THE SOUTH CAROLINA DISPENSARY SYSTEM.

I visited Charleston last Christmas, and also two of the smaller but flourishing towns of South Carolina, Greenville and Spartanburg. It was very satisfactory indeed, to see how the liquor traffic was managed. There were two stores in each of the towns named, plain, ungarished warehouses without any accommodation for visitors, and having a place raised off like a post office. Behind this railing was the stock in original packages, bottles of every size, and the government officials. I saw there was no ornamentation. I must mention, however, certain illuminated advertising cards of whiskey and beer dealers, offering their various brands of "Sour Mash," "Bock," etc.

A prominent sign prohibits drinking on the premises. The purchaser enters, buys his medicine and in two minutes goes out. There is nothing about the dreary place to detain anybody, no pictures, no paneled ceiling, no brilliant glassware, no shining copper vessels, no dummy barrels or kegs; at night one wretched gas jet struggles with the darkness and makes it visible. In fact, it is as different from the ideal saloon as a second-hand furniture store. I understood that every purchaser must sign his name, and though he can buy as much as he likes, yet it is but once a day, and the state gives no credit.

Against this system they object the curtailment of individual liberty. "Every man should be free to eat and drink what he pleases and where he pleases, in this free country, and also to buy and sell what he pleases." In reply it is shown that gunpowder and dynamite cannot be bought nor sold nor carried, nor even used unless under restrictions placed by the government. Neither can drugs be dispensed nor sold except under government regulation. Among drugs, alcohol is one of the most potent and most common. Hence, the government has the right to regulate its manufacture, handling and sale. Even in this free country we claim this right for the government. In other countries, bread, meat, tea, coffee, flour, etc., are also superintended and regulated by the government, and some think our own boards of health should interfere with their preparation and sale (even more closely and strictly than in some of our cities they actually do. So much for individual liberty.

On the other hand, when the liberty of one individual infringes on the liberty of another, it stops right there. And this is the trouble with our liquor business. If the seller and user of liquor kept perfect order in the saloon, did not disturb the public peace, did not interfere with the space required by other citizens on the sidewalk, needed no more police, paid his own doctor's bills, respected his wife, supported his family, provided for his own sickness and funeral and care of his orphans, the government would in all probability let them have full liberty, just as it gives full license to the clubs run by rich men, although probably these injure their health and shorten their lives by drinking to excess. In Germany, France, Italy, etc., where every man is a soldier, even the rich are not allowed to injure their health in this or other ways, and our government, too, has the right to prevent any of the citizens doing so, because it unites them for their domestic and civil duties, thus increasing the burden of their fellow-citizens.

Against the system some said: "It makes men drink at home and spend the Sunday, especially, in private drunkenness. It makes hypocrites of men, as they become ashamed to drink in public. It causes frequent evasion of the law by illicit traffic in liquor, multiplying 'speak-easies,' 'blind-pigs,' etc."

On the other hand, the dispensaries, as they call the government liquor stores, are closed at 6 o'clock, so that the temptation to lay in a stock for Sunday is diminished, and citizens are more likely to take their wages home to their family, and spend the Saturday night decently, as the Third Plenary council advises. They are less likely, too, to drink to excess in presence of wife and children than with other toppers in a saloon. "There is no fun in drinking by yourself." Hypocrisy is a vice and an evil and a pity, but "there are others." We must choose the lesser evil.

The "blind-pigs" are very numerous in Charleston, being hardly known elsewhere. The police got tired of watching and reporting them. The state agents are few in number and are well known and looked out for. The great trouble is that the majority of those who do the voting, office-holding, etc., are opposed to the dispensary system, because it interferes with their "club-life," their political nurseries and forcing houses, their social evenings. An officer who is too officious will get "broken," surely. Custom sanctions the arrest of each of the 300 "blind pig" keepers once a year; he is fined two hundred dollars, and is understood to be undisturbed for twelve months. The city thus gets some returns for the extra police required by the "pigs" for the hospitals, courts, prisons, insane and orphan asylums they make necessary.

Even in Bangor, in the constitutionally prohibitory state of Maine, this is how the thing works in practice.

