THIS IS A MAN'S METHOD.

Uis Way of Making a Carpet Batgain While His Wife Was Away,

"I want both my upper and lower halls reearpeted," was the remark Charles J. Jones of East Walnut Hills made to a well known carpet man. "And I'm going to move out of the house until you finish the work! I'M want to surprise her upon her return. There is only one condition to this bar-

"All right!" said the carpet man. And Charles Jones staid away from home for two days, while the carpet hammers, and he hugged himself as he thought of the surprise that was in store for his wife when she returned. Last Thursday the carpet man called Jones up by telephone and announced that the carpet was laid.

"It's a dark green!" said the carpet

"I'm glad of that!" answered Jones. "And as small a figure as is consistent with the carpet!" roared the carpet

"I'm gladder than ever!" said Jones. That evening he visited his home and was satisfied that the carpet was a peach. The next morning he met the carpet man.

"How much do I owe you?" inquired

"It is $98.65," said the carpet dealer. "What!" yelled Jones. "Why, on the border of the carpet!" said the amazed dealer. "It's a morning You've got a bargain at that figure!"-Philadelphia Inquirer.

The middle of the largest room in the camp is cleared. Two men are securedrawn lots for the first whack, they in his left another leather strap, or a on it. The latter strap, being kept taut by the combatants, guarantees a uniform distance between them. They are quite near enough to hurt each other severely, which not infrequently happens.

Now, the man who has been lucky enough to draw the first call shouts, "Jack, where be ye?" to which his opponent must immediately answer, strikes at the place where he imagines he saw that gilt ball, he'd put up at the gilt ball, the rooster, the compass posture. Then she spoke. 'Poor old his adversary to be with the heavy the tavern and feel safe and go away p'ints and the angel, and each one de Jim,' she quietly said, 'he's tumbled leather strap. If he hits his man, he is entitled to another blow-may call out again, "Jack, where be ye?" and the other must answer, "Here I be." This is continued till the first man misses, when he must take his turn at being struck.

The others form a ring around the two combatants, bets are made, and each faction encourages and applauds its chosen man. There are regular rounds, and the game is usually kept up until one or the other has had enough or perhaps till one is carried off the scene wounded. Hard heads can stand hard knocks, and volunteers for the sport are numerous. At the beginning there is generally no malice. A hard blow is struck-it is expectedit is the game. But it occasionally happens that the game develops into a fierce duel.—Pearson's.

CLOSE FIGURING.

How a Woman Upheld Her Reputation For Economy.

She was the wife of an official of a St. Paul street corporation. Her one pet hobby was economy. Though her husband made an excellent salary, she was rigid in her rules pertaining to the buying of the necessaries for the household. She would haunt bargain counters and market stalls for hours in order to get the benefit of a reduction of a few cents on the article desired.

The corporation official, with much laughter, used to tease his better half about what he called her "stinginess." So one day, feeling hurt at his ridicule, she resolved to take him to market with her and demonstrate beyond a doubt that she was a most economical buyer. He consented, stipulating that he was not to be asked to carry the basket.
