About twenty boys went on a strike at the Littlestown silk mill last Monday because they were refused an increase of 50 cents on their wages. The strike was short lived. TOUCHING SCENE IN COURT.

A Child Pleads Not To Be Given To Her Mother.

At Hagerstown Judge Keedy awarded the custody of Helen F. Cummings, who had been with her father, Chas. Cummings, ever since the father and mother were divorced, to the mother for two weeks as an experiment. Last week Judge Keedy decided to give the girl, who is 9 years of age, into the care of the mother temporarily, but when the mother called twice at the Cummings home for the little girl the child refused to go with her. The Judge decided that, if necessary, the mother could use force in gaining possession of her daughter. Monday morning the child was taken before Judge Keedy and when she was told to go to her mother she cried, threw her arms around her father's neck and said, "Oh, Judge, I can't!" The mother led her away, and after a time the child became quiet, seated on her mother's lap.

Mr. Cummings, the father, became hysterical when the child was taken from him, and wept and protested with great vehemence before the Judge, declaring that in tearing his child from him his heart had been cut out. His friends tried to assuage his violent grief, but he was inconsolable and declared he did not care what became of him and that the sheriff could put him in jail if he wished.

MARYLAND GIRL HEROINE.

Miss Bessie Reed, of Savage, who has been visiting at Laurel, Md., figured as a heroine just before leaving for home and saved an unknown man from what promised to be a fearful death. The stranger was from Washington and was at the depot waiting for a train upon which to return to that city. He was standing on the track, with his back turned in the direction of the expected train, when the locomotive swept around the curve. The stranger was apparently so absorbed with his thoughts that he did not heed the shrill blast of the locomotive's whistle or the cries of the people on the platform, and it seemed that he would be thrown to the tracks and ground to pieces.

The pilot of the engine was only a few yards away when Miss Reed, who was at the edge of the platform, seized the man by the collar and dragged him out of danger.

The gentleman was badly frightened and very pale, and, after thanking the young lady for what she had done, he boarded the train.

Miss Reed took another train for her home.

GAVE PATROLMAN A LIVELY TUSSELE.

John McIntyre, who is said to be a member of the notorious Bolton gang, was fined $50 and costs last Friday by Justice Gramman at the Central Police Station, Baltimore, and committed to jail in default. Patrolman Hahn who made the arrest, charged the prisoner with disturbing the peace by cursing and swearing, and he told the magistrate that he had received many complaints from residents along Maryland avenue, near Oliver street, Baltimore, and throughout that section, concerning the men with whom McIntyre associates. He said he warned McIntyre and then threatened to arrest him, at which the prisoner merely laughed and said he did not care about the police department or their orders.

The officer, though a comparatively new man, is a pretty big fellow, and he promptly grabbed the obstreperous man. McIntyre showed fight and the pair fought for some few minutes before the patrolman showed his superiority. McIntyre plead for another trial and said he would leave the city if the magistrate would give him another chance.

FREDERICK LETTER

Many Interesting Items Gathered By Our Correspondent.

Frederick, June 14.—J. C. Johnson a man of about 30 years of age and claiming to be from near Baltimore, Md., and who traveled under many aliases was in this City last week and on Saturday last hired a horse and vehicle from Eugene Sponseller, a liveryman here. Failing to return, a search was made and the horse found in the possession of Andrew Baker, of Mt. Airy, who stated that he had purchased it of a man answering the description of the accused. The rumbout, a Mr. J. W. Wilson, had purchased of the same party for $93. Both horse and vehicle were handed over to Mr. Sponseller. Mr. G. Ed. Meyers, another liveryman, also was approached Thursday last by Johnson to hire a team. He got the team and very soon after returned it, coming the next day again. Mr. Meyers being suspicious sent a driver along. The same day Johnson hired a team from Sponseller and returned it on time in good order, but on Saturday failed to show up, with the above result. Learning that an arrest had been made in Cumberland, Md., on suspicion and answering the description of the man wanted, Sheriff Young, accompanied by Messrs. Sponseller and Meyers, left for that City. Upon arrival there he was fully identified. While here he gave name of A. C. Smoot. Johnson made a full confession and said "that he had stolen pretty nearly everything in his lifetime." His actions appeared to indicate that he was either mentally unbalanced or that he desired to create that impression. When arrested he had $52.90 in cash and three checks for $82.50. Johnson was brought here Tuesday evening and lodged in Jail for Court.

