THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY

"I came very near catching the biggest man I ever saw this morning," said the shark. He was fully 10 feet tall and must have weighed at least 500 pounds. I was about to nab him when a dinky electric launch dashed between us and he got away. Tough luck wasn't it?"

"Tough luck nothing!" replied the sea serpent. "Say, if you don't change the brand of salt water that's now trickling through your system pretty soon you'll have the 'jimmies.' The men stories you have been getting off lately are something fierce."—Chicago News.

She—"You know there is a rule prohibiting perishable things to be transmitted through the mail."—Yonkers Statesman.

TOOK HIM LITERALLY.

"Bank clerks are so often called upon for directions that they sometimes fall into the habit of giving them in a hurried and mechanical manner, consequently they are frequently misunderstood," remarked the clerk of a savings institution to a reporter the other day. "For instance, the usual formula when a stranger is called upon to sign his name is, 'Sign here; pen and ink at your left hand.' One morning last week a stranger entered our bank and asked me for a certificate of deposit for a considerable sum of money which he handed over. I counted the money and found the amount to be as stated and hurriedly said, 'Sign here, sir; pen and ink at your left hand.'"

"Well, it took the stranger a long time to sign his name, but I thought nothing more of it and issued the certificate of deposit. About a week later the same man, whose face I had forgotten, reappeared and presented the certificate. He dashed off an ornate signature, which I proceeded to compare with the first signature. The two were vastly different, as the first one was apparently the labored effort of an old man.

"I can't pay you this money, sir," I said.

"Why not?" asked the astonished stranger.

"Because it is not the signature of the man to whom I issued the certificate of deposit," I replied.

"Well," said the stranger, "when I was here a week ago you told me to write my name with my left hand, and I did so, but I can't write very well that way."

"Then will you oblige me by writing your name with your right hand again," I asked as a light dawned upon me.

"Certainly," said the man, and after much labor he produced a facsimile of his first signature, and I apologized and paid him his money."—Washington Star.

Tea plants at the age of 7 years yield 700 pounds of tea to the acre.

The date palm requires a hot, dry air, but moisture about the roots and plenty of it.

FINICKY TURKISH LADIES.

They Are Very Careful About What They Take In Their Hands.

Our Constantinople correspondent writes: It is not generally known that there exists among Turkish ladies of high class a kind of caste feeling similar to that prevailing among Hindoos. It takes the form of a fear of contamination from the outer world and is only observed, as far as I know, by those who cannot afford to keep servants in sufficient numbers. Before meals ladies always wash their hands at a tap from which the water runs into a marble basin. They will turn on the tap when they are just going to wash, but when they have finished they let the water run till somebody shuts it off, as to do it themselves would make them unclean. They cannot open or shut a door, as the handle would be unclean, so a slave is generally kept handy for the purpose.

One of these fastidious ladies was talking to a small niece the other day who had just received a present of a beautiful doll from Paris. The child presently laid the doll on the lady's lap, who was horrified and ordered the child to take it away. As the little girl would not move it and no servant was near, and the lady would be defiled by touching a doll that was brought from abroad, the only thing she could think of was to jump up and let the doll fall, which broke to pieces. The same lady will not open a letter coming by post, but a servant opens it and holds it near her for her to read. If her handkerchief falls to the ground, it is immediately destroyed or given away, so that she should not use it again. This curious state of exclusiveness or fanaticism exists, I am told, in many of the large harems. Among men it is not practiced.—London Telegraph.

There are records of elephants that have lived for 200 years, and an age of 150 years is not regarded as so very old for an elephant. It takes about a quarter of a century to get the elephant to full maturity.

A French anatomist has analyzed the skeletons of 86 chimpanzees, gorillas and orang outangs and asserts that he has found in them bone diseases like those which afflict mankind and in about the same proportion.

He Was Satisfied.

A farmer entered an office in central New York and sent this message to a woman in Canada: "Will you be my wife? Please answer quick by telegraph." Although he waited the rest of the day, he got no answer, but the next morning he got a night dispatch, sent collect, but favorable. The operator in expressing his sympathy said, "Little rough to keep you in suspense so long."

"Look a-here, sonny," the farmer remarked, "I'll stand all the suspense. Any woman that'll hold back her answer all day to a proposal of marriage, jest so that she kin send it half rate at night, is economical enough to make up after I git her for all the loss of time and injury to feelin's I've suffered waitin'!"—Exchange.

Icebergs.

The captain of an ocean steamer is often warned of the proximity of icebergs by the men in the engine room. When a ship enters water considerably colder than that through which it has been going its propeller runs faster, and as such water surrounds the vicinity of icebergs for many miles the engineers know when the propeller's action is greatly accelerated without any increase of the steam power icebergs may be expected. Of course the thermometer is the most useful indicator of icebergs.

Two Calamitous Fires.

The two most calamitous fires ever known anywhere in the world occurred in the United States within 13 months of each other. In the first of these, in Chicago, on Oct. 8, 1871, the property loss was $200,000,000, and in the second, in Boston, Nov. 9, 1872, $80,000,000 of property was consumed. In Chicago 100,000 persons were left without homes and 200 were killed. Chicago's heads the list of the world's destructive conflagrations.

Relieved.

"That must be a pretty bad toothache to swell your face like that. Why don't you see a dentist?"

"You must be mistaken. Pullen has been out of town for a week."

"I know. I felt relieved when I found that out."—Philadelphia Press.

DRIVEN TO MADNESS.

TIMES WHEN AN EXCESS OF JOY IS LINKED WITH INSANITY.

Some of the Saddest Cases of Lunacy Are Those Where the Mind Is Unable to Stand the Shock of Sudden Good Tidings.

It is no exaggeration to assert, said an asylum doctor of long and varied experience, that there are scores of men and women in our asylums who have literally been sent there through excess of joy. Many of these cases which are, in my opinion, the saddest of all have come under my own observation.

I remember in the very first asylum with which I was connected one of the patients was a strikingly handsome and very well educated man, who was as sane as you or I except on one point. He was really a man of considerable wealth, but his delusion was that he was a pauper, and he would tell the most pitiful tales of his destitution, begging, with tears in his eyes, for a few coppers with which to buy bread.