High license is advocated by some in Charleston on these and other accounts, but in small communities especially where the majority are of slave descent, the dispensary system seems to be approved of.

So much (or so little) for the dispensary law of the noble, bold Commonwealth of South Carolina. What a dreadful problem it is!

In former times wines and all other alcoholic drinks were forbidden during Lent. The church will probably revive this law for the United States. We judge this from the fact that Pope Leo, while dispensing workingmen from abstinence, urges them to abstain from intoxicants instead, especially during Lent. See Leo XIII's letter of March 15, 1895. In the course of time, this latter abstinence will become a custom and be sanctioned by law. Which God grant!

As for South Carolina's system, all it seems to need is the co-operation of the people. A similar system flourishes in Norway, where drunkenness was a common vice. Now that mountainous country has some of the finest roads in the world, because those who buy from the government the privilege of selling liquor, are allowed only five per cent. profit, while the state makes 125 per cent., and builds roads with this.

Whatever may be said about the South Carolina system, it breaks up the saloons as a treating, drinking and idling place, and you meet boys in South Carolina, as you do in Maine, who have never entered a saloon nor known the taste of beer or whiskey, and are all the better off in pocket, as well as in health and character, on this account. When this generation grows up and controls the elections, then perhaps the people will aid the police and the government in carrying out the Dispensary Law.

EDWARD MCSWEENEY.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING BORDEAUX MIXTURE.

By CHARLES O. TOWNSEND, STATE PATHOLOGIST.

For One Barrel of Bordeaux Mixture. (1) Place 6 pounds of Copper sulphate (Bluestone) crystals in a coarse bag and suspend in a tub or earthen vessel containing 25 gallons of water, until the crystals are dissolved.

(2) In a second tub place 6 pounds of good stone lime, slake and dilute to 25 gallons.

(3) Now pour the two solutions at the same time into a barrel or into the spray pump and stir vigorously to insure thorough mixing.

NOTE. The solutions should be poured through a sieve containing about 30 meshes to the inch, in order to remove any particles that might clog the nozzle.

To Make Stock Solution of Bordeaux Mixture.

(4) Place 50 pounds of copper sulphate (Bluestone) crystals in a coarse bag and suspend in a barrel containing 50 gallons of water until all is dissolved.

(5) In a second barrel slake 50 pounds good stone lime and dilute to 60 gallons.

(6) To make a barrel of Bordeaux mixture from stock solution, stir (4) and (5) thoroughly, dip 6 gallons from each and place in separate barrels and add water enough to make 25 gallons in each and mix as directed in (3).

(7) The stock solutions will keep almost indefinitely but the Bordeaux mixture should be used as soon as possible after it is prepared.

(8) Bordeaux mixture is a preventative and not a cure for fungus diseases it should therefore be applied early, adding 4 ounces of Paris green to each 40 to 50 gallons to kill insects.

(9) Bordeaux mixture will prevent apple rust and scab, fruit rots, blight of tomatoes, potatoes, rust of celery and in short all of the fungus diseases that begin on the surface of plants above ground. It should not be used on peach or plum, as it is liable to injure the foliage.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR TREATING TREES INFESTED WITH SAN JOSE SCALE.

By WILLIS G. JOHNSON, STATE ENTOMOLOGIST.

(1) If the tree is badly infested, and too far gone to save by a system of treatment, grub it up by the roots, trim and pile wood and brush where it stood, do not burn wood or brush, at least, until after midsummer. Nature has some natural enemies at work upon the scale and these little friends must not be burned. If the brush is piled, the scales all die in a few days, the little friends escape and concentrate their attacks upon other trees where the scale exists, and where it has been over-looked. Scale cannot possibly live upon a twig or piece of wood cut before May 15. It spreads only when the young appear, which is between June 10th and the late fall. I have seen young crawling on trees, during open warm weather as late as Dec. 19; but such late individuals could not possibly survive the winter, as it would be practically impossible for them to cover themselves with the scale-like covering.

(2) If the tree is only moderately infested prune it as much as possible, saving every branch and twigs piling them in some place in or near the orchard.

(3) Then spray peach and plum with a 20 per cent. mixture of kerosene and water and pear and apple with 25 per cent. mixture. Spray thoroughly using a combination kerosene and water sprayer if possible.