In the Courts. Wellington Hill, colored, charged with larceny at Kidwiler's Saloon, this City, was released in $50 bail by Judge Wood for Court. Guy Corsey and Wm. Hutchinson were also arrested and lodged in jail for further hearing upon same charge.

R. J. Padgett, Jr., of Baltimore, was fined $10 and costs in the Police Court here for driving a team belonging to Wm. Grazer without his permission or knowledge. The fine was paid.

BARN BURNED.

The barn on the farm of Messrs. Annan, Horner & Co., near Zora, Pa., formerly the Reiman property, and now in tenancy of Mr. James P. Martin, was destroyed by fire last Friday forenoon, together with all its contents, consisting of two calves, several tons of newly made hay, self binder, wagon, harness, etc. The origin of the fire, which started in the straw stack and communicated to the barn, is not known. A traction engine is said to have passed the barn, which is situated along the road, a short time before the fire was discovered, and it is thought that a spark from the engine may possibly have fallen on the straw stack. However, this is only a conjecture. The loss on the barn and contents is about $1,500, with $900 insurance on the barn and no insurance on the other property, which belonged to Mr. Martin. About 14 years ago the barn on this farm was destroyed by fire. At that time a large number of cattle were burned to death.

Fisher, commander of the company, made a short address. Following the firing of a salute the grave was strewn with flowers.

GOV. WARFIELD AT THE COLLEGE

17 YOUNG MEN GRADUATE FROM MOUNT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

Cardinal Gibbons Presided, and Gov. Warfield Addressed The Graduates.—Final Program Well Rendered.—Degrees And Premiums Awarded.—Large Attendance.

The ninety-seventh annual commencement exercises of Mount St. Mary's College were held in the Music Hall of that institution yesterday morning. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the attendance was quite large. The number of former graduates of the college present was larger than for a number of years.

His Excellency, Edwin Warfield, Governor of Maryland, delivered the address to the graduates, whilst His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, presided and delivered the diplomas and premiums to the successful students. During the ninety-seven years of the existence of this venerated institution of learning, and justly styled the "Nursery of Bishops," yesterday was the first time that this college has ever been honored with the presence of a Governor of Maryland on an occasion of this kind.

Among those occupying seats on the rostrum with the Cardinal and Maryland's Governor, were Very Rev. Wm. L. O'Hara, LL. D., president of the college; Rev. Edward P. Allen, Bishop of Mobile; Rev. Wm. Byrne, V. G., Boston; Hon. Jas. McSherry, LL. D., of Frederick, Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals of Maryland; A. V. D. Watterson, LL. D., of Pittsburg, Pa., president of the Alumni Association of Mt. St. Mary's College; Prof. Charles H. Jordan, Ph. D., Prof. E. J. Ryan, A. M., and other members of the College faculty.

The following program was rendered in a pleasing manner, every part of which was highly enjoyed by the large audience, which showed its appreciation in the applause given after the rendition of each selection. The musical part of the program was under the able direction of Prof. F. A. Braun, who has every reason to feel proud of the young performers:

March—"Maryland, My Maryland," Randall, Orchestra; Overture—"Raymond," A. Thomas, Orchestra; Speech—"The Outlook of the South," Leo P. Milligan; Chorus—"The Jolly Blacksmith's Lay," A. Gabel, Glee Club; Speech—"The Catholic Scientist," Joseph A. McNulty; Selection—"Lucezia Borgia," Donizetti, Orchestra. Conferment of Degrees. Chorus—"Let Erin Remember," Moore's Melodies, Glee Club; Valuedictory, Edward B. Jordan; Music—"La Cinqtaine," Gabriel Marie, Orchestra. Awarding of Honors. Address to the Graduates His Excellency, Edwin Warfield, Governor of Maryland. Chorus—"Let the Hills and Vales Resound," George Cooper, Glee Club. Awarding of Premiums. March—"Knights of Columbus," George Fisher, Orchestra.

When Gov. Warfield, who was introduced to the audience by Cardinal Gibbons, stepped to the front of the platform to deliver his address to the graduating class, he was given quite an ovation. His remarks were highly interesting and were listened to with marked attention. The Governor expressed his appreciation of the cordial reception given him at the college and of the honor that the President of the college had conferred upon him, in the most glowing terms. The Governor in his address stated Mt. St. Mary's College has a long and worthy roll of honor; that since the college was founded by Father Dubois in 1808, it has turned out 29 bishops, 1,500 priests, and 15,000 graduates. He gave some good and wholesome advice to the members of the graduating class, and which, if heeded and put into practice by them, will prove most beneficial in whatever vocation they may decide to pursue.

