

COAL SCARCEN IN BALTIMORE
The coal situation in Baltimore is becoming more and more alarming. It has reached the point now where the supply is practically exhausted, and dealers say they are unable to get any more.

Prices are getting out of reach. If a ton can be had at all, the prevailing prices is from $9 to $10, all though some dealers are charging more.

A prominent coal dealer, in discussing the situation, said:

"Although the situation is now serious, I expect it to reach a more acute stage before cold weather sets in. Even if the strike is called off we expect great difficulty in getting a supply in time. There is no coal now available, and after mining begins, even if it does begin, shipments will be made to the North and West first, and the South will be put off until the demand there is met.

BANKER FISH KILLED
New York, Sept. 16.—Nicholas Fish, millionaire, diplomat and descendant of one of the best known of American families, died at the Roosevelt Hospital, New York, at 3.25 o'clock Tuesday morning, the result of an injury received in or in front of Erhardt's saloon, 205 West thirty-fourth street, New York.

Mr. Fish had a quarrel with a private detective named Thomas J. Sharkey, who joined the banker at the table, where he had been for several hours drinking with Mrs. Libby J. Phillips and Mrs. Nellie Casey.

According to the police, Mr. Fish entered Erhardt's saloon, 205 West Thirty-fourth street, New York, with Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Casey. The police say that Mrs. Phillips knew who Fish was, but that neither Mrs. Casey nor Sharkey, who subsequently joined the party, was aware of his identity.

Then, according to the police, some one slapped Fish's face. One of the women, clinging to Fish's arm, dragged him toward the door of the saloon and out to the sidewalk.

MILLIONS FOR POOR INVENTORS
PITTSBURGH, SEPT.—16.—Judge Joseph Buffington, in the United States Circuit Court, has rendered a decision against the Carnegie Steel Company for infringements on the patents of John Brislin, a former roller now janitor, and Antonie Vinnac, a steel roller.

The patents relate to rolling tables for carrying steel ingots from the rolls backward and forward and feeding them into the rolls without the use of hand labor. Judge Buffington said that while inventions in this line had been made 40 years ago, yet the men were the first to combine all the mechanical movements so as to make the carrying beds practical, and the inventors should have a proportionate share of the profits.

LABORING men in Chicago have started a movement to form a trades union co-operative and protective association in Chicago with a capital of $2,000,000, the purpose being to fight capitalists with capital.

WILL ENFORCE GAME LAWS
A dispatch from Washington states that the Agricultural Department has taken up the enforcement of the Lacy game law, passed about a year ago, for the purpose of co-operating with the State Game Associations in the enforcement of the local laws.

Mr. George Dobbin Penniman, president of the Maryland State Game and Fish Protective Association, in discussing the action of the Department, said:

"The Maryland Game Association is preparing to co-operate with the game associations of other States, and will, through the Lacy law, enforce the game laws of other States when the birds which have been improperly killed or taken are found in this State.

"As an illustration," he said, "it is illegal to kill gulls and other birds for their plumage in many of the States, and the Game Association, acting as the agent of the Agricultural Department at Washington, has caused the arrests of milliners and dealers in prepared feathers who have purchased in other States birds, gull skins, etc., which were improperly obtained in those States. The Lacy bill does not prohibit the carriage of live birds for propagation purposes from one State to another, but it does make it unlawful to introduce in the United States birds of any sort until the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture has been obtained.

The purpose of this provision is to prevent the importation of birds which are likely to increase rapidly in this country and cause a great deal of damage, as the English sparrow has done.

"The Game Association has made an arrangement by which many of its officers and Deputy Game Wardens have been appointed as special agents of the Agricultural Department in Washington, and as such special agents they are empowered to enforce the provisions of the Lacy law."

Mr. Haggett was a brother of Eben Haggett, the well-known ship-builder, of Newcastle, Me. He located in Cambridge about 25 years ago, going there after ship timber for his brother. Winters, who was an old acquaintance of Loucks', volunteered to guard the prisoner in the hotel room, rather than lock him up for the night.