(4) If you have an ordinary sprayer you can use whale-oil soap in water at the rate of 2 pounds to a gallon, before the buds open. Use good grade of caustic potash whale-oil soap, and apply when warm.

(5) Crude petroleum can be used also, and should be applied before the buds open.

At all times keep a close watch on your orchard and if a tree looks suspicious send me a twig by mail without delay.

EVERY man who applies at Coxey's quarry, near Massillon, O., can get work. All tramps have heard of Coxey, and it is a favorite game of theirs to apply to him for work on Saturday afternoon. They are given good meals and comfortable beds, not having to work on Sunday. When Monday comes they make their escape. Two men tried this recently, but Jesse Coxey, son of the "general," brought the runaways back at the point of a revolver and made them work out the price of the comforts they had received.

When He Awoke. The house was crowded and the play was good. Everybody was interested except this man in black, who had taken on as many as half a dozen too many. He fell asleep. For a time he slept quietly, then his head shifted, he carened a bit and fell to snoring. His friend tried to awaken him, and then the fun began. The sleeper, at the first punch delivered by his friend, said: "Aw right, I hear!" The friend punched him again, and harder. "I'm gettin' up," said the sleeper, drowsily. "I'm gettin' up now." Those near by were giggling now. The friend hit him three hard jolts more. "Damn it, Maria! if you don't let me sleep I'll—"

The friend hit him three hard jolts and he awoke. He rubbed his eyes, and seeing the people 1 ughing realized that he was the cause of the merriment and hastily left.—Memphis Scimitar.

Fable of the Child and Cat. The Precocious Child hailed the Stray Cat with Delight. The Stray Cat was of that caudally abbreviated class known as Bob-tailed.

Did the Precocious Child remember his mamma's latest Fad in Dress and say: "Oh, look, Papa, that Kitty has its Riny-Day tail on?" The Precocious Child cried because the Cat's Tail was too decidedly Robertted to be Pulled. Moral: The Grievs of Childhood, like those of Later Years, often come because we get what is technically termed "the short end of it."

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought

IN FOREIGN PORTS.

Plight of Stranded Sailors Called to the Attention of the Government.

Consul Peet, at Bombay, India, in a despatch to the State Department, speaking of sailors who have been thrown upon his care at the consulate because of utter destitution, says that he is inclined to believe that there is a gang located in the city of New York who make a business of procuring men by fraudulent means as sailors for foreign ships, and that in consequence of this many men are shipped on foreign vessels who are utterly unfit and unprepared for such service, and who, when discharged in a foreign port are absolutely helpless.

He adds "that a great number of stranded Americans present themselves at his consulate for help. These men, unless cared for, must suffer and miserably in their tramp life in India. Some of them deserve assistance from the consulate, while others do not. I have now here three deserving Americans who have been unfortunately: two of them Henry Mauger, of Bay City, Mich., and Charles Brown, of Santiago, Cal., young men for whom I have, after great effort, secured employment.

"Another is named George Hudson, of New York City, also stranded American, who came from South Africa to Bombay, and for whom I secured assistance at the Stranger's Home. He has no prospect of getting work. It is next to impossible to secure working passage on a vessel from this port. By reason of the low wages obtainable in India and the competition of native labor, a stranded American in destitute circumstances finds himself in the face of starvation and the plague, and in a most helpless condition."—Washington Post.

Treasures From a Sunk Vessel.

With the sanction of the Turkish Government a party of Greeks have lately commenced to search the bottom of the sea near Chios, where in 1770, at the battle of Chesme, the whole Turkish fleet was destroyed and the Russian flagship sunk. The divers have met with good success and will, despite the large surface which the Turkish Government has reserved for itself, obtain a considerable profit.

At a depth of 30 fathoms the Russian flag was found, which contained a large amount of gold and silver coins. So far $60,000 worth of them have been recovered, but it is expected that much more is contained in the wreck. A Turkish vessel is at anchor where the divers are working, and every bag of money brought up is at once examined as to its contents and the amount noted down. The coins, however, are not the only articles of value found, as gold and silver crosses, jeweled ornaments and a large book, consisting throughout of gold and richly ornamented with precious stones, were also recovered.—Jeweler's Circular.