According to the story told me, he was the only son of a wealthy merchant among evil companions and had fallen into such a dissolute life that his father not only threatened to disinherit him, but forbade him ever to enter his house again. After that he seems to have sunk into the lowest depths of poverty until he was glad to earn a few coppers by selling papers or matches in the streets.

It was at this last and lowest stage that news came to him that his father had died intestate and that he was heir to all his vast fortune. The sudden news completely turned the man's brain and brought on such a condition of excitement that he had to be sent to an asylum, and when he calmed down again he had lost all recollection of his good fortune, and nothing can shake his delusion that he is on the verge of starvation.

Another patient in the same asylum was a young and in his lucid moments a most intelligent fellow, whose "brain was turned," as the saying is, on learning that he had passed an examination. He had sat for the matriculation examination at the University of London, on passing which he had set his heart and had asked a friend in London to wire the result as soon as the names were screened at Burlington House.

About three weeks later came a fatal telegram, "Failed—sorry," which sent the young man into the lowest depths of despair, for he was too old to sit again. Not many hours later, however, came another telegram, "Passed honors—very sorry cruel so great did not see name this morning." The revulsion of feeling was so great that the student's reason gave way, and he became so violent in his excitement that he had to be confined. Fortunately he was not with us long and is now, I am glad to know, doing very well as a sufferer.

Disappointed love sends many people to asylums, but it is very seldom that success in wooing drives a man mad. It had this strange effect, however, on one of my late patients. The girl he loved had gone out to India to keep house for her brother before he had screwed up his courage to the point of proposing to her, but an offer followed by mail very quickly after her.

Weeks and months passed, and no answer came to the impatient lover until, after waiting two years in despair, he became engaged to a girl who had nothing but her money bags to recommend her and for whom he had not a particle of love. Scarcely, however, was his fate sealed than he received the long despatch of letter from India, accepting his offer and explaining that the girl's brother had received and mislaid the letter, which had only just been found and had come into her hands.

Within an hour of the receipt of this letter the man was a raving maniac, and although his condition improved I doubt whether he will ever recover his reason.

In another remarkable case it was the joy at seeing her husband again that robbed a lady patient of her reason. Her husband was the captain of a merchant ship which was reported to have gone down with all hands. The widow had deeply mourned her husband for nearly a year, when one day on returning from a walk she found him sitting in the drawing room as hale and robust as ever.

With a shriek she fell unconscious on the floor, and when she recovered her reason was gone. It seems that her husband, after floating for some time, had been picked up by a passing "tramp" and had been landed on the west coast of Africa, from which he had returned home by the first available vessel.—London Tit-Bits.

'Tis Different in England.

"I suppose it's all right for Americans who visit Europe to talk with an English accent when they come home," reflected Uncle Allen Sparks, "but you never hear of any Englishmen talking through their noses and saying 'I guess' after they have spent a season in the United States and gone back home."—Chicago Tribune.

Hope.

"Say, pop, I've got to write a composition on 'Hope.' What is 'Hope,' anyway?"

LINE OF THE FACE.

THEIR RELATION TO THE BEARD-AND THE MUSTACHE.

A Knowledge of Drawing on the Part of Men, Says a Woman Artist, Would Have the Effect of Enhancing Masculine Good Looks.

"A knowledge of drawing on the part of men would have the effect of increasing their good looks," said a lady teacher of that art recently, "and it would make presentable many a man whose appearance is not calculated to excite admiration. It sounds an odd combination, drawing and beauty, does it not? Nevertheless it is a fact."

To the natural request for an explanation she replied:

"The first principles of drawing are geometrical lines and curves. These lines and curves occur in everything. A potter in criticising an ugly shaped jug will most probably tell you that its 'lines' are bad. Most of those who dabble in drawing and gain certificates merely learn to make these lines and curves without acquiring the slightest knowledge of their effect."

"Here is an example. Just take this pencil and draw a face. Oh, anything will do! But be sure to make two straight lines over the eyes for eyebrows. That's it. See how serious that expression is?"

"Now rub out those straight lines and in their places make two curves with the ends upward. That face has an expression of intense surprise, hasn't it? If you had made curved eyebrows with the ends down in the first instance, the difference between the two would have been more striking."

"Well, the human face has its 'lines,' and by studying them our men could improve their appearance. The most elementary expedient is to adapt the mustache and beard to the lines of the face, and I must here tell you that 'lines' in technical language include both straight and curves. Such an expedient is within the reach of all, and there is no need for me to remind you that the whiskers make a tremendous difference in a man's appearance."

"Take a man with an aquiline nose, clear cut features and broad brow, then imagine this individual with a long, drooping mustache; why, it accentuates the wide 'droop' of the face and spoils it. Such a man should have a small pointed beard and a mustache with ends pointing slightly upward."

"The exact opposite is also frequently met with. A man with features that have a distinct upward tendency will wear a mustache with ends that are turned up and so long that they seem to be thinking of joining the eyebrows. Men with mustaches that display an inclination to grow long ends think that these ends should be permitted to grow and that they must be trained upward. That strikes them as the only proper way. But to suit the lines of the face these ends should in many cases be cut off, and in others they ought to be trained downward."

"Whiskers, again, are allowed to grow whether they suit the face or not. Often a fine, vigorous, manly face is contradicted by an insipid little mustache worn over a firm, clear cut mouth, the expression of which it does much to alter. It is quite a pity to see such fine lines spoiled in that way. The wearer cultivates the hirsute appendage merely because it is the fashion for men to have a mustache. You talk about women being slaves to Dame Fashion, but in the matter of your whiskers you men are worse slaves than we are to dress!"

"Now don't run away with the notion that I advocate general shaving. Some men who are clean shaven ought not to be. The lines of their faces supply the material for a fine, manly appearance. It requires a strong, very intellectual face to do without beard or mustache. The latter is an absolute necessity for hiding the bad lines of some months that would if left totally uncovered spoil the whole face."

"Women as a rule are more careful of their lines and choose hats and other things to match. Men also study their dress more than the hair on their faces, but a knowledge of drawing would correct many mistakes in hats, collars and other masculine accessories."

