dr. McCaffery, and Father John and Father McMurdie and Professors Dielman, Aiken Beltzhoover and so many others who labored in the care and training of the students that passed through this house. For they who had charge of the food, the light, the heat, and in general took care of the student's bodily comfort, certainly contributed to their sound healthy education, as well as they that cultivated their minds and ministered to their spirits.

Every one that does his duty with self-respect and consideration for the feelings of others is a gentleman. Such was Billy Welty. Such many others of either sex that served the College with him.

Their reward in eternity will depend on the fidelity with which they did the work God called them to, whether in human speech it be classed as high or low, and their position in Heaven will have nothing at all to do with the social rank they may have held here.

"The fashion of this world passeth away." Nothing rendered by the rank obtained by purity, honesty, temperance, the love of God and of our neighbor. We hope a great reward for our venerable friend. God's his judge, however. Let us accompany his soul with prayer to the judgment seat, and in the language of our holy mother Church beg that his spirit may rest in peace.

The remains were then carried by the pall-bearers accompanied by the clergy, relatives and friends to the cemetery, where they were laid to rest in the grave yard alongside the church, and at the request of his aged and prostrated widow the coffin was opened in "Priest's Row," not one occupant of which had had known the deceased.

After a last look, the sun was about to set, and the dead, and he was laid to rest 'neath the trees in God's Acre on the mountain-side.

Tribute of Respect.
Emmitsburg Council, No. 53, J. O. U. A. M., of Emmitsburg, extends its fraternal love and sympathy to our brother, Victor E. Rowe and family, in the great loss they have sustained. The all-wise and loving God has seen fit in his wisdom to call from their midst a loving wife and mother. No doubt their hearts are clouds between them and their God. Yes, no doubt there are great burdens resting upon them, but if we put our trust in God, one who is able and willing to be with us in our trials and troubles, to help us overcome them, if we but trust upon Him. He will remove all burdens, all sadness, yes, all darkness, and their will be sunshine in our souls.

We commend them to the all-wise and loving Father in Heaven, who saw that this affliction was for their good. May the God of all comfort sustain them in this hour of their trial and grant them peace.

"Resolved, That a copy of this tribute be published in the Emmitsburg CHRONICLE."

"Female weakness" causes nine-tenths of all the wretchedness which women endure. It can never be permanently relieved by "local treatments." That is generally an expensive, embarrassing, make-shift. What is needed is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to reach the innermost sources to the trouble and restore health and strength directly to the internal organs. This stops the weakening drains which sap life's foundation; it builds up all debilitated conditions, gives the ligaments elastic power of themselves to correct misplacement of internal organs and imparts tone, vigor and vitality to the entire feminine organism. In a word, the "Favorite Prescription" makes healthy, happy women.

A Family of Foxes Exterminated.
Charles Janoske killed in one day eleven foxes on Backbone mountain, in Garrett county—a male and female and nine young ones. He will get $11 for the scalps, with ones extra. The male fox measured four feet five and a half inches from tip to tip.

THE WEATHER MAN AT THE "MOUNTAIN."

Of the several departments connected with Mt. St. Mary's college, none is more interesting, in its way, than the Weather Bureau. The present incumbent, though by no means a success at prognosticating—not having prosecuted his studies in that line—has been able "to keep tab" on sundry conditions during the first quarter of '97. In the hope that they may interest the readers of the CHRONICLE and at the same time not differ greatly from like observations, which more accomplished observers have made, he respectfully submits the following data:

During January there were 9 clear days, 3 days on which it rained, 9 days on which it snowed, 2 days on which rain and snow combined to make "things miserable" and 8 cloudy days, without "falling weather." February—clear days, 7; rain; 6; snow; 3; mixed; 1; cloudy; 11. March—clear days, 10; rain; 9; snow; 4; mixed; 2; cloudy; 6.

The "rain-fall" measurements were: Jan., 2.06 inches; Feb., 2.53 inches and March, 3.04 inches.

Barometric readings were: Jan., maximum, 30.02 (on 31st); mean, 29.47; minimum, 29.00 (on 22nd). Feb., maximum, 29.94 (on 28th); mean, 29.43; minimum, 28.93 (on 6th). March, maximum, 29.99 (on 1st); mean, 29.43; minimum, 28.74 (on 24th).

Thermometric readings were: Jan., maximum, 60 degrees (on 4th); mean, 29 degrees; minimum, 3 degrees (on 26th). Feb., maximum, 52 degrees (on 18th); mean, 33 degrees; minimum, 13 degrees (on 28th). March, maximum, 70 degrees (on 21st); mean, 43 degrees; minimum, 23 degrees (on 17th).

The prevailing quarter of the wind was from northwest to southwest.

The observer remarked the following incidents: Feb 2 the deepest snow of the year fell. At the college it measured 4 inches, but it was quite wet and on the 17th, a large bull-frog was seen for the first time since the beginning of the year was enjoyed.