Names of Denmark's Kings.

Denmark's kings for 384 years have all been named Christian or Frederick. This is not the result of accident. It is the law of Denmark that Christian must be succeeded by Frederick and Frederick by Christian. To attain this, and without the changing of names, every Danish Prince, no matter what other names he may receive, always includes Christian and Frederick among them.—Ti-Bits.

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and cleanses the system. THE MATCH TRUST TO HAVE A COM PETITOR.

After having enjoyed practically a monopoly of the match trade for a long time, the Diamond Match Company, in which Edwin Gould is one of the heaviest stockholders, is about to encounter a competitor, which, it is expected, will cut heavily into the business which the Match Trust has heretofore been able to control. The American Match Machine Company is the name of the new rival of the Trust. The fact that the Trust has millions of dollars of capital at its command to fight and destroy, if possible, any competitors that might arise to seek a share of the match trade of the United States and part of Europe has in no way deterred the capitalists who are back of the new company from entering the field. For private reasons many of the wealthy men interested are averse to having their identity revealed at this time, but it is said they are fully prepared to expend millions of dollars in the effort to obtain a large part of the business of the Diamond Match Company.

GETTYSBURG. SILK NEWS.

In the early part of October, 1899, we made contracts with a leading Importer in Japanese Silks for an extraordinary quantity for Spring, which to our mind and by subsequent investigation has proven to be at very advantageous prices. Dame Fashion has recommended them as the proper silk fabric for for utility, beauty and comfort in hot weather, as well as (the novelties of which there are many) for Fancy Dress and Evening Waists. We place them on sale at once, in order to make a quick turnover at a small profit on goods that are now positively scarce in Importers hands and much higher priced than they were when we contracted. The style range includes every color in greatest variety of Corded, printed and Plain.

The price is from 25c for the old Corded Kai Kais—in New Cords and Colors up to 50c and 75c for Novelties.

All washable, and serviceable beyond any other silk fabric known to the trade at the price.

New Fancy and Plain Silks.

Having every reason to believe that this Spring Season of 1900 will be the banner year for Silk Wearing—and seeing the tendency for some time past, of much higher prices we made our plans long ago to capture the silk selling for this community. Details are difficult because of the variety. We can only say that all the New Pastel Shades, as well as all the colors you are acquainted with are here.

Plain Taffetas, same quality and width as formerly—50c and 75c. Striped and Plaid Taffetas at 75c and 85c. Corded Taffetas—in richest of color combinations, stripes 75c and $1.00. The Newest Lace Stripe Taffetas $1.00 and $1.25.

BLACK SILKS

Rich Satin Duchesse in 22 to 27 in. wide, 79c, 80c, $1, $1.25. Black Taffeta, yarn dyed, will not cut, 21 in. wide, 90c—27 in Taffeta, rich, crisp $1.—22 in. rich, lustrous and crisp, 75c.

Make comparisons with others after having seen these.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

It is said that successful experiments have at last been accomplished in wireless telegraphy, and this would undoubtedly be a good thing, and revolutionize many ways of doing business. One writer has gone so far as to say that wireless telegraphy is the greatest discovery of the age. We beg to differ. Don't overlook Hostetter's Stomach Bitters when you talk about the great things of the world. This peerless medicine has done more to promote health and settle stomach troubles than any other medicine in existence. It cures dyspepsia, indigestion, malaria and constipation. It never fails. Try it, and be sure and get the genuine, with Private Revenue Stamp over the neck of bottle. Don't let the druggist gain off a "substitute."

SUFFOCATED BY GAS.

Mrs. Catherine Hyder was found at her home on East Main street, this place, sitting on a chair in an unconscious condition, at about 5 o'clock last evening, by Miss Hannah Gillean. Mrs. Hyder was asphyxiated by the inhalation of coal gas which had escaped from a coal stove. Mrs. Hyder had evidently been under the influence of gas several hours before she was found. About 1 o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Gillean rapped at Mrs. Hyder's window, on her way up street, but received no answer. As Miss Gillean was returning to her home at 3 o'clock, she again stopped at Mrs. Hyder's window, and looking into the room, saw Mrs. Hyder sitting on a chair. She called to her, but received no answer, and as Mrs. Hyder had often told her she could rest comfortably in a chair, and thinking she was taking a nap, no further effort was made to secure her attention.