At the conclusion of the Governor's address, Cardinal Gibbons also made an address, at the conclusion of which he stated that the Very Rev. Wm. L. O'Hara, President of the College, would retire from that position, owing to the impaired condition of his health. Dr. O'Hara has been the efficient president of the college for a number of years, having been elected to that position at the time that president Rev. Edward P. Allen was elevated to the Bishopric. The college has been in a flourishing condition under the able management of Dr. O'Hara.

FAIRFIELD ITEMS. Fairfield, 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reinhold, of Table Rock, are visiting in Fairfield. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Plank and daughter, Helen, of Taneytown, visited the family of F. Shulley. F. Shulley and Samuel Walter, who attended the encampment at Reading, have returned home. They had a good time, being delegates to the encampment. The encampment will meet next year at Altoona. The fair from Reading to Denver to the National Encampment in September is $37.85. This will be a chance to see the west at low car fare.

The storm on Wednesday of last week was quite severe. At Fairfield the lightning was vivid and the thunder heavy. The house occupied by F. Shulley was struck by the lightning. A hole was splintered, the floor on the upper story was torn up, and two windows in gable end of the house were broken. The plastering on the ceiling in two rooms up-stairs was loosened, and will probably fall from the ceiling. No damage was done to the lower part of the house. This occurred about 4 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Shulley was awake, but not yet up. Her sister, Mrs. Butt, slept in the room next to the one where the plastering fell down. They were somewhat stunned but soon recovered. They were fortunate in not being injured. Mr. Shulley was in Reading at the time.

HARNEY NEWS. Owing to the inclement weather, communion service which was to be held in the Lutheran church, Sunday, was postponed until July the 2nd, Children's Day service will also be rendered on Sunday afternoon, June 25th. Children's day services were held at the U. B. Church last Sunday. Those visiting Geo. I. Shriver during past few days were, Mr. James Shriver, and daughter, Minnie and Mrs. Chas. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell and Son, Walter and Charlie Keible, of Littlestown. Mr. John Hesson, is improving his farm by erecting a new summer house and hog pen.

JAIL BREAKERS POILED. But for the prompt action of Sheriff Frantz, of Oakland, a jail delivery would have taken place on Wednesday morning last. Sheriff Frantz on Monday took to jail McClelland Friend, of Friendsville district, an insane prisoner, whose condition was such as to require an opiate to produce sleep. The prisoners in some way secured the "dope," and by threats of violence made John Allen, a trusted prisoner, in jail for assault, swallow some of the medicine so as to be unable to give an alarm of the intended jail delivery.

Too much of the medicine was given Allen, he became very ill and when the sheriff began to investigate Allen informed him of the prisoners' actions and their intended attempt to escape. Allen was hastily relieved of his sufferings and an inspection of the jail showed that portions of the inner side wall had been removed and only a few minutes' work would have assured the prisoners of their escape. Sheriff Frantz drove the prisoners to their cells and locked them in. Allen informed the sheriff that Jessie Flynn and William Ward, prisoners awaiting trial for house breaking, had dug out the walls and arranged for the jail delivery and that Flynn had forced him to swallow the "dope."

Ask Your Dealer for Allen's Foot-Ease, A powder for the feet. It cures Swollen, Sore, Hot, Chafed, Aching, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 5c. Ask to day. June 7-11

Lineman Injured. William Gosnell, of Frederick, a lineman employed by the C. & P. Telephone Co., while working near Mapleville, Friday morning, was knocked from the top of a 55-foot pole by a shock from the wire and fell on his hips across the trolley tracks. Gosnell, while on top of the pole, had hold of a telephone wire when it fell across the trolley feed wire. The current prevented him from leaving hold of the wire, which held him until it melted where it crossed the feed wire. Then he fell upon the trolley track. For a short time he was unconscious. He was afterward placed on a car and taken to the Gantz Hotel, Hagerstown, where he is boarding. Dr. S. M. Wagnon was summoned and found Gosnell suffering severely from the shock, although no bones were broken. It is feared he is internally injured. He has a wife and two children living on Water street, Frederick.

LOCKED OUT PREACHER

Trouble With Trustees Of Church in Dorchester.

There has been discussion in the Methodist Protestant Church of Eldorado, Dorchester county, for some time past, which was Sunday finally transferred to the courts by an injunction secured by the minister in charge, Rev. Charles M. Zepp, against some of the trustees of the church to prevent their further hindrance of him in the discharge of his duties. It appears from the bill filed by Mr. Zepp that he was assigned to the charge of the Eldorado church, as well as to three other churches in the vicinity, two years ago and was recently reassigned to the same charge

CATHERINE THE GREAT.