"In the matter of color we rather pass from the domain of drawing and mere 'lines' and trespass into the realm of painting, but I cannot resist saying that both men and women, especially the former, would be all the better looking if they knew more about the blending of colors, because they would not then choose hues which do not harmonize with their complexions. I have known a man with red hair to wear a red because red ties were fashionable!"

"We are all going in for art and the beautiful nowadays, and you men are not handsome as a body. You could make yourselves more handsome by attending to such easily managed details as I have pointed out. See that your sons learn drawing."—Pearson's Weekly.

Applied Christianity.

Tommy had been quiet for fully five minutes. He seemed to be engaged with some deep problem.

"Papa," he said.

"Well?"

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you—that's the golden rule, isn't it, papa?"

"Yes, my son."

"And it's perfectly right to follow the golden rule, isn't it, papa?"

"Yes, indeed."

Tommy rose, went to the cupboard and returned with a knife and a large apple pie. The latter he placed before his astonished sire with great solemnity.

"Eat it, papa," he said.—San Francisco Bulletin.

THE MOTHER WON OUT.

RICHMOND VA., Oct. 22.—A mother stealing the bridegroom from her own daughter is the remarkable story, the particulars of which have just been revealed by a marriage near Durham, N. C.

The happy bride was formerly Mrs. Annie Cole, aged thirty-five years. The groom is Luther Bowles, twenty-five years of age, and the disconsolate maiden is the pretty fifteen-year-old daughter of the bride. Bowles and the girl had been sweethearts for months and had determined to marry, but a license could not be secured without the consent of the widow, and that she resolutely declined to give, alleging that her daughter was too young to marry. Finally, however, after she had been many times importuned, she gave Bowles a note to the Clerk of the County Court, who duly issued the license. The would-be bridegroom returned joyfully to the home of the sweetheart, believing that every obstacle had been swept away, but to his dismay he found that the widow had changed her mind. She called the couple before her and lectured them on the folly of youthful marriage, finally wringing from both a reluctant promise to wait for a year.

Bowles made an ineffectual attempt to return the license and get the money back, but to this the clerk would not agree. A few days afterward, however, the paper was changed by the insertion of the name of the girl's mother, who soon thereafter became the wife of Bowles. The bride is a handsome woman and Bowles is said to be satisfied with the change.—Balto. Sun.

TWO THINGS in the treatment of nasal catarrh are now fully understood. First: the drying process is a delusion that produces more mischief than benefit. Second: science, common sense and experience proclaim ELY'S CREAM BALM to be instant relief, and final, certain cure. It cleanses the diseased membranes and never makes the patient sneeze. Price 50 cents. Sold by druggists and by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Admiral Bunce's death, while sudden, was not entirely unexpected. Last May cancer of the tongue developed and an operation in Boston resulted in the removal of the Rear Admiral's tongue. In September the disease attacked the throat, and the patient grew weaker from that time, fighting a hopeless battle with the courage that characterized the man.

Rear Admiral Francis Marion Bunce was born in Hartford, Conn., on December 25, 1836. He graduated from the Naval Academy in 1857 and was made a lieutenant in 1861. He became a lieutenant commander in 1863, a commander in 1871, a captain in 1883, a commodore in 1893 and a rear admiral in 1898. He was retired on account of the age limit in December of that year. During the Civil War he was executive officer of the Penobscot and was in the blockading fleet off Wilmington, N. C. Later he served on the Pawnee and had charge of the naval part in the attack and capture of Morris Island, S. C. He was with the vessels that besieged Charleston and was wounded in 1863. In 1865-66 he took the monitor Monadnock from Philadelphia to San Francisco—the first extended sea voyage ever made by a monitor. His wife before her marriage was Miss Mary E. Ball, of Hartford, Conn.

CONSUMPTION OF SUGAR IN THIS COUNTRY.

As a good deal has recently been appeared in print regarding the consumption of sugar in this country, the various sources from which it is obtained, the amount of duty paid thereon, etc., the following facts and figures from Messrs. Willett & Gray, Sugar Statisticians, and publishers of the Weekly Statistical Sugar Trade Journal, will, we believe, be of interest to our readers:

"The total consumption of sugar in the United States last year was 2,219,847 tons, and based on the average increase of 6.34 per cent. during the past 19 years, the consumption this year should be 2,360,585 tons. Of this quantity 1,000,000 tons in round figures will come from American sources, say Louisiana being able to produce 350,000 tons, United States beet factories 150,000, Hawaii 350,000 and Porto Rico 150,000, all being free of duty, leaving 1,360,585 tons to come from other sources and on which duty is paid. The average duty assessed is $36 per ton, or a total of $48,981,060. The price of all the sugar consumed, however, being enhanced to the extent of the duty of $36 per ton or a total of $84,581,060, it is evident that $36,000,000 additional is paid by the people in order to provide the Government with 49 millions for revenue, of which the Government is not now in need. If the duty is taken off Cuba sugar, the benefit of 85 millions goes to the people."

"On October 8th, the quotation for Cuba Centrifugal Sugar, 96° test, free on board Cuba was 1.96c. per pound, duty on same amounts to 1.085c.—equivalent to 86 per cent. ad valorem."

WHEN you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat, and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

MONUMENT AT VALLEY FORGE. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—The first monument erected at Valley Forge in honor of the Revolutionary soldiers who died there during the winter of 1777-1778 was unveiled and dedicated today by the Daughters of the Revolution. The principal speakers were Governor Stone, Senator Penrose, Peter Boyd of Philadelphia, and Miss A. W. Sterling, president general of the Daughters of the Revolution.

The monument is a handsome obelisk of granite 50 feet high, and at its base appear two bronze panels, one containing the seal of the Society and the other representing a scene of camp life at Valley Forge. Above these the original colonial flag, with 13 stars, has been carried in the shaft. The inscription reads: "To the Soldiers of Washington's Army Who Sleep in Valley Forge, 1777-78."

BACKACHE should never be neglected. It means kidney disorder which, if allowed to run too long, may result in Bright's disease, diabetes or other serious and often fatal complaints. FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE makes the kidneys well. T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

WHITE TENTS HAVE DISAPPEARED FOREVER.