Winters had fallen into a doze, when Loucks attacked him with a razor, attempting to cut his throat. The constable was too quick for his assailant, and a struggle was precipitated.

The noise made by the combatants brought several male guests to the room. These forced open the door and overpowered the prisoner. Loucks is 28 years of age, and served three years in the Philippine War. Over a year ago he re-enlisted for three more years.—American.

A FINE MONUMENT DEDICATED.

The handsome monument erected by the Thirty-fourth New York Regimental Association on Antietam Battlefield was dedicated Tuesday with patriotic ceremonies in the presence of a large crowd of people. The party, about 50 persons, came in two cars to Keedysville over the Baltimore and Ohio and drove to the battlefield in carriages, preceded by the Keedysville band, which furnished music at the monument.

Prior to the dedication a business meeting was held in the old Dunkard Church, at which the monument committee turned over the monument to the association. The exercises began at noon with a dedicatory prayer by Irving B. Clark. The shaft was unveiled by J. A. Suiter, Jr., son of Col. J. A. Suiter, aged 86, of New York, who commanded the Thirty-fourth in the battle of Antietam, and who was unable to be present.

SHOT BY HIS BROTHER.

A peculiar condition of affairs is reported to exist in the neighborhood of Oxen Hill, in Prince George's county, where Frank Butler, a negro boy 17 years old, was dangerously wounded with a bullet hole near the heart, in a fight with his 12-year-old brother, by Ralph Butler, his 12-year-old brother. While the shooting has been a matter of general comment since its occurrence last Tuesday evening, no arrest has been made and the boy who is alleged to have confessed to the shooting is in the same home as with the one he injured, free to go where he pleases unmolested. It is stated that this is due to the fact that no one has been chosen to succeed Justice E. G. Wright, who moved from Oxen Hill to Washington some time ago, and the resignation of Constable James Grimes. In the absence of the family it is stated the boys quarreled over the meaning of a certain statement in an old book. Frank is alleged to have cut Ralph, and he sought his father's razor. It was taken from him by Frank, and then the younger boy procured a revolver with which he admits he shot his brother. Several physicians are endeavoring to save the wounded boy's life.

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

Mrs. George W. Grove, of Ijamsville, this county, widow of the late Captain George W. Grove, of Frederick, while driving with her brother in law, Thomas Motz, of Waynesboro, Pa., in the vicinity of Buena Vista, near Pen-Mar, last Saturday evening, met with a serious runaway in which both were painfully injured. Mr. Motz and Mrs. Grove were driving through the moonlight in a runabout and approached the grade crossing at Buena Vista station just as the Pen-Mar express of the Western Maryland Railroad, bound for Baltimore, came puffing up the steep grade toward them. Blue Ridge Summit. The horse became frightened and dashed off, throwing the pair from the vehicle into the road. The runabout was overturned and demolished. Both the occupants were picked up and carried into Gardner's store, opposite the railroad station, where they received medical attention. They were later removed to Waynesboro.

FED HOGS ALMOST TO DEATH.

With malicious intent some unknown person invaded the pigsty of C. K. Houseman, at Red Lion, Pa., and as near as can be estimated, fed to the two fine Berkshire hogs 30 pounds of ship stuff and two pecks of corn. When the owner of the hogs went to feed them, they refused to touch the food, but drank water copiously. The hogs had taken on the proportions of balloons. Judging from their continuous squealing, they were suffering great agony. A veterinary surgeon was called in, but said they could not be saved. They are fine porkers, valued at $20 each, and would have been entered at the York County fair for a premium.

Boys saw a man entering the sty with a sack full of feed on his back, and when he again emerged the sack was empty.

SHOE DEALER'S CREDITORS.

The creditors of S. M. Dizon, who claimed to be from Baltimore, and who opened a boot and shoe store in Frederick last spring on a large scale, are anxious to learn of his whereabouts. On August 15 he placed a card in his window to this effect: "Owing to the death of my father, this store will be closed on Monday, August 18." As he appeared to have an extensive stock of goods on hand, all the shelves being stocked to the ceiling with shoe boxes, no suspicion was attached to his movements.

