Goes the Christ in robes of glory To the help of rich and poor. Hail with joy the Christmas morning For it breathes of better times, Dawning on the mingled nations From the fairest of earths climes; Aye, from lands by ocean hidden, From the islands far away, Come the songs of peace and rapture Emmitsburg Council, No. 53, Jr. O. U.A. M On this blessed Christmas day. Hail the holy Christmas morning!

Let the world take up the strain; Angel choirs will waft it heav'n ward-"Peace on earth, good will again." Aye, to-day the flowers are blooming Far beyond the wastes of snow, And they blossom in God's valleys As they blossomed long ago.

HAIL HOLY CHRISTMAS MORN.

BY T. C. HARBAUGH.

Hail the holy Christmas morning,

Rich in blessings from that clime

Where the Lord of peace and glory

Saw the dawning of His time-Where the stars lit up the heavens

While a mother, gently kneeling,

Hail the holy Christmas morning

In the brightness of its dawning Earthly woes and sorrows cease;

Hear the bells within the steeples

How the Christ came long ago!

Hail anew the Christmas morning!

Let the sad heart fill with cheer,

Drift afar the clouds of passion,

Joy and happiness are here;

Ah, methinks I hear the music

Wafted from that spot afar,

Followed long the guiding star.

Hail the happy Christmas morning

With the pleasure that it brings!

'Neath the pretty Christmas tree,

There's a rush of angel wings; And I listen, rapt and eager,

In the air around about us

For the echo of His footsteps

From the shores of Galilee.

Hail the holy Christmas morning!

Let the beggar list his head;

He can stand beside the monarch

From the manger old in story,

'Neath the Orient's humble shed;

From the old and darkened door,

Swinging gladly to and fro,

As they tell again the story

Crowned anew with love and peace

Kissed the Babe of Bethlehem.

Like a gorgeous diadem.

Hail the matchless Christmas morning With its story sweet and old; Let the stars that shone o'er Judah Once again His love unfold; All the world looks longing eastward Toward that far-off, sainted clime, For the Christmas Christ will greet it In the fullness of His time.

[IMPROVED.]

We have added important improvements to our SUNLIGHT GAS MACHINE.

Seeing that it was all important to cor dense and purify the gas before being de-livered to gasometer, and to dispense with the opening and closing of valves, which after many experiments, we have succeeded beyond our expectations. All the parts ient means for carrying out the slack. They are attached or detached by simply few seconds. A very important point to be considered, as it is not possible to run out slack through a spigot, as some claim to do. It must be hooked or scraped out of all machines that throw carbide into water.

can only be detected by the most sensi-tive. The carbide will remain in retorts intact for any length of time, ready for use s gas may be wanted, and by this process the bell of gasometer never rises high enough to open blow-off valve, which would be a waste of gas, which has been a most difficult problem to solve, which we have done, and can hold the gas under perfect control, which shows the true work-ing and safety of machine. We do not throw an uncertain quantity of carbide into water to make an uncertain quantity of gas to be blown out into the air wh or traps that may fail to work. No varis tion in pressure by attachments to bell gasometer which will vary lights. As the bright light produced from Calcium

Carbide, it is the most brilliant and beauti ful light ever discovered. It gives fifteen times the light of ordinary illuminating gas per cubic foot. It is a pure white light. Its rays being almost identically with sunlight. Its cost is far less than any known illuminant. The lighting of burners starts the machine and when lights are put out the machine stops, and no gas is generated until burners are again lighted. The gas is not affected by heat or panies, finding they have a strong compet itor, are leaving nothing undone to warn the public of the danger of calcium carbide gas, which is less dangerous than coal gas or coal oil, with proper care. We have been testing the properties of calcium car

Two tramps, giving their names as John Baker and James McCarty, were arrested Sunday night near Grove's limekiln, east of Frederick, and committed to jail by Magistrate Biser for a hearing. Both men were attired in new suits, with creased trousers, which aroused the suspicions of Officers Lowe and Brusts, who put them under arrest. Lewis Bernstein, of Brunswick, whose clothing store was robbed Saturday night, identified the clothes the prisoners had on as the ones taken from his store. There were coats and vests of odd suits, and he brought the trousers along that belonged to them, which matched the goods. Mr. Bernstien said they took about $60 worth of

"Not at all." "Well, I want you to stop me every time you see me and remind me of what I am going to tell you. Don't you be afraid of hurting my feelings. I'm going to turn over a leaf. There isn't anything easier than turning a leaf The only difficulty is that a man gets careless and lets it turn back again. So it'll be a great accommodation if you'll stop and remind me of this conversation, Kind of keep me awake to the fact that I have turned over a leaf.

"What you mean is that you are going to turn over a new leaf, isn't it?" asked the policeman.

"No. That isn't it at all. I mean just plain leaf. This is the same leaf that I have been turning over several times a month for the last year or two. And I have decided that it's time for me to put some of the glue of moral courage on it and paste it down for keeps. I have seen too many cases where a man made a last grab for the leaf to turn it over and discovered that he had worn it clear

The policeman promised, but he smiled as he did so as if he did not expect to have to keep a watch on his petitioner very long. He was enough of a judge of human nature to know that a man who can bring himself to make a candid estimate of his own moral condition is pretty well out of 1899. The Publisher of The Eclectic Magazine begs to announce that the Magazine has been consolidated with the Living Age, and, beginning with the number for January, 1899 will be issued under the 'title of "The Eclectic Magazine, and Monthly Edition of The Living Age."

The new issue of the Eclectic Magazine will be increase in size to 160 pages monthly, a change which will give to the subscribe 's 192 more pages of reading matter annually than hitherto. While the Magazine will contain practically the same kind of material as formerly, some changes and additions will be made, which it is believed will largely enhance the value of the publication. To the sciention from British periodicals will be added original translations of some of the most noteworthy articles in French, German, Spanish, and Italian reviews. A monthly sup dement will give Readings from New Books, and an editorial department of Books and Authors will give the latest news in the literary world.

The magazine will bear the imprint of the Living Age Company, Boston, and E. R. Pelton, New York, and subscriptions may be sent to either address Articles from the P. M. A. M. 5 27 9 38 Le Porters Ar 5 35 9 47 Spring Grove 6 00 10 12 Ar York Le Articles from the

When "The Philadelphia Record" untook inteteen years ago to demonstrate that the best of morning newspapers could be made and sold for one cent, publishers were generally skeptical. But the world of readers was not askeptical. But the world of readers was not long in reaching a commanding position, and, improving upon this, its circulation and influence were finally recognized among the foremost of America's great joursals. Hence the compliment of imitation which is now paid to it in every city of note from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi Valley. Every city worth mentioning now has one or more good one-cent morning dalles, though so recently as only 19 years ago Philadelphia and "The Record" stood alone is this respect.

News Concisely Published without the omission of any essential feature is still the BEST NEWS, not-withstanding the once prevalent tenden-cy to pad it and stretch it out.