An Odd Woman Was This Empress of the Russians.

A recent writer says of Catherine the Great, empress of Russia from the year 1762 to 1796.

"She rose at an ill her own fire. Her table was laid simple. From the reproach of overeating and over-drinking she was free.

THE AGRA DIAMOND.

Odd Manner In Which It Was Smuggled Out of India.

Like many other diamonds, the Agra Diamond has had adventures. It gets its name from the fact that it was taken at the battle of Agra in 1526 by the Emperor Baber, who was the founder of the Mogul empire in India.

No one seemed able to hit upon a method that would be likely to meet with success until the last evening previous to the departure of the regiment. During the course of dinner the youngest subaltern suddenly jumped up and said: "I have it. We will conceal the diamond in a horse ball and make the horse swallow it."

When the regiment reached the port of embarkation the horse was taken ill and had to be shot. The diamond was taken from his stomach and brought over to England. It was subsequently sold to the Duke of Brunswick, and since then it has been recut one and a half carats in order to get rid of the black spots in it, and it is the most perfect and brilliant diamond of a rose pink color.

Andrew Johnson's Writing.

The letters of President Taylor are rare, but perhaps those of Andrew Johnson are the rarest, as he did but little of his own writing. His son conducted most of his correspondence and signed his father's name to the letters. It is related that one reason why President Johnson wrote so little was owing to an accident which happened to him when he was working at his trade as tailor.

Natural Cross of Pearls.

Some curious things have been found in the briny deep, but one of the oddest is an ecclesiastical emblem made of pearls which was washed ashore on the coast of West Australia. There are nine good sized gems in this natural curiosity. These have been joined together to form a perfect Latin cross. Seven pearls of equal size comprise the upright and two more form the transverse piece. The joining has been the work of nature. The odd prize, discovered in a pearl oyster, is said to be worth at least $50,000. It is called the Great Southern Cross pearl.

Both.

Pass—And of which variety is your wife, the clinging vine or the self assertive? Cass—A little of both. When she wants a new dress or a new hat she generally begins in the clinging vine role. If that doesn't bring the money, then she changes to the self assertive, and—well, she invariably gets the dress or the hat.

Opposites.

"Why does he wish to marry her?" "He says people should marry their opposites."

"Why, they are both dark?" "Yes, but he hasn't a cent, and she has a million dollars."—Pittsburg Post.

If you get angry with a man or woman, make up your mind what you are going to say and then don't say it.

Qualified.

"Has your music teacher a delicate touch?" "Excuse me—$10 a lesson."—New York Times.

PAUS AND PINKSTER.

The Dutch Easter Time Festivals in the Mohawk Valley.

Next to New Year's day Paus and Pinkster were the more popular and generally observed holidays of the old Dutch in the Mohawk valley. Paus was Easter and Pinkster was Whit-sunday. Pinkster was particularly a gala day, when young and old gave themselves up to jollity and boisterous fun. The joys of the day began in the morning with sports, outdoor games and contests and ended late at night with indoor games and dancing. There were "egg butting" and "riding at the ring."

When playing whist one night Catherine could not get her page to answer the bell. "After she had rung twice, again without effect, she left the room, looking daggers, and did not reappear for a considerable time. The company supposed that the unfortunate page was destined to Siberia or at least the knout. As a matter of fact, Catherine on entering the antechamber found the page, like his betters, busy at whist.

BUNDLE BEARERS.

A Role That City Men Are Not Now Inclined to Play.

There was a time, remembered easily by many, when the tender husband did not shrink from carrying home materials for his dinner. Men of learning in those simpler days grasped the eel of commerce, as the eel of science, by the tail. The statesman with Jovian brow and blue coat with brass buttons was very human with a dried codfish wrapped carefully in brown paper under his eloquent arm.

The present civilization may be real or chrome; but at least is certain—the age of carrying bundles is gone so far as city men are concerned, although no Burke has celebrated in sonorous prose its passing. The man protests against the burden of a can of peas, a jar of marmalade, his wife's book bag. The youth insists that the two or three col-lars bought to bridge him over the weekly coming of the laundryman shall be sent home. The schoolboy, however his mother may coax or threaten, sulks at the thought of a bundle, for he fears the ridicule of snobbishly trained companions.

Several True Bills.