Feb. 7, the scarlet tanager's spring note was heard for the first time; on the 13th the blue-bird made its appearance, followed by the bobolink on 15th, robin on 17th, hedge-sparrow on 18th, and black bird on 25th. Lightning was seen for the first time on night of 22nd and on same date indications of returning spring-frog began to peep. Its peculiar note and on the 27th a large bull-frog was heard croaking, although three inches of snow covered the ground and almost choked up the pool of water in which his frogship held forth.

The return of spring was more pronouncedly heralded in early March, which came in lamb-like and departed with the traditional bluster. On the 3rd there was considerable lightning. Wild geese passed northward on 5th; angle worms made their appearance on 9th, strawberries on 12th, a bumble bee was seen "on the wing" on 13th, an unreasonable time, as the arbutus flowers did not appear until the 28th, the myrtle on the same day and the Easter lily on the 31st. The note of the meadow lark was heard for the first time on 17th; the dove and pee-wee on 20th, a lizard was seen on 19th, butterfly and moth on 21st and a bat on the 31st. Two thunder storms—complete—came on 22nd and the final touch of winter was given on the 27th, when a blustery squall "scattered in wild confusion its peary flocks."

On the whole, the winter was comparatively open and but little snow fell. There was less sleighing than in former years; blizzards were happily fewer and far between. When snow fell it was usually so wet that it packed and the increasing temperature which generally ensued brought rain or caused rapid thaws. The frost came out of the ground in easy stages and the unpaved county roads were more passable in consequence, although frequently they were badly cut up in places because of poor drainage.

Gettysburg Trolley Troubles.
The master's report in the suit of the Maryland Steel Company against the Gettysburg Electric Railway Company has been confirmed by Judge Dallas, in the United States Circuit Court. The Gettysburg Electric Railway Company on May 1, 1893, issued $200,000 of its bonds, secured by a mortgage for $200,000, given to the Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, which became the trustee of the mortgage.

The Maryland Steel Company, as holder of $5,000 of the bonds, brought the suit some time ago upon the ground that the Gettysburg Electric Railway Company had defaulted continuously in the payment of interest on the entire issue of its bonds since November, 1893. Under the decree entered the Gettysburg Electric Railway Company is ordered to make payment within 15 days after April 2 or else its property, which is adjudged to be under the lien of the mortgage, is to be sold by the trustee at the Court house in Adams County, at a sale which is to be named.—Pitts. FAIRFIELD ITEMS.

FAIRFIELD, April 6.—Mr. Fred. Nindl, who died a short time ago, had made a will, your correspondent was informed, and that he willed his son, Edward, his shoemaker tools, worth about $300, and his widow to have the balance of his estate. He had about 40 acres of land.

The Sons of Veterans, of Fairfield, will receive their charter this week. Their prospects for a good camp is very flattering. Some of the members are grand army men, whose fathers were in the war. They are making things boom. H. F. Shulley was elected captain. We wish them success.

Mr. Thomas Winebrenner, Jr., and Miss Adelia Hartzel, closed their courtship on last Tuesday. Rev. W. J. D. Scherer married them on that day. We wish them success in life.

Eggs are very low, only 6 cents per dozen. There seems to be no money to buy them in the city. They are very plentiful. Messrs. Wm. and A. Culp have nearly 200 spring chickens ready for market. They hatched them in their incubator.

Is Fairfield dead? We have not heard of any large fish being caught lately. Where is T. Winebrenner, our noted fisherman? While we hear of some very large ones being caught, the Fairfield fisherman seem not in it.

A man from Gettysburg drove to Washburne some day last week. The horse and buggy getting on too much of the first of April, the horse ran off, upsetting the buggy, and breaking it all to pieces.

A young lady gave a lecture on the health of women on last Saturday night. The house was crowded.

Miss Kate Kugler, Mrs. E. Swope and Andy Musselman, of this place, are reported being sick. Mrs. Eliza Kugler an aged lady of 83 years, is quite ill at this time.

Mr. David Brown, of Fairfield, has moved to near Taneytown.

The G. A. R., of Fairfield, will hold their Decoration services on Saturday, the 29th of May, in the morning. John McPherson, Esq., will deliver the oration at the cemetery.

The citizens of Fairfield are very tired of their borough. They would like to be back into the township again. Those who are losing a few feet of their yards in front of their houses are doing lots of kicking. They are buying trouble in advance. There has nothing been done as yet.

Those who have moved into Fairfield this spring are the following: Mr. Hahn, of near Emmitsburg; Mr. Woodring, Mrs. Solomon Baker, of Fairplay; Andy Ramer, of Gettysburg; he keeps the hotel. Those who moved out of Fairfield are: Mr. Henry Peters, Mr. Berkhart to Ringgold, Md.; Mr. William Brown, to near Taneytown; Mr. J. H. Spangler, to Littlestown; Mr. Harry Moore to J. M. Musselman's farm; Mr. Thomas Winebrenner, Jr., to Gettysburg; Mr. Wm. Gelbach to his farm.