As already stated Miss Gillean went to call on Mrs. Hyder at 5 o'clock. Finding the front door locked, she went to the back door, and upon opening it detected gas, and going into the room found Mrs. Hyder in an unconscious condition. An alarm was given and medical aid was secured. The doctors worked with Mrs. Hyder all night. At 3 o'clock this morning Mrs. Hyder showed the first signs of rallying, by moving her hands and head, and making unsuccessful efforts to speak. Her condition is slowly improving and it is thought she will recover. At the hour of going to press this morning Mrs. Hyder is still unable to speak. Mrs. Hyder is an aged lady, and the widow of the late Isaac Hyder, deceased. Her children have been notified by telegraph.

TRIDUUM AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

Last Sunday morning, the first, the magnificent Triduum opened at St. Joseph's. Last Tuesday evening it closed with the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The success of the devotions was something extraordinary, and were beyond the hopeful expectations of the Fathers of St. Joseph's. The Triduum was attended with the most satisfactory results, and has equalled the most successful mission ever given here, about five hundred souls having approached the Sacraments.

Every service was crowded, many coming from a long distance and with great inconveniences. The devotion of so many men and women and their deep interest in what they saw and heard, are strong evidences of their intense conviction of the blessings and necessity of religion.

Much of the success of the Triduum can be attributed to the strong and powerful speakers who conducted these imposing exercises. The object of the Triduum was explained in the opening sermon Sunday morning. Sunday evening Rev. E. F. McWeeny, S. T. D., in a scholarly and decisive discourse established "The Sovereignty of Christ over the Soul." Monday evening, Rev. J. J. Tierney, D. D., in a beautiful sermon convinced his hearers of "The Sovereignty of Christ over the Family." Tuesday evening Rev. D. J. Flynn, LL. D., with powerful and well knit arguments shattered false notions and standards of belief, and showed that the only salvation for men is "The Sovereignty of Christ over Society."

PARENT AND CHILDREN REUNITED.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 1.—Alvin Stump, a wealthy ranch owner of Montana, has been reunited with his daughters, Mrs. Geo. D. Keyser and Miss Virginia Stump, of Hagerstown, whom he left when they were a year or two old. Stump went West to make his fortune, and he recently returned to Hagerstown. He hunted up his daughters and paid them several visits, but carefully concealed his identity. He told them he was from Montana and knew their father well. He aroused their suspicions by remarks made concerning their early life and the secret finally leaked out, and then there was a joyful reunion between the long lost father and his daughters, whom he now intends to care for and surround them with every comfort.

THE miners of the Sinclair Mining Company, Barton, Allegany county, where machines are employed, have struck. They have been receiving 42 cents a ton, and demand 48 cents. The miners of the Austin Mines, near Newburg, Va., are also out. They have been receiving 35 cents a car of 1800 pounds, and demand 50 cents for draft mining and 60 cents for headings.

EIGHT year-old Harvey Bond was arrested on the charge of running off with a wagon, and given a hearing at the Central Police Station, Baltimore. The lad was once badly burned, having frog legs grafted into his own limb, and his mother stated that he would sometimes leave his home and could not find his way back again.

REPRESENTATIVE George A. Peatte has accepted an invitation from Reynolds Post, G. A. A BRICKLAYERS and hod-carriers' union will be organized at Cumberland and will ask for a restoration of old prices. The bricklayers, now receiving an average of $3, will demand a nine-hour day and $3.50, with eight hours on Saturday. The hod-carriers will want $2, an increase of 25 cents.

CRUSHED BY A TRIAN.

The mangled remains of a man, supposed to be Mr. C. E. Dunn, of Keyser, Va., were found lying between the North and South tracks of the B. & O. Railroad about one mile west of Frederick Junction Monday night.