It is of course true that a jury, theoretically, is composed of a set of unprejudiced men, with open minds; still there may be occasions when a slight personal feeling invades their ranks. Such was evidently the thought borne in upon the tailor who, rising to state his case and having declined the services of a lawyer for reasons best known to himself, looked over the jurymen and then turned to the judge.

Daily Brought Up Soldiers.

During an official massacre at the village of Kouklisk the Turkish commandant—a fat major—slept and smoked in the shade of a tree near the scene of carnage. The trumpet sounded for the assault, and the soldiers proceeded to rob, kill, burn and violate. The trumpet next sounded the retreat, but the troops refused to obey, and the fat major continued to sleep and smoke. When spoken to about the excesses of his men, he replied: "What can one do? They are so badly brought up!"—Paris Mæcedoine.

Novel Oyster Parties.

Oyster parties are the direct diversion of the Spanish gentlemen who pay family visits to Vigo. The party goes out in a large flat bottomed boat. Then the oysters are fished up, opened and got in a new lot. There isn't a man among 'em but owes me something for clothes."

Don't Waste.

Let nothing be wasted or lost. Using well or wasting the fragments of time, of opportunity, of books and coins, of life, makes all the difference between success and failure. This is especially true of spiritual work. Often the best results are gained from the use of fragments of our business or daily life, the byproducts of living. Nature says, "Gather up the fragments." In nature's household there is no waste. The decay of rocks forms the soil of plants. The decay of plants forms the mold in which future plants will grow. The water dissipated in the air becomes clouds and rain.—Woman's Life.

Wanted Her Money's Worth.

A lady who knew that her servants were reading a certain serial inquired of the cook her opinion of the story. "Well, ma'am," was the reply, "we wanted to know what because of Mr. Treherne." The mistress explained that Mr. Treherne was but a minor character and that something must be left to the imagination of the reader. The cook considered and returned, "But I don't 'old with paying a 'alfpenny a day for me story and then 'aving to think for nerself!"—London Chronicle.

GORGEOUS ATTIRE.

Dress of a Liverpool Merchant in the Eighteenth Century.

The Liverpool merchant in the latter half of the eighteenth century must have presented a by no means unimpressive appearance. He dressed, as a rule, we are informed, in a suit of one color, usually light or of a snuffy shade. The cut of his ordinary coat resembled that of a court dress coat, with standup collar and gilt, silvered, twist or basket buttons. His waistcoat was very long, with large "flaps," containing flapped pockets, these often decorated with buttons. His breeches, being short, were ornamented at the knees with buckles of gold, silver or stone, kept in countenance by large gold, silver or gilt buckles on his shoes, his legs being hosed, as a rule, in silk, plain, striped or ribbed. Buckles at his wrist and a white stock about his throat were an almost invariable accompaniment, and on his head a cocked hat, pointed in front and higher at the back than the sides, over half dressed into large "cannon" curls on each side of his face, with a cue hanging behind, or it might be over a "die," "cauliflower" or "brown bob" wig. Thus, with stick or umbrella, rendered remarkable by reason of its head of gold, silver, amber or ebony, would he vend his way to "town." In "full dress" he must have even more attractively looked the merchant "prince" in his waistcoat of silk, satin or velvet lined in color and design, with long flaps elaborately embroidered, silk breeches and silk hose, with conspicuous knee and shoe buckles. If he on occasion dined with the mayor he might receive an engraved invitation card similar to the following, directed to Mr. Leece in 1770: "Mr. Mayor presents his compliments to Mr. Leece, begs the favor of his company on Sunday next to dinner, at 1 o'clock, at the Exchange. An answer is desired, 12th July, '70."

BUNDLE BEARERS.

A Role That City Men Are Not Now Inclined to Play.

There was a time, remembered easily by many, when the tender husband did not shrink from carrying home materials for his dinner. Men of learning in those simpler days grasped the eel of commerce, as the eel of science, by the tail. The statesman with Jovian brow and blue coat with brass buttons was very human with a dried codfish wrapped carefully in brown paper under his eloquent arm. To see a highly respectable citizen with a demijohn was a cheering sight. Nor was it beneath the dignity of a patrician to join in the dance as the spirit moved him or her to do so till the musician was surrounded by a ring of black and yellow twisting, wriggling, hysterical negroes, who for the time were thousands of miles away in the heart of superstitious Africa. One by one they would fall to the ground exhausted, when their places would be taken by others who were just beginning to feel the moving of the spirit. It was not unusual for this wild dance to continue through two days.—New York Tribune.