The Army is now in possession of a khaki cloth for uniforms, which is proof against sun, washing and perspiration, so far as color goes, according to a statement in the annual report of Acting Quartermaster General Kimball. But the cotton khaki-dyed shirts have not proved a success, and some shirts are being made for trial of woolen material. For tropical use the army blanket is now being made lighter than the old standard. The white tents have gone for all time, and khaki-dyed tentage is the rule in the Army now. No more white tents will be purchased. Last year, $1,475,729 was expended for brooms, mops and wagons, and there were shipped to the Philippines and China, 4,881 cavalry horses, 4,337 horses for mounted infantry, 252 artillery horses, 3,518 draft mules and 765 pack mules. The report deals at length with the transport service, and points out that experience has developed skill in handling and shipping animals so that the losses now are very small.

OUR SAILORS IN LUCK.

Surgeon General of the Navy Van Reppen in his annual report says that the large proportion of our naval force which has been employed in the waters in the Philippine Islands during the past fiscal year has been notably free from epidemic diseases, and that with the exception of Cayote fever, the diseases with which patients have been admitted to the Cavite Hospital have been those that would have occurred in any Southern climate. Admiral van Reppen announces that his bureau proposes to change the location of the hospital at Cavite to Canacao, at a cost of $50,000.

ARGUMENT ON APPEAL.

The appeal in the case of the State of Maryland, to the use of John W. Weddle, vs. the Board of County School Commissioners of Frederick county was argued before the Court of Appeals last Friday. Messrs. Hammond Urner and M. G. Urner argued for, and Vincent Sebald and Jacob Rohrbach argued against the appeal. The suit was brought to recover damages for the death of Mr. Weddle's child, which, it is alleged, was caused by the negligence of the trustees of a school near Catootin Furnace, who allowed a wire fence to remain around the playground against which the child ran and was thrown backward upon her head and sustained injuries from which she died. A demurrer to the plaintiff's decision was filed and argued before the circuit court. Judge McSherry filed the opinion, sustaining the demurrer, and the plaintiff appealed.

A DIVORCE EPIDEMIC.

"There are 277 divorce cases," says the Kansas City Times, "on the docket for trial during the present term of the Circuit Court. It will be worth while observing how many marriage licenses are taken out during the period within which these cases are tried and how many decrees are granted. There is no doubt that, day for day, while the divorce trials are on the decrees will exceed the number of licenses. This condition is intolerable. Something will have to be done to limit the causes for divorce within reason. If the present daily rate of marriages to divorces should be maintained for a few years Jackson county would be divorced."

J. ODGERS of Frostburg, Md., writes: "I had a very bad attack of kidney complaint and tried FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE which gave me immediate relief, and I was perfectly cured after taking two bottles." Be sure you take FOLEY'S. T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have destroyed the only safe membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a Treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is in any form or stage. It acts according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "SNUFFLES" the "GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE."

DIPHTHERIA CLOSES SCHOOL.

Diphtheria in a mild form broke out in Adamstown last week and the public school was closed Monday for one week. Children of Messrs. Fenton and George W. The total registered vote in Washington county, as shown by the registration books after revision day, October 15, is 1,130. Of this number, 10,381 are white and 539 colored. Last year at the same period the registration books showed: Whites, 11,059; colored, 613; total, 11,672. This shows a falling off in the white vote of 478 and in the colored vote of 79. About 50 per cent. of the colored voters and about 8 per cent. of the white voters are illiterate. The number of appeals from the registrars promises to be unprecedented, owing to the unusually large noted list and the striking off of so many names.

ESCAPE FROM A FIRE.

The wife and child of William Anthony, of Chestertown, Md., were saved from their burning home at an early hour on Wednesday morning by being taken out of a window in their night clothes and brought down a ladder. Mr. Anthony was awakened by the fire and discovered the building on fire. The stairs were in flames and the roof burning. He jumped from an upper window, secured a ladder and rescued his wife and child. Not an article of clothing or piece of furniture could be moved from the building but for the timely awakening of the child the whole family might have perished.

ROBBERY.

Between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock Saturday morning the store J. V. Hoffman, West South street, Frederick, was broken into and robbed. The thief or thieves secured about $8 in cash and a quantity of merchandise. An entrance was made through the kitchen window. After taking the keys out of the pocket of a pair of trousers belonging to Mr. Hoffman's son, Ezra, the hall door was opened and then the door to the store room was opened. After securing their booty, the robbers left by the same way they had entered, except that they opened the kitchen door, which was found unlocked the next day. There seems to be no clue leading to the identity of the guilty parties.

SUNLIGHT GAS MACHINE.

A few weeks ago Messrs. J. T. Hays & Son placed one of their Sunlight Automatic Drop Feed (Acetylene) Gas Machines in the Banking Building of Annan, Horner & Co., in this place, and since the introduction of this machine the entire building is being lighted by acetylene gas. The light produced by the Sunlight Gas Machine is proving entirely satisfactory to the bank officials. Mr. E. L. Annan, cashier, speaks in the highest terms of the magnificent light produced by this machine, and of its bright and steady burning qualities. It is a pure light, producing little or no heat and is easy on the eye.

MR. STEWART MANAHAN KILLED.

Mr. Stewart Manahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Manahan, of Liberty township, Pa., met with a sudden death at Akron, Ohio, on last Saturday. He was found lying along the railroad track and it is supposed he was killed by the cars. No one saw the accident which caused his death. He was a conductor on a freight train from Akron, Ohio, to Chicago Junction, and had been on duty for twenty-six hours. He leaves a wife and a small family.

SUDDEN DEATH.

On Tuesday morning at about a quarter of seven o'clock, Mr. John S. Ogle, of Graceham, Md., was stricken down with apoplexy, dying in about ten minutes after he was taken ill. He got up in his usual health, went out to feed his chickens, and afterward took up the saw to saw some wood, falling by the side of the wood block. He got up and walked to a place near by where he could sit down, when he again fell over. Help was near at hand, but by the time he was carried into the house he was dead. Mr. Ogle was a resident of and near Graceham for many years. Funeral on Thursday at 11 o'clock at the Moravian Church, of which he had been a member and trustee for many years.

LUTHERAN SYNOD.

The Lutheran Synod, which was in session at Boonsboro, Md., adjourned Monday evening.