At about 6 o'clock the station master at Frederick Junction was notified by a conductor of an eastbound freight, that a dead man was lying near the track a short distance up the road. Mr. Wm. T. Mullinix was immediately notified by telegraph, and he notified the authorities. Justice White and Constable Brust, in company with the undertakers, went out to the Junction and found the man lying on his face with his head toward the East. Justice White had the clothes on the body searched and in the pockets were found two handkerchiefs, one of which had the name C. E. Dunn on the hem; a looking glass and comb-case, a box of capsules, a pen-knife, a receipt from Mr. T. Tabler, of Martinsburg, Va., to Mr. C. E. Dunn, and $13.67 in a pocket-book.

The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of A. T. Rice & Sons, where an examination was made. It was found that the skull was mashed to a jelly, the right arm was torn from the socket and the right leg was horribly cut and mangled. It could not be ascertained whether or not he was walking on the track when killed or fell from the top of a freight which passed shortly before he was discovered. In looking under the hat band Mr. Rice found a piece of paper on which was written: "Bertie Akers, Keyser, Va.—C. E. Dunn, Keyser, Va. Va. Compliments of a friend, September 10, Sunday." On the back of the paper was written the name of Nellie Akers, Keyser, Va.

The man was 5 feet, 6 inches tall, and probably weighed 140 pounds.

HARNEY ITEMS.

HARNEY, Md., April 4.—Flittings are now the order of the day. Sometimes there are as many as six at one time in our little town.

Mr. Luther Hiltbrich has moved into his new home and is putting quite a different aspect on affairs. He has built a new henery and is giving his house quite an interior renovation. We need more people with the improvement spirit around this place.

Mr. Albert Shoemaker has moved to his new residence and will begin building an addition to his house, which will improve the place greatly.

Mr. Henry Kemper has bought part of the Rock Creek Methodist Chapel and will remove it here and use it for a stable.

The Lutheran Sunday School was reorganized on last Sunday, at which time were elected the following officers for the year: Supt. Mr. Morris Bishop; Assistant, Mr. H. O. Harner; Secretary, Mr. D. J. Hesson; Librarian, Miss Hattie Harner; Assistant, Miss Annie Spangler; Treasurer, Mr. J. T. Ohler. Mr. Elmer S. Mull and Miss Florence R. Stanb took upon themselves the marriage vows, last week. Young friends you have our best wishes.

Mr. Abe Ridinger has purchased Andrew Stonestree's feed store and will run it as usual.

Look out for our band when spring opens. They have a new uniform and a new wagon.

Several of our young men are getting new teams this spring. They way it looks they mean business. Look out girls!

Miss Lillie B. Valentine spent Sunday last in Harney.

Mr. Calvin Nan and wife are here from Littlestown, enjoying a flitting.

Mr. Pots Thompson has moved from pietry row up to Christian avenue, where he thinks of spending the remainder of his life.

GREENMOUNT ITEMS.

The removals in this vicinity are as follows: Mr. John Eiker, from Geo. Null's house to his own house; Mr. Amos Weikert from his lot to Wm. Bigham's house along the Ridge road; W. Hensel from York, Pa., to Geo. Null's house; Cal. Fair from J. Bigham's farm to the old Harner lot; Daniel Steiner from J. Bigham's tenant house to the farm vacated by C. Fair; Susan Fournery, from near Gettysburg to A. Weikert's lot; Charles Black from O. Lookenbaugh's lot to Abe Scott's lot; Luther Hospelforum from home to Sherman Sites' lot; John Bowers from the Ridge to Stony Branch; John Shank from F. White's house to Emmitsburg.

Mr. D. G. Wood, of York, Pa., is home on a visit.

The proposed rural free mail delivery through Adams county, is the general talk, but many are opposed to it, claiming that a great many live-off the road too far to be benefited by the new system. How would an electric bell be to call the out of way farmers, upon the arrival of mail at their closest point? The postoffice along the route will be open as usual, for a time, at least.

Mr. James Harner is suffering considerably with cancer on his ear.

"I think DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills in the world," says W. E. Lake, Happy Creek, Va. They remove all obstructions of the liver and bowels, act quickly and never gripe. T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

ROBBED THE POOR BOX.