Last Friday Deputy Sheriff Carter, at the instances of Clayton O. Keedy, attorney for the Heiser-Danneman Manufacturing Company, of Baltimore, opened the store to attach the goods to satisfy a claim of $187.50. A search soon revealed that all the shoe boxes, and the packing cases stored around the room were empty. All the goods were gone except what was left in the windows. Several representatives were in Frederick during the week from Baltimore firms, but as their 60-day and 90-day bills of goods which they bought from them had not become due, they were afraid to take any action in the matter, as the appearance of the place indicated that he was well stocked with goods, and he might turn up any day.

Mr. Keedy also has a claim against Dizon for $225 for a Boston firm and several others not yet due.

Mr. Frank L. Stoner, attorney for Baltimore creditors, attached several boxes of goods, which arrived after Dizon's departure, at the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroads to satisfy a claim of $212. Before leaving he traded his large covered wagon for a buggy, and took the horse and buggy with him.

The day he left he bought a box of $5 cigars from a nearby dealer, promising to pay him the next day.—Baltimore Sun.

ORDINATIONS AT MT ST MARY'S.

Mount St. Mary's Seminary opened Wednesday, September 3. The annual retreat was begun in the evening and it was conducted by Rev. Father Casey, S. J. The usual large number of seminarians attended the exercises. On Tuesday morning, September 7, the Right Rev. A. A. Curtis, D. On Wednesday, September 10, the college was formally opened for the scholastic year. Mass was celebrated by the Very Rev. William L. O'Hara, D. D., president of the college. At present there is an unusually large number of new students in attendance, which augurs well for a large attendance.

Mr. MILTON SCHAEFFER, postmaster of Westminster, died September 13, aged 48 years. He was appointed postmaster in 1898. In 1886 he was elected Mayor of Westminster and was re-elected in 1887 and again in 1888. In 1895 he was again elected to this office. In 1897 he was appointed School Commissioner by Governor Lowndes. He was chosen president of the Board of School Commissioners and held office until September 1, 1898. He was a member of the board of directors of the Westminster Deposit and Trust Company, the Westminster Hardware Company, the Westminster Water Company and the Carroll County Electric Light and Power Company. DAMAGE SUIT ENDED.

In the Circuit Court last Monday afternoon at the conclusion of testimony in the case of the heirs of Alexander G. Davis against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, ex-Judge J. A. C. Bond, counsel for the company, offered prayers asking the court to instruct the jury to render a verdict for the defense, as no legal evidence had been shown of contributory negligence on the part of the railroad company. After hearing argument against granting the motion by the plaintiffs' counsel, the court instructed the jury to find a verdict for the defense, which was done.

Major Davis was struck by an engine of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and instantly killed June 4, 1901, on the crossing near Ridgeville, Frederick county. His heirs sued for $10,000 damages.

BIG FIRE.

Carriage and Can Factories Destroyed at Harve De Grace.

A disastrous fire, which destroyed two factories, damaged surrounding buildings and for a time threatened Hecht's Hotel, running up a loss of between $60,000 and $70,000, visited Harve De Grace, Md., and aroused the entire community at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. But for the activity of the Fire Department and the heroic work of citizens who volunteered to assist in fighting flames, that section of the town might have been wiped out altogether, and the loss would have been many thousands of dollars heavier. The main losers by the conflagration were Burns & Bros., manufacturers of carriages, and the Reynolds Bros. branch of the American Tin Can Company, generally referred to as the Tin Can Trust. It is estimated that the former concern lost between $15,000 and $20,000, while the loss to the Tin Can Company is between $40,000 and $50,000. Both plants were partly insured, but the exact amount and placing of insurance is not at present available. Hecht's Hotel, standing directly across the street from the scene of the fire, escaped by a narrow margin, but without damage.