On Monday the committee on St. Paul's Church, of Pleasant Hill, Frederick county, recommended that it be received into the synod, and the report was adopted. Reports of minutes of Eastern and Western conferences, Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies, were adopted.

A resolution was adopted allowing the amount contributed by German congregations for beneficiary education to be appropriated to the education of German students for the ministry.

A report on Pennsylvania College was adopted. The chairman—Rev. D. B. Floyd—submitted the report of the committee on the state of the church. The money received on apportionment this year was $21,195.68, exceeding the amount contributed last year by $432.73.

A standing committee on Sunday-schools was authorized.

At the afternoon session the report on excusing members of the synod was submitted and caused an interesting discussion. The temperance committee's report was adopted. Rev. L. Kulman, D. D., made an appeal for the pastors' fund. The reception of Prof. Isaac Sprecher, formerly of the Synod of Northern Indiana, into the Maryland Synod was recommended by the committee. The synod accepted the invitation extended by Rev. Dr. S. W. Owen, of St. John's Lutheran Church, Hagerstown, to hold the next convention, which will convene on Thursday of the third week in October, 1902, in that church.

A FOUR O'CLOCK TEA.

One of the first social events of the season was Mrs. Andrew Augustus Ancock's tea last Saturday afternoon, to meet her niece, Mrs. Rodney Burton, one of June's brides. Mrs. Annan and Mrs. Burton received together, assisted by Mrs. Annan's sister, Miss White, Miss Gertrude Annan, the Misses Helen and Sara Annan, Miss Shaffer, of Frostburg, who is Miss Helen Annan's house guest, and Miss Riddle, who poured tea.

The invitations included a few men, who seemed to enjoy afternoon teas. The floral decorations were handsome, consisting of a profusion of pink roses, cosmos and ferns artistically arranged in the dining-room, which was lighted with pink lamps and candles. About thirty-five cards were left. The out of town guests were: Mrs. George Motter, the Misses Motter and Miss Anna Galt, of Taneytown; Miss Shaffer, of Frostburg, and Mr. W. Rodney Burton, of Delaware.

MOTHER AND BABY BURNED.

A shawl worn by Mrs. Mary J. Hyland, 28 South Greene street, Baltimore, accidentally caught fire from a gasoline stove in a second story back room Monday evening about 10 o'clock. In a moment she was enveloped in flames and screaming into the next room, setting fire to a lounge.

Max Jacobs, who lives in the adjoining house, went after the police, and the latter secured two blankets, wrapping Mrs. Hyland in them and smothering the fire. The neighbors crowding around were evidently bewildered and didn't know what to do. Mr. Hyland had been asleep in another room.

Sergeants Hood and Pfennig carried Mrs. Hood to the Maryland University Hospital, where she died Monday afternoon. A 3-month-old baby was also slightly burned about the face.

Patrolman Gernershausen and Chas. Parks, 32 South Greene street, extinguished the flames.

C. M. PHILIPS, Forestdale, Vt., says his child was completely cured of a bad case of eczema by the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of all counterfeits. It instantly relieves piles. T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

BOLD ROBBERY IN CARROLL. Mr. Reuben Frizzell, who lives near Bloom's Mill, Carroll county, was held up, beaten and robbed near Westminster, on the road to his home Monday evening. Vernon Dell and James Swartzbaugh, young residents of Westminster, were in the car with him. They were charged with the crime.

Mr. Frizzell had driven to Westminster to make some purchases. These included a jug of whisky. On his return trip his wagon was stopped by the two young men. They beat Mr. Frizzell seriously, took away his jug of whisky and dragged their victim into the woods, where they robbed him of his pocket-book. This contained about $20.

Two young lady bicyclists, who were passing, saw the assault, and hastened to Westminster with the alarm. Sheriff Motter and two deputies captured the men in the woods. Mr. Frizzell had managed to get back to his wagon, and he accompanied the officers back to Westminster where he identified the prisoners as the men who had assaulted and robbed him. They were held for the action of the Grand Jury.—Baltimore News.

Do you suffer from piles? If so do not turn to surgery for relief. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will act more quickly, surely and safely, saving you the expense and danger of an operation. T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

The first snow of the season fell to a depth of one inch along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in the glades of Garrett county, 50 miles west of Cumberland, on last Friday, and the wind blew a gale.

When suffering from racking cough, take a dose of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR. The soreness will be relieved and a warm, grateful feeling and healing of the parts affected will be experienced. T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

FOR APPLES, $30,000.

That Amount Was Received By Frederick County Farmers.

Thirty thousand dollars worth of apples have been shipped from Frederick county during the past four or five weeks. Local agents of foreign dealers have been kept busy getting the apples packed in barrels in order to ship them promptly. Most of the apples have been sent to Philadelphia, although a larger quantity was shipped to Baltimore and New York.

The crop this year was a good one, and would have been much larger had it not been for the fearful storm which damaged the crop seriously wherever it struck an orchard. After the storm agents who had purchased the crop, while growing on the trees, shipped one thousand barrels to various canning factories, where they were canned.

Many of the orchards have been very profitable this season. Mr. Morry W. Sumner's orchard, on the Spout Springs pike, held him about $1,600. Many other farmers sold their crops for sums varying from $200 to $600.

Among the varieties which have been shipped are: York Imperial, Ben Davis, wine saps, Smith cider, winter rambo, grimes' golden, green, pippin, paradise, pound, baldwin, green mountain and vandiver.

John H. Grove, agent for J. W. Thorne & Company, Philadelphia, has shipped about 4,500 barrels, which were purchased and packed at a cost of $12,000. Mr. Grove has about finished shipping for the season. James H. Gambrill, Jr., representing H. B. Williams, of Philadelphia, has shipped about 3,000 barrels and has about 1,500 barrels yet to ship. The apples which remain to be shipped will come from Middletown Valley, where the storm did no damage. Mr. Andrew Kline, agent for Snively & Company, Hagerstown, has shipped a large quantity. The average price paid for apples was $2 per barrel, the purchaser furnishing the barrels and the seller delivering the apples, barreled, in Frederick. All the apples now in the county will be kept for home consumption.—Frederick News

SOUTHERN MARYLAND.