It was recently found that the poor box in St. John's Catholic Church, Frederick, was being robbed. Contributions are taken from the box at the end of each month, and it was not unusual to find $5 and $10 bills, besides many smaller notes, in the box, which was located in the vestibule. Of late, however, no notes had been found in the box, which resulted in a close watch being kept. It is said a young man was detected robbing the box, but, as the amount was made good, his identity was not revealed.

In extracting notes from the box it was found that the thief used a small piece of stiff wire coated with glue, which he would insert in the small opening, stir it around, then pull out the money which adhered.

NEW YORK CITY TO CIENFUEGOS, CUBA.

EDITOR OF CHRONICLE.—On March 13, we left pier 22, Brooklyn. Weather quite cold. Furs and thick wraps necessary to make us comfortable. At 2.30 P. M., we sailed out a very rough sea. A number of us became victims of that horrible disease—sea sickness—the result of a rough sea. The next morning we made a bold attempt to get up and enjoy breakfast, which was served at 8 o'clock. After breakfast, on deck, some of us felt as though we cared little whether the ship continued to move or sink. However, we managed to exist.

On Thursday, the 15th, at 7 P. M., we passed the Jupiter Light House, and in a short time the Florida coast loomed up before us. We sailed in sight of land until Friday morning. Passed Palm Beach Hotel, which was beautifully illuminated, and Ponce de Leon, nearby, also burnt signal lights of different colors, as our boat passed by. We left the Florida coast Friday morning, taking a direct course to the Island of Cuba.

We arrived in Matanzas harbor Saturday, March 17, at 6 P. M. We were not allowed to go ashore until the Quartermaster Inspector came out, which was not until 8 o'clock Sunday morning. By this time furs and wraps were declared a nuisance, the thermometer ranging from 88 to 92 degrees. We went ashore at 10 A. M., carrying wraps, etc. We were met by Major Ives, in Cuban style, with a two-seated wagon, drawn by two mules. A Cuban negro, who drove the team, lashed the mules with all his strength every two steps. Major Ives is a Virginian, and lives here with his family during the winter or rainy season, which is six months. We ate breakfast at 12 M., in a Cuban restaurant. We have only two meals daily, that is, breakfast at 12 M., and dinner at 6 P. M.

The food is prepared and served quite different from our method. Beef steak garnished with potatoes and garlic, and onions served with all meals. Soda water 10 cents Spanish money, or 8 cents American money. The American dollar is equal to $2.25 in Spanish money.

We visited the Botanic Gardens, plucked roses, orange blossoms, flowers and tropical fruit of all kinds. The coconut is a very lofty tree, also bananas, figs, dates, etc.

Sunday evening we went to the Carnival, which they have every Sunday. The carnival consists of natives dressed in gaudy and some in gorgeous gowns, with masks, and they promenade around the plaza or drive in carriages through the streets. At 11 o'clock they gather in Palace Hall and spend the balance of the night dancing. The Cuban sleeps the greater part of the day.

There were four trained nurses who left New York on the 13th, of whom two were retained in Matanzas, while the other two were detailed to Cienfuegos, which is on the extreme Southern coast.

At 1.30 A. M., on Monday, we left Matanzas by boat, and landed in Havana harbor at 9 A. M., Monday, in sight of the ruins of the Battleship Maine, and also of Moro Castle on the hill.

We visited public buildings and a number of interesting places. Houses are one-story high with large court yards in the rear with beautiful flowers and palms growing. The ceilings are very high; windows full length, no glass in them, but shades are used that can be pushed open from either side. Each window is covered with thick iron bars, like our prisons.

On Tuesday, March 20, we left Havana Harbor for Cienfuegos, at which place we arrived Thursday morning at 9.30 o'clock. Here we were met by several representatives detailed from each of the hospitals, with horses, carriages, etc. More modern here—horses instead of mules. We were taken to Hotel Continental, where we will remain until suitable apartments can be arranged for us in our respective hospitals. The floors are bare, beds are enveloped in beautiful lace canopies.

First impression of hospital not favorable, but all modern improvements possible at my disposal. I hope to give a more favorable report of hospital later on. Capacity of hospital, 450 to 500. At present there are 375 patients here, men and women, and all natives. The dusky colored population with their sneaking voices does not give one a very favorable impression.

Very respectfully,
M. J. BYERS.