The fire originated in a small dwelling adjoining the carriage factory of Burns & Brothers. Immediately upon its discovery an alarm was sent in and the volunteer fire company responded promptly with all the fighting paraphernalia at hand. On arriving at the scene it was found that the water pipes were choked with mud. Attention was at once given the pipes, volunteer bucket brigades in the meantime doing what they could to stay the flames. After considerable delay there was a sufficient flow of water from the pipes to throw a stream on adjoining property to save it from destruction, and then the firemen concentrated their force on the carriage factory, which had quickly caught the flames from the residence in which they originated.

A strong effort was made to save the tin can company's property, but the fire had gained such headway that against heavy odds the firemen could do practically nothing, and all attention was then turned again to saving such property as had not been touched. Two million cans were stored in the tin can company's building, and they, with the building, were totally destroyed.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

From the effects of an injury resulting from being struck by a piece of wood at the Furniture Factory in Gettysburg last Wednesday afternoon Levi Starner, one of the managers, died on Thursday.

Mr. Starner was working at the saw which is run by machinery, and had about completed the work when one of the boards, about three feet long and three inches wide, caught in the saw, the loose end of the piece being hurled with great violence against his abdomen, causing internal injuries. Dr. J. R. Dickson was called in about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Mr. Starner felt better Thursday, but about 12 o'clock noon he became unconscious and died that evening at 9:20 o'clock. His death was quite unexpected and came as a great blow to his relatives and friends.

The deceased was born of Charles and Elizabeth Starner, in Franklin township, near Arendtsville, March 28th 1851 and was 51 years, 5 months and 30 days of age. He was a farmer until the fall of 1882, when he went into the wood-working business at Orrtanna. He continued at this until June of last year when he formed a partnership with his eldest son, C. Emory Starner, known as the Orrtanna Manufacturing Company. Soon after they removed their machinery to Gettysburg, going into the Gettysburg Furniture Company, father and son managing the business.

OUT OF DEBT.

The Washington County Commissioners have set aside $70,100 of the $434,000 received from the Fuller syndicate for the county's interest in the Western Maryland Railroad for the redemption of the balance ($70,100) of the county's bonded indebtedness. The county has redeemed $207,400 of the bonded indebtedness out of the railroad money. In other words, the county is now out of debt and has a surplus of $125,154.95 in the treasury. The $70,100 was ordered placed irrevocably in trust with the Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Baltimore to pay off the bonds at their face value as they fall due. The bonds draw 4 and 4 1/2 per cent. interest and fall due from 1904 to 1918. No fund was set aside to pay the interest on the bonds until they fall due, as the county will draw 3 per cent. interest on the $70,100 and also 3 per cent. on $60,000 deposited with the Continental Trust Company in Baltimore, and $83,154.95 deposited with the International Trust Company in Baltimore. The interest on these sums will more than equal the interest to be paid on the bonds until they fall due. The commissioners have not decided for what they will spend the $125,154.95 balance. Some want the principal roads macadamized. A numerous class favor applying the balance to the county's running expenses and not levying any taxes until the balance is exhausted. In fact there is no end to the suggestions made as to how the money shall be spent, but it could not be better spent than in providing good roads, which would save the money to taxpayers in the future as well as in the present.

WANTS HIS CASE REMOVED.

Adolphus Ramsburg, of Frederick city, through his counsel William P. Mansby, has applied to the Circuit Court for a removal of his suit against the Frederick and Middletown Railroad Company to another county. Ramsburg has sued the defendant company for $10,000 damages for injuries received while an employe of the company. He alleges the road and switches are not kept in proper repair, and because of the unsafe condition of the road, etc., he sustained certain injuries.—Examiner.

MR. GEORGE SHELTON KILLED BY A TRAIN.

George W. Sheldon, aged 75 years was struck by the Philadelphia-Frederick passenger train last Thursday morning near Legore's Station, on the Northern Central Railroad, and instantly killed. Engineer Frank Spotten saw him walking toward the train; he blew his whistle and applied the air brakes, but he could not check the train sufficiently to avert the accident. The old gentlemen seemed to be unmindful of the warning and continued walking toward the approaching train until the cowcatcher struck him, throwing him some distance down a ditch. His neck was broken as were his arms and his breast on the right side was crushed in. He was a widower and resided with his son-in-law, Mr. Clarence Kemps, near the scene of the accident.