Since the first of August parties from Whiteside county Illinois, have bought farm land in Prince George's and Anne Arundel counties, aggregating in value $32,000. The sales were made through E. P. Gibbs, who went to Prince George's county in 1889 and bought the Dr. George property, 510 acres. In March, 1900, E. A. Gilroy, of Iowa, purchased a place of 79 acres. In August, 1901, Mrs. Charles Boice and E. S. Harrison, of Whiteside county, bought of Messrs. Hill Brothers, through Mr. Gibbs, property known as Collington or Meadows, 607 acres, for $1,800. W. D. Healy bought of Franklin Davis Russum Company 397 acres for $4,500. Within the last ten days a party of Western men were there looking over land known as "The Forest," and Mr. Gibbs sold to T. W. Tracey the McGraw Davis property near Mullikin Station, consisting of 540 acres, at $35 an acre; to Peter Johnson the James Iglehart tract, or Mount Airy farm, near Davidsonville, Anne Arundel county, 335 acres, for $8,000.

All of these buyers expect to move to Maryland shortly and begin the raising of wheat, corn, cattle, hogs and sheep, for which they think the country is well adapted. It is to be expected that more purchases will follow. The advent of these new settlers argues well for the character of the land, its adaptability for the crops mentioned and for cattle raising. Besides this it marks a new era in the progress of Southern Maryland.

ORCHARDS DESTROYED.

A few days ago Dr. Julius A. Johnson of The Harbor, Miles River Neck, who had one of the finest and most fruitful peach orchards in Talbot county, made an examination of his trees and found them infested with what he supposed to be San Jose scale. He communicated with Dr. A. S. Quaintance, entomologist of the Maryland Experiment Station, who went over and made an examination of the trees, which he found thoroughly infested with the San Jose scale, as Dr. Johnson had supposed them to be. The work of destruction began immediately, and the orchard will be exterminated. The trees, after being grubbed, will be burned.

Other orchards in the neighborhood are in the same plight, and fruit trees of other kinds have a foe on them, so that there will be a great destruction of orchards in Miles River Neck. Professor Quaintance thought this a case demanding the immediate appointment of a local inspector of orchards for Talbot county, and before he left Mr. Clifford Morris, of Miles River, was recommended to him. This gentleman had much experience with the San Jose scale in California.

EX-JUDGE RUSSUM DEAD.

Ex-Judge George Mitchell Russum, of Denton, one of the most prominent and popular attorneys of Maryland, and candidate for the State Senate from Carroll county, died suddenly of heart failure Monday evening at about 7 o'clock. The fatal illness came as he was walking along the street from his home to the drug store of George and Redden. He entered the store and asked for ammonia, saying that he was suffering. Mr. Redden, recognizing his serious illness, told him to be seated, which he did. Restoratives were applied, but he rapidly sank into unconsciousness, and in a few minutes passed away. Judge Russum was born at Wye Mills, Talbot county, in January, 1834. His father was Dr. Sydenham Thorn Russum. The family is old English stock. Gen. M. was educated at Strasburg College, Lancaster county, Pa. After being graduated from this institution he entered Yale Law School, where he took the degree of LL. B. He was admitted to the Maryland bar in 1855, and settled at once in Denton. He held various county offices and three times was a candidate for Congress but was defeated.

Mr. Russum was appointed chief judge of the second judicial circuit by Governor Lowndes January 21, 1896, to succeed the late Chief Judge John M. Robinson. He was a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Gibson, but upon the death of Judge Robinson he retired from the contest. Judge Russum had been for more than 20 years senior warden of Christ Protestant Episcopal Church at Denton. Judge Russum was one of the most popular men on the Eastern Shore. He had an extensive practice in Caroline, Talbot and Queen Anne's counties.

Mr. H. W. Wilson presents a vigorous and somewhat alarmist view of the plight of British manufacturers "Face to Face with the Trust;" and there are other interesting features, literary and political, with a short story, several poems, including a striking translation from the Italian, with an installment of the clever "Londoner's Log Book." RESURVEY OF MASON AND DIXON LINE.

Statement Concerning The Progress Made In Resurveying The Line—Amount of Money Expended Up To The Present Time.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 16, 1901. Dear Sir:—So much that is erroneous has appeared during the last few months in the newspapers regarding the resurvey of the Mason and Dixon line that I desire to call your attention to the present condition of work in order that the people of the State may thoroughly understand the matter.

The Mason and Dixon line was originally surveyed during the years of 1763-68, stone monuments being placed at intervals of one mile from the Delaware line as far west as Sideling Hill Creek, the present boundary line between Washington and Allegany counties; beyond that point heaps of stone were thrown up around wooden posts. Little has been done during the intervening period to preserve intact or repair the broken and displaced monuments, while the heaps of stone and wooden posts beyond Sideling Hill Creek have, for the most part, long since disappeared.

The present resurvey of the line, provided for by an act of the General Assembly of 1900, to co-operate with the State of Pennsylvania, which had made a similar appropriation the previous year, has in view the repair and relocation of such of the old monuments as may be found, and the placing of new monuments where none at present exist. Great care has been taken to determine whether the old monuments are in place and, when sufficiently large portions of the original stones are found to reset them in a solid cement base. In this way the old land marks will be preserved as fully as possible. Where the old monuments cannot be found the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, which is co-operating with the two States in the running of the line, has, as a result of its past experience, advised the placing of iron posts. The use of iron monuments has been criticised by some, but the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey has had large experience in the matter and finds their use not only more economical but more permanent.