STRONGLY OPPOSED TO THIS CHANGE.

Because Benben K. Staub, a Republican, was removed from the position of postmaster, at Ladiesburg, this county, and Miss Lucia O. Mertz, whose father was a Democrat, appointed in his stead, residents of that vicinity have taken offense at Hon. George A. Pearre, of the Sixth district, who is a candidate for re-election.

At the meeting held at Ladiesburg Tuesday night an Anti-Pearre Club was organized, and the members pledged themselves to use all honorable means to defeat Colonel Pearre. Rev. William H. Yingling, Methodist Episcopal clergyman, who announced that he was a life-long Republican, had voted for Abraham Lincoln in 1860 and had never voted for a Democrat in his life, was chairman of the meeting, and L. C. Shoemaker, a well-known resident of Ladiesburg, was secretary.

The chairman made a speech in which he vigorously denounced Colonel Pearre. Among the resolutions passed was the following:

"Resolved, That we, the Republicans of Ladiesburg and vicinity, pledge ourselves to not only vote against George A. Pearre, but to use all honorable means to the end that he be not returned to Congress."—American.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended to make a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor of New Albany, Bradford County, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully, and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time one dose cured me." For sale by T. E. Zimmerman & Co.

HORSE TRAMPED ON HIS FOOT.

Leslie Topper, young son of Mr. Jacob L. Topper, is suffering with a sore foot, the result of having been tramped upon by a horse, on Wednesday evening. With a number of other boys Leslie was listening to a hand organ, when a horse, driven by a colored girl, became frightened at the musical outfit, and suddenly turning to the side of the street, tramped upon Leslie's right foot inflicting a painful injury. Dr. J. W. Eichelberger examined the injured foot and dressed the wound.

STEAM SILOS.

The Latest Endeavor to Secure a Silage Free From Acid.

The latest development of the silage idea is the use of steam to prevent fermentation as far as possible and secure an approximately acid free silage.

Explaining His Presence. A young lady who had been pouring tea at a function in a suburban town, having toward the end of the affair become somewhat fatigued, sat down in a quiet corner of the room.

His Nightcap. Young Husband (picking up bundle from table)—What have you here, love—something for me?

Young Wife—Yes, dear. I went shopping this morning expressly to buy them for you. I hope you'll like them.

Young Husband—Like them? Of course I'll like them if you bought them. But what are they?

Young Wife—They're nightcaps, dear. I heard you tell Sparkles this morning that you'd go down to the club with him this evening and get a nightcap, and I made up my mind at once that I'd save you that trouble by seeing that you had some in the house. ROMANCE OF INVENTION.

Stevens and His T-Rail and Canard's Clipper Ship Model.

Robert Livingston Stevens sailed from New York to Liverpool before the advent of the ocean steamer. In those days the passage took two months, and Stevens passed many an hour, jackknifed in one hand and a piece of wood in the other, brooding over a problem that had often worried him—how to run a railroad without stone stringers for tracks.

The elder Canard, who was apprenticed as a lad to a Scotch shipbuilder, is said to have amused himself in whittling the hulls of vessels. Occasionally he would fit one of these with masts, sails and rigging complete.

TOWN HAD OFFSETS.

So His Claim For Damages Brought In Only $119.34.

"I had been knocking about a Kansas town in the evening," said a drummer with a limp, "and in heading for my hotel I walked plump into an open sewer which had no red light of warning."

"But what for?" he asked. "For personal damages. There should have been a railing or a light, but there was neither, and my injury will lay me up for weeks."

"Then let me tell you that the roof of the hotel fell in last night and killed three men, and if you had been in your bed you would have been crushed to pulp. You really owe this town something instead of talking about damages."

"When able to get out," continued the drummer, "I found that public opinion was against me and the people ready to stand a suit, and by advice of a lawyer I settled the case for $125."