Much progress has already been made in the resurvey of the line. As the direction of the work was immediately in the hands of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, an entirely disinterested organization, and therefore in every way acceptable to the representatives of Maryland and Pennsylvania, it was found necessary to arrange the plans so as to meet their convenience. They were unable at once to place an experienced engineer in charge of the survey, but during the autumn of 1900 a preliminary line was run from the northwestern corner of the State along the border of Garrett county and locations were made for the placing of the monuments. A little later similar work was carried on in the vicinity of the northeast corner of the State and during the summer of the present year the survey along the northern border of Cecil county was completed. These being reset and the line permanently marked from Monument No. 1 on the Delaware border to Monument No. 23 in the valley of the Susquehanna. Since the completion of that part of the line north of Cecil county in August a thorough examination has been made of the monuments along the northern borders of Harford, Baltimore, Carroll, and part of Frederick counties from Monument No. 24 to Monument No. 77. All of the broken stones whose position could be definitely determined were reset in cement as far as the 77th milestone. Forty-three such monuments west of the Susquehanna river have been located since August and set in cement bases 3 feet square and 3 or 4 feet deep, as occasion demanded. These monuments were found to be in various states of preservation, some requiring extensive repairs. All are now firmly set and as good as new for boundary purposes. The position of 29 monuments, viz., Monuments No. 29, No. 45, No. 48, No. 50, No. 51 and No. 70 have not yet been determined, but as soon as their locations are found will be reset. Monuments No. 40, No. 43, No. 50, No. 67 and No. 75 are reported destroyed or lost, and in these instances alone will new monuments be required. Fragments of the bases of Monuments No. 43, No. 67 and No. 75 have been found, so that there is no question as regards their original position. Monument No. 50 has been removed by a resident of Baltimore, but I have no doubt when his attention is called to the matter he will gladly return it to its original position. Much more than one-half the line has therefore been resurveyed in a permanent or preliminary manner.

A number of articles have appeared in the press regarding the exhaustion of the funds provided by the act of the last General Assembly, and the statement has been made that an additional appropriation will be required. It is pertinent in this connection to say that on account of the aid given by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, only $1,000 has thus far been expended by each State toward the maintenance of the work, leaving an unexpended balance of $4,000 in each State treasury. The chief expenditure will be incurred later in the placing of new monuments to the west of Sideling Hill Creek, where there are no marks at present. Notwithstanding this fact it is the hope of the States' representatives that there will be an unexpended balance to revert to the State treasuries when the work is finally completed.

The survey of the Mason and Dixon line will be far advanced by the close of the present season. The final engineering work will necessarily not be done to another summer, when it will be completed, and the line permanently repaired and marked from Delaware to the West Virginia borders.

Very respectfully,
Wm. Buck Clark,
Commissioner for the State of Maryland

Lobsters' Eggs.

A fair sized female lobster carries 20,000 eggs at a time. The eggs, when hatched, are covered with a viscid matter which, drawn out into threads, attaches them to the long hairs that fringe the fanlike tail of the mother. These threads quickly become hard and strong, the eggs waving about in the water and being thus aerated. When they are ready to be hatched, the mother lobster oscillates her tail so as to assist the offspring to escape.

The young at first resemble shrimps, being about one-third of an inch in length. They have bright blue eyes. After a few days they desert the mother and swim out into deep water, where they rise to the surface and lead a vagabond sort of existence for thirty or forty days.

During this time the young ones change their shells four times. On the fourth occasion they shed their swimming organs and fall to the bottom, where they remain for the rest of their lives. During their existence as swimmers most of them are gobbled up by fishes, for which they afford a favorite food.

How Things Grow in Hawaii.

How great are the possibilities of Hawaii as a fruit and vegetable growing country will be understood when it becomes known that four crops of potatoes have been produced in succession on the same piece of land within twelve months. Radishes become edible in ten days after sowing. Strawberry vines bear fruit all the year. The berries are of the finest flavor.

Cabbage grows all the year, and apparently makes no difference whether it is planted in the spring, summer, autumn or winter. Parsley once sown grows forever apparently. Lima beans continue to grow and bear for over a year, and they have to be gathered every week after starting to bear. Cucumbers bear the entire year, and so do tomatoes, which, with proper attention, bear for years. Raspberries bear for six months.

Disposers come into bearing when the plants are four months old and bear in abundance for years. Lettuce can be planted at any time, and it develops quickly. The same is true of celery.—Fruit Trade Journal.

Greek Marriage Customs.

The marriage in Constantinople of an Englishman and a Greek woman entails three wedding ceremonies. To be legal it must be performed at the consulate. The couple are legally married there the first day, and on the next a church ceremony is performed in the English church, while the Greek religious ceremony which follows is celebrated at the bride's home. The last is the only legal form of marriage as far as the bride is concerned.

In the Greek ceremony no ring is used, but the best man places a wreath bound with white satin ribbons on the heads of bride and bridegroom. Then, while the priest is pronouncing the words of the service, the couple walk around him in a circle three times, holding candles, the best man at intervals changing the wreaths from one to the other. When all is over, the friends throw small coins or tokens of gold and silver over the wedding pair, and a general scramble ensues among those present to secure the tokens.

Why a Horse Eats Often.

The horse can conveniently eat for twenty hours out of the twenty-four. A horse which is in good health has a good appetite at all times and is able to stand plenty of work and is rarely on the sick list. To be a good feeder, especially on a journey, is a great recommendation in the opinion of every good judge of horseflesh. The reason of a horse being such a constant eater is that his stomach is really small in proportion to the size of his body, and therefore it requires feeding often, not less than four times a day, two of which should be early in the morning and at night, while hay should in the stall be always within his reach.—London Tit-Bits.

Eat Live Fish.

The Japanese practice refined cruelty to delight their palates. They believe that the fish called the dai is most delicious when eaten alive. An expert Japanese carver can dexterously remove five-sixths of the edible matter from its bones without touching a vital part. During this cruel operation the fish is kept alive by wet seaweed which, being placed over its gills, enables it to breathe.

A Simple Disinfectant.

A simple disinfectant to use in a sick-room or in any room where a close, musty or sewer smell is noticed is to put some ground coffee on a shovel, a bit of camphor gum in the middle of it. Light the gum, which is nonexplosive and easily ignited, with a match and allow the coffee to burn with the gum. A refreshing and sanitary perfume is the result.

The Tobacco Habit.

Chewing tobacco is a filthy habit. Smoking makes you so foul that you can smell yourself. Tobacco is very injurious to health. Every user of tobacco tries to quit it and finds it very difficult. Boys see their elders trying to quit, but boys make themselves sick in acquiring the tobacco habit.—Athenian Globe.

Live Stock Shows

PAN-AMERICAN

WHEN Superintendent Converse promised a better series of live stock shows at the Pan-American Exposition than was ever before attempted, the statement was accepted as an ordinary pleasant and pardonable exaggeration.

The complete success of the dog and the swine shows, however, proved to be the first steps toward redeeming his promise.

The cattle show was an agreeable surprise to every stockman who saw it and at once established a new standard of excellence that will not be equaled for years to come and possibly never surpassed as regards quality.

The sheep show, now fully under way and lasting to Oct. 25, is in every way a worthy successor to the dog, the swine and the cattle shows. The best flocks in the United States and Canada are represented, together with their recent additions of imported stock, consisting of about twenty fine animals now shown in this country for the first time.

The sheep show, taken as a whole, is one of the most complete ever brought together. Every important breed has a strong representation, while every breed known has an exhibit of some kind. The Island Black Face, of which there are but three or four flocks in the United States, are well represented, and they are creating a great deal of interest among the exhibitors and visitors.

All classes in the middle wools are particularly strong, among which are noted prizewinners from the east, west, the rich pasture lands and an illustration of what may be produced there without additional feed and without artificial shelter.

The Pan-American Horse Show.

Dame Fashion may have withdrawn her smile of approval and the different styles of autos turn their backs in derision, but the horse still holds favor with the great majority of mankind. The horse show at the Exposition which holds the boards for two weeks, from Oct. 7 to Oct. 19, will be no exception. Five hundred horses are coming which are carefully selected to faithfully represent the best of every breed found in the United States and Canada.

Vermont is again courting prominence by sending a fine lot of Morgan horses, a breed that should receive more attention than it does.

Draft horses, especially the Clydesdale and Percheron breeds, are well represented. These are principally from Canada and the western states.

German coach horses attract a great deal of attention. One large importation of these horses will be brought direct to the Exposition.

French-Canadian horses from Quebec are entered more as a special feature of the horse show. They are little known in the United States, but their style and endurance will commend them to superior coach horses and those that will command favor in any market.

Instead of enumerating the different breeds it is only necessary to select any kind of horse wanted, with the assurance that it will be on exhibition. The finest stables on the continent are contributing to the show with sufficient enthusiasm to insure the finest representation possible.

The judging takes place in the Stadium on the 9th and 10th of October, when this immense structure will be none too large to accommodate those who will want to see this crowning climax to such an elaborate series of live stock shows.

Poultry and Pigeon Shows.
From Oct. 21 to the close of the fair the stock pavilions will be once more filled with life, though in a very different form. Poultry of high degree from all parts of the United States and many places in Canada will fraternize without regard to politics or tariffs. As near neighbors the poultry will have mice, rabbits, cats, canaries, parrots, squirrels, ferrets, rats and Belgian hares, besides a great assortment of pigeons, owls, magpies and a great many cage birds.

Eight thousand animals and birds are being gathered together to form this complete cosmopolitan assemblage of birds and animals.

The Pan-American Exposition is proving a great success. While the enterprise suffered for a few days from the national tragedy, the crowds that have put off going until the fall are rushing to Buffalo in great numbers now.

President Roosevelt said of the Pan-American Exposition, "It is well worth the while of every man, woman and child in the country to visit the Pan-American Exposition."

More than 5,000,000 people have visited the Pan-American Exposition. As Secretary of Agriculture Wilson said on Sept. 11, after a visit, "No one can afford to keep away."

Thomas A. Edison said of the Pan-American Exposition after viewing the illumination, "This is the apotheosis of the incandescent light."

Poultrymen from all over the United States will be meeting at Buffalo and the Pan-American Exposition the last three weeks of October.

The stock shows at the Pan-American Exposition have been most popular. The sheep show began Sept. 23 and lasts until Oct. 25.

James' band, one of the best in the country, will give concerts free to all Pan-American Exposition visitors from Oct. 7 to 20.

Wanted, Sharp Knives.

"I have often wondered where one could find the sharp knives of the world," said an observant citizen, "and really the problem is one of some seriousness, and, upon reflection, is almost driven to the conclusion that there are no sharp knives in the world."

"Have you ever noticed how hard it is to find a really sharp knife? Stop the first man you meet and ask him to let you have his knife for a minute and listen to what he says about it. Nine times out of ten he will say, 'I have one, but it isn't very sharp.' You may pick out your men differently, and they will always tell you the same thing. If a man should ask me for my knife to sharpen a lead pencil or to use for some other purpose, the chances are I would say about the same thing, 'I have one, but it isn't very sharp.'"

"And really the answer thus made is generally true. Men do not keep sharp knives. It may be because they do not need sharp knives or it may be a matter of laziness, but in any event they do not carry them around with them, or if they do they always give their friend a dull one."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Fable.
One day as the Elephant was passing through the forest he came upon a Hare who had fallen into a pool and was shivering with cold, and in his good heartedness he stopped and called out:

"How, now, Mrs. Hare, but what is the trouble here?"

"Alas, but I fell into the pond and am almost dying with a chill!" wailed the Hare.

"Say you so. Ah, but we can easily remedy that. I will lie down beside you, and the heat of my body will soon make you warm and blithe again."

And the Elephant tumbled down with a grunt and a groan and observed that he was always cheerfully willing to put himself out for the sake of others, especially for the weak and helpless.

After a quarter of an hour, and not hearing from the Hare, he rose up to inquire if she felt better, and to his sorrow and consternation he discovered that he had crushed the life out of her as he lay down.

Moral: Our friends injure us more than our enemies.—Detroit Free Press.

Catastrophe of the Oneda.
One of the most extraordinary catastrophes that have befallen vessels of the United States destroyed the sloop of war Oneda in 1869. She was bound homeward, with a jolly ship's company, eager to see wives and sweethearts and native land once more, when not far out of port she was struck by the British steamer Bombay coming in. The stem of the Bombay cut off the stern of the Oneda. The ship was sinking rapidly, and guns of distress were immediately fired, but the Bombay steamed on her way and left the vessel to her doom. She went down, and all but one or two of her crew were drowned.

The captain of the Bombay gave no other reason for his conduct than that he had Lady Eyre, the wife of a distinguished British satrap, on board and did not wish to disturb her nerves with scenes of shipwreck. He was mobbed when he reached Yokohama, dismissed from the service, socially tabooed from that time on and died in disgrace a year or two later.

Ornaments on Saddles.
In the fifth century saddles were made so extravagantly magnificent that a prohibition was issued by Leo I. in which it was ordered that no one should ornament them with pearls or precious stones.
